TAXES

All of the talk in recent days about taxes and the chance for a tax cut bring to my mind the need for some substantial tax revision. I feel that under the present tax laws many inequities could be erased by some quick amendment. Any tax law, like any other type of law, is subject to human errors. It is only after administration of the law begins that many of the unseen errors become obvious.

As an example, let me cite the case of a young man who was supporting his several sisters and also his mother. The father had absented himself and completely failed in his responsibility to the family. Hence, the mother and the several sisters were directly dependent upon this young man for their sustenance.

Under the income tax laws as they presently stand, however, the young man could claim exemptions for his sisters as dependents, but none for his mother — the reason being that since the mother had not been legally divorced from the father, she was charged with receiving one-half of his income under the community property laws. Actually, she did not receive one dime from the errant husband and had no way to collect any money from him.

Certainly no one would contend that the law should place such a penalty on a young man who was assuming a moral but not a legal obligation in supporting his sisters and his mother. He should be rewarded for his fine Christian attitude. Nevertheless, the law so read. It was obviously an oversight at the time the tax law was written.

I have introduced a bill to correct this gross inequity. If we can get this amendment passed it will not only relieve this young man and others in his predicament of an unfair and burdensome penalty, but it may save many from criminal prosecution. There are undoubtedly a number of cases where the same situation exists, but where the taxpayer is unaware of the actual provisions of the law. Technically, he is in violation of the law and could be prosecuted and would also be liable for the payment of a substantial claim by the government for back taxes. This would be unconscionable — an unexpected bill for a substantial amount of money would upset the budget of almost anyone, to say nothing of the amount of money that would be required should some arbitrary bureaucrat decide to push prosecution.

It is for this and similar reasons that any tax legislation should be carefully and exhaustively studied before it is passed. After it is passed, it should be very carefully administered by individuals with some of the milk of human kindness coursing through their veins.

There have been a number of glaring errors of like nature in the Social Security Act. Some of these we have been able to correct, while others still haunt the people. As each one of these flaws is brought to light by some fact situation not previously anticipated, correction should be made forthwith. Hence, if any of you feel that you have suffered an injustice in any of these particulars, let me know the facts and the ruling that was made in your case so that some attention can be directed to bringing about correction.

IT'S YOUR MONEY

Too often the citizen, preoccupied with making a living, does not take time to inform himself about his government. Yet history teaches that democracy survives only as long as the people take an active part in the making of governmental decisions.

One-third of the average citizen's income goes to pay various kinds of taxes. That makes government his biggest cost.

Businessmen who spend many sleepless nights trying to figure how to cut unit production costs by a fraction of a cent, or reduce overhead by a few dollars, are prone to ignore one of their greatest single cost factors — taxation.

Husbands and wives perspire and argue over family budgets but are unwilling to pay any attention to one item — government — which is now costing them more than food, clothing and medical care, according to the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey of New York.

Once started on the path of growth, many government agencies are like Topsy — they just grow whether there is any reason or not.

Citizen interest in government is sorely needed now. Without a sound economy, and that means government on a solid financial base, we will pay a dear price.

COMMISSION SETS DATES FOR DUCKS AND GEESE

AUSTIN — Goose conditions about the same, duck conditions worse. This seems to be the message in the waterfowl season and bag limit framework just received from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary for the Texas Game and Fish Commission, reported that the dates and limits are about as he had expected, then announced the Texas seasons and bag limits for the 1962-63 hunting period.

The duck season will begin at noon December 6 and run for 25 consecutive days through December 30. After the first day of shooting, the hours for taking ducks will be from sunrise to sunset. There will be a 2 duck daily bag limit and a possession limit of 4. The daily bag limit may not include more than 1 mallard, 2 wood ducks, or 1 hooded merganser. In addition to the above limits, there will be allowed 2 scaup daily with 4 in possession. And as last year, there will be no open season on red-heads and canvasbacks.

The coot season will run during the same period as the duck season. Hunters may take 6 coots per day and have no more than 6 in possession. The red-breasted merganser season is the same as the duck season, but the bag limits are 5 per day and 10 in possession.

Hunters disappointed over the shorter duck season and lower bag limit may find some consolation in the fact that the goose season, October 31 through January 13, has been increased 15 days over last year, to 75 days. The limits for geese will be the same as for 1961 with a 5 per day daily bag limit, and 5 in possession. This limit may not include, in the alternative, more than (a) 2 Canada geese or subspecies; (b) 1 Canada goose or subspecies and 1 white-fronted goose; or (c) 1 white-fronted goose. It may include in addition, 3 snows or blues, or it will be possible to have 5 snows and/or blues with no specs and Canadas. Shooting hours are from sunrise to sunset on all days including opening day.

