DONLEY BANK BEAUTIFIES WITH REDWOOD PLANTERS

In order to help beautify main street and the area surrounding the Donley County State Bank, redwood planters were set up in front of the bank and along the side, five in all, last Friday afternoon.

Included in the planters were small trees, ivy and various bedding plants. Part of the beauty of the planters was marred approximately 2 hours later when they were riddled with hail and to add insult to injury, vandals pushed one of the big heavy planters onto the highway, spilling the contents.

Carroll Knorpp, president of the bank is to be complimented on his efforts and we know as time goes along, these planters will add much to the appearance of our business district.

MINUTES OF CITY COUNCIL — PAGE 5

First there was a continuous roar to the southwest and then the big hail came between 5 and 6 o'clock last Friday afternoon to cut a swath of destruction and damage across Clarendon proper, to the northeast and then back southeast across the Lelia Lake area.

The hail measured from pea to baseball size and in general the average size was about like that of golf balls. It was the hard variety. Window panes were broken in numerous instances and damage to roofs, trees, shrubs and plants was heavy. Automobiles unprotected were damaged heavily and numerous windshields were broken out and shattered glass was prevalent under unprotected neon signs.

Wheat crops were damaged considerably southwest of town and patches of wheat and alfalfa all along the route of the storm were heavily damaged.

The main brunt of the storm moved from the southwest across Clarendon into the Sunnyview area, embraced an area east to the F. A. Floyd farm and south to Lelia Lake. The hail was extremely heavy between Lane's Lake and the west side of Lelia Lake with hail stacked several inches deep.

A small tornado dipped down during the storm on the John Bass farm southeast of Clarendon and ripped the roof from a hay barn scattering twisted sheet iron and lumber for approximately a half mile. Mrs. Bass said she looked out and saw the big pieces of sheet iron swirling in the air and that's when she really got scared. The Bass home is only a short distance north of where the hay barn stood. Hay in the barn was not scattered.

Moisture along the main storm route measured one and two inches with the greater portion of the water running off, except for the hail which remained for several hours where it was stacked the deepest.

Mr. and Mrs. William Payne returned home Monday night from Denver, Colo. They had visited their son Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Payne and family at Westminster since Thursday.

Chevrolet's room, ride and price. When Automotive News made its annual roominess study, Chevrolet got the most points. It's roomier inside, they reported, than any other American car. The ride is Full Coil suspension smooth. And Chevrolet hardtops and convertibles are still the lowest priced full-size cars of this kind you can buy. Chevelle's quick size. It's quick to climb, quick to turn. Other mid-size cars might be like Chevelle, true. But they're not as low priced. And they're not made by Chevrolet with Body by Fisher, GM-developed energy-absorbing steering column, inner fenders and Full Coil suspension. Camaro's road-hugging stance. At its price, Camaro is the only sportster to give you wide-stance design. It rides steadier, clings to curves better, hugs the road closer. It's the roomiest car you can buy. Plus, you get a bigger standard engine.

SHIELDS FARM SUPPLY-Lelia Lake, Texas

NEWS FROM

Congressman
Bob Price

18th District, Texas

One of the big problems Congress faces, especially the House Agriculture Committee on which I serve, is the worsening farm situation. I have had many letters recently from both farmers and businessmen in smaller Panhandle communities about the continuing decline in farm income and the resultant depressing effects on business in the smaller towns.

Actually, business in Amarillo, Borger, Pampa, Hereford and other communities with industrial payrolls is adversely affected by the comparatively low level of farm and ranch net income. Farm prices dropped in February to only 75% of parity and remained at 74% during March. In only one other month since 1934 have the prices farmers received for what they produce been so low in relation to the prices of the farm things they must buy to produce their crops and livestock and to live on the farm.

Consumers of this nation should understand that we might be short of food in this country today if farmers depended solely on prices received in the market place and if these prices had been as low in all the years since 1940 as they are today. There probably would not be enough resources now left in the agricultural economy to provide abundance for our own people and certainly no possibility of sharing food with the hungry millions of other nations.

Addressing a farm credit group in Houston recently, Rep. W. R. (Bob) Poage, Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, said he was deeply concerned by the hue and cry last year from housewives and boycotts across the country when the prices farmers received for some goods advanced moderately and prices at the grocery store advanced more. And this all happened, Mr. Poage pointed out, in a year when prices farmers got for what they produced were substantially — actually 5%—below what they were 20 years before and they are substantially lower than that today. Food prices for the same period are up 35%. Today, the farmer receives only 5.5% of the U. S. consumer's total after-tax income of his products—one half the share he received in 1947. But during the past 20 years hourly earnings of the industrial workers have advanced 123% and corporate dividends are up 232%.

