Cooking & Serving Crews Lined Up To Feed Big Crowd July Fourth

Flip Breedlove, chairman of the barbecue committee says that all committees are ready to go on the big cooking job for the annual July 4th Celebration. Barbecuing will start at 4:00 A.M. on the morning of the third. The barbecue will be served on the 4th of July at 11:30 A.M. on the court house lawn.

The beef committee has completed arrangements for the beef to be used. Some was donated by ranchers, some by individuals, and the remainder purchased by the Outdoor Entertainment Association to provide the necessary amount needed for the barbecue. The purchase was made possible by the donation of money by merchants and individuals. This donation will also provide trimmings as plates, napkins, sauce, pickles, onions etc. The Outdoor Entertainment Ass'n's purchasing of meat this year is nothing new. The last several years a part of the meat for barbecuing purposes has been bought by the Association through donations. This public should know for it is definitely an expense to be considered in the over-all cost of the celebration.

The committee reports that over five thousand pounds of beef will be barbecued. The committee to assist Breedlove with the barbecuing will be Pete Land, Hubert Rhoades, Gene White, John White, Homer Bones, Lloyd Reid, Lacy Noble, Roy Blackman, George Schollenbarger, Geo. Thompson, Doyce Graham, Wes Knorpp, Charlie Deyhle, Will Lowe, Jim Simmons, Ronald Gooch, J. R. Graham, Dale Burrows, Archie Fool, Ralph Hill, Tex Selvidge, and Don Robinson. Any others who wish to help just be at the barbecue pits at four AM on the third.

Lloyd McCord will set up the tables for the serving lines again this year and Mr. Drennan will be on the loud speaker to see that all serving lines run smoothly. The bread will be donated by Meads Bread, Fresh Bread and Cook Book Bread. Beans will be donated by Gunn Brothers of Amarillo. Raymond King will be chairman of the cooking of beans. His assistant will be Mutt Graham. The bean cooking will start the afternoon of the third. Mr. King will get his committee together and rock the beans before that date. Bud Hermesmeyer will get his committee together to prepared the meat for cooking on Saturday the second; this will be done at the locker plant. The onion peeling crew will be under the direction of B. B. "Rabbit" Osburn and they will get the job done on the morning of the 4th.

The captains of the serving lines, who will be in charge of two lines each are P. C. Messer, The ASCS Office, Ashtola Community, Chamberlain Community, and G. W. Estlack. Murphy Funeral Home will erect a tent at the barbecuing pits for shade for those doing the barbecuing. Those hauling the wood are Carl Naylor, T. W. McAnear, Bill Craft, and Horace McClellan. The West Texas Utilities Company will put up lights over the barbecue pits. The City of Clarendon will have their big water truck on hand for all the good drinking water at the serving lines.

Anyone wishing to help with any part of the cooking or serving and has not been contacted can see Flip Breedlove.

This Is Your Annual Celebration Edition

A majority of Clarendon business firms are extending a warm and hearty welcome to one and all to come to the annual Celebration, as evidenced by the large number of ads in this issue of the Leader. Turn through your paper and read the words of welcome from your local newspaper advertisers and make plans to be present for every event. In addition, you will find reprints of several old photographs and stories of the early days. We thought you would enjoy them at this time.

As always, it has been a pleasure to print this larger issue of the Leader. We especially want to thank the merchants for turning in their ad copy early to make this publication possible. We hope this will be the biggest and best celebration ever held for each and every one of you.

We will start the Leader a day behind next week so if your Leader is not on time, you will know we just couldn't get all the work done in so short a time.

Most Stores Plan To Close Monday July 4

Change In Post Office Window Hours

Starting in the morning, July 1st, the Post Office windows will open at 7:30 A.M. and they will close at 4:30 P.M. The majority of the patrons that we have polled have indicated they like these hours better since it enables them to transact their post office business and reach their places of business before 8:00 o'clock, stated Mike McCully, local Postmaster. This will also help us do a better job in dispatching your mail.

In the past we have tried to impress on everyone that we need our out of town mail by 4:30 P.M. in order to assure you it will not lay in the office over night. We continue to find mail in the letter drops after the afternoon dispatch leaves for the Sectional Center. Needless to say this mail is delayed 24 hours so remember to mail EARLY, stated McCully.

Once again we want to mention the importance of ZIP CODE. If you do not have the Zip Code for your correspondence you are invited to call the Post Office, and we will furnish you the number, McCully added.

We have also received complaints of unauthorized persons calling for mail of other patrons. If you want someone else to call for your mail, please furnish them with the combination of your box or authorize us in writing each time the mail is called for by someone other than yourself, the postmaster concluded.

FIFTY TAX SUITS FILED BY SCHOOL AND CITY

Fifty tax suits were filed in the District Court of Donley County this week by the Clarendon School and the City of Clarendon. These are the first of a series of suits that are to be filed this summer to collect delinquent taxes according to school and city officials.

All of the property owners involved in these suits were contacted at least twice either in person or by letter with reference to payment of their taxes and were notified that suit would be filed if the taxes were not paid or arrangements made to pay the same. Present plans of the two taxing agencies include the filing of approximately fifty other suits against parties who have been notified of their delinquencies and asked to make arrangements to pay the same.

Warning Regarding Fireworks, Drinking And Reckless Driving

The Sheriff's Department, and the City Police Department have both issued warnings this week in regard to the shooting of fireworks, excessive drinking and reckless driving.

