"SILVER" LURES TRAVEL BEST

Some fishermen, like me, travel a lot. Others, and you may be one of them, can only fish new waters once a year at vacation time. Yet both of us have felt the need for a lure that would work well anytime, anywhere.

When I started analyzing this problem some time ago, I discovered that it came in two parts. It wasn't enough just to settle on a particular type of lure, I learned. You also had to be concerned with the color of that lure.

Fortunately, it didn't take me long to nail down the kinds of lures that would serve well no matter where they were used, the season, or the weather. The spoon and the jig won hands down. Why? Well, if either lure has the weight and shape of a Johnson Silver Minnow or "Lucky" Lujon, for example, it can be cast or trolled, fished slow or fast. It will work well in fresh or salt water, swift rivers or sluggish backwaters, deep glacier lakes or shallow farm ponds.

The problems I had in appreciating the importance of color are still kind of embarrassing, but they were finally solved in just one exciting week several years ago. I was out with friends on a San Diego party boat. I had given each of them a "Lucky" Lujon and we were anxious to see how this jigging-type lure would work on yellowtails. Because we intended to cast and retrieve, we were put on the bow apart from the cut-bait fisherman. Well, we weren't apart for long! Within an hour, we were arm-weary from hauling in 15- and 20-lb. yellowtails — and tongue-weary from identifying our "bait," the "Lucky" Lujon.

Two days later, I was in St. Louis on business, and on Thursday morning was flown out to Bagnell Dam at Lake of the Ozarks for a few hours of bass fishing. There were three Lujons left in my tackle box and I shared them with my companion and the guide. The guide had told us not to expect too much; heavy rains had been providing free meals for the fish.

It didn't take us quite half an hour to speed the pace of the action. We had the guide hooting with glee as he netted bass after bass. We just cast our Lujons as far as possible, let them sink for several seconds, then started retrieving with steady reel speed and constant raising and lowering of the rod tip.

The same routine was faithfully duplicated the following Saturday when, with my wife and son, we ran the long swells due east of Jacksonville, Fla., and filled the transom of our 20-footer with Spanish mackerel.

And while filleting those mackerel I realized that, in two oceans and a body of fresh water, I had enjoyed great luck with a jig — one with a silvery finish (the Lujon is nickel-plated).

Since that time, I've never seen a lure that could "travel" better than a silver or silvery-finished spoon or jig.

LETTUCE CUPS

To separate whole lettuce leaves from a head, first core the head of lettuce. Hold the cored end up and put it under a strong stream of cold water from the sink faucet, recommends Extension foods and nutrition specialists at Texas A&M University. The weight of the water in the head separates the leaves, peel them off slowly, peeling them downward from the stem end while the water flows through the leaves.

STATE Capital NEWS

Texas Liquor Control Board is heading for an early showdown test of its new get-tough policies on subterfuge private clubs.

In a surprise order, the Board outlawed cash sales in all bottle clubs.

Some club operators, who already were complaining mightily about an earlier LCB directive prohibiting manager-members from issuing guest cards to walk-in customers, were hard hit. One promptly filed a lawsuit here to enjoin the board's regulations.

Net results of the cash sale requirement will be to eliminate the casual guests, since operators wouldn't want to run the risk of granting total strangers a month's credit for a highly-perishable commodity.

Hotel-motel clubs who expect to solve the problem by putting club charges on room tabs may find the Board's definition of a cash sale quite restrictive: "It shall be deemed that a cash sale has been made if payment for a service or commodity is made on the same date or within eight hours after the occurrence of such service or the delivery of such commodity."

Clubs also received a long list of new instructions for keeping records and running their affairs according to by-laws and through boards of directors.

More rules are expected to be forthcoming from the LCB. Times may be hard for all but strictly-private and proper clubs in the near future.

LCB Attorney Lynwood Elliott said he thinks the cash sale directive will restrict clubs: "I feel, quite frankly, that when you prohibit a club from making a cash sale it will be less inclined to serve the public at large and will start serving properly screened members."

Situation is expected to bring new pressure for liquor-by-the-drink legislation. Club owners claim they are being made political footballs.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES — Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has held invalid an appropriations bill rider attempting to set up priority for restoring historical sites. This since the Parks and Wildlife Department is otherwise authorized to use its discretion in acquiring and rebuilding such sites.

