Celebration Festivities Begin Here Tonight

Flip Breedlove And Crew To Start Big Barbecuing Job On July 3rd

Everything is all set for the barbecuing of the beef and cooking of the beans and all serving for the 4th of July in Clarendon. The big free barbecue will be served on the courthouse lawn in Clarendon at 11:30 a.m. on the 4th of July. There will be 5,500 pounds of beef barbecued by County Agent Flip Breedlove and his crews. Four hundred and fifty pounds of beans will be cooked by Jack Clifford who is in charge of this department. The menu for the serving will be barbecue, beans, apple sauce, onions, pickles and bread. The beans were furnished by Gunn Brothers of Amarillo and the bread will be furnished by Carl Pittman with Mead's Bread, Fresh Bread and Cook Book Bread Companies. The beef was furnished by the ranchers, businessmen and individuals.

July 4th Queen Contest Drawing To Close

There are only two more days to vote — today and Friday — for the girl of your choice for queen of the July 4th celebration. Girls are to be at the Hospitality Room in the Farmers State Bank at 2 p.m. Friday afternoon to count votes. Plan to buy your tickets before Friday afternoon so that you may vote for the girl of your choice. Each girl will appreciate any votes she may receive. The queen contest is being sponsored by Jaycee-ettes. Girls entered in the contest are Janice Riley, Jackie Swinney, Adelle Barnhill, Emily Neece, Regina Borden, Sherry Shaw, Pam Hicks, and Emily Neece.

Bells To Ring July 4th

The Jaycees remind everyone that "Freedom Will Be Ringing" in Clarendon at 10:00 a.m. on July 4th. All the bells within the city will ring for a period of five minutes to remind everyone of the true meaning of our July 4th Celebration. The bells will be ringing in many other communities throughout the State and Nation for "Let Freedom Ring" is a National Jaycee Project and will be conducted by Jaycee clubs all over the United States. Remember if you hear bells ringing on the Fourth, it will be those Jaycee Freedom Bells, and you should turn your thoughts to the true meaning of the Independence Day Celebration at hand.

Old Timers To Meet July 4th At 10 a.m.

Old Timers will register at the Mulkey Theatre Saturday morning at 10 o'clock or before with a fine program slated at that time with Rev. Baldwin Stribling as the main speaker for the occasion. Ernest Kent, who is in charge of the Old Timer event, reports that the group will go to the barbecue in a group following the program. He said numerous prizes will be given to the oldest present, traveling the greatest distance, etc. Around 250 registered last year and a much larger number is expected this year, Kent added. We want all of you old timers to come and enjoy the visiting and the fellowship, he concluded.

This Is Your Annual Celebration Edition

Clarendon business firms are extending a warm and hearty welcome to one and all to come to the Rimrock Roundup and Celebration, as evidenced by the large number of ads in this issue of the Leader. Turn through your paper and read all the words of welcome from your local merchants and make plans to be present for every event. As always, it has been a pleasure to print this larger issue of the Leader. We especially want to thank the merchants for turning in their ad copy and those turning in news copy early to make this publication possible. We hope this will be the biggest and best celebration ever held for each and every one of you.

Registered Beef Cattle Ass'n. Directors To Meet Wednesday

County Agent Flip Breedlove, Secretary and Manager of the Rolling Plains Registered Beef Cattle Association, says that the board of directors of the association will meet on the night of the 8th of July at 8:00 p.m. in the Community Room of the Farmers State Bank in Clarendon. Bill Bradley, president of the association stated that plans would be made for the annual bull sale this fall and all phases of the sale will be discussed. Plans will also be made for the annual association barbecue which will be held in August. The date will be set for the barbecue at the association directors' meeting on the above date. The Farmers State Bank of Clarendon will once again be the host for the barbecue for the association. Breedlove stated that letters to all directors will go in the mail right after the 4th of July notifying them of the meeting.

Co. Commissioners Agree To Furnish Right-Of-Way

The Texas Highway Commission has authorized the extension of Ranch to Market Road 2695 and designated two additional R.M. Roads for Donley County. In common terms, the commission okayed the westerly route leading from Hedley to McLean and also approved 3.3 miles north on the easterly route and 2 miles west to join up with the above mentioned westerly route. The Donley County Commissioners Court met Monday and agreed to furnish the right-of-way for the roads mentioned above with three commissioners, Frank Murray, John Swinney and Clarence Reynolds voting for and Jess Finley abstaining.

Match Your Lucky Number For Free Merchandise In C. Of C. Event

This issue of the Leader may contain the lucky number for you to receive free merchandise from one of the 24 merchants listed on the page advertisement in this issue of the Leader. This big event is being sponsored by the local Chamber of Commerce. There is no obligation and you do not have to purchase anything to participate. Check the number printed on the C of C Big Blow-Out page with the numbers listed by any of the merchants participating. If your number matches, you will receive the merchandise free; if your number does not match, be sure to sign up for the big drawing Friday afternoon at 2 p.m. at the Terrapin race as all merchandise will definitely be given away if not already claimed by a matching number. Each merchant not giving his merchandise away by matching number will have his box at the drawing so you will have to sign up with each individual merchant to have a chance at his merchandise and there will be a separate drawing for each individual merchant. If you happen to receive one of the circulars distributed, the number on them will be good also. This is a good will event sponsored by Chamber of Commerce members and they want everyone to participate and have a good time.

Bill Todd, Secretary-Treasurer of the Outdoor Entertainment Association is shown proudly looking over the band stand at the new dance floor at the Rodeo Grounds. Bill has a big job cut out for him getting all the details ready for the big celebration but he has big, broad shoulders and can get the job done if you are called upon to help him out on manning the gates or something else he will certainly appreciate a cooperative answer.

Business Firms To Close July Fourth

A majority of Clarendon business firms will be closed July 4th in accordance with the businessmen's agreement to close four days each year. July 4th is one of the closing dates. Everyone should keep this in mind and do your shopping today and Friday so no one will be inconvenienced.

Farmers State Bank Ups Stock To $150,000

Mr. J. D. Swift, President of The Farmers State Bank of Clarendon announced that at a recent meeting of the Board of Directors of the bank a stock dividend of $50,000.00 was voted, increasing the capital stock of the bank to $150,000.00, subject to approval of the stockholders at a special meeting to be called July 10th.

Jaycees To Use Same Parade Route This Year

The Jaycees will be using the same parade route as last year with the starting point to be the northeast corner of the City Park. If you have a float to be entered in the parade the Jaycees ask that you have it parked on sixth street, either east or west of main street no later than 12:30 p.m. on July 4th. If you will be riding horses the horse trailers may be parked on the lot just west of the City Park and all riding clubs and others on horse back are asked to keep them on main street just east of the City Park until the parade is ready to roll. By doing this the people on horseback can be filtered into the parade as it moves off.

