

Weatherly art Donley Centennial logo

Jeanice Weatherly, wife, mother, grandmother, past editor of The Clarendon Press, part-time postal worker, gardener, seamstress, craftsman and local artist has done it again!

She created a beautiful black-and-white drawing for the Centennial Edition of The Clarendon Press to be published July 4th. She presented her design to County Judge Billie Christal. Judge Christal immediately presented her design to the County Commissioners Court which voted Monday, March 8 to have her design designated as the official Donley County Centennial logo.

The cross in the middle represents the Christian colony that became Clarendon. The cattle industry came with Col. Goodnight, then the railroad made its mighty way into Donley County. With the Railroad, came people and the college was soon established. Farming came with the windmill and more people. Jeanice has expertly drawn all of these vital components of our county together in this beautiful design.

J.L. PHILLIPS

Phillips-licenses plumber in town

J.L. Phillips has moved into Clarendon from out at Greenbelt Lake where he and wife Claudia recently ran Patton's Landing. The duo sold out to E.H. Hutcherson, who will continue to run the business in the same manner as the Phillips had kept things going.

J.L. said "I'm not out to get rich off of anyone here in town, I just want to make a living." He has been a licensed plumber for over 28 years. He plumbed for 22 years in Amarillo and six years in Dallas. The couple moved to Greenbelt Lake from Dallas three years ago to take over the recreation camp and boat dock there.

J.L. Phillips offers complete plumbing from new, remodeling and of course, repair. "I will do the work right, according to how a licensed, professional plumber should do the job," Phillips said. "If I can fix it and save you money that way, I'll do that. I'd rather repair than replace, if it is at all possible."

Phillips will help you locate hard to find plumbing fixtures for old-fashioned type sinks, tubs and commodes. He has several places in Amarillo where he can find just what you need and want without charging an exorbitant price. Before you replace that old-fashioned sink because you can't find new fixtures for it, contact J.L. Phillips at 874-2541 first. Clarendon is proud to present a licensed plumber, J.L. Phillips as it's new business. Professional progress for Clarendon residents.

Low coordinator for Mark White

Gubernatorial candidate, Attorney General Mark White has announced that Bill Lowe of Clarendon will be the campaign coordinator for the Mark White for governor campaign in Donley County.

"I am pleased and grateful to have Bill on board with us," said White. "Its going to be a long race and we are going to win it, because we have people with the experience and dedication of Bill Lowe on our team. We want to make sure the voters of Donley County know what we have to say and that they are organized for this campaign. Bill and my other supporters in Donley County are going to see that this organization works and works well."

"We have excellent statewide campaign organization and that organization will be responsible for getting our message across to every Texan in all 254 counties," White added. Our latest poll, released February 19, shows that I am the front runner in this race. This is a clear signal to our campaign that if we work with resolve and determination it will ensure the primary victory in May and a decisive victory in the November general election. I am confident we will win," said White.

HENRY HONEA

Honea Mobile Office Assistant for Sarpalius

Senator Bill Sarpalius announces today that Henry Honea, 37, who is a Boys Ranch alumnus, has joined his staff as executive administrative assistant. Honea is a native of Swisher County and has been district office manager for the past year.

Honea will continue to travel the district in the Mobile Office. Senator Sarpalius represents the 31st Senatorial District which covers the top 26 counties of the Texas Panhandle. The purpose of the Mobile Office is to give rural residents an opportunity to participate in state government on a grass roots level.

The Mobile Office has been successful in relieving the feeling of isolation of many Panhandle and South Plains residents because of the distance between them and Austin. When he is not traveling the district, Honea will be in Sarpalius's Amarillo office at 10800 Canyon Expressway.

Before joining Sarpalius's staff, Honea was an Amarillo firefighter for 14 years. He is married to the former Deann Hartman of Romero, Texas, and they have one son, Russell, 14. Honea is a graduate of Amarillo College.

Milhouse & Crumpton special CJC stars

Clarendon Junior College boys and girls basketball teams went to the District Play-offs in Odessa last week. The girls team was expected to win the tournament, but they ran into trouble and lost their first game.

The boys team won their first game and played a tough second game only to loose by 9 points. The winner of that fatal game will go on to play in the National Games.

But Clarendon Junior College coaches and fans have something to crow about besides getting their teams that far. George Milhouse was named All-Regional player and All-Tournament player. The girls team had its honorable player as well in Cassandra Crumpton. She received a trophy as All Regional Player and was named to the All-American Team!

Congratulations to our two fine coaches, Mark Allen and Joe Mondragon for helping their teams go so far!

Parvo & Stray dogs... a danger to pets

There are a great number of stray dogs in Clarendon. There are also a great number of dogs whose owners have failed to tag and vaccinate their dogs and these dogs roam at will around Clarendon. They should now be considered as more than just a nuisance, they may carry deadly diseases that may be transmitted to your pet.

Rabies is a spring-time disease in most animals. The frequency of rabies outbreaks begins in early spring and continues throughout the summer. If you have unvaccinated dogs in your neighborhood, the likelihood of them giving your pet rabies is higher than if those dogs were contained in a yard, vaccinated and cared for. Your dog has only the chance his rabies vaccination can give him for protection. Rabies vaccination, like all vaccinations, is only a reduction in the percentages for contacting a disease, not a guarantee that the disease will not be contacted.

Parvo is a relatively new disease to this country, first seen in 1978. Until recently, vaccination was spotty and not very reliable. But now, with new research, the vaccination has a better chance of preventing your pet from having this fatal disease. Stray dogs can give it to your pet.

The clinical signs of Canine Parvovirus, "Parvo", usually include extremely contagious diarrhea, caused from intestinal inflammation, sometimes accompanied by vomiting. It usually strikes puppies and dogs up to 2 years of age and extremely older or unhealthy dogs.

The first symptoms are depression and loss of appetite. Severe vomiting may also occur, followed in 6 to 24 hours by fever and diarrhea. Most dogs with signs of parvovirus show temperatures ranging from 104 to 106.

If you have stray dogs in your neighborhood with any of these symptoms, chances are that your dog may have been infected. The disease is transmitted through contact with an affected dog. The virus can also be carried on the dog's hair and feet, on shoes or even car tires.

If enough dogs get vaccinated, Parvo will not be such a critical threat. Before an effective rabies vaccine, rabies was as much a threat as Parvo is now. The recommended vaccination is for puppies at age 8 weeks, again at 12 weeks and again at 1 year. They should then be safe against infection.

You should see your veterinarian to see if your dog should be vaccinated. You should contact your sheriff's department about stray dogs and you should see that your neighborhood exercises the proper immunity control on their pets in order to prevent your family pet from becoming infected with either rabies or Parvo.

Prevention is only as good as the cure. If stray dogs are not vaccinated, they will continue to spread these deadly canine diseases. Now is the time to take action.

