MRS. G. LEATHERS ILL

Mrs. Leathers continues critically ill in an Amarillo hospital following a paralytic stroke a few days ago. In some respects she is said to show some improvement. Her condition is one of grave concern to relatives and friends.

CLARENDON HAS FORTY NOTARIES

In addition to the forty notaries public appointed here, Hedley has six such appointments. The state legislature makes the appointments upon the request of the member from the district from which requests are made.

It is presumed that each will qualify before the deadline, June 1st. A legal excuse would permit one to qualify later, and one legal excuse is illness.

The Clarendon list includes a number for re-appointment. They are: Van Kennedy, C. E. Killough, R. Y. King, John C. Knorpp, Miss Lottie E. Lane, W. T. Link, Miss Anna Moores, Hollis Neese, W. W. ATTEND BAPTIST CONVENTION IN OKLAHOMA CITY

Noted Speakers Are Heard In Enthusiastic Church Gathering

The Southern Baptist Convention held in Oklahoma City Thursday and Friday drew a very large crowd, a local lady informed the Leader this week. Though not of that faith, she stated the talks heard were most instructive and impressive.

Among the speakers was a Baptist minister and leading churchman of England. "He spoke distinctly and made one of the very best talks," it is stated.

Dr. Geo. W. Truett never fails to secure a hearing; never does his hearers fail to hunger for more of his wisdom and sincerity. He made three talks during the convention.

Guests of the Chamber of Commerce there for a banquet period, Dr. Truett, famed Dallas pastor, and Lon A. Smith of the Texas State Railroad Commission were the principal speakers.

Among those attending from here were Rev. J. Perry King, Mrs. Frances M. Brown who accompanied an aunt, Mrs. Mattie E. Taylor of Seymour, and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Simpson.

The sessions, consisting of an enrollment of ten thousand, were held in the Municipal Auditorium with room to spare.

Merchant won in 1930-31 but failed in 1932 to acquire the coveted cup by winning three straight. He came back in 1937-38 and '39 to win the coveted trophy.

TWO GRASSHOPPER PLANTS TO OPEN TOMORROW

County Agent, H. M. Breedlove, announced this week that poison plants at Hedley and Clarendon would be open to farmers Friday the 26th of May. The Hedley plant will be in the Doneghy Building and the Clarendon plant will be in the Caraway Building just one building south of where it was located last year. Farmers have begun to report the hatching of a great number of small hoppers and Breedlove stated that the time to kill the hopper is when they are small. Farmers are urged to go to the plants and get poison and start poisoning the hoppers as soon as they notice they have begun to hatch.

Breedlove said that the government would furnish the bran and poison and the farmers furnish an amount of ground bundles or cotton seed hulls to equal the sack of bran. The expense will be about the same as last year.

ATTENTION IS CALLED TO SPLIT TAX PAYMENT

COUNTY AGENT HAS FARMER SESSIONS

Cotton Producers Promised More Money Next Year

According to County Agent H. M. Breedlove, thirteen meetings have just been completed in as many communities over the county. The purpose of the meetings was to explain the operations of the 1939 farm AAA program so that farmers might know more how to plant their various crops to get the maximum amount of money available under the program. It was also discussed at the meetings on how the 1939 cotton lint acreage per acre would be set by the committees.

Breedlove stated that farmers throughout the county took interest in these meetings as is shown by the total attendance of approximately 550 farmers attending the various meetings over the county. Various problems were discussed before the planting starts and farmers were advised on where to expect compliance under the 1939 AAA farm program. Breedlove stated that the interest shown in these meetings indicate that farmers are very much interested in the 1939 program. One of the best phases of the program is the fact that the cotton payment for 1939 will be almost one third more than was paid in 1938 to the individual producer.

HOME MERCHANTS SELL IT FOR LESS

Clarendon Merchants Bid For Your Business

This week, and every week, your Donley County Leader brings to your home pictures and prices of practically everything that you eat, use and wear. It is a neighborly act upon the part of your home merchant to supply your wants. He quotes you prices. He describes his goods when necessary. He invites you to look over his stock. In fact the advertiser is not ashamed to let you know what he has and the price he must get for it in order to continue in business. Before buying anything, consult your home merchant first. You will often be surprised what a "dig" some of our folks get when buying away from home expecting to get a better bargain.

This week the Leader brings you four extra pages. The extra space is necessary to tell you about goods that you need that are sold at a price you can afford to pay. You can save enough on your purchases in one week to pay for the Leader a whole year.

DEMONSTRATION IN CHEESE MAKING IS SCHEDULED

According to County Agent H. M. Breedlove, a demonstration on the manufacture of butter, cottage cheese, processed cottage and Neufchatel cheeses will be held in the Rhoades Building across from the Post Office in Clarendon on the 9th of June. The demonstration will start at nine o'clock in the morning and last until about the middle of the evening.

Mr. W. V. Maddox, Extension Specialist in Dairy Manufacturing of the A&M College of Extension Service will conduct the demonstration. Breedlove argues that as many farmers and their wives attend this demonstration as possible. "I would especially like to have ladies of the various clubs in the county present at this demonstration," he said.

