Bronchos Lose To McLean Tigers, 25-12

By Rod Stone, Staff Reporter The Bronchos traveled to McLean Friday night and lost their first conference game played this season to the McLean Tigers.

The Bronchos played much better defense than the score indicated as the Tigers received a number of breaks that proved costly to the Bronchos and the Tigers were able to execute a few capital plays which proved to be the difference in the scoring column.

The only scoring in the first half was done by the Tigers when Dickie Crockett taxed the Broncho defense for a two yard gain.

Starting the second half the Bronchos came out of the field house appearing to be on fire as they scored within the first two minutes of the second half.

The Tigers chalked up a total of 17 points in the second half as Crockett led the attack by scoring two touchdowns. Conversions were scored by Windom and Patton.

Broncho linemen made a number of outstanding tackles throughout the game.

JAYCEES ARRANGE FOR NEW PARKING LOT

The Clarendon Jaycees were contacted by some merchants on the south end of Main Street about the parking problem which existed since construction of the post office and the use of the Clarendon Hotel as a college dorm.

On Monday night of last week the Jaycees cleaned the rubbish and other items from the lot and the Texas Highway Department donated base material and hauled it to the lot.

The Jaycees received a check from Frank White for $25.00 which they plan to use to construct an entrance into the lot.

The Jaycees would like to express their appreciation to George Thompson, Texas Highway Dept., The City of Clarendon, and Frank White, Jr., for their assistance in obtaining this parking lot.

The Jaycees feel that this parking lot, the one across from Greene Dry Goods and the one north of the Knorpp Ins. Agency, if used properly, should almost eliminate the parking problems which have existed in the past few years.

Bronchos Play Canadian Wildcats In Homecoming Game Friday Night

The Clarendon Bronchos will host the Canadian Wildcats before a homecoming crowd here in Broncho Stadium Friday night with game time set for 7:30 p.m.

The Bronchos lost their first conference game to McLean last Friday night 25-12 and will be putting forth every effort to defeat the Wildcats for a conference victory and also make the game more pleasing to homecoming fans.

The Wildcats were rated low along with the Bronchos at the first of the season but have been improving with each game which is a good indication that the Bronchos will have to hustle and put up a strong defense as well as some good offensive maneuvers to come out on the top side of the score.

Coach James stated that he would probably start Wilkinson and Ronnie Longan as halfbacks, Teddy Graham at full and Mooring as quarterback in the backfield.

His probable starting line-up for the line will be Dennis Stewart and Lester Welch, ends; Douglas Bradshaw and Larry Gray, guards; Ronnie McAnear and Steve Shelton, tackles and Kenneth Price at center.

The OLD RANCHER

OVERGRAZING NEVER PAYS: TAKE HALF AND LEAVE HALF THE GRASS FOR MORE BEEF PER ACRE.

Proper Range Use

Proper range use consists of grazing rangeland in such a manner so as to not exceed approximately 50% of the current annual growth by weight of the key plants.

Plant physiology requires a maximum amount of green material to be left at the end of the growing season in order to allow the plant to build a sufficient food reserve. This food reserve will be maintained during the winter within the root system. The potential of the plant the following growing season will depend on the amount and depth of food reserve.

Close grazing just prior to frost will not allow the plant to develop a deep, durable root system and will usually result in winter killing. Therefore, under proper range use a more adequate grazing system can be maintained resulting in more grass.

Proper range use for the taller grasses will leave about an 8-10 inch stubble. Shorter grasses need to be maintained at approximately 4-6 inches prior to frost. This is one of the many practices recommended by the Soil Conservation Service. For additional information contact your local office.

The Balance-of-Payments Problem

The nagging balance-of-payments deficit plays a continuing major role in influencing United States policy decisions. The United States consistently has an unfavorable balance of payments. From 1947 to 1957, deficits were relatively small — averaging about $1 billion a year. In 1958, the problem began to accelerate, and deficits have exceeded $3 billion a year in every year since then. Although the average citizen is not now affected by the situation, the problem could mount to such proportions that the dollar would have to be devalued with a resultant serious impact on the stability of international trade and payments. Some suggest that the financial crisis that would result would be followed by a world-wide depression.

United States exports exceed imports by a wide margin. But this trade advantage is more than offset by other factors. One of the big ones is the high cost of maintaining a huge military establishment in foreign countries. Other factors involved are U.S. tourist dollars spent abroad, private investment and lending transactions with foreign nations, and foreign aid.

