Some two years ago we repeated an item from Foster Whaley's News from The County Agent column in the McLean News to the effect that he knew of a chemical that would repel and in some cases actually kill rattlesnakes. He was deluged with letters asking for more information. His mail still brings an occasional inquiry. Foster informs his readers that several dealers in the Panhandle have stocked the product which goes by the trade name of "Snake Stop"... If you bother Foster about the matter in care of the Extension Service office in Pampa just tell him that his old neighbor Uncle Zeb sent you.

TRACTOR ENGINE LIFE DEPENDS ON TEMPERATURE
COLLEGE STATION — Light work and cold weather can take a heavy toll in the form of excessive engine wear on the farm tractor, says Henry O'Neal, extension agricultural engineer. Farm tractors are designed with a large cooling capacity to prevent overheating during hot weather and under heavy loads. This capacity will prevent the tractor from reaching an optimum operating temperature in cold weather under light loads unless shutters or curtains are used over the front of the radiator, he adds.

Cylinder wear at an operating temperature of 40 deg. F. can be as much as 27 times greater than at 180 deg. F., O'Neal explains. Carbon dioxide and water, as combustion products, combine to form a corrosive acid on cylinder walls which removes the protective oil film and corrodes the cylinder walls, he says. Minimum operating temperatures of 140 deg. F. under full load and 160 deg. F. under part load are required to maintain cylinder wall temperatures high enough to prevent the condensation of water in the cylinders. When operating temperatures are kept above these levels, the water remains in a gaseous state and is expelled with the exhaust. O'Neal also states that fuel consumption and power are affected by operating temperature. Fuel consumption decreases and horsepower increases as the operating temperature nears 180 deg. F.

The use of shutters or curtains can bring the tractor engine to its proper operating temperature quickly, and excessive wear and fuel consumption avoided, the engineer concludes.

such fad has had to do with diet. It has become almost as common to ask a person about his cholesterol level as to inquire about his golf score. There has been a lot of discussion about diet, cholesterol and heart disease. The result has been a field day for faddists. Faddists have warned people to avoid basic foods such as meat. Thus, the idea was instilled in the lay mind that certain types of fats caused heart disease.

The result has deeply concerned scientists connected with the medical profession. Fads are a poor substitute for a proper medical examination to determine diet requirements. The American Medical Association recently published a pamphlet in which it pointed out that "The anti-fat, anti-cholesterol fad is not just foolish and futile... It also carries some risk, because of the dangers of dietary deficiency.

DIET DEFICIENCY IS DANGEROUS

Homo sapiens has a habit of picking up fads which sweep nations in a thousand and one forms. Flagpole sitters, dance marathons, catch words and phrases, and antics of dress and behavior have swept through the country like a prairie fire. Most fads are harmless. However, there are fads that are dangerous. In recent years, one highest in the world. To keep them that way The American Medical Association recommends a well-balanced diet chosen from four basic food groups — the milk group, the meat group, the vegetable-fruit group and the bread-cereal group. In short if you want to play with a fad, pick one that does not endanger your health because you will need your health after the fad is forgotten.

Adult volunteers working in hospitals contribute 820,000 work weeks of service annually, and teenagers, many of whom serve as volunteers only during the summer vacation, contribute 162,000 additional work weeks.

CERTIFICATE: We hereby certify that we have examined the accounts of the City of Clarendon, Texas, for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1963, insofar as such accounts relate to cash receipts and disbursements. We did not make a detailed audit of all transactions recorded during the year. We did, however, make comprehensive test checks of all transactions and secured verification of cash on deposit and securities on hand at March 31, 1963.

In our opinion, subject to the above limitations and to the comments contained in our report under date of May 18, 1963, the accompanying combined balance sheet and statement of receipts and disbursements for all funds fairly presents the financial position of the City of Clarendon at March 31, 1963, and a summary record of receipts and disbursements during the year then ended.

CONSERVATION
DEBRIEF NEWS

Little Bluestem
In selecting a grass mixture to plant on an old field or overseed a pasture, a component will usually be little bluestem. This is a native perennial that has a good grazing value. It is a tall grass which, if grazed correctly, can furnish abundant forage.

