Living Christmas Card Contributions To Be Made Now

The Jaycees Living Christmas Card will begin with this issue of the Donley County Leader. The Living Christmas Card is a means by which the Jaycees, with the assistance of the Ministerial Alliance, collect funds to purchase food or other items for needy families at Christmas time. This is handled in the following manner: Just estimate the amount you would ordinarily spend for the purchase and mailing of Christmas Cards and instead of purchasing and mailing Christmas Cards, contribute the amount you would ordinarily spend, to the Jaycee Living Christmas Card Fund. Your name will appear for four weeks during the month of December, prior to Christmas, in the Living Christmas card column of the Donley County Leader. You will need to get your contribution mailed by November 28th, to Jaycees - P. O. Box 726, Clarendon, in order to be listed in the first issue of December. Please list your name as you would like for it to appear on the Living Christmas Card, and note on your checks, Living Christmas Card Fund. Contributions may also be made by giving to any member of the Jaycees.

Bob Bell is serving as chairman of the Living Christmas Card Project this year and should you desire any further information you can call him at 874-3506 during the day or 874-2348 at night. The money will be turned over to the Ministerial Alliance and will be used by them to purchase groceries for needy families at Christmas.

Mayor Lohoefer Reports on City Water And Sewer Contracts

Three contracts in connection with water and sewer improvements for the City of Clarendon have been awarded by City Aldermen in the amount of around $30,000 according to Mayor C. J. Lohoefer.

The first contract for a 6 inch water line from the site of the proposed new Baptist Church to the water tower in the amount of $4,596 has been completed. A second contract, awarded to Rhode Const. Co. of Silverton in the amount of $4,702, water and sewer line west of the water tower along the FM road to the new addition adjoining the golf course was started Saturday.

A third contract has been let to Plains Utilities Co. of Lubbock for $21,126 for a new sewer main north of Chamberlain Motor Co. to near Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Co. and north to sewer disposal plant north of town. This will be a 10, 8 and 6 inch line combined. Mayor Lohoefer stated that money had been borrowed from the Farmers State Bank at 4 percent interest to complete the jobs.

For the benefit of those who have been inquiring about street grading, the Mayor reported that the city maintainer had been in the repair shop for several months with total repairs and labor amounting to $5,550 to date and still no maintainer but it is hoped it will be ready before long to ease the road situation caused by recent rains. With the maintainer out of commission, a grader was leased from H. T. Warner to open a new street near the golf course at a cost of approximately $600 for the new street and some work on South Bugbee Street.

Mayor Lohoefer also reported that Aldermen, in a recessed session Nov. 5, had contracted with R. A. Underwood & Co. of Dallas to study financing of proposed improvement program which includes City paving in the amount of $80,000 and a proposed new City Hall. Rittenberry & Rittenberry Architects of Amarillo have been retained to draw up plans at no cost or fee unless proposed project develops.

He also reported that the City had purchased two new traffic lights for each side of the school buildings at a cost of approximately $600 including installation.

JAYCEES' TOY CENTER TO BE LOCATED AT IOOF BUILDING

The Jaycees have announced that their Toy Center will be located at the Odd Fellow Building at the South End of Main Street this year.

The Odd Fellow and Rebekah Lodges have offered the use of their building to the Jaycees for the Toy Center this year and the Jaycee & Jaycee-ettes will be decorating the display windows soon so the Toys That Have Been Repaired can be put on display until they are distributed by the Ministerial Alliance to the needy tots of our community.

Jaycee President, Hubert Kidd, and Toys For Tots Chairman, Lloyd Leeper stated that they are in need of Toys now so that they may be repaired in time for distribution. If you wish to contribute some repairable toys to this worthwhile project, just call 874-2327 or leave the toys at Hommel's Mobil Station. The Jaycees will be working at the Toy Center several nights between now and Christmas and they invite the public to come by and see what is being done to see that the Needy Tots of our community have a Bright and Happy Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Pinkerton and family were week end visitors in Clarendon.