This story could go on and on—the inflated prices a farmer must pay for everything—machinery, building materials, labor, medical and hospital care. In the nation as a whole and particularly in the Panhandle, agriculture is our biggest industry. It is also our most vital industry but the least rewarded.

The competition of higher paying jobs and public assistance payments in cities keeps a steady stream of farmers and farm workers moving off the land. Our farm population today is down to 12 million, less than half of what it was 18 years ago. And not many people are going into agriculture. More than half of our farmers are over 50 years of age and 18% above 65. So it is obvious that we are headed for trouble unless we put incentives back in agriculture and this means that the cities must be willing to return to the farmers in the price of food and fiber a profit on a parity with people in other undertakings that contribute to our well-being.

the political force of the farmer has diminished to the extent that he must now depend upon members of Congress and administrators representing urban constituents and populations for approval of policies which are fair and equitable to agriculture. And I believe it is urgent that the great metropolitan areas understand what is involved before it is too late.

This is, therefore, one of the most vital issues facing Congress. We must forestall any probability of a food shortage in the United States and, hopefully, be able to help feed the hungry people in the Free World nations. A fair farm income and small industries in our smaller communities will help people in rural areas and stop the flow into the slum-ridden cities.

Band Students Attend Annual Spring Banquet Saturday Night

High School Band Students were entertained Saturday night, May 6, with a buffet supper and dance hosted by Band Parents in the High School Cafeteria.

The theme "Oriental Gardens," was used. As guests entered the building they viewed a lovely color-sparked fountain in a hibiscus shaped pool containing goldfish, floating flowers, and fern. The pool was outlined in lava rock and greenery. The background scene was a screen centered with a dragon and winged by Japanese alphabetical letters written in black on red. The trophy case displayed beautiful Oriental art objects.

Upon entering the doorways of the cafeteria outlined with red torii (gateways to Shinto shrines) the guests walked into an Oriental Fairyland. One wall was graced with two gigantic Japanese folding fans. Beautiful floral scenes were painted on them. Large butterflies perched between the fans. On the opposite wall were displayed the red glittered theme name and a mammoth fire-spitting yellow dragon hovering over a wooden arched red footbridge accented with lava rock, Japanese cherry trees, and large butterflies.

The buffet wall featured a scene of snow-capped mountains against a star-sprinkled midnight blue sky and the buffet table was attractively appointed with Oriental lanterns and candles. The orchestra area featured the same snow-capped mountain scene and was outlined with a rock wall and miniature Japanese cherry trees. From the ceiling were sprays of star-sprinkled midnight blue streamers and a cluster of Japanese umbrellas. Soft lighting was created by ceiling clusters, arcs, and strings of Japanese lanterns. Whirling color wheels and flickering spotlights also contributed to the fairyland illusion.

The buffet menu served throughout the evening consisted of sandwiches, dips, pickles, olives, fries, potato chips, and cookies. Soft drinks were served. The Sterlings provided music for dancing from 8 to 12 p.m. —Rep.

Government Secrecy Forbidden

The Legislature passed Monday the first bill in Texas history prohibiting governmental bodies from conducting public business in secret sessions.

The House voted 144-3 on an amended version of a Senate bill, and the Senate voted 28-0 to accept the House amendments.

Voting "no" in the House were Reps. Billy Williamson, Tyler; James Slider, Naples, and Don Cavness, Austin.

"You have indicated your intentions to let the people know," said Rep. Bill Rapp, Raymondville, a weekly newspaper publisher who carried the bill in the House.

Rapp said the House had passed such a bill three times but this was the first time both houses had acted in one session.

No House member spoke against the bill.

The measure applies to state agencies, county commissioners courts, city councils, local rule-making and quasi-judicial bodies such as zoning boards, school boards and governing boards of special districts.

Any member of a public agency covered by the bill who participates without dissent in a closed meeting would be guilty of a misdemeanor. He could be fined $25-$200 on first offense and $100 to $500 on subsequent offenses.

CC FROSH PLAN PICNIC FOR THURS. AFTERNOON

The freshman class at Clarendon College has planned a picnic for Thursday afternoon, May 11. All freshmen students and their guests are urged to attend. Picnickers should bring sack lunches, meet at the Administration building by 4:30 p.m. and catch the hayride conveyance out to the picnic site at Greenbelt Dam. Cokes will be provided from the class treasury. If some students cannot leave by 4:30, they are encouraged to join the group later.

The picnic will be over by 6:30 or 7:00, and students will have an opportunity to go from there to a dance at the Red Brick gym which is being sponsored by the Doggets. The Tierras, a well known group from Amarillo, will play for the dance which starts at 8:30 and is open to all college and high school students and their dates. Price of admission is $1 per person.

