First Howdy-Do Meet in Season
Reported from THE CLARENDON NEWS August 6, 1925

The Clarendon Municipal Band made their first appearance Friday evening of last week in the auditorium of the Ashtola school and were received with a great deal of acclaim by the listeners. The occasion was that of the first Howdy-do meeting of the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce with the residents of the near-by communities that add so much to the support of the city.

The Ashtola Parent Teachers' Association had planned for an ice cream supper at the same time and there was sufficient cream and cake to feed the multitude of folk were present. Almost 20 gallons of home made ice cream was disposed of before the crowd had sufficiently satisfied its hunger for cream and settled down for the fun that was to follow.

The speaker of the evening was W. H. Patrick of the First National Bank. A closer cooperation between the communities of the county was urged and the thanks of the city of Clarendon was extended for the splendid attendance which marked the evening's entertainment. More than fifty people from Clarendon attended the meeting and the auditorium was almost filled to overflowing by the others who came in for their due share of the entertainment.

Homer Mulkey of Clarendon and Secretary Holcomb of the Chamber of Commerce had charge of the evening's program and everything passed off very nicely. As a climax to the entertainment, a cake was sold for the prettiest girl in the house and for the ugliest man. Miss Leota Harvey was the winner of the pretty girl contest and Henry Dozier won the cake for the ugliest man. Quite a sum was realized on the sale of the two cakes in addition to the sale of the ice cream and cake that opened the festivities of the evening. The cars of the Clarendon folk stopped at the stores in Ashtola for a few minutes before going on the school house and a get acquainted party was the first result of the stop. A few minutes of this and the entire party proceeded to the school house where the band did their best and the real fun started. Some of the Clarendon folk returned with more ice cream than they had often for many days past. The place for the next meeting has not yet been announced.

NEW DONLEY County Jail will have open house Sunday.

JIMMY THOMPSON Age 6

New jail will open

At long last the Donley County jail will be completed and opened for business on Nov. 22 between 2:30 and 4 p.m. There will still be finishing touches left for completion, such as planting grass, painting the outside and little minor details that may crop up later. But for all practical purposes, the jail is completed.

Officially, the jail will hold ten prisoners, and this may prove to be too small at times, but the design of the building will allow for future expansion without too much difficulty. There is certainly room for expansion. The only prohibiting factor will be the cost of adding on to the jail.

Many people believe that when the jail is completed, there will be office space available in the courthouse. This is not really true. The sheriff's office will, of course, be moved into the new facility. The tax assessors office will be moved from its present location into the vacated space of the sheriff's office. The tax appraisal board will move into the vacated tax assessors office. There is no real office space that this board now holds, so there is not going to be any excess office space. Our fine county servants have been sitting on each others laps in their current over-crowded situation. Any open space is immediately consumed without showing any real evidence of expansion. A cure for this over-crowding problem will happen if and when the old courthouse is ever repaired into a useable state.

An estimated cost of monthly expenses for the new jail has been roughed out at around $5,000. This does not include salaries of the law-enforcement personnel. "We bring in enough fines each month to more than pay for our salaries," said Sheriff Jimmy Thompson, "so salaries should not ever be a problem for us."

The money to run the jail will stay in the county and therefore benefit those utilities, businesses, and others in our area. As the situation is now, approximately $1,500 to $3,000 goes to Memphis, Childress, Wellington, or Claude monthly to board our prisoners.

In addition to that high cost of board for our prisoners, consider the wear and tear on police cars and over $1000 in gasoline used running up and down the road with loads of prisoners. In addition to the cost of automobile repair and upkeep, gasoline and boarding, there is this important improvement that having our own jail will give the county: Our law enforcement officers will be spending more time in their own county protecting Donley county residents, finding offenders, enforcing laws rather than traveling up and down the road in unproductive hours. Many times these men will spend 12 hours in the transportation process alone!

Each person arrested must spend time in jail. This means that out of the 50 arrested monthly in Donley County, 45 or more will need to be transported. Not any longer! These folks can spend their nights in our own jail, our sheriff and deputies can spend more time in their own county, and all of that money we spend to support those prisoners will be spent in our own county. Those prisoners who have to stay in jail several days will not need so much to keep up in our own facilities.

You are invited to attend the open house and see just what your tax dollars are doing for you. Talk to the sheriff's department personnel and find out just how spending your dollars on the jail will be saving your money and giving you better police protection to boot.

