High Winds Arouse Residents Wed. Morn

High winds, estimated at 70 to 80 miles per hour, swept across the local area from the south about 1:30 a.m. Wednesday morning and interrupted restful sleep in many homes.

A plate glass window was blown out at Parker-Perkins, signs were ripped from buildings, numerous TV antennae were crumpled here in town. Cotton trailers parked on the Paymaster Gin yard east of town were blown across the highway and numerous other trailers and outbuildings in the rural area were wrecked. It is unusual for a wind of this velocity to strike from the south unless accompanied by a heavy rain cloud.

In addition to windy weather, the temperature has been unusual also. A high of 96 was recorded here Monday and the mercury has topped 90 degrees several times in recent days.

HYMN SINGING AT CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH SUNDAY

Once again the third Sunday has come and time for another old-fashioned hymn singing at the Calvary Baptist Church. The singing will begin at 2 o'clock. The singing last month was well attended. In fact, there was a full house. More of you should come prepared to sing some specials. There should be some singers from Pampa present. This is a community wide singing and every church is invited. The churches that were represented last month were First Baptist, First Methodist, First Christian, Martin Baptist and the Presbyterian churches. We hope that more will be here Sunday.

If you like to sing you are invited to come and sing your favorite hymns. If you have a quartet, trio or duet in your church bring them with you. Recently the church purchased a new Hammond Organ which will add much to the singing. See you Sunday evening at the Calvary Baptist Church.

A fire believed to have been ignited by a hot water heater or faulty wiring, destroyed a five room house on the F. J. Hommel ranch 4 1/2 miles northwest of Clarendon Tuesday. The house was unoccupied at the time of the fire.

It was fortunate that the wind was out of the right direction to keep the fire from spreading to the barn and feed pens that are located to the west of the house.

FARM NEWS

from County ASCS Committee

Dates To Remember

April 30, 1963 — Final day to make applications for wool payments. May 1, 1963 — Final disposition date for excess wheat. May 1, 1963 — Final day to pasture diverted acres (until November 1, 1963). May 21, 1963 — 1963 Wheat Referendum.

Voting Eligibility on '64 Wheat

Producers who have an interest in a 1964 farm wheat acreage allotment will be eligible to vote in the 1964 wheat referendum on May 21.

Producers who have an interest in an allotment include landowners who receive all or a share of the wheat crop or proceeds thereof, and tenants or sharecroppers having an interest in the farm acreage allotment because of sharing in the wheat crop or proceeds thereof.

If the allotment is less than 15 acres, however, the farm operator will be asked to decide — at least 7 days prior to the referendum — whether he wants to participate as an allotment grower in 1964. If he elects to participate, this will qualify the operator and the other wheat producers on the farm to vote in the referendum.

The election will be made on the back of the regular allotment notice for the farm and filing it with the ASCS County Office.

You will be receiving your 1964 wheat allotment notice and more information on the referendum within the next few days so please watch your mail.

Youths Being Held In Connection With Robbery Of Station

Three youths, sixteen and seventeen years old, from Olney and Snyder, Texas, are being held here in county jail in connection with the break-in and robbery of Cornell Bros. Texaco about midnight Tuesday night.

Boots O'Neal, who lives nearby, saw the car used by the youths near his home and one of the youths in the station and called Sheriff Truett Behrens. The Sheriff overtook the car at Lelia Lake and returned the youths to the county jail. They had gained entrance to the station through a window and approximately $28 was missing from the cash drawer and a cigarette machine. Sheriff Behrens stated that the youths would probably be implicated in other area robberies.

LAMBERTVILLE, N.J., BEACON: "We observe here quite frequently, our views of growing government spending at all levels. Our motivation is not hard to determine; we pay taxes and so do the readers of this newspaper . . . It seems to us that somewhere, somehow, this trend must stop. We realize that politicians, in order to perpetuate themselves, need to put people on the government payrolls, but there must be a limit somewhere. We think we passed it several years ago."

