Some Advantages of Our Junior College

Two weeks ago there appeared in this paper an article concerning the present status of our junior college. Also, in that same article, our school board expressed their desire and determination to make Clarendon Junior College a larger and better institution.

COST TO LOCAL STUDENTS: It should go without saying that the cost of two years of education for our local students will be much less here at Clarendon Junior College than it would be at any other college.

WELL TRAINED FACULTY: All the full time faculty members at the college hold master's degrees in the field in which they are teaching. It is true that in the senior colleges some of the faculty members hold the doctor's degrees.

SMALL CLASSES: Very few classes at Clarendon Junior College have as many as 30 students and the great majority have enrollments of 20 and less.

LEADERSHIP QUALITIES DEVELOPED: In the small college such as ours, each student has the opportunity to develop his leadership qualities. All the teachers know each student and the students know each other.

FULL PROGRAM: Although Clarendon Junior College is limited to a certain extent on its course offerings, it does offer a good solid background to the freshman and sophomore student who plans to transfer to a senior college.

PAST RECORD: Although an up to date record of all the graduates of our college is not available, this bit of information came from the Dean's office just this week; during the past seven years, a total of 250 students have graduated from our college.

There are many more advantages that could be listed. The evening school which has given opportunity to many people of this and surrounding communities to broaden their education is a distinct advantage.

B Team Plays Wellington Thursday

With the Broncho varsity taking the week off, the B team will take over the spotlight this week when they meet Wellington tonight immediately following the junior high game between the same two schools.

