Water Purchase Contracts Now In Hands Of State Board For Revision

Water purchase contracts for member cities in the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority have been drawn and are now in the hands of the Texas Water Development Board for revision, Authority President Dr. Shell H. Townsend stated Saturday.

"The contracts will be presented to the Authority directors as soon as the TWDB members in Austin are finished with them," Dr. Townsend stated. "We will then present the contracts to the various city councils for action and an election date will be set."

"We are now only weeks away from a vote."

"Everyone employed, from the engineers and lawyers to the fiscal agents, are of the highest professional standards with high professional ethics," the Authority president continued.

Freese, Nichols and Endress of Fort Worth, are the consulting engineers on the project and are noted for their outstanding work in water projects in West Texas. Among their accomplishments in the area are the work on the Stamford Dam, White Rover near Crosbyton, Hubbard Creek near Abilene, the Colorado River Dam and other major water projects in the State.

Until its directors decided to use federal aid, the firm was associated with the Canadian River Authority near Amarillo.

"They are among the best in the state and are nationally known," Townsend said.

R. A. Underwood Company of Dallas are the fiscal agents and Authority lawyers are McCall, Parkhurst, Crowe, McCall and Horton of Dallas.

"We secured them after much consideration and excellent references," the physician stated.

"Work on the Greenbelt has been long and hard and we have been advancing as rapidly as possible," he continued. "The water in the Childress area is of such quality that it has taken long, diligent studies — many times daily reports — to secure a water supply that would not wind up like a Lake Kemp or a mudhole," he said.

"Every firm involved in the project meets our high standards."

"Their reputations are at stake and they will do a good job."

Present members of the Authority are Childress, Paducah, Quanah, Clarendon, Hedley, Memphis and Wellington.

The Authority directors recently voted to accept Crowell into the group but action will be pending a decision by the Texas Water Commission. The commission will meet later in the year to consider the addition of Crowell.

If the state group allows Crowell to join, the city will still have to be voted in by its citizens. After joining, another election will be necessary on a water contract.

Wellington has been interested only in a county-wide project and Memphis is unable to go any further with the Authority until the city purchases its present water system which is privately owned or unless the private water system wants to buy water from the authority.

METHODIST MEN TO SPONSOR SUPPER

An old fashioned "homemade ice cream" supper will be sponsored by the Methodist Men's organization of the Clarendon Methodist Church on the evening of Wednesday, August 21st, from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. All of the ice cream that anyone can eat will be provided for 50 cents per person.

The event will be a church-wide affair and is being sponsored by the Methodist Men's group to aid in raising funds to carry on their projects for the year. These projects include the sponsorship of a Boy Scout Troop and the providing of the devotional, The Upper Room, for each family in the church.

J. R. Gillham, Chairman of the Methodist Men's group, states that the serving of the ice cream will start at 6:30 and continue until 8:30 p.m. All members of the church are urged to attend and to help provide the "homemade ice cream," and everyone who would like to get all of such ice cream he can eat for 50 cents is invited to attend the "feed."

A short devotional will be given at 8 p.m.

Beef Cattle Association Holds Annual Barbecue At The Country Club

The Rolling Plains Registered Beef Cattle Association held its annual barbecue this past Thursday night, August 8th, at the Clarendon Country Club. Four hundred and twenty-five people attended. The crowd was made up of prospective bull buyers, consignors and those helping with the sale. The Farmers State Bank of Clarendon was host for the barbecue. The meal was prepared by Flip Breedlove, Pete Land and Hubert Rhoades.

Mr. W. H. Cooke, III, president of the organization opened the meeting with introductions, and Tomie Potts of Memphis was introduced. Mr. Potts presented the secretary of the organization Flip Breedlove, with a large picture of the grand champion steer of the Amarillo Fat Stock Show last year. Mr. Cooke then introduced Mr. Simmons, vice president of the bank, who introduced the speaker, Mr. J. A. Clark, Executive Vice President of the Fort Worth National Bank. Mr. Clark gave a wonderful talk on the progress of the cattle business in the last 60 years.

New directors elected for the 1963-64 year were: Wade Watson of Claude; R. Finch of Clarendon; Leonard Ford of Claude; J. H. Gilbert of Claude; Tomie Potts of Memphis; Geo. Saunders of McLean; Spencer Sitter of McLean; J. D. Swift of Clarendon; Gene Floyd of Hedley; W. H. Cooke, III, of Quail; Bill Bradley of Memphis; and Bill G. Thornberry of Clarendon. The group will meet and elect officers at a later date says Secretary Flip Breedlove.