The parade will move off promptly at 1:00 p.m. with the Highway Patrol leading the parade followed by the Color Guard and Amarillo Air Force Band. The parade will move north on main street to the Donley Hotel, turn west at the Donley Hotel and move one block, where it will then turn south on Sully St. It will proceed south on Sully to the Southeast corner of the courthouse where it will again turn west for one block and then turn back south and break up in the vicinity of the First Methodist Church.

The Jaycees ask that everyone who starts out in the parade to please complete the entire parade route. The crowds are very large and by having the parade route as long as it will be, it will give everyone a chance to see the parade very well, and if anyone drops out during the route it causes a large gap as well as not giving everyone an opportunity to see you in the parade. Hubert Kidd, President of the Jaycees, stated that it isn't too late for you to have something in the parade. Get it all shined up and have it at the parade starting point no later than 12:30 p.m. on the 4th. Trophies and prize money will be awarded the winners, so get to work and have any and everything that you want to enter, ready for the big July 4th Parade.

BAND TO REHEARSE FOR JULY 4TH PARADE

Phil Anthony, new band director, has announced that a band rehearsal in preparation for the July 4th parade will be held Friday, July 3rd, from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. at the band hall. All Clarendon band members, 6th through 12th grades, are urged to attend.

Largest Crowd Ever Expected For Free Barbecue And Other Events

Indications now point to the largest and best celebration ever to be held here as plans are completed for the Rimrock Roundup July 2-3-4. The largest pre-registration of contestants for rodeo events has been received with more being added to the list each day. Rodeo stock was moved in the latter part of last week and if appearance means anything, several hundred with the addition of another long section of bleachers on the south side of the arena. A few box seats are left and may be obtained at Palmer Motor Co. and Pete Borden said he had a few parking spaces left. Old settlers will register at the Mulkey Theatre Saturday morning, July 4th, and will be fed in a group at the free barbecue at 11:30. On the afternoon of July 3rd, Hershel Heath is sponsoring a Terrapin Race at 2 p.m. on main street for the youngsters. The Chamber of Commerce drawing for free merchandise will be held at this time also and the Chamber is also sponsoring free circus performances on the lot east of the Post Office all three days of the celebration.

The first rodeo performance is set for tonight, Thursday, July 2nd, at 8 p.m. with performances set for 8 p.m. the nights of Friday, July 3rd, and Saturday, July 4th. An afternoon performance is scheduled for 2 p.m. July 4th. The seating capacity at the rodeo arena has been increased several hundred with the addition of another long section of bleachers on the south side of the arena. A few box seats are left and may be obtained at Palmer Motor Co. and Pete Borden said he had a few parking spaces left. Old settlers will register at the Mulkey Theatre Saturday morning, July 4th, and will be fed in a group at the free barbecue at 11:30. On the afternoon of July 3rd, Hershel Heath is sponsoring a Terrapin Race at 2 p.m. on main street for the youngsters. The Chamber of Commerce drawing for free merchandise will be held at this time also and the Chamber is also sponsoring free circus performances on the lot east of the Post Office all three days of the celebration.

Local Jaycees Receive National Honors

The local Jaycee club received two National Citations at the National Jaycee Convention held June 22nd through 25th at Dallas, Texas. The local club received a first place plaque for their superb community religious and Christmas activities and a third place plaque for their outstanding activities in the fund raising field. Presentation of the citations was made at a special awards luncheon witnessed by a majority of the 10,000 Jaycees attending the Dallas convention. The 5,300 chapters of the quarter million member Junior Chamber of Commerce organization compete annually for awards in the 12 project categories. Mr. Chauncey Hommel, the past president of the local club, and now State Vice President, received the awards for the local club. Jaycees and Jaycee-ettes who attended the Convention were Chauncey Hommel, Ann Kidd, Gene White and Dorris White, and Delbert Robertson. The Convention was reported to be the finest ever held on the National level.

Thos. L. Cook Joins Staff Of Donley County State Bank

W. Carroll Knorpp, President of the Donley County State Bank, announces the employment of Thos. L. Cook as vice-president, effective July 1st. Mr. Cook, a native of Sweetwater, Texas, is a graduate of the University of Texas and this summer graduated from the School of Banking of the South, Louisiana State University, completing a three year course. He has been previously employed as a National Bank Examiner for the U.S. Treasury Department for 7 1/2 years. Tom married the former Dorris Knorpp. They have two daughters, Lisa and Pam, and reside at 710 West 5th Street. The Leader joins other local residents in welcoming this new family to Clarendon and know they will enjoy becoming a part of the community.

Terrapin Race To Be Big Event

Things are looking up for the big Terrapin Race Friday afternoon at 2 p.m. as over 75 youngsters have already signed up and still time for more entrants before the deadline tonight, July 2nd. All youngsters interested in entering their Terrapin in the race should sign up at the AAA Motor Co. today and get their number to paint on the Terrapin. The age groups, prizes, etc., are listed in the AAA Motor Co. advertisement in this issue of the Leader. The races will be held on main street in front of Parker-Perkins.

LIONS TO SERVE PANCAKES JULY 3RD AND 4TH

If you are pancake hungry, you will have an opportunity to fill up July 3rd and 4th as the local Lions Club will be serving pancakes at Lions Club Hall each of these mornings from 6:30 a.m. to 8 a.m. and from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. in the evening. There will be coffee, hot chocolate and iced tea along with bacon to round out the meal. The price for all you want to eat is 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children under 12 years of age.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18th DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

Of Smoking And Health

Once again we are confronted with this question: Should not the Congress, composed of the people's elected representatives, make the decisions when sweeping, substantial Government regulation seems to be called for in the public interest?

This week, the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, of which I am a member, began hearings into the relationship between smoking and health. The hearings were called to determine whether any action by the Congress was needed in the interest of safeguarding public health — and if such action was found to be needed, what approach would be most desirable.

On the third day of the hearing, the Federal Trade Commission announced that it would impose new regulations on cigarette manufacturers. As of January 1, 1965, under the FTC ruling, packages of cigarettes will have to bear a warning label that cigarettes are hazardous to health and may cause death. A similar warning must be contained, under the FTC order, in all cigarette advertising beginning July 1, 1965. If the warning label on cigarette packages seems to be serving the purpose of alerting the public to smoking hazards, the FTC will consider requests to abandon the rule as it applies to advertising.

