Broncs To Tangle With Sanford-Fritch Eagles Here Friday Night, 8 p.m.

By Adele Barnhill

Bouncing back from their initial defeat by Memphis, the Clarendon Bronchos are preparing to meet the 1-AA Sanford-Fritch Eagles in Broncho Stadium Friday night at 8 p.m. Physically and mentally the Bronchos are ready.

Coach Walker stated this week that scouting reports indicated the Eagles have a good size line and a well balanced offensive attack but seem to lack the quarterback leadership and ability that Memphis displayed. All indications point to a strong defensive team also, he added.

Local coaches felt that the Bronchos showed some of the marks of a good team in their encounter with Memphis but defensive mistakes on critical downs resulted in the final defeat. One disturbing factor which the Clarendon coaches noticed was that the Bronchos seemed to lack the necessary desire and drive to push on for a victory even though the odds were against them with Memphis ahead 14 points.

Coach Walker said that the Bronchos think they have overcome some of their mistakes this week and are hoping this improvement means a victory over Sanford-Fritch Friday night.

Probable Broncho defensive starters will be linemen Pat Perkins, Larry Green, Gale Gray, and Barry Tyler; linebackers Everett Monroe, Archie Smith, and Pete Campbell; corner backs Steve Land and Larnce Gardner and halfbacks Mac McClellan and Monte Land.

JAYCEE NEWS

By Bill Bradshaw

The local Jaycees were able to accomplish a feat that few Jaycee chapters ever do. They received coast to coast, border to border, nationwide publicity for their Labor Day Rest Stop.

The story was released in Amarillo over the United Press International Wire Service. The story that was released stated that the local Jaycees took a car from a wrecking yard and that the owner of the yard passed by and saw his car turned upside down and smashed. This story stated that he then went to the courthouse and filed charges of theft against the local Jaycees. The story also stated that the car was his family car and valued at $700.

First, part of the story is true, but the bad part is not. Yes, the Jaycees, or as the case may be, Bill Bradshaw went out to the wrecking yard and pulled the car out to the Rest Stop. The car was then turned upside down. This all happened on Friday. On Monday, the wrecking yard owner came down to get his car to rebuild it. When he saw the car he went to the courthouse and called Jaycee President Bill Bradshaw. No charges or suits were ever filed by the owner of the yard. He was unhappy because the Jaycees picked the one car he was going to fix. He stated that the Jaycees could have had any car on the yard but this one. All the yard owner wanted was his car fixed. The total cost to the Jaycees will be between $50 and $100.

The whole thing turned out to be a source of kidding and razzing by local people. The misunderstanding was cleared up fast and the whole thing is all but settled.

What is so curious is the fact that during a year's work the local Jaycees have about 75 to 100 projects. All of these projects concern worthwhile things they have done. None of these projects have received any publicity other than in our local paper. Yet the first time something wrong happens the Jaycees are on the news nationwide. The story was on Paul Harvey News, Channel 10, Channel 7, and several radio newscasts in Amarillo. It was in the Phoenix, Arizona, Tucson, Arizona, Wichita Kansas; Kansas City, Missouri, Abilene, and Ft. Worth, Texas newspapers.

TRI-STATE FAIR SET FOR SEPTEMBER 19-24

Completion of arrangements for the 1966 Tri-State Fair in Amarillo, Texas was announced today by Rex Baxter, manager. The Tri-State Fair is scheduled to get under way September 19 and is slated to continue through September 24. According to Mr. Baxter this is the greatest array of spectacular events in the history of the Tri-State Fair. Headlining the Tri-State Fair this year will be "The Brenda Lee Show" featuring the world's number one girl singer, Brenda Lee, backed by that famous group "The Casuals" and a star studded cast of over a dozen nationally known entertainers such as Vic Dana, the well known recording artist, internationally known composer, conductor, arranger, and harmonica player, Richard Hayman, and the world renown ventriloquist, Jimmy Nelson, just to name a few. Also featured at the Tri-State Fair will be such free attractions as the fantastic 1966 Chevrolet Cinesphere Show that gives the realistic effect of putting the viewer at the very heart of the activity. The viewer will visually zoom through major attractions throughout the United States. The youngsters will enjoy their turn at the parachute jump and have a free chance to win one of three gasoline powered Monza junior cars to be given away at the Cinesphere show. Everyone will be entertained by the antics of the trained porpoise, Skipper! There will be thrilling old west gunfights by the six gun crew. All this and much more, not to mention the glamor and excitement of the fun-filled midway, animal exhibits, and literally hundreds of displays by merchants and manufacturers. Mr. Baxter stated that he would like to extend a cordial invitation to everyone to be on hand as the new 1966 "Tri-State Fair unfolds September 19 through September 24 in Amarillo, Texas.