Thompson on McDonalds All-American Team

"Dogged persistence. Speed, agility and instinct. Dedication to the sport." Coach Ron Holmes of Clarendon High School used those words to describe Brad Thompson of Clarendon High School who has been nominated to the 1982 McDonald's All American High School Basketball Team. Coach Holmes nominated Thompson based on those qualities, plus the senior's outstanding performance on the team.

McDonald's All American Basketball Team was formed in 1977 to recognize and honor outstanding young athletes. Over 1,200 nominees are annually submitted by high school coaches from all over the United States from which a select team of 25 members is chosen.

The All American team is selected by two blue-ribbon committees of basketball experts headed by John Wooden, legendary coach of ten national collegiate championships when he was a UCLA, and Coach Morgan Wooten, coach of DeMatha High in Hyattsville, MD, one of the top-ranked high school teams in the country.

The members of McDonald's 1982 All American High School Basketball Team and their coaches will participate in the fifth annual McDonald's All American Game to be held in Chicago, Illinois on April 10. Proceeds from this unique "East vs West" game will be donated to the Chicago Ronald McDonald House.

We're really excited that Thompson has been recognized as one of the top basketball players in the country," said Ron McVean, owner/operator of the Amarillo area McDonald's Restaurants. "He's an exceptionally talented athlete and a real credit to Clarendon High School and Clarendon.

 Thirteen year old Luttrell and 14 year old Ty Simmons, both Bremerton Jr. High students, were walking home from school across the bridge about 2:30 p.m. when two girls shouted at the boys that a woman had jumped from the 60' bridge.
 "I didn't see her jump," Luttrell said. "The girls just yelled that she jumped and we ran off the bridge to the edge of the water."
 Luttrell and Simmons raced to the area under the bridge and saw the woman floating in the water an estimated 100 feet off shore.

 Luttrell said the current was fairly strong and he's not a particularly strong swimmer, but he went anyway.

 Luttrell grabbed the woman and started swimming for shore. Simmons waded out to give assistance.

Pastry Cloth

*One rolling pin cover with elastic stitching * Pastry recipe and tips on preparation * instructions for use and care.

SEE THE DIFFERENCE! The above picture demonstrates the difference in using the Stay Put Pastry Cloth, as opposed to any other hard non-porous surface, for rolling out pie crusts. Equal amounts of dough used.

The pastry on the wood surface is smaller and took longer to roll out. It will be tougher, as it absorbed additional flour and was handled more. Pastry sticks to this type surface. More clean up time is needed.

The pastry on the Stay Put Pastry Cloth rolled out easily, stretching quickly over the floured and textured surface, without sticking. It is larger, and absorbed less flour. It will produce lighter and flakier pastry.

FOR BETTER BAKING WITHOUT THE MESS, use the Stay Put Pastry Cloth and Rolling Pin Cover! Perfect for all your baking needs.

Patented design uses suction cups to keep this cloth in place! Effective on most smooth surfaces.

Well made of heavy cotton duck for years of baking pleasure. Machine wash and dry, no need to remove cups.

Moore a champ at 7

Billie Jo Moore, 7 year old daughter of Terry and Sherry Moore of Spearman, competed Saturday in a big IMTA Event (International Modeling & Talent Event) in Borger. She walked away with almost all of the trophies. She won 8 1st place trophies, 2-2nd place trophies, 3-3rd place; the big Sweepstake trophy and the most important of all the Cameo, Girl-which is the beauty part. She won her banner and lovely crown and a huge trophy; they will pay her way to Baton Rouge, La. this summer to compete.

It's interesting to know, Jo did a mock TV commercial for Baker & Taylor Drilling Co., she was the only young one in this category and competed with 14-17 year olds.

Jo won the 1st place trophy! In tea-room modeling where you describe the garment, again she was the only young one and competed with girls in their teens; again she won the 1st place! Not bad for a 7 year old! She got two 1st places in Tapp & Jazz also.

A very happy little girl and her much tired mother and family returned to Spearman late Saturday night. Jo's next venture is the Clarendon Jr. College Talent Contest where she will dance; then the Cinderella Pageants again, she will return to State again this year and later to Baton Rouge, La.

So, it's back to the practicing again, but judging by the smile and the room full of trophies it's worth it!

BILLIE JO MOORE

There to see her win were her grandmother Joan Shaw and great-aunt Jane Hillman, also her aunt Carrie Shaw of Amarillo. She is the grand-daughter of H.C. Shaw, Jr.; L.P. Moore of Hobart, Ok.; Jean Roberts of Ft. Stockton, Tex. Her local great grandparents are the Harvey Shaw Sr's and Lillie Knox.

70th ANNIVERSARY

Girl Scout week

Girl Scout week is a special week for our girls. It starts out on Sunday with each Troop attending church together, this year we attended the Methodist Church and had a very nice turnout. Tues. night, we have our Father-daughter Banquet, which the Troop's are looking forward to. Cookie Sales end Sat. and the girls are always anxious to see how their troop has done. The money each troop makes goes toward some goal each set before sales start.

All of the troop's will have something in the downtown store windows this week. Troops 180 and 111 will have a display in the windows of Henson's storage store, located between Bob's Variety and Osburn's furniture. Their displays will feature things their troops have worked on the past year and equipment and clothing used by them on their outings. Troops 111, 82, 120 and 29 will have posters up in the store windows along main street. Troop 111 will be on first-aid. These posters will also be displayed in the Pampa Mall, March 20th. Be sure and take time to stop and look at the work each Troop has put into these displays for the public to enjoy, we appreciate the support that is given to us.

Girl Scout Week is also a time to recap things over the past year. Camp Cibola has accomplished much this past year, the improvements made out there are from donations from this area. We have new tables and chairs, a new cook stove that are very appreciated as there are a lot of girls to feed during Resident Camp each summer in July. We have a new bridge between the cabins and the eating lodge, also our chain link fence going up will be great when it is finished. It will sure help on the security of the camp, but will be awhile before this is complete as the fencing is costing $4.50 a foot. We are very proud of Camp Cibola. Last summer 53 girls from Clarendon and Memphis attended Day Camp for a week and we had about 170 attend from this area at Resident Camp. The girls are offered swimming, canoeing, fishing, arts and crafts, braiding and leather work, games and songs. This is really a great time for the Scouts. Each year fathers from this area volunteer to patrol the camp at night, there are three weeks of camp and the fathers that gave up a night of sleep last year were: Bobby Hoggard, Johnny Myers, and Bob Havens, from Clarendon and all of the fathers from Pampa, Memphis, Shamrock Phillips, and Wellington.

We also would like to thank our sheriff Jimmy Thompson and the Donley County Sheriff's Dept. They came around during Day Camp, Resident Camp and any Scout function at night. They kept us informed about weather conditions and gave us a feeling of safety.