The major drain on our dollars has come in recent years from an outflow of private capital, ranging from short-term bank loans to the purchase of stocks on foreign exchanges to the construction of plants abroad by American industries. Many Americans have determined that more money is to be made by investing dollars abroad in one way or another than by investing them in the domestic economy.

Properly, I believe, our government has consistently refrained from taking the drastic step of instituting exchange controls, of limiting the freedom of Americans to spend or invest in foreign lands. But the situation is the reverse in many of these same foreign countries; there, the citizens are prohibited by government order from investing their surplus money in the United States economy. And, by the same token, American investors are sometimes surprised to find that the high rate of return luring them into foreign investments has a serious catch: They can put their dollars into foreign securities earning high interest but the withdrawal of capital is limited to amounts authorized by the foreign governments. Were these foreign controls to be lifted, better balance would be achieved in this investment phase of the problem.

A legislative proposal before the Congress, the so-called "interest equalization tax," would raise the cost of foreign long-term borrowings through new bond issues and other loans and place a purchase tax on foreign securities bought by American investors. The purpose of this step, which might be termed a "tariff on money," would be to reduce the investment gap. Part of its purpose would be lost, however, by the proposal's call for an exemption of most Canadian issues.

Our government has tied most foreign aid purchases to the United States. Instead of money, the foreign aid program has in recent years called for assisting underdeveloped nations by giving them American-made goods. Less than 20 percent of new foreign aid commitments results in an outflow of dollars and the program has continued its appeal to manufacturing and labor interests in this country who find in it an economic prop.

One of the objective of tax cut legislation, which has passed the House and is pending in the Senate, is to stimulate the investment of capital in American business and to assure continued economic growth in this country. Time will be required for this measure to have the impact sought for it. Another measure that will take time to become fully effective, and to have a significant impact on the balance of payments, is the Trade Expansion Act of 1962, which is part of our effort to lower import barriers abroad. Meanwhile, a vigorous campaign is being continued in an effort to promote more U.S. exports of a wider variety.

The economic well-being of the entire Free World is tied to that of the United States. This fact is recognized in the capitals of Western Europe, where the economic boom in the years since World War II is directly related to United States assistance and encouragement. It is in the interests of all Free World nations that the United States find solutions to its balance-of-payments deficit — and the signs are that we will receive increasing support and cooperation from our Allies.

Many of you will remember our writing about a trip to Durango, and the thrill of taking the narrow gauge train trip up the mountains to Silverton, Colorado. We shall never forget the thrill as we rounded the bend approaching the quaint little mining town and dashing out to meet the train were some young girls on horses. They looked scarcely large enough for such a daring ride but they rode their mounts with the style of a grown-up cowboy as they waved and raced alongside the train welcoming us all into town.

One of the young ladies was Kathy Morales whose address is Box 597, Silverton, Colorado. This week we received the following fancy like announcement from Kathy. It read: "It's a Bird, It's a Plane, It's a Baby. Name - Velvet. Arrived - September 19th, 1963. Weight 30 to 100 lbs. Parents - Nellie, the horse that races the train."... Drop Kathy a note of congratulations which she can read to Nellie, and her colt Velvet. And for something you will treasure for keeps, send Kathy a dime, and have her send you an autographed color postcard of both Kathy and Nellie as they ride out to meet the once a day train. Her parents who hail from Borger, run a gift shop. She sells the cards to feed Nellie.

We read the following ad in a small publication called The Comet Advertiser. It is our nomination for the most honest statement of the week in advertising. It read: I Want To Be A Millionaire. If everyone who sees this ad will send me ten cents I'll be on my way. And then he gave instructions where to mail the dimes... I would give one dime just to know how many he received...

O. J., often heard on the early morning farm program over Station KGNC, Amarillo, gave the following as an answer to one of his regular hecklers regarding another who was absent that morning. He reasoned: "With friends like him, I don't need any enemies."... The thought bears a bit of pondering...

One father complained about some of our modern day habits as follows: "Why, our son has to take the family car to school just in order to ride the three blocks home after a very strenuous football workout after school."

If you can remember when most everyone had to take their bath in the family wash tub you certainly don't have to worry about the draft... As I remember it we were too tired and had too much else to think about to worry whether we come out perfectly clean...