In the dormant stage of growth this grass is red in color and grows in the form of a bunch-grass. Most of the older ranchers realize the importance of this grass since it served as a life-saver during the drought.

Since at the end of the grazing season, the top of the plant appears to have not been grazed, many think this plant is not being utilized. However, this plant produces dense basal forage which will equal the other larger grasses. Observing the plant at the end of the growing season, you will find that the cows have clipped all around the plant getting the basal forage and leaving the top or old growth. This will prove that it is being utilized.

This plant can be utilized year-long, however, a stubble height of about 8" should be left at the end of the growing season. It can stand more severe grazing than most of the larger grasses and, therefore, should be a part of every grass mixture.

For further information concerning little bluestem, contact your local Soil Conservation Service Office.

Conservation Cropping System
Good cropping systems are grown in a combination with needed cultural and management measures. They include the use of rotations that contain grasses and legumes, as well as sequences in which the desired benefits are achieved without the use of such crops.

The purpose of a good cropping system should meet the needs of the soil during critical periods when erosion usually occurs. It should aid in the control of weeds, insects, and diseases, and fulfill the needs of the farmer for an economic return.

A good cropping requires the minimum amount of soil-improving crops in rotation, the minimum amount of high residue crops in the rotation period, and the minimum amount of cover crops in the rotation period.

The management of crops, tillage, residues, cover, and their fertility assure the crops in the system doing a good conservation job.

The Donley County Soil Conservation Service will furnish the farmer any needed information on a good conservation cropping system.

Rotational-Deferred Grazing
Deferred grazing is a means by which a pasture can be rested from grazing during an entire or part of a growing season. This allows the plants to increase in vigor and allows seedset occasionally.

By rotational-deferred grazing, we mean rotating grazing in such a way that all the pastures concerned will be deferred from grazing during the growing season one or more years. By this system we are able to obtain as much total forage and at the same time allow the grass plants to increase in vigor.

Rotating the cattle in such a way that each pasture is deferred from grazing 4-6 months every 2 years during the growing season, usually allows sufficient deferment. The stocking rate can be doubled up on the pastures being grazed in order to allow the total carrying capacity to be maintained.

For more information concerning rotational-deferred grazing, contact your local Soil Conservation Service Office.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18th DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

Our Abundance

Confidence and strength mark the Nation's economic position. One year ago this week, prices on the New York Stock Exchange took their worst plunge since 1929, the Dow-Jones industrial average falling 34.95 points to 576.93 in the single May 28 trading session. Contrast that situation of one year ago with the market's present reflection of economic optimism. As of May 28 this year, the market had regained full health. The Dow-Jones industrial average closed last Tuesday at 717.95, within 20 points of the all-time record high. The Nation's business leaders foresee bright months ahead.

Supreme, sovereign, and mighty is our United States of America! Those whose pastime is down-mouthing their country and their countrymen can find things to be sour about, as the weak-hearted among us have been able to do throughout our history. Even the material triumphs of our country — putting aside consideration of our remarkable 187-year adventure in self-government and freedom — fail to arouse much enthusiasm among the perennially gloomy. They'd rather revile bad times than rejoice in good times.

What a bounty we do enjoy! Our agricultural problem is not one of providing enough food and fiber — it is one of finding a way to dispose of an unneeded surplus. Most of our working people enjoy such short work weeks that their problem is to find a way to spend their leisure hours constructively. The livelihood of millions of Americans depends not upon the production of necessities but upon their producing luxury goods and services. Economists estimate that by the end of this year, our gross national product of goods and services will total about $590 billion — 30 percent higher than only five years ago.

Nowhere is America's material strength more dramatically illustrated than in the welter of statistics affecting the automotive industry. One person of every seven employed in the United States is in some way connected with the automotive industry; one business in every six is in some way connected.