From the Scouts...THANK YOU

At General Telephone, better service isn't just a goal, it's a solid commitment. Springtime poisonous to kids

Children are loving active creatures, unfortunately they can also eat and drink peculiar things. "We see children eating plants, medicines, cleaning agents, soap, bugs and all sorts of other things", said Michael Ellis, Director of the Texas State Poison Center. In 1981 the Poison Center received some 21,000 poisoning calls. "About 75% of these inquiries are about children under 5 years old," Ellis noted. "Many of the accidental ingestions by children are of little consequence, but some can be life-threatening. Liquid furniture polishes, lamp oil, gasoline, and other oil-based products can kill with as little as one sip." In the event of a poisoning emergency, the first thing to do is to call the Texas State Poison Center at 1-713-765-1420. The Poison Center staff will help you determine if medical attention is required, or if the problem can be handled at home. "About 85% of our inquiries can be handled at home," Ellis noted, "thus rushing the person to the hospital, is usually unnecessary. If the poisoning is serious enough to need medical attention, the Poison Center will direct you to the emergency room and then call ahead so that the child will be treated quickly."

FTA news

Thursday morning February 18, 1982 at 6:00 a.m. the Clarendon FTA Chapter left Clarendon to travel to Houston, for the 33rd Annual TFTA Convention that was to be held at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Houston. Six girls and 2 sponsors arrived in Houston, Thursday around 6:00 p.m. We were tired, but excited that the convention would be starting Friday morning, February 19.

"Tomorrow Depends on Today" was the theme of the TFTA convention. President Karl Travis (of Tulia but moved to Sinton) presided over the convention—two general sessions and the House of Delegates.

The convention registration began February 19 at 9:00 a.m. On the basement level of the hotel, the exhibits and booths of the candidates running for state office were set up. Pres. Karl Travis opened the First General Session. Entertainment music was provided by the jazz ensemble of the High school for the performing and Visual Arts, Houston. Our state consultant, Curtis Nixon greeted some 3,000 members and advisors of TFTA. The keynote address was given by W.C. Newberry Ed.D., Southwest Texas State Univ., San Marcos. His topic was "The Few Among the Many." He is an educator, philosopher, and humorist who combines facts, humor, and philosophy in an entertaining and interesting manner. He presently teaches Educational Philosophy and Adolescent Psychology at SWTSU. He was very good!

District Meetings were held following the General Session! District XVI held their meeting in the Arboretum 1 Room with Todd Mayfield, President from Panhandle, presiding. He made sure the 10 delegates from District XVI had been certified. Annette Watson, Dianne Havens and Dyanne Johnston, Clarendon served as delegates to the convention.

Skits and speeches from candidates for state office were the highlight of the Second General Session in the Imperial Ballroom. Convention entertainment from 9:30 p.m. to midnight included a dance and light show, and a reception for advisors.

On February 20, convention activities resumed at 9:00 a.m. with state committee meetings and workshops. The workshop topics included: (1) Campaigning for office, (2) Career Orientation, (3) Fund-Raising Projects, (4) "I'm Just a Chunk of Coal, but I'm Going to be a Diamond Someday", (5) Publications and Newsletters, (6) Scrapbooks and Historians, (7) What Makes a Good Leader?, (8) Texas Student Education/Student National Education Assn.

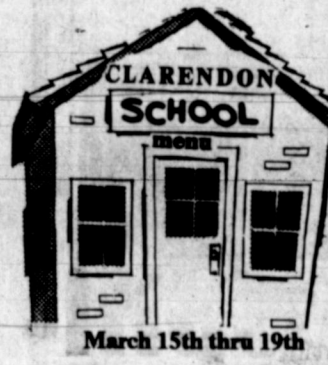

The Mr. and Miss FTA competition was held Saturday morning. Miss FTA

Kathleen Duke of Tulia and Mr. FTA, Michael Doyal of Tulia were from District XVI competing for the $1,000 college scholarships to be given by TSTA. Scholarship recipients were selected on the basis of stage appearance and speeches on the topic of the theme—"Tomorrow Depends on Today".

The House of Delegates convened at 1:45 p.m. for the purpose of electing state officers. Thirteen candidates filed for 1982-83. TFTA State office, (3 for president, 2 for vice president, 3 for recording secretary, 2 for financial secretary, 2 for historian, and 1 for parliamentarian). There were 181 delegates seated to elect the state officers for 1982-83. The new TFTA State officers are: Pres., Phillip Sanov, Gladewater; v-pres., Nita Fields, Brady; rec.-sec., Shiela Williams; fin. sec., Brent Walker, Freer; His., Mikki Williams, Fabens; and parl., Anna-Laura Howell, Castroville.

The highlight of the whole convention was the awards program in the Imperial Ballroom Saturday night. The new Mr. and Miss FTA was announced; also winners of the top 10 projects, scrapbooks, and yearbooks. The Clarendon FTA Chapter entered their scrapbook, but it didn't win, maybe next year. The Clarendon FTA made up of Dianne Havens, Pat Ritchie, Rosie Arias, Dyanne Johnston, Annette Watson and Wendy McCombs, Peggy Anderson, sponsor and Miss Betty Veach, District FTA XVI Advisor departed from the Hyatt Regency around 7:00 a.m. for the trip back to Clarendon. The trip was tiring and uneventful except for an almost flat tire. When we pulled into a station at Bowie and were checking the tires, etc. one tire was low, when aired up, a nail was blown out of it, but was quickly repaired. Everyone was happy to get home; the trip and convention was enjoyed by all. Good experience was learned by a prospective candidate for a state office in the future, Annette Watson. Our chapter has always been active on the district and state levels for many years, and we hope to continue our participation in FTA.

DRY EYES

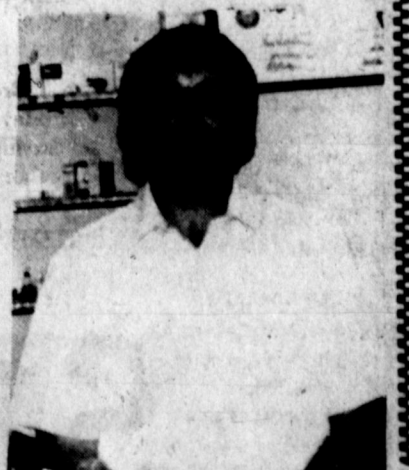

Tears are produced by small glands near and above the eyes. Tears lubricate and bathe the surface of each eye...they make possible the thousands of "blinks" that normally occur without discomfort each day.

But what is a tear? Is it simply a drop of salty water? In actuality, scientists have discovered that tears have three distinct layers. An outer layer retards the evaporation of moisture. A middle "watery" layer provides fluid and makes up the majority of tear volume. An inner layer containing mucin enables the eye's surface to attract the tear's water.