We are asking parents to convey the message to their youngsters that it is unlawful to shoot fireworks within the City limits, stated Police Chief Gary Gerdes. We have had numerous complaint calls already, especially from sick people and those with heart ailments. Please be considerate of others and regard the danger involved with shooting fireworks, Gerdes added. All violators will be picked up and dealt with according to law, he concluded.

Sheriff Cornell and Police Chief Gerdes are reminding everyone to be especially careful with their driving during the celebration as there will be youngsters running pell-mell, horses and a throng of people in general along with exceedingly heavy traffic.

If you plan to drink, please use moderation and keep your bottles and cans in your own car and not throw them about town, Cornell stated. If you do drink—do not drive as you may injure someone as well as yourself and a DWI charge is a more serious offense.

Celebrations were great back in the old days just like the fourth of July today in Clarendon. This picture was taken many, many years ago when there was a fishing hole southeast of the local post office as St. Mary's Academy can be seen in the center background and St. Mary's Catholic Church in the background at the left. All the kids sitting on the bank were fishing. Picture courtesy Stocking's Drug Store—Leader Engraving.

NEGATIVES ARE POISON

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department cautions folks using "instant picture" cameras that the discarded negatives are poisonous to animals.

The Department said tests have shown that such negatives have killed deer.

It urges persons using this type of camera to keep the exposed negatives while afield and later dispose of them in a place inaccessible to both domestic animals and wildlife.

It is said that Mark Twain once opened a letter addressed to his wife and then revealed it, marking across the broken seal. "Opened by mistake to see what was inside".

David Thoreau was once asked if he had made his peace with God to which he replied; "I didn't know we had ever quarreled."

A frantic lady was hurrying to get about a dozen youngsters to a Sunday School party on time. In her desperation she ran a red light. The policeman rolled up behind her and asked, "Lady don't you know when to stop? ... I beg your pardon," said the lady,

"But these are not all mine".

It seems that just about every group has a magazine these days. From a magazine called Datebook these insulting quotes were found; "You sure are strong, but smell isn't everything".

"You must have been a beautiful baby. What Happened?" "As an outsider what do you think of the human race."

"Fly away with me. . . We'll use your broomstick." "Your heart is in the right place. . . It's your head that worries me."

Most of the whitewashing these days is done with black ink.

JOINTLESS TOMATO SHOWS PROMISE

Researchers at Texas A&M University's Plant Disease Experiment Station are on the brink of developing a jointless tomato.

A jointless tomato is the dream of big-time tomato growers, since it can be mechanically harvested.

The idea is to eliminate the joint on the stem located about one inch from the fruit.

On ordinary varieties, when the tomato is picked, a stem remains on the fruit. The stem punctures other tomatoes and causes rapid spoilage. The stems must either be removed by hand or during processing.

Dr. A. L. Harrison, plant pathologist at the A&M field unit, has been selecting tomatoes which have the jointless characteristic. He has one in breeding stock now—still just a number—but it shows promise, he says.

At a recent field day here, Harrison demonstrated to visitors that the tomato cannot be picked from the vine and leave the stem on. It comes off every time, since there is no joint to break, he said.

Work is being carried on at other A&M field stations and on the main campus at College Station. The researchers are optimistic that before long a jointless variety will be ready for release to Texas tomato growers.

JULY FOURTH TRAFFIC COUNT — 1966?

What will this July Fourth bring traffic wise? If it is similar to the ones in the past it will be deadly, injurious, and destructive. During the last 190 years since our nation declared its Independence there have been eight major wars claiming 1,130,393 American lives. The automobile has been in existence for about 65 years claiming 1,559,950 lives. Thus the battlefield has been a safer place than the "homefront."

The 1965 July Fourth holiday covered a period of three days in which there were 19 persons killed and 372 persons injured in rural traffic accidents in Texas. The 19 persons killed were involved in 14 fatal accidents. These fatal accidents involved 21 hazardous violations and one pedestrian violation. The 372 persons injured were involved in 178 injury accidents. The injury accidents involved 167 hazardous violations and 11 vehicle defects. There were 395 property damage accidents involving 244 hazardous violations, 28 vehicle defects, and one pedestrian violation.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

A NEW SUGAR IMPORT THREAT

I have fought for years to obtain for American farmers the right to produce a much larger share of the sugar consumed in this country. A combine of international sugar interests allied with East Coast shippers and processors has managed so far to retain the lion's share of the U. S. market for foreign producers. As a result, the growth of the sugar industry here at home has been slow, with acreages permitted for sugar beets held in tight check. Thousands of American farmers who would like to grow sugar beets are prohibited from doing so. As I have said so many times, one of the best ways to advance diversification of U. S. agriculture while providing a good cash crop for many more farmers would be to overturn the present quota system and put severe limitations on sugar imports from abroad. We can point to the success of the sugar beet growing area in the southwest part of the 18th District and the $20 million Holly Sugar Co. plant at Hereford as examples of the benefits possible for American agriculture while increasing domestic sugar production.

A new round in this old fight is shaping because imports have risen swiftly and threateningly of products containing sugar and butterfat and/or flour. These products are ingredients used by, among others, ice cream manufacturers and contain, commonly, 55 percent sugar by bulk. While imports of these products totaled less than 3.5 million pounds in 1965, the import total in only the first five months of this year reached 37 million pounds. In 1964, when the world price of sugar was higher than the U. S. price, there were no imports to this country of these products, but now the world price has fallen and the best market is in this country. Therefore, sugar that once was sold elsewhere is aimed at the U. S. market in a form not covered in the Sugar Act in order that the best price can be obtained.