COUNTY TREASURER VISITS OLD HOME PLACE

Mrs. Margaret E. Thompson returned home Sunday after a delightful visit with her father, B. B. Cash, near Breckenridge. Mr. Cash has resided on the same stock farm for fifty-two years. It was there that Mrs. Thompson grew to womanhood. Naturally, there is quite a difference in the country now and what it was when the pioneer couple first settled there. Modern highways and schools with bus facilities is a far cry from the day of the ox teams and log schoolhouses.

SLEEPING SICKNESS SHOULD BE REPORTED PROMPTLY

According to County Agent, H. M. Breedlove, sleeping sickness among horses is likely to break out most any time with the continuation of warm weather. "We have only had one case up to the present time," Breedlove said, "and it was very light."

All farmers and ranchmen are asked to notify Breedlove at once if they notice any signs of sleeping sickness among their stock.

SHOWS NO IMPROVEMENT

The condition of Mr. C. A. Bryan who has been seriously ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. A. Land for several weeks, shows no decided improvement. A head injury resulting from a fall on the sidewalk recently is said to be his principal handicap.

WIND PLAYS BURGLAR TRICK ON NIGHT WATCHMAN

Late Tuesday, night watchman A. G. Lane noticed a light on in the balcony of the Greene dry-goods store. Mr. Greene was called. Upon his arrival, sheriff Guy Pierce and Deputy Guy Wright were already on duty. Officers made a search of the building only to discover that the action of the wind was causing the light upstairs to come on and go off every few moments. Anyhow, it all goes to prove that the "law" is on the job both day and night.

Prior to their enrollment in West Texas State College, Canyon, where the former will do work toward her B. S. degree and the latter her M. A. degree, the two will attend the New York World's Fair and other points of interest along the route.

FORGOTTEN SOLDIERS.

This is an agricultural county—and one of the best in the state, therefore we have no apologies to offer for the liberal space we devote to both news items and special articles by recognized authorities who, having learned of our interest, send us each week the most approved copy. Furthermore, the political policy of this paper will be largely governed by our interpretation of proposed legislation that is fair to the farmers and stockmen—knowing that there can be no permanent prosperity until agriculture with meat production becomes prosperous. We may not see 'eye to eye' with every plan advanced, but we do appreciate the efforts made in behalf of the "forgotten soldiers" who must obtain their livelihood from the soil either by farming or stock growing, or both. Ours is a greatly diversified section, and that is what makes it a fine section of country attracting a fine type of citizens.

GOD IS NEEDED.

Like the average man, the writer is not very religious. But we do believe that back of world unrest and turmoil today is lack of faith in God. Cliques of men—and often women too—come into political power, take over as much government control as possible, then place themselves above God—or try to. As an individual we cite the reader to Tom Pendergast, political boss of Kansas City who pleaded guilty to a felony Monday and received a prison sentence. He was dictator and czar of his realm where every form of human seam operated against God's kingdom for years. Dope rings, white slave traffic and every form of human misery flourished until J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the FBI federal agency inspected the situation in person. Today the chief operator is a felon by his own admission, broken in health. His alleged friends will likely quit him like rats leaving a sinking ship. "Verily, thy sins shall find you out" rings down through the ages as true today as ever.

Human beings must have a God, some kind of a God to keep them charitable, kind and morally good to one another, and to think kindly of their neighbors even in a foreign land. They must feel that there is a reward after death for good behavior, and especially when they cannot see a reward in this life. Man-made laws will not hold humanity in check. Neither will military force make them love their country and those in authority. To bring out the best in the human animal, there must be a higher ruler than those he helps make for himself. Despite man's ologies and isms, there are certain underlying laws of divine origin that never change, and to which we are amenable every moment of our lives.

WAIT FOR HER, BOYS

The girl who is unlike her mother isn't worth a tinker's doggone. This isn't written in any of the Bible, but it's written in the history of thousands of misfit homes. If one of you boys ever run across a girl with her face full of roses, with eyes that would dim the lustre of a Colorado sky, and with a voice that would make the song of an angel seem discordant and she says as she comes to the door: "I can't go for a few minutes, I've got to help mother with the dishes," don't give her up. Stick to her like a burr to a mule's tail. Just sit down on the door-step and wait. If she joins you in two or three minutes so much the better; but if you have to stay there on the door-step for a half hour or an hour, you just wait for her. If you don't some one else will and in time you will be sorry, for you'll realize what you have lost. Wait for her, boy. She's worth it.

TEXAS ANTIMONY SMELTER

The only antimony smelter on the western hemisphere, and said to be the largest in the world, is located at Laredo, Texas, using ore mostly from Mexico, but some from the western United States, Bolivia and Peru.

Before the smelter was established, 1931, the world depended on China for 70 to 90 per cent of its antimony.

Antimony, used chiefly as an alloy to give strength to type metal, also is used in machinery bearings, storage battery plates and electric cable sheathings.

H. P. Henderson of Massachusetts conceived the idea of smelting antimony in Texas in 1926. About 170 men are employed at the plant.

WORLD MARKET IN NEWSPRINT
 SEEN FOR ETEX

The center of the world's newsprint industry will move from Canada to East Texas in the not distant future, Ted Dealey, vice-president and general manager of The Dallas Morning News, predicted at the Thursday luncheon of the Dallas Real Estate Board in the Baker Hotel.