Five elected to Appraisal Board

New boards of directors for the state's 254 county appraisal districts were selected Monday through votes cast by members of school boards, city councils and county commissioners courts.

Each of the voting taxing units in a county must determine its vote by resolution and submit it to the county clerk. The governing body of the taxing unit may cast all of its votes for one candidate or may distribute the votes among any number of candidates. The number of votes a given jurisdiction has is based on that jurisdiction's 1980 tax levy.

Clarendon Independent Schools had 1978 votes to cast. The City of Clarendon had 849 votes; Donley County had 1478; Hedley Independent School District had 632; and the City of Hedley had 63 votes.

P.C. Messer received the nominated candidates, counted the votes and declared the winners in his submission to the County Board Monday morning. Billy Goodman received

945 votes; Claude Moore received 1078 votes; Dale Robinson received 101 votes; Leo Smith received 1579 votes and Earl Wheatley Can't P 2

Howardwick Lions Club host Girlstown Christmas party

The Howardwick District Zone meeting and Girlstown Christmas party will be held December 12 at 4 p.m. at the Howardwick City Hall, Jim Millam, President of the Howardwick Lions Club announced this week.

The President and Secretary from every Lion's Club in the zone will be attending. District Governor Willie McAlpin and wife from Canyon; Lt. Governor Ed Thames and wife from Amarillo; Deputy District Governor Alton Landrum and wife from Childress; Chairman from Borger Girlstown Robert Wilson; Chairman of Girlstown in Whiteface, Marshall Cooper; and 16 girls from the Borger Girlstown will be the guests at this party.

Howardwick and Clarendon families will each play host to a girl. They will give her a special Christmas gift from her "want" list. The Howardwick Lions Club will provide a Santa Claus who will give each girl a calculator as her gift from the club.

This party will NOT be the annual Community Christmas party. The girls and guests will be provided with a turkey and ham dinner with all of the trimmings. Robert Wilson will drive the girls down in their new $12,000 van which District I-T1 provided for them. They are all proud of the Howardwick involvement with the Borger and Girlstown project and can say that Clarendon is doing its part. The International considers Girlstown projects among its three main involvements.

Clarendon downs Memphis 41-3

Bronchos win District

BY SPENCER HAYES

The Clarendon Bronchos, led by an awesome defense that carried the offense through a shaky first half, finished the regular season with a perfect 10-0 record, pounding long-time rival Memphis in Bronco Stadium, 41-3.

The win gives the Bronchos the best record in Clarendon since 1969, when that team lost in semi-final play. The defense, which had given up only 50 points all year, and only 13 points in loop play, held the Cyclones to only 51 total yards and no net yards rushing. While they gained only five first downs the entire game, Memphis was forced to punt ten times.

Meanwhile, Clarendon used the long pass and a balanced rushing attack to give the Bronchos all the offensive punch that was needed. Hosea Hearn, Bobby Weatheron, Brad Woodman, Brad Thompson, and Ray Lindley combined on the bulk of 290 yards that the Bronchos gained on the ground.

Clarendon struck quickly when, on the first play from scrimmage, Thompson connected with his favorite target, Junior Crump, for a 78 yard touchdown that could have blown the game open from the start. But even though the Cyclone offense could not move any place except backward, the Bronco offense started doing the same. Clarendon suddenly had picked up the habit of fumbling, seven times in all in the first half, and that kept the Bronchos in a threatened position. But each time the defense stiffened, and only once did Memphis capitalize on the free field position. That came at the end of the first quarter when Paul Richardson booted a 25-yard field goal.

However, this nonsense of turnover fever was terminated at the close of the half, when Clarendon drove to the 26 yard line before Brad Thompson scrambled left and hit Kelly Hill, who was standing alone in the Cyclone end zone. After Arlis Thomas booted the PAT, the score stood 13-3.

In the second half, Clarendon started to play like the Bronco team that the Clarendon fans have come to know and love. The Bronchos scored 21 points in the third quarter alone. Early in the quarter, Bob Weatheron capped the first scoring drive with a one-yard plunge. Then, after that amazing defense forced the Cyclone to punt, Weatheron scored again, this time on a 20-yard run. In the last part of the period, the offensive line blew open a hole for Hearn to ramble two yards to paydirt.

For the next two series, both teams had trouble moving the ball. Clarendon hurt itself on penalties. Memphis was hurt by awesome hits.

Clarendon posted its last score, however, when, after Lindley carried three straight times for over 40 yards, Woodman bolted into the secondary and raced 43 yards to score. Thomas' fourth extra point kick of the night gave the game its final score, 41-3.