Thus, while the wheels of legislative process were beginning to turn toward seeking a solution to the problem, the FTC took it upon itself to settle the matter by exercising its rulemaking authority, by administrative fiat. The FTC issued the rules under authority granted to it by the Congress to safeguard consumers by preventing dissemination of false or deceptive advertisements of food, drugs, cosmetics, and therapeutic devices. Not that the FTC ruling came as a complete surprise; in January, after the Surgeon General's Advisory Committee had issued its now-famous report on "Smoking and Health," the FTC erred notice that it would study possible regulations.

I believe that cigarette packages should carry a clear warning of smoking's potential dangers. I had introduced one of the eleven bills being considered by the Commerce Committee in its hearing. My bill would require that cigarette packages carry this plainly labeled warning: "Caution: Cigarette Smoking May Be Hazardous to Your Health." While advocating warning labels, I believe that the decision as to whether this approach is proper and in the public interest should be made by the Congress, not by appointed officials in the Federal Trade Commission. The eleven bills before the Committee proposed seven different approaches to the matter, of which mine was only one. The legislative process — full committee hearings followed by debate on the floor of the House and Senate — is designed to insure adoption of the best possible solutions, in keeping with the desires of the American people as expressed through their elected representatives.

The point is this: Whether or not its decision is a sound one, each time a regulatory agency issues rules having massive impact on American citizens, one further step has been taken to diminish the authority of the people's direct voice in the conduct of government affairs, through their Congress.

Dr. Luther Terry, the Surgeon General, underwent extensive questioning by the Committee. I asked him whether forms of tobacco other than cigarettes also endanger the users' health. Said Dr. Terry, "There may or may not be a health hazard associated with cigars and pipe smoking. I don't think I know enough to say today." Cigarettes have caught the brunt of science's search for tobacco-based health hazards because two-thirds of American men and one-third of American women are regular smokers of cigarettes. Next up for the same kind of study may be pipe and cigar smoking, tobacco chewing, and snuff dipping and sniffing. And if these prove to be or not to be public health menaces, perhaps similar attention should be given to excessive consumption of alcoholic beverages, candy, and coffee. After that, I suppose, the public health people could turn their attention to the No. 1 public health menace in the United States — careless driving.

ELLA SUE CASTLEBERRY PRESENTED IN RECITAL

On last Saturday morning Mrs. Page Harmon presented Ella Sue Castleberry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Castleberry, in a studio piano recital. A number of selections were played.

She was assisted in the program by Dana Gibson, Donna Swinney, Kathy McCreary, Susie Hall, and Terry Saye.

Marble statues of the students' choice were given to each one by Mrs. Harmon.

Refreshments were served to all present.

DELTA KAPPA GAMMA HOLDS CONFERENCE

Mrs. Velma Weaver, Area Director of Alpha State of Delta Kappa Gamma assisted in holding a leadership conference in Lubbock June 27.

Included in the program were a coffee, and address, several topic discussions, a luncheon, and a question and evaluation of the conference.

GOOD NEIGHBORS CLUB MEETING

The Good Neighbors Club met Friday, June 26, in the home of Blanche Gray. One quilt was finished.

We were happy to have Nina Dale as a new member and Johnny Poovey as a visitor.

A covered dish luncheon was served at the noon hour to Florence Harp, Rosa Bingham, Emma Davis, Ruby Jordan, Nova Barker, Carrah Mixon, Lida Warren, Nina Dale, Johnny Poovey, and the hostess, Blanche Gray.

Club dismissed until Sept. 11. We will meet with Florence Harp.—Rep.

YOUNG HOMEMAKERS' SUMMER SCHEDULE

The Clarendon Chapter of Young Homemakers have made plans to assist in organizing a Young Homemaker Chapter in the Lakeview School District. Mrs. Patsy Fortenberry, Clarendon Chapter president, and Mrs. Peggy Maxcey, Chapter secretary, will meet with the group of interested Young Homemakers and explain our program of work, our selection of projects and socials, and the program of work on the Area and State levels. This meeting will be July 6th at 8 p.m. in the Lakeview Cafeteria.

The nominating committee has met and prepared the ballot for the next year. Two names were suggested for each office with provision made for entering nominations from the floor. This meeting will be in the home of Barbara Orsak on the afternoon of July 14th at 4 p.m.

The program committee compiled the suggestions of Chapter members for programs, projects and socials for the 1964-65 Club year. Programs include use of resource people demonstrating and discussing a variety of subjects of general interest to Young Homemakers. These suggestions will be approved at the July 14th meeting also.

The membership chairman invites any homemakers up to the age of 35 who are interested in this type of club work to be present for either the July or August meeting, so that you can enjoy a full year of active membership. Homemakers over 35 may join as associate members. They pay dues, participate in all programs, projects and socials, but they do not vote or hold office.

The scrapbook committee will begin work on the Chapter yearbook immediately after the Young Homemakers' College at Texas Tech July 6-11. The scrapbook will be judged in competition with those of other area chapters when we go to Hereford in September for the Area 1 Young Homemakers and Young Farmers' Convention.

Miss Lynn Bourland, Chapter nominee for "Outstanding F.H.A. Girl of the Year" is compiling a record of activities in home, school, chapter and community, which she will submit at the area meeting also. The State award for this honor is a scholarship to attend any Texas college and the candidate must plan to major in some phase of homemaking.

Mrs. Pat Reed has accepted the Sears Roebuck Foundation scholarship to attend the Young Homemakers' College at Tech July 6-10. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Velma Bourland, Young Homemaker Advisor.—Rep.

JAYCEE-ETTES ATTEND NATIONAL CONVENTION

Three Jaycee-ettes accompanied their husbands to the National Jaycee-Jaycee-ette Convention held last week in Dallas. Attending were Ann Hommel, Nancy Kidd, and Doris White. A good time was reported by all and we hope to have more attend in the future.

Last week guests in the home of Mrs. S. D. Churchman and Mona were a niece and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sargent, and two daughters, Misses Ruth and Agnes Sargent, and his niece, Mrs. Aline McCulough from Cowan, Tenn. (central Tenn.); Mrs. Churchman's two nieces, Mrs. Gladys Blake of Fort Worth, and Mrs. Gulliams from Anchorage, Alaska; Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Rappy and granddaughter from Lakeview; Laura Sue Moss of Memphis; Mr. and Mrs. Zack Salmon, Mrs. Leon Fowler and two daughters, Nancy and Judy Fowler of Lakeview; Mrs. Donna Tip-ton and daughter, Pam; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Churchman.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Beard and family of Houston are visiting her father, Vadie Carpenter, this week.

Clarendon Jr. College A Part Of Expanding National Program

Post-high-school education can take many forms. Parents usually hope that their children will be able to go on to a four-year college, but, for a variety of reasons, this often is not possible. Now, the phenomenal growth of the two-year or junior college is providing an excellent way for hundreds of thousands of students to receive advanced training that might otherwise elude them. Almost one million students are enrolled in more than 700 junior colleges — and these numbers, both students and schools, are rapidly increasing each year.