The start of the wholesale shift in the production of newsprint will follow the opening of the newsprint mill in Lufkin the first week of December, Mr. Dealey, a director in the mill, said.

"Paper can be produced for $10 a ton cheaper in Lufkin than it can be in Canada," he said. "The entire world consumption of paper of all kinds is 18,000,000 tons a year. East Texas could, if necessary, produce 60 per cent of this.

"The Canadian mills use wood that takes from seventy to eighty years to grow. The Texas mills will use slash pine that is ready in from twelve to fifteen years. This means that the Texas mills will not have to cut timber so far away, that new crops will be coming on every few years, while Canadian mills must seek virgin forests sometimes 200 miles away.

Texas Forests Near By.
 "The forests within a fifty-mile radius of Lufkin will support forever four or five mills the size of the one now under construction. This mill will have a capacity of 50,000 tons of newsprint a year. The entire output has been bought for the next five years by Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas newspaper publishers.

"Much of the wood for the mill will be bought from farmers on small tracts of land near Lufkin and will give them a new and profitable cash crop.

"There will be employed in the mill between 700 and 800 persons. Others in the woods and in transportation and allied occupations will mean that the mill will give employment to 1,200 persons. This development of a new natural resource will be of tremendous economic value to Dallas, to the state and to the South. Yet the forests will not be depleted. Rather they will be benefitted. Replanted, they will last forever, and now they will be given scientific care. The lumber industry using the larger trees, will not be injured but benefited through the clearing out of smaller trees and underbrush. Much of the waste from sawmills can be used by the paper mill.

Half of Texas' Needs.
 "The one mill can produce only about half of the state's consumption but other mills, organized here or moved from Canada, will give us a supply for the nation and perhaps for export to foreign countries.

"American paper users now send something like $200,000,000 abroad each year for foreign-made paper. This we not only keep at home but we may be going soon in the world market in competition with the mills from whom we now are forced to buy.

"We in Texas should be especially proud that it was a Texan, Ernest Kurth of Lufkin, who was largely responsible for the successful negotiations which led to the building of the Lufkin mill, after several failures by persons and organizations from cities outside the state."

The beautiful home of Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Stricklin has been receiving the attention of workmen recently. The new kitchen cabinet, built-in style with all modern conveniences is among the changes made.

BARBER BILL'S BIRTHPLACE.

The bozo sponsoring the barber bill in the Legislature doesn't want it especially, but he dislikes barbers because a barber got his grandpappy into trouble and the woman spent all the sponsor's inheritance. The sponsor's grandpappy lived in East Texas next to the Big Thicket. He was old and owned a flock of heavy whiskers and a bunch of land covered with pine. When he got lonely, he grabbed up a one-man crosscut saw and beat it to the pines. He sawed on the wind side so he would need no wedge to keep the tree from falling on him. He grew careless as he became tired and his whiskers blew into the sawed crack. About that time the wind lulled and grandpappy was held by his whiskers. He pulled out his "frog-sticker" and cut himself loose, but cut too close to his chin. When he looked into the mirror and saw a face minus about fourteen inches of whiskers, he felt disgusted and went to a barber shop for his first shave. The grass widow on Crooked Creek spied the old man and 'made eyes' at him thinking he was a stranger. They got married that week end. In another week they had a new car and started to California. Six months later, grandpappy had applied for a pension. His grandson couldn't do much for him on the pension deal, but he has an intense hatred for barbers figuring that a barber fixed up the old man so that he fell into a female trap that took the sponsor's inheritance. Now he wants the barber rates so high they will all go broke just like grandpappy did.

72 HIDDEN TAXES BOOST TOTAL COST OF COTTON DRESS

Cotton grown by the Texas planter picks up parts of 72 local, state and federal taxes on its way through business channels to the retailer's shelves, Mrs. Kenneth C. Frazier, president of the National Consumers Tax Commission, said here today.

Citing an NCTC survey of taxes affecting the cost of a cotton dress, she stated that fractions of the taxes, accumulated at every step of the production and distribution of the finished cotton goods, are paid by consumers in higher retail costs.

Leader of the commission's non-partisan crusade to "arouse tax consciousness among women and to expose hidden taxes," Mrs. Frazier declared:

"Hidden taxes, which now produce a major share of all local, state and national tax revenues, raise retail prices, thereby reducing buying power and tending to retard sales. For example, they make up 8.4 percent of the cost of a cotton dress. As a result, a Texas woman buying a $3 cotton dress actually gets a $2.75 article and pays 25 cents in hidden taxes.

"These unseen levies, paid by consumers on all necessities as well as luxuries, on a cotton dress are originally taxes against planter, gin, country buyer, railroad, coastwise shipper, cloth mill, dress manufacturer and retailer. Unable to absorb their tax load, these businesses must pass on a share of their taxes to the ultimate consumer."

Study groups in the NCTC tax education campaign already are active in 4,200 communities, Mrs. Frazier said, with more than 500 of them in Texas. Mrs. Volney W. Taylor, of Brownsville, is NCTC national committee member for the Lone Star State.