The Bronchos begin post-season competition tomorrow at Harvester Field in Pampa. Ironically, they will compete against the same school that drilled them 48-0 last year--Panhandle. Indeed, the Bronchos will remember the lashing they took in the wake of thirteen fumbles, even though that has nothing to do with the game's outcome.

Other opponents that the Panthers and Bronchos had in common were Sanford-Fritch River Road, and Stinnett. All

Bronchos will battle Panhandle for Bi-District

After the Memphis game, the Bronchos are moving into their 3rd season of the year: non-conference, conference, and now play-offs game. This is a unique "season" as the results are always topped with a play-off trophy each week. The players are excited, they are nervous, and the fans are the same way.

The Memphis game was really two separate games. The first half was a situation of getting over the very emotional game played the week before, and the second half was settling down to the mental part of playing good football. This is the fourth time in the last four years for the Bronchos to face the Panthers, and we are yet to be the victors. The teams are as evenly matched as ever could be expected. Offensively, one is a passing team, and the other is a ground-oriented team. Both are very good at what they do with the ball. Defensively, they are two of the top units in the area. One has given up 28 points; the other, 50.

So, all that has to be done is simply line up on the field Friday night in Pampa and battle it out.

Let's Decorate for Christmas

The Christmas Season is almost here and the season to be jolly can be enriched with the proper decorations to stimulate interest and "spirit." This year the Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a "BEST CHRISTMAS DECORATED PLACE OF BUSINESS CONTEST" to encourage every store to get into the spirit of Christmas. It sure does help bring shoppers downtown and into the stores when the windows are decorated so invitingly.

There will be three plaques awarded: 1st, 2nd, and 3rd. The real prize will be the appreciation and participation of shoppers who might tell the merchants how much they like the window decorations.

This contest is for ALL businesses in the Clarendon area.

For further information, please call John Sarich 874-2421, or ask any Director.

Football Pictures on windows a group effort

Many folks have noticed the great display of photographs of our Clarendon Bronco football team members. Some of the pictures are action shots taken by staff photographer, Ron Smith. The Clarendon Press wishes to express its appreciation to those many willing Bronco supporters who helped do the labor of love to decorate the windows. Tillie Anglin and Lew Stubblefield lent their artistic talents to enlarging the Bronco in the center of the photographs. Ron Smith spent many hours in the dark room developing the 100 or so pictures, and J.

C. Woody lent his expert hand at helping during this process as well. His main job, however, was to be the groups' "gopher." Dee Smith stayed until 1 a.m. helping put the photos in the window. We hope that you enjoy not only our window, but the merchant windows downtown. There are pictures of the varsity team in many of their window. If anyone would like to have copies of the pictures or action shots on display at the CLARENDON PRESS, please call Ron Smith at 874-2829 or the CLARENDON PRESS at 874-2259.

Fall Fruit tree spraying controls diseases

Fall is often the time when fruit tree care is forgotten or neglected, but it's a critical time for controlling many peach and plum tree diseases to insure a good crop next year.

With the arrival of fall, there's often a tendency to forget our peach and plum trees that served us so well last summer, notes Ronald Gooch, Donley County Extension agent.

Gooch says that applying fungicide now can stop or reduce three of the six diseases that attack peach and plum trees in Texas. These are peach leaf curl, bacterial leaf spot and bacterial canker.

Puckered and distorted peach and plum tree leaves that were either bright red or light green in diseased areas last spring were due to peach leaf curl fungus. The only time to effectively control this disease is in the fall with a copper-containing fungicide such as Kocide 101.

Timing of the fall spray is critical for effective control and for avoiding tree damage, Gooch explains. Copper is a metal and may cause severe defoliation unless applied correctly.

He advises spraying when 70 percent of the leaves fall off the tree. Spraying too early will cause leaf shed or cause the spray to be ineffective later.

Bacterial leaf spot and bacterial canker can be partially controlled by fall spraying with a copper fungicide, Gooch notes. But again it's important to spray at the right time to prevent foliage burn.

Bacterial leaf spot affects both fruit and foliage. The infection causes fruit to crack and leaves develop angular spots which drop out. Bacterial canker will kill trees slowly. Infected trees will have gum or wax forming on the trunk and main limbs.

Fall spraying is important to the health and production of fruit trees, Gooch says, because there's no other time when 50 percent of peach and plum tree diseases can be controlled with one spray.

