Clarendon College Graduation Set For Friday Night, May 28, 8 P.M.

The spring convocation of Clarendon College graduates will be held on May 28th at 8:00 P.M. in the college gym. There are nineteen candidates for the Associate of Arts degree out of a class of fifty-nine sophomores. The percentage of sophomores graduating from the college is above the state average, since the majority of students, for various reasons, do not seek a junior college degree. Many who are enrolled are working on a non-graduate basis; others are interested in earning only a certain number of hours to be transferred to a senior institution; others do not wish to meet all the requirements for graduation from junior college.

The Associate of Arts degree conferred by Junior Colleges has been recognized and accepted at a national level. The importance of earning such a degree is indicated by the fact that almost all job application forms make inquiry concerning it.

Graduation from Clarendon College entails the completion of basic required courses for a four-year degree, including twelve hours of English, six hours of laboratory science, six hours of American History, six hours of Government, one hour of Library Science, two hours of Physical Education for students under 21 years of age, and additional courses to total sixty-two hours. A student must also average one grade point per semester hour and must complete a minimum of eighteen semester hours of sophomore work at Clarendon College.

The nineteen students who have met these requirements include James Boliver and S. A. Younger of Hedley, Lynn Barker of Groom, Sandra Bruce of Alanreed, Herman Childress of Wellington, Dean Johnson of Quail, James Neighbors, Douglas Peters, and Wayne Sweat of Memphis, Rodney Clark of Lakeview, Jeanine Hermesmeier, Larry Hight, Wayne McAnear, Eureda Mays, Larry Neece, Norma Putman, Steve Richerson, Marilyn Ridenour, and Ann Weatherly, all of Clarendon.

Memorial Day To Be Observed Sunday

According to Basil Smith, president of the Chamber of Commerce, local merchants may observe Memorial Day as they choose on an individual basis, but the resolution passed last Fall by directors of the Chamber was that special holidays be observed on the exact calendar date that they fall. Memorial Day is Sunday, May 30th, which is one of the six listed closing dates for Clarendon merchants.

Some merchants have stated that they plan to close Monday but a general town-wide closing date for Monday has not been announced.

W. C. Johnson Services Held At Hedley

Funeral services for W. C. (Bill) Johnson were held Wednesday afternoon at the First Methodist Church in Hedley with the Rev. Tom T. Posey, pastor of the First Christian Church of Memphis, officiating. Burial was in Citizens Cemetery, Clarendon.

Mr. Johnson died Sunday afternoon at his home in Hedley. He was born in Cooper, Texas and moved to Donley County in 1906. He had lived in Hedley for over thirty years and operated a service station and cafe. He was a member of the First Christian Church of Memphis.

Surviving are his wife; a son, Craig of Canyon; brothers Barney of Hedley and Nelson of Iowa Park; sisters, Mrs. Herman Blackman of Amarillo and Mrs. Kay Autry of Aransas Pass; also two grandchildren.

Giles Picnic Slated May 29 This Year

That wonderful annual celebration known as THE GILES PICNIC held each year on the banks of Old Buck Creek is scheduled this year for May 29. For the first time in our ten years observance, May 30 comes on Sunday. Therefore the steering committee, meeting in the home of Virginia Browder Tuesday of last week, decided to stage the picnic on Saturday instead of Sunday. Don't forget this change and tell your friends and relatives.

With a few exceptions, the plans for an all-day celebration are as usual. Colonel Bob Ayers will keep the ball rolling as master of ceremonies. Flip Breedlove, Pete Land & Co. will barbecue the beef even if they have to stand in the rain in their slickers to do it. Walter Johnson will see to it that spasms of fiddle music come and go all day long. The Hall County Singers will be there for 'the hymn singing' and, we hope, there will be square dancing on the concrete dance slab Saturday night.

Since his defeat last year as Mayor of Giles by Blackie Johnson, Lowell Houston has acquired a new title 'THE COUNTRY SQUIRE'. Since his defeat too by a younger man, Lowell thinks we should have a younger sheriff. Therefore, there is another campaign raging in these parts. Dave Browder has come out against Walter Johnson for Sheriff of Giles. Bob Ayers is Walter's campaign manager and Lowell Houston is promoting Dave's cause. At present, Dave is "constable". Sheriff Johnson and Deputy Gerald Knight will endeavor to maintain law and order on both sides of the creek during the celebration. However, they will not interfere in any way with the fun and foolishness, fellowship and feasting for which the Giles Picnic has become famous.