NEW YORK MILLS, MINN., HERALD: "It is true, that in the face of economic depression and loss of income with which to provide for one's needs and for one's family, men will turn to almost anything that will promise some type of relief. In desperate cases, people turn to communism for this relief . . . It is in times like this that people act in haste and repent in leisure, if there would be any leisure thereafter."

When taken at the flood, leads on to fortune; Omitted, all the voyage of their life Is bound in shallows and miseries."

The above was the starting lines of Church and Home, a little church bulletin put out by Rev. Ford A. Ellis, minister of the North Amarillo Christian Church. Bro. Ellis was quoting from the writings of the "Bard of Avon."

It does seem true that Lady Luck always knocks loud and strong at some time in our life. If we open up, get up, and take every advantage of the situation when the flood runs high we are often blessed for all time to come.

However, I have never felt that we should give up just because we missed out on the one big opportunity. I am sure that even Shakespeare would recommend that we keep on digging in the shallow water even though the deep tide has passed up by.

Thank you Bro. Ellis for sending us the little publication. We always get a good thought from it. Likely as not we are thanking the Reverend when it is the little woman that has gone to the trouble of mailing us a copy even though we are not a member of his group.

If I remember correctly this good pastor enjoyed the story of the Baptist and a member of his church who got into a hot argument. Finally the Baptist lost his temper and shouted; "Well, I don't care what you say, you are not going to make a Christian out of me."

Happiness is often overlooked in our haste to find it all done up in a pretty package and with a price tag on it....

People who look down on other folks may be only living on a bluff.

A lot of people can be depended upon — depended upon that is to be around when they need you.

If you can't find it in the dictionary, the atlas, or the encyclopedia, don't be discouraged, ask for it the next time you are in your local grocery store. If your family budget looks sick at the end of the month it may not be the things you ate, it may be all those new aids to better living that get included in our weekly shopping list. Just for fun; the next time you buy groceries and start to unpack the sacks separate the items that were not on your list back in the thirties. If you are amazed at the things you could do without, you are too old for the draft....

Mrs. C. O. Harper of San Diego, California, who has ordered and re-ordered copies of Plowin' Out The Corner in book form sends us a handful of tea napkins with the following thought printed on them;

Who enter here must leave without— All envy, malice, greed, and doubt.... For joy or faith the door stands wide, For grief or need there's room inside. Come on in....

Before we can become a successful riot we will have to begin by an up-rising....

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18th DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

RECESS?

By the time you read this, the Congress will have begun its Easter Recess. I'm sure that some Americans will comment sarcastically that the Congress doesn't deserve an Easter Recess this year because so little legislation has been enacted. Congressional floor activity is indeed moving slowly, although (as I pointed out in a recent newsletter) the committees of the House and Senate are engaged in a steady round of meetings on pending legislation. One way to look at the situation is this: When the Congress doesn't pass new laws we Americans simply have to continue to live under the old ones. Critics of government change should find some measure of satisfaction in the fact that Congress is moving no more swiftly than it is.

Even though the House and Senate aren't meeting during the Easter Recess, most Senators and Congressmen will be on the job. Most of us will either be keeping regular office hours on Capitol Hill, visiting our home districts, or working on committee assignments. The week will bring a change of duties but little relaxation.

It will be a busy week for me. As chairman of the Irrigation and Reclamation Subcommittee of the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, I will be in the West with members of the subcommittee to inspect project sites and to hold hearings on proposed projects. Doing a good job of on-site inspection and conducting full hearings on feasibility and need is most essential before we can commit the loan of taxpayers' money to these projects, which are generally similar in nature to the Canadian River Project in our own Panhandle. To show you what a trip of this sort involves, here is the week's itinerary for my subcommittee:

Monday, April 15 — The subcommittee will assemble in San Francisco, Calif., and then begin a comprehensive study and inspection of the Auburn-Folsom South Project, a proposed addition to the great Central Valley reclamation project. We will also inspect the American River watershed and the Lake Tahoe area.