The season on sandhill cranes will run from November 3 to December 2, with bag limits of 2 per day and 2 in possession. Shooting hours for the tall birds will be from sunrise to sunset.

"Because of the extreme drought conditions in the Canadian provinces, especially in the areas which produce ducks for the Central Flyway," explained Dodgen, "there was no alternative but to shorten the duck season and lower the limits according to other reasoning of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. The prairie potholes of Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan were hard hit. We realized the disastrous conditions of the duck nesting areas, and were not surprised to get a reduction. It is not surprising, either, that many Texas waterfowl hunters believe a closed season this year would be better."

LIBRARY NOTES
EDITH BARNES

The library has had a far larger per cent of young readers this Summer than in the past three years.

The teachers who gave vacation memberships can be proud of the large number who used them. Important too are the ones in the past who only checked out books a few times, but this year have read all Summer. This shows more clearly than words that some of the non-readers are reading because they enjoy it. That is the idea, giving the child that great gift — the love of reading.

It is hoped that it is encouraged so that some time in the future we have fewer and fewer junior high school, high school and college students who not only do not read but hate it. The papers are full of pictures of brides' accounts of weddings, etc. Now is as good a time as any to try and stress the importance of those marriages and making them work.

Quoting from an article, "Marriage On The Rocks" by Dear Abby, "There are no two people in the world who cannot live together in reasonable harmony if they try. Yet today, in the United States, fifteen million men and women are divorced. Divorce solves nothing and evades everything. In its wake are to be found heartache, loneliness, and a feeling of personal failure. As a cure it is worse than the sickness. Divorce makes even less sense when children are involved."

"... At least four million American youngsters under eighteen will be affected by divorce this year. They are the innocent and yet they are the ones who suffer the most. Both parents are necessary to a child's development. One can never be a substitute for the other."

"... I am constantly asked, 'Isn't it better for a child to be brought up by one parent than by both parents in a hostile atmosphere?' My comment, 'Ridiculous!' Hostilities can be worked out."

Her articles can be checked out and read in their entirety at the library.

Until the day comes when more grown ups are adult in emotions as well as size the ugliness of divorce is going to be with us. Immature men and women are going to take what they mistakenly think is the easy way out regardless of the consequences to themselves and the tragedy it brings to their children.

It is about time everyone gets behind the mental health program. Help it to help these unfortunate who are unable to cope with the problems that go with the making of a happy marriage.

STORM CELLARS CAN BE CONVERTED TO FALLOUT SHELTERS

College Station — Many of the tornado and underground vegetable cellars in Texas can be made into good fallout shelters, says W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer.

However, there are several points that must be kept in mind when remodeling these shelters to provide adequate fallout protection. They are: (a) adequate shielding, (b) a protected entrance, (c) positive ventilation, (d) storage facilities for supplies, (e) and installation of a radio antenna for radio reception.

The most economical means of providing the additional shielding needed is with a layer of soil to a depth of about 3 feet over the entire cellar roof. Most cellars will require additional reinforcing in the roof in order to hold this extra weight. A steel reinforced, six inch thick concrete slab cast over the roof may be used instead of the soil cover. A local contractor can tell you the amount of steel necessary for your situation, but for most cellars 1/2" steel bars laid on 12" centers in both directions will be sufficient.

A right angle entrance into the cellar, essential to protection from fallout, may be made by building a partial wall inside the existing cellar. If the cellar is not large enough to permit this wall inside, then a new entrance should be constructed with the necessary right angle in it.

A mechanical blower should be installed to provide positive air exhaust in time of disaster, and an inlet and outlet provided. The blower should provide a minimum of 5 cubic feet per minute per person. A filter is not necessary for the average home shelter.

There should be enough shelves and storage space to hold the recommended amount of supplies and a radio antenna should be installed to receive CONELRAD broadcasts. Be sure that your battery powered radio will work in the shelter and will connect to the antenna.

Fallout shelter plans are available from the Extension Service Office, Office of Civil Defense, and other organizations concerned with civil defense.

The demand for electricity in our service area is growing rapidly. The reason is simple — there are more people, more businesses, more industries coming here into the Center of the Southwest.