TOURIST IS GIVEN HINTS ON DANGERS

Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., State Police Director, suggested today that summer vacationists will have a lot more fun if they see the sights instead of the business end of a wrecker car as they travel hither and yon this season.

"It's human nature to brag to the home folks when you get back. But be able to brag about what you saw instead of the miles-per-day you averaged," he advised the thousands of Texans who soon will be headed to the New York and San Francisco Fairs.

Keep brakes, lights and tires in top condition. Don't clutter your windshield with a lot of stickers. They obscure vision and cause accidents.

Get plenty of sleep and rest and if you feel drowsy at the wheel, pull to the side of the highway, get out and exercise until the drowsiness passes. If it doesn't, change drivers or take a nap.

Women motorists should keep car doors locked to prevent anyone from forcibly entering and they should under no conditions pick up hitchhikers. No one should display large sums of money or valuable jewelry. It's best to carry travelers checks.

Be sure you have your driver's license. Become familiar with the highway laws of other states you pass through.

If you must imbibe, drink in the beauties of nature—not the contents of a flask.

CAR SALES GAIN, 1939 BUYERS PAY $2,400,000 TAXES

With new car registrations in Texas running well ahead of last year, the National Consumers Tax Commission today estimated buyers in the state paid out approximately $2,500,000 in taxes on their shiny new models during the first three months of 1939.

An NCTC survey—which pointed to 32,931 new car registrations during the first three months this year as compared to 28,827 in the 1938 first quarter—listed 206 direct and indirect taxes involved in the production and distribution of an automobile.

"Most of these taxes are paid by the new car buyer as an unspecified part of the price," stated the report, made public through Mrs. Kenneth C. Frazier, of Dallas, NCTC president. "They are the original levies against metal, rubber, leather and glass producers and manufacturers against cotton and wool growers, cloth manufacturers, railroads, automobile manufacturers and dealers."

"Fractions of all these taxes, which the businesses of necessity must pass on, reach the car buyers in the form of an increase in the cost of the car. In the averaged-priced automobile, this pyramid of shifted taxes represents 9.4 percent of the selling price. The taxes total, therefore, $75.20 on the average $800 car."

The NCTC, with headquarters in Chicago, is a non-partisan organization seeking, through local study groups, to "arouse tax consciousness among women and to expose hidden taxes." Groups are reported in 4,600 communities, of which more than 625 are in Texas.

Mrs. Frances M. Brown returned home Tuesday, having visited with an aunt, Mrs. Mattie E. Taylor, with whom she attended the Baptist convention in Oklahoma City.

FRIED CHICKEN OR FAT PORK

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Texas Breeder-Feeder Association

Fried chicken is a luxury for which city people willingly pay high prices. Probably not one person in ten ever had enough fried chicken to get tired of it, for few are able to buy it regularly after it passes through the hands of dealers and caterers, yet farm folks who raise it and can have it every Sunday and in between at a fraction of the money cost to city people, are too much inclined to treat fried chicken as luxury only to be served when company comes.

Whether you set the hens on their own eggs, hatch them in a home incubator, or buy baby chicks from the commercial hatchery, the cash outlay for raising a two-pound fryer is only a few cents. Any well-managed farm raises at least a part of the grain which chickens need, and for which they will pay a good price, either for home consumption or sale. The mash feeds required to balance the ration can be had in every town nowadays, and few farm "crops" offer as quick a turnover as the sixty chicks or so that it takes to bring a chick to maturity for market or home use.

It is nothing short of tragic that some farm families deprive themselves and their children of all the eggs and chickens they can eat and enjoy, sitting down day after day to fat pork shipped in from Wisconsin or Iowa. Of all people who ought to live well the farmer who produces the food is that one, and he lives well in just about the proportion that he grows what he can use at home without paying tribute to handlers, processors, haulers and merchandisers.

All these people render an essential service and farmers can no more do without the cities than the cities can do without the farmers. It is worth thinking about, however, that every dollar a farm family saves by producing for its own use is a dollar that can be spent for something else they cannot produce—some of the things farm folks too often do without because they are not indispensable.

Now the farm poultry business is different from the specialized poultry business in many respects. There is less cost, less risk of disease, less cash outlay all along the line. At the same time it brings returns for time and labor that would otherwise have no market, and since their time and ability is the principal thing many farm families have to sell, those who do not find some profitably activity for the hours not needed in crops, lose something that is irrecoverable.

Besides the good eating there is always some kind of a market for the surplus and many a farm flock buys the flour, coffee and other groceries which cannot be produced at home. If the market is low when the fryers or broilers are ripe, house wives have learned to can the meat for future use or sale. I know a west Texas store which buys its canned chicken from the women's home demonstration club members in the community and sells it in chicken salad and sandwiches.

W. A. Painter, a tenant farmer in Hale county (Texas) rents a freezer-locker in town for $10 a year. If the fryer, broiler or turkey market is down when his fowls are ready, he dresses them at home and stores them in the locker to be sold after the rush season is over. Mr. Painter also has built up a good business in dressed turkeys direct to customers in Dallas and Fort Worth, 300 miles away. "Where there's a will there's a way" is just as true as when it was first printed in the old Blue Back speller three generations ago.

