WHAT NEXT AT CITY HALL!

(Editorial)

The true meaning of an editor, the profession he follows and the obligation of an editor to his people as brought about by the Constitution of the United States, leaves him no alternative but to print the facts as he finds them in matters concerning the people of this community. The chore I have before me is distasteful and unwanted but it is an obligation that can not be pushed aside by personal feelings or associations. I believe we should first get our house in order and then push forward.

When I wrote my first editorial in regard to the addition of a $1 fee to the water minimum for garbage collection I did not realize that much more was involved until I was challenged and started probing city records of which I have given a part of the figures and information in previous editorials.

I visited City Hall Friday of this past week and read the minutes covering council meetings the past year. I found that on April 6, 1965 that the City Administrator M. E. Mitchell requested the fiscal year be changed from March 30 to September 30 to correspond with the tax year and the budget year. (Mitchell had prepared the budget to cover this period as he was new on the job). The resolution was moved by J. G. McAnear and seconded by Chauncey Hommel.

Next I found that following the February 3, 1965 meeting that general procedure of tax supported institutions had not been followed. The minutes from that date up until last Friday did not show any bills approved for payment or any authorization for payment thereof. Nor was there a list of bills connected with the minutes. Prior to, and including February 3, 1965, the firm name or individual and amount of bill was listed in the minutes along with a motion of approval and authorization to pay the bill. For the exception of Mayor Gilkey, present members of the Council were serving during this time and certainly should have been able to see that the general procedure had not been followed. The minutes of each preceding meeting are read and approved and signed as such by the mayor. If you check your county or schools or most any type of organization you will find approval and authorization for payment of bills is a part of the permanent records or minutes.

I also found the following entry in the minutes of July 6, 1965. The following motion was made by J. G. McAnear and seconded by Chauncey Hommel and carried by unanimous consent. "Whereas the City of Clarendon now owns the old school building and whereas the present City Hall is inadequate and would be inadequate even if the downstairs quarters were remodeled, and whereas the school house needs permanent occupants to make the building into a youth center in fact. Be it resolved that the City make permanent plans to move the City Hall and that a builder be consulted to ascertain the total cost and to determine how much work could be done by the City Work Force, and be it resolved further that the City of Clarendon Development board be advised of this resolution and to coordinate the activities of the school building with the moving of City Hall."

Since the date of this council meeting up until last Friday, the minutes do not show any other business connected with the project. The minutes do not show any estimate figures. They do not show any authorization for construction, materials or labor.

This job has been carried on without proper authorization in the minutes, apparently without any plans to pay for the project other than from general funds which were already overburdened.

Up until Friday, March 25, 1966, the expenditures for the new City Hall total $4,716.95 not including the labor and materials furnished by the City. This figure will be increased when the contractor is paid for labor and materials accumulated since he received last payment on February 10, 1966.

We did find authorization for the roof in the minutes last fall in the amount of $1246.75.

We do realize that the cost would have been even higher if there had not been donations of material by individuals and many hours of time donated by John Jones, local contractor.

In view of all of this, a Texas Law—Art. 2368 a - Sec. 2 should have been considered. It reads in part: No county, acting thru its Commissioners Court, and no CITY in this state shall hereafter make any contract calling for or requiring the expenditure or payment of two thousand ($2,000.00) Dollars or more out of any fund or funds of any City creating or imposing an obligation or liability of any nature or character upon such City without first submitting such proposed contract to competitive bids. Notice of the time and place when and where contracts shall be let shall be published in such city, once a week for two (2) consecutive weeks prior to time set for letting such contract etc.

I personally have not forgotten the following State Law which was pointed out to me when I offered my candidacy for City Commissioner in 1964. I knew, if elected, that I would not be permitted to accept any business from the City. This law still applies today as follows: Art. 373. 376.266.250—If Any officer of any county, or of any city or town shall become in any manner pecuniarily interested in any contracts made by such county, city or town, through its agents, or otherwise, for the construction or repair of any bridge, road, street alley or house, or any other work undertaken by such county, city or town, or shall become interested in any bid or proposal for such work or in the purchase or sale of anything made for or on account of such county, city or town, or who shall contract for or receive any money or property, or the representative of either, or any emolument or advantage whatsoever in consideration of such bid, proposal, contract, purchase or sale, he shall be fined not less than fifty nor more than five hundred dollars. Acts 1874, p. 48.