MARTIN BAPTIST CHURCH TO HOLD REVIVAL

The Martin Baptist Church will have a revival with services beginning August 18th and lasting through August 25th. Services will be held at 10:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m. daily with old fashioned preaching by a young minister, Rev. Glenn Mace from St. Louis, Oklahoma. Special song services will be lead by Wendell Hendricks of Plainview, Texas.

Greenbelt Abstract And Title Company Starts Operation This Week

Clarendon's newest business, Greenbelt Abstract and Title Company, was opened for business this week by its owners, J. R. and Clara Gillham. The business will be housed in the Gillham office building which was formerly the General Telephone Company office. The building was completely renovated and modernized and is equipped with refrigerated air.

Complete or supplemental abstracts of title to all lands and town lots in Donley County will be furnished upon request. Title insurance will also be handled by the firm.

J. R. and Clara Gillham have been residents of Clarendon since March, 1937, when he resigned an administrative position with the Miami Public Schools to move to Clarendon to accept the position of Secretary of the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce and Vocational Agriculture Instructor in the Clarendon Schools. The Gillhams have spent a portion of the summer visiting abstract plants and studying the operations and inspecting the equipment used by the various owners. New equipment is being secured and installed to give Clarendon one of the most modern plants in this area.

Farm Bureau Barbecue To Be Held Aug. 27th

The Farm Bureau will hold its annual chicken barbecue on the evening of the 27th of August at the Lelia Lake School House. The barbecue will be served at 6:30 p.m.

Every person attending is required to have one-half chicken per person for every one in their party. The Farm Bureau will furnish all the trimmings says C. C. Ayers, county president of the organization. Chickens can be left at the Clarendon Locker, Sid Pointer Store at Lelia Lake and the Moreman Locker at Hedley. Closing time for leaving the chickens is at noon on the 26th, the day preceding the barbecue. All chickens must be cut in half before leaving them at the collecting points. Flip Breedlove, Pete Land and Hubert Rhoades will be in charge of the barbecuing.

Mr. Ayers says that a good program will be planned for the meeting.

Final Diverted Acres Payments

Final payments to farmers taking part in the 1963 Wheat Stabilization Program and the 1963 Feed Grain Program will be made sometime after September 1, 1963. Advance payments were made to some producers at the time they signified their intention of participating in the programs as a means of helping them to meet their production expenses. These final payments will include the special wheat and feed grain price support payments which are a new feature of this year's diversion programs.

You are reminded, however, that compliance with provisions of the wheat stabilization and feed grain programs does not end with receipt of the final program payments. The land retired from production is to be protected and may not be harvested throughout the calendar year 1963. It may be grazed after November 1, 1963. A violation of these or other program provisions could result in a substantial loss to the producers.

Wool Program

In the past the wool marketing year has been from April 1 to March 31st of the next year. Beginning with 1963, the marketing year will be from April 1, 1963, through December 31, 1963, and for each year thereafter it will be from January 1 through December.

Let us point out that it is not too late to get started on a new conservation project and ACP cost-share funds are still available for approved conservation measures.

CARL ALLMOND WINS VACATION TRIP

Allmond said he had not chosen the particular trip he and Mrs. Allmond would take but the choice includes Nassau, San Juan, Old Mexico, Canadian Alpine, San Francisco, Bermuda, Montego Bay, New Orleans, Palm Springs, Canadian Cruise, or Skiers Holiday in Idaho or Canada.

Putting Tourney To Be Concluded Mon. Night

The Donley County Golf Club Putting Tourney which got underway Monday night of this week, but was rained out at the half way mark, will be concluded next Monday night at 7:30.

First round winners in the tourney were Ernest Tipton, Rev. Baldwin Strubling, Claude Moore, Gayle Pysatt, John Stepp, John Payne, Richard Bell, George Benson, and Guy McGee. In the consolation bracket will be Shelby Bell, Dr. H. R. Beck, Billy Mack Hicks, Jake Lamberth, Ray Palmer, Roddy Seago, Dennis Bradshaw, Mrs. G. A. Lamberth and Linda Hicks.

The public is invited to watch the conclusion of the tourney under the lights at the grass green on the Golf Course Monday night.

The life-saving rain which Donley County residents had been hoping and praying for finally showed up during the early morning hours Tuesday to put a big dent in the drought, revive crops and pasture land and fill up stock tanks that had been dry for quite some time.