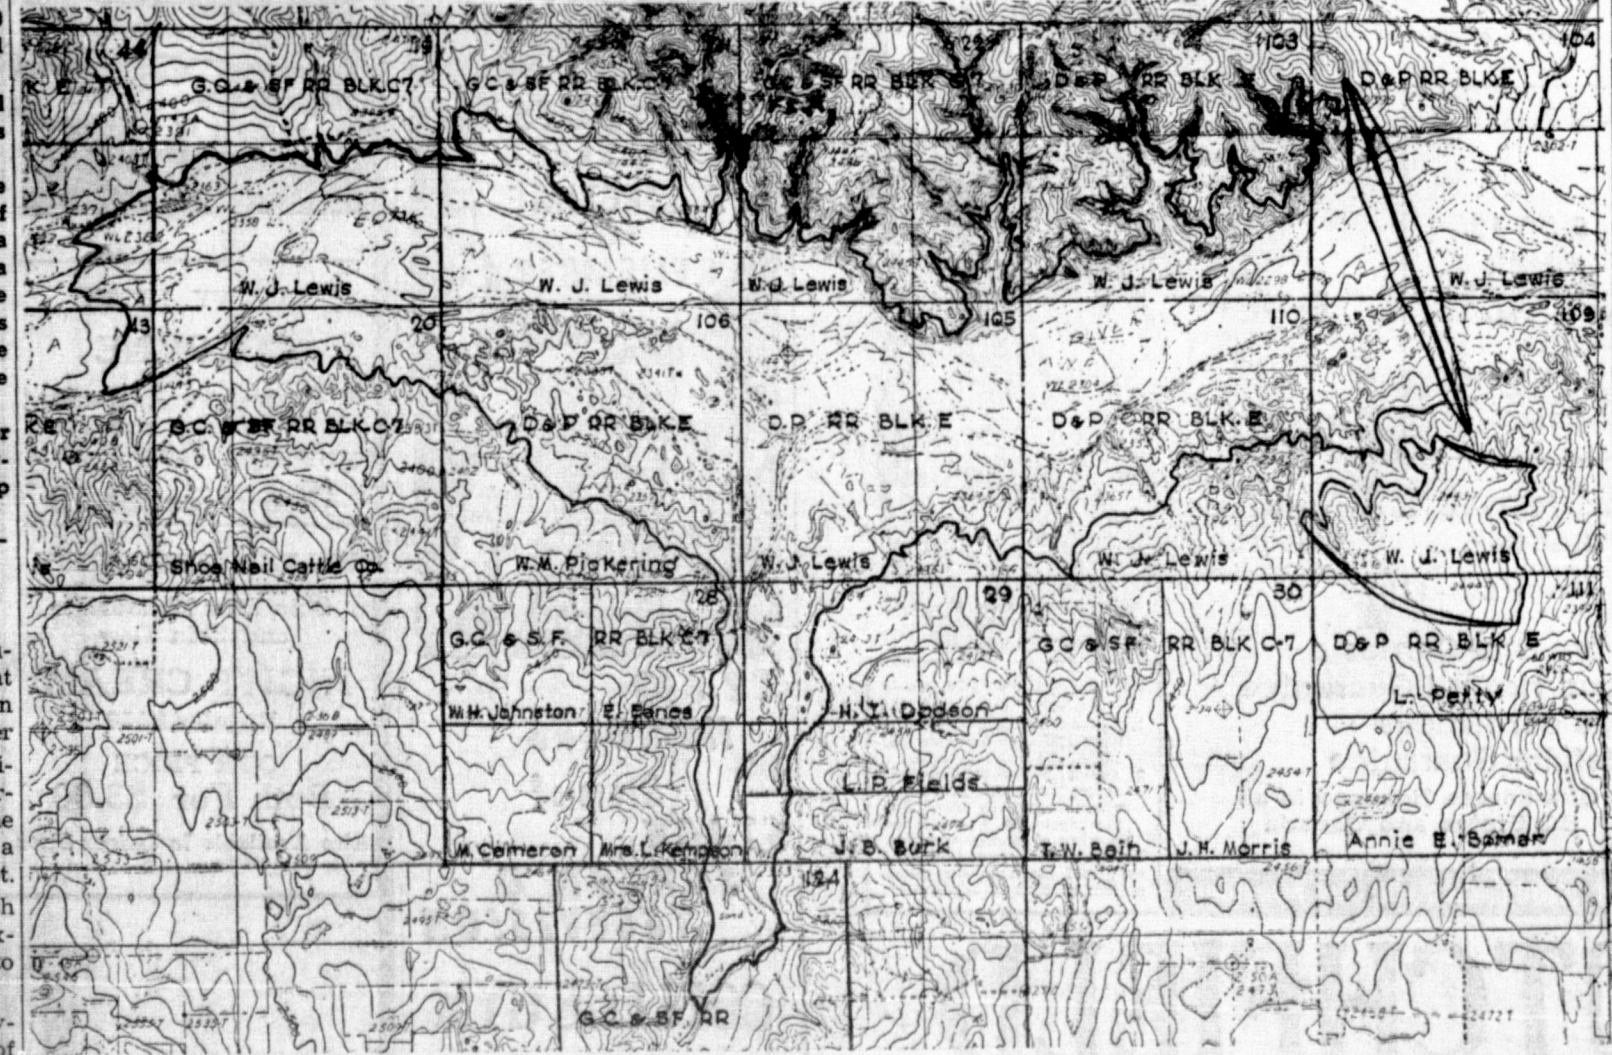

The Broncho B team is undefeated in three games this season. All three of their games have been away from home, so this will be the first chance for local fans to get a look at the future Bronchos.

Coaches Jack James and Jack Murphy have indicated that they will probably start the following boys in the game tonight; Dennis Stewart and Lloyd McCord, a pair of sophomores, at ends; freshman Johnny Wozencraft and sophomore Douglas Bradshaw at tackles; Buddy Wooten, a sophomore, and Bernie Green, a freshman, at guards and sophomore Richard Dixon at center.

At quarterback will be sophomore Freddy McAnear; sophomore Bobby Cain will be at wingback; sophomore Jack Robinson at fullback and freshman Ray Pinkerton will be at tailback.

Other boys who are members of the B team and will likely see action include sophomores Eddie Wilkinson, Richard Bell and Jackie Sims and freshmen Bill Monk, Henry Hermesmeier, David Mooring, Calvin West and Richard Thornberry.

The coaches are impressed with the team effort these boys have been putting out and feel that several of them have possibilities of developing into top-notch players in the future.

The map above shows an outline of the proposed lake which will be formed when the dam is constructed on Salt Fork of Red River. The dam and spillway location is shown at the extreme right side of the map. The neck of the lake pointing to the bottom of the map is Lake Creek which runs east of Lelia Lake. A CFA loan of $59,300 for preliminary planning of the dam was approved and signed recently which is a big step toward reality of the project.

Cleaning Reels Experts have found that the best solution for cleaning fishing reels is a mixture of two parts alcohol to one part light reel or gun oil.

Mix well and clean reel thoroughly. When the alcohol evaporates, it leaves a light, protective film of oil which keeps reel parts from rusting, or corroding.

EROSION CONTROL DAMS

Each pond of this type must have a draw down pipe to provide safe disposal of runoff water. The purpose of the draw down pipe is the same as that of springs on a car. It forms a flood cushion for the dam and protects the spillway from frequent and prolonged use. The erosion control dam will always have a drop pipe installed for the protection of the spillway and to cushion the dam against flood waters. This pipe is an L shaped new metal pipe coated with asphalt. The riser pipe is set in the face of the dam two or more feet below the level of the earthen spillway. The barrel pipe is set to extend at least six feet beyond the back toe of the dam.

Erosion control dams may be used where it is determined that gullies are causing appreciable damage to cropland. Harmful deposits of sediment on valuable farmland or grassland may be additional justification for this type of structure. Actual or obvious future damage to terrace systems, waterways, springs, windmills, and other valuable property may be used for justification of erosion control dams.

VOTERS STILL WAIT FOR ANSWERS FROM MR. ROGERS

People want to know why Mr. Rogers refuses to answer the questions about his voting record. People continue to ask why he voted for a farm bill to enslave the farmers, why he voted for the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, why he voted to increase the national debt limit to $308 billion, and why he has consistently supported the New Frontier's plans for increasing bureaucracy and wasteful spending. When, if ever, will he give answers instead of generalities?