That is why we are investing millions in new electric generating capacity and in new distribution facilities to keep pace with this area's exciting growth.

But of more significance, this fact explains why we are planning vast additional expenditures in anticipation of even greater growth to come.

Because the Southwest is growing 25% faster than the Nation, we are convinced that our service area — the Center of the Southwest — faces GROWTH UNLIMITED.

Funny things about we the people;

If we go to the trouble of losing ten pounds not one single person we meet will notice it. If we gain five pounds everyone will have something to say about it . . .

We have seen a number of people who drive up in front of a house and honk for the occupants to come out to the car, or at least come to the door letting them know for sure there was someone at home before they took the trouble to get out of the car. I believe the only time we have been this awful was when there seemed to be a biting dog. A dog that liked people better by taste than any other way . . . Surely, this would be bad manners except in the case of the dog . . .

Then some folks knock once and seem mighty put out if they have to knock the second time . . .

My goodness, it's a wonder to me that bill collectors ever get the door answered . . . We have a real system that happened by accident. Our friends know which door we are the nearest.

Then some folks say "Come over to see us" when we feel pretty sure they are just being friendly . . . This habit could prove a mighty dangerous one, especially if company should come just before meal-time . . .

Our friendly merchant says that some folks are always saying "I'll be back in a day or so and settle up with you." He says the days can get mighty long this way, and awful far apart.

Likely, the most common failing of people has to do with returning a borrowed book. Folks will return the lawnmower, perhaps a bit dull, but the record over the U. S. for books returned is almost comparable to the way other countries pay back borrowed money . . .

We count as one of our friends James Knight, an accountant in Amarillo. He even admits in public that he is a regular reader of our column in The Citizen. The last time we talked with James he was all excited over a sermon he had recently heard in his church. The thought had a special appeal to one that was an accountant, but it also has a special ring for each of us.

According to this speaker our life, more especially our Christian life is a bit like a debit and credit ledger. To the left were all the debit things that one could leave off doing. One could refrain from swearing. He could never lie or steal. He could be faithful to his wife and family. On and on this person could go with the job of not doing the evil things until he was at the center of the page. He would still be just one big goose egg of a zero.

It would not be until he began doing some of the good things that could be placed on the credit side of the ledger that his rating would start improving . . . He could refrain from doing all of the negative things in the book, but until he performed some positive fruits he would remain a naught. Someone used to say that one was so good that they were good for nothing . . . It is something we can ponder over for hours and draw some helpful conclusions for our own life . . . Thanks James for sharing the thought with us.

The only way some folks know to get rid of their faults is to try and cover them over the defaults of others.

If we work hard at the job of making money — save every penny we possibly can, and never take time for rest and recreation, who knows, before anytime at all we may be the richest person in the cemetery.

HEDLEY NEWS

Mabel Bridges

The first meeting of the Hedley Cotton Festival Committees was held last week. Dates of the 11th Annual Festival are Friday and Saturday, Oct. 12th and 13th. Herlie Moreman, President of the Hedley Lions Club is chairman and Clifford Johnson, Mayor of Hedley is co-chairman. The next meeting of the committees is Tuesday night, Sept. 4th, at the new Hedley Lions Club building.

The Hedley Lions Club is having their annual family picnic this Thursday night at Hedley's City Park. This is a chicken barbecue. Lions and guests furnish a half chicken per person and the club furnishes the rest.

Building Owners Allow Shelters

SHELTER AGREEMENT is signed by Mayor Warren Whitson of Denton, Texas—an act being duplicated in communities across the nation as fallout shelter space in existing buildings is made available by property owners for emergency public use. Others in picture are W. C. Orr, Jr. (left), who signed as president of the First State Bank of Denton—owner of the building containing the basement shelter space—and Bill Cox, representing Region 5 of the Office of Civil Defense, Department of Defense. The agreement provides that the bank will allow emergency use of the 350-person shelter area, the Defense Department will furnish survival supplies for the shelter and the City of Denton will place them in the shelter. 'EYES' FOR FALLOUT SHELTERS

Radiological detection instruments will be a vital component of supplies for community fallout shelters stocked under the Federal shelter program of the Department of Defense.

A nuclear attack might threaten large areas of the nation with radioactive fallout. Some areas could receive a heavy fallout deposit requiring stays in a shelter of two weeks or more, while shelter occupants in lightly-affected areas might begin coming out in a few days or less.