Some parts of the county were more fortunate than others but from all available reports, all parts of the county received over an inch of rain.

The area west and north of Ashtola reported the heaviest amount with Mrs. Millard Word on the S. J. Ranch five miles northwest reporting 4 1/2 inches. Donald Harlan reported close to 4 inches near Goodnight and Leonard Putnam reported 3.98 at the Country Club. This heavy drenching put Salt Fork of Red River on the biggest rise of the year.

Other reports over the county included W. O. Hommel north of Alanreed near 4 inches; Bill Littlefield at Goldston, 3.10; Mrs. Hubert Rhodes, Ashtola, 1.50; W. D. Higgins at Martin, 1.60; Ruth Corbin two miles south of town, 3.10; Willard Knox at Lelia Lake, 1.40; W. G. Johnson at Hedley, 1 inch. Tommie Saye, local weather observer reported 2.06 for Clarendon. The immediate area of Clarendon received a downpour from a small cloud Saturday afternoon which netted over an inch in the west part of town.

Lightening was severe in the storm Tuesday morning but there was no strong wind or hail reported. During the height of the storm at Lelia Lake, lightning struck the Luther Butler hay barn at 2:30 and it was completely destroyed along with a valuable storage of hay. Local firemen were hampered in getting to the blaze by the heavy downpour of rain which didn't slow the fire a bit.

Ranchers along with the farmers were quite jubilant over the moisture as it certainly improves their pasture outlook for the winter. With a short feed and hay crop, the picture didn't look very good and prospects for early feeding and throughout the winter was evident. The moisture will help some dry land crops, especially late feed. Benefit to the cotton crop will be determined by the first killing frost date.

The rain helped the situation in the heat department also pulling the mercury down from the 100 degree mark to a real cool 53 degrees Tuesday night.

Spending Is Being Cut

Congress is making a fair record this year in reducing government spending. Spending is being substantially cut, although I have been on the losing side of several efforts to bring even larger reductions. The latest tally of House appropriations actions shows that the House had pared $3,378,212,726 from budget requests totaling $72,780,351,251 — about three-fourths of the total amount to be appropriated before the Session ends.

The Nation's defenses require two-thirds of the $69 billion approved. The House voted $47,082,009,000 in one defense appropriation bill. Other defense money bills will raise the total being spent this year to approximately $53 billion.

That $47 billion appropriation for the Defense Department was cut by nearly $2 billion from the original budget request. The remaining $1.3 billion slash in government expenditures was made all along the line. Not a single appropriations bill escaped without some cutting. To show you how massive was the sum appropriated for the Defense Department compared with sums for other government departments, I cite to you these totals approved in other House bills; for the Treasury and Post Office Departments, $5,997,026,000; for the Labor Department and Department of Health, Education and Welfare, $5,449,981,000; for the Departments of State, Justice, and Commerce and to maintain the Judiciary, $1,851,269,000; for the Interior Department, $922,625,200.

There are still several major appropriations measures to be acted upon. It is possible that when the actions are completed the budget will have been cut by $5 or $6 billion. Those of us in the Congress who work for substantial but realistic budget cuts may be able to note some real accomplishments before the year is out.

One of the big annual appropriation battles is shaping. It's the fight that comes each year over the Foreign Assistance Program — foreign aid. The first round ended when the House Foreign Relations Committee reported a foreign aid authorization bill calling for a ceiling on expenditures of approximately $4.1 billion. This is about half a billion dollars less than the President recommended in his revised request. The bill would not provide the appropriation—only the authorization for one. Thus, foreign aid must cross hurdles in House and Senate action on both authorization and appropriation bills. I predict that cuts will come.

I have consistently opposed foreign aid — both authorization and appropriation bills. Foreign aid was sold to the American people and the Congress as a weapon to help the United States and the Free World stand against communism in underdeveloped nations. Every American would wholeheartedly support such an admirable purpose. My quarrel with foreign aid is that as a weapon it has been entirely too costly for the results it has produced. The proof of this is so very obvious in many parts of the world where underdeveloped nations have been the victims of Communist infiltration. Our defense spending obviously has been effective in the Cold War. Despite my opposition to foreign aid, there is little doubt that it will be approved by the Congress. The reason is that it has wide support in both political parties and by American big business and labor. The support of the latter two groups is undoubtedly due to the fact that 80 per cent of the dollars spent on foreign aid remain in the United States — and constitute a giant subsidy to both big business and labor.