If you have been to the Giles Picnic before, you're sure to come this year. If you have not been to the festivities under the cottonwoods, come to our tenth celebration and find out what you've been missing. Put your tubs out before you come as it always rains but the picnic grounds are sandy. So, we don our slickers and let it rain—y'all come and join in the fun.

Action Postponed On Farm Retraining Program

At a meeting of approximately 17 interested farmers and individuals Monday night in the school cafeteria in regard to the Farm Retraining Program, it was decided to postpone further action until more detailed information would be forthcoming from the program now in progress at South Plains Jr. College at Levelland, and the first class of the program completed there.

H. M. Breedlove, chairman of the investigating committee, made a report and a general discussion was held on all phases of the program which included: whether it was desirable to have the farm group using school facilities and being associated with the students; whether it would cause local farm wage rates to be raised or not; and whether it would assist the local labor market.

It was reported that the general opinion was that it would not be good to have the grown men using the same facilities as our students. Concern was expressed about trainees being made a part of our community from the undesirability standpoint. It was the expression of some that the program would not help local farm labor needs during or after the program.

K. D. Vaughan announced that all present standing committees connected with the program would remain as is until a definite decision is made.

Funds Needed For Little League Program

Residents of the area are being reminded of the Little League's house to house campaign to raise funds to finance the program for the summer. Boys of the Little League in full uniform will conduct their drive beginning Wednesday evening, June 2nd.

K. D. Vaughan, who is in charge of the campaign this year, urges the public to make contributions to only those boys who are in uniform. If you are not contacted, donations may be mailed to him. More young people than ever before are taking part in Little League this summer and for this reason more money is needed to finance the program. All donations will be used to help take care of the expenses for equipment of all kinds.

Any contribution will be appreciated. Make your donation a generous one. Your Little League schedule is being printed in this issue of the Leader. Clip it and have it on hand for future reference.

Tom Higley, local photographer, had his troubles last Saturday when he attempted to get this Red Duroc sow to pose with all 17 pigs showing in the picture. He said the sow hovered over most of the pigs like a setting hen. The sow, owned by B. W. Smith, brought 19 pigs but she smashed two, leaving the 17. According to Jerry Hawkins, local Ag teacher, this is an unusually large litter as the average is 10 to 12. Smith's home is in the Negro section of town.

AGRICULTURAL MESS IN NORTH VIETNAM

America's agricultural problems, are problems in the main, of plenty—of a magnificent ability possessed by our farmers to produce food and fiber beyond the needs of our own people and beyond the requirements of our export markets. In much of the rest of the world, the "farm problem" is a problem of finding the means to produce and distribute a minimum level of food to stave off the mass starvation of the population. In Communist countries, the problem is compounded by multiple inefficiencies imposed on agriculture by a totalitarian political system.

North Vietnam's drive for conquest in the south is spurred by its failure in stimulating agricultural development. For ten years, the Red rulers of North Vietnam have failed repeatedly in attempts to force production worth anything.... Only this week we were discussing this matter with the cashier of a nearby hospital. She mentioned at least two policies which had been processed lately that except for being a bit high premium wise, done a real good job helping old folks out....But the sad part was that in the last few weeks six policies were presented to this hospital which proved worthless. So, we keep saying to our older friends, be careful, be careful...

CALL FOR INFORMATION

above levels existing before World War II. Now, rice, meat, animal fat, and sugar are rationed in North Vietnam and supplies available fluctuate markedly. The caloric intake of the average North Vietnamese is well under 2,000 calories a day. Eighty per cent of the country's labor force are engaged in scratching this bare living from the land, but farmers must depend on other sources for a large part of their income. As in most other Communist countries, agriculture is the lagging sector of the economy; in North Vietnam, the value of agricultural production increased only 3 percent from 1959 to 1963.

