District 14-B Tournament To Be Held Here Next Week

The District 14-B basketball tournament will be held in the new Clarendon High School gymnasium beginning on Thursday of next week and running through Saturday night.

This is always a hotly contested tournament and interest and speculation as to winners are already high. The district is composed of both boys and girls teams from Claude, Groom, Hedley, Quail, Samnorwood and Dodson. In the girls division, Claude is a heavy favorite to take the championship while in the boys division, Hedley is a slight favorite. It is expected that the Claude girls will get plenty of competition from Hedley and Samnorwood, while the Hedley boys will have to hurdle the barriers of Samnorwood and Dodson.

The girls division should be doubly interesting since Claude's Betty Ransom and Hedley's Suzanne Cox are two of the top girl basketball players in the country. Miss Ransom has been an all-state player the past two years and Miss Cox recently set a new scoring record for the Texas Panhandle when she scored the staggering total of 63 points in one game. Samnorwood also has a well balanced team and is quite capable of giving both Claude and Hedley plenty of trouble.

The Hedley boys, under the coaching of Bill White, a former CJC player, have shown a well balanced and fast improving team all season. They have won the district title the past three years and seem to have enough momentum to take it again this year. Both Samnorwood and Dodson, however, have shown that they are capable of upsetting the Owls and will be out to stop the Hedley winning streak.

Jaycees Help Poll Tax Drive

Last Friday and Saturday, the Clarendon Jaycees sold and delivered approximately one hundred and fifty poll tax receipts in Donley County. County Tax Collector Truett Behrens estimates that over 90 per cent of the eligible voting populace of Donley County will have their poll tax receipts by the deadline. This is a magnificent record for any county! The Jaycees were happy to help make this record possible.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce Tri-Regional Conference was held in Pampa last Saturday and Sunday. John Payne, Bill Brashaw, Chauncey Hommel, Roland Hill, Delbert Robertson and their wives were present at this conference and represented the newest chapter in the three regions.

Quality Job Printing At The Leader

Over 200 members and guests attended the Jaycee Charter Banquet last Friday night. Shown standing are directors of the local chapter being installed by Gene Hollar, state vice-president of Pampa.

Bulldogs Play South Plains Here Next Tuesday Night

The next home basketball game for the Clarendon College Bulldogs will be against the South Plains team from Levelland here next Tuesday night. Game time is eight o'clock. The Bulldogs played Frank Phillips at Borger on Tuesday night of this week and on Friday night they will travel to Odessa to meet the Odessa College Wranglers.

The Bulldogs are currently in last place in the Western Junior College Athletic Conference standings. Before Tuesday night's game with Frank Phillips they had not notched a conference win and had suffered six defeats in conference play. Their overall record for the season is 2-12.

Dee Blevins, a 6-5 sophomore from Spearman, who became eligible with last Friday night's game, has earned a place in the starting lineup. He made 22 points in Friday night's game and came back Saturday night to make 19. In each game he tied with Ray DeBord for high point honors. He was also the Bulldogs' leading rebounder for the two games, getting 13 Friday night and 11 Saturday night. Other starters besides Blevins and DeBord are Kenneth Martindale, Billy Wiggins and either Max Courtney or Alvin Scott. Buddy Jones, a sophomore starter before suffering a broken thumb during the Christmas holidays, still has the thumb in a cast and it is not known just when he will be back in action.

Ray DeBord maintained his lead in the Western Junior College Conference scoring race last week although he slipped from a 22.6 to a 22.4 game average. He scored 65 points in the three games last week.

OVER 1200 POLL TAX RECEIPTS ISSUED

According to a report Wednesday morning, over 1200 poll tax receipts had been issued at that time and the number was expected to climb some more before the deadline Wednesday night.

This figure shows that over 500 poll tax receipts have been issued since this time last week. A portion of this increase can be partially attributed to the fine efforts of the Jaycees who helped sell poll tax receipts last Friday and Saturday.

Those who paid their poll tax or have exemptions will have an opportunity to exercise their right to vote on numerous occasions this year and really get their money's worth along with a lot of self satisfaction.

COTTON PLANTING

In skip-row planting, rows of cotton are alternated with land left fallow or idle or planted to another crop which does not compete with cotton for plant food, moisture, or sunlight. Under regulations for 1961 and earlier crops skip-row cotton planting was permitted, but the skip land left idle or planted to such other crops had to be the equivalent of four rows of cotton, as a minimum. If the skip rows were any narrower than that, the entire acreage was counted as planted to cotton for acreage allotment and marketing quota purposes.

Today's action will provide the cotton grower with more latitude in planning and carrying out his operations. It will allow you to make more efficient use of your land. Under the new system, only the land actually planted to cotton will be counted as cotton land in determining compliance with acreage allotments and marketing quotas. Each grower will determine for himself the pattern best suited to his operations except one row in and one row out will not qualify.

Because of the narrowness of such skip-rows, it is likely that this land will more often be clean cultivated and left idle. This is expected to further reduce the production of unneeded feed grains. However, the decision on what pattern to follow and what crops, if any, to plant, will be left entirely up to the individual cotton grower.

DATES TO REMEMBER

- Release of Cotton Allotments—April 13, 1962. Reapportionment of Cotton Allotments—April 27, 1962. Application for New Growers—Feb. 15, 1962. Final Date for Grazing Diverted Acreage — May 1, 1962. Final Date for Destroying Excess Wheat—May 1, 1962. Sign-up under 1962 Feed Grain—February 5, 1962. Final Date to Request Pre-measurement of Cotton Acreage—March 30, 1962. Final Date to Make Application for Incentive Payment under Wool and Unshorn Lamb Program — April 30, 1962.

PLANS STARTED FOR ANNUAL CELEBRATION

Bill Porter, President of the Outdoor Entertainment Association, reported this week that directors of the association met last week and started plans rolling for the annual celebration July 4th. The main accomplishment of the meeting was lining up of the stock for the rodeo. Alvin Koonsman of Snyder will furnish the stock since Morris Stevens of Silverton sold all of his rodeo stock to Koonsman. Even though he is out of the rodeo business, Stevens will be over to assist with the Rodeo performances, Porter added.