NEWS FROM CITY HALL

by R. L. Gilkey, Mayor

Circle April 2nd and April 5th. The 2nd is Election Day for school board trustees and the 5th is Election Day for three city aldermen. There are an adequate number of candidates for each of these elections. Please study the candidates and vote for those you think will best represent you, your wishes and your city. We should feel proud of these candidates who are willing to take their time to serve their city.

Let's consider the financial position of the city just a little more. Our $20,000 in cash assets remain unaltered. $10,000 is on time deposit in one of the local banks, the other $10,000 remains in U. S. Treasury notes. The interest from the time deposit was placed in the Interest and Sinking Fund. In October 1964 a $16,500 Water Improvement Loan was obtained. The principal on this note is being retired at a rate of $450.00 monthly. In contrast, a $15,000 Waterworks Bond at 5 1/2% dated 2-1-1927 was made payable in three $5,000 installments in 1957, 1962, and 1967. Interest alone has been $1,293.75 annually (since 1927) prior to 1957. In other words, payment on the principal was started 30 years after the date of the bond and will be completed on the 40th year. That is two generations. Last week I pointed out that a similar $21,000 5 1/2% Waterworks Bond was made in 1929 with the payments on the principal being deferred until the last 5 of the 40 years. The annual interest on that bond was $1,155.00. There is still another, a $67,000 Refunding Bond at 5 1/2% dated 2-1-1927. Payments toward this principal began in 1955. Interest prior to 1955 was $3,766.25 annually. (That is over $300.00 monthly in interest on this one bond, and since 1927!) Interest alone on these three bonds has cost our city dearly. We have had some less expensive bonds, however.

The 1951 $10,000 Water works Improvement Bond was at 3% interest and completely paid just 5 years later in 1956. In 1952, a $98,000 Permanent Improvement Bond was at 3% increasing to 3 1/2%. Payments on the principal were started in 1955, just three years after the date on the bond. So in 1966 our city will pay $19,615.00 toward the retirement of these four bonds, the largest payments being made toward the interest and principal on city bonds of two generations ago. Now there is nothing illegal in these bonds. It is simply my feeling that if we want improvements, then let us start paying for them. Let's not leave the cost to our grandchildren for our obligated debts as was done to us.

Have you heard complaints about the tremendous cost on the remodeling? Here are the costs to date:

- $1,246.75 for a complete new roof on the entire building.
 - $1,949.86 for lumber, supplies, concrete work and labor.
 - $551.86 for a combination heating and air conditioning unit.
 - $504.38 for electric conduit, switches and ductwork in the ceiling.
 - $464.00 for a new ceiling.
- This is a total of $4,716.95. The first two items alone could have exceeded this figure. I estimate that we will have a $20,000 improvement at less than a third the cost. Our thanks to helpful and interested citizens who are making these savings possible for their city. As yet no funds have

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BANQUET APRIL 7

A large crowd is expected to attend the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet set for Thursday night, April 7, to be held in the High School Cafeteria at 7:30 p.m.

This banquet is not limited to Chamber members but everyone in the community is extended a special invitation to attend. A moderate price of $1.50 has been placed on tickets which may be purchased from any Chamber of Commerce member. Deadline for purchase of tickets is Tuesday, April 5. If you do not know a Chamber member contact Richard Tunnell, banquet chairman.

George McCleskey, a former Clarendon resident and presently president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, will be speaker for the occasion.

LIVING QUARTERS NEEDED

With the letting of the Dam contract, housing for those connected with the construction will fast become a problem. This can be helped by contacting Bill Goodman at Goodman Furniture who is chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Housing Committee who will keep a list of all available facilities.

Mr. Goodman needs information regarding what type of rental property you have here in town or in the rural area nearby, space for trailers, rooms, room and board etc. Call him today so this information will be available for those who will be moving here within a few days.

