Bronchoettes Lose To Idalou in Regional Girls Tournament

The highly successful season of the Clarendon High School girls basketball team came to a close at Lubbock last Saturday morning when they lost to Idalou, 55 to 51, in the first game of the regional tournament.

The game at Lubbock was very close all the way. Clarendon took a 21 to 20 lead at the half after the score was deadlocked at 11-11 at the end of the first quarter.

Paula Adams star forward for the Bronchoettes for the past four years, again paced her team in its futile attempt to stay in the play-offs.

The Bronchoettes lost the services of two of their starting guards. Molly Floyd left the game with five fouls midway of the third quarter and Peggy Jackson had to leave the game on fouls with three minutes remaining in the fourth period.

Idalou lost to Sundown, the defending champion, in the finals Saturday night, 42 to 34.

Little League Meeting Set for Friday Night

An important Little League meeting has been set for Friday night, March 9th at 7:30 p.m. at the City Hall with Pitts Crudginton of Claude as guest speaker for the evening.

At the meeting held last Friday night quite a bit of the organizational set-up was completed with the following teams and managers already named: Pony League — Johnny Grady; Major (Little League) — Cubs, Bill Hicks and Dub Tyler; Gold, Hubert Kidd and Bill Land; Sox, Randall Choate; Yankees, Billy Scott.

Choate needs an assistant to help him with the Gold Sox and Scott needs some helpers to help him with the colored boys. Scott organized this group last year and did a fine job considering the time he had to spend with the group.

In the minor league (Pewees) Jake Lamberth is coach of the Indians; Fred Ketchum is coach of the Dodgers and J. B. Melton is coach of the Pirates. Each of these men need at least one assistant coach.

If you can help out with any of the above situations, please contact these men and let them know you are interested or contact Horace McClellan, head of the organization.

All persons interested in the Little League program are urged to attend this meeting Friday night. This is Clarendon's only organized summer recreational program and it certainly needs the backing of everyone.

Large Crowd Attends Open House of New School Buildings

The turnout for the open house of the new Clarendon School buildings was overwhelming Sunday afternoon when over 1500 adults registered in addition to several hundred school children being present.

The bulk of those attending were patrons of the school but a surprising number of the visitors were former students and teachers who live away from Clarendon and made the trip back to see this wonderful improvement in our school system.

Visitors filled every room and hallway throughout the three hours of the open house and inspected the modern facilities that are being offered to our students with the foremost exclamation being, "This should have happened sooner."

If you were unable to attend the open house, just be sure to plan to be present for the dedication services tonight.

ROBERSON CASE TO BE MOVED AGAIN

A case involving Mrs. W. N. (Queen) Roberson and a former Amarillo bail-bondsman, which was scheduled to be tried here Tuesday, is due to be changed to another location.

Decision to move the case came Tuesday afternoon when it appeared that it would be impossible to empanel a jury to hear the civil suit. At 2 p.m. a jury venire of 60 had dwindled to 18 and the law requires there be at least 24 qualified jurors.

For this reason Judge Gribble granted an oral motion of defendant's counsel for a change of venue.

Speaker of the House James A. Turman, candidate for lieutenant governor and former educator, expressed concern about the House Textbook committee, which he appointed.

Turman was shocked when he heard that a witness in an Amarillo textbook hearing alleged that Rep. Ronald Roberts of the committee was a "communist."

"I am afraid the committee members have been too nice and open about letting anyone appear to talk about any sort of censorship," Turman said. He is worried about the committee getting too far astray of its goal of studying the textbook situation in Texas.

In an Independence Day address at Washington-on-the-Brazos, he advocated the teaching of Texas history in all grade levels, and declared, "I think it is a mistake — a sad mistake — for our educational system in Texas to relegate our great state's history into a sort of grammar school fairytale."

Space Age Seminar

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, came to town to tell a congregation of high school counselors how the move into space will affect American youth.

The Vice President's talk was the highlight of a two-day conference at the University of Texas which featured a NASA exhibit of space vehicles and a talk on "Space Satellites" by NASA representative Dr. Robert Krebs.

Vast Roadwork Underway
In keeping with its claim that Texas leads the nation in highway building, the State Highway Commission issued orders to proceed with $18,000,000 worth of road building, planning and repairs throughout the state.

Sunday No Exception
Just because April 15 will fall on a Sunday this year, drivers won't be allowed to put off auto inspection until the following day. Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the State Department of Public Safety, says April 15 is the deadline — Sunday or no.