Latest information available indicates the North Vietnamese peasants, those who must carry the nation's economic burden, are not sympathetic to the regime, and the harsh methods of the police state are used to maintain discipline. This fact is testimony to the failure of the initial step taken to socialize North Vietnamese agriculture: land reform. By 1956, the Communists had virtually eliminated landlords as a class and had redistributed the land. The landlords who were not liquidated, particularly those who had assisted the regime in its long war against the French, were allowed to retain a portion of their land equal in size to the smallest area given the poorest peasant. As practiced by the Communists, the socialization of agriculture involves transferring the agricultural economy from a system of private ownership and individual enterprise to one of public ownership. This, by Communist lights, permits the operation of agricultural enterprises to be controlled and directed as are other nationalized industries. The formation of collective farms followed redistribution of land to the peasants. All of the peasant's belongings, except his personal effects and his house became the property of the collective, either as part or full payment of the entrance fee. Compensation from the collective came only in return for a member's labor. A small plot of land was provided for the peasants use and part of the collective's land was set aside for raising livestock. But collectivized farming has flopped in North Vietnam; the peasants have proven uncooperative, the farm administrators incompetent. Private enterprise persists despite all attempts to smash it. Official statistics of the North Vietnamese regime show that four years ago more than half of the income of households on collective farms came from supplementary activities—from using private land plots to produce food or to raise pigs, chickens, and ducks for consumption or sale making and selling handicrafts outside the organization, planting and cultivating trees, and raising fish in small ponds.

Even in long-subjugated, impoverished, and poorly educated peoples, the will for freedom dies hard. Collectivization of agriculture has failed, and the failures seem destined to mount as the North Vietnamese economy continues under the strain of increasing population and an increasing urban, industrial labor force which consumes but does not produce food. The tyranny of the regime in North Vietnam is aimed not only at neighboring South Vietnam but also at its own tormented citizenry. This is the pattern of Communist regimes everywhere, and nowhere is the tragedy of Communist rule and ruin better illustrated than in agriculture.

Thank God for the blessing He has bestowed upon America and our people.

Due to the large number of Seniors only a few were able to take part in this interview, but I imagine that everyone feels the same as these few seniors.

The questions asked were: What have you liked most about your high school career and what will you miss most after you have graduated?

Charlene Gray: I liked the good times, the teachers and my classmates. Most of all, I liked the good times, the parties, the banquets, and the basketball and football games. I think that most of all I shall miss my friends and getting to play basketball. I might miss my teachers.

Marilyn Noble: I like the friendly feeling that goes around in a high school. The thing I will miss the most is not seeing all of my friends, classmates and teachers.

Betty Dever: I liked the opportunity of learning and the friendships with the other students the most. I will miss the kids and the teachers the most.

Arn Allen: The things I liked most about my high school days were the Friday night football games. They were what I lived for in the fall, and missed in the Faculty Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Moore entertained members of the college faculty and their guests with a covered dish dinner at their home Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Reed co-hosted the affair.

Progressive forty-two was played following the dinner, with the winter and spring. I think I will miss most of all seeing the kids I have been around for the past four years. When we graduate we get away from most of our old schoolmates, and I don't think I'll like it!

Dolfia Vallance: I think what I liked most about my high school days was just being able to be with everyone and taking part in all the activities. I'll miss all my friends and the great kids I have gone to school with these past four years.

Melissa McCully: I liked being in the band and knowing and being with the kids at C.H.S. I think I will miss the excitement of going with the band to ball-games and other events, most of all.

Note From Editor

This past year has been quite a productive year. A lot of activities have happened, assemblies and organization meetings. I am glad to have served the Clarendon High School by reporting all the news that was turned in to me. It is my sincere hope that next year's Broncho Column Editor will have better cooperation from her reporters. Due to the last edition of this column, I wish to express (on behalf of the Senior class) our appreciation to the teachers who have worked so hard trying to teach us. Our principal Mr. Ledger for guiding us. Without everyone's help we wouldn't be at the threshold of tomorrow. To the Juniors best of luck in the coming year. Broncho Column Editor, Ella Beth Just contest for high and low prizes being obviously rigged. These prizes were confiscated from the true winners and presented as small mementos to Mrs. Oscar Thomas and Mr. Billy White, who have resigned their teaching positions and will no longer be associated with the college faculty.

Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Vaughan, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Day, Mr. and Mrs. Billy White, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Naylor, Mrs. Joan Hamilton, Mr. Clyde Noonkester, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Williams, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ellerbrook, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Neece, Rev. and Mrs. W. R. Lawrence, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Reed and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Moore.

Students and faculty members enjoyed a special treat last Tuesday when Dr. Douglas Van Zandt showed a thirty minute film which was taken underwater under his supervision off the coast of Spain. The film consisted of a series of underwater shots showing a group of skindivers at work, giving fascinating insight into the fine art of diving.