The two-year college is filling two main educational needs: It offers a wide variety of job-training programs for those desiring pre-professional or vocational careers; and it provides two years of college-level work for students who then can transfer to four-year schools as fully-accredited juniors. Junior colleges are also playing an increasing role in adult education. Many adults who are trying to upgrade themselves in their jobs or who simply want further education for personal enrichment have found junior colleges well-equipped to help them.

As such a two-year college, Clarendon Junior College has obvious appeals for both students and their families. The college is within easy commuting distance for many students. Thus room and board charges are eliminated. Entrance fees are much less expensive than those of four-year colleges in the area. The instruction offered is comparable to that in the first two years of most four-year colleges or universities. High school graduates and their parents should carefully examine goals and abilities before considering specific forms of higher education. Educators say that junior colleges are the solutions for those students

*Who cannot afford college away from home
*Who are not yet ready to leave home, although prepared for college

*Who have college-level ability, but must make up entrance requirements

*Who want to prepare for a vocational or pre-professional career

*Who want no more than two years of general education
In view of the tremendous demands being made upon colleges today, Clarendon Junior College is attempting to do everything possible to meet those needs.

Leader local rate, $3.50 a year

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Estlack Sunday were Mrs. Faye Scoggins and Mrs. Mattie Tyree of Phoenix, Arizona, Mr. and Mrs. David Patterson and Marcy of Hereford, and Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Whitlock of Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Weatherly and Ann have returned home after visiting Ted Weatherly and family at Santa Ana, Calif. Enroute they visited tourist attractions in New Mexico, Arizona, and Old Mexico.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Clampitt the past week end were Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Martin of Amarillo, and Harold Clampitt of Dallas. Harold has just returned from a trip to Washington, D.C., New York City and the World's Fair, and St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Frances Brogdon of Amarillo underwent major surgery in Northwest Texas Hospital Friday. Her mother, Mrs. J. H. Helton remained with her until Sunday afternoon and reports her improving satisfactorily.

This is the Safari Train which will be here July 2-5 through the sponsorship of the local Chamber of Commerce. Free Circus acts will be presented at 10:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. each day on the lot east of the Post Office. There will be kiddie rides and each of these will cost only 15 cents if you stop by and pick up tickets from any firm that is a member of the Chamber of Commerce. This way each youngster can ride all six rides for less than $1. The Chamber of Commerce is happy to be able to make this added attraction available at this time.

FARM NEWS

from County ASCS Committee

Wheat-Feed Grain Substitution

Farms with wheat allotments, feed grain bases and/or established oat-rye bases will be eligible for crop substitution during the 1965 crop year. The substitution provisions may be used by producers who meet at least the minimum diversion for both wheat and feed grains.

When wheat is substituted for grain the total amount of wheat produced on a farm will be eligible for loan even though it is in excess of the wheat allotment because the excess wheat will not ever, the excess wheat will not be eligible for domestic and export marketing certificates.

When feed grains are grown in the place of wheat, the entire feed grain production will be eligible for price-support loan. If, as in the past, price support payments are authorized, they will be limited to the normal production of feed grain less the acreage diverted.

Oat-Rye Bases

If a producer requests it, an oat-rye base will be established on the basis of the farm's 1959-60 average of oat-rye acreage for harvest. Wheat may be substituted for such crops. However, corn, grain sorghum, or barley, may not be planted as a substitute for the oat-rye base. If an oat-rye base is established, the minimum diversion for such base will have to be met.

Remember, this oat-rye base will have to be requested and will be based on the 1959-60 average acreage of these crops. If you have had oats and/or rye for harvest and wish to have a base set up for your farm, be sure to notify this office as soon as possible.

Penalty Rate For Cotton

The penalty rate for 1964 excess cotton has been set at 20.4c per pound. This will apply to any cotton harvested in excess of the 1964 farm's effective allotment.

ACP News

We will soon be making ACP payments to producers who have carried out approved conservation practices. Some producers have specified their payments be made to the vendor or contractor who performed the work, some producers have made assignments on their payments; some producers will earn a little more payment than they had anticipated due to the fact that when a producer carried out a practice and earns less than $200.00 there is a small cost increase made on a set scale. This means the producers who have assigned their payments or had them made to the contractors may also yet receive a small cost increase. Make your plans to carry out any needed conservation practices now — the land is everyone's future.

A Thought For The Day

"Life is ten percent what you make it and ninety percent how you take it."

AUSTIN — U.S. Supreme Court's decision ordering both houses of state legislatures be selected on strict population basis will have a far-reaching effect on the Texas Legislature particularly the Senate.

In the upper house, no county presently is entitled, by the Texas Constitution, to more than one senator. Lt. Gov. Preston Smith noted that under the new ruling five of the heaviest populated counties would be entitled to 12 of the 31 state senate seats, leaving 19 senators for the other 249 counties. This would create some senatorial districts 300 miles wide. Senate districts now vary from 147,454 to 1,200,000 population.

"The high court's laudable aim of equal representation for all citizens cannot be maintained in such circumstances," the lieutenant governor said. "Equality will be theoretical only. No senator could serve such a great area as adequately as three or four senators (or even one) can serve a single county."

Lt. Gov. Smith promised to ask other lieutenant governors to petition Congress for a review and "practical relief." A similar resolution may be brought before presiding officers of House of Representatives by Texas House Speaker Byron Tunnell. However, it is doubtful how Congress could intervene except by submitting a constitutional amendment spelling out authority for states to have real bicameral (two-house) legislatures if they want to.

A Texas legislative committee already is at work determining how best to comply with a prior Supreme Court decision ordering congressional districts be formed on the basis of population only. Its work may be expanded to include a look at legislative districts as well.

OIL PRODUCTION ROLLED BACK — July oil production will be cut back to the lowest level since March, 1963, by order of Texas Railroad Commission.

In response to purchasing forecasts by 13 major companies, the Commission set July maximum production at 27 percent potential, or 2,788,685 barrels daily, compared with the present 2,845,571 barrels.

Presidents of five Texas producers associations declared the decision, "regrettable," and said it would hamper attempts to get the U.S. Congress to effect a "very substantial reduction" in oil imports.

Commissioners also scheduled a July 16 hearing on the 1947 yardstick for fixing oil field allowances.

HIGHWAYS — Texas highways are now valued at $4,500,000, Chairman Herbert C. Petry, Jr., of the Highway Commission announced.

Petry said every effort must be made to maintain a balanced system of highways, from the farm-to-market roads to the interstate highways, to serve all sorts of traffic.

TAX REVISION RECOMMENDED — Texas Research League proposes the state's unemployment compensation tax on employers be more closely related to benefits paid former employees.