Some legal authorities do not believe a straight refund is possible without a constitutional amendment, although the Legislature could authorize the cities to levy their own sales tax with the state serving as collector.

HIGHWAY WEEK SET FOR SEPTEMBER 18-24

No people on earth place so much dependence on a modern highway network as do Texans, Ray M. Keck, Jr., president of the Texas Good Roads Association, said today.

Keck, calling attention to the forthcoming observance of Highway Week, September 18-24, noted that more than 1,800 Texas communities are served by no other mode of transportation. "Our great metropolitan centers 'grew up' in this era of motor vehicle transportation," Keck added. "They are geared to the free-flowing movement of goods and people afforded by a system of first class highway arteries."

Theme of this year's observance of Highway Week is "Better Highways Save Lives ... Time ... Money." The event is sponsored by Texas Good Roads Association, citizen's group dedicated to better highway transportation for all Texans.

Officials from major Texas cities, beset with money problems are calling on the Legislature to allow municipalities a 50-50 split in any new broad-based state taxes enacted next year.

Gov. John Connally pledged to recommend "very substantial new sources of revenue" for the cities after a group of metropolitan area mayors conferred with him.

Question as to whether the kind of revenue-sharing plan advocated by mayors is permissible under the state constitution will be briefed by the Texas Legislative Council, at the request of House Speaker Ben Barnes.

Cities petitioned for a 50 percent refund of any increase in the state sales tax or an equivalent amount of any new broad-based tax, with the state doing the collecting and apportioning half of new funds where paid.

While agreeing to ask the Legislature for financial relief for the cities, Connally declined to spell out the precise form and amount he will seek. He did promise there will be "no strings attached" to his recommendation.

Connally also reported an agreement for regular conferences on urban problems between the mayors and top State Officials.

What will happen to the cities' request for financial assistance in a legislative session where a state tax bill of more than $200,000,000 is regarded as a certainty remains to be seen.

Some legal authorities do not believe a straight refund is possible without a constitutional amendment, although the Legislature could authorize the cities to levy their own sales tax with the state serving as collector.

NEW MANSION SOUGHT — At its initial meeting, the Texas Fine Arts Commission, created by the Legislature in 1965, recommended a new governor's mansion and said the present residence, completed in 1855, should be operated as a historic house.

Governor Connally has not yet expressed his view on a new mansion. However, last year when the State Building Commission, of which he is chairman, recommended a new $1,000,000 mansion, he deferred and recommended that the money be used elsewhere.

Commission outlined a far-reaching program to encourage development of, and participation in, the arts, including traveling exhibits, festivals, awards, nighttime family entertainment in communities and revived band concerts on the square.

Former Atty. Gen. John Ben Sheppard of Odessa was named chairman of the new agency.

"RED MEANS WRONG" — You will be seeing lots of red if you drive the wrong way on a Texas freeway.

In a move to curb wrong-way freeway pileups, State Highway Department is installing red reflector buttons and pavement markers at entrances to interstate and other controlled access highways.

If you see a red arrow pointing at you from the pavement as you enter a freeway ramp, you are entering the wrong way. A straight red line pointing against you on lane lines means you are going in the wrong direction.

We wish to express our thanks to all our neighbors and friends for the beautiful floral offerings, the food, and the lovely cards during our recent bereavement. These kind acts will remain with us as precious memories.

1967 VEHICLE INSPECTION BEGAN SEPTEMBER 1

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety announced today that the 1967 vehicle inspection period has begun.

Garrison said that the new inspection period began on September 1 and will end on April 15, 1967 as prescribed by the Public Safety Commission. The inspection period is the same as in previous years.

This means that between now and April 15, 1967, each of the five and one half million Texas registered vehicles will have to secure the new green and white 1967 inspection from one of the 5,500 official inspection stations," he said.

Garrison pointed out that Texas inspection stations can be identified by the official vehicle inspection station sign displayed at each station.