Motor vehicle registrations totaled 75,876,449 in 1961, the last year for which figures are available, one vehicle for every 2.4 Americans. Contrast this staggering total with the number of vehicle registrations in the Soviet Union — 3,983,000 — one vehicle for every 54 Russians. The figure for the U.S.S.R. is vastly overshadowed by those from our Free World allies. The United Kingdom has 7,747,000 vehicles (one for every 6.6 persons), West Germany has 6,094,100 (one for every 9.1 persons). Fully 60 percent of the world's passenger cars are in the United States. With only 6.7 percent of the world's surface and 6.2 percent of its people, the United States has 42.4 percent of its trucks and 60.4 percent of its cars.

Interested in having more numbers? In 1962, automotive retail sales totaled more than $61 billion in this country. More than $18 billion was extended in automotive credit, but more than 38 percent of new cars sold in the U.S. two years ago were sold for cash. In 1961-62, 44 percent of U.S. new car buyers had owned their previous cars three years or less. Our automotive exports in 1961 totaled $1.3 billion. The auto industry buys 19 percent of all the steel consumed in the United States. More than 200 million cars and trucks, valued at more than $241 billion, had been produced and sold in the U.S. between 1900 and 1962. And 74 percent of U.S. families now own automobiles.

Do we use our cars? Automobile riding leads in outdoor recreational activities in this country. We take pride in our 3,573,000 miles of roads and streets, 2,588,000 surfaced (including a total of 233,009 in Texas, the State with the greatest paved and unpaved mileage, of which 153,725 miles are surfaced highways). Of the 40,854 miles of highway designated in the national system of interstate and defense highways, 14,336 miles had been completed through 1962 and 15,296 miles are under construction. Americans compiled 767 billion miles of motor travel last year, a mileage record piled up by our 89 million licensed car, truck and bus drivers (of whom 39 percent are women). The automobile made possible these totals: 79 million visitors to national parks, 101 million to national forests, 273 million visitors to state parks, and more than 13 billion vehicle miles traveled by hunters and fishermen.

Texas, according to the Automobile Manufacturers Association, has 844,858 of its citizens engaged in employment allied with the automotive industry — 6,754 Texans engaged in making vehicles or parts; 42,838 in crude and refined petroleum firms; 160,455 in automotive sales and servicing, 29,327 working on state, county and local roads; 592,000 employed by trucking firms and in delivery work; 13,484 in motor bus and taxi employment. I say Hooray for America! The Communists envy us.

Highway engineers from other states and 19 Latin American countries who want to know how it has been done heard State Highway Department Engineer D. C. Greer speak on "he subject in Washington, D.C."

A pay-as-you-go plan has been one secret of success, Greer says, in building a highway network of 65,000 miles. Some other states run into road delays because of bond elections and sales.

Greer said his department's motto is "Total road service to all the people."

"The highway administrator must not be guilty of favoritism for one region over another," he stated.

BACK IN THE GAME — Former sports writer Wilbur Evans, one-time information director of the Southwest Conference, is going back into athletics after six months of quarterbacking for Governor Connally.

Evans served as press liaison man for the governor's office. He will return to his old field on June 1 as press agent for the Dallas Cowboys.

BUS DRIVER OF THE YEAR — Winner of the Texas Education Agency's "School Bus Driver of the Year" contest will be named on June 7.

Regional winners are: Elmer J. Ashby of Henderson, James U. Skinner of Corrigan, Billy Ray Richardson of Calallen, William F. Moore of Rankin, Herbert Hines of Rule and Roy Arthur Brooks of Alto.

L.C.R.A. APPOINTMENT — Governor Connally appointed John W. Hancock of El Campo to the Board of Directors of the Lower Colorado River Authority for a six year term. He succeeds R. D. Wright of Wharton.

Hancock is the nephew of Curtis Hancock of Dallas, who was a member of Texas' first Highway Commission.

SALT WATER — State agencies are moving deeper into the field of stopping oilfield pollution of fresh water strata.

New Texas Water Pollution Control Board gives oilmen in Gaines County until December 1 to stop using open pits for salt water disposal.

Railroad Commission issued a similar order for Menard and part of Schleicher Counties. Agencies have concurrent powers in this field.