Steers Place High At Amarillo Show

Donley County 4-H Club steers placing high in the Amarillo Fat Stock Show last week were those of Susan McAnear, whose steers placed second in the light weight steers; Don McAnear placed sixth in the middle weight steers; Sandy Thornberry placed fourth with his middle weight Angus. Susan McAnear also placed fourth in the best two steers fed by one club member. Gene Floyd of Hedley placed seventh with his light weight Hereford.

Flip Breedlove, County Agent, says that sixteen steers were taken to Amarillo. Fourteen were sold and thanks to the businessmen and individuals of Donley County, they brought a good price.

Breedlove left Amarillo before the steers sold, to be at the Fort Worth show with Gary Longan to show his Angus steers. Gary placed fourth in the Junior Calf division. He will not sell his steer but will take him on to El Paso.

Thirteen steers will leave for El Paso on February 2. These are the top thirteen placing steers from show so far and Breedlove thinks that the Club members will make a good showing at the Southwestern Livestock show in El Paso.

All club members wish to thank the citizens of Clarendon and Donley County for buying their steers at the Amarillo show. It is sure a boost for the club members.

CHS Boys and Girls Basketball Teams To Meet McLean Here Fri.

Both the Clarendon High School boys and girls teams will be seeking revenge when the teams from McLean invade the local high school gymnasium Friday night. The girls game will start at seven o'clock.

McLean dealt the local teams a double defeat at McLean recently. The girls upset the Bronchoettes, 44 to 41, and the strong boys team beat the Bronchos, 60 to 41. The McLean boys were picked to win the district while the Clarendon girls were a slight favorite to take the district title.

Coach J. R. Williams feels that his girls can beat McLean, but says that his boys will have to put forth a supreme effort to beat the Tigers. The girls are starting a team composed of Paula Adams, Dorothy Richey and Judy Castner at forwards and Peggy Jackson, Molly Floyd and Jeanette Rumpy at guards. Dwight McAnear is still a doubtful starter for the boys. He did not play at all against Memphis last Friday night. If McAnear does not play the boys starters will be James Allen, Bill Spier, John Cearley, Jerry Elmore and Herman Vinson.

Locals Boost Sale Price Of Show Animals

Through the efforts of Bill Porter and his connections with the Glover Packing Co. and Bill Mosley, head cattle buyer for the firm, local firms and individuals and the Clarendon Jaycees, club calves brought a much better price at the Amarillo Fat Stock show. Eulen Hare who is with KGNC radio assisted in the general set-up also, Porter stated.

The Jaycees helped promote the idea of locals putting up the difference between market price and a good selling price for the animals. Bill Porter sat in at the sale and kept boosting the price. Glover Packing Co. purchased nine of the 14 animals and the locals paid the difference. The club calves brought an average of 35c per pound.

Those making the difference of a good price possible were Knorpp & Slavin, Bill Porter, The Farmers State Bank, The Donley County State Bank, Rodeo Association, Texas Young Farmers and Ranchers, Country Club, Jo McMurtry, Alfred McMurtry, Frank Derrick, Mrs. Vera Lewis, Bob Head and Frank Hommel and Son.

Fishing Techniques In Constant Evolution During Past Decade

While spinning tackle still is holding on strong, the current trend is marked by the determined comeback of casting and fly-fishing outfits.

Probably the foremost reason is that those who started fishing with spinning rigs now want to try something new and more demanding. At first it was thought that spinning was a cure-all for fishing. Now that the picture is clearing it is evident that spinning tackle has a definite place in fishing, just like fly-fishing and casting tackle. But it isn't the all-around tool that will do everything.

Often an angler can take fish on fly tackle when everything else fails. There's something about the colorful little cork bugs and the enticing flies that really appeal to fish.

This ty peef tackle is particularly effective when fished on small, fast-running streams. But there's one overlooked fact about bass bugs. They WILL work effectively on Texas' deep, man-made reservoirs. And a fisherman hasn't really lived until he duels a pugnacious bass on a delicate little wand of a fly rod.

Many people have the misconception that learning to use a fly rod is a difficult assignment. Actually, the basics are quite simple. Usually a person becomes proficient enough to go fishing after as hour's practice in the backyard.

Unlike spinning or casting outfits, the fly fisherman casts the line rather than the lure. With this type outfit balance is all important, particularly correct balance between line and rod.

All fly rods come marked with the type line they require. However, it has been my experience that these are usually a mite on the light side. It is better to go to the next largest line than the one designated on the rod.

The reel on a fly rod is simply a device to hold the line. The type reel, either automatic or single-action, is purely a choice of personal preference.

Fly rods today are priced within the budget of anyone's pocketbook. In years past the custom-made bamboo rods were quite expensive, but nowadays fiberglass rods not only are relatively inexpensive, they also are dependable and cast adequately.

A basic rig includes a fly rod and a level line. But the more expensive tapered lines are easier to cast and therefore easier to learn to use. The difference in price is well worth the money.

A bass bug line, for example, is a forward taper, with the heavier portion of the line being out on the end.

A line to be used in the northern states for trout fishing is a double taper, slim at both ends with a heavier belly in the middle, made to put a fly more delicately on the water on the cast.

Long, tapered leaders, at least six to nine feet in length, are less prone to spook wary fish. A typical one tapers from about four to six pound test where it attaches to the line, down to about two pound test on the tip.

In fly casting the one important thing to remember is timing.

Some loose line is stripped off the reel and laid out in front of the caster. Then the rod is brought back smoothly to the 1 o'clock position, where the caster pauses until the back cast completely straightens out, before he starts forward smoothly. It is best to watch the back cast at first to make sure it completely straightens out, before he starts forward smoothly. It is best to watch the back cast at first to make sure it completely straightens out, before he starts forward smoothly.

But it is one of the most rewarding and satisfying ways to fish. Many times also it is the most productive. There's something about those little topwater bugs and those imitation flies that sunfish and bass cant resist. Probably because they so closely resemble the fish's favorite food.