Benefit payments to unemployed have exceeded revenue for five of the last six years, a League study for Texas Employment Commission shows. However, the Texas Trust Fund, from which payments are made, cannot go broke, because a surtax is imposed on all taxpayers any time the fund drops below $225,000,000 on October 1.

League recommends extending "experience rating" of employers to lessen the threat of having a flat rate surtax applied.

SECURITIES SALES HIT PEAK — Issuance of permits for sale of securities in Texas reached a high peak for 1964 during May, with $1,062,966 authorized to 58 corporations by the State Securities Board. This was the highest monthly total since November, 1962, when $42,510,619 worth of permits were granted.

TOURIST RECORD SET — Large Texas cities attracted a majority of the record-breaking number of tourists who visited the state in 1963, Texas Highway Department reported.

Out-of-state visitors totaled 11,700,000, some 26 percent over the previous year. They spent $532,200,000 to show a 12.8 percent increase over 1962.

Dallas was the stated destination of some 15.8 percent, while 14.1 percent were heading for Houston-Pasadena; El Paso drew 9.8 percent and San Antonio 9.6 percent.

Highway Department recently released this information in a colorful 16-page brochure available to the public. The booklet described results of the annual survey on the Texas Tourist Industry, and the cover depicts scenes from the states outstanding recreational areas.

SCHOOL RULING — School boards have the right to make rules about students' clothing, State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar ruled in an appeal against an Andrews school board policy.

Mrs. Kenneth King of Andrews made the appeal which led to the ruling. Mrs. King contended that her third grade daughter, Vickie, should wear trousers to school to protect her health.

In upholding the school board, however, Edgar advised that the policy be clarified, and that clear provisions be adopted so the clothing regulation could be suspended for a student whose doctor prescribed trousers for medical reasons.

COMMISSION STUDIES PLAN TO BEEF-UP INDUSTRY — Texas Industrial Commission and the Agriculture Economics Department of Texas Tech have made a contract to study the feasibility of increasing the meat packing industry in Texas, with the hopes a solution can be found to alleviate beef import problems faced by Texas producers.

Findings will be available in the fall of 1965.

HARDIN COUNTY MAY HAVE KEY — Texas Water Commission, releasing a report on untapped ground-water resources in Hardin County, said use of that water may be a key to future industrial expansion, as it has been in the heavily-industrialized Houston area.

"Geology and Ground-Water Resources of Hardin County," a free publication, says the potential there for further development is "tremendous."

CIVIL SERVICE SCHOOLS — Austin Postmaster Oliver Bruck advised the public against paying fees to civil service schools. It costs nothing to compete in civil service examinations, he said.

There is no school operated in connection with civil service by the Federal government, and no school is given advance information which is not available to the public without cost, Bruck stressed.

SHORT SNORTS

Gov. John Connally appointed Dr. Buford M. Sanders of Tyler and Dr. Joseph R. Ordile of Fort Worth to six year terms on the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners.

Texas is working on a plan to increase park acreage seven times in 35 years, according to W. M. Gosdin, assistant parks director.

Texas Water Commission reported water conservation storage in Texas reservoirs was 63 percent of capacity at the end of May and only Abilene and Wichita Falls had normal rainfall during the month.

Nursing Home construction in Texas is increasing, State Department of Health reported. A total of 186 homes went under construction in 1963. By June 1 this year, 94 more were under way. Department spokesmen said the needs for plush nursing home facilities have been saturated, and urged people considering construction of a nursing home to contact health authorities for guidance.

Texas Constitution Party representatives held a closed door meeting with the executive see-etary to Alabama Gov. George Wallace, giving rise to some speculation the party may support Wallace for presidential nomination.

U.S. Bureau of Reclamation's regional director reportedly will recommend a pipeline to San Antonio from a proposed reservoir at Cuero.

-DEMOCRAT: "Know about artificial respiration and how to apply it. The mouth-to-mouth method is explained in the First Aid Manual of the American Medical Association. It is not very difficult. Start immediately, the victim can survive without oxygen to the brain for only a few minutes. Put the victim on his back, pull the chin well up, make certain the windpipe is clear. Put your mouth over the victim's mouth, pinch shut his nose and blow hard. Repeat 12 to 15 times per minute; keep it up until medical help arrives."

LIBRARY NOTES:

EDITH BARNES

Eugene Gilbert, President of Gilbert Youth Research, says in one of his surveys that girls read more than boys, teenagers that is. In our library that is true in all age categories. But as the boys get older they read less and less, that is out of the library. Of the books most read by both, "Seven Days in May," "Catcher in the Rye," "Gone with the HOLEY CHUTE—A paratrooper of VII Corps' Long Range Reconnaissance Patrol Company test jumps the Army's new steerable parachute at Stuttgart, Germany. The large oblong hole in the chute is designed to permit better descent control.

Wind," and "To Kill a Mockingbird," are in the library. "Seven Days in May" is the latest and has not been read much by adults and none at all by the teenagers. Maybe now that the movie has shown here there will be more who will want to read it.

As most of you know there was no Pulitzer Prize awarded for fiction this year. This doesn't happen often but the judges thought there had been no novel worthy of the Prize. Be that as it may many readers seem to disagree with them in their selections anyway. In fact for the last several years our library readers have only been enthusiastic about one of their choices and that is "To Kill a Mockingbird" and although this book was the winner for three or four years back it is still widely read.

Each of us has to be his own judge. The only critic who has reviewed Leon Uris' "Armageddon" gives it a quiet a panning. The next one may praise it to the sky. It will probably not be as widely read and discussed as his "Exodus" but it is a thought provoking book.

Any reader of history knows that we set the stage for the power and country grabbings by the communists when we gave them just about everything they demanded in the famous meetings during and after the war between the four world powers.

Quoting: "Armageddon" is the story of the origin of the cold war in strife-torn postwar Germany. It tells of the incredible struggle for Berlin from its capture by the Russians in 1945, through the years of Four Power

Occupation, to the airlift — one of the most heroic episodes in American history."

On one side is Sean O'Sullivan, a young American who has lost two brothers in the war, on the other side is the Russian, Igor Karlovy, to name two.

"They play out their bitter-sweet love affairs as the Russians and Americans clash in an Armageddon for the minds of the Berliners, the German nation, and the world."

SOCIAL SECURITY CARDS FOR WORKING STUDENTS

Students who plan to work this summer should get social security cards now, according to Hal Geldon, social security district manager in Amarillo. All employers require that you have a social security card before they will put you on their payroll, Geldon said. Employers must have these numbers for their quarterly social security returns.

Any student who has never had an account number card or who has lost his card should write the social security office at 1006 Adams Street, Amarillo, Texas. The Social Security Administration makes no charge for a new card or a replacement for a lost card. Students living away from Amarillo can get an application form at their post office.