BEACH SPEEDS — Voters

said last November that it would be fine with them if the Legislature gave Gulf Coast county commissioners courts authority to pass ordinances regulating speed and littering on public beaches like Padre Island.

But Governor Connally felt the law was too vague, because of amendments placed in it by the House. So he vetoed it.

Rep. Charles Scoggins, Corpus Christi Republican who replaced

Lattimore, tried to get the House to override the governor's veto. Although he got a majority vote of 78-62, it fell short of the two-thirds needed to override.

POLICEMEN'S PENSIONS — On its way to becoming law is S. B. 444 by Sen. William Moore of Bryan. It would make policemen 150 towns of less than 250,000 population eligible for social security benefits, if their councils agree.

Rep. Ben Barnes of De Leon, House sponsor, said, "This is the first policemen's bill that policemen's associations and the Texas Municipal League have agreed on."

A statewide bill by Rep. Glenn Kothmann of San Antonio, to increase longevity pay for policemen and firemen in all towns, was killed.

BILLS SIGNED — In recent days Governor Connally has signed into law bills that make San Angelo and Pan American colleges state-supported, senior colleges; authorize commissioners courts to appropriate monies for historical markers and monuments; provide for annexation by municipalities; authorize a 70-mile speed limit; and allow weekly newspapers to miss two issues a year and still retain their legality.

Also, change the name of A&M University; authorize counties to issue bonds to establish homes for the needy; and provide for emergency succession to state offices in the event of an attack or a disaster.

ROAD RACE — Texas and Oklahoma are running a friendly race to close the gap between Wichita Falls and Oklahoma City. Texas highway builders are aiming for an early-June, 1964, completion date on the Red River Valley Expressway between Wichita Falls and the Red River.

Oklahoma has set the same target for completion of a Southwestern Turnpike project between Oklahoma City and the terminal point of the Texas expressway.

CONTRACT BRIDGE CLUB TOURNAMENT JUNE 12

The Clarendon Duplicate Contract Bridge Club will hold its regular tournament Wednesday, June 12, at 7:30 at City Hall. Anyone desiring to play is eligible for fractional points.

Before the game starts, Frances Cooke Forrest of El Paso and Clarendon will begin a series of lectures on the play of the game and will answer questions. Mrs. Forrest is a graduate of The Goren Studios in New York City and is a championship player. Since Bridge is now a part of the intercollegiate program in all big colleges, this will be a good opportunity for a younger player to obtain a correct Bridge foundation.

The fee of $1.00 is necessary to help defray expenses. However, Mrs. Forrest will not receive any part of the proceeds. She is donating her time in order to help boost the Clarendon Club. The club is open to all players and is affiliated with the American Contract Bridge League, a national organization.

Lemons-Stewart Nuptials Read In Pretty Home Ceremony

Miss Gayle Ann Lemons became the bride of Donnie D. Stewart recently in a lovely candlelight ceremony in the home of the bride's mother, 421 South 10th Street.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. John Lemons and the late Mr. Lemons. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Stewart of Texline.

The double ring vows were read by Rev. W. R. Lawrence, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Clarendon, before the fireplace, which was flanked by large baskets of white gladioli and mums. The mantle was centered with an arrangement of white gladioli and candles.

The candles were lighted by Miss Marcy Ann Shepherd and Miss Dana Brice Shepherd, cousins of the bride.

Miss Linda Lemons was her sister's only attendant. She wore a dress of baby blue pima-mist cotton fashioned with puffed sleeves and a full skirt which was accented by several rows of matching lace. She wore a corsage of white feathered carnations.

Attending the groom as best man was Scott Shepherd of Childress, uncle of the bride.

The bride was lovely in a gown of Chantilly lace over slipper satin designed and made by her mother. The bodice was fashioned with a scoop neckline and long sleeves which tapered to a point over the hands. The elbow-length veil of tulle fell from a headband of braided white satin. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, and she carried a bouquet of feathered carnations atop a white Bible.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception honored the wedding party. The table was laid with a white cloth over blue satin. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated in blue and white rosebuds and was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Punch was served by Miss Kay Lemons, sister of the bride, and Miss Bobbye McBrayer, cousin of the bride, served the cake.