Garrison suggested that if motorists have their vehicles inspected during the routine visits to garages for ordinary maintenance, the necessity of having to wait in line at a later date for an inspection will be eliminated.

In announcing the new inspection period, the Public Safety Director pointed out that vehicle defects contributing to traffic accidents in Texas during 1965 were the fewest yet experienced since the inspection program began in 1951.

Meet Dee Miller, Democratic Candidate For U. S. Representative

Have you met Dee Miller, District Candidate for U. S. Representative from the 18th Congressional District, your district? What do you know about his background and qualifications for this office?

Dee Miller is a native of this area having been born November 22, 1933, at Borger, Texas. He is now 32 years of age, one of seven children born to Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Miller of Borger. His father has been Justice of the Peace in Borger since the late 1950's. Mrs. Miller is the former Joan Farquhar of Amarillo. The couple have two daughters, Jennifer, 4, and Juni, 3. He is a member of the First Presbyterian Church, Amarillo.

Miller received his education from several institutions of higher learning. He graduated from Borger High School in 1952, attended Frank Phillips Junior College in Borger, and West Texas State, University of Texas and Southern Methodist University School of Law. He holds a Bachelor's Degree in business administration from the University of Texas where he majored in banking and finance, and a degree in law from SMU.

Service wise, he spent six months on active duty with the U. S. Army and holds the reserve rank of Captain in the U. S. Army Judge Advocate Corps.

Dee Miller joined the staff of the 47th District Attorney in Amarillo as an assistant prosecutor in February, 1960, and in October of 1961 was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Frank Baughman who resigned to enter private practice. Miller was serving his first elected term as District Attorney when he was selected as Democratic candidate for U. S. Congress. He resigned his post in August 1966 to devote full time to his campaign.

Miller is a member of the Amarillo Junior Bar Association, Amarillo Bar Association, Texas Bar Association, County and District Attorney's Association of Texas, and the National District Attorney's Association.

The male segment of the Miller family's interests tend to favor law for he and two brothers are graduates of law schools while the other is a Captain in the U. S. Navy having graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis. His three sisters hold degrees in journalism.

Further releases will endeavor to acquaint constituents of the 18th district with some of his political views as expressed in addresses before various groups in the district.

FLU IMMUNIZATION RECOMMENDED NOW

The Texas State Health Department has issued a bulletin predicting relatively low influenza activity during the 1966-67 season. However, limited outbreaks may occur. Annual influenza immunization should be given regularly to persons in groups which are known to experience high mortality from epidemic influenza. These groups include: e.g. chronic heart, lung, kidney or metabolic disorders; patients residing in nursing homes, chronic disease hospitals and other similar institutions; older age groups, i.e. individuals over 45 and especially those over 65, and pregnant women falling in any of the above groups. Individuals not vaccinated since July 1963, should receive two doses of polyvalent vaccine two months apart. Those vaccinated since July 1963 need to take a single booster dose only.

Visiting Mrs. Clyde Gilbert Thursday of last week were Mrs. J. E. Johnson, Mrs. B. B. Wolford, Mrs. Alvin Miller, and Mrs. Stella Dye, all of Claude.

EMERGENCY HAYING AND GRAZING

As you know, the emergency grazing and/or haying of soil bank, diverted, and CAP acreages was extended through October 31, 1966. If you wish approval to graze or hay any of these acreages, you must make your application before you begin. Charges for these services vary according to type cover. If you're interested, be sure and check with us.

PROGRAM PAYMENTS

Final payments have been made to all those who are in the wheat program only unless payment is to be delayed due to grazing or for spot checking. We hope to start making final payments on the feed grain and cotton farms as soon as the 25% spot checks have been completed. "Shy", C. H., & "Tex" are checking these farms now.

WHEAT ALLOTMENTS

Revised 1967 wheat allotments have been mailed. The original wheat allotment established was multiplied by 115% to obtain the revised allotment. There will be no required or voluntary diversion from wheat in 1967. Certificate payment will be based on 35% of the allotment.

CERTIFICATION

We want to thank each of you for being prompt in reporting acreages and also for your cooperation in "breaking in" this new type of performance. Spot checks so far reveal that you did an excellent job of measuring your own crops.