That big moment that local citizens have been awaiting for so long a time occurred about six-thirty Tuesday evening in the District Court Room. Contracts were let by Greenbelt officials for the construction of the dam, the filtering plant and the supply lines. Total amount of the contracts, including an allocation of $35,000 for pumps, was $3,685,635.96 which was approximately a quarter million over the amount expected by engineers.

Approximately 300 persons were present for the opening of the contracts at the college gym at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Included in the group were Greenbelt officials, engineers, contractors and interested local individuals.

Greenbelt officials had first planned to wait until today to award the contracts but following the meeting at the gym, were able to check the bids and go ahead and let the contracts.

Engineers were exceptionally pleased with the between 40 and 50 bids received on the project which was beyond expectations as around only six contractors even figured on the Canadian River project.

The contract for the dam was awarded to R. N. Adams Construction Co. of Kaufman, Texas for $1,795,514.06. The contractor told Greenbelt officials that he planned to start work on the project just as soon as the contracts were signed which will be only a few days.

The contract for the filtering plant was awarded to Brown-McKee, Inc. of Lubbock for $624,941. The supply line contract was awarded to J. T. Brodie of Amarillo for $1,230,180.90.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

THE SOFTENING PROCESS

Beware, Mr. and Mrs. America! You may well be the intended victims of a most subtle propaganda campaign. I hope I am wrong, but I am deeply and seriously suspicious that there is a campaign afoot to start trade between this country and Red China.

I have watched with great concern the developments over the past year in arguments designed to convince the American people that it would be good business to trade with Red China. Perhaps I am overly suspicious. I hope so; but anyone who has watched the trend in the international picture over the past year is bound to have seen a sizeable increase in the daily references to the Red China problem. References in the metropolitan press, in nationally syndicated columns, in television and radio documentaries and news stories. There has been no outright advocacy of recognition of Red China or trade with her, but woven into many of the stories and references we find such inferences as to the number of people in Red China (over seven hundred million), of famine and want which Christian people should not help to underwrite, difficulties between Red China and Soviet Russia which, it has been suggested, could be to our benefit if we were a little more friendly with Red China. Also, inferences that Red China is a large and vast untapped market for goods, wares, and merchandise that is so plentiful in this country, and the profits that could be made if trade were allowed.

One article I saw not long ago suggested that we not recognize Red China but that we make every effort to promote all possible trade with them. One Englishman reputed to be thoroughly familiar with China has suggested that the best approach to the solution of the China problem would be to enter into trade with the Chinese and other Asians and trust that the orientals would fight among themselves. He indicated that he had known of this solution for many years but could not make it public because of his official position in Her Majesty's Government. One writer has recently suggested that this country is in sore need of some China experts; that all China experts were weeded out of the government during the time of Senator McCarthy, and that there have been no replacements. Hence, he concludes that we are at a distinct disadvantage because of our lack of close relations between the Continental Chinese, also known as the Chinese Communists, and this country.

A number of suggestions both for the recognition of Red China and/or open trade with Red China seem to come from sources that would profit measurably by such policy on the part of the government. It is my feeling that these sources are much more interested in material profit than in a proper solution to the China problem.

If our government succumbs to any of these arguments or the many others that are being advanced daily, watch out. The government will be the subject of bitter and caustic, but well-deserved criticism. The real culprits will make the profits, throw the blame on the government, hide behind the curtain of obscurity, and probably help finance some of the criticism against the government.

The people of the United States of America are not only the freest people in the world, but they are the best educated. There is no excuse for an educated person to fall for propaganda. The only alibi I know of is the open admission by an educated person that he or she was simply too lazy to think or dig out the facts. Hence, this newsletter of warning. It is my sincere hope that the people of this country will not fall for this subtle propaganda and that they will rise up and reject any attempt to recognize Red China or to trade with the Chinese Communists.

Recent visitors: Mr. W. H. Neubauer and Mr. Jerry O. Osburn, both of Amarillo.

BRONCHO CHIT CHAT

The countdown has begun. Including this day, there are only 35 more school days left. A murmur of excitement is in the air. All-ready plans are being made for those summer months ahead. Some are making their annual vows of getting "a really good tan this year" knowing they probably won't. Some are planning vacations that will take them many miles away from our fair city, and others are going to be industrious and get jobs. From all the plans, it sounds like this will be a busy, busy summer.