Presiding at the register was Miss Johnnie Lemons, sister of the bride. Only relatives and close friends attended the ceremony.

For traveling, the bride chose a suit of blue Boucle, complimented by white accessories, and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

After a short wedding trip to New Mexico and Colorado, the newlyweds are at home in Dalhart where the groom is engaged in ranching and trucking. The bride is employed as superintendent of nurses at Coon Memorial Hospital in Dalhart.

Mrs. Stewart is a graduate of Clarendon High School, Amarillo College, and Northwest Texas Hospital School of Nursing. Mr. Stewart attended schools in Clayton and Las Vegas, N.M.

SUMMER HOMEMAKING PROGRAM UNDERWAY

The Homemaking Dept. of Clarendon is humming with activity. Thirty-six girls have signed for the project course which is offered each year in June. One-half credit can be earned in this manner for two years.

Life saving and water safety, helping with vacation Bible school, gardening, child care, meal planning and preparation, sewing, smocking, and knitting are some of the activities planned for the students.

On June 13th at 2:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria, the Clarendon F.H.A. Chapter will be hostess to an organizational meeting of "Young Homemakers of America" organization. This group will be composed of women under 35 who are interested in homemaking and related club work. Mrs. Bourland, local homemaking teacher, will serve as adviser to this new formed group. The local F.H.A. chapter will have a demonstration "Reclaim Your Furniture" for the entertainment part of the program. Mrs. Elmo Fortenberry, Area I reporter, has moved here recently from Lockney. We have asked her to explain this program to wives of young farmers and others who think they might enjoy a club that studies and works with projects directly related to homemaking, child care, family finance, home beautification, etc. If you are interested in becoming a member of this club, contact Mrs. Bourland or attend this meeting.

During the last week of June a group of ladies who have pheasant feathers will meet in the homemaking dept. to convert them into beautiful fall hats. If you would like to attend this workshop, it is free. If you would like to order feathers and/or hat frame you may contact Mrs. Bourland at your earliest convenience, so that your supplies will be here when the class begins.

Youth and adults are always in a whirl of activity during June. However, if you have sewing problems or would like to use the sewing equipment in the department, feel free to arrange for help. —Rep.

Plans for an F.H.A. invitation officer training school were completed this week when homemaking teachers from Estelline, Lakeview, Groom and Clarendon met at Lee's Cafe for a Dutch Dinner. Invitations have been issued to F.H.A. Chapters of Wheeler, Collingsworth, Hall, Carson, Gray, Armstrong, Childress and Donley Counties.

"FHA In Orbit" will be the theme of the morning session when they meet in the high school cafeteria to collect ideas for programs, projects, socials, publicity, financing and organization politics.

The girls will enjoy sack lunches at the Country Club. They will complete the business session for the day when they meet in individual groups to learn more about the duties of their office. The remainder of the day will be spent in swimming, sunning, and visiting.

Invitations have been mailed to local school officials, Mrs. Haile, Area Adviser, and a member of the Amarillo Farm and Home Program.

"FHA Gateway to the Future" will be the theme of the local chapter next year. This meeting is our first effort to make friends with our neighbors, as well as to help keep F.H.A. a leadership training program in our high schools. —Rep.

A miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Sandra Pinkerton, bride-elect of Jimmy Zaring of Adrian, was given in the home of Mrs. P. C. Messer Saturday morning, June 1. Receiving hours were from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

component of the delivered cost of the water is 24.2 cents per thousand gallons average over 25 years and the estimated average cost of treating and pumping the water is 9.5 cents per thousand gallons, a total of 33.7 cents per thousand gallons for treated water delivered into elevated storage on the main pipe line and at Clarendon. It is much more economical to treat the water in a single treatment plant at the dam than it would be to build and operate the six individual filter plants that would be required otherwise. The estimated cost of the delivered water, either raw or treated, compares favorably with the cost being incurred in the other 16 West Texas towns of less than 12,500 population which are securing their municipal water requirements from multi-city projects. Upon the furnishing of the Memphis use, the estimated cost of the water to the Greenbelt cities would be reduced to 2.6 cents per thousand gallons.