NEWS for truck owners who need a new one now

Things Chevrolet has developed since the last time you bought to give you more for your money:

Double-wall construction. This feature of Chevrolet cabs and the Fleetside pickup body has two advantages. Insulation and sound-deadening material is sandwiched between the two layers of steel in the cab to give you more comfort; in the body, the lower inner wall acts as a buffer against load damage, preserving the outer appearance of the truck.

Suspension to fit the truck. Conventional half- and three-quarter-ton models have independent front suspension with variable rate coils in the rear. Variable rate coils do not "bottom out" as readily.

Mediums and heavies have I-beam suspension with variable-rate leafsprings. It automatically stiffens as the load increases—and vice versa. It means a smoother, flatter ride regardless of load, a better handling truck.

The right engine. Chevrolet never has been in better position to give you the type and size you need for maximum efficiency. Today there are many different capacities of gasoline and diesel Chevrolet truck engines—fours, sixes, V8's.

Stronger frames. Every conventional 1964 Chevrolet truck has a ladder-type frame. This type is more resilient, better able to give with the load and terrain. Its simple design also makes it easier to mount special bodies on the truck. Its riveted side rails are stronger.

Greater model selection. This time you're going to find it a simple matter to pick the exact type of Chevrolet truck for the kind of work you do. In delivery trucks, for instance, in addition to regular panels and pickups, we have eleven different sizes of ready-made walk-in vans, some with full-width rear doors.

Quality and value. Chevrolets today are a lot more truck than your money bought the last time, and yet the price tag is just about the same as 5 or 6 years ago. Call your Chevrolet dealer for information or for a demonstration.

Quality trucks always cost less!

Many times we have expressed our belief in the future of our service area by saying it faces growth unlimited. The huge expenditures from sources listed above are proof that our confidence has not been misplaced. In the light of such evidence of what is taking place here today, we know that the 403,000 people in our service area of 50 counties and 166 communities face a future of growth, progress and prosperity.

LEGAL NOTICE

All interested persons are advised that the construction of additional traffic lanes are being planned by the Texas Highway Commission on U.S. Highway 287 from near the East city limits of Clarendon through Hedley. The contemplated additional traffic lanes will parallel the present traffic lanes in the rural portion to provide a divided highway similar to that now built from Clarendon West. These divided lanes will transition to each other within the cities of Clarendon, Lelia Lake and Hedley. These city sections will have the present paved streets widened sufficiently to provide for four traffic lanes.

Preliminary drawings showing the proposed location are on file at the Resident Engineers office in Clarendon and at the District Engineers office in Childress. Any interested citizen may request that a public hearing be held respecting such proposed location and the economic effect of such location by delivering a written request to the Resident Engineer or the District Engineer on or before the 7th day of November 1963. In the event such request is received, a public hearing will be scheduled and adequate notice will be given as to its time and place.

Electricity lets you underline a full row of words just by holding down the key, rat-tat-tat, just like that. The same is true for dashes, spaces, dots and the letter "X" for crossing out.

Electricity lets you type as fast as you want even if you're a speed champ. And there's no jumbled letters, no jumpy lines, no uneven spacing.

Electricity does the work for you. There's no pounding the keys. And you can adjust the touch from featherlight to the same as a manual's.

Electricity gives you an expert's even touch on the keys. All letters are typed with the same even blackness... your typing looks perfect.

You adjust a dial and can make up to ten carbon copies. More important, the tenth is just about as clear and readable as the first.

Two Accidents Occur During September

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated two accidents on rural highways in Donley County during the month of September, according to Sergeant J. W. Wilson, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for an estimated property damage of $1,900.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county from January through September of 1963 shows a total of 27 accidents resulting in one person killed, 15 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $20,548.00.

"Mr. Motorist," have you noticed in the last few weeks that the shadows of darkness are creeping upon you much earlier than they did during the summer months? The sergeant stated that October is the first of the three months in which hours of darkness are much longer than those of other months of the year.

If these three months follow true to form as they have over the past years, it will mean more traffic accidents.

A survey was made comparing the number of accidents occurring during the months of October, November and December of the past three years to the three months in which occurred the greatest number of accidents out of the other nine months during this three year period. The results were 20,000 more accidents occurred in October, November and December.