Importing these products runs directly counter to the mandate of Congress in setting the Sugar Act quotas. The countries pushing the sugar mixtures are Belgium, Denmark, Great Britain, and West Germany, among others. Since none of these countries was assigned quotas for raw sugar, their shipping sugar-containing products or mixtures serves to add to the burden American farmers must carry because of already-excessive import levels. The sugar-containing products being imported are direct substitutions for products Americans could supply.

The Department of Agriculture has been reviewing this problem at the instigation of concerned Members of Congress and the domestic sugar industry and has taken the first step toward limiting the importation of sugar-containing products. Section 206 of the Sugar Act provides that if importation of any such products will substantially interfere with the attainment of objectives of the Act, limits may be set on the quantities of such products to be imported. The setting of these limits is now being undertaken. Under the proposal, when proposed quotas become effective, no further imports will be permitted to enter the United States this year except from those countries that still have not shipped the amount specified in their quotas. The proposal also calls for imports to be reduced further in the calendar year year beginning January, 1967.

Meanwhile, those of us interested in obtaining for American farmers the right to serve their own country's needs must continue the right to educate the Congress, officials in the Executive Branch, and the public at large as to the problem and opportunity. Sugar beets are a crop that could accomplish much toward solving economic problems for many farming areas in the United States — if only more Americans were permitted to grow them.

NEW BEEF CATTLE BULLETINS AVAILABLE

Two new beef cattle bulletins from Texas A & M University are available at my office," according to County Agent Ronald Gooch.

They are titled "Nutrient Requirements of the Cow and Calf" and "Feeding the Cow and Calf", both written by L. A. Maddox, Jr., Extension animal husbandman at A&M.

With this column, begins a series of articles outlining material covered in the bulletins.

According to the bulletins, you must know the grazing habits of a beef cow to fully understand her performance.

Beef cows on pasture normally spend 16 to 20 hours a day grazing or ruminating. Cattle have two primary grazing periods. The first begins about daylight and continues for 3 or more hours. The other is during mid day with several short grazing periods for a total of 1 to 3 hours. As a rule, no grazing takes place from about 2 a.m. to dawn.

The cow must increase her grazing work as the grass becomes more mature. She must move some 1,000 pounds of body weight about a mile a day while foraging between 10 and 30 pounds of dry matter daily.

A cow can graze only until the rumen is filled, then she must stop until enough rumination takes place to allow forage to pass out of the rumen.

The length of time grass remains in the rumen depends on the digestibility of the grass. Young tender grasses move out of the rumen at a faster rate than dry mature forages. Thus, consumption of green grasses is high; consumption of mature and weathered forages is low.

Another interesting note: A&M research shows as the temperature increases, the intake of forage goes down. This may account, in part, for low gains during the hot summer months, concludes Gooch.

In 1854 the State of Texas purchased 1,280 acres of East Texas Big Thicket at $2 per acre and set it aside as an Indian Reservation.

Individual tourists entering Mexico from Texas in the first nine months of 1963 showed an increase of 123,930 over the same period in 1962.

Mrs. N. L. Jones was honored at an Open House in the home of her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Jones, Sunday afternoon, June 26th. The occasion marked her 95th birthday. Hosts for the occasion were her children: John H. Jones, Mrs. Jean Hester, Mrs. George McKee, all of Clarendon, and Mrs. Charity Lee Humphrey of Independence, Oregon. All were present with the exception of Mrs. Humphrey. A son Joe Jones, who lived in Tennessee, died some three years ago.

Guests were received from 2 to 5 p.m. with 118 registering and wishing Mrs. Jones many happy returns of the day. Entertaining rooms were decorated throughout with floral arrangements in shades of orchid. A great granddaughter, Gail Hester of Amarillo, registered the guests.

Visitors were greeted by Mr. Jones and Mrs. Hester and presented to the honoree.

Refreshments were served from a beautifully laid table which was covered with a lace cloth over orchid. The centerpiece was a dainty floral arrangement made especially for the occasion by a brother-in-law at Enid, Oklahoma. Appointments were crystal. Presiding at the table were great granddaughters, Miss Pat Hester and Miss Joanna Hester, both of Amarillo. Others in the house-party included Mary Jo Rutherford, Betty Hester, and Betty June Hester, all of Amarillo, and Beverly Humphrey and Eva Bell of Pampa.

Mr. And Mrs. John Bass Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary Sunday Afternoon

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John Bass was the occasion of a reception given in their honor by their son, John M. and their daughter Rosalyn Poindexter, on Sunday afternoon, June 26. Mr. and Mrs. Bass, the former Terra Cagle, were married in the Cagle home in Memphis on June 28, 1916.

The reception room of Patching Club House was decorated with white bells, golden chrysanthemums and white lillies. John W. Ewen of Neosho, Missouri, who was best man for John and Terra's wedding, and his wife, Grace, were with Mr. and Mrs. Bass to greet their guests.

The table for the register featured sun flowers and twisted gold candles. Approximately three hundred guests registered during the calling hours.

Highlighting the main serving table was a large net and satin heart interspersed with yellow roses and wedding bells; attached were white satin streamers bearing the names JOHN and TERRA. The three tiered wedding cake, gift of a life-long friend, Mrs. H. C. Brumley, featured golden bells and roses which Mrs. Brumley had made. The punch table arrangement included a candle created by a personal friend of the Poindexters and two ceramic turtle doves. The tables were covered with identical gold satin cloths.

A focal point of interest was a poem, written in gold and framed in antique gold, which was composed by John M.'s wife, Janet.