Dr. Van Zandt, a retired Lt. Commander of the U. S. Navy, is an authority on the subject, having had much experience as a diver while he was in the Navy. He is currently associated with Dr. Charles Deyhle at the Veterinary Clinic, and plans to do some diving in the Caribbean area this summer.

There is a shortage of news this week, since it is Dead Week and everyone is studying like mad, trying to cram a year's learning into three day's studying. The Day of Reckoning is here—time for finals. Good luck, everybody! brary's boy-teen-agers. His section has books for every taste from satellites, space age and science fiction to early cowboys and Indians.

Even if Arthur Haley hadn't created, not one or two but, a whole host of unforgettable characters in his book "Hotel" it would be interesting reading because of the back ground material he brings to his readers about the behind the scenes doing in a big metropolitan hotel as well as descriptions of places, customs etc. in and of New Orleans. It is evident that author Haley did a lot of research.

Quoting "Arthur Haley is an exceptionally talented storyteller with an international reputation. His novel of American hospital life, 'The Final Diagnosis,' appeared in fifteen languages; another novel, 'In High Places' in five. His plays have been performed throughout the world on television. Several of his stories have become successful motion pictures."

"During the writing of 'Hotel,' he immersed himself for months in the background of hotels, principally in New Orleans, which he describes as 'one of the most fascinating cities I know.'"

Quoting from a review: "The human condition applies to the staff and servitors of a hotel as well as to the men and women who walk through its portals and close its doors behind them."

"In 'Hotel' Arthur Haley tells the inside story of the sale of a 'great hotel' suffering a blight despite its old and honorable reputation."

"... Haley manages his large characters with skill. Their intertwined motives are handled admirably. The duke and duchess of Crocydon, with their Bedlington terriers (against hotel rules, and their guilty secrets are sharply drawn as the corrupt bell captain, the greedy chief of detective and the man who sorts the garbage for incineration."

"... The guests (and quite a few of the hotel staff) move on in the course of the story, but the St. Gregory has a life of its own that seems inexhaustible, impervious to the forces of change that threaten the hotel's existence."

DIVERSION TERRACES
 Diversion terraces are used to divert excess water from cropland from gullies in pastureland, and to break up the concentration of water on long gentle slopes. A diversion may be used to divert water into or away from earthen dams. Also, this type of structure may be used to divert water into a system of water spreading terraces on very flat cultivated land.

Often the diversion terrace is used to divert more water to a stock tank. It may serve the purpose of healing gullies on rangeland as well as furnishing additional water into the livestock pond.

One other type of diversion is the level-closed end diversion. This type diversion holds the water on the land until water is absorbed and evaporated. This closed type is used on small drainage where there is no satisfactory outlet for the runoff water. This level closed end diversion has proven to be the most expensive to construct.

Two government cost share programs are available to help pay cost of installing diversion terraces. One is the GREAT PLAINS CONSERVATION PROGRAM and the other is the ACP Program.

IN-SEASON CONTROL OF OVERWINTERED WEEVIL

Only a few overwintered weevils per acre can develop into a large population if allowed to go unchecked during the summer. The control of overwintered weevils before egg laying starts can result in significant savings. Where weevils are found an insecticide should be applied just before first squares are one-third grown to prevent egg laying.

In many fields, overwintered weevil control can be accomplished on a spot treatment basis. Overwintered weevils are usually confined to small areas of the field after emergence. Spot treatment of the infested areas early in the season will slow down, and in some instances, prevent the spread of weevils throughout the field. The beneficial insect population within the field will be less affected when treating is confined to only the spots where weevils exist.

Cotton should be checked carefully during the pre-square and early-square stage for overwintered weevils. Pay special at-

DESALINIZATION PROPOSED — The U. S. Corps of Engineers recommends that the federal government spend $46,000,000 to eliminate natural sources of salt pollution on the headwaters of the Wichita River. Uncle Sam would pay the full cost and the $216,300 a year needed to operate and maintain it.

Proposed are three low-flow dams, one on each fork of the Wichita, to capture water with attention to areas of the field near shinnery, shelter belts or other likely boll weevil overwintering sites. From past experiences you should know those areas of the field where weevils usually appear first.