Garrison said he won't ask inspection stations to stay open that Sunday, either. So, owners of the 2,000,000 cars in the state will just have to take care of this problem by the 14th of April, or risk arrest.

Governor Goes to Washington
Gov. Price Daniel went to Washington, D. C., for the weekend where he shared honors with Billy Graham as speaker for the annual President's Prayer Breakfast.

As a U.S. Senator, Daniel was president of the Christian Leadership group, sponsors of the annual breakfast for the President, his cabinet and members of Congress. He has remained active in the program in the nation's capital and in Austin.

Judge Zolie Steakley of the Texas Supreme Court hosted a similar event in the governor's mansion while he was gone.

Army Calls for April Quota
Eligible men 22 years old and older will make up the April army draft quota of 244, says Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director.

Number of inductees is up from the March quota of 228. Schwartz said local quotas already have been sent to the 137 local boards in the state.

ASHTOLA NEWS

Mrs. Doyce Graham

Several from here attended the Science Fair and Open House at the Clarendon School Sunday afternoon. We noticed that Rudy Lynn Partain and Larry Lewis won a trophy on their exhibit which was a volcanic eruption done in plaster of paris with a drawing on cardboard behind the plaster volcano. Also Loretta Hill, who with two other girls, prepared an exhibit on native grasses of Texas, won a trophy on their work. It was with pride indeed that we viewed our children's efforts. There may have been others from Ashtola who won, and if so, we hope you will let us know, so we can acknowledge the fact. We are represented by Clyde Hudson and Warren Hardin who are on the Board of Education. The student assistants, members of the National Honor Society, were very helpful on the tour; we feel it was enlightening, and a very pleasant afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Dunn spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Nuford Dill.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Graham of Amarillo spent the week end in the H. A. Graham home.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyce Graham shopped in Amarillo Friday, and visited friends in Claude.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Knox shopped in Memphis Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene White and Kim of Amarillo visited Mr. and Mrs. John White Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Knox visited Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Hinders Friday night.

TO THE VOTERS OF CLARENDON

I have been asked by several different people to run for City Commissioner of Clarendon. I will accept the responsibility and will represent the people of the town to the best of my ability.

I am for good clean water and good sanitary conditions. I am not in favor of the City furnishing transportation for hunting outside city limits.

I have no desire to condemn the City or anyone in the City for my own personal interest.

You support me and I will support you. Would appreciate your vote and influence. Thank you. J. R. ALLEN (7-p)

CARL ALLMOND DISCUSSES POINT 3 OF PLATFORM

We are all aware of taxes. At times they are very annoying. I think everyone should know how all candidates for this office stand in regard to taxes. I am a strong believer in equitable taxation; that is to be reasonable, right, honest, upright and impartial. I am against raising a any county taxes until all present resources have been exploited. (1) See that all available property is placed on the tax roll. If you have all your property on the tax roll and your neighbor does not, you are being robbed. The amount of dollars paid in does not justify any property owner omitting any of his property from the tax roll.

2. See that all delinquent taxes are collected. A property owner knows taxes must be paid. Therefore this should be taken into consideration in the operation of his business or property. There should be no free riders. (Paid Pol. Adv.)

Price, spice and everything nice!

Who ever thought a car that saves like this could have so much sizzle? Chevrolet engineers, that's who! Liveliness and luxury for a low, low price were exactly what they had in mind to begin with. And they began from scratch with a whole carload of ingenious new ideas designed to give you more for your money. That spunky 6 with gas-sipping stinginess is just one example. Another: a new unutilized body by Fisher that's fit for a full-size family inside, easy to park outside. Still another: tough but gentle one-piece Mono-Plate rear springs that outdo many a bigger car for quiet comfort. Any wonder Chevy II won Car Life magazine's 1962 Engineering Excellence award hands down? (The wonder would be if you settled for anything less—once you get your hands on one at your Chevrolet dealer's!)

BLWIN' Out the CORNERS

Bless You All, each and every one who have been so anxious to get your copy of our book. We didn't mean to mention it again so soon, but it is sort of like having a picture of your grandbaby in your pocket. Excuse me this time, and we won't bring up the subject for a couple of weeks after we say that the response has been far above any hopes we ever dreamed about. To have folks buy a copy, and after reading it order several to give to friends is the finest compliment we could ask for.

Growing old is a real blessing. It can be even more wonderful if we are growing older with the proper attitude toward life and toward those of all ages. In the first place unless we are growing older, we are already done for. One fellow would always say he was just this side of fifty, but would never admit which side he was traveling on. Each one of us can right off think of someone among our friends who has grown old beautifully. There is something of a natural instinct that makes us love the older people who have kept that lovable spirit alive in their heart. We can get a real blessing when we drop by and visit with older friends . . . Try it . . .