When the body does not produce an adequate amount of tears, irritation develops. Even when adequate amounts of tears are being formed, sun, wind, and dust can increase the need for tears beyond the body's ability to produce them. In either of these situations, tear replacements should be considered. Tear replacements...also referred to as artificial tears...contain water, thickening agents, and, usually, preservatives. These products may be advertised to "moisturize and sooth irritated, dry eyes". They vary in wetting properties and thickness. All are made for "dry eyes".

"Dust in the Sky" a hit

Theima Shields, the music teacher at the Clarendon schools, had her hands full putting together the fifth and sixth grade musical production, "Dust in the Sky" last week.

The acts were divided up so that the characters were played by different cast members to give them more time to be the "stars".

The first act set the story line about a family moving west to ranch the dusty plains. A "bummer" comes on the scene with some tall tales and lots of experience. The wagon master was aptly portrayed by loud and onery Mike Shelly who really put character into his lines. Jenny and Danny, the two children in the story, were played by Tina and Alexander who knew her lines and said them loud and clear and Russell McAnear who really seemed at home on the stage. Mama and Papa were played in the first act by Sandy Pafume who wore a cute costume, and Michael McLearn who didn't falter a second with his lines. The "bummer" was played by Clemmon Weatheron who clowned his way through some dropped lines. He and Todd Phillips sang a duet. Todd has the makings of a good singer, but Clemmon and Johnny Cash have a lot in common. There were four songs in this act and the kids seemed to enjoy "Far From Home" best as it was sung with vigor and clarity.

Act II starred Laura Copeland as Jenny. She had fun with the part and added character to her lines. Danny was played by Scott Edwards, the best singer on the stage and the loudest voice in the big group. Mama and Papa were played by Nikki Robinson and Daniel Ford. Ford was in a hurry to say his lines and be done with it, but Nikki grinned her way through her pieces. There were scheduled to be three "Chinese" cooks played by Arthur Harris, Danny McCampbell and Randy Gaines. The three songs sung during this act were led beautifully by the deep resonant voice of Scott Edwards. Tina Alexander sang a brief solo part to one in a sweet, clear voice and all of the crew enjoyed singing "Chiapeneecas" together.

Act III, Scene I featured Laura Copeland and again as Jenny. Mama was played by Patty Terry who not only knew her lines, but those of the others who might have had trouble now and then. Both girls wore cute costumes of the period. Papa was played by Walt Thompson who was authentic in his attire, even to a straw in his mouth. Tom was played rather quietly by Tim Cox and Jody Leffew was a cowboy in the best western outfit of the lot. There were two fellows who came on during a song and did a silent duel. They sure played the parts well and didn't giggle about it at all. Todd and Tim sang a duet of "Streets of Larado". Again, Edwards sang like a choir boy.

Act III, Scene II featured Billie Jo White as Jenny. She has all of the makings of a Sara Bernhart! Danny was Russell McAnear again. He sure was at home on the stage. Papa was played by Michael McLearn again and Mama was Sandy Pafume again. The Chinese cooks stepped in as well.

This scene featured Tyrone Calloway, Billy Ray Cates, Michael Morrow and Bill Thompson as Miners. Steven Hicks, Kevin Payne, Wes Hatley, Brad Braddock, Jody Leffew, Jeff Mills, David Perry and Billy Phillips and Jimmy Uptergrove played cowboys.

Waldo Vaquero, Pedro Guevara, Martin Vaquero, Danny Gaines, played beautifully hatted Spaniards. Mary Helen Chadwick, Corita Barker, Glenda Day and Ruby Gonzales played Spanish Entertainers.

Of the four songs sung in this act, the kids knew the words to their favorite, "My Hero's a Cowboy".

Handing out the printed programs were Tina Shields and Rodora Grey. The curtain was very aptly handled by Charles Chadwick.

It was great to see so many parents in attendance and to see so many of our youth interested in singing and acting. Thanks to our fine dedicated teachers for helping make this production possible.

Doing MORE...With LESS!

OLD-TIME BEAUTY SECRETS

For centuries, herbs were the main source of beauty aids... then along came the big cosmetic companies, and the world of beauty was swamped with (sometimes dangerous) chemicals. Lately, however, as we rediscover organic recipes, homegrown herbs, fruits, and vegetables have found their way back onto many makeup tables.

Shirley Sipp sent us an interesting list of beauty tips that her grandmother had once written out for her daughter (Shirley's aunt). We're passing her collection of old-time dressing-table advice along to you:

IN THE MORNING: Mix a handful of oatmeal with enough spring water to make a paste, and put this mixture on your face and neck. When it dries, rinse the paste off with whey, then with water, and dry your skin with a soft rag.

AT NIGHT: Rub a mixture of honey and glycerin onto your face, then wipe it off gently—after a while—with a soft cloth.

ONCE A WEEK: Add a teaspoon of honey to one mashed apple, mix them together, and put this "cream" on your face and neck. Leave it in place for half an hour, and then rinse with whey or cold milk.

TO HEAL CHAPPED HANDS: Rub them with damp table salt.

FOR BRIGHT HAIR: Add vinegar to the rinse water after washing your hair, or make a rinse of mullein, nettle, sage, or burdock tea.

TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR: Boil an ounce of chamomile or sage in a quart of water for 20 minutes. Rinse your hair with this brew, and use a hairbrush dipped in strong chamomile or sage tea.

FOR A RELAXING BATH: Hang a bag of dried comfrey or rosemary in the bath water.

FOR PERFUME: Fill a jar with pressed rose petals (or any sweet-scented flowers), add as much glycerin as the container will hold, and cover it tightly. After three weeks, you can pour the perfume off into a bottle.

TO MAKE A SACHET: Combine one ounce each of powdered cloves, caraway seed, nutmeg, fance, and cinnamon with six ounces of powdered orrisroot. Put the mixture in macy bags and place them in closets and dresser drawers.

FOR SOFT HANDS: Shake a half cup of glycerin, a half cup of rose water, and a quarter cup of witch hazel in a jar. Apply this to your hands after they've been in water.

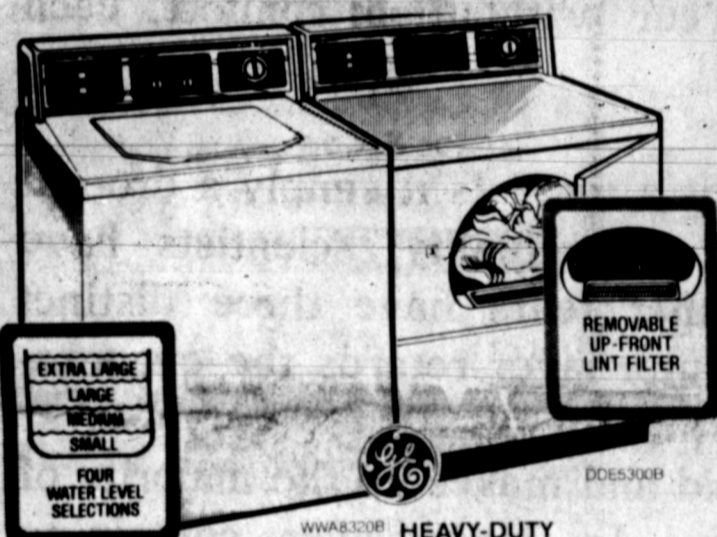

Most beauty-conscious grandmas foraged or grew many of their ingredients. But if you don't have your own garden, you can often find the natural aids in health food stores, supermarkets, and pharmacies... or even growing wild along the roadside.