Cold, wet, wintry weather engulfed the entire Panhandle and middle states area Sunday following a hot, balmy, windy day Saturday which gave the frontal system an added sting. Heavy downpours of rain struck the local area Sunday morning and continued intermittently throughout the day and night. Slow, misty rain has been the weather menu since that time with near freezing conditions. The official water measurement for Sunday was 1.35 inches but other rain gauges in the west part of town showed over three inches. Sleet and hail accompanied the downpour. Quail hunters hit it rough Saturday with the hot, windy day which made the birds hard to find and then again Sunday when the hunters had to take shelter from the heavy deluge of rain. The official total for the entire spell thru Wednesday morning here in town was 1.65 inches which gives us a total of 3.07 for the month and a total of 17.72 for the year. The total thru November last year was 16.09 and the total for November was 1.08. Willard Knox at Lelia Lake reported 1.66 for the current spell; C. C. Rich at the Country Club reported 1.65 and W. G. Johnson at Hedley reported 2.25. Hubert Rhoades report on the Sunday moisture was .70 at Ashtola but he could not be reached for the grand total. Wheat farmers are thoroughly enjoying the additional moisture but farmers in general need a killing frost, and lots of sunshine real bad along with a good drying wind as much of the grain and cotton are still in the fields.

Interested students and faculty members may bring their paper-back books to Mr. Nutter who will compile a list of books for exchange. The shelf will be operated on the honor system. Now our literary tastes are a little more advanced and we will trade paper-backs. So bring in the books you've already read, and pick up some that you haven't

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18th DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

PROPER REPRESENTATION

It is the burning issue of our time—the issue of whether State governments are to possess the right to take into account the particular economic, social, and political composition of their States in determining the proper apportionment of seats in State legislatures.

The 88th Congress adjourned without reaching a solution to the problem posed by the Supreme Court's so-called "reapportionment" decisions which require that both houses of State legislatures be structured solely on population factors — along the lines of the "one man, one vote" theory. The 89th Congress, to convene in January, will face the issue squarely and early in its first session.

Further reflecting the shift of the Nation's population to metropolitan centers, the U. S. House of Representatives and Senate will be composed of more members from large cities than ever before in history. However, every effort will continue to be made to impress upon House and Senate members that the recent Supreme Court decisions pose a threat not only to the sound functioning of State representative government but also to the needs and desires of people residing in the less-populated areas of our 50 states. It seems that the effect of the Supreme Court rulings will be to concentrate massive and dominant legislative power in the hands of representatives from high-density population areas; it is also certain that many Americans view such power concentrations with deep foreboding.

Would residents of rural and semi-rural areas be well and properly represented in legislatures whose solid majorities are comprised of members unfamiliar with, or who care little about, any but the problems of municipalities? Would the urban-oriented legislatures be susceptible to the corrupting influence of boss rule? Would there follow a consolidation of many State legislatures into unicameral—one house—bodies if both their houses are to be structured along lines taking only population into account as a factor in representation?