Anyway, it's fun to fly fish.

BLOWIN' Out the CORNERS

MISTAKES always seem to catch up with us just when the most people are looking on.

We can make many mistakes and still get along. But when we start blaming the other fellow for our mistakes then we are a failure.

It is a lot better to have tried and failed, than to have failed to try.

We need to learn from the mistakes of others, because we will never live long enough to make all of the mistakes for ourselves.

It's pretty bad to find that there is no gold in your pocket when your hair has turned to silver. It's worse to find that there is nothing on your mind, and your mouth is wide open.

If we have made a mistake, our batting score goes down to zero. But if we can admit that we made a mistake then we have just raised our batting average to 500.

To consider our mistakes as bad luck means that we are headed for failure.

To consider our failures a mistake means that we are on the road to success.

A man who can't make a mistake can't make anything.—Whitman.

Being WRONG is not in itself a hopeless situation but, being unable to admit it puts us in an almost impossible-to-help condition.

The late Peter Marshal, beloved chaplain of the U.S. Senate for many years gave the following words as a part of one of his recorded prayers—

"Lord, help me to admit when I am wrong, and make me easier to live with when I am right."

The man who once most wisely said: Be sure you're right, then go ahead.

Might well have added this to-wit: Be sure you're wrong before you quit.

If we are headed in the wrong direction it won't help any to be in a hurry.

We can do a right thing wrong, but we can never do a wrong thing right.

It's usually easier to do the right thing when we know what it is than to explain why we did wrong.

Admitting that you are wrong makes one feel pretty small but it makes us look a lot bigger to our fellow man.

WORDS, many times become living things.

Often when we think of some person in our life we immediately think of some words they spoke to us. Maybe in a time of sadness they spoke comforting and sympathetic words. If so, these would become sort of a mental monument to their memory. If the words which they spoke were cruel and hurtful then a block is placed that will hold back any growth in our friendship.

"Thy words have uphoken him that was falling, and thou hast strengthened the feeble knees."

These words from the book of Job bring us a lesson along this subject. Words from God have been such a comfort to all of us as we live in His world.

Words from man to man can also bring help and comfort. Or words can be a boomerang and strike back at us if they are evil and sent in the wrong direction.

Most of us know someone who would be cheered by a visit and some kind words, but mostly we think we are too busy. Kind words can be like good medicine to someone who is sad or ill. A meal of corn pone and beans can be a feast if we are surrounded by kind and friendly people speaking helpful words.

A good banquet can be ruined by a bad speech. Idle words can set off a bad rumor. Kind words can blossom into a beautiful friendship. Yes, Words can become living things; standing guard at someone's heart door to either make us welcome or rejected depending on the kind of words we put to work for us.

Strict sanitation is the most effective barrier between the dairy cow and the organisms which cause mastitis, explains A. M. Meekma, extension dairy specialist. The only practical way to prevent the spread of mastitis, he says, is to keep it from reaching udder tissue.

"The governments of the Soviet Union and the United States spend millions a year to win friends and influence people abroad," says the Portland Oregonian. "But the bureaucrats and cloak-and-dagger agents of neither can exhibit such results of success as those that can be attributed to American private enterprise."

The peoples of the world, it goes on to observe, want all manner of products of American production or origin, ranging from chewing gum and hamburgers to automatic dishwashers. And it's a well known fact when well-heeled Soviet officials leave this country for home they commonly go laden with American goods that aren't available over there. At the end the Oregonian makes this significant point: "These are all superficial things. But is it not possible that, like so much on the surface, they are representative of attitudes that lie deeper, that are more profound, more significant in the critical struggle for men's minds? Although the whole world mimics Americans, even our faults, very few anywhere seem to want to do things as the Russians do them, except perhaps ballet."

LIBRARY NOTES

EDITH BARNES

Those of you who saw "Hollywood's Answer To Communism," will probably want to do some follow-up reading. W. Cleon Skousen's "The Naked Communist" and Doctor Fred Schwarz's "You Can Trust The Communists" (to no exactly as they say) are in the library.

The Communists know what some have been trying to hammer into our heads for a long time, that young people are idealistic and make dedicated workers when given a cause to believe in to work for. The Communists always go after the young and instill in them the ideologies of Communism, knowing they will have not only devoted, but tireless workers for their cause.

What is wrong with us that we do not tap this rich field and give our young the ideals of Americanism and, even if at times we do not act as if we believed it, teach them that freedom is everybody's job and like all good things has a price. That price is eternal vigilance and hard work. Far too many of us have always enjoyed our freedom and our way of life but have never lifted a finger to preserve it!

We all might "Highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain, that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom; and that the government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from this earth." It is hoped that everyone will know that the above is from Lincoln's "Gettysburg address."

The grown-ups could knuckle down and by example show our young people that there is nothing corny about patriotism. There is nothing corny about those who work unceasingly for freedom and the highest ideals of Americanism. There are millions who could tell us that being enslaved and living under the domination of Russia might be sophisticated but they risk death every day trying to escape.

Walter Judd is another who never gives up. Remember he was the one who had been stumping the United States for so many long weary months trying to wake us up to the fact that Japan was a menace. Few paid any attention to him evidently or among other things there would have been none of our navy and planes waiting like sitting ducks to be destroyed at Pearl Harbor

A new program, designed to develop greater public understanding of the conflict between Communism and a Free Society has been announced by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Its title is: "Freedom vs. Communism: the Economics of Survival."