May 11 is Twirp Day for the entire college student body. "Girls, this is your big chance," stated Freddie Bobo, president of the freshman class. "Invite a boy to the picnic, then take him to the dance afterward. This will be our last opportunity for a party, before Dead Week, so we're hoping that everyone will turn out and have a good time," he concluded.

COUNTY AGENT ISSUES WARNING REGARDING ELM LEAF BEETLE

The first generation of the elm leaf beetle is hatching now and beginning to damage elm trees throughout Donley County, according to County Agent Ronald Gooch. The elm leaf beetle is one of the most destructive pests of the elm tree. The yellowish-green, 1/4 inch long beetle or the small black larvae can be found skeletonizing the leaves or crawling about on the bark of the trunk of infested trees.

This beetle can be controlled by thoroughly spraying the trees with one of the following insecticides: Sevin, DDT, Toxaphene or chlordane. Another application may be necessary for the second generation of elm leaf beetles, putting this application on about mid-summer. The addition of 3/4 teaspoon full of linseed oil per gallon of spray will help the spray stick to the leaves of the tree.

Gooch stressed that caution should be used in the use of these and any other insecticides.

WATER RIGHTS LAW

After 50 years of effort, Texas now has a water rights adjudication act to help solve water disputes without prolonged and costly court battles.

Act follows the "Oregon plan" of administrative procedure in refereeing water wrangles, plus automatic judicial review.

Riparian users must file a record of their claims with the Texas Water Rights Commission, the administering agency, by Sept. 1, 1969.

Backers of the bill said they hope it will prevent repetition of cases like the Rio Grande Valley water rights suit which has cost an estimated $10,000,000 ($400,000 of that out of state funds) over years of litigation. Case now is on appeal.

INDUSTRIAL AMENDMENT PASSES — Legislature has cleared for submission to voters next year the first constitutional amendment of this lawmaking session — to permit cities and counties to issue revenue bonds for industrial development.

If approved by Texans in the November, 1968, election, bonds could be used to build industrial plants for private concerns and repaid through revenues of the corporations. No tax funds would be obligated.

Let Freedom Teach

The story is told of the Roman Emperor Hadrian finding an aged man planting olive trees, and since they grow very slowly, saying to him:

"Old man, these trees will not bear fruit for many years. Do you expect to be alive to eat of the fruit of your labor?"

The old man replied: "My father and his father before him planted trees that I might have fruit. It is my duty, then, to provide for those who shall come after me."

Our forefathers planted ideas,

HEAVY HEADACHE FOR CHARLIE—A soldier carries some 150 pounds of trouble for the Viet Cong during Operation SAM HOUSTON near Plei Diereng. The three 105 millimeter rounds are for howitzers of the 4th Battalion, 42d Artillery, 4th Infantry Division. During one night these Irvens fired more than 1500 such rounds in support of the 2d Brigade. This led to their motto: "You Yell, We Shell, Open 24 Hours."

cultivated knowledge, practicing thrift and industry so that our nation has become the most prosperous the world has ever seen.

States today are failing to cultivate the ideas planted by our forefathers which have provided us individual freedom and opportunity.

If we don't plant the seeds of freedom for future generations, cultivate the ideas and responsibilities we have inherited, our children will have little to inherit.

And now is the time for learning about freedom and responsibility.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Seventy thousand four hundred and five linear feet of Parallel Terraces have been constructed on cropland this year by the following: RO Ranch, Woodrow Clendennen, W. N. Durham Jr., Frank Tyler, Bob Ayers, and Les Tiffin.

The establishment of permanent sod waterways to dispose of excess water without causing erosion to cropland has made the layout and construction of Parallel Terraces easier on the Frank Tyler and Les Tiffin farms this time. Runoff water from these two systems will be carried to safe points of release with a minimum of erosion.

Most of the terraces being constructed over the state are parallel because the job of farming is made much easier. Parallel Terraces are laid off to fit four and six row equipment with no point rows on the smooth and more gently sloping farmland. Construction cost is greater than for conventional terraces because smoothing is done somewhat like bench leveling. Both cuts and fills are made over wide areas smoothing and leveling the land before the terraces are constructed. The above listed Parallel Terraces were done with 79% of the cost share under the Great Plains Conservation Program.

When vegetated or grassed waterways are installed through the low floodways on cropland, Parallel Terraces will work satisfactorily. Excess water will empty into the waterway from level or graded terraces. This makes the layout and construction of the terraces easier.