The veteran patrol supervisor listed some laws and procedures for night driving: (1) Turn on your low beam headlight before dusk. The law requires headlights burning from one half hour after sunset to one half hour before sunrise, and during daytime when a person or vehicle cannot be seen 500 feet away. (2) The law requires you to keep headlights on low beam when you approach an oncoming vehicle within 500 feet and when you are following a vehicle within 200 feet. (3) Do not overdrive your headlights. Good visibility on high beam may vary from 250 to 300 feet. (4) If blinded by oncoming lights, ease off the accelerator and glance along the right edge of the pavement across the hood to be sure you keep in your lane. (5) Watch shoulder of highway for cyclists, pedestrians or animals, and (6) Do not wear sunglasses at night, at dusk or in daytime when visibility is low.

BROOKFIELD, N.Y., COURIER: "No political thinker of any stature has ever interpreted a republic as allowing equality in all things. What you will find set forth is the ideal that every individual — however broken his body or impaired his mind — shall have equality before the law and equality of opportunity to fill his own highest potential. That is the American dream. That is the dream that made this country the symbol of hope to enslaved people all over the world. That is the exact opposite of the Communist philosophy of equality by edict of law toward which we have been rushing during the past 25 years. That is the dream we are throwing away."

A Gin Plant
Second to None!
Offering the Farmers of This Area the Finest Service

It is recognized that the first thing any gin should do is a GOOD JOB OF GINNING. This was proven by the Lesley Co-Op last season when the completely-new plant went into operation. The record shows that our customers received a "good job of ginning."

Since last year's crop was finished the plant has undergone seasonal repairs, and everything is now in first class shape to handle this crop.

We point with pride to the kind of plant which the farmers of this area own in the Lesley Co-Op. There are the three 177-saw Hardwicke-Etter gin stands; an individual lint cleaner behind each stand; two stick and green leaf machines; two bur machines; three tower dryers; hydraulic press locks on the press. Also, individual motors power each unit in the plant, which means less wasted time throughout the season.

Our patrons are invited to take advantage of our bur trap, which makes it possible for our customers to return them to the land. We do not burn burs, but save them for your use. Only trash from our lint cleaners is carried to the burner. Our bur truck is available for your use.

You are invited to bring your cotton to the Lesley Co-Op. We will work with our neighbors in supplying the best service it is possible to render. Whether you need help in obtaining field hands, or in any other manner, we will give full cooperation. Let us know how we can serve.

A meeting is being held Friday, October 25, 1963, 1:30 p.m. in the Hospitality Room at the Farmers State Bank to formulate plans for the 1963 Agricultural Conservation Program handbook and Conservation Needs for 1975. Any of you who are interested are welcome to attend.

The best thing to do behind a child's back is to pat it, either high or low, depending upon the situation at that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Gale Ledbetter and Gary of Amarillo visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Watson.

AUSTIN — President John F. Kennedy is coming to Texas around November 22 to help lift the 1964 Democratic presidential campaign off the launching pad in this state.

As early as he is, the President appears to be somewhat behind the political timetable of Texans. Gov. John Connally, who announced the President's visit, called in nearly 50 of his top supporters to begin getting his own campaign organization in shape.

Republicans also summoned key local leaders to Austin for a "leadership conference." They pow-wowed over finances, talked up their talent scouting for candidates and began organizing a drive to register 600,000 new members of the GOP.

The Republicans picked up another candidate for the U.S. Senate, Dr. Milton V. Davis, Dallas chest surgeon. George H. W. Bush of Houston announced last month.

SHELL-DREDGING WRANGLE — A coastal region crisis is being claimed by the state's four largest shell-dredging firms.

Firms are Parker Brothers, Inc., W. H. Haden Company, Horton and Horton, and Bay Dredging Company.

State Parks and Wildlife Commission took under advisement their application to expand dredging activities in Galveston and Trinity bays.

Applicants claimed $1,000,000-000 worth of industry and 10,000 jobs are threatened by an acute shortage of oyster shell in authorized areas. Dredgers supply shell to roadbuilding and concrete industries, as well as chemical, paper and other manufacturing firms in the state.

Oyster fishermen, sports fishermen and conservationists also were on hand during the two-day hearing. They claim that they would face a crisis if shell-dredging areas are expanded in the two bays. Commercial fishermen, who produced 64 percent of the 1962 oyster crop in Galveston Bay, claimed they would be run out of business. Sportsmen said destruction of live oyster reefs, or reefs which can be revitalized, would destroy every natural attraction in the bays.

Both sides feel that the application fight is a life-or-death situation... either for the shell-dredgers or for the oyster men and the vast sporting industry on the upper Gulf Coast.