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

The Budget

On January 10th the Congress received the Budget Message of the President of the United States for Fiscal Year 1963. The 1963 Fiscal Year begins on July 1, 1962 and ends on June 30, 1963. The Budget Message reflected a balanced budget for 1963. However, it is well to note that very few budgets have ever been presented to the Congress in which balance was not claimed. It might also be noted that the final result was an unbalanced budget. In the past 16 years there has been a deficit 10 times. Deficit spending has been the order of the day 8 years out of the past 11. The year 1959 produced the highest peacetime deficit in the history of this country. This, together with prior deficits, continued to push up the public debt to near the three hundred billion mark. Another increase in the national debt will be requested. We cannot continue to operate on a deficit. It should not have been permitted as many times as it occurred in the past. There are times when deficit spending is necessary for the protection of our country. But in peacetime when we have the abundance that we enjoy in this country, recovery should be made to offset the deficits created during wartime. This has been a controversial issue every step of the way, and will continue to be a controversial issue. An analysis of the Congressional votes on spending matters will reveal that a substantial minority has consistently voted for an actual balanced budget rather than a proposed balanced budget. Had those of us who have strongly advocated an actual balanced budget every year been successful, there would be no need for a requested increase in the public debt.

One of the main reasons that we in this country have suffered from deficits is the age-old problem of greed. There are too many people who are willing to cut Federal expenditures so long as it does not personally affect them, their community, or their State. The result is deficit spending. If it is to be cured, every area of this country and every segment of its economy should take a long, hard look at its past fiscal policies, its requirements, and its demands, and come forward with some realistic and effective reduction proposals. The Congress should, in my opinion, authorize the appropriations committees to assign employees of the committees to work along with the bureaus, boards, and the agencies when they are preparing their budgets. These employees should be able to produce a documentary story that will result in measurable cutbacks in many of the departmental areas. If the appropriations committees cannot or do not desire to so proceed, a separate budget committee should be created to make a continuing and constant evaluation of the requests of the many, many departments of the government in their budget requests. It is my opinion that a full and complete story on this subject would afford the Members of Congress with sufficient information to effectively save several billion dollars a year. In addition to this, the Congress should adopt legislation requiring a fixed fund to be set aside out of revenue each year and to be paid on the public debt. It must be realized that to be effective, such a practice presupposes a balanced budget.

As for the present proposal, you will be interested to know that in the 1962 Federal Budget, which was the last budget of President Eisenhower, the tax dollar was divided as follows:

Where it comes from . . .

55c Individual Income Taxes; 25c Corporation Income Taxes; 12c Excise Taxes; 8c All Other Receipts.

Where it goes . . .

57c Major National Security; 11c Interest; 6c Veterans; 6c Agriculture; 18c Other; 2c Debt Retirement.

It is interesting to note that the "2c Debt Retirement" item above referred to did not come into being, because that budget had a paper balance and not an actual balance. Hence, the so-called debt retirement feature was wiped out by the deficit.

The first Budget Message of President Kennedy divides the income and expenditures as follows:

Where it comes from . . .

53c Individual Income Taxes; 28c Corporation Income Taxes; 11c Excise Taxes; 8c All Other Receipts.

Where it goes . . .

63c National Defense, International, and Space; 10c Fixed Interest Charges; 6c Veterans; 6c Agriculture; 6c Health and Welfare; 9c All Other.

The difference in allocations is not unusual, as there are no definite fixed divisions of expenditures. There are fixed divisions of income because all of the income is from taxes. Each President has a different way of allocating expenditures. The major point is, however, that substantially 70c out of every tax dollar is earmarked for defense and associated purposes. The fact is that a substantial part of the interest charges could be allocated as defense requirements because most of the national debt was created during World War II. This charge alone could be measurably reduced if we would pursue a policy of reducing the public debt systematically, rather than increasing it each year.

PLANT DISEASE HANDBOOK REVISED

A revised edition of the Plant Disease Handbook for Texas, first published in 1957, is now available. The author of the original and also the revision is Dr. Harlan E. Smith, plant pathologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, whose special field is the diseases of crops.

Common plant diseases, their symptoms and control, are discussed by the author under such headings as cereal crops, fiber, oil and other specialty crops, flowers, forage crops, small fruits, tree fruits, lawns, nuts, shrubs, trees and vegetables. The number of different plants covered has been increased from 147 to 171 along with the addition of discussions on many new diseases. A section on methods, materials and equipment for plant disease control is included in the revision.

Though the Handbook was written especially for professional agricultural workers and others who serve agriculture, producers and home owners have found the publication to be a valuable source of information. Sixty agricultural authorities from throughout Texas contributed information for Smith's use.

Copies of the Handbook are available from the Exchange Store, College Station, Texas, at a nominal price. Local county agents can supply detailed information on how the Handbook may be ordered.

Pathfinder Anniversary Luncheon Held At Patching Club House

Pathfinder Club celebrated its fifty-first anniversary Friday, January 26, with a luncheon at Patching Club House. A buffet lunch was served from a table beautifully laid with a cut-work linen cloth and centered with pink carnations arranged in a lovely silver and crystal epergne. The U-shaped dining table was decorated with trails of greenery interspersed with bud vases of pink carnations. Place cards were miniature wedding bands tied with white ribbon. Other decorations for the main room were a lovely lace and embroidered, linen covered table which held a silver candelabra and a mock wedding cake decorated with the top tier of Laverne McMurry's wedding cake.

Mrs. Heckle Stark, president, asked Mrs. H. T. Burton to give the invocation. After a delicious lunch, Mrs. Stark thanked the hostesses for the lovely corsage which they gave her in appreciation of her acceptance of the Pathfinder presidency for a consecutive term. She also thanked Mrs. Ruby Bromley for preparing the meal and serving it at Patching Club House.

Mrs. J. L. McMurry presented a delightful program entitled "Changes in Wedding Customs and Wedding Dress." Mrs. Dick Shelton accompanied by Mrs. Joe Pfeiffer sang "Because." While background wedding music was played, Mrs. Bill Greene, Jr. narrated a showing of "Wedding Dresses, Old and New." Jill Benson modelled the dress worn by Mrs. John Bass in 1916. The shoes Jill wore were purchased by Miss Mary Howren in 1912 at Macy's in New York City prior to a European tour. Pamela Palmer modelled the dress worn by her mother, Mrs. Ray Palmer, in 1945. Mary Louise Caldwell modelled the dress worn by Mrs. Don Bagwell (Inelle Cox) in 1957. The veil belongs to Mrs. Duane Naylor (Mae Morris). Emily Neece modelled the dress worn by her mother, Mrs. Lawrence Neece, in 1943. This dress has been in Mrs. Neece's family since 1866 and the veil since 1849. Sandy Deyhle modelled the dress worn by Mrs. J. W. Collins (Laverne McMurry) in 1947. Judy Greene modelled the dress worn by Mrs. Melvin Cook in 1909. The high-topped shoes Judy wore were once worn by Mrs. J. L. McMurry. Mrs. Bill Cooke, III modelled the dress which she wore in 1946. Mrs. Glen White modelled the complete ensemble worn by Mrs. Pendleton Gardner of Shamrock in 1909.