We borrowed the following from a sermon by Dr. Winifred Moore of Amarillo's First Baptist Church. It even has more truth than poetry. It goes: It isn't nice to be a fussin'. For it never brings us peace. But the wheel that does the squeaking Is the one that gets the grease. . .

Our heart was moved by the story of a little boy in a nearby town who recently lost his dog. The boy was a victim of a life in a wheel chair and the little dog was his most constant companion. But, one day the little dog strayed away and became lost. The radio stations gave publicity but for several days there was no response. A lady had found the dog just as she was leaving town. It seemed homeless and lost so she took it along with her. When she returned to town she heard about the crippled boy and his lost dog. She returned it to the boy. To put it mildly he was overjoyed but the thing that impressed was his comment.

"All the day long and into the night I prayed for the return of my dog. I knew that God answered prayers if I could get through to Him. I was about to decide that I must have my wires crossed."

If we, as adults, could keep our faith this well in the face of a negative answer all would be well with our life. He never lost faith in God, but blamed the trouble on a faulty connection between his lifeline and God . . . We wonder how often our failure to get our answer to some prayer lies in a bad connection or because we have our wires crossed. . . I am glad that his little dog showed up, but I am also glad that he shared with us this inspiring experience. Jesus said: "Suffer little children to come unto me, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

Twenty years or so ago it seemed almost stylish to have an appendectomy. It seemed that one hadn't lived, or perhaps couldn't live peaceably unless he had had at least a mild attack of appendicitis. And in some cases if the doctors peered into your inner self for any other reason they would as a measure of precaution disconnect this seemingly unimportant organ.

Now we read that better diets, the use of antibiotics on other diseases, plus a campaign by the medical profession themselves against unnecessary operations for this disease has lowered the rate by 50 per cent in the last few years. Jdst our luck that this would happen to the world after our own had already been exposed.

Mrs. Hazel Darrow of Shamrock sends us the following saying: "When your load is too heavy—laugh it off."

Probably just about everyone likes memberships; likes the idea of belonging to something. Our latest such membership comes from Paul Allingham, chairman of the SEPPHLRTEP of Atchison, Kansas. This is an organization for the preservation and encouragement of folks riding on trains, especially Pullmans. We read the card real close and we do appreciate it a lot even if nowhere in the fine print did we find a free pass. It is good to know that we are a member in good sitting . . .

"Better start with a small cottage on the ground rather than a castle in the air."

USEFUL WORK PROGRAMS TO EMPLOY RELIEFERS
The practice of organizing useful work programs to employ applicants for relief under our national welfare system seems to be spreading. It is also beginning to pay dividends in an unexpected way. It is teaching many men how to use ordinary tools properly and so contributes to their ability to compete for employment, a most constructive circumstance and one not contemplated under the relief program. At first there was a wide-spread resentment over making these applicants work for their pay. But taxpayer pressure, plus the fact that the applicants are actually happier when doing something useful, forced the issue.

An optimist makes light of his troubles; a pessimist keeps them in the dark.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Great Plains Conservation Program

The Great Plains Conservation Program was begun about 4 years ago. Under the present law, it will be in effect until 1981. Even though this program has been in effect for some time, many people are still not aware of its benefits and advantages. The program is designed to carry out a complete conservation plan on any farm or ranch. The main advantage to the program is that money for cost-sharing on all the practices is set aside at the time the plan is completed and the contract signed. Then there is not any doubt as to whether cost-share money will be available next year or the next for the practices planned to be carried out in that program year. Another big advantage is that you have a conservation plan to follow when carrying out conservation practices. Also, all allotted crops are protected for twice the length of the contract, whether these crops are planted or not.

Any amount up to $25,000.00 can be earned in cost-share assistance under a contract. This may be earned in as little as three years time.

At the present time, there are 42 active Great Plains Conservation Program contracts in the Donley County SCD.

See the Soil Conservation Service personnel in Clarendon for full details.

Grass Seeding Time
Now is the ideal time to be seeding native grasses. Several Donley SCD farmers and ranchers have seeded grass or have made definite plans to seed grass this season. Some of them are Jiggs Mann, Guy Sibley, RO Catle Company, Troy Broome, J. T. Hill, McDowell Estate, Roy Blackman, Truett Behrens, Lowell Jarrett, Robert H. Crouch, and many others.