Memphis Cyclone Drop Bronchos 20-0

By Adele Barnhill

Approximately 2,000 fans filled Broncho Stadium Friday night as the Clarendon Bronchos lost their season opener to the Memphis Cyclone by a score of 20-0.

Two long Cyclone passes seemed to break the Bronchos' defensive spirit and contributed much to their unexpected defeat.

During the first quarter of the game, Memphis connected on a 59 yard pass through the Clarendon secondary for their first touchdown. The Cyclone fumbled while trying to kick the extra point, leaving the score 6-0. Both teams were evenly matched on defense in the second quarter which was scoreless. At the half Memphis still led, 6-0.

In the third period of play, another long pass carried Memphis fifty-five yards to the Clarendon five yard line. Memphis ran three plays in an attempt to score but fumbled and lost the ball to the Bronchos. Then Clarendon ran two plays against the Cyclone line and also fumbled the ball. Memphis recovered and went on to score from the 7 yard line. The Cyclone then ran a tricky play for the two point conversion, leaving the Bronchos behind 14-0.

With only twenty seconds of playing time remaining, Memphis passed again for 12 yards and their final touchdown. Their conversion attempt failed, and the final score had the Cyclone on top, 20-0. Clarendon pushed through the line for nine first downs, while Memphis made only six first downs. The Bronchos gained 163 yards rushing to the Cyclone's 200 yards rushing. Clarendon's deepest penetration during the game was the 20 yard line early in the second quarter when they lost the ball on downs.

permitting live television and radio broadcast coverage of committee hearings or sessions of the full House. The Senate rules do permit live broadcast coverage of Senate hearings although broadcasting is not permitted from the Senate Chamber. Broadcast news reporters have the same rights and privileges in covering Congress as do reporters for newspapers, and magazines: like press reporters, they can attend hearings and sessions and then report what they've learned and observed. In addition, the broadcast men often set up their equipment outside of hearing rooms and on the steps of the Capitol to interview participants in events making news. Some broadcasters would like to see House and Senate rules relaxed to permit greater freedom of coverage to move "live" cameras and microphones into the hearing rooms and chambers. It is an understandable feeling on their part, and I'm sure their desires are shared by many Americans who would like to attend, through the broadcast media, sessions of Congress as important legislation is developed. Some argue that by denying the right to direct coverage to radio and TV, Congress suffers from what is termed a "public relations gap" in relation to the White House and executive departments, where broadcasting is widely employed to report events. The fact that Senate hearings may be televised and House hearings cannot be covered on TV undoubtedly has created among some persons the thought that Senate hearings are more important than House hearings. By this mistaken standard, House "public relations" possibly may have suffered. The age is one in which allied crafts of advertising and public relations have come to the fore, Salesmanship is essential if goods and services are to move in commerce. We all have seen the competition for public attention by persons with something to sell, a message to put across, an idea they hope can win favor.

But is it the role of the Congress of the United States to compete for public attention? I think not. The role of Congress is made clear in the Constitution and, in my view, it performs the functions with the thorough deliberation intended by the founding fathers. Members of the House and Senate would demean their public responsibility if they were to act as public relations men for the Congress by vying with others in the government for public attention in ways that would distort the legislative function. Legislating should not be permitted to become part of a show rather than the solemn obligation of the people's elected representatives. The job is to make the best law possible, not to become performers in what could evolve into self-serving broadcast circus or to outshout others in pursuit of publicity. The best public relations in which Congress can engage is to do its job as well as possible, to end unwise delegations of authority to Executive departments, to assert through wise action—not the clamor of publicity — its positions as the people's branch in our tripartite system in which legislative, executive, and judicial branches perform separate but equal functions. No amount of publicity in the end, can substitute for good performance.

The presence of "live" cameras in hearings or in sessions of Congress would bring out in some the very human inclination to post and posture, to demagogue, to overstate issues. Judged purely as a performance the result might be an interesting spectacle, but it would be bad law-making.

UNCLE ZEB

We remember watching our father trim and smooth the hoofs of our work horses. He would take the rasp with the rough snags on it and file it across the edges of the hoofs until the feet would balance and in so doing help the horses walk up and down the crop rows with greater ease. In thinking about it afterwards it seems that the road of life is in many ways like the old hoof rasp. The rough spots and snags along the way are things that trim our lives into better shape to face up to the daily living. A smooth piece of steel would never have smoothed the feet of the horses. Smooth sailing and slick living will never prepare us better to travel the road of life. Like the rasp, once in a while the rough spots along the way will hit a tender spot but in the end we will be better prepared to face up to life.