Members and guests enjoyed looking at old wedding photographs and relating humorous things that occurred on their wedding days.

Guests present were Mesdames Lawrence Neece, Bill Greene, Sr., Melvin Cook, Chas. E. Deyhle, George Ryan, Glen White, H. M. Breedlove, Joe Pfeiffer, Forrest Sawyer, T. M. Britt, H. C. Brumley, Millard Word, and Miss Marjorie Harlan.

"Only ten short years ago, all levels of government in the U.S. were spending considerably less than half of what they are spending now. Our money is gone, our debt is growing, and our freedoms are dwindling away as a centralized government reaches out greedily for ever-increasing power over the lives of all of the citizens. . . Let us remember the truth — that power tends to corrupt, and that absolute power tends to corrupt to the fullest degree."

Concentration of Government In One Place Is Considered Most Dangerous

Have you ever wondered what it costs you and your family to keep nearly two and one-half million individuals on the payroll of the Federal Government? The figure is probably larger than you think. For the fiscal year that ended last June, Federal civilian payroll costs reached an all-time high of $242 per U.S. family. As recently as 1947, the cost per family of Federal civilian payrolls stood at only $134.

Things have reached the point at which, according to a report of the Tax Foundation, one out of every 28 employed persons in the United States works for the Federal Government. There is no question about who has to meet this giant payroll. You are the paymaster and the bill is constantly rising. Higher salaries for efficient government workers are not dangerous. The danger lies in the concentration of power and the "look to Washington" philosophy which can eventually make our Federal Government our master instead of our servant.

Big government is costly in the extreme, but even that is not its worst evil. The most dangerous threat to freedom is the concentration of government in one place, far removed from the control of the governed. And this danger has grown in the United States. Beginning some three decades ago, Washington has yearly assumed increasing power over the daily lives of the American people. As the Federal Government's power has increased, the significance of local rights and local government has decreased.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

In a secret way I have learned where my billfold is. If you want to save exposure of search warrant and trouble, please leave at Donley Hotel and nothing will be said. S. A. Pierce. (1-p)

Good position for a married man, 30 to 45, with farm experience, to be in charge of small dairy herd, 50 horses, beef cattle. Contact S. G. Harriman, Amarillo, Texas, DRake 4-4687 before 5:00 p.m. (1-p)

This concentration of power in one place, so greatly favored by the Mistaken, has the effect of steadily depriving the individual of his liberties.

In approximately the last 25 years we have seen the Federal establishment expand from 500 thousand civilian employees to nearly 2.5 million. We have seen the spending budget for one year explode from $3 billion to some $90 billion. We have witnessed the growth of the Federal debt from $5 billion to nearly $300 billion. The present trend can only be reversed by self-government and individual responsibilities.

There is a more recent and a more dangerous development. That is the tendency toward concentration in one place of all the governments of the world. In the supremacy of state over man, one point of no return is reached when the people of a nation become so dependent upon rulers that they hesitate to turn back to personal freedom for fear of economic chaos. The other point of no return is the death in all but name of the nation itself.

Because the United States has moved uncomfortably close to the first of these points of no return, stress has been placed on the national issue. The international danger has seemed more remote, but suddenly it is much less remote.

The philosophy that embraces supreme government on the national scale leads logically to supreme government on the world scale. If one accepts the theory that the complex affairs of the United States should, in all cases, be arranged and controlled by a bureaucracy in Washington, then it is easy to proceed to the conviction that the complex problems of the world should be arranged and controlled by a bureaucracy in the United Nations.

There is a mountain of evidence that the two beliefs are, in fact, one. You will find that the same people who believe the affairs of cities, counties and states should be managed from a central government run by career bureaucrats also tend to favor the surrender of national rights to international organizations.

These individuals would let the Word Court determine for itself how far its powers extend in the United States. They would substitute the United Nations for the United States as a controller of foreign aid—but, of course, with this country still putting up the money. They would shape U.S. policies according to their ideas of what the world wants, instead of according to the best interests of our own country and of freedom.

This is the nightmare known as World Government. Those devoted to it believe that mankind will never abolish war and enjoy permanent peace and prosperity unless each country gives up its independence and joins a super-government which rules everybody on the earth.

Let us never forget that every surrender of American sovereignty paves the way for an end to American national freedom, just as the surrender of individual liberties paves the way for an end to personal freedom.

Arguments in favor of a welfare state can be superficially attractive, and so can arguments for giving up our national sovereignty. World law sounds good. Promotion of the world's economic and social development sounds good. International cooperation appeals to many. This is one world, we are told, and a disturbance in Indonesia is bound to cause a ripple in Washington.

But there is a basic fallacy in all this, the same basic fallacy that is found in pleas for big national government. This fallacy is that a handful of welfare planners, whether their scope is national or international, must demand conformity in everything for the sake of their plans. The individual ceases to mean anything at all. His wishes receive no consideration. The bigger the area over which the planners rule, the more they must control food, housing, production, jobs, and everything else.

In this One World that the planners seek, there is the additional objection that "democracy" in their thinking means one vote for every nation. The primitive world can easily outvote the civilized world, and it can happen any day in the General Assembly of the United Nations.

The first aim of the Mistaken has been to centralize governmental power in Washington, and that has just about been accomplished. They are now aiming to centralize the power somewhere else. If they have their way, America will be merely a province, outvoted in the superworld government by nations where freedom does not exist. That is the primary goal of the international conspirators. Their efforts to achieve it must be firmly resisted by American Patriots.