ARE MANY ACTS OF CONGRESS DECLARED UNCONSTITUTIONAL?

Comparatively few of the many acts passed by Congress are later declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States. It is estimated that between 1789 and 1929 Congress passed about 55,000 separate acts, considerably more than half of which were of a public nature. During this period of 140 years the Supreme Court, according to its librarian, declared 56 acts and parts of acts of Congress unconstitutional.

HONKY TONKS WRECK COLLEGE UNION TRADE

Because honky tonks are ruining the business of the Texas Student Union Building, a bill authorizing the assessment of each University of Texas student $1 for the building's support was introduced in the Texas Senate last week.

Author Manley Head told his colleagues as justification for suspending rules and offering the proposal, that attendance at University dances held in the Union had failed to pay expenses due to the fact that students preferred going to beer parlors and honky tonks.

The same bill was first offered in the House of Representatives by Rep. John Bell of Cuero.

Milling Sanatorium

MINERAL WELLS, TEXAS

AN INSTITUTION WITH A NATIONAL REPUTATION FOR THE TREATMENT OF CHRONIC DISEASES

To Whom It May Concern:

I came to the Milling Sanatorium in July scarcely able to walk into the hospital without assistance. I had high blood pressure, a bad heart and many other ailments. Also my eyesight was failing me. I stayed eight weeks and took treatments. Today I am well and enjoying life to the limit. My eyes are fine, and I owe many more thanks to the institution than I can find words to express.

PLANTING LIVESTOCK PROFITS

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Texas Breeder-Feeder Association

Improved permanent pastures are of course the key to permanent success in livestock. More than is generally realized this is just as true of hogs and poultry (including turkeys) as it is of dairy cattle, sheep or beef cattle. Anything that can be done this spring, therefore, which will make the permanent pasture better either next summer or a year from now is a step in the right direction. There is still time to sow lespedeza, sod bermuda grass, and run contour furrows to hold the rainfall on the pastures.

Temporary pastures, such as sudan grass, are equally important. The permanent pasture sometimes runs short in the summer drouth and it always needs an occasional rest so that the grass and clovers can mature seed, fill in the sparse spots, and maintain such a dense sod that weeds are held down. An over-grazed pasture usually soon becomes a weedy pasture, and the mower must be brought into play to control them.

Not only to help improve the permanent pasture, but of more immediate moment, is the need of temporary summer pastures to keep an ample supply of green grazing for all the livestock and poultry on the farm. A comparatively small acreage in sudan will keep the milk flow up when the permanent pasture is short or dry, it will keep the hens and turkeys healthy, it will supply an essential vitamin to all manner of animal life.

A good many successful farmers plant cowpeas or soy beans in the corn and turn livestock in to do the harvesting. In the western portions of Texas and Oklahoma the best practice is to plant the corn or grain sorghums "two rows and skip one" with the beans or peas planted in the vacant row. Farther east there is usually enough summer rainfall to support both crops in the same row, but on thin land alternate rows of corn and peas or soy beans is more generally the practice. The point is to use some legume crop, according to its best adaptation, because legumes are needed in a good rotation, and they add to the productive value of the carbonaceous feeds, either grain or forage.

Champions for the Champion! When Floyd Roberts flashed to victory in last year's Indianapolis 500-mile race in the record time of 117.2 miles per hour, he gave a major portion of the credit to the Firestone Tires that carried him through the grind without any semblance of trouble. On May 30, Floyd will again ride on the tires that have carried the last 19 drivers to victory at Indianapolis.

There remains the one sure-shot, twelve-month, source of succulent feed—the silo. Of all the "pastures," permanent or temporary, it is the only one which neither drouth nor waterspout, fire nor flood, heat nor cold, affects. It can be used any day in the year when needed, or it can be left indefinitely without deterioration. Many thousands of farmers in the Southwest have already proven the trench silo as a cheap and efficient method of storing feed as an insurance against shortages. Many more thousands will this spring plant for the silo, and those who do not will go on taking the risks of weather and fire.

What shall we plant? Whatever will grow best on your farm! Grain or sweet sorghums usually make the heavier yields in the Southwest, and where they "head out" well are equally as good, ton for ton, as corn. Corn and soy beans make an ideal silage, but it takes good land and ample rainfall to produce a good crop where they are drilled together in the row. A good many farmers like popcorn as a silage crop, planted thickly. Plant whatever you think best on your farm, but plant silage of some sort!

It is pretty hard for a Southwestern farmer to ensile a corn crop which is making a good yield of grain. Those who know its value by experience do not hesitate to put a forty-bushel corn crop in the silo, as Troy Fenner did last year. But Troy had been feeding silage and knew that forty bushels of grain in the silo is worth more than the same amount of dry grain.

For those whose heart might fail on a promising corn crop, it is probably better to plant something else for silage; but by all means plant something for the silo!

GARDEN GLANCES

"America beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners."

The annual delphinium seems to be the predominating showy flower on most of the lawns this week, as it is wind, heat and drouth resistant. Roses are blooming gorgeously on numerous lawns, especially in the mornings. The hot winds and sun blight quite a few blossoms before the end of the day. There is a gay assortment of flowers at the back of the Humphrey home. The poppies are exceptionally lovely. The lawn at the Mulkey home is perfectly kept, also that of Wesley Knorrpp. They are of the more formal landscaped type than some others, but are beautiful and restful in their many shades of green.