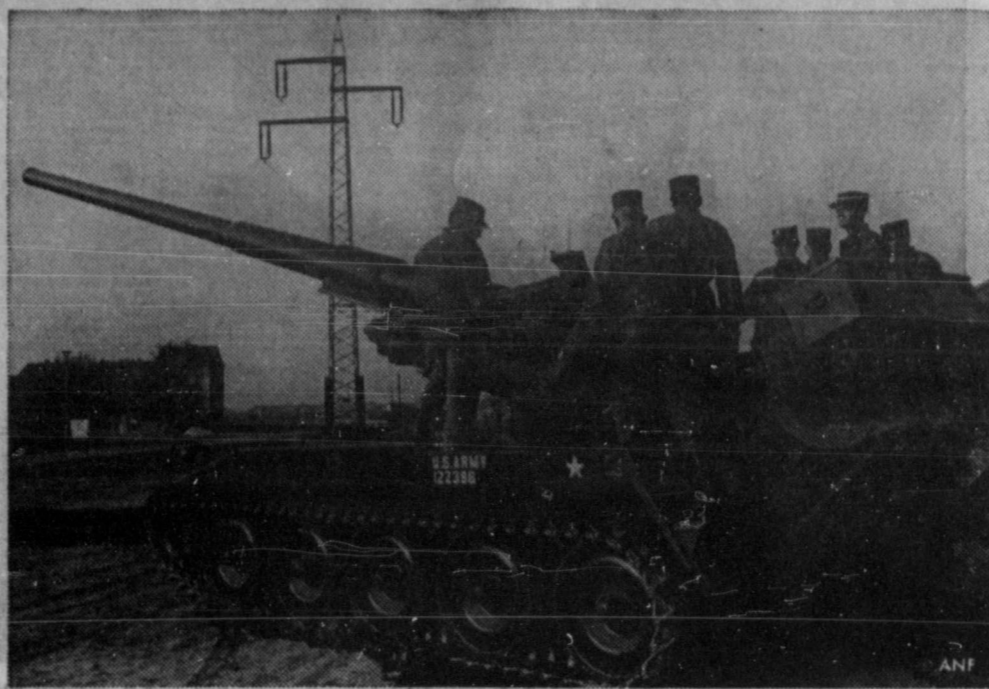

Justice Harlan's dissenting opinion in the reapportionment cases decided by the Supreme Court provides a reasoned summation against the "one man, one vote" dictum. Justice Harlan observed at one point in his dissent, "In one or another of today's opinions, the Court declares it unconstitutional for a State to give effective consideration to any of the following in establishing legislative districts: (1) history (2) economic or other sorts of group interests (3) area (4) geographical considerations (5) a desire to insure effective representation for sparsely settled areas (6) availability of access of citizens to their representatives (7) theories of bicameralism (except those approved by the Court) (8) occupation (9) an attempt to balance urban and rural power (10) the preference of a majority of the voters in the State."

Is not each of these factors vital? I believe they all are, as I believe that people are not ciphers and that they can be represented well only if their variety of interests is taken into account.

Thomas Jefferson believed, as I do, that the Congress of the United States should have the power to overturn unwise decisions of the Supreme Court just as the Congress is able to override a veto by the President. I have proposed in past sessions of the Congress—and I shall continue to propose—an amendment to the Constitution to permit Congress to set aside Supreme Court decisions which two-thirds majorities in each house of Congress believe to be at odds with the U. S. Constitution. The strength of the United States rests upon the base of properly representative government, with the people—through their duly elected representatives—making the vital decisions as to the direction to be followed by our Ship of State.

HEADS UP—Thirty-five feet of a 175mm gun tube points skyward as the crew of an M-107 self-propelled gun conducts drill prior to field firing in Germany. The weapon is part of the Army's new generation of heavy artillery; it is both air transportable and capable of ground speeds up to 34 miles per hour. For stabilization when firing its immense rounds, the M-107 employs a large hydraulic brace shaped like a bulldozer blade which is thrust into the ground behind the vehicle. FMC Corporation is prime contractor for the M-107.

REMEMBER WHEN?

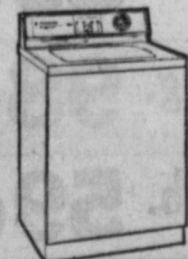

Netleton Industrial Museum

"If you're under 40 you won't remember your grandmother straining her back over this old fashioned washing apparatus. It's hard to believe that a washing machine like this actually existed and yet this 1905 model was the first one put on the market. In only 59 years, washing machines have improved to the point of complete automation. All the modern young housewife of 1964 does is put the clothes and detergent in her automatic, press a button, set a dial, and forget it. Isn't modernization remarkable?"

You too can gain the pleasure and satisfaction of push button washing. See your local appliance dealer right away."

Pathfinder Club Observes Guest Day

Pathfinder Club observed Guest Day Friday afternoon when members and their guests gathered at Patching Club House. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Dick Shelton, Mrs. Karl Adams, Mrs. John Bass, and Mrs. W. H. Cooke III.

A fall decor was featured throughout the entertaining rooms using a cornucopia on the speaker's table and arrangements of chrysanthemums in other parts of the rooms.