"Informed sources in Washington indicate that there is a serious threat that the King Bill (HR 7640) to federalize the unemployment benefit program will pass unless the businesses that pay the bill make their views known to their congressmen in the months ahead. The practical results of this bill would be that unemployment benefits would become a political football like Social Security and degenerate into a gigantic giveaway paid for entirely by business."

1962 FEED GRAIN SIGN-UP

Producers who wish to comply with the 1962 feed grain program will sign up between February 5 and March 30, reports C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist.

Provisions of the 1962 program are very similar to those for 1961. One change is that idle and fallow land for the years 1959 and 1960 will be considered in the soil conserving base for farms. This will give less flexibility in the use of land diverted from feed grains, explains Bates.

Payment rates for diverted acres will be in line with those for 1961 because support prices for feed grains have been set at identical levels. The rates are again based on the normal production of the farm times the county support rate. The minimum acreage reduction (from the 1959-60 base) is 20 percent, which will earn a payment based on 50 percent of the local support price. For diversion of between 20 and 40 percent the payment will be figured at 60 percent of the local support price.

Barley, which was not included in last year's program because of late passage of legislation, is included in the 1962 program. A producer having barley plus grain sorghum or corn can participate in barley reduction independent of the other crops. If he wishes to comply on barley alone, however, he must stay within his 1959-60 base on corn and grain sorghum if he wants to receive price supports. On the other hand, if he wishes to comply on the corn and grain sorghum he must not exceed his base acreage for barley.

Cooperating farmers will be eligible for price supports on their 1962 crops of corn, grain sorghum, barley, oats and rye, subject to the base yield limitations, Bates continues. Also, they are permitted to draw one-half of their total diversion payment at the time of their sign-up.

Non-cooperating producers will not be eligible for price supports on feed grains, but they will receive the market price for them. Since no acreage will be diverted they will not receive payment for any additional conservation use.

Grain producers should study carefully their individual alternatives in these programs. Decisions should rest on the estimated outcome for each operator, based on the goals he is seeking, says Bates.

Producers having questions about the effects of varying levels of compliance on their 1962 operations should contact their local County ASCS office manager or their local county agent.

"We will have a tough time selling our country to Africans and Indians and Chinese if we're not sold on it ourselves."

"It reminds me of two dogs I once had. When one of the mongrels came to the bank of a creek, fearing either discomfort or perhaps drowning, he would sit back on his haunches and howl—oh, such weeping and wailing."

"The other dog, without batting an eyelash, would plunge into the creek and continue the chase on the other side. It goes without saying which dog caught the most rabbits."

CARDS OF THANKS

I want to thank my many friends and neighbors for their many kindnesses and visits they have shown me since I have been sick. I also want to thank the Martin Church for the card and nice bouquet they sent me. I want to thank the hospital staff for their care while I was there. May God richly bless each and all of you. J. C. Perdue

WE ARE SINCERELY GRATEFUL

To friends and neighbors for their many kind acts of sympathy during our sad bereavement. Our appreciation cannot be adequately expressed.

The family of Odie Spier

For the true brotherly love shown us by so many of our friends and neighbors during our recent loss by fire, we take this way of saying we are extremely grateful.

The Ernest Ahlstrom family

I wish in this way to thank my many friends who sent cards, flowers, and gifts during my two weeks illness in the hospital. Your thoughtfulness was sincerely appreciated.

Mrs. Will Pickering

DRIVERS URGED TO TAKE IT EASY

"Easy does it" is a simple but sound rule that is practiced daily by all expert drivers to get started, to keep moving, and to stop their vehicles on slippery streets and roads during late winter and early spring rains and the occasional freeze-ups that still may hit the State. This was emphasized today by J. O. Musiek of Austin, General Manager of the Texas Safety Association.

"Applying this rule to starting from a stopped position, a good driver tries to avoid spinning his wheels," he said. "Tires which spin generate heat which causes unnecessary wear on tires and the vehicle and reduces safety."

Musiek recommended that all drivers consider their moral responsibility in traffic accident prevention and "drive by the Golden Rule."

NEW FARM TO MARKET BILL IS PRAISED

The Texas Highway Commission praised the new Farm to Market Road Bill as a "constructive piece of legislation" and announced that the bill will pave the way for an eventual 15,000 mile increase in total Farm Road mileage in the State.

Governor Price Daniel has signed the bill into law.

"The establishment by the Legislature, through this legislation, of a long-range maintenance program for Farm Roads will make increased new mileage possible," said Herbert C. Petry, Jr., Chairman of the Highway Commission.

National Debt Equivalent to $7,000 Mortgage for Every American Family

The total debt of the Federal Government of the United States is now equivalent to a mortgage of more than $7 thousand for every American family. It has risen by more than $24 billion since the end of World War II - an increase of nine per cent during 15 years of the greatest material prosperity our Nation has ever known.

Year after year, our national output of goods and services has gone up. Year after year, the tax receipts of the Federal Government have risen. But we have no provision whatsoever for paying off our national debt. No law has ever been passed, or even seriously considered, that would require some form of payment on the debt every year.

When are we going to start? The fact cannot be escaped that public confidence in the U.S. dollar rests on the belief that the Government not only will pay back its current debts to investors, but will make a sizeable reduction on the overall debt itself.

This confidence today is waning.

Unfortunately, there is a definite feeling among some people in high places that it doesn't matter what happens to the public debt, that the Government can borrow indefinitely without worrying about paying back what it borrows. The fallacious reasoning is summed up in the expression, "We just owe it to ourselves."

This reasoning is worse than fallacious; it is immoral. But disregarding for the moment the moral problem involved, we all should ask ourselves whether we, with any degree of safety whatsoever, can disregard all the basic principles laid down through the centuries as to what constitutes solvency. Can it be true that every economist in the history of the world was wrong and only we are right? It is to be doubted seriously.