Of interest to the guests was a handmade memory book by Rosalyn depicting the theme of "This Is Your Life" for Mr. and Mrs. Bass. The book had a padded gold satin back with gold roses.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Roy L. Guthrie of Memphis, Mrs. Van Kennedy, and Mrs. Pat Bagwell of Claude; other hostesses were Mrs. Clyde Hudson, Mrs. Rex Howell of Seymour and members of Rosalyn's high school class. Musical selections were rendered by a classmate of Rosalyn's, Mrs. Doyce Graham, and Sammy

Russell of Childress, great nephew of Mr. Bass.

JOINTLESS TOMATO

Texas A&M University plant breeders are on the brink of developing a jointless tomato—elimination of the joint on the stem. Ordinarily, when the tomato is picked a stem remains on the fruit. The stem punctures other tomatoes and causes rapid spoilage and must be removed by hand or during processing. The jointless type, it's now only a number but shows much promise, can be harvested mechanically, thus, reducing cost of production.

RECREATION PERMITS

The Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, Department of Interior, directs recreational programs in Federal Recreation areas. ASCS County Offices have been asked to cooperate in this program by making available, to the public, annual admittance permits to all these areas. We have a small supply of these wallet size annual permits which are valid from April 1, 1966, through March 31, 1967. The price is $7.00 per family.

HAYING AND GRAZING INFORMATION

Information has been received that newspapers and radio stations in various sections of the State have carried notices to the effect that Texas had been approved for haying and grazing on diverted acres. THIS IS INCORRECT.

Only three counties in the State have been approved for emergency haying and grazing due to drought conditions. These are Deaf Smith, Oldham, and Randall Counties. Should Donley County be approved later, this office will be notified and we will pass the word on to you immediately. Information on emergency haying and grazing received from any other source should be disregarded.

WINDROWING DIVERTED ACRES

Let us remind you that windrowing diverted acres is not permissible under the provisions of the various programs. If you have any question about the eligibility or uses of these acreages, please come by the office and talk with us.

OFFICE NEWS

Our two Molly's have been vacationing for the past two weeks. Molly Ritter has been on a trip to California and other western states and Mollie Moffitt has been trout fishing in Colorado streams. They will be back after the Fourth of July relaxed, refreshed, and ready for work.

HOLIDAY

This office will be closed July 4th for a legal holiday. However, the office help will be working in the serving line at the ASCS booth for the barbecue on this date. We'll see you there.

Dollars For Viet Nam

The American Red Cross has asked every county for a special contribution to the American Red Cross to help cover the terrific deficit in their Viet Nam budget. Everyone knows the unanticipated buildup of military forces in Viet Nam, and this has increased expenses in the same proportion. Now regardless of your feelings about the war in Viet Nam, the fact remains the boys are over there in ever increasing numbers, and they are entitled to our support, stated Mike McCully, County Red Cross chairman.

On Tuesday, July 5th tables will be set up at both banks and the Post Office, and there will be ladies there to acknowledge your contribution. Regardless of how small your contribution, let's let the boys know Donley County still cares. Any advance contribution may be left with either bank.

PYROTECHNIC SALES SHOW HUGE INCREASE

It was recently announced by Roy Trout, President of the Texas Pyrotechnic Association, that there are over 6,000 Pyrotechnic Retailers in the State of Texas. The Texas Pyrotechnic Industry employs over 7,500 persons with a yearly payroll of over $2,250,000. More than $18,000,000 is spent in the United States annually on pyrotechnic sales. Thirty-five per cent of the pyrotechnic production is imported from Hong Kong, Japan and Macao. The remaining 65 per cent is produced in the U. S. by 8 major manufacturers.

The pyrotechnic dealers operate from regulated and approved stands and stores and sell only during the periods of June 24 to July 4 and December 15 to January 1. Posted around these stands will be found large color posters telling of State and Local regulations. Special precautions are now taken in the sale of pyrotechnics to teenagers. Retailers will not sell to children under 10 years of age. Older children may purchase, if accompanied by adults.

And what are classified as pyrotechnics? FIREWORKS!

Mr. and Mrs. Olace Hicks have returned home after a visit with their children, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hicks and Sherry and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Harrison and Anna in Idaho. They also visited Mr. Hicks' sister, Mrs. Lillie Bale in Reno, Nevada and enroute home came by way of Boulder Dam and Prescott, Arizona where Mr. Hicks was stationed at a CCC Camp 31 years ago.

Remember When—This is how main street intersection looked in new Clarendon a few years ago—in the horse and buggy days. This was the First National Bank that was constructed around the turn of the century and only recently, the remodeled version was torn down to make way for the new parking lot at Cliffords' Grocery. New brick now face the south wall of the grocery store and certainly add to the appearance of main street and highway intersection.

DIDN'T LIKE POSTMASTER SO USED STAMPS

Reprint from June 25, 1936 edition of the Leader

Back in 1887 old-timers will recall that George Berry presided over the White Elephant saloon at Mobeetie. George was a big fellow and "Roxy", a stage driver from old Clarendon to Mobeetie, often hauled over loads of customers from the town where liquor could not be sold.

Many of the old-timers did not like the Mobeetie postmaster. Perry Lefors, after whom the town of Lefors is named, conceived the idea that he would attach a special delivery stamp and have the postmaster deliver a valentine to Berry. It worked, but it made the postmaster "hot" because he did not like Berry. Later, special delivery letters flooded the Mobeetie postoffice after $10 worth had been bought in Clarendon. A colored lady by the name of Washington got most of the letters because they figured the postmaster would not want to be seen keeping the trail hot to the negro woman's cabin. Just a sample of old-time amusement before the days of picture shows, golf and such like.