Ms. Sipp says she's started to use some of her grandmother's old-time recipes and has found that comfrey does make a nice skin softener... while oatmeal leaves the skin silky and is especially good on oily teenage complexions.

However, a word of caution: Anyone can be allergic to almost anything, so check out any unfamiliar substance before you rub it all over yourself. To do this, just place a small amount on the tender skin of your inner arm, and cover the area with an adhesive bandage. Then wait 24 hours and have a look. If the patch shows any reaction, such as redness or obvious irritation... that ingredient just isn't for you.

For out-of-town business, picking up a phone can cost less than dropping a line.

The stamp on a letter is only a small part of the cost of doing business by mail. You have to include the cost of secretarial time, materials, mail handling and overhead. That adds up to something like $6.63* You can do a lot of business with long distance for that amount, take care of orders faster, and save time and energy as well.

Plus you never have to lick stamps.

Daze of our Lives

By JEAN BURCHETT

No doubt, I would have offered to help Miss Etta anyway when I found she was worrying about her government check being more than usual. But when she said I was young and knew business procedures and just generally had a "way" with people, I told her I would take care of it faster than she could say Federal Aid.

I sashayed to the courthouse, wedged myself onto the long bench of waiting people beside a man with a week's growth of beard and a red kerchief around his neck. He leaned over and spit tobacco in a brass pot, wiped his mouth on the kerchief and said, "You ain't got no plastic card with a number on it, lady. You won't never get in without that."

He showed me where to go, told me he would save my place on the bench, and spit in the brass pot. I thanked him. "I appreciate it," I said. "I'm on my coffee-break. What I need to know won't take two minutes." I got my card.

"I got all day," he said. "Here, I'll trade my number nine for the ten. Nobody'll notice."

An hour later I was called in the office. "I'm here on behalf of Miss Etta Langdon," I said authoritatively to the woman whose hair had come loose from its bun to spring wisps around her face as she jostled figures on a yellow lined pad.

"How much more does she want?" she asked wearily, without looking up.

"No, no. Its not that. You see her check this month was more than she's allotted. We want to know how to return the overage."

"Now," she peered over the glasses. "I've heard it all. Her number please."

I read from my notebook containing all the pertinent information Miss Etta had given me and the woman wrote on her pad like crazy. "Let me understand this," she said. "She is getting more than she's entitled to and still unhappy. I think we'd better start at the top. Does she own her home? Have chickens or livestock? Are you the payee? Do you have insurance policies and if so, what are the numbers? What did you say your name was?"

"Why," I stammered, "I don't know." "You don't know your name?" "Of course," I snapped. "But I don't have any chickens and I can't spiel off my policy numbers from the ton of my head."

"The name..." she said irritably. "Miss Etta Langdon."

"You've never been married?"

I got so befuddled that I told her I'd never been unmarried that I had three kids, owned my home, was insured up to my neck, hated cows and chickens, had a corn on my big left toe that was killing me and was going to lose a good job if she didn't get her act together.

Exasperated, she straightened her shoulders against her chair, wiped her glasses on a tissue and popped them back on. "You look healthy to ME!" she said. "ABLE to work. People like you try my patience. Frankly, you don't even look 65."

"Well!" I said indignantly. "I'm not!"

"One question," she tapped her fingers against the desk. "Why are you here?"

"I don't know... I mean I can't explain to you. We have a communication gap. I mean, I have a problem..."

"Yes," she sighed. "On your way out would you tell number ten to come in?"

Number ten spit in the brass pot. "Did you git yore pay?" he asked.

"All I wanted to know was why my check was so much," I moaned. "I never could make the woman understand."

"Why," he bit off a hunk of tobacco. "She don't know nuthin' about that. You got the wrong office." He pointed down the hall. "Do down there and they'll fix you right up."

Miss Etta was so grateful. She said she knew I would cut right to the heart of the matter. "Someday," she said, "you'll understand, but we older folk get confused."

Relax this past Saturday. The Broncos dominated the nine team field by totaling 128 points. New Deal was runner up in the meet with a total of 93 points. This was an especially good effort for the Broncos since about one half of the team had only been out in practice since Wednesday. All of these young men had been participating on the District Champion basketball team. Their competitive spirit and attitude allowed them to overcome the lack of workout time and the Broncos once again showed their championship class. The Broncos will definitely improve as the season progresses and after they receive the benefit of some good, hard workouts. The Broncos travel to Lorenzo this Saturday to compete in the Hornet Relays.

Broncos who scored in the Wildcat Relays are as follows:

CHS Girls dominate Plainview
As expected, the Lady Tracksters did not lose a step in going from the gym floor to the all-weather surfaced track at Plainview. The Clarendon Track team point total was more than double that of the team in second place (146-72). The competition was very good in all events and the girls placed in every event except the discus.

The meet was shortened due to the weather being so bad and as it turned out, the day was exceptionally nice for this time of season. The Bronchettes won two relays and were third in the 1600 meter relays as they were running against time in all running events.

This week, the girls are running at the Whirlwind Relays in Eloydada with prelims beginning at 9:30 and finals at 2:00. The competition will be very much stronger in all events as Slaton, Post, Abernathy, Idalou, Floydada, Tulla, Dimmitt, Kermit are in the meet. Clarendon is the only AA in the meet as we are seeking to compete against strong fields during the season, preparing for the regional and state meet.

The events and how the girls placed with their efforts are as follows.

dominated the game in the second and final quarters, and one that ambled slowly through the first and third. With the combination, the Broncos fell only two points and a few seconds short of a 71-69 bi-district crown in the Amarillo Civic Center.
 The Eagles, 28-4 after the win followed the free shots of All-State senior Todd Washington as he hit 17 of his 33 points from the charity stripe. Clarendon was led in scoring by Senior Brad Thompson who was good for 26, including 15 in the final quarter.
 In the first period, the Eagles scored a string of 15 unanswered points over a five minute period to take a 17-2 lead. It looked to be a blowout, but the Broncos bounced back briefly to make the score 21-8 after one quarter.
 After that, the Broncos overcame their bi-district jitters to score 22 second quarter points to 11 for S-F. Kelly Hill led the Broncos back, scoring six and grabbing five of his twelve rebounds in that period. Hill had his best game of the season by far with 14 points. Coach Ron Holmes commented, "Kelly played out of his mind. He's going to be something else next year." Along with Thompson and Hosea Hearn, Hill brought Clarendon to within two at halftime, 32-30.