If you want to seed grass this season, you should make plans to do so immediately because the earlier you get seed in the ground, the better chance you have for a successful stand of grass. You should have a good cover of some kind on the land to seed into. This is to protect the land from wind erosion, and protect the young grass seedlings from damage. Several different types of cover will give good protection. One of the best is drilled sorghum residue. Another type of cover is an existing stand of Johnson grass or Sorghum Alnum. This should be kept mowed so that the young grass seedlings will have an equal chance with it for the available moisture. Another method of seeding being used to some degree is in existing range grasses that are poor.

Cost-share is available on grass seeding through either ACP or Great Plains Conservation Program. Seeding done on Soil Bank land that does not have an adequate cover also may be cost-shared this year.

Soil Conservation Service personnel assisting the Donley County SCD will be glad to help you with the amounts and the kinds of grass you need for your land.

Grass drills are available from the SCD. Contact the SCS for the location of these drills.

The greatest threat to our Nation today is the precarious situation of our balance of international payments and with it the potential erosion of world confidence in the dollar.

SHORT WORK HOURS COURTS UNEMPLOYMENT

Demands for unreasonably short work hours and higher and higher wages will be the incentive for the invention and use of more and more labor-saving equipment.

Will the next step be to pay some people for not working in order to reduce a labor surplus the same as some farmers are paid to not plant to prevent overproduction?

Our economy can stand the strain of inflation up to a point just like a balloon—then boom—and we start over.

There is no hedge against a wooden nickel.

It's easier to stitch cotton canvas or duck if you will rub soap along seam lines before sewing.

Depreciation & Income

Depreciation takes its toll from farm machinery, buildings and other farm investments every year. It's just simple economics that capital goods lose value as they age. There is a bright spot, however, because farmers can deduct this depreciation from their income tax, says C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist.

All farmers, whether they complete their own tax returns or provide information to an accountant for filing, should study the choices on depreciation available to them. A copy of the 1962 Farmers Tax Guide, which may be obtained from the local county agent, provides an explanation of the alternatives available. The discussion in Chapter 9 of the Guide explains how each of these choices can affect the amount of tax to be paid in a particular year.

A rather recent change in the tax law allows what is called Additional First Year Depreciation. This is a flat 20 percent deduction allowed the first year on personal property used in farming (or business) provided the assets have a useful life of six or more years. The total amount of which this deduction can be taken is $10,000 on a single tax return, or $20,000 on a joint depreciation, the farmer has a choice of three different methods. If the Straight Line Method is used, the farmer subtracts a reasonable salvage value from the cost of the asset, and then divides the remainder by the number of years of estimated useful life. This gives the annual depreciation allowance, which is the same amount every year.

Under the Declining Balance Method, the rate of depreciation on new assets is double the rate used in straight line method. For example, on a tractor having 10-year life, the depreciation is computed by taking 20 percent of the cost as the first year's allowance. This is then subtracted from the cost, and 20 percent of the remainder is the second year's allowance, Bates points out. No salvage value is required under the Declining Balance Method since there is a "remainder" after 10 years deductions.

The farmer's choice of the Declining Balance Method or other fast write-off on an asset would depend on his need of larger deductions. For example, in a year of unusually good income, a tractor, combine or other asset bought could be placed on this method, thereby doubling the depreciation.

Conversely, if the year's income is small, any asset bought could be placed on the Straight Line Method, thereby holding the depreciation to the lowest possible level.

Farmers should also remember that depreciation may be taken on breeding stock. It should be claimed on those animals that are purchased at a cost considerably above what they will bring when discarded from the herd.

It is believed that many farmers can manage to claim larger deductions on their business assets, thus reducing their tax obligation, says Bates. Get a copy of the 1962 Farmers Tax Guide and study the choices you have in claiming this important business deduction, he suggests.

YEAR-END NEARS FOR 1961 WOOL PAYMENT PROGRAM

The 1962 wool program incentive payments, to be made this summer, will cover only wool and unshorn lambs which are marketed on or before March 31, 1962. This is the closing date for the 1961 program, which extends from April 1, 1961, through March 31, 1962. Growers will have 30 days after the closing date in which to file their applications for payments. Payments to producers for the 1961 marketing year will follow the same methods used in previous years. Shorn wool payments will be equal to a percentage of each producer's cash returns from wool sales. The percentage will be that required to raise the national average price received by all producers for shorn wool during the marketing year up to the incentive price of 62 cents per pound.