Cub Scout News

The Cub Scout Pack meeting held Monday night, Oct. 1, at the First Christian Church was well attended. Everyone especially enjoyed the magic show put on by the boys of Den 4. This den and their den mothers, Mrs. Bailey Estes and Mrs. Shirley Johnston, put much time and effort into their skit. Jacky Johnston acted as master of ceremonies. "The Great Sharpo" was Teddy Ashcraft, who sawed in two J. Lynn Jones. Stephen Estes was the "feet" of the sawed man. Kent Heath was the Swami who read the palm of Randy Hill and red the minds of John Holland and Will Lowe. "Professor Mysto," who was Bobby Merchant, and the magic box changed Kent Heath from an old man to a young one, changed Steve Ellis from a short and fat man to a tall, thin one, and transformed Jacky Johnston's dog into a string of wieners. "Professor Hypno," played by Steve Ellis, hypnotized Randy Hill. These boys gave everyone an evening of fun and are to be congratulated for their performance.

These boys of Den 4 also won the Honor Den Banner for having the largest attendance of boys, parents, and friends.

Boys who have just become eight years old were unable to become Cub Scouts due to the lack of a den mother. Many of these boys would make first-rate Cubs. Perhaps some mother will decide to work with these boys in the near future.

This Saturday, Oct. 13, all Cubs will join forces with the Boy Scouts and Explorers to set up displays showing the public the type of activity each group does. The Cubs will have an Indian exhibit. We will set up an Indian camp and display Indian crafts made by the boys. Some of the boys should be dressed in full Scout uniform and others dressed as Indians. The boys will make bracelets to give to viewers. Each den will have a two hour shift to spend at the exhibit.

The Hedley Cotton Festival chairman has invited the Cub Scouts to march in the Festival Parade this Saturday at 1:30 p.m. All boys wanting to go should be down town at the Cub Scout exhibit at 1 o'clock. The Clarendon Cub Scouts have received several gifts of money from Hedley citizens during the last year. Let's show them the group of boys they are helping and give them our thanks.

All Cub dads are urged to attend the Pack committee meeting this Monday night, Oct. 15th, at the First Christian Church at 7:30 p.m. This committee has met once to discuss plans for the Halloween party. A very good turn-out of dads attended and they have many plans that will make this Halloween party bigger than in past years. Mr. Oliver Abel, Pack Chairman, is in charge of these meetings and of the Halloween party. The prospects of a Halloween party that the boys will never forget are very big.

Outdoor Entertainment Ass'n. Will Sponsor Circus Here Friday

Announcement that Sells Bros. Great 3 Ring Circus will exhibit in Clarendon on Friday, October 12th, at the Clarendon Rodeo Grounds was made upon arrival here today of Raymond Duke, the big shows' press representative. A huge, new edition of "the oldest and proudest name in the circus world," Sells Bros. Circus will perform for one day only at 4:00 and 8:00 p.m.

This show, the largest ever designed for automotive transportation, believes that cities of the main lines are also interested in a circus of outstanding size and quality; and to quote Mr. Duke, this year the show is Bigger - Better - Grander than ever before; Foremost - Mightiest - Supreme, brimming over with innovations and wondrous surprises and a myriad of unprecedented amazing features from all strange lands.

A continuous, ever-varying, always changing, kaleidoscopic multiplicity of all-star acts by all-stellar artists, embracing a flood of talent such as never seen before will thrill and amaze for a full 90 minutes with over 30 feature acts in all 3 rings. Headlining the featured performers is Miss Kathleen, star of the high trapeze; the Misses Laura, Linda and Leah, queens of the air; and Sells Bros. own

"Aerialettes." Senor Edwardo and company bring feats of juggling beyond compare, while the Silvers troupe of equilibrists, Sir Stanley the worlds' greatest wire walker, and Miss Pinky of the death-defying loop-the-loop perform amazing antics. Animal acts aplenty feature Terrell Jacobs trained animals, Bradleys' high school horses, Franklins trained canines, Punch's famed monkeys, and the first family of the equestrian kingdom, the bareback riding Santiagos. All these plus a host of others and a cavalcade of clowns make this a show long remembered.

RICHARD CHRISTIE TO RECEIVE HONOR AWARD

Selected to receive a Honor Award at the State Fair of Texas is Richard Christie, a 17-year-old member of the Idalou Chapter of the Future Farmers of America. The award is made in connection with the celebration of Rural Youth Day at the big State Fair and will be presented at a banquet on October 5. He was selected to represent approximately 3800 members of Area I Association, which includes the Texas Panhandle and South Plains. Richard Christie was qualified for the award by his outstanding project program and leadership exhibited in his F.F.A. Chapter, school and community affairs.

The project program developed by Richard during his years of Vocational Agriculture has been a commercial herd of hogs, registered Angus cattle, steer feeding and cotton. The hog herd included 25 brood sows used to produce market hogs. The Angus cattle herd consists of 2 cows, 2 yearling heifers, 1 bull, 1 heifer calf and 1 bull calf. These cattle have been shown and won prizes at the Idalou and San Angelo Stock Shows and the Panhandle-South Plains Fair. A pair of heifers will also be exhibited at the State Fair of Texas. The cotton crop has consisted of 3 acres each year. He has developed these projects through financing at the local bank and profits from previous projects.

The leadership activities that contributed to the qualifications for the award are varied. Richard has been president of his local chapter and the district organization of the F.F.A. He has served his school class two years as president and is active in church activities. He was a member of the football team that won its district in 1960 and 1961 and is playing on the team this year.

Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Christie, who are teachers in the Idalou School System. Mr. Christie is a former F.F.A. member of the Clarendon Chapter and graduated from the local high school in 1941. Mrs. Christie is the former Frances Easterling, a 1942 graduate of Clarendon High School. The grandparents of the honoree are Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Christie of the Martin Community. Mrs. J. H. Easterling of the city is his great-grandmother.

Bronchos Defeated By Groom Tigers

The pesky Groom Tigers outplayed and defeated the hapless Clarendon Bronchos at Groom last Friday night by a score of 15 to 6. This was Groom's first win of the season and was Clarendon's fourth defeat in five games.

It looked at the beginning of the game like the Bronchos might take a victory. Clarendon kicked off to Groom and several plays later recovered a Tiger fumble on their own 39 yard line. The Bronchos went to work and nine plays later had a touchdown on Dwight McAnear's one yard plunge. The conversion try was no good but the Bronchos were leading 6 to 0 less than halfway through the first quarter.

However, it didn't take the host Tigers long to wipe out the Broncho lead and take a lead themselves—that they never relinquished. Groom returned the kickoff to their own 21 yard line and on their fourth play, Dan Craig, their crafty quarterback ran 62 yards for the score. Ruthardt ran wide around left end for the two-point conversion and Groom had an 8 to 6 lead. The Tigers added another touchdown in the second quarter as Ruthardt made the final two yards of a 64 yard drive and Quirk kicked the extra point to end the scoring for the night.

The Bronchos were badly outplayed the first half, but came back the second half for a good defensive game but never could get their offense in gear. Their 61 yard drive in the first quarter was the only sustained drive that they could generate.

On several occasions the Bronchos made good gains only to fumble the ball away. The Bronchos fumbled five times during the game and Groom recovered four of them.

Groom outgained the Bronchos in rushing yardage, 215 to 179. The Tigers made 198 yards rushing the first half as compared to Clarendon's 92. Groom completed one of three passes for eight yards and Clarendon completed two of five for 10 yards. Groom led in first downs, 12 to 10.

The Bronchos have an open date this week-end and will open their conference schedule with McLean here next Friday night.

He asked farm and other organizations to help enlist the public to observe National Fire Prevention Week and to take active part in fire prevention efforts.

If all agricultural agencies respond to this alert, we can save many lives and millions of dollars.

BLOWN Out the CORNERS
By Uncle Zeb

If we make a full-time effort To mind the business all our own; Folks on every side will thank us, Just for leaving theirs alone. And we'll find more time for thinking 'Bout the good that we might do For a fellow really needing A little help to see him through. Trouble with most of us is we spend more time trying to keep the other fellow straight, than we do ourselves. His faults are as plain as mud, and we can easily find a dozen ways, any one of which would bring no end of improvement to him. It is hard to comprehend a situation in which he would be better off without our un-wanted services. So often we waste our energy on those who would rather be left alone, when all about us there are folks who would welcome our visit and even our conversation. Take for instance the lonely and the shut-in almost always they are glad to see us. The latch string is ever one the outside of many a door that houses someone lonely or discouraged. But far too often when we have the afternoon off we spend it meddling in the other fellows business, even though we were un-invited and un-wanted. Some folks appear busy when about all they are doing is "picking up the beans they spilled."

When we think we have "said a mouthful," perhaps we should check and see if we might only have our foot in our mouth. James Russell Lowell, famous American man of letters once said; "Toward no crimes have men shown themselves so cold-bloodedly cruel as in punishing differences in beliefs." No doubt he was right in his day, and the same would be doubly true today. With so many people if you are against their political party you are worse than a pirate. If you are different from their church you are a religious crank. . . . But, even more serious than the above is to find folks who fall out with everyone who doesn't agree with their own little brand of personal likes and dis-likes.

A college class was given the following sentence to punctuate correctly; "Woman without her man is a savage." . . . The boys turned in; "Woman, without her man, is a savage." The girls came up with; "Woman; without her, man is a savage." . . . Perhaps both should have 100.

LIBRARY NOTES:
EDITH BARNES

The library friend who almost single handed keeps the magazine racks well supplied with current magazines brought in a big stack the other day.

If you are one who still believes that the American Indian ever got a half way fair deal from the "White Eyes," don't read Jane Barry's "A Time In The Sun."

Mrs. Barry spent many years gathering the material she uses in this book. So the reader can be sure the historical background is true. If they have any doubt, as the saying goes it is all in the records for them to read for themselves if they care to.

Quoting; "And now comes 'A Time in the Sun,' transforming some to the stock material of the 'Western' into a narrative that can be recommended unhesitatingly to readers with grown-up minds.

. . . All this sounds like pretty worn-out material — and, as I have summarized it, it is. One knows with what skilled vulgarity Hollywood and television would manipulate this situation. But Mrs. Barry is out for bigger game. She avoids all the obvious traps. Her ingredients — the untouched West, the exploited Indian, the white-girl captive, gunplay galore, raiding parties, sudden death — are all apparently old stuff. Yet what emerges is a fresh, tense and often moving narrative. Careful historical research, wide knowledge of the place and time, and a sensitive feeling for shades of character combine to produce an action story that is far more than exciting melodrama.

