from County ASCS Committee

REFERENDUM RESULTS
Ballots cast in the May 15 thru 19 Cotton Allotment Transfer Referendum were counted and results were as follows: 357 ballots cast; 92 for transferring cotton outside the county, and 265 against transferring. This is a two-thirds majority; therefore, no cotton allotment will be transferred out of the county for 1968 or 1969.

RECLASSIFYING WHEAT
Any wheat acreage destroyed by natural causes after May 1 but prior to harvest may be reclassified upon written request by the farm operator and put to other uses.

AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION PROGRAM
ACP funds are available for carrying out needed conservation practices. Now is the time to improve and preserve the land and natural resources; it doesn't pay to put off this kind of work—it costs. As long as funds are available we will accept applications for cost-share assistance to establish a summer cover crop. This includes cane, sudans, millet, and peas; no harvesting or haying is allowed. For more information inquire at the ASCS office.

Drouth Is Broken In Some Areas Of County But More Rain Is Needed

Rains during the past week end have broken the drouth in some areas of the county but in other sections the lack of moisture has only been slightly defied.

The Sunnyview community northeast of Clarendon has been favored with between three and four inches while the totals in other areas have varied from a half inch to two inches with a half inch to one inch areas embracing the greatest territory.

The Jericho area has received two inches while the Goldston Community has received considerably less and the Greenbelt Reservoir has received very little run-off.

The Ashtola area has received varying amounts with enough moisture to plant but sub-moisture is still needed. The Brice and Antelope Flat area have certainly been slighted.

Here in town, we received .96 inch over the week end to bring the month's total to 2.73 and the years total to 4.42 which is still way short of the average at this time of year.

More moisture is predicted so maybe all areas can be favored with ample rain before the end of the week so planting operations can get underway real soon.

Hedley Lions Plan 25th Anniversary Banquet

The Hedley Lions Club will hold its 25th Anniversary Ladies Night Banquet Saturday night, June 3rd in Lions Den at Hedley with festivities getting underway at 8:30 p.m.

On this same date 25 years ago the Hedley Club was presented its charter by District Governor H. C. Pender. The Clarendon Lions Club was the sponsoring Club and took part in the event presenting the Hedley club its first U. S. flag.

At that meeting Ray Moreman was President of the Club. McHenry Lane was President of the Clarendon Club. Charles Rains served as Toastmaster and R. E. Drennan led the singing. Of the original twenty members, seventeen are now living. All have been invited to attend as well as others who attend this club regularly and former Hedley Lions.

The menu, officials, and those taking part on the program 25 years ago will be duplicated as nearly as possible. A good attendance is anticipated.

Historical Pageant Is Planned For July 2nd

A historical pageant, "Saint's Roost Saga," is being planned for presentation here Sunday night, July 2nd, in conjunction with the annual July 4th celebration. Proceeds from this community project will go to the Donley County Historical Association Museum.

Two recent meetings have been held: the first in the home of Mrs. W. J. Lewis, Jr. and the second in the Hospitality Room of the Farmers State Bank. At the initial meeting were Mesdames W. J. Lewis, Jr., Emmett Simmons, Tex Selvidge, Mary Cooke, Lee Palmer, and Virginia Browder, and at the second meeting script was read by Virginia Browder.

Committee chairmen include the following: Direction — Virginia Browder and Mrs. Tex Selvidge; Sound and Lighting — L. L. Wallace and Mrs. Tex Selvidge; Sets — Mrs. Claude Moore and Mrs. George Smith; Platform and Set Construction — James Tucker; Acting Treasurer — Emmett Simmons; Vocal Groups — Paul Hancock; Instrumental Groups — Phil Anthony; Square Dancing — Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Wallace; Production — Mrs. W. J. Lewis, Jr., Mrs. Emmett Simmons, and Mrs. Lee Palmer.

Other committee assignments included: Dancing — Mary Cooke; Tickets, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Phelps; and Costume Advisory — Mrs. Ray Palmer and Mrs. Alfred McMurry.