 The Eagles got hot, however, in the third quarter, and Clarendon could manage only eleven shots as S-F extended its lead to 53-41. Then, in a do-or-die situation the final period, Clarendon began to catch up. Down by as many as 16 with only four minutes remaining, Thompson went to work, scoring 15 of the Broncos' 28 points. His final bucket, with four seconds left pulled Clarendon within two, but the Eagles just had to let time expire as Holmes was out of time-outs.
 Hosea Hearn added twelve points to the Clarendon cause while John Braxton had eight and grabbed 16 rebounds against a strong-rebounding team. The loss dropped the Broncos to 21-6 for their final record.

 Holmes commented that he was pleased with his team's effort, despite the loss. "I've never been this close to anyone," said Holmes in a tearful post-game talk in the lockerroom. "You guys are really special—I love you." And, indeed, Holmes' sentiments are shared by all those who closely followed Bronco Basketball.

Taxpayer, beware, the Internal Revenue Service cautions.

Working toward tax reform certainly is not illegal, the IRS points out. For example, contacting a member of Congress and urging changes in the tax laws is the right of every individual. Neither is arranging one's affairs to pay the lowest possible tax against the law. If you hold securities so as to have a long-term instead of a short-term capital gain, the law supports your move.

On the other hand, illegal tax protest, such as advocating or participating in a scheme that results in the illegal underpayment or non-payment of taxes, or the non-filing of required tax returns, is illegal.

The IRS has the duty, given by Congress, to enforce the Federal tax laws. When some individuals remove themselves from the law, the burden of taxes is greater for those who willingly comply.

In the interest of fairness for all taxpayers, the IRS will continue to enforce all Federal tax laws, including laws governing those who place themselves above the law by illegally refusing to pay their just share of tax.

Overdue book list

If you have a book that is over due at the Library, please check the list below to see if your name is on this list. Sometimes it is easy to forget the date a book may come due, or it might have become lost in the daily clutter of our homes and lives. But your name will be on this list posted at the library and in this paper regardless of how the book came to be over due. Some of our finest citizens have forgotten a book now and then, so don't be shamed... just return the book so others may enjoy it.

Beware the easy out for Income Tax

Never pay income tax again! That's a very tempting idea. Proponents of this notion are making speeches and offering seminars around the country on the "how-to's" of tax evasion.

Stony and Liz Craft would like to take this opportunity to invite everyone to the Canteen, as we have reopened the store for this season. Remember our great Friday night Fish Fry, we're doing it again. Hope we see you. Plus Sunday dinners, home made-tender and Juicy. So please come see us, by the way fisherman, we have a $100.00 dollar reward to anyone who can beat my largest fish caught this year, and that's a hundred dollars every time it's beat. So far my best is a 34 1/2 pound Blue Cat. A record and that's a whopper. Must be caught in Greenbelt.
THE CANTEEN, HOWARDWICK, TEXAS

It's The Law!

The Texas Legislature has enacted a law that requires you and all other Texas motorists to carry automobile liability insurance beginning January 1, 1982. Bodily injury coverage of at least $10,000 per person and $20,000 for two or more persons per accident must be in force at all times. Property damage coverage must be at least $5,000 per accident.

Failure to maintain the coverages required by this law will result in a fine of at least $75.00 for the first offense and a minimum of at least $200 for any subsequent offense. If you are convicted you may lose your drivers license and motor vehicle registration as well.

After January 1, 1982 law enforcement officers in Texas will ask to see proof of your insurance coverage when investigating a traffic accident or violation. The Department of Public Safety has advised that the following are acceptable forms of this proof:

- Your automobile insurance policy.
- A photocopy of the declarations page of the policy which contains the policy number, limits of liability, term of the policy, etc.
- A special identification card that some insurance companies may provide.

Even though many more Texas motorists will purchase and maintain liability insurance coverage as the law requires, hundreds of thousands of motorists will intentionally violate the law and remain uninsured.

For this reason we urge you to continue to carry uninsured/underinsured motorist coverage on your own policy. This important coverage will give you added protection should you be involved in an accident with an uninsured or underinsured driver.

Early Bird Club met

The Early Bird Home-makers Club met Wednesday March 3, at the lovely home of Melba Risley. After Connie Clifford led the devotional, President Pat McCombs directed the business meeting.

Club members enthusiastically enjoyed the program which was presented by guest speaker Ruby Jewel Hardin. Mrs. Hardin's topic was machine embroidery, monogramming, and applique. She gave an expert demonstration to the delight of all.

Melba Risley served a light brunch of cheeses, meats and homemade breads. Club members present were: Pat McCombs, Connie Clifford, Maxine Hardin, Clara Hodges, Ruth Mandrosky, Melba Risley, Mary Jane Smith and Priscilla Greene. Welcomed guests were Dixie Howell, Bobbie Floyd, Naomi Green and Katie Dvorak.

Nutrition month

Health foods...natural foods...organic foods...has the recent flurry of food terms left you befuddled and confused?

If so, you're not alone. Even the US Food and Drug Administration admits that these terms "are so loosely and interchangeably used that they are difficult to define."

When promoters make a false or misleading claim on a product's label or in its advertising, the FDA can take action. But the labels "health," "natural" and, to come extent, "organic" are not really specific claims--though they carry specific connotations, to be sure.

What it all boils down to is this: the health-natural-organic food bog is far too murky for government intervention.

And one thing the consumer should beware of is the high cost of eating health foods. One US Department of Agriculture survey, for instance, has revealed that food bought in health food stores can run twice as much as comparable foods bought at the supermarket.

March 14-20 National Wildlife week

This year, from March 14 through 20, the bald eagle will serve as the symbol for the National Wildlife Week. It is an endangered species in most of the "lower 48" states.

The theme of the week, "We Care About Eagles" will also help commemorate 1982 as the "Year of the Eagle", marking the 200th anniversary of the bald eagle's selection as this country's national symbol.

Americans will observe the "Year of the Eagle" in the same year that they commemorate the 100th birthday of Wildlife Week's creator, Franklin Delano Roosevelt. It was FDR who proclaimed the first Wildlife Week in 1938 to rally support for the nation's wildlife.

We made the bald eagle our national symbol in 1782, then we started destroying his habitats, polluting the streams from which he feeds.

and shooting him from the sky.

There are four refuges in prime eagle wintering areas and the National Wildlife Federation has a Federation Raptor Information Center where researchers work to identify critical bald eagle habitats and to maintain a data "bank" on eagles and other birds of prey.

The Federation also offers a $500 reward for information leading to the conviction in federal court of anyone who kills a bald eagle. Eagles have been protected by federal law since 1940.