Tuesday, April 16 — We will conduct an inspection of the previously authorized Washoe irrigation project and then inspect the Auburn Reservoir and area proposed to be served by the Auburn-Folsom South Project.

Wednesday, April 17 — We will continue our inspection of the Auburn-Folsom South Project area and inspect the Central Valley and San Luis Valley projects areas, returning then to San Francisco for a late afternoon flight to Denver, Colo.

Thursday, April 18 — In Craig, Colo., we will conduct hearings on the proposed Savery-Pot Hook reclamation project and tour the project area, then fly to Grand Junction, Colo.

Friday, April 19 — In Crawford, Colo., we will conduct hearings on the proposed Fruitland Mesa reclamation project. We will tour that project area as well as the proposed Bostwick Park project area, holding a hearing on the latter that night in Montrose, Colo.

Although other subcommittee members will attend the Saturday dedication ceremony for the Smith Fork irrigation project in Colorado, I will have to leave the group to return to Washington Friday night in order to prepare other committee matters for attention Monday.

The other Subcommittee of which I am chairman, the Communications and Power Subcommittee of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, has completed hearings on a bill to exempt from the radio-television "equal time" requirement Presidential and Vice Presidential candidates in the 1964 campaign. The subcommittee received testimony from network presidents and political leaders, among others, and is ready now to take the pros and cons before the full committee. A similar bill passed in 1960 paved the way for the famous Kennedy-Nixon debates.

We were honored this week by the visit to Washington of members of the 79 Rural Electrification cooperatives in Texas. Among Panhandle folks who stopped by my office were R. A. Yarbrough of Childress (past president of the National Rural Electric Cooperatives Association), R. L. Elliott of Dalhart, R. C. Buckles of Stratford, C. C. Bamert of Muleshoe, Clarence Hamilton of Earth, Earl Wadie of Perryton and George Robbins of Canadian. We saw other friends at the banquet, including Leo Forrest and Tom Draper of Hereford. Other recent visitors included Truman Miller of Willadorado, N. F. Renner of Spearman, and Emory Elkins of Tullia, Producers Grain Cooperative members, and Bill Nelson of Amarillo and R. G. Peeler of Hereford from the Grain Sorghum Producers Association. I enjoyed a visit with Pete Plank of Hereford, home after spending eight months in a 4-H project in Uruguay. Also here was the past president of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, Ernest Archambeau of Amarillo. Mr. Archambeau was researching area history at the National Archives.

TOTAL PERFORMANCE:

FORD GALAXIE 500/XL SPORTS HARDTOP

YOU'LL KNOW WHY SHE DOESN'T FEEL THE BUMPS...WHEN YOU TEST-DRIVE FORD'S NEW $10,000,000 RIDE

The 1963 Ford gives you a ride every bit as smooth as cars costing hundreds more, and for two reasons: a revolutionary new suspension system . . . and added road-hugging weight.

It took ten million dollars to develop the new Ford ride. We designed a revolutionary new suspension system for the '63 Ford. Where ordinary suspensions move only up and down to absorb road shock, the Ford suspension moves backward as well. In this double-action suspension system, coil springs up front and leaf springs in the rear combine to give you firmness in cornering and a special smoothness over the road.

We added weight, strength and stability. The new Ford is now actually hundreds of pounds more car than any other car in its class. This remarkable weight advantage is in the suspension, frame, and body. And, as you know, this added weight means a more stable ride.

But a solid, road-smoothing ride is only part of Ford's total performance story for 1963. Look how Ford swept the field this year in the grueling Daytona, Riverside and Atlanta 500's and in the demanding Pure Oil Performance Trials. Only a car with total performance—the best combination of strength, balance, precision control, braking power and road-clinging suspension—could roll up so many wins.

Before you buy any new car, test-drive a Super Torque Ford. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Make this important discovery—if it's built by Ford, it's built for performance . . . total.