The Lee Bell lawn shows remarkable development for only one year of planning.

Out door living rooms and various lawn improvements are popular at present. A rock wall, quaint gate, and artistic fireplace are noticeable on the back lawn of the Ben Andis home. The Bert Smith lawn has a recently built fire place, and attractive lawn furniture. The Joe Goldston's have an old fashioned dinner bell erected on a pole at the left of the fire place, and have recently completed a concrete floor under the huge table at the right of the fireplace. Mrs. A. L. Chase has her unique garden cover, a parabola formed by lath, almost completed. It is arranged to diminish the heat by cutting off one half the sun's rays, yet permitting a sufficient amount to penetrate for growth of plants.

There are so many lawns of interest and beauty to be viewed by a short drive that one is amply repaid for the time taken in glancing at them.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Harrison and daughters, Ada and Inez, of Hedley, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Bingham and family.

J. G. Walker, P. C.

Sunday was a day of feasting at Goldston; a feast of good eats; a feast of friendship; a feast of fellowship. All these were manifested in a big way. Best of all was the Spiritual feast. The Sunday school was spiritual. The preaching was full of it. The Lord's Supper furnished spiritual food for many. The social features of the day had quite an aspect of the spiritual. The conference session was chiefly dominated by it. A small number was spiritual enough to come back for the evening service, and the Spirit's power was manifested throughout the service.

Following are names of visitors from other points: Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Mace, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Seaton and Frank Babcock from Lella Lake, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Lovell and W. A. Poovey from Ashtola; Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Carter of McKnight; Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs, daughter and grandson of Hudgins.

We are glad to note that Bro. and Sister W. C. Veazey who have been visiting for several months have returned to their home in Goldston community, and their presence helped to make the occasion more pleasant. They will also add much to the church work in that community.

Reports show that Lella Lake Sunday school increased in number and interest. We are surely glad of the good work that is being done by the faithful ones there. Have no fear that the work will fail, if they continue as they indicate now. Next Sunday is our day to preach there. Sunday school at 10:00 a. m., preaching at 11:00 a. m., and 2:30 p. m. There will be lunch on the ground, and everyone invited to come and lunch with us. We will try to have some one to help out by way of talks, songs, etc. Will go to Naylor at 8:00 p. m.

Don't forget the Walker Reunion, June 1st. We will have our noon lunch in dining room of Methodist church. Will have talks in the afternoon. One of the noted speakers will be Rev. W. M. Pearce of First Church of Pampa. We expect other speakers. Have not arranged yet. All who feel disposed to do so are invited to come and lunch with us. Some of our boys wanted a ball game. I am trying to negotiate for one. Have not succeeded yet. It won't be long now.

RIDING A HOBBY HORSE

There are few of us that don't have a hobby horse to ride. We are amateur horticulturists, anthropologists, numismatists, phrenologists, philatelists and a host of other "ists" and "ors" that make a list far too long to be read in a day's time. We collect rocks, china, spiders, old bottles, stamps and bird's eggs. We tramp fields, we haunt libraries, and workshops for hours in order to gather specimens or information on the thousands and our hobbies we follow—and it's a darn good thing we do.

Take your hobby seriously. Give it all you've got, and make a point of getting together with others who are interested in the same things you are. Many a chronic grouch has been converted to cheerfulness by finding a kindred soul who likes to collect stamps or tear old alarm clocks apart, and the world is better that a bit so.—Cordele Dispatch.

YOUR HEALTH

Does nutrition influence longevity. Many believe the food we eat is more vital to long life than heredity. From experiment it is apparent that certain factors can extend youth and increase vitality and the life span.

It has been proved that a higher than average calcium intake is conducive to better than average health. With a calcium rich diet, there is an improvement in the utilization of food, better growth, greater adult vitality, a longer period between the attainment of maturity and the onset of senility, and, to a certain extent, an increase in the length of life.

Foods rich in calcium such as milk, cheese, eggs, vegetables, particularly beets, turnips, broccoli, cauliflower, beans, almonds and molasses, furnish a generous variety.

Nutrition experts insist that one-fifth of the food budget should be spent for milk and cream, not less than one-fifth for fresh fruit and green vegetables, and the remaining three-fifths for bread, butter, fish and eggs.

Protective foods furnish propulsion power to the vital essence of existence and neutralize, somewhat, the degenerating forces within the body.

By applying known facts regarding proper diet, the average life could be increased at least 10 per cent.

A scientifically planned diet will delay the onset of the ravages of old age.

As whole milk is the ideal food for infancy, so it can be accepted as the best single food for old age.

The use of liver and foods rich in iron will tend to overcome any tendency towards development of a "mild" anemia in the later years.

So much can be done with the diet and it all seems so simple.

Misses Irene and Alene Rhodes and Margaret Kerbow spent Sunday at the Harding ranch.