SO. BOSTON, VA., GAZETTE-VIRGINIAN: "... it takes a bad shake from Mother Nature, like last year's drought, and it takes Mother Nature's smile, like last week's rains, to make us feel how utterly dependent we are on things we cannot control as men. Call it the jet streams, the airflow, a quirk of Nature, or call it God, but the fact is that many of us are not masters of our fate and are keenly aware of our dependence on Somebody Up There Who Likes Us."

Funeral services were held at Spicer Funeral Home Chapel in Memphis Thursday morning with the Rev. W. E. Lynn, pastor of Hedley Methodist Church, and the Rev. Robert Estes, pastor of Hedley Baptist Church, officiating.

Services were held Friday, June 26, in Purdum, Nebraska, with interment in the family plot in the Purdum Cemetery, the Rev. Harold Schable, pastor, officiating. Pallbearers were Robert Cox, Gene Moody, R. K. Cox, Morris Simonton, George Cox, and Donn Simonton.

The Rev. Cox preceded in death by his wife and two daughters. Surviving are one son, Dr. Dwight H. Cox of Hedley; four grandchildren, and five great-grandchildren.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD TUESDAY FOR FORMER RESIDENT

Funeral services were held at the First Presbyterian Church, Memphis, Texas, Tuesday morning for James Hervey Morris, with the Rev. Charles Peters, pastor of the Hamlet Church of the Nazarene, officiating. Burial was in Citizens Cemetery, Clarendon, Texas.

James Hervey Morris owned and operated the J. H. Morris Cotton Company at Memphis. He came to Clarendon in 1920 and in August of 1922 was married to Miss Cassandra Sims. The family moved to Memphis in 1937.

Survivors include his wife of the home; a daughter, Mrs. Temple H. Deaver, Jr., of Memphis; a son, James H. Morris, Jr., of Amarillo; four grandchildren; and six sisters.

Knorpp And Seago Win Golf Tourney

W. Carroll Knorpp and Roddy Seago came through as the first place winners in the partners' hip golf tourney last Sunday afternoon. Second place winners were George Thompson and Dr. J. Gordon Stewart and Bill Allen and E. A. Tipton placed third. Bill Hulet and Walt Knorpp received bonuses for birdies on No. 4 which is the new grass green.

Thanks to Larry and Dennis Stewart for shaping up the course, John Wayne Stepps mowing and Robert Mills raking of the greens, the course was in excellent shape for the tourney. Dr. Stewart has already started making plans for a Pot of Gold tourney to be announced in the near future.

MURL V. LYNN DIES IN AMARILLO HOSPITAL

Murl V. Lynn, a former Clarendon resident, died Saturday morning in Amarillo Veterans Hospital having been a patient there since October.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon in Murphy Memorial Chapel, Clarendon, with the Rev. Charles Peters, pastor of the Hamlet Church of the Nazarene, officiating. Burial was in Citizens Cemetery.

Mr. Lynn was a barber by trade and a veteran of World War II.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. J. W. Walker of Amarillo; four brothers, Walter of Lindsay, Calif., Berl and Al of Amarillo, and Haskell of Grand Prairie.

Lt. Donald Pitts has returned to his base at Roswell after visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Pitts.

The treadle-driven spinning wheel was invented at the beginning of the 16th century.

Lions Install Officers Tuesday Noon

New officers to serve the local Lions Club were installed at the regular Tuesday luncheon with Lion Carl Allmond performing the official act. Officers installed were:

President, L. L. Wallace; 1st vice-pres., George Thompson; 2nd vice-pres., Billy Goodman; 3rd vice-pres., Dr. Richard Gilkey; sec., John R. Gillham; treas., Joe Bownds; tail twister, Jack Clifford; greeter, Gayle Neal; new directors, Bill Weatherly and Sid Stewart; holdover directors, Gene Alderson and Homer Bones. The retiring president is Rev. W. R. Lawrence.

Mrs. C. C. Alexander and children of San Angelo came Saturday to spend a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Rampe.

ANTELOPE AERIAL COUNT UNDERWAY

A low-flying light airplane skims the ridges and zooms low over the plains day after day now as the annual antelope aerial counts are underway in the Trans-Pecos.

The census, all preliminary to setting regulations for fall harvest, will be completed by July 1. The counts provide information on herd conditions, distribution and reproductive success in addition to the number of bucks available.

Once tallies are complete, antelope hunting permits will be distributed among landowners on whose property antelope herds occur. Landowners may then issue hunting permits to sportsmen at their own discretion.

The ships rudder for steering large vessels was perfected in the 13th century, paving the way for long vessels.

Young Cowboy Talent Given Chance To Start

Professional rodeo long has been confronted with the problem of giving young cowboy talent the chance to get started.

As living costs soared in the past decade so have initiation fees in the Rodeo Cowboys Association, which governs professional contestants such as does the P.G.A. in golf. The original $25 fee jumped to $50.

A youngster, with perhaps high school and college rodeo experience, faced with this cost, was loathe to tangle with the top hands. So the Association devised a permit system, whereby for $10, he could compete in pro ranks until he'd won $1,000 all told, in competition.

In 1960, 3,709 such permits were issued by the R.C.A. The contesting cowboys who made up the board of directors, and voted in this rule, could easily have their ears pinned back by the very apprentices they encouraged.

The classic permit story still is Jimmy Clary of Purcell, Oklahoma, who entered the one-head bull riding at Phoenix, Arizona, in 1958. When the dust settled — so to speak — and the judges turned in their books — Jim Clary had won the rich event and $1,325.

In the eight-second ride, young Clary went from fledgling permit holder to a man faced with a decision: he chose joining professional ranks by buying his $50 membership card, and has been a threat ever since.

The permit holder not only has the chance to get started but when he wins his thousand dollars, he's in a fair position to decide on his career — unless things come as fast and furious as they did for Jim Clary.

Larry Kane, the 115-pound bronch riding sensation who was rodeo's "Rookie of the Year" in 1960, went from permit holder to the National Finals in one year's span. He earned $6,337 in the first four months of his pro career, which will be, perhaps a long standing record for the youngsters to shoot at.

Clowns Play Important Role At Rodeos

Of all rodeo competition bull riding is the only event in which animals deliberately attack their riders.

The rodeo clown, although his baggy clothing and painted face are mirth-provoking, has a deadly serious purpose in the arena.

When a cowboy comes down from a flailing fifteen hundred pounds of bucking bull the clown must divert the animal's attention from his prey.

To do so, the clown relies on his stored-up knowledge of bovine behavior, and the cleated shoes he wears to prevent slipping.