Bentsen Bill cuts paper work

Washington, D.C. -- Senator Lloyd Bentsen introduced legislation this month instructing all government agencies to reduce the burden federal regulations impose on farmers, ranchers, and small business by 25 percent over the next two years.

"It's time for action on regulatory reform, not more talk."

"My legislation is designed to light a fire under the foot of government, force it to at last begin the chore of identifying those regulations which impose major burdens on private enterprise and begin the task of eliminating excessive regulation," Bentsen said.

One of two primary provisions in the Bentsen bill requires the President to estimate the costs of all major rules and paperwork requirements which the federal government imposes on farmers, ranchers, or small business. The President, under the bill, would collect the information annually and provide it in a report to Congress not later than January 31 of each year.

The second major provision in the bill requires the head of each federal agency to reduce the burden of its major regulations and its paperwork requirements on farmers, ranchers, and small business by 25 percent over and to produce the type of beef consumers want, according to speakers at the South Central Texas Cow-Calf Clinic at Brenham, Nov. 6.

Because more women are working outside the home, they have less time to shop and to prepare meals, so they want products that are convenient. For successful marketing beef must be tender, juicy, flavorful and consistently satisfactory on a 52-week-per-year basis, and it must be advertised and promoted more aggressively. The kind of beef that can be marketed best comes from a carcass weighing 650 to 700 pounds with a yield grade of 2.5 or better that's in the "A" maturity group with at least a slight amount of marbling.

the next two years. This section of the bill expands a provision of the Paperwork Reduction Act, signed into law in the 96th Congress, which mandates a reduction in paperwork by the end of fiscal 1983.

"I am not suggesting that all government regulations are evil or counter-productive. But the amount of federal regulation has grown far too rapidly over the past decade. The Federal Register, a compilation of all the rules, regulations, and fiat of the government, expanded from 20,000 pages in 1970 to 87,000 this year," Bentsen said.

"My 25 percent burden reduction is a mandate for federal agencies to start the hard work of meeting regulatory objectives more efficiently and at less cost. It gives them a clear and simple target and timetable for reducing regulations bedeviling farmers, ranchers, and small business," Senator Bentsen said.

The first long-playing records were produced by the Neophone Co. of Finsbury Square, London, from 1904 to 1906, and consisted of 20 in. discs with a playing time of up to 12 minutes.

The Bulldogs came out on top the next night by beating the Lubbock Christian College Junior Varsity players 80 to 62. "We performed well in the game," commented Adams. "We had considerable improvement in our man-to-man defense."

"We felt that the tournament was a great experience for us and we could see improvement every outing," said Coach Mondragon.

The Bulldogs took second place in the tournament. Cisco was the winning team.

The Women's Bulldogs play tonight at 7:30, when they take on Seward County. Come support the Bulldogs.

The Amarillo team has been picked in the top four in the conference. Coach Adams also said, "We feel that after our performance Saturday night, we'll be very competitive in our conference this year."

Greg Graham led all scores with 24 points. Amarillo's Steve Dailey had 22 points.

The Women's basketball tournament, which was held the week before the Men's, went over well for the Bulldogs.

Lisa Freeman and Cassandra Crumpton dumped in 25 points each, while Kathy ment Adams. "We had considerable improvement in our man-to-man defense."

"We felt that the tournament was a great experience for us and we could see improvement every outing," said Coach Mondragon.

CC Basketball wins at Oklahoma

Western Oklahoma -- Both the Clarendon College Men's and Women's basketball teams were successful Monday the 9th when they travelled to Western Oklahoma for a double-header.

The female Bulldogs took an early lead on the Pioneers and dominated the rest of the game for a 70-59 victory.

"We knew that we were mentally and physically tired from the previous tournament and wanted to fight through that," said Coach Mondragon. "I felt that we didn't do too good of a job preparing ourselves for the game."

Cassandra Crumpton led the Bulldogs with 22 points while Sharon Jackson added 16 points. Alette Johnson for the Pioneers led all scores with 23 points.

The Clarendon Men's basketball team defeated the Pioneers 68-64.

The Bulldogs played neck to neck with the Pioneers throughout the entire game. "I was very pleased with the way our players performed last night," said Coach Adams. "The reason for our success up to this point has been defense and team playing."

George Milhouse led the Bulldogs with 19 points, Kenneth Morning and Paul Stump added 14 and 10 respectively.