Terraces Alone Do More Good on Farm and Ranch Than $28,000,000 Marshall Ford Dam

WITHOUT expenditure of tax money and through the voluntary work of farmers, ranchmen, and county agents, over 50,000 linear miles of terraces—twice the distance around the world—were built in this West Texas region last year. They alone impounded 554,000 acre-feet of water, the same amount as that held by Marshall Ford Dam which will cost the taxpayers $28,000,000.

Terraces, along with a balanced program of contouring, strip-cropping, and earthen dams, stored moisture in the soil for crops, at the same time aiding flood control. Altogether they impounded over 1,000,000 acre-feet of water... all without tax expense.

Inasmuch as Marshall Ford and similar dams earned the reputation for being a "flood menace" during the same period, a lesson thereby is offered that the only effective curb on devastating floods must begin at the point where the rains fall.

Believing that industrial and agricultural development go hand-in-hand, this company has lent its efforts to promotion of soil and water conservation and the successful culmination of the 1938 soil and water utilization contest. Anything that benefits agriculture in the communities we serve also is beneficial to every other type of business and industry. It is our hope that the land may be passed on to the next generation in actually better condition than it is in this.

FORMER RESIDENT IS HERE TO VISIT BROTHER

After having attended the Southern Baptist Convention at Oklahoma City which closed Friday, Mrs. M. E. Savage of Lubbock returned to Clarendon. She visited her brother, W. F. Shannon and family. The Savage family formerly resided north of Lella Lake some 15 years ago. Their farming interests are in Lamb county, but make their home in Lubbock.

The condition of Mrs. E. A. Sloan, who has been ill for the past two months, shows no improvement, it is said. She is said to be suffering from a stomach derangement that will not permit her to retain food.

TRAFFIC DEATHS SHOW DROP IN APRIL

Deaths attributed to traffic accidents totaled 90 during April, three below the state's total for the same month last year and a reduction of 30 from March, the Department of Public Safety reported last week. Fatalities actually totaled 106, but 14 were listed as unreported from previous months.

JULY FOURTH EVENT TAKING DEFINITE FORM

Plans for the Fourth of July celebration are practically complete, stated J. R. Gillham, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce today. The event will begin with band music at 10 a. m., he said. Some well known speaker will make a talk at 11:15. The speaker has not yet been secured, but a number are available from nearby points. The speaker desired will be a Panhandle man from outside Clarendon, it is said.

Band music will start at 1 o'clock p. m. The rodeo will get under way at three o'clock. All forms of wild west skill will be displayed including, broncho riding, roping, bulldogging and similar feats as talent develops.

The old fiddler, for which the Panhandle is famous, will come in for his share of the prize money at 5:30. Old tunes such as Leather Breeches, Molly Put the Kettle on, Sallie Good-in' and other old favorites will be heard.

In times past the street dance has been popular with all classes. Staid old folks stand on the sidewalk and recall youthful days as the 'square' is called and young and old trip the light fantastic in rhythm with the soft, sweet strains of Arkansas Traveler and kindred favorites. The dance will begin at 8:30.

Fireworks, ever a favorite with all ages, will be a pleasing spectacle closing the celebration after 10:30 at night.

The finance committee reports a healthy condition of the treasury with more yet to see. Ray Robbins, band director, has been assured of a number of visiting bands.

Quite a number want to make two days of the Celebration, 3rd and 4th. No definite details are obtainable until plans reach a more conclusive status. At any rate, every effort will be made to make of this the most interesting event of any 4th celebrated in Clarendon, the committee informs the Leader.

MUSEUM CREW RETURNING TO WYOMING FIELD

The fossil search for the American Museum ended here Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Vaughan and Mr. and Mrs. John Lynch started back to Lusk, Wyoming Wednesday.

For several winters these men have come here to search the rich fossil beds of the lower Pliocene. Each time they have been richly rewarded with horse, camel, rhino, saber tooth tiger, mastodon and various other species of that age. The past winter's season they have secured a number of specimens of the 4-horned deer, said to be found only in this county.

During the warmer portion of the year, they work in the Wyoming fossil locations. They expect to return here about the first of September.

Mr. Vaughan, foreman of the crew, has contributed some valuable fossil material to the local museum from his private collection this season. He is a native Texan, having been reared near Colorado City.

"YES, MY DARLING DAUGHTER" OPENS WEDNESDAY AT THE PASTIME THEATRE

Boasting one of the greatest comedy casts ever assembled, "Yes, My Darling Daughter," the Warner Bros. screen adaptation of the sensation successful stage comedy of the same title, will open next Wednesday at the Pastime Theatre.

In the romantic leads are those two charming youngsters, Priscilla Lane and Jeffrey Lynn, who were such a heart-warming pair of young lovers in the memorable "Four Daughters." Their romance again travels a rocky road, but this time there is no tragedy about it. In fact, it's the nucleus out of which all the amusing complications of the hilarious story evolve.

The more mature members of the cast have the delightful task of furnishing most of the laughs and a mere recital of their names is sufficient guarantee that this task is well performed, for they include such past masters of the art of comedy as Roland Young, May Robson, Fay Bainter, Genevieve Tobin and Ian Hunter.

The screen play written by Casey Robinson and directed by William Keighley, is faithful in spirit to the stage original by Mark Reed. As a matter of fact, it is actually a satire on people who have "advanced" views on marriage.