 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Clean up roadsides is a message being delivered by the Texas Good Roads Association and the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Project is described as an "important contribution to the pleas of Governor Connally and the Legislature to seriously and systematically promote tourist travel into and through Texas."

Texas Junior Chamber will encourage its members to join in a project to remove debris and litter from city streets, county roads, and state highways.

Texas Good Roads Association will give the junior chambers money prizes for the best local progress to make their areas more attractive to visitors of Texas.

WATER — Final legislative action is near on the bill by Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas and Rep. Eligio de la Garza of McAllen to set up machinery for the state to help out financially on big water projects.

Both Houses have adopted the bill, with a small difference. Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwall added an amendment to give county commissioners courts approval power on recreation facilities planned at reservoirs built under the program. Since no county money will be involved, the House took out this provision.

Voters approved the plan last November by which the Texas Water Development Board will be allowed to use up to half of its $100,000,000 borrowing power to pay for, or contract to pay for, the building of added height on dams to be built by local or federal agencies.

Highly complicated procedures were written into the bill to safeguard the money. Cash from future sales of water or storage space will repay the state bonds issued to finance the projects.

INDUSTRY PLAN — State loans would be available for building new, or expanding old, factories in Texas, if the House and the voters approve a plan by Sen. Martin Dies, Jr., of Lufkin.

Dies got the Senate to approve his plan for a $200,000,000 state bond issue from which loans would be made.

Theory is that the industries would repay the loans with interest, and this would repay the state's debt, also with interest. State's borrowing power is such that it would have lower interest rates, and the difference in interest would pay costs of administering the program.

TAX CUT — While legislators begin consideration of tax increases to help finance state government activities, mainly the growth in higher education, two industries are about to get tax cuts.

Both Houses of the Legislature passed a bill to reduce the tax on sulphur producers.

House also has passed, and favorable Senate action is expected, on a bill to exempt state banks from the sales tax and the corporation franchise tax.

Both groups are putting up persuasive arguments. Sulphur lobbyists say that Louisiana's tax on sulphur is only $1.03 a ton, so Texas should cut its rate to that level.

Owners of state-chartered banks argue that national banks are exempt from state sales and franchise taxes, so state banks ought to be, too.

Apparently, the tax program of Gov. John Connally for the rest of the Texans is gathering support. It calls for expansion of the new sales tax by eliminating exemptions on low-cost clothing and farm implements, and for extending the corporation franchise "surtax" which has been in effect on a "temporary" basis for four years.

CRIMINAL LAWS — Senator Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo piloted through the Senate a 389-page revision of the code of criminal procedure — the first complete revision in a long, long time.

Purpose of the code, as drafted by a State Bar committee and revised by Hardeman, is to remove some of the loopholes and uncertainties in present criminal procedure.

House action is expected, since lawyers from all sides of criminal practice are agreed that reforms are needed.

A&M University?? — House State Affairs Committee heard testimony on a bill to change the name of Texas A&M College to Texas A&M University.

Speaking for the bill were A&M Chancellor M. T. Harrington, President Earl Rudder, former student president and new director L. F. Peterson, student Joe Easley and Century Council Director Bob Hunt.

Only opposition was from Baylor and University of Texas ex-Sam Collins. He talked about Aggieland tradition.

Harrington and Rudder told the Committee that A&M could attract more outstanding faculty members if the institution were called a university.

Rep. John Allen of Longview, chairman of the State Affairs Committee and a Baylor ex, named an all-Baylor subcommittee to study the bill.

Subcommittee is composed of Reps. John Traeger of Seguin, Ben Jarvis of Tyler, J. Collier Adams of Lubbock and James Klager of Corpus Christi.

SCHOOL LAW — Texas has come a long way along the road to an attitude of normalcy on racial desegregation.

That's what Rep. Don Gladden of Fort Worth told the House State Affairs Committee.

Gladden's bill, co-sponsored by 49 House members, would abolish the law passed in 1957 requiring that school districts get voter approval before desegregation.