. . . An intelligent Western does seem a contradiction in terms. Somehow Mrs. Barry has resolved the contradiction. 'A Time in the Sun' may be read with pleasure as a piece of Americana, as a study in character, as a picture of racial antagonisms, as a regional novel evoking the atmosphere of the old Southwest — or, more simple, as a credible story about human beings caught in a conflict too complex for them to understand fully. On all these counts it deserves praise."

WT Homecoming Activities Slated For October 20.

CANYON — Traditional Homecoming activities have been planned for the annual West Texas State College celebration here Oct. 20, when thousands of ex-students join for a day on the campus.

Main events which have been held for many years will be club teas, smokers and reunions, a parade through Canyon, a barbecue, a football game, and a Homecoming dance following the game.

Silver anniversary reunion of the Class of 1937 is scheduled, along with a joint reunion of the classes of 1947 through 1951. About 100 members of the 25th anniversary class are expected, and approximately 1000 members of the other five classes will be on hand.

West Texas State students will prepare for Homecoming with a "Western Day" celebration Oct. 19, when the Homecoming assembly is scheduled at 11 a.m. The program will be televised Events open Saturday with registration from 9 a.m. until noon in the Student Union Building. Club teas and smokers will be held from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m.

The parade, featuring floats, riding clubs, and area high school bands, will follow a theme "Song". Entries will be listed with the Student Senate. The parade starts at 3:30 p.m.

With Walter Jetton of Fort Worth catering, the barbecue is scheduled at 4:30 p.m. on the old football field. Tickets cost $1.25 each, and students may exchange a punch on their meal ticket for one barbecue ticket.

Closing out the day's events will be a football game at 7:30 p.m. in Buffalo Bowl between the Buffaloes and the New Mexico State Aggies, and a dance from 10 p.m. until 1 a.m. in the Student Union Building.

The Class of '37 will be honored at a coffee and reception Friday night, and will begin registration at 8:30 a.m. Saturday in the lounge of the Fine Arts building. Presiding at a program will be the class president, Orville Cunningham of Samnorwood.

The class will have luncheon in the Blue Room of the cafeteria before touring the campus in the afternoon.

All students in school during the years of the reunion classes are welcome to attend the reunion, whether or not they were graduated, according to Milton Morris, executive secretary of the WT Ex-Students Association.

The classes of 1947 through 1951 will be honored at a dance Friday night at the ballroom of the Vic Mon in Amarillo. Members will begin registration Saturday at 8:30 a.m. in the lounge of the Student Union Building, with a box luncheon at noon.

Monday at 8:30 a.m. in the lounge of the Student Union Building, with a box luncheon at noon. A business meeting of the Ex-Students Association is scheduled at 2 p.m. Saturday in the auditorium of the Fine Arts Building. New association officers will be presented.

AUSTIN — Jack Cox and John Connally crossed paths on the campaign trail in Austin . . . and they waved at each other.

Connally was talking to the County Treasurers Association convention. He stepped out on the hotel balcony to watch Cox riding in a parade put on by Youth for Cox.

Inside the hotel, Connally was urging the county treasurers to pitch in and help support the Democratic ticket, else there might be Republican candidates for county treasurer next time.

Outside, Cox was urging youngsters to pitch in and help him change Texas to a two-party state.

OFFICE SPACE — Some of the legislators who get elected on November 6 will have office space at the Capitol. But some won't. For two years now, space formerly occupied by State agencies has been in the process of conversion to offices for the 150 members of the House of Representatives. A few were occupied during the 1961 session.

Rep. Will Smith of Beaumont, chairman of the House Rules Committee, had the chore of assigning offices, with not enough to go around.

Finally he hit upon a solution. He has 90 offices ready. So he and the Speaker-to-be, Byron Tunnell of Tyler, agreed to assign the 90 offices to representatives who will be returning.

There are 92 incumbents, including two Republicans, in the Nov. 6 election. One is Speaker-to-be Tunnell, who not only will have an office, but also an apartment. If all incumbents but one are elected, there will be just enough offices for each old member to have one.

The 60 or so freshmen members will have to do what all representatives have done in the past — use their desks in the House chamber as their offices.

When the John H. Reagan State Office Building is completed next year, the Board of Pardons and Paroles and the Department of Agriculture will be moved out of the Capitol, leaving space for the other 60 representatives to have private offices.

COURT PHOTOS — Junior Bar Association directors urged the State Bar judicial section to leave it to individual trial judges whether to allow news photographers to take pictures in their courtrooms.

This is contrary to the views of the American Bar Association, which thinks courtroom photography should be outlawed.

The upcoming Annual Conference of Texas Judges will vote on whether to adopt the American Bar's proposed ban on full news coverage of trials.

JINGLE BELLS — If you have business with a state agency in December, better not plan your trip around Christmas.

Board of Control announced the official Christmas holiday period will be December 24 through December 26. Since December 22 and 23 are Saturday and Sunday, this means state offices will be closed five days for Christmas, which fall on Tuesday this year.