People talk about "inflation" without knowing exactly what it means. "Runaway pricing" is a popular phrase describing the inevitable consequence of a rapid decrease in the purchasing power of the dollar. But in the long run, the integrity of any currency is related to public confidence. If the public believes in its money, the money will remain firm. If the public begins to have serious doubts about the money, the money will depreciate steadily. This is something that can happen suddenly. The doubts build up slowly, and there is a gradual erosion of confidence. Then all at once something happens to solidify those doubts into fear and the panic is on.

Governments have made poor records over the years of paying off war debts. Throughout history, nations have camouflaged their bankruptcy by "revaluating" their currency.

Just 185 years ago, a great Englishman wrote a great book. His name was Adam Smith and the title of his work was, The Wealth of Nations. The book, like all true classics, remains just as applicable today as it was when it was written. In it, Adam Smith describes the very same methods which European countries have used to "revalue" their currencies after the two world wars. There is a very significant passage from this book:

"When national debts have been accumulated to a certain degree, there is scarce, I believe, a single instance of their having been fairly and completely paid. The liberation of the public revenue, if it has been brought about at all, has always been brought about by a bankruptcy; sometimes an avowed one, but always a real one, though frequently by a pretended payment.

"The raising of the denomination of the coin has been the most usual expedient by which a real bankruptcy has been disguised under the appearance of a pretended payment. . . .

"A pretended payment of this kind, therefore, instead of alleviating, aggravates in most cases, the loss of the creditors of the public and, without any advantage to the public, extends the calamity to a great number of innocent people. It occasions a general and most pernicious subversion of the fortunes of private people, enriching in most cases the idle and profuse debtor at the expense of the industrious and frugal creditor, and transporting a great part of the national capital from the hands which were likely to increase and improve it to those which are likely to dissipate and destroy it."

This is the classical definition of "inflation."

But the fact that states have used such methods in the past does not mean that the formula is either morally or economically justified. Nor is a state able to gauge the scope of its action in advance. The dam may burst, the house of cards may collapse, and public confidence may completely wither away before the real crisis in a nation's finances has actually been reached.

In view of this, it behooves us to bear in mind that we are not reducing our national debt. We are not doing anything at all about it. The President, the Treasury and the Congress should never be permitted to forget this important fact.

President Kennedy has told us - and quite correctly - that we are living in a dangerous age. We are confronted with a need for more expenditures in national defense; this is inevitable. But despite the danger and despite the debt, non-defense expenditures are also being increased.

A whole cult has arisen in America which thinks it necessary to expend federal funds for all manner of purposes, from building our schools to cleaning up the trash in our back yards. They claim it is unnecessary even to attempt to balance the budget.

No thought is given to the erosion of public confidence in the future of the dollar. No greater error can be made. The financial trickery which other nations employed to "revalue" their currency led to tremendous privation among their citizens, misery, depression, unemployment and even actual starvation. The leaders of Communist Russia have repeatedly boasted that they will never have to conquer the United States by force of arms, that they will merely have to wait until we spend ourselves into bankruptcy and then they can walk in without opposition. At such a time we would indeed be powerless to resist.

If we do not stop public waste and extravagance, if we do not turn our minds toward paying of the national debt, we shall be paving the way for the destruction by the godless enemies of freedom and decency of everything we hold dear.

So again we must ask when we will have the character to start paying off our national debt.

Gov. Price Daniel's long fight over reporting unclaimed property to the state for escheat has ended at last.

So has the argument over rural roads policy. But the scrap over the question of what to do about regulating loans, interest rates and lenders is not yet settled.

The Legislature has settled the escheat and road policy questions. Also it has partially solved the advertising program for tourists, juvenile parole and repair of the San Jacinto Monument.

Money problems were eased when Comptroller Bob Calvert estimated that the escheat reporting law passed last year will yield at least $300,000 during the next 20 months.

When the Legislature meets, growing Texas brings a pack of problems to Austin for it to solve.

High Plains irrigation farmers are quarreling with their gas company. They want its rates regulated. Sen. Andy Rogers of Childress and Rep. H. G. Wells of Tulia tussled a bill through both houses to let the farmers appeal to the Railroad Commission, just as cities can do, if the gas company increases its rates.

No Relief in Sight Many legislators were hoping to go home at the end of the week, but as soon as they processed pending bills, other bills were submitted. At the end of the week, Governor Daniel submitted additional subjects: Authority for the Texas Employment Commission to enter into a compact with other states; financing of the Texas Securities Commission; an appropriation to the Department of Banking; and amendments to the Penal Code.

House members held a Friday session for the first time this month, and resigned themselves to working right through the last of the 30 days of the called session.

Inequities Study Proposed Rep. W. S. Heatly of Paducah introduced a resolution that the House Committee on Privileges, Suffrage and Elections study election "inequities" in the Constitution, an deport its findings to the next legislature.

Heatly said he didn't think it fair that while the law requires district and county officials to resign upon announcement of their candidacy for another office, it does not require this same action by all state officials.

FREE ENTERPRISE PRODUCES ABUNDANCE

The Iron Curtain countries have long been plagued with food shortages. Bare subsistence diets are the rule rather than the exception. Meat is a rarity. The pitifully small quantities of it that the average family obtains is of poor quality and is extortionately priced.

The regimented citizens of these "Workers' Paradises" will, it is safe to say, never be allowed to read an item that appeared in a recent issue of the Michigan Farmer. It pointed out that this year Americans will consume an average of 85 pounds of beef, 64.5 pounds of pork, 6.1 pounds of veal, and 4.4 pounds of lamb, along with an abundance of dairy and poultry products.