OLD TIME COWPUNCHERS SAW CLARENDON IN MAKING

Reprint from June 25, 1936 edition of the Leader

Very few of the old cowpunchers are yet living who went to "Old Clarendon" to get their mail and tobacco. Four of them are living here yet, according to Joe Horn, one of the oldest if not the oldest of them, now 73.

These men are Joe Horn, J. W. Martin, J. W. Kent, Buster Culwell, all of them going strong. A few of them really act "youngish" at a square dance to this day, nearly a half century after early days on the range.

1966 marks the 25th anniversary of the American Tree Farm system.

When they came to Clarendon in the old days, the Cowboys really enjoyed a moment to relax and partake of some good restaurant food. Maybe you can recognize these fellows.

Mrs. J. D. Jeffries had a very enjoyable Christmas because of the visit to her two sisters, Mrs. Mattie Grogan of Ravena, and Mrs. Bertha Kent, of Beverly, Texas.

The Editor (W. P. Blake), and Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Hall, Prof. and Mrs. Silvey took New Year dinner with Dr. and Mrs. D. B. McGee.

T. Jones, late of Greer county, has planted out 1,000 apple, plum, pear and peach trees.

Mrs. E. W. Doss, who lives four miles east, was painfully injured Monday when her team scared at a train, ran away. The neckyoke broke and when the tongue struck the ground, the hack turned over bruising her. Mrs. Doss was taken to her home and Dr. White called and her husband notified.

F. A. Simpson has sold his residence to D. R. Priddy.

Richard Peebles spent Christmas with Tennessee friends who have lately moved to near Amarillo.

C. Kerbow was in the hardware business. It later became H. C. Kerbow and Sons when Bennet and Ralph Kerbow became old enough to assume portions of the responsibility. The senior member of the firm passed on some years ago. The sons continue the business, it being one of the leading hardware and furniture firms of Clarendon.

H. W. Taylor & Sons were conducting the hardware business. H. W. has been retired for several years due to age, he being near 90. The business is now operated by Crockett W. Taylor.

J. A. McKillop's drug store was a landmark for many years. In 1909 his store and the Stocking drug store led the field in that line.

Rathjen's shoe store had come on the scene in 1909. To this day it is the only exclusive shoe store in town. Fred W. Rathjen, nephew of J. H. Rathjen, conducts the business.

J. D. Stocking was a leading physician here at that time, and continued as such until his sudden death from heart failure while making an enthusiastic address for the nation during the World War. Standifer & Hamm were physicians here at that time.

The Donley County State bank officials 27 years ago were: president, H. D. Ramsey; vice president, P. R. Stephens; cashier, Wesley Knorpp.

Mrs. A. M. Beville & Co. were the leading milliners and ladies' furnishings mart of the fast growing city. Mr. Beville was in the insurance business.

Geo. Washington & P. A. Buntin under the name of Washington & Buntin "bought, sold and exchanged" household goods of all kinds. Mr. Buntin continues to reside here, being interested in the mortuary business with his son Fred for many, many years. He is now nearly 90 years old.

Thomas Moran "ran" a livery and feed business. His "transfer and bus line met all trains."

S. D. Parks conducted a tailoring business. J. M. Capehart was a popcorn vendor. He is residing in California at this time.

This list and its history could be extended far into the night. Many of the firms doing business here 30 years or more ago, still are here.

Reprint from June 25, 1936 edition of the Leader

The E. M. Ozier grocery occupied the center of the business world in Clarendon in 1909. Smith & Webb had a confectionary store. J. D. & P. D. Ross were leading clothiers. Mr. Ozier has long since retired from the grocery trade, and looks after his extensive farming interests southwest of town. The Ross brothers have passed on to their reward many years ago.

Will M. Clower looked after watch repairing and conducted a jewelry business. The firm of H.

Rev. J. N. Kendall united in marriage Miss Effie Redwine and Bert Stice at the home of the bride 8 miles north of town.

B. F. Adams returned from Dallas Monday.

Advt. Will sell the west half of the Collier section one-half mile south of the courthouse, or will cut it up to suit purchaser. W. H. Condron, owner. Land was selling at $12.50 an acre, and the records show that this land sold for that amount.

Hon. H. S. Bishop, district attorney, visited here Tuesday. (Judge Bishop is a candidate for the same office in Potter county now.)

Rev. W. L. Skinner, pastor of the Baptist Church, is the principal booster for the establishment of a Baptist college in Clarendon.

J. S. Fort arrived from Hamilton county this week and will manage the G. C. Ferguson ranch five miles north of town.

Postmaster C. J. Lewis was in Amarillo Monday on business.

STATE CAPITAL
Highlights
AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford

State Board of Insurance is disturbed over the "growing tendency" of some insurance companies to cancel out or refuse to renew auto coverage on certain classes of drivers.

At its mid-week (June 15) rate hearing, Board debated whether it should ask for new legislation or put into effect new administrative regulations to deal with the situation.

Board Chairman Wm. Hunter McLean said more and more drivers are being forced into higher-cost "assigned risk plan" coverage because of "unwillingness of companies to voluntarily issue inurance to young drivers, older drivers and drivers with poor driving records.

Another insurance rate boost is anticipated due to increasing accidents, injuries and traffic deaths, and higher repair and hospital costs. Rates were boosted 13.4 per cent in 1965.

McLean placed these among items for consideration at the mid-week meeting.

● Revival of a "penalty system" based on number of accidents and serious traffic violations in figuring rates. A version of the system was abandoned four years ago after a brief trial and strong public opposition.