Mrs. T. M. Caldwell, Jr. welcomed the guests and introduced Mrs. Glen White who reviewed "Runaway to Heaven" by Johnna Johnson. This is the story of Harriet Beecher Stowe and the era in which she lived. Her life spanned all but a few years of the nineteenth century. Mrs. Stowe is the sister of the famous minister, Henry Ward Beecher, and author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." It has been said by some that this book, written by a woman from the north, was largely responsible for stirring up the flames and hatred that led to the Civil War. Lincoln called Mrs. Stowe "the little woman that started the big war." Mrs. White very ably portrayed the life of this historic personage and the turbulent times in which she lived.

About fifty-five members and guests were present. —Rep.

Mrs. Naylor gave a history of our American way of government from the early day settlers to the present time. Adding to the interest of her program were several personal collections including a collection of Presidential spoons bearing the likeness and an important event during the administration of each president, also a folder of letters written by each of our presidents while in office, and a Presidential plate. Concluding she read the Gettysburg address written by Abraham Lincoln.

Mrs. Bill Williams, president, presided over the business session and in the absence of the secretary, Mrs. W. C. Thornberry fulfilled these duties.

Attending were Mesdames C. E. Bairfield, E. S. Ballew, Homer Bones, Frank White, Jr., Jack Clifford, Fred Clifford, Billie Christal, J. R. Brandon, Doyce Graham, Fred Chamberlain, Loyd Johnson, Otis Naylor, Bill Williams, W. C. Thornberry, L. N. Cox, and guests Mesdames J. R. Gillham, Forrest Sawyer, George Benson, Heckle Stark and W. JOB OPPORTUNITIES FOR RURAL YOUTH

Few jobs exist in rural areas for youth. Today's students should take a realistic look at job opportunities available to them when planning careers, says Patsy Reynolds, Extension Service specialist in family life education.

Teenage girls, in particular, will seldom find employment on the farm. They must look to the small town or city for opportunities to earn a living. They will need specialized training for these jobs, says Miss Reynolds.

"They also need counseling and understanding from parents, teachers and other adults if they are to face the situation realistically and prepare for the future," she says.

There are some jobs available to boys on farms—yet the ones which offer opportunities to earn a good living are few.

Boys with ambition to get ahead should understand what can and cannot be expected from rural job opportunities.

School counselors have some of this information, and they are always glad to share it. Others who can help rural youth take a realistic look at job opportunities are local Employment Security representatives and county agricultural and home demonstration agents.

PLOWN OUT THE CORNERS
Often times it seems so easy Just to pass a fellow by, Without any kind of greeting Not even a friendly Hi!

But to do so forms a habit That will soon cause us pain, For it takes from life the sunshine and leaves only clouds of rain ...

Really it does take such a little bit of effort to be friendly, and it is doubtful if anything else we could possibly do would pay such dividends. It seems so tragic when we sometimes cease to speak to people—often because of such very small beginnings ...

The following comment taken from a publication called The Mentor, published by the prison inmates of the Massachusetts Correctional Institute of Walpole, Mass.: "The way to keep a young man on the right road, is to help him find the way back to it after he has made the Wrong Turn, not after his 10th or 20th".

The above seems to be a very wise deduction ... We should also constantly help them to not miss the right turn in the first place.

Mrs. Katherine Stephens who lives on a ranch near Silverton, Texas has sent us a bundle of magazines from New Zealand. It is always interesting to read publications from other countries. And it is especially good when someone goes to the trouble to send them to you... She is the same talented lady we mentioned a few months back who personally designs picture postcards by drawing ranch and western scenes and having them reproduced in large quantities. She has placed them in some stores but I am sure you could get an autographed sample by sending ten cents to the above address ... And now for some quotes from the magazines. Teacher - "Now, who was it from the North that invaded all of England."

Small boy - "The Beatles." In an information column we find that if you can't get your dog to take his medicine, just smear some of it on his front paws and let him lick it off.

Something else we never heard of; to remove grease from garage concrete floors just cover them

RYE SEEDING

Please remember that any rye seeded under ACP cannot be grazed until after February 1, 1965. Any payment due will be withheld or be refunded if the rye is grazed prior to this date.

GRAZING AND HAYING

Please keep in mind that before you hay and/or graze any soil bank acreages you must file an application with your ASCS office. The same is true if you want to harvest any hay from wheat or feed grain diverted acres.