In other new opinions, Martin held that: Proceeds received by the Army Board of the Texas National Guard in exchange for land near Camp Maxey must be deposited in the state treasury, and cannot be spent for purchase of land. However, other Board funds not in the treasury can be spent to buy land.

First National Bank in Dallas, Harris Trust and Savings Bank in Houston, and First National City Bank of New York and Associates were successful bidders on bonds.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler, chairman of the Veterans Land Board, said the sale was necessary to continue purchase of land for the Texas program recently revived by constitutional amendment.

Before used for buying veterans land, money will be invested in short-term government securities to offset any interest costs accruing against the Veterans Land Board. Sadler said AAA bond rating and the excellent pay record of the Veterans Land Board made it possible to sell bonds below market.

NEWS FROM Congressman Bob Price 18th District Texas

The tax increase that we are now faced with is the direct result of excessive spending by this and the preceding Administration. The result has been a tremendous rise in the cost of living, the highest interest rates in 100 years, a crisis in our balance of payments, a growing threat that we might have to devalue the dollar and a general weakening of the American economy.

The cost of living is rising at an annual rate of almost 4 per cent as wage increases in union settlements during the first quarter of 1968 averaged almost 6 per cent and these increases are sure to be passed on in higher prices.

A leading banker said "a new form of brinkmanship is abroad in the land. Not for generations has the nation's political leadership exhibited so stunning a compulsion to catastrophe. For over two years the political powers that be have mumbled and stumbled into a chaos that has been accumulating steadily."

An Associated Press story on the nation's fiscal crisis was headed, "U. S. Pickpocket Inflation Again Makes Off With Loot." "Inflation is not just an unwelcome guest but is the unofficial tax collector for the nation. It has been called unjust, ruthless, greedy, villainous, irrational — and all these derogatory descriptions and more apply to it.

"It is also cowardly, for it picks on those who can do little about it, on elderly men and women and others on fixed incomes, for example; on people who can't go out and earn more to replace the money taken from them.

"Inflation is an insidious tax. It is tricky. Often it cannot be seen, for it disguises itself as prosperity. It would have you measure the economic engine, for example, by the heat it gives off rather than by the power it produces.

"To put it another way: you're just spinning your wheels. You're not moving ahead.

"This is not quite the case at the moment. Living costs are increasing, but so is buying power. Wages might be increasing for corporations but so are corporate profits. Still, much of what looks like improvement is just motion.

"People are making more money but their living standards cannot reflect this completely. A steady amount of the dollars they put in their pockets is fingered quickly and silently by the pickpocket.

"It really doesn't make much sense to raise wages only to see the increases wiped out by rising prices and so on. But what is utterly irrational about inflation is that it can be spotted and headed off — but usually isn't.

There is also an aspect about taxes on the present economy that is sometimes hidden as effectively as the pickpocket's fingers. It involves the transfer of power involved in a tax increase.

"To impose taxes on the private economy would weaken it. At the same time it would make even more powerful the public economy, whose spending already is the cause of inflation."

SCREWORM SITUATION

Screwworm cases in Texas continue to crop up in South Texas. If cases go undetected, they could mean 'trouble' ahead for livestock producers further to the north and west. Officials of the eradication program urge livestock producers to continue sending in worm samples from all animal wounds. Once a case is located immediate treatment of the area with sterile flies can stop further spread of the pest. Be alert.

Cotton Allotment Transfer Referendum

Friday, May 17, is the last day for returning cotton allotment transfer ballots to the county office. Don't fail to vote. It is important. Both husband and wife are eligible to vote. Wives should certify their vote with their given name.

Any cotton producer who did not receive a ballot should check with this office right away.

Ballots will be counted Wednesday, May 22, 1968, at 9 a.m. The public is invited to witness the count.

Replanting Dates

The State ASC Committee has determined that cotton can be planted up to June 15 in Donley County and still produce a normal crop. The date set for grain sorghum is July 10. If cotton and grain sorghum is planted and lost before these dates it must be replanted in order to be eligible for price support payments. You may replant after these dates if you wish.

Any producer who wishes to replant these acreages to other crops after these dates must file a written request for credit before the land is plowed. The acreage must be inspected by a representative of the county committee to determine if it was planted and cared for in a workmanlike manner.

Rye on Diverted Acres

Producers planning to allow rye to mature and reseed on diverted acreage must file a statement to that effect with this office as soon as possible.

A THOUGHT — "Life is ten per cent what you make it and ninety per cent how you take it."