Under that law, districts which do not call elections before integrating face the loss of state funds.

Bill now is in subcommittee.

PADRE ACTION — Both Houses of the Legislature have passed, and Governor Connally has signed, the bill to give the state's approval — and some of its land — to the Padre Island National Seashore project.

U. S. Dept. of Interior will build the vast recreational area, designed to preserve 81 miles of Padre Island in its natural state. Texas had to give about 40,000 acres in Laguna Madre as a part of the project.

CONGRESSMEN — The House spent a long day of back-and-forth debate on the bill by Rep. Rayford Price of Frankston to reapportion Texas for congressional purposes.

Major points in the bill are the abolition of the fourth district in North Texas — long represented by the late Speaker Sam Rayburn — and the creation of a second congressional district in Dallas County.

Under the House version, a new South Texas district, with no present congressman, would be formed.

U.S. Reps. Wright Patman of Texarkana and Ray Roberts of McKinney would be placed in the same district. Otherwise, present congressmen may have their districts altered somewhat, but still will reside in their present districts.

HANDICAPPED — Lawrence R. Melton of Dallas, chairman of the Governor's Committee for Employment of the Handicapped, and A. A. Alexander of Dallas, Commander of the Department of Texas Disabled American Veterans, issued a joint statement commending high school principals and teachers whose students participated in the "Ability Counts" contests sponsored by the two organizations.

Statement said, "We think this contest has brought about a greater understanding of the problems of the handicapped in Texas. This understanding has contributed much to the successful rehabilitation and employment of the handicapped in gainful occupations throughout the state."

SLANT DRILLING — An additional 14 civil penalty suits for alleged slant oil well activities were filed in Travis County District Court by Attorney General Waggoner Carr.

Suits ask $1,000 per day penalty for alleged violations of the rule and regulations of the Railroad Commission.

POOLING BILL PROGRESSES — Controversial oil and gas pooling bill by Rep. Wayne Gibbons of Breckenridge was approved by the House Oil, Gas and Mining Committee.

It is now on the House calendar.

No other aviation project has ever placed so much dependence on the oil industry for its economic success. It has been found that fuel will represent 48 per cent of the operating costs per seat mile, as against 33 per cent for today's jets and 22 per cent for piston-engine aircraft.

Electricity lets you underline a full row of words just by holding down the key, rat-tat-tat, just like that. The same is true for dashes, spaces, dots and the letter "X" for crossing out.
Electricity lets you type as fast as you want even if you're a speed champ. And there's no jumbled letters, no jumpy lines, no uneven spacing.
Electricity does the work for you. There's no pounding the keys. And you can adjust the touch from featherlight to the same as a manual's.
Electricity gives you an expert's even touch on the keys. All letters are typed with the same even blackness... your typing looks perfect.
You adjust a dial and can make up to ten carbon copies. More important, the tenth is just about as clear and readable as the first, the bulletin explains.

"FROM STEER TO STEAK" EXPLAINS MARKETING COST COLLEGE STATION — The difference between the price of steak and the price the producer gets for his cattle is due to marketing costs, according to a new publication of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.
"From Steer to Steak," L-582, states that these marketing costs include all the costs of processing and distribution required to convert the live animal to the saleable product. It says these costs can be divided into three groups; marketing livestock, slaughter-wholesaling and retailing.
The costs involved in the marketing process begin when the animal is sold by the producer. The costs of transportation, sale or handling of the steer must be included in these expenses, the bulletin explains.
The next phase of marketing is slaughtering the animal and wholesaling the carcass. A U.S. Choice grade animal will yield about 59 pounds of carcass beef from every 100 pounds of live weight. Thus the value of the byproduct and carcass determines the price that can be paid for the live animal, the publication says.
The final step in marketing beef is retailing and of the 59 pounds of carcass beef left 12 more is lost in trimming and cutting the meat into retail cuts. This leaves only 47 pounds of the original 100 pounds of live animal and this is not all steak. The retail price for this meat must be at least twice the live steer price to pay for the weight loss and doesn't include the costs involved in marketing, the bulletin says.
All steer is not steak and when marketing costs are added it is easily seen why the price we pay for steak must be considerably higher than the price the producer gets for his product, the bulletin explains.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Make Wildlife a Part of Your Conservation Plan

By Douglas Cunningham
What has happened to the Wildlife? We often hear comments such as this when we have difficulty in finding game and fish. Often with very little trouble we could farm wildlife in rather than out.