Legislature allows a three-working-day Christmas holiday.

LICENSING BOARDS — House Committee on Licensing and Examining Boards began a series of hearings in the Capitol, seeking ways to improve their operations and procedures. First questioned were representatives of the Board of Law Examiners, Board of Morticians, Real Estate Commission and Board of Examiners of Basic Sciences.

Rep. Will Smith of Beaumont, committee chairman, was much interested in the extent of reciprocity practiced with other states. Rep. Sam Collins of Newton, vice-chairman, asked the witnesses what they thought about having a central licensing agency. None thought much of the idea.

Ira Butler of Fort Worth, chairman of the bar examiners, said he had heard no complaints about the operation of his board. Philip R. Overton of Austin, attorney for the morticians, forecast legislation next year dealing with the group's rules and regulations.

L. D. Ransom, executive secretary of the Real Estate Commission, said he would ask the next Legislature to make it a criminal offense to violate real estate laws.

INDUSTRIAL SAFETY — Tidewater Oil Company's J. K. Holder of Houston has been given a Civil Defense award for outstanding accomplishment in industrial safety preparedness. Governor Price Daniel made the presentation.

Holder is disaster planning coordinator for the company's southern division. He designed an emergency procedures portfolio for the division's 1,150 employees.

SCHOOL PRAYERS — Public schools in Texas are not prohibited from allowing prayers to be said or passages from the Bible to be read (as a result of the U. S. Supreme Court decision in the Engel vs. Vitale case), so long as the State or a political subdivision does not prescribe or approve the prayer or religious activity.

So said Attorney General Will Wilson in a legal opinion requested by J. W. Edgar, Texas Commissioner of Education.

CROOKED HOLES — What may be the final session of the House General Investigating Committee's look into the East Texas oil scandal was held in Austin. Mainly, it was to allow production and drilling men for 14 major companies to declare under oath that their companies do not have any illegally deviated wells.

It also gave the East Texas Salt Water Disposal Company a chance to defend itself.

Investigators got detailed lectures on the fluid mechanics of the big East Texas field. Stressed was how daily injection of some 450,000 barrels of salt water — back into the vast water-bearing formation — drives the oil to the surface.

Officials of the company hotly denied that the disposal company, set up in 1942 as a cooperative venture to get rid of salt water which was polluting the Sabine River, is hurting the rights of individual landowners by its operations, as had been charged.

The hearing also gave Chairman William J. Murray Jr. of the Railroad Commission a chance to testify that the Department of Public Safety has found no evidence to link Commission employees to the scandal, other than those former employees Murray asked the state police to investigate last March.

Legislators on the committee seem certain to recommend changes in the law as a means of providing surer punishment for those who violate Commission regulations, or who swear to falsehoods.

Also likely to come out of the investigation is a recommendation for revision of the marginal well law. This law makes a well capable of producing only 19 barrels a day a more valuable well than one flowing 1,000 barrels a day. The 19-barrel well is allowed to produce without shutdown days, while the better well can produce only 20 barrels a day for eight days a month. Many agreed this was unfair.

DUAL ROLE RULED OUT — Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has held that a person may not be tax collector for an independent school district and a water control and improvement district at the same time.

COTTON PICKING GAINS — Cotton harvest is ahead of last year, with 26 per cent picked where only 23 per cent was in the gin at this time last year, according to the Commissioner of Agriculture.

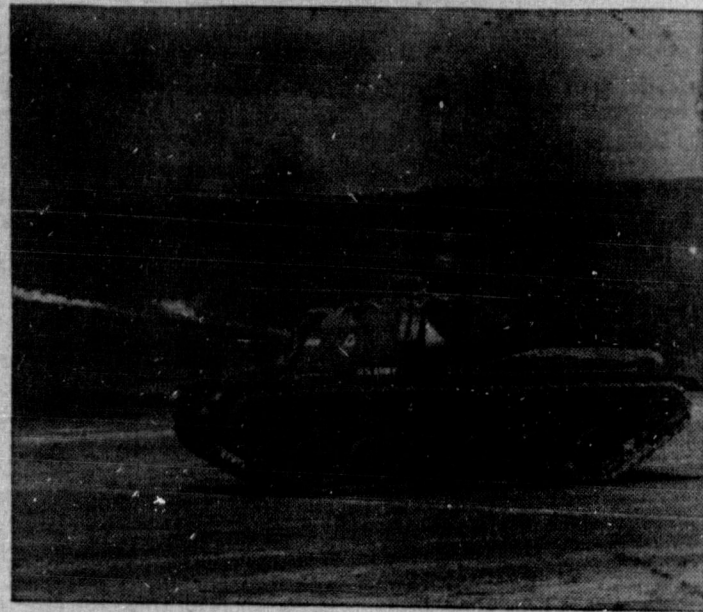

BIGGEST ROAD PROJECT — Largest highway program ever put together in Texas was authorized by the State Highway Commission.

Covering super-highway work only, the program comes to $287,000,000 worth of construction and right-of-way buying during the coming two years. It will build 1,063 miles of expressway and buy right-of-way for 188 more miles.