● Alteration of the assigned risk plan to force all companies to take a proportionate share of "sub-standard" risk coverage.

● Action to curb mass cancellation due to class, age, territory or agency and individual cancellations of policies of those who have no record of accidents or moving traffic violations.

● Request for more uniform traffic regulations and enforcement procedures from county to county.

● Modifications in method of classifying drivers.

Board wants to find a way to "avoid further 'drying up' of the insurance market," emphasized McLean.

Companies writing auto insurance in Texas lost $13,000,000 last year on the coverage. McLean calculated earned premiums at $417,200,000, net premiums at $388,000,000, losses at $233,200,000, loss settlement, adjustment and litigation expense at $42,600,000 and company "expenses" at $125,000,000.

He termed "an all-out, effective traffic accident prevention program" the state's single greatest need.

McLean said he would urge the insurance industry to take the lead in "bringing safety to our streets and highways."

NEW TAXES — A state tax rate boost next year is inevitable, according to House Speaker Ben Barnes.

He predicted the 60th Legislature will "definitely face tax legislation."

Barnes declared that increasing cost of education alone will "require additional monies raised by taxes." Forth-eight per cent of every dollar paid to the state goes to education, he noted.

In a brief preview of his own ideas for legislative action, Barnes said he will ask an increase in juvenile parole officers to help curb teenage crime. He noted a study committee is exploring possible need of legislation dealing with obscene and pornographic publications.

STATE PAY BOOST FAVOR-ED—Three state officials with most influence over the Legislature are united in pledging high priority backing for a "substantial" state employees' pay boost in 1967.

Lt. Governor Preston Smith and House Speaker Ben Barnes made strong public commitments to that effect last week. Gov. John Connally earlier had stated that a salary boost for the 44,000 state workers will be "one of (his) strongest recommendations to the next legislature."

Texas Public Employees' Association has agreed generally on a revision plan which would cost about $70,000,000 overall for the next biennium — $21,000,000 from general revenue. This would mean something like eight per cent more for lower bracket employees and up to 25 per cent more for higher echelons.

School teachers are pushing hard for a "national average" pay level, but Connally and Barnes indicate they think the state employees are in greater need.

AG RULES — Corporations providing television cable service are public utilities and have a right to place their cables along state highway right-of-way, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr said in an official opinion.

In other opinions, Carr concluded that:

● Investment of state employee retirement funds in corporate securities is subject to discretion of Employees Retirement System Board of Trustees and not that of University Board of Regents. Boards have right to exercise independent judgement in investing their respective trust funds.

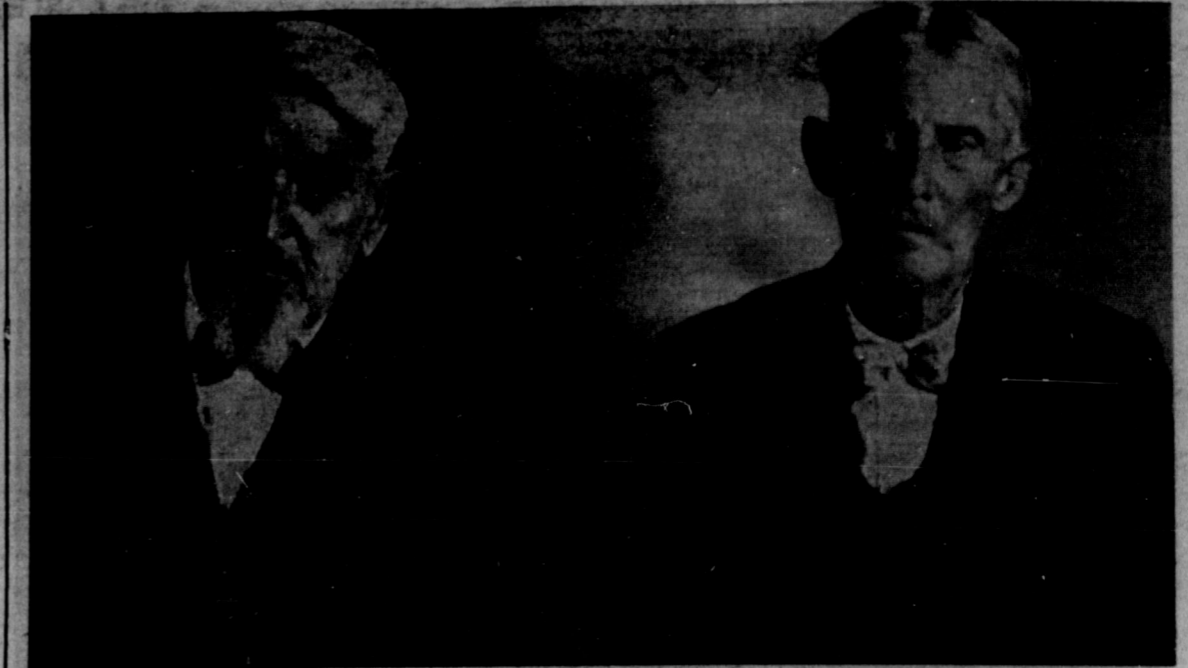

● State can pay the expenses of replacing an employee's eyeglasses destroyed in an on-the-job accident.

● Control of building and grounds purchased with Texas Employees Retirement System Trust funds is within jurisdiction of Board of Trustees of Texas Retirement System.

● Grayson County can accept a deed to the bridge over Red River nine miles east of Denison and spend the tax money to operate and maintain span.