Art Linkletter set us to thinking with a statement he made on a recent program. In talking with a guest in the counseling field he said that in his opinion the crying need in this hour for our youth was for parents—parents who would act like parents giving leadership and discipline to their offspring. He thinks the children are starving for parents with courage, convictions, and authority. For a long while now the moderners have tried to tell the parents to be a pal to their children hoping in this way to win their love and admiration. He thinks the young folks need this pal business just about like they need more playmates, and that they want strong, strict, courageous parents who can point them in the right direction, and help them when in a rough spot. We believe he is right. What do you young folks say? Write us a letter and we won't use your name if you don't want us to.

Along the same line Jim Bishop, noted newspaper columnist and lecturer for some of our leading universities says about the same thing in the last issue of Guideposts. After lecturing students he opens up the question period by asking them; "What are you going to do with your life? According to his records about one out of 20 college students have their minds made up. The rest are in a plush rut. They spend their time studying, stalling, driving, dating, but don't know where they are going with their plans. Most of them are in a parental highchair." Please read that last sentence over 10 times slowly. It may hold the key to our problem as parents, taking for granted that the young persons problem is parents. Think about the comments of Mr. Bishop and that of Art Linkletter and give us your thoughts, especially you young folks.

Last Thursday we had joy for another time to go back to our boyhood town of Shamrock for the St. Patrick's Day Celebration. You just can't outdo the Irish of this town for going all out on this special occasion. It is especially an outstanding day to us because on this time more than any other we are likely to meet up with an old school friend. Many come back for hundreds and even more than a thousand miles just for the joy of visiting. To each of you who remember us it was a real joy to talk with you again.

A Shamrock teacher told us this experience; a little child enrolling in school for the first time brought along this note from his parents: "Please, Teacher, put little Rodney in the group that used Beep-Beep toothpaste with the anti-decay substance added."

Please Do A Favor Department: Please do a special favor for Uncle Zeb and for a dear friend of this column. Don't fail me this time for sure, especially you wonderful lady cooks. Likely we are more deeply indebted to this one kind lady for this column and our book going out to all parts of the country than to any other one person. We have mailed hundreds of copies of our book, going into every state in the U. S. and several foreign countries because of her boosting. Anyhow, she wants a favorite recipe from just as many folks as possible. One you like or an unusual one. Send to Mrs. Bertha Hayes, East Barrington, New Hampshire. Please don't let us down you good cooks from West Texas. Thanks.

LIBRARY NOTES

EDITH BARNES

A memorial gift has been given to the library to be dedicated to the memory of Mrs. Pearl Terry.

What a snap ordering books for our younger set would be if we only had a few more writers like Dr. Suess. He is the only one who writes for children that you know by the time his next book comes out that it will be an instant hit with his readers. And just who are his readers? All from pre-kindergarten to a lot older than most adults would guess. His are the only ones that have to be re-ordered for the third time and we have not had his book in the library too long. Some few have been abused but most have simply worn out from use. Since the good Dr. is a perfectionist and every word and drawing has to be exactly right or he will not use it, he is only able to turn out a book once a year, give or take a little. It must be plain by now for the few hold outs that you can't beat him so you might as well join him. After all remember he isn't writing for adults but most important he is writing for your child. And the response he is getting shows that he has succeeded beautifully.

A memorial gift has been given to the library to be dedicated to the memory of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kirchman, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Will Word.

Muriel Spark's talent is such that she can take the most unlikely heroine, a 37-year old half-Jewish, half-Anglin school teacher who has recently become a convert to the Catholic Church, and make her believable as well as the adventures that befall her not only when she goes into Jordan but when she tries to get back into Israel. As most of you know Jerusalem is divided, part in Jordan and part in Israel. The Holy Christian Shrines are on the Arab side of the Mandelbaum Gate.

"The Mandelbaum Gate" is Muriel Spark's eighth novel. Quoting from a review "They are a diverse lot, who are in Jerusalem—on one side or the other of the gate that separates Israel from Jordan—for many reasons and with many problems. Most are English, of course, and even the most apolitical are affected by the droning on, in the background, of the Eichman trial and by the tension between Jew and Arab."

