TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18th DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

In Search of Answers

The farmer's share of the food dollar has declined from 47 cents in 1950 to 37 cents today. In the past 16 years, the prices received by farmers for their products have dropped 12 percent while the prices paid by consumers have increased 29 percent.

Why? Why has the retail price of bread increased from about 14 cents a loaf to about 22 cents in the past 15 years? Why in this same period has the price paid to farmers for the wheat in that loaf of bread declined slightly? The "marketing spread" affecting bread has increased about 80 percent. By the same token, why has the farm-retail price spread for beef increased in the past 15 years from about 22 cents a pound to about 36 cents a pound?

In an effort to find the answers to these and other questions involving the food industry, the Senate this week passed and the House will soon consider legislation establishing a "National Commission on Food Marketing." This 15-member bipartisan panel (including five Senators and five House members) would make a thorough study of the food industry from the farmer to the consumer. The inquiry would be aimed at these points: (1) What changes actually have occurred in the size, concentration, and business relationship of food marketing firms? (2) What will the food industry be like in the future if present trends continue? (3) Will this food industry structure be consistent with the national longrun interest? What will be the effect of this structure on the family farm — on the consumer? (4) What kind of food marketing system do we want?

The food industry involves expenditures of $70 billion annually at retail. About 11 million Americans are employed by it. All segments of the food processing industry — farm organizations, major food chains and grocer associations, and labor unions — support the proposed Commission study. The President has recommended enactment of

Panhandle wheat farmers and cattlemen should be especially interested in the results of such a study. Today — and for a number of months — no segment of American agriculture has been more adversely affected by economic factors beyond its control than has the cattle industry. Senator Gale McGee of Wyoming, in urging that the Commission be established, told the Senate this week, "I would point out that the American cattleman has lost more than $2 billion since his prices started to fall about 2 years ago. I believe that he is entitled to know why his prices have dropped to the point where he can no longer make a living while at the same time the price the housewife is paying for her beef has not dropped at all. And beef is not the only area where there seems to be little relationship between the price paid the producer and that paid by the consumer."

Americans today enjoy the lowest food prices in the history of the world — less than 19 percent of take-home pay. Yet the farmers' accomplishments in improved production have not brought to them the security and income that such an achievement should normally produce.

For some time there has been a trend in this country toward casting a blanket indictment against the American farmer. Farm programs generally have been referred to as "subsidy programs." The word "subsidy" has come to be associated with the American farmer, especially by those who have not understood overall economic problems involved. The truth is that it would be impossible for me to list in one newsletter the different businesses that enjoy direct and indirect subsidies far greater than any that ever went to the American farmer. I feel that a debt of gratitude is owed the American farmers by the American people generally. Our farmers are certainly entitled to fair treatment in the market-place, whether they be grain producers, cattle producers, fiber producers, milk producers or otherwise. And in keeping with this thought, one of the prime protections afforded them should be against excessive imports.

Chemical Brush Control—Mesquite

The mesquite tree is continuing to creep northward in the Texas Panhandle and has become quite a problem in most of the Rolling Plains counties. Donley County has its share of the problem, having several thousand acres of the mesquite tree.

There has become a growing controversy between the spray applicator and the neighboring farmers and ranchers; but, due to improved methods and regulations of the Texas Department of Agriculture, many acres are being sprayed without damage to adjacent crops.

Best results are obtained from spraying 40-90 days after leaves appear. The material includes ½ pound of 245T in 1 gallon of diesel fuel and water to make 4 gallons of solution.

Farmers and ranchers scheduled for spraying through the Great Plains Program include: C. E. Bairfield, Mrs. Cathleen Griffin, and R.O. Ranch. For more information on mesquite spraying, contact your local Soil Conservation Service Office.

TEACH CHILDREN TO DIAL ZERO FOR HELP

COLLEGE STATION — Small children should know and trust the telephone operator as much as they do the corner policeman, and should turn to the operator in the event of an emergency.

Extension Service specialists at Texas A&M University say that although pre-school youngsters can't be expected to memorize long telephone numbers, they can be taught one rule: If an accident happens, dial zero, tell the operator what is wrong, and she will help you.

A child should be taught, however, that he is to dial zero only in emergencies, say Bobye Riney, Extension rural civil defense specialist, and Patsy Reynolds, family life education specialist.