Committee chairmen will be contacting residents to work on this project and any interested person is asked to contact any of the above mentioned persons.

Drennan In Charge Of Annual July 4th Parade

Judge R. E. Drennan has accepted the job as chairman of the annual July Fourth parade this year and will be assisted by City Alderman J. G. McAnear, and Hubert Kidd who is associated with General Telephone Co. here. Pete Borden, president of the Outdoor Entertainment Association stated that he received a letter from Jaycee President Bob Bell which stated that due to a lack of the necessary manpower to run the parade, the members elected to pass up running the parade this year.

Borden reported other phases of the celebration plans were well under way and that it would not be long until the association would be calling for lots of help in completing the plans. It takes lots of effort to put on the annual celebration and the cooperation of many people to make it a big success.

The celebration is only a month away and the pre-western week dance June 24th and the Cotton John TV show on the same date, is only three weeks away. Flip Breedlove, barbecue king, set the above date with Cotton John and is asking that a much larger crowd be planning to go to Amarillo for the TV show. Flip is also getting his arrangements well under way for the barbecuing job and the big free feed on July 4th.

Mrs. Bill Craft reported yesterday that announcements in connection with the Queen contest will be forthcoming next week.

Carl Nunn New Pastor First Methodist Church

Carl Nunn, 35, received the assignment as pastor of the First Methodist Church here at the conclusion of the Methodist Conference at Abilene last week.

Rev. and Mrs. Nunn have two children, Carol 10 and Tim 8 years of age.

Rev. Charles Gates, who has been pastor of the local church the past year, was assigned to the church at Paducah. He plans to move to his new assignment today.

The Leader joins other Clarendon residents in welcoming the Nunn family to Clarendon.

Hedley First Baptists To Hold Dedication Service

The First Baptist Church of Hedley will hold dedication services and open house for their new educational building Sunday, June 4. The dedication service will be held during the 11 o'clock morning worship service with the pastor, Rev. C. H. Murphy, Jr. bringing the message.

The membership of the church extends an invitation to all people to attend the service and view the new building. Open house is scheduled from 2 to 4 p.m.

The new building has a floor space of 1850 square feet, is air-conditioned and centrally heated. Its construction is of blonde brick and matching stucco with mahogany paneling to the inside. Total cost was $9700 which was made possible through labor donated by men to the church to help with construction. The space provides an additional 2 departmental assembly rooms, 7 class rooms, and a ladies rest room.

Scouts And Volunteers Move More Rock Tues.

Approximately twenty-five Boy Scouts and adult volunteers and four pickups were on hand Tuesday evening to move more rock at the Old Clarendon site.

H. T. Warner had a bulldozer at the site this week blading out the rock foundations and the rock was much easier to load and carry to the top of Eagle lookout where the Old Clarendon courthouse is to be reconstructed.

More help is needed for the rock-moving next Tuesday night, so if you have a pickup and are willing to work, your assistance will certainly be appreciated. The work time is from 7 to 9 p.m. and Will Chamberlain, local Museum curator, will be on hand to direct the operation. Tommie Saye reported his Boy Scout troop would be there also. There's still a lot of rock to be moved and needs to be moved as soon as possible before the lake level rises, Saye stated.

Little League Opens Season Monday Night

The rain held off but the curfew interfered with the opening of the Little League season here Monday night.

It was quite a sight to see all those young fellows on the field in uniform. Mayor pro-tem, J. G. McAnear, had the honor of throwing in the first ball in the absence of the Mayor. All team members were introduced along with the managers, officials etc.

Due to a late start of the first game and the opening ceremonies, the last games were called in accordance with the Little League curfew but the games were exciting and will be getting better as the season progresses.

K. D. Vaughan, president of the Little League, expressed appreciation to all those connected with getting the season underway and those who will be putting forth considerable effort throughout the season this summer.