I have received a number of inspiring letters on the topic "I Say YES! To America," the subject of what I hesitate to call a "contest." The purpose is to encourage patriotic expression, to encourage Panhandle citizens to think deeply and then express their feelings about their country. To each person who writes a letter I will send booklets explaining our legislative process and aspects of our government.

To those who write the five best letters in four age categories — grade school, junior and senior high school, and adult — I will send books containing inaugural addresses of all U.S. Presidents and explaining communism and the menace it poses. First place winners will receive U.S. Flags which have been flown over the Capitol. Letters should be post-marked by midnight, August 25. I have had some wonderful letters — and several that sadden me, such as the one from a resident who wrote: "I have nothing to be proud of in America. I am ashamed to the core."

I liked these two sentences from another letter: "Old Glory will continue to wave. Free men, in the sight of God, will have it no other way."

The Statue of Liberty was designed and made by M. Bartholdi, a French architect and sculptor.

PURSUE DOESN'T MEAN CARRIED

A. W. Quattlebaum observes in the Pike County Journal, Zebulon, Georgia: "Just because the Declaration of Independence says everyone is entitled to the pursuit of happiness, it doesn't mean the government should finance the chase."

This is a quip with profoundly serious overtones and undertones. The word pursue, in fact, involves voluntary, energized-from-within effort. It certainly doesn't mean we should be pushed, carried, or otherwise artificially transported toward some goal.

The founders and developers of this country knew that in fact they regarded it as one of the most important bequests they could make to those who would follow them. It's time, past time, we remembered.

Wylie prepares for more growth

When Wylie, Texas planned civic improvements, its progressive citizens went all the way. Showing a population increase of 34% over 1960 census figures of 1804, Wylie set out to prepare for even more-growth.

They launched a street paving program, downtown business modernization, construction of a new school, new bank building, new residences and a new post office.

This combination of public and private improvement is well under way today, as shown in the "before and after" facelifting photos above. The Wylie story is another reason we say big things are happening in General Telephone towns.

These towns are on the move. Community improvements are under way, local resources are being developed, new businesses, new industries are coming in. His answers left little doubt in our mind that each of us should try harder to set the right example before our youngsters. Love is said to be the thing that holds two individuals together until they become life-long friends. We should appreciate our friends, for without them we would be a total stranger. Often it is not only the person in the audience who says nothing. We are getting old when we do more and more things for the last time, and fewer and fewer things for the first time.

When Wylie, Texas planned civic improvements, its progressive citizens went all the way. Showing a population increase of 34% over 1960 census figures of 1804, Wylie set out to prepare for even more growth.

They launched a street paving program, downtown business modernization, construction of a new school, new bank building, new residences and a new post office.

This combination of public and private improvement is well under way today, as shown in the "before and after" facelisting photos above. The Wylie story is another reason we say big things are happening in General Telephone towns.

These towns are on the move. Community improvements are under way, local resources are being developed, new businesses, new industries are coming in. A Look At The Record

By Dick West, Editorial Editor
The Dallas Morning News
Like Topsy, the federal government's payroll just seems to grow and grow. Month after month, the number of civilian government employes increases and the burden on taxpayers becomes heavier.

According to the joint committee on reduction of nonessential federal expenditures, the Kennedy administration added 17,180 new civilian employes to the federal payroll during June, 1963. This brought total federal employment at the end of fiscal 1963 to a peacetime high of 2,509,028.

The government itself estimates that the average annual salary of federal Civil Service employes is $5,800, not including fringe benefits or the cost of adding working space, supplies and other necessary items involved in any increase. Hence, in the single month of June, 1963, the basic cost of adding those 17,180 new employes came to $99,644,000.

That's only part of the picture. When President Kennedy took office in January, 1961, the total federal payroll was 2,256,737. In 2½ years he has added 152,291 employes at a cost (salary only) of $883,287,800.

Nor is that the end. The President has requested Congress to permit the employment of an additional 36,500 new federal employes during the current fiscal year. The basic cost of adding these employes will come to $211,700,000.

Add this request to the increases already made in the federal payroll by the Kennedy regime and the totals show 188,791 new employes at a cost of $1,094,987,800.

It is impossible to estimate the cost of fringe benefits, additional working space and other supplies which these new employes require, but it must run into many millions of dollars.