Many Improvements In Restyled 1967 Chevrolet Truck Line

Clean, trim practical styling that gives a low, fleet look to this Fleetside pickup is only one of many advances in the 1967 Chevrolet truck line. Vision, cab comfort, and corrosion-resistance are improved. Other new features in the line include longer bodies and more power for Chevy-Vans, a redesigned, lower four-wheel-drive series, and diesels in forward-control delivery vans. In some larger models, a new shorter cab and front sheet metal design give a shorter wheelbase for improved maneuverability with no loss in load space.

IF

By Lea Palmer

If you can see folks through their hour of sorrow, your prayers will send the help that only prayers can lend. If you spread a little sunshine along life's busy road, each new dawn will touch your heart anew with soothing grace.

If you remember friends who have embraced the hauling down of hopes flown high, your love can swiftly dry the tears that filled their eyes.

If you can greet each unknown stranger with a friendly hand-clasp, you will hold and treasure the bright moments that helped to make things right.

If you give courage to those who watch the world go by, while others work and play, your power will help to heal the hurts that time and chance so often bring.

If you give strength to those who suffer pain filled with fear, you will believe in kindness with its power to heal and mend.

You will then believe in yourself for believing is simply trusting, which is life's hardest task.

News From Clarendon College

The New Look

By Emily Neece

Clarendon College opened its doors bright and early Monday morning. Filling its halls were the returning students and faculty members, but even louder echoes were caused by the many new students and the new teachers. Smiles are seen everywhere and everyone is having the fun of getting acquainted and making new friends.

As usual, the boys are excitedly discussing the new girls and the girls are naturally comparing notes on the male population. And when the boys and girls get together, they discuss their courses and the teachers. (?) When discussing their instructors, a note of uncertainty creeps into their voices. Since several new teachers were hired, the students aren't too sure what to expect! However, everyone seems ready and eager to meet the new challenges, so with that right attitude, they really don't have too much to worry about.

From the looks of things, this will be a full and fruitful year. Clarendon College is glad to be in full session once again, and to the new faculty members and to the new students CC extends a hearty welcome.

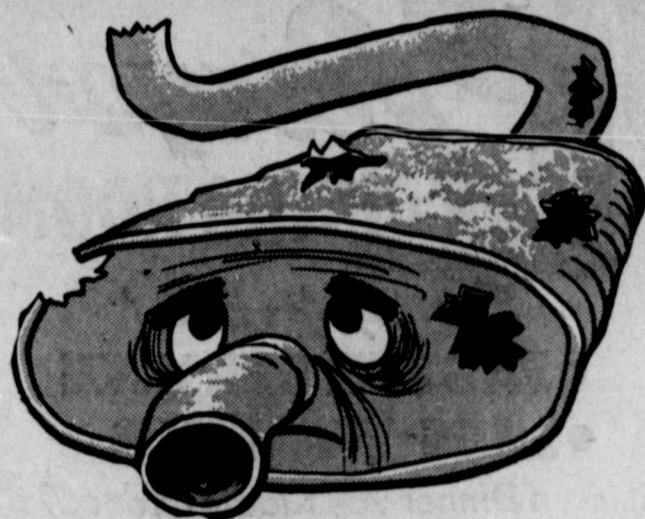

A Note To The Readers Of Hilltop Notes

Miss Emily Neece, a freshman student at Clarendon College, will edit the column this year. We are pleased to have a student editor assume this responsibility and are looking forward to an interesting and informative series of articles from her desk. She will introduce her staff of co-workers to you as the group is organized. We hope that you will enjoy their efforts and will tell them so.

Cotton and County Fairs Go Together

Our County Fair will reflect many things—and one of them is the agricultural revolution we are going through here in Donley County as well as the industry as a whole. Within the last few years we have seen practically the last of hand operation go out of cotton harvesting in this area. West Texas Gin has been in the forefront of this revolution just as we have been in the vanguard of agricultural progress since our organization.

We believe everyone should come to the Fair. You see on display the best of those crops that are the backbone of Donley County economy, and we invite you especially to study the displays of cotton. They are a preview of the crop we will harvest this fall.