Railway Hearing Set For Thursday June 15, In Amarillo

The Interstate Commerce Commission will hold a hearing at the U. S. John Gillham, Clarendon Attorney, will represent the local Chamber of Commerce along with one other Chamber Member at the hearing and any citizen who is interested and can take the time to appear before the Commission is invited to attend. Congressman Bob Price representing this district, is also working on the problem.

The continuance of passenger service will be ruled on by the Interstate Commerce Commission. It is up to people along the route traveled by the railroad to produce evidence of various needs, public convenience, public service, community development, etc. Continuance will not hinge on mail contracts as this is a problem of the U. S. Postal Department, not the railroad. Clerks and personnel for mail cars and under Civil Service and U. S. Postal Department regulations.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

FACTORS INVOLVED IN SOIL PROTECTION

The protection afforded a soil by residue depends on a number of conditions, including the— Amount of residue on the surface.

Extent to which residue is anchored in the soil.

Length of pieces of residue.

Type of plant from which the residue came.

Extent of decay the residue has undergone.

The amount of residue needed to protect the soil varies considerably with the way it is held in the soil. When approximately 1 ton of straw per acre is spread over the surface, a fair degree of protection against erosion by wind or water can be expected.

Half the amount straw may be equally effective if it consists of standing stubble. Under the most severe conditions, however even a ton may not be sufficient. It should be emphasized that the amount of residue by weight is not as important as the kind of residue and the way it is anchored in the soil.

The residue should be anchored in the soil as this prevents it from being washed off or blown away. This attachment to the soil may be through roots or clumps of roots on the stubble. Or residue may be held in the ground by being partly covered with soil. When the residue is held in the soil, it cannot be easily detached by either water or wind. Thus it is more effective in protecting the soil than is residue which lies loose on the surface.

The length of the pieces of residue affects the efficiency of the cover. Straw residue, if broken into short pieces 1 to 3 inches long, may be light enough to be washed away or blown away. Straw may get into this condition when (1) shredding machines are used to shorten straw for the purpose of reducing the clogging of equipment; or (2) tractors and other machines, passing over the residue, tend to break it. Working when the straw is very dry also increases the breaking and shortening of the straw as compared with working when it is damp.

The kind of residue—that is, the type of plant from which it was obtained—has an important bearing on its durability. Legume residue tends to decay rapidly. It contains high amounts of protein which supply nitrogen for the organisms that promote decay. However, some parts of legume plants, such as the coarse stems of second-year sweetclover, may be quite resistant to decay. The coarse parts of corn or sorghum stalks are quite durable, especially if they are on top of the soil. When partly buried so that they remain damp for a considerable time, they may decay rapidly.

The extent to which decay has progressed may determine the effectiveness of the cover. As residue decays, it gradually loses its ability to cover or protect the soil.

The most efficient man-devised methods for controlling erosion are imitations of nature's way of protecting the land and one of the most effective ways in the use of crop residue. This has been determined by experiments, as well as by the experience of farmers.

Crop residue consist of those parts of cultivated plants left in the fields after harvest. It can be corn stalks, sorghum stalks, cotton stalks, small-grain stubble scattered grain straw or even cotton burs hauled to the field. Cotton burs are a very good source of residue material to use in cotton fields where little residue is present.

Castner-Smith Nuptials Solemnized In Home Ceremony Saturday

Miss Mary Jean Castner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Castner of Lella Lake, Texas, and Michael Wayne Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Smith of Shadehill, South Dakota, exchanged nuptial vows in a double-ring ceremony Saturday evening, May 27, at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. Don Conner of Childress, Texas officiated.

Vows were exchanged against a background of floor baskets of white gladioli and greenery. Miss Lavita Formway, accompanied by Mrs. Gary Longan, sang "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length dress of white nylon and lace over taffeta fashioned with a lace overblouse effect which was scalloped to the neckline and deployed long, tapered sleeves. Her veil of illusion fell from a tiara encrusted with pearls and she carried a bouquet of white roses and white carnations. Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Janny Robinson. The groom's best man was Ronnie Longan.