When he was campaigning for the presidency, Mr. Kennedy was particularly critical of the new employes which President Eisenhower had added to the federal payroll. Actually, there were fewer federal employes at the end of Eisenhower's term than when he moved into the White House. Mr. Kennedy, however, will have increased the federal payroll by more than 8 per cent in his first three years in office.

Commerce Secretary Luther Hodges received a good deal of publicity when he complained that he could run his department with 10 per cent fewer employes. Actions speak louder than words. Mr. Hodges, like the heads of most government bureaus, has steadily increased the number of employes working under him. In June, 1963, alone, his department grew by 1,381 employes—a boost of nearly 5 per cent in a single month.

This burgeoning army of federal employes is going to continue to grow, as it has in the past, unless we who pay the bills stop judging politicians by

Miss Haney Weds Bob Spencer In Recent Ceremony

Miss Carol Lea Haney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Haney, Portsmouth, Ohio, became the bride of Robert (Bob) Spencer, son of Dollie Dee Bain, Clarendon, Texas, in a later afternoon ceremony August 9. The double ring service was held in the First Free Will Baptist Church in Denver, Colorado, with the Rev. Roy Thomas officiating.

Traditional nuptial selections were played by Mrs. Thomas. Vows were exchanged before an altar decorated with white gladioli and red roses. Interspersing the floral arrangements were plumous fern which completed the setting.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. George Reeves, wore a street-length gown of white chiffon with an overskirt of Chantilly lace. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls and sequins. She carried a white Prayer book topped with a bouquet of red rosebuds centered with a white orchid and showered with satin streamers tied in love knots.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gipson of Denver, Colorado, attended the couple as matron of honor and best man. Mrs. Gipson wore a dress of printed taffeta with chiffon trim accented by white accessories. She carried a nosegay of white carnations and red roses.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home at 11800 E. Colfax, Denver, Colorado. The bride is a graduate of Wheelersburg High School in Ohio. The bridegroom graduated from Wentworth Military Academy and is presently attending Parks Business School in Denver.

Among those attending the wedding were Mrs. Dollie Dee Bain, Miss Carol Spencer, and Mrs. C. N. Brewer of Clarendon.

MEETING HELD AT CHAMBERLAIN CENTER

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Clyde Gilbreth and Mrs. Hester Shields.

The next meeting will be August 16, with Ethel Dingler and Bradis Ballew as hostesses. Please bring a freezer of ice cream or cake. —Rep.

AUSTIN — Supporters of the proposed billion-dollar Trinity River development plan won the first round on the opening day of hearings when the Texas Water Commissioners turned down the railroads' motion to delay the Austin hearing.

Gov. John Connally's approval of the commissions proposed plan was expected. He had long since pledged his support.

Connally called the navigation project, "a major step in one of the most important water conservation, flood control, and navigation projects in the history of Texas."

Texas Highway Department's 420-seat capacity auditorium overflowed during the two-day hearing as every community in the vast Trinity watershed was represented.

Spokesman for the railroads was Walter Caven, counselor for the Texas Railroad Association.

Plan of the U.S. Corps of Engineers calls for development of the entire watershed for navigation, flood-control, water conservation, water quality control, drainage, irrigation, hydroelectric power, fish, wild life and recreation.

Thirteen reservoirs are included in the long-range plan. Locks and other features to make the river navigable from the Gulf to Fort Worth would claim more than $515,000,000. That's more than a million dollars a mile for the 500 mile project.

Barge-line navigation of the Trinity from the Gulf of Mexico to the Dallas-Fort Worth market was the target of railroad objections.

Railroads claimed that Army engineers "greatly overestimated" traffic potential, future growth and benefits to be derived. Caven said the 20 railroads would have to spend more than $25,000,000 to relocate lines and bridges in the Fort Worth area. Then they would lose $6,500,000 annually in freight business to the barge lines.

NEW SPEED LIMIT OKAYED — Some 41,500 miles of state-maintained highways will be zoned for the new 70-mile per hour speed limit when the law becomes effective on August 23.

Texas Highway Commission approved the daytime maximum for passenger cars for more than two-thirds of the state's highway system. But the old 60-mile per hour maximum still applies to 18,640 miles. Engineering studies indicated that these roads couldn't handle faster traffic.

A large percentage of the Farm-to-Market Road system will come under the 70-mph maximum. Lower limits will apply where conditions warrant.

District engineers are expected to release news of re-zoning on a local basis.

side park some 20 miles north of Brady on U.S. 377 is the geographical center of Texas.

It will be so designated when the Highway Commission erects a brilliant aluminum "Heart of Texas" marker.