Two memorial gifts have been given to the library to be dedicated to the memory of LCDR Millard L. Word.

HILLTOP NOTES

News From Clarendon College

Regular Hilltop articles have been dispensed with in view of nine-weeks exams and the student holidays on Thursday and Friday.

The McMurry band provided a delightful hour of entertainment for high school and college students on Tuesday.

Local college tennis stars, Johnny Lacy and Rusty Scott, took on the team from Frank Phillips college Tuesday.

All students who are planning to graduate from Clarendon College this spring must make application by March 31.

Teachers were very much in evidence on the campus all week, but they were so swamped with test, papers, and grade tickets that we didn't dare ask them for news.

Phi Theta Kappa, National Junior College Honor Society, will initiate new members soon. Candidates who qualified for the fraternity were scheduled to take examinations on Monday. A list of initiates will be published next week.

The Athletic Department, in cooperation with the Clarendon Jaycees is sponsoring an area-wide volley ball tournament March 31, April 1 and 2. A large slate of teams is expected to participate.

Reproductions of outstanding paintings in the National Gallery of Art, Washington D. C., go on display at the Clarendon College Library on April 4th. The exhibition is an introduction to Fine Arts Week, April 25-29, and will continue through that date. Viewing hours coincide with regular library hours.

The exhibit consists of reproductions of great religious paintings by Poussin, Van Eyck, Memling, Perugino, Raphael, Gruenwald, Feti, Rembrandt, Blake and Dalí. The changing styles of Christian art are illustrated: The grandly austere styles of the Middle Ages give way before the growing humanism of the Renaissance and Baroque eras. Two highly individualistic works bring the selection down to the present century.

The public is cordially invited to view the are exhibit, which should provide a fitting prelude to the Easter season.

BULLDOG KENNEL

Coach's Comments

We just returned from a trip to Hutchinson, Kansas where the National Junior College Champion was decided. Each year, sixteen different regions compete for the overall championship. Moberly, Missouri Junior College fought its way through to win the championship over the Cameron Aggies. They won by the skin of their teeth.

Region Five champions, Dallas Baptist, rated third in the nation going into the tournament, finished sixth after two heartbreaking overtime defeats—one to Moberly, which they should have won, and one to Hutchinson, Kansas Junior College by one point in overtime. Dallas did have the distinction of defeating the only undefeated team coming into the tournament—Wilson of Chicago—which probably was the strongest team of the tournament. They won three straight games after their defeat at the hands of Dallas.

The number one team of the nation going into the tournament, Burlington, Kansas, was defeated by Cameron and Wilson to finish eighth in the tournament. Frank Judge of Cameron was voted the outstanding player of Junior Colleges. Clarendon fans will remember seeing him perform in Bulldog Fieldhouse.

I wish that all junior college fans in our area could sometime in their lives go to Hutchinson and watch real artists perform. Many super ballplayers exhibit their ability on the hardwoods, even though they are freshmen and sophomores. They are the future All-Americans of large universities. Probably the top ten teams in the tournament were stronger than most four year schools. Most of them had defeated several four year colleges in their area. This fact emphasizes the point that if Clarendon ever hopes to reach the level of this type of competition, the program will have to be stepped up by three or four hundred percent, which we're hoping to do eventually. Recruiting must be done in outlying areas, because Texas produces only a small fraction of the calibre of ballplayers needed to compete on this level. It has often been said that the best Texas high school players will be only mediocre players in the basketball belt. This is the reason that many Texas schools have gone completely outside their areas to recruit. For instance, Texas Western, NCAA Champion, has only one Texas boy on its roster. We hope, in time, that this situation will cause the high schools in Texas to upgrade their basketball program to the level which they have developed in CLEBURNE — Everything shows up sooner or later at state parks, so the local State Park staff was not completely overwhelmed when an overnight visitor opened his trailer door to let out his pet for an airing. And it took considerable air for the 210 pound St. Bernard. The man, John Provost, from snowbound Lodge Grass, Montana, was enroute to the mild Gulf area at Goose Island State Park near Rockport. Dogs, little and big, are permitted in state parks, providing they are securely leashed.