Mrs. Castner, mother of the bride, chose to wear for her daughter's wedding a beige colored lace dress with matching accessories. Mrs. Smith, mother of the groom, wore a blue lace dress with white accessories. Each wore a corsage of white carnations.

A reception in the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony. The refreshment table was laid with a white linen cloth and accented by an arrangement of daisies in white and shades of blue. Dispensing punch and serving the tiered wedding cake were Mrs. Gary Longan, sister of the bride, and Mrs. M. V. Caster of Lubbock, aunt of the bride. Guests were registered by Mrs. Max Courtney of Canyon, sister of the bride.

As a traveling costume the bride chose a light blue dress complimented by a white lace coat and accented by white accessories.

Mrs. Smith is a graduate of Clarendon High School. Mr. Smith attended Clarendon College and is now employed in Amarillo where the couple will make their home.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Castner and Mrs. M. V. Casner of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Daniel of Sherman, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Vaughan and Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Smith of Quanah, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Max Courtney and children of Canyon, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Smith and David of Shadehill, South Dakota.

Miss Janette Rampy Weds Donald Gene Berry In Ceremony

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Warner in Pleasant Valley, Amarillo, Texas was the setting for the Friday evening wedding of Mrs. Warner's sister, Miss Lois Janette Rampy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Rampy of Clarendon, Texas, and Donald Gene Berry, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Cross of Amarillo, Texas.

Rev. Richard C. Lewis, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church, Amarillo, performed the double ring ceremony before an archway of greenery and large white mums topped to the center with three white wedding bells tied with blue satin ribbon.

Mrs. Linda Stevens played traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Judy Thomason and Miss Dorothy Kirby as they sang "Always."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress of white lace over taffeta fashioned with long sleeves tapering to points at the wrists. Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a lace crown encrusted with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of feathered white carnations centered with two white orchids and showered with streamers tied in love knots atop a white Bible. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls borrowed from a friend. All of the traditions of something old, new, borrowed, and blue, and a penny in her shoe were observed. A jeweled button taken from the wedding gown worn by her great grandmother was sewed to her blue garter.

Miss Sandra Jo Warner, niece of the bride, served as maid of honor. Best man was John Johnson of Plainview.

A reception was held in the dining area of the Warner home following the ceremony. The three-tiered wedding cake, which was topped with a miniature bride and groom and decorated with blue lovebirds, was served with punch, assorted nuts, and mints by Misses Karen Jones and Janice Dodson. Miss Radonna Riley registered the guests.

The bride was a member of the 1965 graduating class at Clarendon High School where she was a member of the National Honor Society. She has been employed by SIC in Amarillo for the past two years. The groom is employed by Aermotor Freight. He served four years in the U. S. Navy.

After a week end trip to points in New Mexico, the couple will be at home at 4020 Beaver in Amarillo.

State Legislators wound up their 60th session here on schedule despite a hectic flurry of last-minute assignments, and left behind a far-reaching record of achievement in many areas.

No one can deny that there were some notable failures. But the accomplishments were impressive.

Here is a random look at some of the session's highlights:

● Budget — Lawmakers agreed on $2,400,000,000 in spending ($446,800,000 from general revenue) for 1968, without passing a tax bill. They will come back next year to budget for 1969. Funds provide for substantial increases in all areas of state government, including education, health, general administration and welfare.

● SCHOOL TEACHERS — After requesting a $88,000,000 salary increase program and being offered $55,500,000 by the senate, teachers finally got $51,000,000.

● STATE EMPLOYEES — These workers came up with their most substantial salary benefits in history. Raises averaged about 14 per cent and ranged up to 30 per cent and more in some salaries.

● MEDICAID — Title 19 hospitalization and medical aid to the needy—most dramatic step in public welfare since launching of social security—was implemented for Texas by passage of a special act and appropriation of nearly $25,000,000.

● EDUCATION — Money was made available for 2,300,000 public school pupils and a 26 per cent increase in higher education spending. Junior college appropriations were increased from $13,600,000 to $24,400,000.

● CITY SALES TAX — Cities got the authority they sought to supplement their property tax income by levying one per cent sales taxes on vote of their citizens after next August.