Wildlife hearing slated March 17

Hunting accidents, fatalities rise

Fatal hunting accidents increased significantly during 1981 over the year before, according to hunter safety education officials of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Hunting mishaps took the lives of 19 persons, an increase of six over 1980. Officials recorded 72 accidents in 1981, three more than were reported in 1980.

Hunter Safety Education Coordinator Darrell Holt said 83 percent of the accidents involved persons between nine and 29 years of age.

Deer hunters were the most accident-prone during 1981, with 20 cases reported, seven of which involved self-inflicted injuries.

Only three of the victims of hunting accidents were wearing prominent bright colors in their clothing, and none had taken the department's hunter safety education course.

A total of 27 accidents was caused by errors in hunter judgment. The victim was shot by others swinging on game in 11 cases and six of the victims were out of sight of the shooter.

A New Boating Column

Recreational boating hasn't invented in North America but boating for the common man was definitely launched in the new world.

Give Ole Evinrude the credit. In 1909, after rowing across a big Wisconsin lake on a hot day, the husky Norwegian hit upon an idea whose time had come: a lightweight, affordable, "rowboat" motor.

Recreational boating got another big boost in 1921 when the Johnson brothers of Indiana introduced their "Model A" aluminum outboard motor at the New York Boat Show.

Today recreational boating is a major recreation and industry in the United States and Canada. More than 60 million people went boating at least twice in 1981. Sales of boats, motors, trailers, accessories, and fuel totalled approximately $9 billion.

This year an estimated 12 million boats will be in use in the U.S. and Canada. That includes seven million outboard boats, three million canoes, more than one million sailboats, and more than a million inboard and inboard-outboard yachts and runabouts.

Why is boating so popular?

There are many reasons, because boating is more than just one sport.

Boating is fishing. It's water skiing. It's cruising, and overnighting. It's boat camping, and picnicking. It's skin and scuba diving, and exploring.

Boating recharges, refreshes, relaxes. There are no phones, no red lights.

Boating is meeting people and helping people. It's boy-watching and girl-watching. It's dreaming, and it's a dream-come-true.

It's as energetic as bare-foot water skiing, or as stress-free as watching a fishing cork bobbing up and down in the water.

Boating is for everybody— for singles, couples, friends and families.

Nobody has described the fun of boating so well as Kenneth Graham did in his prophetic book of 1908, "The Wind in the Willows".

There is nothing — absolutely nothing — half so much worth doing as simply messing about in boats... or with boats... in or out of 'em, it doesn't matter.

Ole Evinrude knew about the fun of messing about in boats. Just last year he was recognized, posthumously, for the contribution he made to recreational boating. The American Society of Mechanical Engineers designated his 1909 outboard motor a "National Historic Mechanical Engineering Landmark". It joins more than 60 other significant achievements, including the Saturn V rocket, the Pike's Peak Cog Railway, and the New York City Subway system.

If you're one of the 60 million Americans who already go boating, you know about the enjoyment of our sport.

If not, you owe it to yourself to find out why people like Ole Evinrude and Kenneth Graham found boating so much fun.

Farm & Ranch News

Federal Budget

There seems to be a genuine desire on the part of taxpayers to balance the federal budget, but when political leaders offer programs designed to balance the federal budget, the public has and will always oppose such action. This conclusion is based on the fact that a large number of American citizens are receiving a considerable part of their income from the federal treasury.

The U.S. NEWS AND WORLD REPORT of February 15, 1982 reports that there were 36,900,000 people collecting social security; 22,400,000 people collecting medicare benefits; 21,400,000 people receiving food stamps; 28,900,000 people helped under medicare; 23,200,000 children in school-lunch program; 974,000 railroad-retirement beneficiaries; 11 million members of families receiving aid to families with dependent children; 3,600,000 workers on unemployment compensation; 440,000 disabled coal miners; 1,400,000 civil service retirees; 2,100,000 military personnel; 1,400,000 military retirees; 3,600,000 aged blind or disabled receiving aid; 2,700,000 government workers; 5,400,000 veterans or survivors collecting pensions or compensations. In addition to these, millions of Americans are helped by other programs, such as federalized housing, small-business loans, farm-price supports, college-student loans.

In summary, the U.S. government was never designed to provide economic aid to the individual. The U.S. government was correctly designed to protect the inalienable rights of each individual. These rights are defined in the 1776 Declaration of Independence as follows: "We had these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure their just powers from the consent of the governed." It is utterly impossible for government to supply economic benefits to the individual and at the same time protect the inalienable rights of each individual. Stated another way, government can no more protect and provide than a person can suck and blow at the same time.

The Farmer's share

A Doane's Agricultural Report, dated November 20, 1981, reported the following with regard to how farmers share the net income pie: "Four million farmers, 4% of the national labor force, produce slightly less than 3% of the nation's Gross National Product (GNP); yet, as a farmer, you anchor an agricultural system employing 23 million people (1979 USDA data) which contributes 20% to GNP. Of more than $100 billion worth of commodities which left the nation's farms in 1979, $80 billion made up domestic sales and $20 billion was exported. Added to this domestic consumption was $165 billion in marketing services. This means consumers spent $245 billion for U.S. food. Thus, a third of what consumers spent at grocery stores and restaurants went to farmers.

Farm Income

Net farm operators' income for 1981 is now reported at $24.0 billion, compared to $19.9 billion in 1980. If the 1981 farm operators net dollar income is converted to 1967 dollars, the net income is reduced to $8.5 billion, compared to $8.1 billion in 1980.

Trees still available

Suppliers have notified the Soil Conservation Service and the Donley County SWCD that some trees for windbreaks and wildlife habitat are still available. The Donley County District will call each Friday morning for the next two weeks to see what trees are available and send in an order that afternoon. Trees are a great asset to our Rolling Plains Country. A well planned planting of adapted species can and will serve a multitude of purposes. As a windbreak, trees prevent wind erosion on cropland, cut down on energy costs in the home and provide wildlife habitat as well as increasing both the aesthetic and monetary value of land and homes.

If you haven't ordered your trees as yet get your order in now. If you need help with planning a shelter-belt or windbreak contact your Soil Conservation Service on South Kearney, 874-2339.

4-H meeting

The Donley County 4-H Club meeting will be Monday, March 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the Clarendon College Cafeteria. Sue Thompson will be giving the program on "Photography". 4-H officers will need to be at the cafeteria at 7 p.m. before the meeting.

4-H Auction April 3

Starting time is 9:30 a.m., Saturday, April 3, for the annual Armstrong County 4-H Farm Machinery Sale. This will take place at the American Legion Grounds, Claude. Items will be many and varied, and not restricted to farm machinery. We welcome all consignments.

Auctioneers will be Dulin and Reagan. The 4-H Clubs receive a small commission on all items handled. This money finances 4-H activities conducted during the year. The 4-H girls will be operating a concession stand. Many bargains will be available. Everyone is invited.