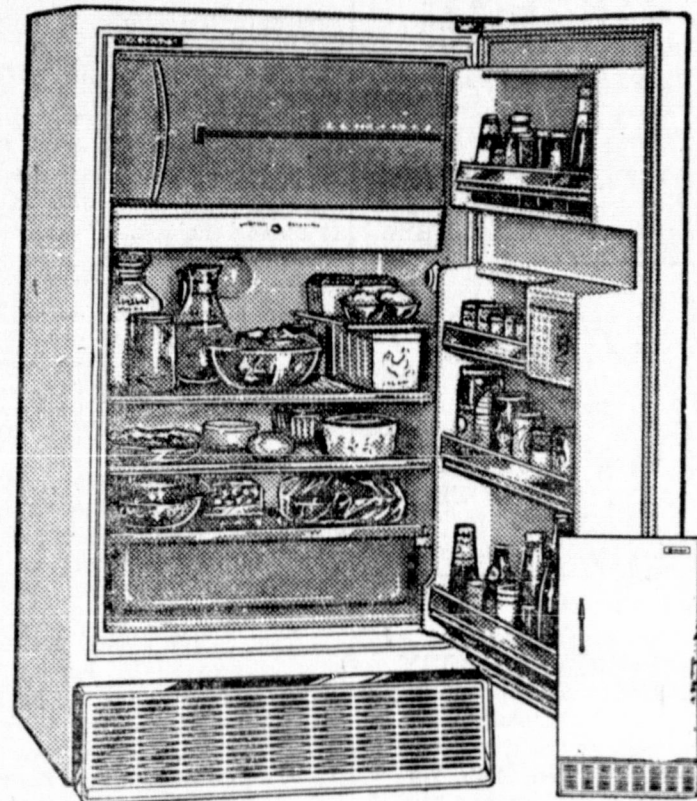

Then it adds that the average worker needs only 20 minutes of working time to earn enough to pay for a pound of meat—as against 35 minutes some 30 years ago. Putting it another way, the retail price of meat has increased less than 10 per cent in the last 10 years, as against a whopping 37 per cent increase in average hourly earnings.

The American meat industry, in all its ramifications — producer, packer, retailers — is a competitive, free enterprise operation. It is ruled by the natural law of supply and demand—not by the fiat of dictators. The results speak for themselves — plentiful supplies.

NMMI, San Angelo Beat Bulldogs

The Clarendon College Bulldogs suffered three defeats at the hands of Western Junior College Conference teams last week and took a firm grip on the cellar position in the conference standings with no wins and six defeats. The fall New Mexico Military Institute team defeated the Bulldogs twice last week while the smooth operating San Angelo Rams took their measure Saturday night.

In the games here over the weekend, NMMI defeated the Bulldogs by a score of 99 to 78 on Friday night and San Angelo came to town Saturday night and went home with a 97 to 71 victory. In Friday night's game the Bulldogs had plenty of trouble finding the basket in the first half but came back to outscore the visitors during the last half. The Bulldogs found themselves behind by a score of 47 to 24 at the half and then came back to outscore their opponents, 34 to 43 during the last half but could not catch up. Dee Blevins, a newcomer to the lineup this semester, and Ray DeFord tied for high point honors with 22 each. Kenneth Martindale contributed 13 points, with Billy Wiggins making 10 and Alvin Scott 8.

Saturday night's game was close for the first ten minutes, but once the well-balanced Rams found the range they forged ahead to stay. San Angelo was ahead, 55 to 33 at the half and except for a few anxious minutes early in the second half their lead was never in danger. The Bulldogs started the second half apparently determined to make a game of it and at one time had cut the San Angelo lead down to 14 points with the score 81 to 47, but that was as close as they could get as the Rams came charging back to the lead.

As was the case in Friday night's game, Dee Blevins and Ray DeFord again tied for high point honors with 19 each. Martindale made 12, Max Courtney 11, and Wiggins 8.

On Tuesday night of last week the Bulldogs journeyed to Roswell, New Mexico, to play the New Mexico Military Institute team and lost by a score of 96 to 72.

Memphis Cyclones Defeat Bronchos

The Clarendon High School Bronchos lost their second conference game of the season last Friday night at Memphis as the Cyclones edged out a 47 to 44 win. The girls did not play since Memphis is not fielding a girls team this year.

The second quarter told the story as the Cyclones overcame a three-point first quarter Broncho lead to take a 27 to 24 advantage at the half. Each team scored 13 points in the third quarter and seven in the last quarter. The Bronchos were ice cold from the free throw line. Each team committed 13 fouls but the Bronchos could make good on only six tries while the Cyclones were making 13.

James Allen was the leading Broncho scorer with 12 points while Billy Spier was making 11, John Cearley 9, Jerry Elmore 8, and Herman Vinson 4. Ronald Ables made 16 for Memphis.

This was the second conference defeat for the Bronchos. They lost to McLean two weeks ago, 60 to 41. Their only conference win as of Tuesday of this week was over the Lefors Pirates, 62 to 31. The girls are 1-1 in conference play. They lost to McLean, 44 to 41 and defeated Lefors, 69 to 40. This was the standing before Tuesday night's games with Canadian.

Cub Scout News

The big news in Cub Scouting is the upcoming Blue and Gold Banquet on February 16. Captain Kidd of KGNC-TV will be here as our guest speaker. We know all Cubs and their brothers and sisters will want to see and hear Captain Kidd.

The banquet will be open to brothers and sisters this year for the first time. It will be held in the new school cafeteria at 7:00 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 16. Mrs. Abel and her helpers will prepare and serve the meal. Tickets will be $1.00 for adults and children. This will pay for the food and for the help of the cafeteria workers.

All tickets will be sold beforehand only; no tickets will be sold at the door that night. The ticket sale will be closed on Monday, Feb. 12. All den mothers will have tickets so you can contact them.

The boys part of the program this year will be a Parade of Presidents. Each boy has been assigned a president. He will have a sentence or two about that president's boyhood to learn. We are leaving the costumes and make-up to the parents, with the gentle reminder that the more thought and effort put into this part the more successful and impressive the Parade will be. And boys, do your best for Captain Kidd.

Awards will be given at the close of the banquet. Check your books and let your den mother know what you have earned by Friday, Feb. 9.

Other important Cub Scout days are Feb. 8, Uniform Day, and Feb. 11, Scout Sunday. Special services will be held at the First Christian Church at 11 a.m. on Feb. 11 for Cubs.