● LABOR — Although defeated on minimum wage legislation and workmen's compensation law revision, labor came to terms with management on a compromise industrial safety act and an increase in unemployment compensation benefits from a maximum of $37 to $45 a week.

● CONSUMER CREDIT — State's first consumer credit code regulates lending at all levels. Rates of up to 240 per cent on very small loans stirred controversy, but the bill passed by big margins.

● TRAFFIC SAFETY — Major part of Gov. John Connally's recommended highway safety program was approved. It includes a new drivers' license act, an auto inspection bill and establishment of a traffic program to be administered by the Governor.

● OPEN MEETINGS — Another Texas legislative first, an act to require open meetings of governmental agencies at all levels was signed into law by the Governor who termed it "a great step forward to provide a means whereby the public can be more informed on governmental and public affairs."

● REAPPORTIONMENT — Legislators agreed on both congressional and state House of Representatives redistricting. However, they could not get together on judicial reapportionment.

● WATER — Texas Water Development Board received $1,200,000 more for its operations and completion of a statewide master plan. Texas Water Rights Commission got a boost of $484,422 to aid in administering the new water rights adjudication act which also is a product of the 60th session.

● POLLUTION — Strengthened Water Pollution Control Board got $13,100,000 for its 1968 operations. An air pollution control measure also became law.

● SUNDAY CLOSING — Lawmakers tightened Sunday closing laws by repealing the "emergency purchase" provisions of the old law.

Key recommendations of Governor Connally which failed to clear the Legislature were proposals for sweeping revision of the state constitution by a 450-member convention and legalized sale of liquor by the drink.

Bill to legalize parimutuel wagering on horse races never came to a showdown vote, but a referendum on the issue was approved for inclusion on next May's Democratic and Republican primary election ballots.

CONNALLY VETOES — Most of the bills passed by the Legislature are signed into law. But once in awhile the governor vetoes a measure. One he vetoed would have allowed cigarette distributors to make payment for cigarette stamps purchased from the state within 15 days after the purchase rather than when the purchase is made.

Connally said he vetoed the bill because, although it would have required the distributors buying on credit to put up a bond, "this surety bond does not change the constitutionality of pledging the state's credit."

In addition, the Governor said the state comptroller has informed him that "the general revenue fund in the treasury would lose approximately $5,500,000 during this current fiscal year because of the delay in payments for cigarette stamps."

Uncle Zeb Feels Poetic

This Daylight Savings Time Just keeps me all creepy, It is still broad daylight At night when I's sleepy.

And then in the morning When I should eat and run— It's too late by the news And too soon by the sun.

If out of the headache One saves a minute or two— It's all spent in worrying As to what we should do.

There's eating and sleeping And there's work to be done. And each way we slice it We can't cheat the Ole Sun.

Of course Shakespeare wrote better poetry, but he didn't have to worry about the time.

The other day we heard another story that reminded us of Cotton John's Thinking For The Day—It seemed a regular Texan was watching Niagara Falls alongside a Yankee—"Look at that Tex, you don't have anything like that."—"Nope", replied Tex, "But we got a little old plumber back home that could fix anything no bigger'n that."

We should never worry when folks don't seem to understand us—that's their hard luck— But when we don't seem to understand what's going on it's about time to get steamed up.

Most of the world may be in the man's name, but the women have a lifetime lease on it's operation.

The things that we are just itching to do, often cause us to do a lot of scratching in order to get out.

No matter how good the methods of this New Math seem to be at first glance, we better hold on to the old way of keeping tabs on our checkbook balances.

By the time a child is three, he usually has a vocabulary of 500 to 1,500 words.

OPEN MEETINGS MANDATORY BY GOVERNMENTAL BODIES

Gov. John Connally, on May 22, signed into law an "Open Meetings" bill which he proclaimed as "a great step forward for the people of Texas." He was referring to Senate Bill 94 sponsored by Sen. Chet Brooks of Pasadena. Similar legislation was introduced in the House by Rep. Bill Rapp of Raymondville.