Lamb payments will be made to each producer who sells lambs that have never been shorn. The payments will be at a rate per hundredweight of live animals marketed to compensate for the wool on them on a basis comparable to the national average incentive payment per pound of shorn wool.

We emphasize the importance of keeping adequate records on sales, which must support the information on payment applications. Thus, producers' sales records for shorn wool should show name and address of buyer, date of sales, name and address of

SWEET SORGHUM FOR SILAGE IN 1962

ACP cost-sharing may be approved for any ACP practice when carried out on Conservation Reserve land any time during the remaining contract period. The County Committee will only approve those practices having a long-term conservation benefit to the land.

RELEASE AND REAPPORTIONED COTTON ACREAGE

April 13th is the closing date for releasing cotton acreage and requesting additional acreage. If you do not intend to plant your cotton allotment or any part of it, please release it to the county committee. Releasing the allotment helps you to preserve your history and also helps the county to preserve the cotton history.

MATURITY DATE OF 1961 GRAIN LOANS

All 1961 Wheat and Grain loans will mature on March 31, 1962. Any farmer who wishes to redeem his grain from the CCC loan must do so by the above

Conservative Meeting Set for Friday Night In Lions Club Hall

The Conservative Club will meet Friday, March 9, 1962, at 7:30 at the Lion's Hall. An interesting and informative tape recording will be heard. Come and bring a friend.

Three and one-half months before his visit to the U. S., Nikita Khrushchev said, "We cannot expect the Americans to jump from Capitalism to Communism, but we can assist their elected leaders in giving Americans small doses of Socialism, until they suddenly awake to find they have Communism."

Conservatives believe there must be a halt to unlimited government spending and government intervention in those things which freedom has made possible in the past and which were set up by our forefathers in the Constitution. As we drift into paying higher federal taxes, more inflation, larger federal debts, more federal rules and regulations, we have less money to support ourselves and the church with its mission projects, less money to invest or save, and less local self-government.

"... Many elements have combined to deceive the Congress and the people into utter lack of realization or what has been going on.

"But what the Congress has done, Congress can undo. Let the people rise with one voice, and it will be undone.

"Write your own Senators and your Representative and any other Senators and Representatives you know. "Alert them to this treasonous plot. It is far along but it can be stopped.

"With your help the first of freedom can be rekindled." Economic Council Letter, Oct. 1, 1961, Council Letter 512.

Now is the time to be awakened to the dangers of the socialistic trend of government in the U. S. Let's keep our nation a Republic under which we may continue to enjoy the freedom which is our heritage. It may be harder to regain than it was to acquire the first time.

Remember the date — Friday, March 9, at the Lion's Hall. Don't wait for someone else to do your work, because, if you do, your work will go undone.

Carl Wood of Claude was among the visitors at Open House at the new school Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Drew Wilkerson and family of Pampa were Clarendon visitors Sunday and attended Open House at the new school.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

The Real Rock

February 20, 1962, saw a new personality cross the horizon. In fact, this personality crossed the horizon as a personality and as a contributor in the advance of civilization primarily because he had crossed the horizon several times within the space of a few hours. He was to this Nation in 1962 what Christopher Columbus should have been to Spain in 1492. Actually, he exemplifies Christopher Columbus, the Mayflower, the Pilgrims, Robert Fulton, Lewis and Clark, Sam Houston, the early pioneers of the West, the Wright brothers, Marconi, Lindbergh, and all the other pioneers rolled into one. He came to the Nation's Capital in a great display of fanfare and ceremony. He visited with the President of the greatest Nation in the history of mankind and paraded from the White House to the Capitol to address a joint meeting of the Congress of the United States, a distinction usually reserved for the heads of state. It might be added that at that joint meeting of the Congress, the representatives of heads of state all over the world were crowded into the Chamber, along with the Members of the President's Cabinet, the Justices of the Supreme Court, and the Joint Chiefs of Staff of the Defense Department. The galleries were packed and jammed and standing room tickets were exhausted within minutes after it was announced that this pioneer of outer space would address the National Congress and that his fellow teammates, including two other pioneers of outer space, Alan Shepherd and Gus Grissom, would be present.

All of this added up to a banner day in the history of this great Country. How it appeared to others, I would not undertake to say, but to me it brought into the clearest focus the America that all of us love and the real strength upon which it is built. Many philosophers, educators, politicians, etc., have long de-entry into the Chamber brought everyone to their feet in a spontaneous and tremendous blast of applause. It took some time to stop the applause. It was then that the Speaker introduced this newborn hero in these terms:

The Speaker:

"Members of the Congress, it is a privilege, and I deem it a high honor to present to you a brave, a courageous American, a hero in World War II and in the Korean conflict, who recently in a most notable manner added glory and prestige to our country, the first U. S. astronaut to have achieved orbital flight, Lt. Col. John H. Glenn, Jr., U. S. Marine Corps."