RESTORATION TOUR SET—Members of a legislative survey committee will tour historic forts and missions June 23-25 with a view to restoring them.

Itinerary will include Fort Parker at Mexia, Fort Richardson at Jacksboro, Fort Griffin at Albany, Fort Chadbourne at Bronte, Fort Concho at San Angelo, Fort McKavett at Menard, Presidio

Lieutenant Governor Smith has appointed Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas to the interim Committee to Study the Nursing Profession to fill the vacancy caused by resignation of Sen. Martin Dies Jr. of Lufkin.

We know it sounds fishy, but honest Injun, someone hijacked a batch of 28,000 fishing lures enroute from Chicago to Dowagic, Michigan. This was some time ago, and they haven't been heard from yet.

FBI was called in because the hijacked truck was engaged in interstate commerce. So, if a suspicious looking character offers you a low-down price on a batch of Toni lures—don't bite. You might get hooked by G-Men.

Tackle salesmen of course now claim that this true incident is proof that theirs is the hottest bait in the country.

What is there about a Toni that would make a gang of pictorial purloiners pinch these fishy foibles?

In case you haven't guessed, it's a fishing lure made in Sweden and said to be about the most enticing hunk of smorgasbord ever to tempt a fish.

It has a glistening metallic body and a multi-holed spinner that hisses at fish as it goes past. Whether the fish hit it in anger, curiosity, hunger, greed or just outright suicide is uncertain. But according to the Heddon folks, who introduced the lure to American fishermen, fishing with one is like tossing a hungry bulldog a piece of meat on a string.

According to a UPI story out of Washington, the FBI wants to know "Who's got the Toni?" Hmnnnnnn!

In case you haven't seen one, this is the bait they keep on the shelves in a tightly corked bottle so the fish can't get to it before it hits the water. They claim that's the only way to keep it from catching fish.

Clever promotion people, these Heddon folks.

JUDGEMENT COUNTS IN WATER CODE

The fine print NOT in the new state water safety code may trick some water sports enthusiasts into hazardous areas, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The regulations spell out the more obvious equipment requirements, limitations on boat operation affecting skiers and swimmers, about sobriety, about boat licenses, transfers of ownership, lost or destroyed certificates and about reporting accidents.

There is generous detail about driver discipline and responsibility, about willful, wantonly reckless or negligent driving. Also strong emphasis on such words as "reasonable" and "prudent" and about "hazardous wakes or wash."

And it's against regs to anchor a boat in the traveled portion of any river or channel. It's not legal to water ski later than one hour after sunset and earlier than one hour before sunrise.

But it's the unwritten law angles that may trip a lot of water sports, as the Department see it. The statewide law does NOT forbid, for example, boat drivers sitting on the back of the seat or on the side of the cockpit.

The state law does NOT forbid persons sitting on the forward end of the boat, or otherwise occupying areas such as cabin tops not designed for human occupancy.

The law does not stipulate distances between moving boats and permanent installations, such as docks and moving watercraft.

But the Department's files are beginning to bulge with the grim details of persons violating commonsense precautions.

The files also reflect, from the last monthly report, that game wardens now sharing responsibility for protecting water sports enthusiasts, issued 42 tickets last month, 39 of them for lacking a life jacket for each person in boats.

DONLEY COUNTY'S EARLIEST SETTLERS BRAVED INDIAN PERILS AND DROUTH

Reprint from June 25, 1936 edition of the Leader

The first settlement in Donley was made under the leadership of L. H. Carhart in 1878. For the safety of the small number of settlers, principally from the far northern states, they chose to live in a small town group.

This town was located on Carroll Creek at the juncture of that creek and Salt Fork some five miles north and west of Clarendon. The town was first given the name of "Christian Colony" by the settlers, but soon afterwards, because of their strict rules regarding whiskey and gambling, was dubbed "Saints Roost" by the roving cowpunchers.

While the cowpunchers included whiskey and gambling in their general mode of living, they were death on Indians and thieves. For this reason, the newcomers found a certain forbearance for the occasional visit of the range riders provided their actions could be classified within the bounds of reason.

Stone and mud, native building material, and a few tents formed the first dwellings. The first lumber building was a combined church and school constructed in 1879. The lumber was hauled from Dodge City, Kansas, a distance of 250 miles, and cost approximately $90 a thousand.

No lots were sold in the new town except with the agreement that no intoxicants should be sold on the premises.

From the very beginning, the settlers were beset with disappointment. Dry weather and northern methods of farming were a flat failure, many of the settlers returning to the east discouraged.

The spring of 1882 opened with brighter prospects. The county was organized, officers elected and sworn in April 11th. Judge Emanuel Dubbs of Wheeler County swore in the officers.

The first officers were G. A. Brown, county judge; B. H. White, county clerk; J. D. Wilson, sheriff; W. D. Kimbell, treasurer; J. T. Otey, assessor; J. H. Parks, surveyor.

County commissioners were T. W. Morrison, Charles Goodnight, L. R. Dyer and S. B. Nall.

The first couple to be married in the new county were Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Beverly. He afterwards served Donley county as sheriff.

At this time the whole country was but a cattle range. So little was thought of farming that those who plowed up the grass were accused of defying Providence. The feeble efforts of those who

Until the advent of the Denver railway through this section in 1887, cattle was the only proven industry of profit. About this time however, settlers came in numbers and filed on school land.

The first dry year discouraged a number who eagerly sold their land for a song, and returned east. The panic of 1893 did not help matters, and more drifted back east.