No matter what the major purpose, anything done on the land for soil and water conservation also produces something wildlife needs. Many conservation practices produce additional food and water and other practices provide a safe place to raise their young, hide or travel unseen by their natural enemies.

More and more conservation farmers and ranchers are making doubly sure that wildlife has what it needs. Where weeds are no problem, small areas are allowed to grow wild with native plants. Low shrubs and plants that bear fruit and seeds especially liked by wildlife are included in windbreaks and other odd areas. Brush is left piled here and there to provide cover for wildlife. A few outer rows of grain crops may be left standing bordering protected areas or game feeders located over the farm to provide additional food supply.

"Odd areas" on farms and ranches can be managed for wildlife, odd areas or such places as fence corners, rocky spots, blowouts, abandoned roads and good land isolated by ditches, streams and gullies. Stock ponds should be protected by fencing and silting prevented. The shallower portions when properly planted will give suitable cover and food to waterfowl and fish.

Wildlife, if managed correctly, can be a very good source of income. Many thousands of dollars are made each year by farmers and ranchers selling fishing and hunting rights. Wildlife is a crop of the land. Hunting and fishing opportunities are affected by the way farmers and ranchers manage their land. Where they apply soil and water conservation practices more wildlife results.

Know Your Soil
For the suburban dweller who has a soil problem in his garden, or the engineer looking for a building site, the latest publication by the U.S. Soil Conservation Service will come in mighty handy. It is called "Know Your Soil" and explains how soil scientists of the Department of Agriculture are gradually map-school or college students under certified teachers. Information and individual assistance on applications.

ping the soils of this country and what these maps mean to every citizen.

According to the publication, a soil is three-dimensional. It is bounded on the top by the surface of the land, on the bottom by rock, and on the sides by other soils. The first job of the soil scientist is to distinguish between these separate soils. More than 70,000 different kinds are recognized now.

Soils information can be useful in every walk of life. Road and building foundation should be studied before constructing valuable property. Also, farms and ranches can be put in a capability class according to soil texture and slope, and this information can help apply the best management for each acre.

LIBRARY NOTES:

EDITH BARNES
A memorial gift has been given to the library in memory of Mr. Harold Bugbee.

National Library Week is from April 21-27. How about making a special effort to visit your library? Of course, it goes without saying, you are more than welcome any time.

This is a good time to remind parents how important it is to read to your youngsters not only from the time they are tiny, you can hardly start too young, but until long after they have learned to read for themselves. Some books like, "Alice in Wonderland," "Tom Sawyer,"

"Huckleberry Finn," "Gulliver's Travels" and "Treasure Island," etc., should be read to your children as it seems by the time they are old enough to read these for themselves they want something else thereby missing some of the best. I don't know about the school library but do know the above books are almost never checked out of our library. If your young ones practically cut their teeth on good books you are giving them a solid foundation on which to build all future learning.

Are we discouraging our creative children? An article in "Redbook" "How We Discourage Creative Children" seems to think so. Quoting, in case some of you missed it: "This surprising report explains why teachers, parents and even intelligence tests fail to spot the real talent of seven out of ten of our most gifted youngsters."

Doctor Torrance says, "IG tests do not measure creative talent. By depending on them we miss seventy per cent of our most gifted youngsters."