When the work is completed about four years from now it will double the completed mileage of interstate highways in Texas under the 90 per cent Federal-10 per cent State program.

FEWER PASSENGER TRAINS — Missouri Pacific has asked the Railroad Commission to let it drop another pair of passenger trains. This time it is Trains Nos. 47 and 48 between Palestine and Houston. Hearing was set for November 13 at Houston.

SCREWORM FUNDS NEEDED — Texas Animal Health Commission will ask the Legislature for $1,500,000 as an emergency fund to continue the fight against screwworms.

The standard 90mm gun has been replaced by a dummy weapon containing the flame gun tubes and ignition system. Holes in the side of the dummy weapon allow air to enter for combustion. The fuel tank of the flame thrower has a capacity of 2,300 pounds of thickened fuel and the unit fires 6 1/2 gallons of fuel per second for 55 to 60 seconds. The M-48 was produced by Chrysler Corp. and General Motors Corp.

It will request another $1,500,000 to make up the state's one-fourth of the $12,000,000 program, with stockmen putting up $3,000,000 and the Federal government $6,000,000.

ANTI-AMENDMENT — A statewide group opposing the most controversial of the 14 proposed Constitutional Amendments is mapping its fight in Austin, with the help of Governor Daniel.

Under fire is the amendment which would empower the Legislature to require trial de novo in appeals from decisions of administrative agencies and executive departments of the state or political subdivisions.

STATE EMPLOYS 58,300 — Latest figures compiled by State Officials for the Texas Almanac show fifty-eight thousand persons working for the State of Texas.

Per capita, the State of Texas functions with 65 employees for each 10,000 citizens. That is well below the 79 employee average for all states.

Texas is, in fact, among the lowest states. Some have nearly twice as many employees, per capita, as Texas.

STATEWIDE TREND — A statewide trend toward conservatism in state government is predicted by State Senator Charles F. Herring of Austin.

"Trend is evident," says Senator Herring, "by the election of so many new representatives with platforms that promise to take a closer look at government spending."

The veteran Austin legislator believes the public has become agitated and dissatisfied with the tendency toward more spending. He cites the defeat of several

"old-timers" in the Legislature as evidence; plus the nomination of many "new faces."

DEAD HUNTERS — Twenty-two hunters died last season in Texas, mostly in gun accidents that could have been prevented through careful handling of weapons, the State Department of Health says.

Department is asking hunters looking to the fall and winter seasons to review safe hunting rules and remember them in the field.

OIL AND WATER — Everyone knows that oil and water won't mix. But two such departments may be combined by the next legislature.

There is growing talk in the Capitol of an effort to reorganize the state's oil and gas regulatory agency.

One movement on foot would transfer administration from the Railroad Commission to the recently reorganized Texas Water Commission, which already deals with oil and gas pollution of the state's rivers and streams.

FOR POLIO ACTION — Texas Medical Association has joined with the State Department of Health in urging community-wide oral polio vaccine programs.

Both groups state that Sabin oral vaccine Type I and II are fully licensed and effective for infants and children.

More than 70 per cent of the paralytic cases in Texas through September 15 occurred among persons who had received no Salk polio vaccination, says the Health Department.

However, polio cases are slackening off. Only two of the five cases reported last week were paralytic.

SHORT SNORTS — Governor Daniel has appointed Howard Barr of Austin and Arthur Goodman of Beaumont to the State Board of Plumbing Examiners.

State colleges have about 9,000 more students enrolled this fall than they did a year ago, figures at the Texas Commission on Higher Education indicate.

State's general revenue fund, briefly on a cash basis last month, has dropped back to a $19,459,359 deficit and State Treasurer Jesse James expects it to linger until sometime next year.

MAKING CRIME UNPROFITABLE

Crime, which is a major and growing problem in this country, can be curbed and made unprofitable — if those concerned display the needed determination and dedication.

The Acme Markets, Inc., (formerly American Stores Company), a retail chain, tells the encouraging story of what happened in Philadelphia.

Beginning in 1949, and continuing for eight years, the company's small neighborhood stores were subjected to 95 armed holdups. Two managers were murdered, and two police officers died in line of duty.

The District Attorney and the Police Department, aided by full company cooperation, brought all their resources to bear. One result: all 83 of the bandits participating in the 95 holdups were arrested. All were convicted and sent to prison, 10 for life terms.

A second result; in the succeeding four years and two months, there were but two armed holdups in company stores, and one has been solved. The thugs have learned that this is a case where crime doesn't pay. Here is the kind and quality of law enforcement, backed by citizen cooperation, the whole country needs.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18th DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

HELIUM CONSERVATION: AN IDEAL PROGRAM

H.R. 10588 (Rogers of Texas) was the number of the legislation which I introduced on February 18, 1960. This measure was the result of much study, research and discussion. It was designed to bring about a partnership operation between the government of the United States and private enterprise, to the end that our philosophy of private enterprise would be fully carried out. Also, it was to provide a bulwark against confiscatory practices that could have come into being. Hence, I am indeed proud to have had the opportunity to author this legislation, to see it pass through the Congress, and to stand up against the onslaughts leveled against it. It is, of course, rewarding to see it being implemented and carried out and to know that its purposes are being fulfilled in all respects. It was my pleasure to address the House of Representatives on the subject recently, and I reprint here a condensation of the speech that I made on the subject.