"We are of the opinion that the project, as finally worked out, is sound, in that the supply is adequate, the water will be of good quality for municipal use, and the cost is reasonable.

WHITE SOX VS. GIANTS, YANKEES VS. CUBS THURSDAY NIGHT

The White Sox will be trying to break into the win column tonight against the powerful Giants and the defending champion Yankees will attempt to stay atop the league standings in a game with the Cubs. This set-up is in store for Little League fans at the Hart-Moore field tonight. The White Sox-Giants game will get underway at six o'clock.

The Yankees are in first place with one win and no losses. Their only game thus far was a thrilling 13 to 12 win over the Giants. Their other two games have been postponed because of rain. The Giants are in second place with two wins and one defeat and the Cubs follow with one victory against one defeat. The White Sox are in last place with no wins and two losses.

All the teams seem evenly matched this year and the Little League race should be a dandy right down to the finish. The White Sox, although in last place, have lost two heart-breakers and could develop into one of the stronger teams in the league when they start getting their share of the breaks. The Giants look powerful and are supporting the three top hitters in their line-up although they lost a one-run decision to the hustling Yankees. The Yankees are all hustle and never give up. They keep running and keep their opponents on the defensive all the way. The Cubs are a good solid team and will give a good account of themselves.

B. Sims of the Giants is setting a terrific pace in the batting race. He has collected eight hits in 11 trips to the plate for an amazing .727 batting average. However, B. Leeper and J. Elliott, also of the Giants, are just a step behind with batting averages of .667 and .600 respectively. Leeper has four hits in six trips and Elliott has six hits in 10 trips. Other leading hitters in the league are Gary Bennett and Steve Land of the White Sox. Bennett has three hits in six trips for a .500 average and Land has three hits in seven trips for a .429 average.

ANGELS TO PLAY SKELLYTON TUESDAY

The Clarendon Angels, one of two Clarendon teams consisting of boys between the ages of 13-15 years old, are off to a real good start in league play.

The Angels looked tough in exhibition games but really showed their muscles in defeating a solid Panhandle aggregation by a 9-8 score.

Several players are figuring prominently in the early success of the Angels. Pat Perkins, Mac McClellan, Don Elliott, Spooky Fields are all 13 year olds who are proving their worth. Perkins, besides becoming a steady fielder, has improved with the bat and currently is stroking the ball at about a .500 pace. McClellan is just terrific on balls hit to his left or right and many a kid's batting average suffers when they hit a ball toward him. Elliott and Fields can play anywhere. Elliott is also a top competitor.

David Mooring and Carroll Beard are two 15 year olds who live and play baseball as it is supposed to be played. Mooring was the winning pitcher against Panhandle, pitching four innings giving up no hits and two unearned runs. Mooring also stroked a line shot homer over the left field fence. Beard can play anywhere and do everything. He had a clutch double against Panhandle.

Other boys doing real well include Irving Mears at third base, Steve Stewart in center field, Bill Monk in right field, Archie Smith, who by the way hits a ball a mile, in left field, and Barry Tyler at catcher. Tyler is away right now for a few days, but should be here for Tuesday's game.

Other boys include Merle Lewis (a 13 year old) at either short or second, David Harding, a boy who is vastly improved since the beginning of the season, Bobby Vinson, a real hustler, John Sommers, who sometimes plays great or sometimes just goes off, but still has good potential, and Charlie Smith who has been slowed by injuries. This team is good yet may still be a year or so away from the championship. Time will tell. Yet these kids play baseball as it should be played, fast, hard, and with the desire to win that you must have to be a champion.

The Family of R. R. Riley

We hope these words of thanks will reach everyone whom we have not contacted or seen personally that may have helped us out after we lost our home and practically all else we owned by fire recently.

From the nice shower we were given at the J. W. Hatley's home and the donations we received it is gratifying to realize the number of friends who are ready to help you when you need them.

We would like to assure you that you will never know how much your remembrances have meant to us.