One five-year-old's plaintive message to the operator was "My Mommie's asleep and won't wake up — and there's a fire in our house." After a little prodding, the operator learned the boy's name and address and called the fire department. Firemen rushed to the address, found the house on fire, and the mother knocked out by sleeping pills. Both survived, thanks to the child's action and the operator's help.

Another youngster whose mother fell through a floor and was trapped, went directly to the telephone and dialed zero. He couldn't remember his daddy's name or where he lived, but he rattled off the name and address of his grandparents. The operator called them, got the child's address and had a doctor on the way in minutes.

Although operators are ingenious in tracing calls from small fry, such procedure is a waste of precious time. Encourage your child to memorize his name, his father's name and address, the specialists recommend.

SERPENTINE PASSAGEWAYS and vast subterranean chambers inside Texas Longhorn Cavern in the Highland Lakes area of Central Texas evoke this look of wide-eyed amazement from a youthful visitor to the cavern. Reputedly the third-largest cavern in the world, Texas Longhorn annually attracts more than 45,000 visitors who express, in varying degrees, similar reactions to the cavern's underground marvels. Parts of the cavern are named for Texas outlaw Sam Bass who used the cave for a hideout in the 1870's and is alleged to have buried a $2-million treasure there. The cavern is focal point of 708-acre Texas Longhorn Cavern State Park located near Burnet, just off U.S. Highway 281 on Park Road 4.

FARM NEWS

from County ASCS Committee

WHEAT The sign-up for the 1964 Voluntary Wheat Program was over last Friday. A total of 123 farms have been signed up, diverting a total of 1,435 acres. Wheat plow-ups and acres diverted under the wheat program are being measured at this time. The final date for grazing wheat diverted acres was Friday, May 22, 1964.

COTTON Cotton producers have been mailed notices of 1964 Upland Cotton Domestic Allotments, yields and Payment rates. This will apply to you only if you plan to plant the Domestic allotment, which is approximately 67 percent of your 1964 effective allotment. If you wish to appeal the yield set for your farm, you will have 15 days from the date on the notice to come in and sign an appeal. This final date will be June 5, 1964. You will be required to furnish proof of production for the years 1961, 1962 and 1963.

ACP NEWS We still have money in the 1964 ACP budget to help carry out any needed conservation practices. This is a good time to be thinking about protecting the land from summer erosion; planting a summer cover or constructing water storage facilities; and controlling competitive shrubs.

We will begin to make ACP payments on practices carried out since January 1, 1964, the first part of July. Please report completion of practices promptly. Some producers will earn "small-cost-increase" payment (SCI). This is an amount paid in accordance to the amount of assistance earned up to $200.00 on practices and may range from $.01 to $14.00. If the assistance earned is paid to the vendor of the producer's choice and the producer earns an SCI payment the SCI will be sent to the producer. If later the producer earns payments that will total more than $200.00, the SCI paid to him earlier will be subtracted from the current payment.

If you have a conservation problem, come by and see if ACP can help you. Remember — the care you give your land is your future.

County Agent Suggests "Back Tagging" Cattle

"Back Tagging" cattle for a market brucellosis test benefits every cattle raiser in the county and particularly the individual who is selling the cattle, explains County Extension Agent Flip Breedlove.

By back tagging the cattle, inspectors at Federal and State inspected slaughter houses are able to return brucellosis reports to the farm owner and credit the county with the brucellosis test.

The brucellosis report credit to the county is one of the most important advantages of back tagging, according to Dr. C. M. Patterson, Extension veterinarian, who is a strong supporter of the market testing program.

"Dr. Patterson points out that if 15 percent of the cattle in the county is back tagged and tested at the slaughter house, on-the-ranch testing is not required for a county to maintain its brucellosis-free certification," Breedlove said.

Two other benefits to ranchers who back tag are that they get early monitoring of the disease and are able to control it before it spreads through their herd, and they get a tuberculosis report which also applies to the tuberculosis certification.

"Of course, the main advantage," Breedlove said, "is that stockmen don't have to pen their cattle and run tests every three years if they back tag enough cattle to keep the county on a brucellosis-free standing."

Supplies and information for back tagging are available at the county Extension office. Cattlemen have a special invitation from Breedlove to come by for a visit to discuss the details of the program. This applies only to female cattle three years of age and older, and the testing results are credited to your herd.