The long-range program in which industry and government are working together to save helium now lost when natural gases are burned as fuel is one of the most forward-looking and commendable efforts ever made in the field of conservation. When the government acts to curb waste of a limited, irreplaceable resource essential to progress, such action surely is worthwhile. When it attracts private capital at private risk, creates many new jobs for industry, stimulates the economy and brings rapid technical advances, it can be termed praiseworthy. When this same program pays for itself, it must be rated close to ideal. The helium conservation program will accomplish this, and more. It provides an outstanding example of industry and government cooperating in an enterprise beneficial to both and to go to the entire nation as well. Consider the accomplishments. On Aug. 15, 1961 (12 days after Congress approved funds) the first long-term helium-purchase contract was announced. Within 90 days, three more had been negotiated. Now, little over a year from the date of the first contract helium from a new plant at Bushton, Kansas, is about to start to the Cliffside gasfield at Amarillo, some 350 miles away, where it will be stored to meet future demands. Four other plants are near completion. Phillips Petroleum is finishing two plants, in Sherman County and Dumas, which expect to begin deliveries in December. Two more plants in Kansas are due to go on stream next March. To get the helium to Cliffside at minimum cost, a pipeline is being built from Cliffside to Bushton; designed by an Oklahoma firm, the line was built by Groninger and King of Pampa and R. H. Fulton & Co. of Lubbock. In one year, more than 90 other contracts, worth over $4.2 million, have been awarded, on everything from telemetering equipment to mile-post markers. It was clear that it would take higher prices to make the program self-liquidating. Accordingly, the Interior Department raised the price from $19 to $35 per thousand cubic feet. This will permit repayment within 25 years, with interest, of all government funds used to buy helium during early years of the program. Thus, the users will pay the costs of guaranteeing the supply. This program is a clear case of acting before an emergency arises. Uses for helium in electronics, nuclear energy, missiles, space and refrigeration have tremendously increased the demand. Requirements were expected to exceed supply by 1985. Hence we took immediate steps to obtain necessary legislation. The entire matter was heard by the Mines and Mining Subcommittee of the House Interior Committee, of which I was a member. We made it clear to Congress that action was essential. But one strong faction advocated the take-over of all helium, wherever found, by the government under the right of eminent domain. Those of us who have long supported the basic free enterprise theory waged a vigorous battle against this idea and won. The oil and gas business reached its present world leadership position through private initiative; it is logical to assume that proper development of helium resources can come through the same route.

This experience has refuted irrevocably those who malign the natural gas industry as self-interested and profit-hungry. The program has been started more rapidly, more efficiently and at less cost than if the government had tried to go it alone. The dynamic capabilities of a free industry in a free economy have come into full play. Five plants are nearing completion in less time than the government would have taken to build one. And, technical advances are marvelous. Plants built less than 20 years ago could process only 2.5 million cubic feet of gas daily; the new plants can handle 400-500 million cubic feet a day. And, any risk inherent in new methods is borne by the companies; the government agrees only to pay the negotiated price for the helium it receives. Current agreements give private companies maximum incentive to reach their greatest helium-producing capability, thus encouraging the fullest possible conservation. Hundreds of new jobs have been created, in participating companies and supplier industries. Technical advances greatly benefit the entire natural gas industry. Removal of helium from gas automatically increases pipeline capacity for transporting burnable hydrocarbons. And, consumers will no longer pay for a substance with no fuel value. Had the government conducted this program alone, the Bureau of Mines would have had to expand its staff enormously, far more time would have elapsed, far more helium would have been lost. Through cooperation with industry, it has been possible to conserve even more helium than first considered possible, at extremely low cost. There is work still to be done, but we have achieved our objective — maximum conservation at minimum cost to the taxpayer.

MILES CITY, MONT., DAILY STAR: "As long as people live, there will undoubtedly be those who will shirk from accepting freedom as their own responsibility. They will want their government to provide their security, guarantee them minimum wages, guarantee them full employment, guarantee them good prices for their products, guarantee them good housing, guarantee the solvency of their loans, guarantee them medical care, and many other things. Such people are thereby choosing slavery rather than freedom . . ."

Cut open the first fish you catch and find out what it has been feeding on.

This one clue may mean the difference between a full stringer or an empty one.

If artificial bait is being used, match the lure as nearly as possible with the contents of the fish's stomach.

This procedure will pay off in bigger catches.

FLAMELESS ELECTRIC HOME HEATING IS BABY SAFE
WARM as toast— SAFE from burns!
"There's never a worry when you have electric baseboard heating" says Mrs. C. E. Woods, 2128 Glendale in Abilene. "This is the second winter we've heated electrically, and it's the best thing that's happened for baby comfort and safety since the invention of the safety pin." Glynda Woods is feisty two-year-old who plays variously on the floor and up on chairs, couch and bed. Glynda is warm and comfortable anywhere in her electrically heated home.
Ask West Texas Utilities about the low 1¢ winter rate for home heating and the many types of modern flameless heating available to you.