During the past six years, Doctor Torrance and his associates have studied 15,000 boys and girls from nursery school to the sixth grade. Their findings show that most children start life with valuable creative potential and that most of them have it knocked out of them by the time they reach the fourth grade. It is not that parents and teachers deliberately squelch creativity; it is rather that they fail to recognize it. Often they mistake it for unruliness, eccentricity and even stupidity.

If these findings are any way near right it would be a good idea for someone to start hunting a way to stop the waste of children power. Twenty per cent would be bad but seventy per cent is a disgrace.

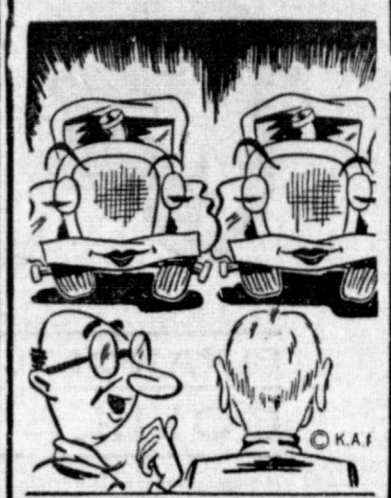

A memorial gift has been given to the library dedicated to the memory of Mrs. Mark Raney.

Cast For Senior Class Play Is Selected

After practically everyone in the Senior Class tried out for the play "Papa Says No" the following won the parts in the play.
Dwight McAnear as Alonzo K. Page, a big-business man of about 55. He is very pompous and dictatorial.

Sharon Williams as Janet Page, his daughter. An attractive girl of 19, who is also just as stubborn as her father.

Steve Richerson as Jack Prescott, her fiance. He is a likeable young man of about 22. He is not one to give up easily.

Judy Pittman as Miss Luella Watts, a meddlesome old maid of about 50. She is a long resident of the Miramar Hotel. She is interested in the business of everyone who arrives.

Molly Floyd as Mrs. Helen Carter, a pretty widow of about 45. She is very cultured and refined, but she has a good sense of humor.

Danny Ray as her son. He is a good looking young man of 22. During his college days he was very good in playing female roles and it helps him in the play.

Jerry Elmore as Bill Sikes, the clerk of the Miramar Hotel. He is 25, and a good-natured young man.

John Cearly as Joe, the bellhop. He is about 19, full of fun in complete keeping with most young men of his age.

Vicky Mollineaux as Toots, the elevator girl. She is cute and saucy-looking.

Carol Spencer as Sallie, a pretty girl of about 20. She is a waitress in the hotel coffee shop.

Sue McCord as Liz, another waitress in the hotel coffee shop. She is cheerful and always is in a good humor.

Shirley Mann as Mrs. Hawkins, an odd woman of about 40. She is quite talkative, sociable, and cooperative — perhaps too much so.

Becky Spivey as Genevieve Hawkins, is Mrs. Hawkins daughter. She is the brat type and lacks any type of grace.

Mike Heath as The Detective, he is about 30. He is brusque and businesslike, in every way what he himself considers the ideal detective.

Jack Graves is an extra in the play.

We would like to thank our friends for their many kindnesses during our recent illness. The cards, flowers and gifts were deeply appreciated, as was the food that came to the home. Notes From City Hall

We would like to call to the attention of residents and merchants that the parking lot is completed north of City Hall and is ready for use. The city, in cooperating with local merchants, spent considerable time and money in preparing the lot and more people should avail themselves of this added convenience.

Ground work has been completed on the new Little League Diamond west of the regular Little League Park and is in first class shape. The city has also improved the playing ground on the older park, putting it in top shape for the busy season ahead.

Two days have been spent in the colored section of town preparing them a practice baseball diamond which will improve the situation in this regard.

The city is taking under consideration of placing much needed stop signs in the neighborhood of the Little League Park. Any suggestions will be gratefully received by the City Commission.

Notice to Water Patrons — At last count there were 57 past due water accounts. The cut-off date for unpaid accounts is the 20th and since the City office will be closed Saturday, all accounts should be paid by the 19th or you will be without service when Monday morning arrives.