Often his judgment errs in split-second timing, and broken bones or loss of an eye may be his reward. The bull makes no distinction in targets.

Danger for the cowboy begins in the chutes where the bull may crush a leg or use its horns to club the rider on his back. Once in the arena the rider must depend upon the clown for safety.

Any moment in the required eight-second journey that often seems to stretch an eternity, the clown is poised to rush in as a protector.

The weight of churning hooves present an even greater danger than the bull's heavy horns, to a fallen rider, so the clown must draw the animal away in as straight a line as possible.

Once the cowboy has reached a vantage point of safety, the clown may underplay his own perilous role, with spaced rushes to sanctuary on arena chutes or fence, as the bull rages against his foiled plan of destruction.

But under the masking grease paint that caricatures his face, the rodeo clown is well aware of his constant partnership in danger.

TEXAS GIRDS FOR MODERN PARK CHAIN

AUSTIN — Texas, lagging for years in the "inner space" program, is embracing a public recreational policy designed to multiply present park acreage seven times within the next 35 years, W. M. Gosdin, assistant director for parks in the Parks and Wildlife Department, told national conservation writers in convention here.

"A new era is needed, and has been initiated since a willingness to proceed has been expressed by the governing bodies of the State," he said in addressing the American Association for Conservation Information.

He described the State Legislative approval of the Texas Tech study prompting recommendations that the present 62,000 state park acreage be expanded to 435,000 acres by the year 2000 and added: "The plan is completed. It is a bold plan. The price is reasonable and will properly guide future developments."

Gosdin cited Texas' qualifying

"ingredients for an outstanding parks system" saying: "Texas can truly boast a scenic highway system equal to any and superior to most."

Then he added: "They (the parks) should be water-oriented if possible, for 60 percent of the recreation in the United States is water-oriented. One American out of 24 owns a boat, but one out of 13 Texans own boats and in dry West Texas the ration is even higher."

"What does Texas have to offer? Texas has an environment that includes the sub-tropics of the South, the Rio Grande and gateway to Mexico; arid deserts in the West, rugged canyons and mountains, spreading plains, pine forests in the east; scenic hill country, the Gulf Coast with 370 miles of coast line, cypress swamps, rivers and streams and man-made reservoirs.

"This environment is responsible for the variety of animals and plants that contribute to the recreational picture. There are more varieties of wild flowers in Texas than any other state and the plants and animals attract people to the State to enjoy them. Bird watchers spend long vacations particularly in the winter months in our state parks participating in this form of recreation.

"Texas has a climate that gives a long recreation season and is a winter resort area. In the southern tip of the State, we have a 365-day growing season..."

"If we are to survive and win the race for inner space, we must have a plan to guide acquisitions and developments and we must be flexible enough to adjust to the change in public demands and sound conservation principles found through systematic research."

There are about 30 different cuts of pork available. Fresh pork cuts include loins — from which chops and roasts are cut — shoulders, spareribs, sausage meat and fresh hams, to mention a few. Cured cuts include hams, bacon and smoked picnic shoulder. Hams, chops and bacon are the most popular cuts.

During the past drouth one fellow was heard to remark; "If I had been a real sorry farmer I could have saved two plowings and one harvest."

In Miami, Florida, recently a thief broke into a clothing store and made off with twelve dresses, five suits of clothes, and one old pair of three button shoes that had been kept over from the days gone by. The shoes were his undoing when everything else was turned into cash immediately, and the shoes left on hand led officers to his capture.

"The mind is the measure of a man. What he does may not be what he is, so much as what he thinks. A ditch digger may be the builder of a temple."

We are told that the custom of shaking hands when we meet came from the desire to both know and convince the other fellow that there are no concealed weapons in our hand or his.

When we hear about these vote-seeking politicians talking about cleaning out all the pockets of poverty over the country we just can't help wondering if it may cause an outbreak of clean pockets.

The following rules are said to have been some of the governing thoughts in the life of Thomas Jefferson:

Never put off 'til tomorrow what you can do today.

Never trouble another for what you can do for yourself.

Never spend your money before you have earned it.

Never buy what you do not want because it is cheap.

Pride costs more than hunger, thirst or cold.

We seldom repent of having eaten too little.

Nothing is troublesome that we do willingly.
How much pain evils have cost us that have never happened.
Take things always by the smooth handle.
When angry count ten before you speak. If very angry count a hundred.

"Tell me how to get on in life," said the kettle.

"Take pains," said the window.

"Never be led," said the pencil.

"Do a driving business," said the hammer.

"Aspire to great things," said the nutmeg grater.

"Make light of everything," said the fire.

"Make much of small things," said the microscope.

"Never do anything offhand," said the glove.

"Reflect," said the mirror.

"Do the work you are sooted for," said the chimney.

"Be sharp," said the knife.

"Make a good impression," said the sealing wax.

"Find a good thing and stick to it," said the glue.

"And that is why the kettle sings as she works and works as she sings."

Friendly Rivalry Among Cowboys

Rodeo began as friendly rivalry among cowboys on the open ranges of the west a century ago. The lonely, and often dangerous life offered a little outside entertainment, so the cowboys found it in routine pursuits of their livelihood.

A horse they couldn't master became a further test of skill for other cowboys encountered on roundup or at railroad shipping points.

Often a summer's wages were won or lost on the outcome between man and animal so intense was interest in the competitive contests.

One such inter-camp contest was held at Deer Trail, Colo., in the fall of 1869 among the Hashknife, Mill Iron and Campstool cowboys, with one, Emelie Gardenshire, emerging victor and being awarded the mythical title of "champion bronco buster of the plains."

In 1883, Pecos, Texas, held a

Fourth of July celebration, roping longhorn steers down the main street. Five years later Prescott, Arizona, charged admission to a "cowboy contest."

The succeeding years have brought rodeo to a sport of national dimension. Beginning with the American Junior Rodeo Association, for youngsters, it stretched on to the National High School Rodeo Association, thence to the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association, ending with the professional Rodeo Cowboys' Association.

Attendance at these rodeos runs into the millions. In 1959 and 1960, the Rodeo Cowboys' Association alone held over 500 contests annually with prize money each season topping $3,000,000 reaching from Edmonton, Alberta, in Canada, to Kissimmee, on the southern tip of Florida.

As rodeo grew in stature so did the roster of events, yet saddle bronc riding remains the classic contest. Also included in the present professional category are bareback bronc riding, bull riding, steer wrestling and calf roping.

Many sectors of the country, notably in the far southwest, add team steer roping to their arena agenda. The tandem roping event consists of a cowboy roping the steer's head while his partner catches the animal's hind feet, against the stop-watch.

Junior and scholastic rodeos number additional events for their boy and girl contestants.