At the bill signing ceremony, Governor Connally made this statement regarding the importance of the legislation: "Senate Bill 94, commonly known as the open meetings bill, provides basically that all meetings of boards, agencies and commissions shall be open meetings, open to the press. This is something that the working press in the capitol and the press throughout the state have been interested in for a long, long time. I think it's an historic and significant bill and a significant day. 'Certainly there's never been any desire, as far as I know, on the part of anyone who serves on a board or an agency or commission to transact its business under the cloak of secrecy. But, nevertheless, the meetings have, from time to time, been closed.' Connally added: 'This bill will now end that and provide that all the meetings shall be open to the press. It's a great step forward in trying to provide a means where the public can be more informed with respect to governmental affairs and public affairs. 'Beyond any question, one of the weaknesses of a democratic society is that it's always difficult to try to articulate and to inform the public of the problems that surround the administration of government. I personally feel that if the public is informed, if it has the knowledge, people themselves will always make the right decisions. And this is going to be a step in providing the means where people can be better informed on the workings of their government.'

Governor Connally further stated: "This is particularly important because the affairs of this state are run by the various agencies, boards and commissions. People generally do not quite understand the significance of these various boards, agencies and commissions and the work that they do and the decisions they make. It is really the heart and the essence of government in Texas.

"So I want to applaud the efforts of the press itself to bring into the light and to the awareness of the Legislature the need for this type of legislation. I want to commend the members of the Legislature who supported it and congratulate the people of Texas that they now can be better informed on their own affairs."

Excepted in the bill, so far as open meetings are concerned, are grand juries and certain executive sessions supported by or expending public funds. The law also excepts meetings called to consider the appointment, employment or dismissal of a public officer or employee or to hear complaints or charges brought against such persons, unless the individual concerned requests a public hearing.

Similar legislation was introduced by the Texas Press Association some 20 years ago. This year it had the backing not only of TPA but also the Texas Daily Newspaper Association and the Sigma Delta Chi journalistic fraternity, plus the support of radio and television media.

Co-sponsors of the new law, in addition to Senator Brooks, were the following Senators: Joe Christie of El Paso; Barbara Jordan of Houston; Criss Cole of Houston; Henry C. Grover of Houston; A. R. Schwartz of Galveston; and Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo.

Gooch Advises On An Effective Lawn Care

A well-kept lawn adds to the material value of a home and is a basic requirement for an attractive yard.

Care during the growing season, points out County Agent Ronald Gooch, will largely determine how well the lawn does. Important considerations for lawn care include fertilization, watering, mowing and weed control.

Two applications of a complete fertilizer, one in spring and the other 30 days before frost in the fall, are essential, says the agent. The fertilizer should be applied at rates heavy enough to give two pounds of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn area. Nitrogen should be applied, one pound per 1,000 square feet, every 30 to 40 days during the summer. Lawn grasses require frequent feedings to remain green and vigorous throughout the growing season.

Water only when the grass needs it as indicated by slight wilting. Then soak the soil to a depth of six inches or more. This encourages a deep root system, explains Gooch. It is best to water in the morning so the grass can dry before night. Less disease trouble will occur under this system, says the agent.

Proper mowing makes for a thicker, healthier turf. Undesirable mowing can damage a lawn. Important factors in a good mowing job are height of cut, frequency of mowing and mower adjustment, says the county agent. Mowing should be done on a regular basis and no more than one inch of grass should be removed at a time.

Bermuda lawns should be cut at one to one and a half inches; San Augustine and bluegrass at a height of one and a half to two inches, says Gooch. Keep the blades sharp so it will not bruise and shred the leaves and give the lawn an unattractive appearance.

The best defense against weeds in the lawn is fertilizer, proper watering and mowing so as to maintain a thick, vigorous growth of grass. Most weeds cannot compete with well managed grasses. If weeds are encountered, Gooch says to come by his office for a copy of B-203, "Home Lawns" and for other information on lawn care.