If weevils can be controlled before they start laying eggs, the potential weevil build-up can be greatly reduced.

high concentration of chloride. Water would be pumped to brine reservoirs for evaporation. Project would reduce chloride concentration in Lake Kemp near Wichita Falls to a safe level and would help alleviate salt pollution at Lake Texoma on Red River.

COLLEGE BOARD BILL VETOED — Governor Connally vetoed a bill that would transfer East Texas State University and West Texas State University from the Board of Regents for Texas State Teachers Colleges to a separate board of regents for each.

Governor noted that he repeatedly had emphasized his opposition to creating more boards of regents. He also said language of the bill might "inadvertently exempt" the two institutions from coordination by the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System.

RECORD BUDGET — Both houses passed the $3,700,000,000 conference committee appropriations bill, which calls for expenditures of $154,000,000 over the current level.

Education got the biggest share of increases in the biennial budget. These increases included $80,500,000 for the 22 state colleges and universities; $10,400,000 for public junior colleges; $89,700,000 for public schools; and $11,600,000 for vocational and technical education.

creased 3.4 per cent each year and welfare spending will go up $16,000,000. Judges from the district court to the Supreme Court levels will get substantial raises in their annual salaries.

Soil Conservation Board was given an $89,155 increase for its operations, including $28,000 more for watershed planning. An additional $5,800,000 was set aside for the Water Development Board which is being reorganized. Department of Agriculture will get a $1,400,000 increase. Animal Health Commission gets $1,800,000 less than the current spending level since the federal government is taking over the responsibility for screwworm control.

COUNTY STUDY PROPOSED —Rep. Alonzo Jamison of Denton has introduced legislation which would authorize a thorough study of county government, with a special eye to eliminating county offices which may have outlived their usefulness.

Jamison told the House State Affairs Committee, which took his bill under study, that he thinks offices such as county treasurer, justice of the peace and constable should be studied as to their necessity and effectiveness. Study also would seek ways of freeing county officials from what Jamison believes are overly restrictive statutes.

NO MORE ROAD GANGS — Rep. Vernon Beckham of Denison got easy approval in the House of a bill to repeal a series of 1876 laws, including one which still requires all men 21 to 45 to spend five days a year on a road gang.

Laws are not enforced, but are still on the books, and Beckham thought it a good idea to eliminate them.

REDISTRICTING WOES —As if legislators did not have enough problems with teacher pay raises, the even thornier problem of redistricting is up-r them.

Senate is in-fighting over proposed plans for Senate redistricting, which necessarily will remove some of the present members.

On the other hand, the Senators are not likely to agree with the House version of congressional redistricting.

Governor Connally, meanwhile, hinted he may call a special session if there is no agreement on redistricting, leaving the matter up to the federal courts.

AG OPINIONS — Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr holds that:

A county depository-bank cannot be selected which has among its directors or stockholders the county judge, county attorney, county clerk or county treasurer;

Law officers may use force in handling mentally ill persons to protect themselves, the persons and public;

Attoyac Bayou Watershed Authority has legal authority to develop a multi-purpose reservoir, including recreational use, and may use tax funds to finance and maintain it;

Highway Commission can sell surplus land and improvements directly to the City of Lamesa for established value without advertising and taking sealed bids;

U-Haul trailers are taxable in individual counties which are their business sites;

Hillsboro Junior College District can levy 30 cents tax for maintenance and 50 cents tax for servicing bonds.

SINGLE HOUSE PROPOSED —House Constitutional Amendments Committee approved for floor debate a proposed amendment to create a 100-member unicameral (one house) legislature for Texas.

Proponents said measure strikes at inherent evils of the conference committee where so much major legislation is written behind closed doors and hastily voted on in closing hours of a session.

AMENDMENTS PROPOSED—A house-passed resolution to repeal the poll tax, as a requirement for voting, received approval of the Senate Constitutional Amendments Committee. An election is proposed in November of 1966.

A variety of perennial cotton native in Africa grows in tree form to a height of 12 to 20 feet.

Awards Day At Clarendon College

Awards Day was observed at Clarendon last week. Recognition was given to several outstanding students who are considered outstanding in their fields.