ACP

The Agricultural Conservation Program shares with individual farmers and ranchers the cost of carrying out soil and water conservation measures intended to (1) protect farm and ranch land from wind and water erosion, (2) improve the productivity of the Nation's agricultural resources, and (3) protect and improve the source, flow and use of water for agricultural purposes. Through this program, the Federal Government offers to share with farmers the cost of conservation practices authorized for use as a means for achieving the above purposes.

Averaging about 50% of the cost of a practice, this cost-sharing is provided in the form of conservation materials, services, and financial assistance. Costs are shared for those approved conservation practices on individual farms, for which cost-sharing is requested, and for which the work is performed according to recognized standards.

Plan to use ACP soon.

Clarendon Bows To Wellington 25-6

by Karilyn Noble

The Clarendon Bronchos met with defeat, 25-6, at the hands of the Wellington Skyrockets Friday night to end the season for both teams. There was a crowd of approximately 950 fans present in Wellington for the game.

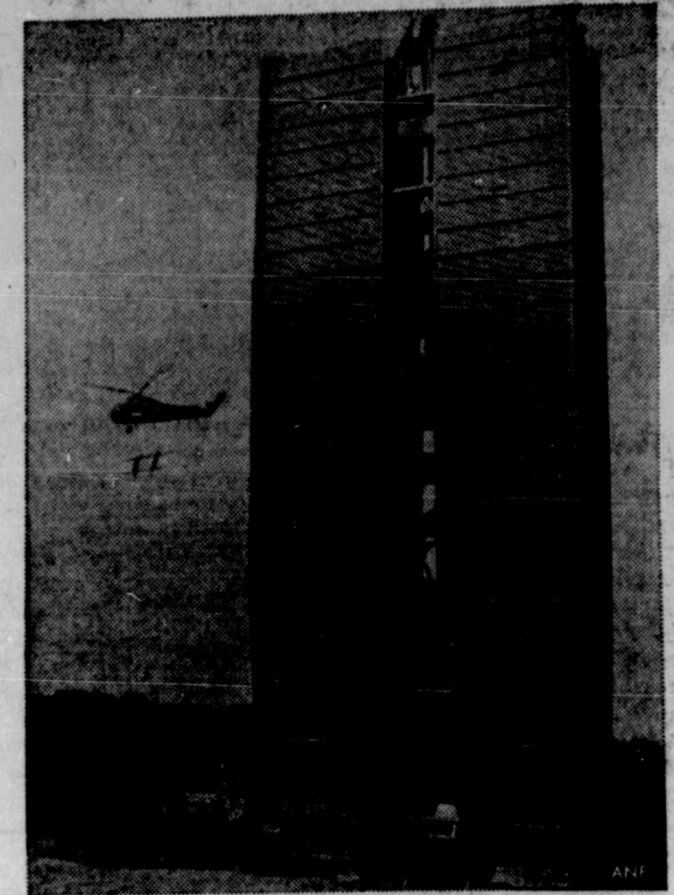

In the first period of play, the Skyrockets kicked off to the Bronchos but on receiving the ball, the Bronchos fumbled. Wellington recovered the ball and then scored. The kick for the extra point was unsuccessful. The Bronchos were fighting hard, but the quarter slipped away without a Clarendon score. At the end of the first quarter, the score was 6-0.

The second quarter of play was a scoreless one, but both teams were giving all they had. The Bronchos had exceptionally good defense. The score remained 6-0 at the half.

In the third period of play the Skyrockets scored twice, and they secured their extra points each time to make the score 22-0. The Bronchos were fighting all the time but were handicapped by a few bad breaks.

In the last period of play the Bronchos scored on a pass from David Mooring to Odell Louis. Archie Smith tried for the extra points but was unsuccessful. The Wellington Skyrockets then got the ball and moved it to the Bronchos 15 yard line where they kicked a field goal on fourth down with several yards to go. This was the last goal and the final score was 25-6 with Wellington on top.

The coaches and the entire Broncho squad have expressed their appreciation for the fine backing they have received this year from local fans and are asking your continued support of the basketball program. It is strong fan support which helps maintain good school spirit to win any type