Radiological instruments are needed by occupants of community fallout shelters to tell them when they might emerge safely.

Radiation cannot be detected by the senses. Grouped around the shipping case in the picture of the radiation monitoring kit are: (1) A Geiger counter with earphones, batteries and accessories for use in measuring low-range radiation such as might be dangerous in food and water; (2) Three pencil-like dosimeters and a dosimeter charger (square box with two black knobs)—the dosimeters, worn by individuals, indicate total radiation absorbed, while the charger returns dosimeters to zero settings for re-use; and (3) A survey meter for measuring high-level radiation such as might occur outside a fallout shelter.

THE PEOPLE PAY

What idea, what philosophy, dominated the minds of the men who founded this country, and laid down the principles they meant it to abide by?

Thomas Jefferson expressed a fundamental thought perfectly when he said: "I am for a government that is rigorously frugal and simple, and not for one that multiplies offices to make parties, that is, to get votes, and by every device increases the public debt under the guise of being a public benefit."

Admittedly, there have been vast changes in the nation and the world since the great Jefferson's day. But this does not excuse the development of an attitude which makes the attraction of votes the paramount objective of great numbers of government officials who show small concern for the value of the dollar and who seek more and more monolithic and dictatorial power.

The people put up every dollar that is returned to them by government through welfare state charity. And they pay not only in money but in the infinitely more important coin of lost liberty.

FLOYD APPOINTED TO F.H.A. COMMITTEE

Ferral A. Floyd of Lelia Lake has been appointed as a member of the three-man Donley County Farmers Home Administration committee, the agency's County Supervisor, James D. Gouldy, announced this week. The appointment is for three years and began on July 1.

Mr. Floyd succeeds Clyde Slavin whose 3-year term expired this year. The other two members serving with Mr. Floyd are Thomas W. Bain of Hedley and Warren Hardin of Clarendon.

The local Farmers Home Administration county committee reviews applications by farmers and other rural families for six different types of agricultural, housing and water loans made in Donley County. In addition, the committee advises with the county supervisor regarding the adapting of national loan policies to local conditions. County Supervisor Gouldy says that Mr. Floyd's practical farming experience will enable him to make a real contribution to the county committee's actions when they review loan applications.

Earl Burton visited with the Bryan Burton family in Amarillo last Thursday and Friday.

I wish to express my appreciation to all my friends for the lovely flowers, cards, gifts, visits and other kindnesses extended during my recent stay in the hospital. Your thoughtfulness will always be remembered. Jiggs Mann

AUSTIN, August 10 — The cost per mile of building the Interstate Highway System in Texas is running some 40 per cent below the national average, the Texas Highway Department said today.

Figures compiled by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads show that Texas will complete its portions of the Interstate System at an estimated $610,000 per mile—as compared with the national average of approximately $1 million per mile.

(The Interstate System is a 41,000-mile nationwide network of super highways scheduled to be completed in 1972. Texas' portion of the system will total 3,027 miles.)

Comparison of the Texas cost with that of some of the other large states revealed these figures: California, $1.7 million per mile; Illinois, $1.3 million per mile; New York, $1.7 million per mile; Ohio, $1.7 million per mile; and Pennsylvania, $1.5 million per mile.

Since the beginning of the Interstate Program in 1956, Texas has consistently led the nation in miles open to traffic and work in progress. The latest quarterly report of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, dated August 3, reveals that Texas maintains this lead. Texas now has 1,018.5 Interstate miles open to traffic and 1,322 miles of work in progress.

(Texas also leads all other states in highway building under the Federal-aid primary and secondary systems. Since 1956, Texas has built 11,088 miles under these programs.)

What are the reasons behind Texas' low cost-per-mile in building its Interstate routes? State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer listed the following factors:

—Advance planning by the Texas Highway Department in anticipation of Interstate needs. Texas "stockpiled" engineering plans and thus was able to get an early start on its building program. This planning also built a team of engineers experienced in Interstate-type work, which has resulted in lower engineering costs on this program.

—A steady and planned flow of construction work each month (made possible by the advanced planning). This even flow of work has effectively stabilized the Texas road contracting industry and resulted in lower contract costs.

—Cooperation of Texas counties and cities, many of which provided much-needed right of way even before the advent of the Interstate program.

—Protective right of way buying for Interstate routes to keep land-acquisition costs down.

—Taking full advantage of local materials available in most parts of the state, thus avoiding the cost of shipping materials long distances.