Other $600 aluminum markers are scheduled for Pilot Knob in Travis County, location of the state's only exposed submarine volcano; the Llano Estacado in Garza County; and Old Tascosa in Oldham County. The latter is famed for its Boot Hill Cemetery.

Commission figures each marker will earn more than 10 times its original cost in added tourist revenues.

CHEMICALS KILL CROPS — "Week end farmers" and "absentee owners" not acquainted with the dangerous potential of hormone-type herbicides (such as 2, 4-D and 2,4,5-T) have contributed to a new pattern of crop damage, says Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

He estimated 7,000 to 8,000 acres of crops, principally cotton, have been affected by damaging doses of the herbicides.

"Fortunately, most of the effect has been only light to moderate on the cotton," White said, "and the yields are not seriously threatened."

"But we've been lucky so far," he added. "When carelessly applied, herbicides are capable of wiping out crops several miles away from the sprayed area."

HOT WEATHER TOLL — Four consecutive weeks of 100-plus degree weather plus drying wind took a toll of crops and pastures over the state, according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. Early harvesting was used to beat the heat in many places.

Reporting Service predicts that general rains in all areas still could revive pastures.

POLIO FADES TO FOUR CASES — Poliomyelitis, the dread disease that kept parents stiff with fear for many summers, has declined to the point that the State Health Department has received only four reports of cases so far this year.

Total caseload for the state last year was only 114. Credit for the decline of the crippling is given Salk and Sabin vaccines. But health officials continued to warn Texans not to be complacent. People of all ages are urged to follow up with booster shots.

PEACE PRECINCTS PUZZLE — Ector County's Commissioners Court had a plan to provide offices for the county's four justices of the peace in the new county courthouse, to be completed early in 1964.

Plan was to rezone the four peace precincts so that all would intersect at the new courthouse. Current justices would keep their present offices.

But Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr ruled it cannot be done that way. "If the commissioners' court alters the boundary lines of any justice precinct," Carr commented, "a vacancy exists in the office of justice of the peace and constable, which the court must fill by appointment until the next general election."

LEGISLATIVE 'RIDER' — A legislative "rider" on the 1964-65 state budget to cut physical training programs in 20 State colleges to little more than "mass calisthenics" was declared invalid by the attorney general.

Carr said that while "riders" — i.e., restrictions on legislative appropriations — usually get by, this one went too far. It would have kept colleges from spending all their allotted budget if compulsory physical training programs were offered.

Commission on Higher Education asked for the attorney general's opinion, after physical training directors claimed the "rider" would have crippled their work.

Raymond Moley writes in Newsweek: "Since the early 1930's, zealous proponents of public power, notably the late Secretary Ickes, have been waging a cold war against privately-owned companies in the West.

Even under the Eisenhower Administration's policy of partnership, the Interior bureaucracy carried on this fight..." And now, he adds, the drive has been accelerated.

The AMA was founded in Philadelphia in 1847 by 250 physicians from 22 states to promote the art and science of medicine and the betterment of public health. Today, 116 years later, its 200,000 members are in all parts of the world practicing some 37 medical specialties. Just over 18,000 of these physicians are in government or military service.

TO ATTEND MARKET IN DALLAS

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Saye, buyer for Saye's will attend the annual Holiday Fashion Market to be held August 18-23 in Dallas.

During Market, buyers will select holiday fashions from over 7000 lines on display, thus assuring local customers of up-to-the-minute selections of fashion-right apparel.

The Dallas market, normally held in advance of New York and West Coast markets, has proved to be one of the most complete fashion displays in the nation. The general feeling among manufacturers' representatives is that an item well accepted in the Dallas market will be popular on a nationwide basis. For this reason, many national manufacturers send original fashion designs for testing in the Dallas market.

CONTRACTORS AFFIDAVIT NO LONGER REQUIRED

AUSTIN, Texas, August 1, 1963 — Because of a change in the law, the Texas Highway Department will no longer require an "Affidavit of Bills Paid" from contractors of highway jobs before making final payment on contracts.

This announcement from the Department followed an attorney general's ruling confirming the legislative intent of Senate Bill 213, which became law in April.

The Highway Department said payment bonds are still required under the law of all contractors awarded highway construction contracts. Responsibility for payment of vendors of materials or equipment attending contracted highway construction rests solely with contractors and bonding companies, it said.

Mrs. Dean Bier and girls of College Station visited last week with her mother, Mrs. Nina Dale.