This brought forth the second round of applause, which lasted longer than the first.

Lt. Col. John H. Glenn, United States Marine Corps, then proceeded to address the joint meeting of Congress for a period of 15 minutes. His remarks, although confined to a very short time, contained references to his reactions in this history making episode, as well as references to his reactions both before the flight and subsequent thereto. Perhaps the one that caused the greatest display of laughter in the Congress was his relation of his introduction to Caroline Kennedy and I quote for you his exact remarks taken from the Congressional Record:

Col. Glenn: "I think after all our talk of space, this morning coming up from Florida on the plane with President Kennedy, we had the opportunity to meet Mrs. Kennedy and Caroline before we took off. I think Caroline really cut us down to size and put us back in the proper position. She looked up, upon being introduced, and said, 'Where's the monkey?' And I did not get a banana pellet on the whole ride."

All of this added up to a banner day in the history of this great Country. How it appeared to others, I would not undertake to say, but to me it brought into the clearest focus the America that all of us love and the real strength upon which it is built. Many philosophers, educators, politicians, etc., have long debated as to what should come first to claim man's allegiance. Some say that the order of allegiance should be religion, country, family, and fellowman. Others take the position that one's country should come first, then his religion, then his family. Others take the position that fellowman should take precedence. Of course, the Communists take the position that the country or state, whichever you prefer, comes before the family, and incidentally before everything else, because they have no religion. I subscribe to the philosophy that all of these attempts to separate and segregate these matters are nonsense. The fact is that a man's family, his country, and his religion are and should be so entwined, interwoven, and so welded together that they constitute one. I think this was so clearly established as the basic philosophy of this country when Lt. Col. John H. Glenn, in the early part of his remarks, proceeded to introduce his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Glenn, Sr., and asked that they stand. Next, he introduced his wife's mother and father, Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Castor, who stood. Next came his fine son and beautiful daughter, David and Lyn, who rose for applause.

Next came the remark that summed up in a few short words the basic strength of America, a statement which applies to all of us and with which no one could disagree, and an observation to which everyone would wholeheartedly subscribe. When Col. Glenn said:

"And the real rock in my family, my wife Annie," he attained heights that he never reached on his orbital flight of February 20, 1962.

If you like tongue twisters, here is a doozy: "Silly Sally swiftly shooed seven silly sheep. The seven silly sheep Silly Sally shooed shilly-shallied south."

If "sez" here: "A small town is the only place where sound is faster than light."

Eyelashes of the average elephant are four to five inches long.

Bulldogs Enter Regional Tourney

The Clarendon Junior College Bulldogs will play New Mexico Military Institute at four o'clock today in the second game of the Region V National Junior College Athletic Association Tournament at Amarillo.

Eight teams from the Western Junior College Athletic Association were invited to participate in the tournament. The winner will go to the National Junior College Tournament in Hutchinson, Kansas, next week.

The strong Howard County Jayhawks are the favorite to win the tournament and advance to the national play-offs. The Jayhawks, under the coaching of former Bulldog coach, Buddy Travis, won the conference with an impressive 15-1 conference record and an overall record of 28-4. Their only conference loss was an 82 to 81 decision to New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell. San Angelo finished second in the conference race and is favored to meet Howard County in the finals of the tournament Saturday night.

The Bulldogs closed their regular season last week with a two-day road trip to Big Spring and San Angelo. They played one of their better games of the season against Howard County on Monday night although the Jayhawks took their measure by a score of 94 to 78. However, on Tuesday night they went to San Angelo and took their worst trimming of the season, a 122 to 65 whipping at the hands of the powerful Rams.

The Bulldogs finished the season with a 1-15 conference record and a season record of 4-22. They finished last in the nine team conference but were invited to the tournament when South Plains of Levelland decided not to participate.

Defense expenditures for our own military forces averaged about $40 billion a year over the last five years. During the next five it is believed likely that the figure will be about $50 billion a year, and, if military assistance and atomic energy costs are added in, will reach or approach $55 billion.

Words cannot express our gratitude to our friends and neighbors for the many comforting things you did for us during our bereavement. We are most appreciative.

The children and other relatives of Don Tomlinson.