Years from now if "In Cold Blood" by Truman Capote lives up to just a few of the rave notices it has got so far it will be so far ahead in both best novel and best novelist category that there will be no contest. News From Clarendon College

HERE AND THERE

Campus Chatter
by Jim Blackerby

The Easter bunny did not come to Clarendon College. Maybe the Hill was too steep for the poor little hopy-hop bunny to climb. Or maybe the Easter bunny knew that there would be no one around to hunt for Easter eggs.

All of the usual college "flockers" went home—to hunt for Easter eggs??

Oh, well! No matter what every one went home to do, the holidays were badly needed. Now every one can return to school, ready to finish the year in record time and with ease. Ha!

THIS AND THAT

Dafynitions
by Gwen King

Now that research papers are due, Bobby Colson feels that an education is that which is left over after you've forgotten the facts.

Mrs. Hamilton says that an expert is a fellow who has in the past made a lot of good guesses but now that term papers are due knows more and more about less and less.

"Proverbs," says Gary Laubhan, "is the wisdom of many and wit of one."

"Tainted money," says Gerald Welch, "tain't yours and tain't mine."

Dean Day says that an ash tray is something for a cigarette butt when there is no floor.

WHEN AND WHERE

Sister College In England
Clarendon College has discovered that she has a European twin. Not long ago we received a letter from Clarendon College in Nottingham, England, stating that faculty members had learned of our institution and would be interested to find out more about us. Consequently, a correspondence has sprung up between the two schools.

The English college is a co-educational school offering technical-vocational courses on a terminal basis. The enrollment includes some 400 full-time students, 1,400 part time day students, and over 3,000 evening students.

A letter from Miss Waters, the Principal, stated: "We would like to set up a display of information about your college and its students, so that our people can study it and develop a real interest in what happens. Suitable material for this would include photographs, especially of students or groups of students, brochures, maps, and details of college events. We should like to know about student organizations and sports. We shall naturally be very happy to send you a supply of similar material, with information about the City of Nottingham and its surroundings."

Our office plans to mail copies of the BULLDOG BANNER to Nottingham, as well as some of our catalogues and brochures. Perhaps the Social Science Department and the Business Department will want to develop an information-exchange project with corresponding departments of our English counterpart. Such an exchange should prove to be both interesting and profitable for each institution.

BULLDOG KENNEL

C. C. Netters Lose to South Plains
The Clarendon College tennis team lost out to South Plains, 3-1, on Tuesday, April 5. Clarendon's Johnny Lacy won the first singles against Larry Heinrichs from Levelland 8-6, 9-7. Rusty Scott was unable to handle South Plains' Billy Chamblin and went down, 6-2, 6-0.

In the doubles event, Lacy and Scott teamed up against Heinrichs and Kenneth Cheatham and were defeated, 6-3, 6-0. Clarendon lost three additional games by default, having no contestants to play against three other South Plains boys.

The Clarendon duo travels to Lubbock Christian and New Mexico Military Institute on April 19 and 20 for their last contests of the season.

WHO AND WHAT

Library Notes
by Dan Nutter

The Clarendon College Library has received three outstanding personal collections during the school year. The volumes have been processed and are already in circulation, strengthening our research and reading selection. The collection of the late J. C. Estlack, Clarendon postmaster, newspaperman, noted mineralogist, and anthropologist, is a valuable one. These volumes cover broad subject areas including Indian civilization, geology, lapidary, and philosophy. The collection also contains several files of periodicals on the earth sciences, some containing articles written by Mr. Estlack.

Miss Mamie F. McLean of San Antonio, a former Clarendon College teacher gave us several books in the English field. The collection includes history, and criticism of literature, poetry, classics, drama, biographies, novels, and Texana.

WAHOO, CHIEF REDMEAT! VENISON, SHE TOO STOUT
Embalming fluid instead of fire water could have been the target of four New Mexico and Oklahoma Indians arrested here while trying to raid a liquor store. They had five undressed deer in the trunk of their car. Officers quoted the pair as saying they planned to tan the hides and eat the meat. The lawmen thought they might attain their first objective but doubted the second phase might be attained since the venison was slightly on the "unfresh" side by the time the four spent five days in jail and paid $200 each in fines.