James Boliver of Hedley was the recipient of the Clarendon Junior Chamber of Commerce award to the outstanding sophomore student at Clarendon College. It consists of a permanent plaque to be maintained at the college, naming each year's winner, in addition to an inscribed symbol to be given to the winner. Three names from a list of nominations submitted by the entire faculty were selected by a committee composed of three faculty members and a representative of the Jaycees. Leadership, citizenship, moral character, academie achievement, and personality are considered in the selection of the recipient of this award. The decision of the committee was not easy to make, for we have a number of sophomore students who could qualify. James is to be congratulated in the attainment of this coveted award.

The Library award went to Larry Hight of Clarendon, who was selected by the Library Faculty Committee. This award is designed to recognize a student who has been outstanding in the field of library research, and consists of a leather-bound copy of the book LEAVES OF GOLD.

Butch Brown of Groom was selected as the outstanding Ag student of the year by Mr. Delbert Reed, head of the Agriculture Department. This award is based on scholastic accomplishment, class participation, and qualities of leadership. Butch will receive

NEWS FROM CITY HALL
by R. L. Gilkey, Mayor

The city council has two meetings a month, the first and third Tuesday evenings.

In our last meeting the annual audit was requested. Mr. Frank Kiker of Amarillo was approved to audit the books. Mr. Kiker has audited the books for the city for many years. The council also voted to notify local oil companies and request sealed bids for gasoline purchases for city vehicles. A report concerning the Zoning Committee revealed excellent progress in the formation of a zoning ordinance for the city. A public hearing on this ordinance is tentatively scheduled for Thursday, June 10th, so mark your calendar.

Other minor matters were brought before the council: the necessity of appointing an assistant fire marshal; an ordinance requiring the licensing of dance halls (defeated); the need to mow grass on city property (to be started next week); the need to spray properly and adequately for mosquitos in the city this summer; the repainting of the fire house.

Of more serious concern was the recent sewage stoppage on Highway 287. After four days of hard work the line was opened. The frequent sewage blockage of lines is apparently due to improper, or absence of, traps and actual lines left uncapped when new sewage lines were tapped into the mains. The aldermen requested an investigation be made of the problem with the possibility of a plumbing ordinance being drafted to solve the problem. So, if you know of an open, abandoned sewage outlet near your house, please cap it. It can save your tax dollar.

Shellfish were the staple diet of Indians on the West coast of South America.

FARM NEWS
from County ASCS Committee

PROOF OF PRODUCTION
Please keep in mind that June 1st is the last day to bring in your proof of production for the 1963-64 cotton, feed grain, and wheat.

Some of you may not have evidence of production for these years due to bad weather or other factors which have affected your crop by causing low yields or underplanting. If so, let us urge you to come in and give us a statement of your estimated production had conditions been normal.

FINAL DAY FOR GRAZING AND HAYING
The May 31st deadline for grazing and/or haying has not been extended. All applications now on file will expire on this date; therefore all cattle must be taken off the soil bank and/or diverted acreages no later than May 31st.

FORAGE SORGHUMS
We are now taking applications for seeding cane and other forage sorghums or summer legumes for protective cover to prevent erosion. These sorghums or legumes may be seeded on diverted acres or on other land.

The seed may be drilled or broadcast or planted in normal rows. To be eligible for cost share assistance, the forage sorghums or legumes must be seeded before August 1, 1965.

If you're interested, be sure to make your application and obtain the county committee approval before work is begun.

OFFICE CLOSED
The ASCS Office will be closed on Monday, May 31, in observance of Memorial Day.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wallace of Pampa took Mrs. Eva Humphrey to the home of Mrs. N. L. Jones Saturday afternoon where they all enjoyed cake and ice cream.

BOLL WEEVIL CONTROL—ROLLING PLAINS OF TEXAS
The following practices are recommended for Rolling Plains counties where the boll weevil is an established pest. By following an integrated program of cultural and chemical control, the producer will realize more effective and economical boll weevil control.

These practices should be carried out on a community or county-wide basis for best results.

A delayed, uniform cotton planting period will aid in boll weevil control by reducing the size of the weevil population. The normal planting season in many Rolling Plains counties often extends from mid-April to early June. This extended planting season is in part responsible for the development of heavy weevil infestations.

Early plantings attract early emerging weevils by providing food and egg laying sites, while late plantings offer adequate food near the end of the season.

If farmers in weevil infested areas would establish a delayed uniform planting date, many early emerging weevils would die from lack of food.

A planting season of May 20-30 has been set for the High Plains boll weevil control zone. Depending upon local conditions, a later date may be desired for some Rolling Plains counties.