The Legislature came to the rescue by reducing the price of all Donley county land to $1 an acre, forty years to pay and the unpaid portion drawing 3 percent. Original purchasers were given the right to repurchase the land that had to be cancelled on the first purchase to make the act legal.

At this time settlers were advised that with four sections of good land, a hundred head of cattle, and by growing what feed he could, might pull through.

The idea that a family could live on 160 acres or less as is being done at this time, would have no doubt been termed as an "act of Providence."

The first settlement on Carroll creek became history when the railroad built through the county. The entire town was moved to the present location, retaining its name of Clarendon.

GEORGE HENRY, Mgr.

CLARENDON'S ONLY 'OLD TOWN' RESIDENT GIVES BRIEF HISTORY OF SETTLEMENT

Reprint from June 25, 1936 issue of the Leader

Donley county presented a dry, bleak appearance in 1886, the second year of the most disastrous drouth Texas ever knew since the coming of the whites.

This was the year that Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hildebrand landed at Clarendon in what is referred to as "Old Town," located at the junction of Carroll creek and Salt Fork.

"There was nothing else to do, so we went into the restaurant business just as soon as we could put up a typical frontier building," Mrs. Hildebrand stated recently.

Among her first regular boarders were T. S. and Bruce McClelland. The first named was a surveyor, and Bruce McClelland was a real estate promoter. He moved to the "New Town," and lived in Clarendon until his death in 1922. (?)

L. H. Carhart owned the only hotel, but made trips "back east" frequently to induce others to come to Donley County, and little was seen of him, Mrs. Hildebrand states.

Ed Carhart, now a banker of Panhandle, was among the early settlers.

Clarendon even in that day had its newspaper, she says. A tall, lanky man by the name of Kennon printed a small paper for a time, but gave up in disgust and left before the advent of the railroad in 1887.

Dr. J. D. Stocking was the only physician of the time bringing to the new town an invalid wife and two sons, Fred and Roy. Mrs. Stocking died in the fall of 1886, Mrs. Hildebrand states, a fact she well remembers.

B. H. White and Morris Rosenfield conducted a general store partnership, she informed the writer. They afterwards moved to the present town site. Mr. White was county judge until his death. Mr. Rosenfield continued in business here until his retirement. He died in Dallas March 15, 1936.

Old Clarendon was moved to the present site in 1887 when the Denver railroad built to this point and established a terminus with house and machine shops.

Mr. and Mrs. Hildebrand moved to the new townsite which she says was located mostly on the north side of the track. Among the oldest buildings is the Atteberry hotel building.

Mr. Hildebrand passed away in 1908. His widow, now 79, has been a bed-ridden invalid at her home in the southeast part of town for more than two years. So far as can be ascertained, she is the only resident of "Old Town" who is yet living in "New Town," or Clarendon as we know it today.

Officially, 1966 marks the 25th anniversary of the American Tree Farm Program. The South certified its first Tree Farm in 1942. Texas certified its first Tree Farm in 1944.

BUYING AND BROILING BEEF STEAKS
 Now that the summer vacation season is at hand, there'll be more opportunities to broil beef steaks for backyard get-togethers with friends. When you select your steak, you can assure tenderness, flavor and quality by being willing to pay for a little fat and by choosing from the top three grades—prime, choice or good, says Mrs. Glenn Clyatt, Texas A&M University Extension Consumer marketing specialist.

TEXAS USING FREEZE BRANDING

Texas cattlemen are on the ball. County agents around the state report cattlemen are already trying the newly developed freeze-branding.

The freeze-branding was developed by Washington State University researcher Dr. Kenneth Farrell.

The way it works is simple enough. According to L. A. Maddox, Jr., Texas A&M University Extension animal husbandman, copper branding irons are cooled to about 94 degrees F. below zero by a mixture of dry ice and alcohol. The dry ice cools the alcohol and the alcohol cools the branding iron.

When the iron is applied, it destroys pigment producing hair follicles and the hair grows out a permanent white, said Maddox. It makes an extremely legible brand that can be read on the longest haired animals from a distance. It should be a big help identifying cattle in winter when the hair coat is extra long, he said.

Another advantage is that freeze-branding doesn't harm the hide like hot-branding. Estimates are the cattle industry loses several million dollars each year from hides ruined by hot brands.

The freeze-branding is supposedly painless. It's permanent and leaves no scars or thickened areas to cause a dock in price for the hide.

Maddox cautions that the freeze-branding is still an experimental procedure, so no recommendations for its widespread use have been made. Also, the technique is so new it isn't even mentioned in the branding laws. Branding officials are studying the technique to possibly include it in the law book.

It's important that animals' hair be clipped around the area to be branded to get better contact with the skin. In Washington, researchers use cordless clippers. Then they wet the clipped surface with alcohol and apply the brand.

Several animals in the A&M beef cattle herd at College Station have been freeze-branded experimentally. A&M researchers are using dry ice and acetone. They report good results from 30 to 40 second contacts.

The freeze-branding is fairly inexpensive — usually less than a nickel a brand. According to Washington researchers, all-white animals can also be freeze-branded using a nitrogen chilling method.

PEACHES AND QUEENS

Texas' first Peach Queen, selected on a statewide basis, will be named this summer. Her crowning will be a highlight of Stonewall's Peach Jamboree, June 24-25. Blueford Hancock, Extension horticulturist at Texas A&M University, says the Peach and Plum Growers Association is joining with the Stonewall Chamber of Commerce to stage the Jamboree and queen's contest. Each major peach growing area in the state is expected to have a candidate in the contest.

Coral snake bites are fatal in about 20 percent of the cases.