Under no circumstances should terraces be emptied into road ditches. This is destructive to both the roads and cropland. In some cases when this has been done, it has washed out the roads, making them no longer passable and has cut deep, ugly gullies up the terrace channels across the cropland. This kind of thing can be cut to a minimum by providing good grassed or sod waterways for outlets to empty excess water from terrace systems.

More information may be obtained from the Soil Conservation Service in Clarendon for recommendations as to layout and construction of Parallel Terraces with grassed Waterways for outlets.

Maybe he was kidding, but one fellow said that no matter how busy he was when he saw the local paper he always stopped everything and read Uncle Zeb. I hated to do it, but what an opening to tell him that even though he shouldn't loaf on the job, that just so long as he was improving his mind he could be excused. Really, I was only joking, maybe he should have kept on working. This really happened...

A fellow who goes around with thoughts of saving something on his mind usually has something saved up in the bank.

From County ASCS Committee

GOLDEN EAGLE PASSPORT

County offices will again offer for sale this annual permit to Federal Recreation Areas. The 1967 permit is a wallet size plastic Identification Card costing $7.00. It is valid from April 1, 1967, through March 31, 1968.

COTTON

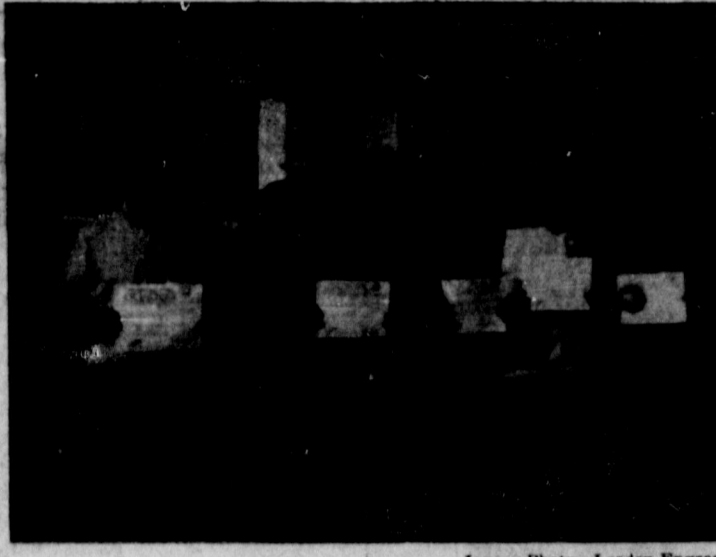

In order to be eligible for payments and history credit, producers must have planted and farmed cotton in a workmanlike manner with the expectation of producing a normal crop. Acreage which the county committee determines was planted in an unworkmanlike manner solely for price-support payments will not be counted as planted acreage.

Producers who wish to receive planted acreage credit for cotton acreage which is to be replanted to another crop, must file a written request for such credit and receive approval of the county committee before the acreage is replanted. Credit cannot be given if the committee determines that the acreage can be replanted to cotton before the close of the normal planting season.

If you lose your cotton acreage and want to replant it to another crop, be sure and obtain approval of the County Committee before replanting.

REFERENDUM

Ballots and instructions for voting in the cotton allotment transfer referendum will be mailed to all eligible voters on Friday, May 12. Please give it your careful attention and mail or deliver your ballot in person to the ASCS

Minister's Wife Receives Home As Bonus Award

Mrs. Lois Jones of Amarillo was presented the keys to a historic, Victorian-style ranch house known as the old Murphy Castle and located southwest of Clarendon in proceedings at the site Wednesday morning, May 10.

Mrs. Jones is the wife of Robert C. Jones, Minister of the Clarendon Church of Christ. She received the house as a bonus for her extraordinary sales achievements as Regional Director for Con-Stan Industries, Inc., an international direct-sales organization with headquarters in El Monte, California.

Mulford J. Nobbs, Con-Stan president, gave Mrs. Jones title to the home which she selected, stating that she was the first Con-Stan representative whose sales volume qualified her to receive the Company's highest personnel recognition award, which he described as a $60,000 home in the community of the recipient's choice. She has previously earned such sales bonuses as a trip to Europe, a trip to Honolulu, a Ford Galaxie, and two Lincoln Continentals.

Mrs. Jones has been a Con-Stan representative since 1960. She chose to use only part of her sales prize to buy the ranch house here known as The Castle and will use the balance of the money to remodel her home in Amarillo. It is estimated that her Regional Group produced a sales volume in excess of a quarter of a million dollars annually.

Originally from Arkansas, Mrs. Jones has been a Texan since 1920. The Jones have two children. Their son, Jon Ellis Jones, is also a Church of Christ Minister in