CATTLE KILLER — Agriculture Commissioner John White warned Texas farmers against the "deadly danger" of letting livestock graze in fields which have been defoliated by the use of certain cotton chemicals. Warning came after a Breckenridge farmer lost more than half his herd of cattle from the effects of arsenic poison.

White urged farmers to seek full information on the effects of any chemical before applying it to their fields.

OIL INDUSTRY WOES — The Texas oil industry is in a three-way bind, Governor Connally told the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association. Stabilization of foreign imports would strengthen the troubled industry, he said, but Texas oil also is losing markets to other states and to natural gas. TIPRO backed legislation to require pooling of small tract oil and gas leases for operational purposes. Connally went to Washington to ask Secretary of Interior Stewart Udall for more imports controls.

OLD-AGE HEALTH PLAN UNDERWAY — Fifty-three insurance companies have joined the statewide coop, authorized to write health insurance for citizens over age 65. Among the first senior citizens to sign up for insurance were Gov. John Connally's mother and father-in-law, Mrs. J. B. Connally of Floresville and Arno Brill of Austin.

The voluntary health insurance plan is available to all those 65 and older, regardless of their health condition. Plan was authorized by the 58th Legislature.

BUDGETMAKERS BALK — Legislative Budget Board declined to give its immediate consent to a new $1,000,000 conference center building at the University of Texas. Members said they feared Governor Connally might red-line the item.

Board approved additional outlays for new high speed data processing equipment for the State Highway Department and a study to determine future needs of all agencies for such equipment.

Board Director Vernon McGee warned of an approaching revenue problem. He said scare studies of smoking results might drastically cut tobacco tax income.

EDUCATION FUNDS NEEDED — The Committee of Governing Boards of State Colleges and Universities estimated $15,000,000 more will be needed by Texas' 20 tax-supported colleges and universities this fiscal period to keep up with the national pattern of teaching salaries, libraries and research.

Committee will work with the Governor's study committee and the Texas Commission on Higher Education to blueprint educational growth. Governor Connally told the college board members they should take a searching look at their own schools to see if all programs are necessary.

HAPPY WITH PARKS GIFT — Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler applauded the gift of 3,000 acres of lake property in Jefferson County to the State Parks and Wildlife Department. Gift was from the J. L. McFaddin Estate. He withdrew an old request to the Attorney General to push a State claim to the acreage. Sadler predicted the waters will be developed into a "sportsman's paradise."

COURTS SPEAK — Vending machine operators selling items which cost less than 25 cents each have to pay the state sales tax on their take, the Supreme Court ruled. However, the Legislature now has adopted amendments to exempt vending machines, newspapers and merchants with a majority of sales less than 25 cents.

The Supreme Court ordered the state to pay back to four utility companies in Houston, Corpus Christi, Shreveport and Abilene $355,000 plus interest in franchise taxes. It found the corporations were exempt from paying the tax on sums kept in reserve to pay deferred federal income taxes.

The high court heard new arguments over constitutionality of the 1961 dedicated reserve gas tax.

HUNTING LEASE LOTTERY — Sportsmen will cast lots for the right to hunt game on six State preserves. Applications, available from State Parks and Wildlife Department, must be returned before October 31. Winners of the drawing will be notified a few days thereafter.

Preserves open for the hunt include Kerr Wildlife Management Area; Sierra Diablo area in Culberson County; Gene Howe area in Hemphill County; Angellina area in Sabine and Cherokee counties; Black Gap area in Brewster County; and Engeling area in Anderson County.

TRUCK DRIVERS COMPLIMENTED — R. L. Atwell, Jr., of Houston says Texas truckers have an excellent safety record because "we live with safety, we breathe it, we think it all day and dream about it at night."

That's why the Texas truck driver is known and recognized as the safest man on the highway, the TMTA director stated.

His remarks were made at an Austin meeting of the Texas Council of Safety Supervisors and the Oil Field Haulers Council of Safety Supervisors.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Thomas of Lubbock were Clarendon visitors during the week end.

CONCESSION STAND IS SUCCESSFUL AT GAME

The Clarendon Jaycee-ette concession stand at the Clarendon Pot Belly-Shamrock No Wind game was very successful, as well as the Pot Belly victory. They hope that the service was satisfactory and everyone had as good a time as the Jaycee-ettes did.

Thanks should be given the Band Parents organization for use of the concession stand. Their help was greatly appreciated.