Prize money winnings have soared as well since early day contests. In 1907 the saddle bronc riding winner received $75 and a trophy saddle, the runner-up, $25, at Cheyenne Frontier Days, one of the first major rodeos.

In 1960 the Cheyenne event winner pocketed $1,984; the year's world champion saddle bronc rider, $20,832.

In March, 1853, Congress ordered an exploration at public expense to find the best route for a railroad to the Pacific Ocean.

Denver, Colorado,
Headquarters For
Rodeo Association

On the third floor of a brownstone office building, in the heart of Denver's financial district there is a door that says simply, RODEO.

Beyond that portal, there lies a whole wing of offices, a busy fifteen-person staff, the latest in office equipment, and five flashing phone lines.

Behind this look of normal, efficient operation, lies perhaps the strangest organization on the current business scene.

This is the headquarters of the Rodeo Cowboys Association nerve center of a sprawling professional sport that each season means countless millions of dollars in commerce, charity, admissions and prize money.

What makes the organization so strange is that the Association and the sport it administers, promotes and protects, is governed by a nine-man Board of Directors, active rodeo cowboys. Each represents a contest event and is elected by his fellow rodeo hands who enter that contest.

Thus, somewhat reluctantly, a steer wrestler finds himself grouped with other board members at the conference table in some ornate hostelry, grappling with the relative dangers or benefits of network television exposure, or discussing premium-risk rations of rodeo contestants' accident insurance with underwriters' actuaries.

As the name implies, the R. C. A. began as a contestant organization. In the unlikely locale of Boston, Massachusetts, in 1936, a group of cowboys refused to compete for what they felt was unfair prize money distribution. The rodeo management negotiated and thus the Association came into being, its thirty-six charter members pledged to betterment of the sport.

In the years that followed, however, rodeo committees, peopled mainly by civic groups donating time and services to the local contest, discovered the Association's aims, and their, coalesced. They came to lean on the R. C. A. to administer the sport on a national level.

The world the Association directs encompasses more than five-hundred community-sponsored rodeos, a cowboy contestant roster running into thousands and over three million dollars in annual prize money.

The complete financial picture of rodeos, scattered through thirty-six states and four Canadian provinces, cannot be tabulated. But the tri-million dollar prize money total is a small portion in the overall scene.

Bank clearings in Colorado Springs during that city's annual rodeo week in 1959, showed a dollar volume of $9 million. This topped Christmas week in the same season, $8.6 million, and Easter week, as well, with $8.2 million dollars.

In the past decade, the R.C.A. expanded within itself. In 1952, its own newspaper, RODEO SPORTS NEWS, began publication. A former world champion saddle bronc rider edits rodeo news for the more than 10,000 paid subscribers.

In 1955 a service bureau for rodeos and news media was created, the Rodeo Information Commission, and when the first National Finals Rodeo reached the drawing boards in 1958, the Association set up a Commission to handle the "world series" affairs.

And latest, but not least of the Association-backed agencies is the Rodeo Foundation, a high level advisory board to aid in directing the sport's vast and complex ramifications.

So, from its original concept to demand a fair shake for the cowboy, the Association and its intermeshed agencies blend the interests of all rodeo segments—committeemen, stock contractors and contestants—into a single goal—what's best for Rodeo.

RANDOM LAKE, WISC., TIMES: "They found 40 microphones in the U.S. Embassy in Moscow. We knew that our statesmen talked a lot but we didn't know that they needed that extensive an electronic network to pick up all the loose talk. Wonder if they caught any sweet talk between the secretaries and their bosses? Probably not. No American abroad would do anything naughty, would they?"

HARDWARE & APPLIANCES

Calf Roping Highly Skilled Cowboy Event

The most highly tuned man-and-mount combination in professional rodeo, perhaps in any competitive sport, is the calf roper and his horse.

So close are the outcome of many calf roping contests that less than a second will separate first and fourth places.

A winning team, broken up because of the horse's unsoundness, often will drop completely from the event's standings, and because the perfect combination of timing between the pair seems rare, a roper and his mount on a "hot" streak appear unbeatable.

A concrete example is world champion Dean Oliver of Boise, Idaho, who, on a sorrel gelding called Mickey, which he bought late in 1959 from a fellow contestant, set a new rodeo record of winnings in 1960 of $28,841.

The pair served early warning they were after the 1961 crown too, by jumping into the money lead again.

True, Oliver, who can be considered the greatest calf roper on the current scene, had won the title twice before, in 1955 and 1958, but his efforts never have been matched so fully, as by the chunky, little Mickey. Their harmony at work appears effortless.

Countless hours have gone into a calf horse's training. From the time the roper nods for his calf until his hands snap away from the tie signifying "time," the horse is making a series of moves, each one of equal importance.

Starting with his manners in the "box" the enclosure behind which horse and rider wait until the calf has reached a given scoreline, he must be alert, yet quiet.

Almost completely on his own, when signalled he must position his rider quickly for the throw at the ducking, twisting calf, then slam to a stop and keep the rope taut when the roper leaves his back.

Here, many a roping is won or lost, for the horse must keep the right amount of constant pressure on the rope — too much and the calf will struggle — too little, and the animal may do the same, costing the roper precious seconds.

Value of a consistent calf horse cannot be tabulated. The roper knows he may spend far more than the sale price to find a suitable replacement.

Saddle Bronc Riding Most Popular Event

A hundred years ago the cowboy matched his riding skill, and often his life, against outlaw horses and cow comps and on roundups from Montana to Mexico — rodeo brings this struggle to the modern day arena as keystone of its competitive event roster.

The saddle bronc rider in professional rodeo today, unlike his predecessor, must abide by a stringent set of rules, with the odds stacked in the animal's favor, but the basic combat between the pair remains full strength.

No longer does the outlaw bronc fight snubbing post and blindfold to be saddled. Instead, he waits in boarded chutes, his efforts conserved for the upcoming action.

Nor must he buck until will and breath are gone, as in the past. His span in the arena now lasts only a predetermined eight or ten seconds before the whistle sounds and pick-up men swoop in to halt the ride. It has been proved an animal's action slows with further time allowance.

The saddle snugged against his withers, double-rigged, is built to specifications, policed by the Rodeo Cowboys Association. Only one rein, a braided length of manila, is allowed for the rider's purchase, attached to the wide leather halter on the horse's head.

When the chute gate opens, the modern cowboy must have his spurs against his mount, over the shoulder points, until the first jump is completed. This is designed as further disadvantage for the rider. If he leaves his feet braced forward a moment too long, the next jump will pry him out of the saddle like a slingshot.

All within the next second the cowboy must find his timing with the horse's jolting leaps, coordinating rein and spurs, to make the smooth, polished ride which brings high marking from the judges.