EAST PRAIRIE, MO., EAGLE: "The profit picture in this country is serious. In relation to sales, profits of manufacturers after taxes last year amounted to only 4.2 cents of each dollar of sales and have fallen steadily. In 1950 it was 7.1 cents on each sales dollar. Bronchos Rounding Into Condition

The Clarendon High School Bronchos, who have been going through two-a-day workouts since the beginning of fall training on August 20, are shaping into a team that their coaches feel will give a good account of themselves during the coming football season. This year's team has been picked by various papers, associations, etc., to finish anywhere from first to last in the district 2-A race. The last prediction came this week when the coaches of the district teams picked the Bronchos to finish behind the Lefors Pirates. The rest of the teams in order were Memphis, McLean, Wellington and Canadian.

A number of spirited battles are going on at the present time for the starting positions on the team. Right now it looks like Danny Ray and Dee Hudgins about have the end positions sewed up although Lester Welch is still pushing Ray for the left end slot. Lloyd McCord is giving Hudgins a little trouble for the right end position, but it looks like Hudgins will be a clear choice. At the tackles, David McBrayer and Larry Gray have been working on the first unit, but returning letterman Billy Hearne, who reported a few days late is coming up strong and will probably move McBrayer to the second unit unless the coaches decide to use him (Hearne) at a guard position. Douglas Bradshaw, a sophomore up from last year's "B" team, is not giving up easy and will probably see a lot of service at tackle.

Steve Shelton, if and when he recovers fully from his recent shoulder injury, will be at one of the guard positions and it looks like Charley Slavin will hold forth on the other side. A three-way battle is being waged for the center position. Last year's starter, Steve Richerson, is getting plenty of competition from Kenneth Price and Ronnie McAnear.

The backfield seems a little more set than the line. Veteran senior Dwight McAnear seems to have the inside track on the quarterback position although he is being pushed by junior letterman Teddy Graham. John Cearly, another senior letterman, seems to be winning the tailback position from sophomore John Grady, although Grady is certain to see a lot of action and may move Cearly over before the season is over. Jerry Elmores is a clear-cut choice for the fullback position although Teddy Graham is alternating some at this position. Robin Green, another senior letterman, is currently filling the wingback post.

A number of the other boys are looking good. Some of the younger boys, freshmen and sophomores, may be pushing some of these boys by the middle of the season.

The Broncho chances were dealt a severe blow last week when senior letterman Garry Campbell was forced to give up football this year because of an attack of rheumatic fever last spring. A total of 35 boys are still out for the team.

GRADY WILKINSON RECEIVES DEGREE

Grady Eugene Wilkinson, son of Mrs. Mae Wilkinson of Lelia Lake, received his Bachelor of Science in Education from Abilene Christian College August 24.

Grady has been employed by the Perryton schools for the current year.

FARM NEWS

from County ASCS Committee

1963 WHEAT PROGRAM OUTLINED

Wheat growers in Donley County should be sure to vote in the wheat referendum to be held August 30th. At least two-thirds of the producers voting in the referendum must approve the marketing quotas if they are to become effective for the 1963 wheat crop.

Under quotas, growers who stay within their allotments will be eligible for price supports at a national average of not less than $1.82 per bushel on their entire production. Growers who exceed their allotments will not be eligible for price support and will be subject to marketing quota penalties if they have more than 25 acres of wheat for harvest. However, growers will be able to plant up to 15 acres of wheat without penalty.

If marketing quotas aren't approved, marketing quotas and penalties will not be in effect for the 1963 wheat crop. However, acreage allotments will remain in effect and will be used to determine eligibility for price support at the 50 per cent of parity rate required by law if quotas are disapproved. The national average price support for wheat based on the 50 per cent of parity rate would be about $1.21 per bushel.

Polling places for the August 30 referendum on marketing quotas for the 1963 crop of wheat are as follows:

Donley County ASCS Office; Wheeler Evans Elevators, Jericho; Wilson Drug Store, Hedley; Al Cooke's home, Alanreed; Bernard McClellan's home, McLean.

Be sure and vote.

COMMUNITY & COUNTY

COMMITTEE ELECTIONS

Ballots for voting in the Community Committee elections will be mailed September 4th to all eligible voters. Ballots may be returned to the ASCS office in person or by mail no later than Sept. 14th. When you receive your ballot, please vote for the five nominees of your choice and return the ballot to the ASCS office.