Poisonous range plants inflict losses

Poisonous range plants inflict losses of up to $100 million each year to the Texas livestock industry. These losses stem from animal deaths as well as reduced animal performance and increased management costs.

Livestock industry losses from poisonous range plants have tended to increase over the past 50 years, according to one official.

Dr. Allan McGinty of Fort Stockton, a range specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, believes that the trend over the past 100 years toward higher stocking rates and the change from open ranges to fenced pastures has had a lot to do with present poisonous range plant problems.

"High stocking rates generally have reduced range conditions and the carrying capacity of most Texas rangelands," he points out. "Use of fenced pastures have altered the diet selection of livestock so that grazing animals are more likely to consume significant quantities of poisonous plants."

McGinty says that good soil moisture conditions in late winter and early spring can bring an increase in poisonous range plants. If such conditions exist, he cautions ranchers to be on the watch for poisonous plants and to take control measures and follow certain management practices to keep livestock losses to a minimum.

"Control measures include mechanical, biotic and chemical methods," says McGinty.

Mechanical methods include cultivation in restricted areas, mowing, hand pulling, cutting, grubbing or burning.

Biotic methods include heavy grazing of limited areas by large numbers of livestock so that none are allowed to get a lethal dose, grazing of different classes of livestock, or deferring infested areas.

Various chemicals are available to control poisonous plants. This type of control is expensive but is effective in controlling large acreages of poisonous plants in a short time, notes the specialist.

NUMB ARMS, LEGS Danger Signals

There may be misalignment of vertebrae in the spine causing pressure on nerves, yet the patient experiences no pain in the back. Instead, a variety of sensations may be felt in other parts of the body. These include tingling, lightness, hot spots, cold spots, crawling sensations, electric shock sensations, stinging, burning, and others.

Here are nine critical symptoms involving back pain or strange sensations which are usually the forerunners of more serious conditions. Any one of these usually spells back trouble.

- (1) Paresthesias (see above) (2) Headaches (3) Painful joints (4) Numbness in the arms or hands (5) Loss of sleep (6) Stiffness in the neck (7) Pain between the shoulders (8) Stiffness or pain in lower back (9) Numbness or pain in the legs

These signals indicate that your body is being robbed of normal nerve function. Until this function is restored, you will, in some degree, be incapacitated. The longer you wait to seek help, the worse the condition will become. Don't wait! Should you experience any of these danger signals, call for in depth consultation in Layman's terms.

Bingo act enforced to the letter

State Comptroller Bob Bullock today announced that Texas' new Bingo Enabling Act will be enforced to the letter by the Comptroller's office.

"Today I wish to put on notice everyone who conducts or enjoys the game of bingo in Texas that they will have opportunities to vote on this issue April 3 and August 14," Bullock said.

"In areas where there has been a vote on this issue, we are not going to second-guess the voters. Where they have approved the game, it will be conducted according to provisions of the Bingo Enabling Act."

"Where the game has not been approved, we will also be following provisions of this law, which went into effect November 10, 1981," Bullock said.

The Comptroller enclosed copies of the law with his announcement.

The Bingo Enabling Act's Section 42(c) provides that if the act is knowingly violated, "the court shall order all proceeds from the illegal bingo game or games to be forfeited to the appropriate governing body as a civil penalty."

Further, Bullock pointed out, violations of the act also carry criminal penalties under the Texas Penal Code. "A word to the wise should be sufficient," Bullock said. "We mean to enforce this law."

Admission will be 75c for adults and 50c for kids. There will be two nets set up, so you can watch double games for added excitement.

TAXPAYERS' RIGHTS.

Don't overpay your Property Taxes.

The Texas property tax system provides certain rights and remedies for property owners. The law also offers tax relief measures to qualified taxpayers. But they do not go into effect automatically; you must apply for them by May 1. To help you understand your rights as a taxpayer, the State Property Tax Board has prepared a free pamphlet, Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities, available from your new county appraisal district or local tax office. The publication will help you understand the types of exemptions that are available and what you must do to obtain them if you qualify.

Rendition
One way to assert your rights as a taxpayer is to render your property. This means filling out a rendition statement at the appraisal district office, telling tax officials what you believe the value of your property should be. When you render, the appraisal district or appraisal review board must officially notify you if the value of your property is increased over the amount you rendered.

General Homestead Exemption
If you qualify for a residence homestead exemption, you are entitled to a $5,000 exemption off the appraised value of your home for school tax purposes, and a $3,000 exemption for the portion of county taxes levied for farm-to-market roads or flood control. Some jurisdictions may offer an additional exemption of a percentage of the value of your homestead.

Exemptions for the Elderly
If you are 65 or over, you are entitled to an additional $10,000 exemption off the appraised value of your residence homestead for school taxes. And, when you apply and qualify for this exemption, the school tax bill cannot increase on your home, unless you make additions or improvements to it.

Disabled
If you are disabled and qualify for the residence homestead exemption, you are entitled to an additional exemption of $10,000 off the appraised value of your home for school taxes. Other taxing jurisdictions may offer optional exemptions. All jurisdictions offer an exemption for certain disabled veterans on one designated property.

Farmers and Ranchers
If you qualify, your agricultural or open-space land may be taxed at its productivity value instead of market value. Certain farming implements and machines may also qualify for exemption.

Tax exemptions and special valuations are not effective automatically. Applications should be made this year before May 1 to your new county appraisal district, or to local tax offices in appraisal districts which have postponed implementation. Check with the appraisal district or local tax offices to find out where to apply for tax relief.

While late applications for exemptions may be accepted in some instances, the burden and expense of proving a good reason for filing late rests on the taxpayer. You can avoid any inconvenience and fully protect your rights and access to remedies as a taxpayer by applying for exemptions and rendering your property before May 1.

Ask for a free copy of Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities at your appraisal district or local tax office. Or contact the State Property Tax Board in Austin.

II Corinthians 9:7

Everyman according as he purporeth in his heart, so let him give; not grudgingly, or of necessity; for God loveth a cheerful giver.

Whether it be time, money or talent, remember, these are given us of God.

As we return portions to God in His service, joyfully, He will surely bless us for it.
W. Bryon Knowles.

you and the LAW

Q: Our son and his wife are separated, not divorced. She lives in another state. My son has not seen his wife in two years, but a few months ago she gave birth to a child. What name does this child legally carry? Would this child and any other born before a divorce be automatically included in our will as the surviving issue of our son?

A: Unless your son asks the Court to determine that his wife's baby is not his own, the new child will be treated in all respects as your son's legitimate offspring. All children born to a couple during marriage are presumed to be the husband's. He must establish non-access and certain other facts before the Court will declare the child not legitimate. Until this determination is made by the Court, your son must support the baby, and if your estates pass to your grandchildren, the new baby will be included.

Send your questions to "You and the Law," State Bar of Texas, P.O. Box 12487, Austin, 78711. Answers may appear in columns in hypothetical terms; personal answers not possible.