Two such are Priscilla and Jeffrey, who plan to run away to be alone together. Everyone in Priscilla's household except her father, who isn't at home, finds out about the youngsters' intentions.

Priscilla's mother, played by Fay Bainter, is a writer who for years has been dashing off books containing very "liberal" ideas on such matters. Nevertheless she's shocked. So is her literary agent, played by Roland Young, who Granny shrewdly suspects was Miss Bainter's lover during a youthful residence in Greenwich Village.

Mama's own arguments against hasty marriage are ruthlessly thrown at her by Priscilla, who points out that Jeffrey is to leave for Belgium in a couple of days, and mama reluctantly gives her consent to her daughter's running away ideas.

Soon after the youngsters leave, papa, played by Ian Hunter, returns home and, being a banker who has never had any advanced ideas, he is furious when he hears about what his daughter intends to do. He dashes to his car and sets out after Priscilla and Jeffrey with dire things in mind.

In other cars, everyone else but Granny sets out to warn the young couple, but neither papa nor anyone of the others ever get to the mountain rendezvous. Granny, even tho she's sitting at home, attends to that.

Meanwhile, the youngsters, alone at last and very embarrassed, decided it would really be much more sophisticated if they returned as tho nothing extraordinary had happened. They return to Priscilla's home as unscathed as when they left. Here, Jeffrey learns that the whole family knew of his and Priscilla's plan, and he is so shocked and indignant that he tells them he wants to have nothing more to do with such a family. He winks out; he's on his way to Belgium.

Priscilla, however, decides that a hasty marriage is better than no Jeffrey, and she's waiting in his cabin with a marriage license, when he reaches the boat.

A PROBLEM

A squirrel is in a cage a yard long, with openings at each end large enough for him to stick his head through. He travels the length of the cage in one second. He becomes excited when someone approaches

MADE FOR EACH OTHER—Priscilla Lane and Jeffrey Lynn who scored such a triumph as sweethearts in "Four Daughters" play the youthful lovers in "Yes, My Darling Daughter," coming Wednesday and Thursday to the Pastime Theatre.

LOCAL HARDWARE FIRM WILL SPONSOR CONTEST

Anticipating an enthusiastic participation by the housewives of Clarendon and vicinity in a popular nationwide contest featuring the awarding of 360 deluxe gas kerosene refrigerators to winners, the Thompson Bros. Co. will collaborate with the sponsors of the competition which will last from May 22 to July 2nd, it was announced by Mr. Thompson, sales manager of the company. A total of 12 refrigerators a day will be awarded during the period of the contest.

"With the rules of the contest so simple, with the task of writing the short 25 word sentences so easy, and with the rewards so gratifying, we feel that the housewives in this vicinity will be eager to join in a competition where they will stand a good chance of winning one of the 'Duchess' model Servel Electrolux Refrigerators which are offered to successful contestants," Mr. Thompson stated.

"The enthusiasm with which a similar contest held a year ago was greeted by women all over the United States is an indication of the ever-growing desire for modern refrigeration in the household, and

TEXAS IS PREHISTORIC

Discovery was made in Texas recently of a new habitat of prehistoric man, according to Arno B. Cammerer, director of the National Park Service, who reported on the subject. The find was made by Dr. Charles N. Gould, geologist of the Longhorn Caverns State Park, near Burnet.

He was studying geologic formations in connection with CCC work when he came across arrow points, metates and numerous bones of animals.

"The Longhorn Caverns bear every evidence that they once served as shelters, and probably as homes, for prehistoric men," Dr. Gould said. "They are of the 'trap-cave' type, into which for centuries animals fell, leaving behind a rich deposit of prehistoric remains. These are now being uncovered and studied for classification."

The beauty of the caverns is matched in very few other natural caves. One chamber is 300 feet long and 50 feet high, and handsomely pillared with stalactites and stalagmites.

Therefore, our company is happy to announce its cooperation in making the contest even more successful than that of last year.

THOUSANDS TO TOUR STATE THIS YEAR

Approximately 400,000 automobile vacationists served through the Conoco Travel Bureau are expected to spend about $40,000,000 in Texas this year, according to a report issued today by Joe H. Thompson, national director of the bureau and well-known travel expert.

Based on a survey of the number of motorists who received hotel, route and other information in 1938 and a study of the number of inquiries reaching the Conoco Bureau since the first of the year, Thompson said:

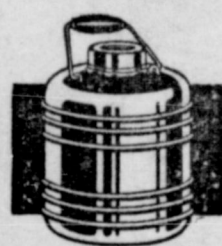

"We can safely say that this will be a banner year for this state. Motorists representing practically every state in the Union, and Canada, have written us asking for route information about Texas."

METEORITES CONTAIN LARGE AMOUNTS OF RARE METALS

Discovery of large amounts of the rare metals, gallium and germanium, in meteorites that fall from the sky, was announced by Dr. Arthur S. King, of the Carnegie Institution's Mount Wilson Observatory, in a paper presented to the Society for Research on Meteorites.

Emphasizing the usefulness of spectroscopic analysis, instead of the regular chemical and mineralogical methods for determining the elements present, Dr. King found that iron meteorites have about nineteen elements within them, including iron, nickel, cobalt and copper.