"This was the first game the Bulldogs have won on the road in 3 years," Coach Adams also commented. "The guys showed a lot of character and poise in the closing minutes of the game by controlling the tempo and making necessary free throws."

Daze of Our Lives

By JEAN BURCHETT

Helen is a new resident in town and I'm trying to acquaint her with the ways of small town living. The other day we were sitting in my backyard drinking iced tea when she said, "I read your column last night and I'm not sure I believe a lot of things you tell. You do embellish, don't you?"

"Well," I tried to hedge a little, "people see things differently. Where you might say your husband Joe ripped his trousers, I..."

She wasn't listening. Her head was thrown back and she shaded her eyes with her hand as she looked toward the roof of the house. "What is that two ended bugle looking thing up there? It isn't a vent. WHAT is it?"

"A 110-volt horn," I sighed.

Her mouth fell open. "A horn on the house? What in the world for?"

People always get confused when I explain this.

three other women went to the cellar. When the sound became familiar enough to them that they noticed my kids came from all directions, they started calling me on the phone to say their kids were with my kids and would I blow my mind and get the whole mob in? I became the distribution center for everyone on the block under the age of 18. A long and short brought the neighbor across the street over for coffee and four long brought Hubby in to eat.

Helen was fascinated. She had to see the button, near the horn. "Why," she exclaimed, "Joe and I heard that the other night. I said it was an ambulance siren, but he said no, it was thunder. When we looked and there wasn't a cloud in sight we turned off the TV."

She was itching to blow it. "Go ahead," I shrugged, as her finger was already poised over the button. Before she was finished Hubby had come in to ask why we were eating in the middle of the afternoon, the neighbor had come across the street saying it was nice to remember some of our old ways, and Joe burst through the door. "Helen! I heard that thing again and the TV wasn't even ON!"

Son, Tim, and his wife, Phyllis, drove up and he said

I must be psychic as he hadn't let me know they were coming, and when he stepped for the light on twelfth street he heard his "BURP!"

Phyllis stood there, her head swiveling from Tim to me and back again. "So," she said, "THAT'S why you run south everytime you hear a car horn?"

Helen stood there in the crowd and as I was the only one she knew well besides Joe, said, "Jean, I don't believe this, do YOU?"

"No," I said, "I never HAVE!"

Safety belts are fine and dandy if you use them and if you are an adult. But what do you do for an infant age 0-1 year? Infant car seats have been designed specifically for buckling the infants into them, facing backward, and thereby saving those innocent babes from harm should there be a sudden stop or collision.

"It makes no sense at all to buy something and not use it the way it is intended," says Pat Robertson in frustration. He has seen infants needlessly killed or injured simply because mothers held them in their laps or had them facing the wrong way in their carriers. In an accident that may be minor to an adult, a

Operation Game thief

Effective immediately, concerned citizens may call a toll-free telephone number to report flagrant violations of Texas' Wildlife and fish laws and receive cash rewards if the information they provide results in an arrest and conviction.

"Operation Game Thief" now is underway, and the 24-hour number is 1/800-792-GAME.

No public funds will be used in the program. The rewards, ranging from $50 to $200 will be funded by donations from individuals and organizations.

"I consider a poacher to be every bit as much of a thief as someone who holds up a grocery store," declared Harry Tension of Ft. Worth, the committee's first chairman. "I've realized for a long time the need for a program like this in Texas."

Tension said the program already has received pledges totaling more than $20,000 from individuals and organizations to get the program started.

The game thief program was authorized by House Bill 1421 passed by the 67th Texas Legislature. The bill directed the executive director of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept. to consider nominations and name the committee's six members, who have been appointed to staggered six year terms without pay.

Persons calling in tips about law violations must provide certain information when making the report, but they may remain anonymous if so desired. If the officer taking the information believes there is sufficient information to suggest a flagrant violation has occurred the information will then be relayed to one of the department's 10 regional law enforcement supervisors.

Mary Neal Risley had a guest over the weekend staying in her tree. As J.C. Woody tried to leave, Mr. Raccoon tried to hitch a ride back home. He is a pet of Arlis Thomas.

flavor is sweeter than other meat. Sauces made for domestic meats may be too sweet; use one-fourth less sugar.

5. Remove all visible fat before cooking. The gamey flavor is exaggerated in the fat. If fat is desired, ground pork or beef fat may be substituted.

6. Big game is a dry meat; moisten to prevent dryness. Chunks of beef fat may be added to self-baste it or the surface may be covered with bacon strips anchored with toothpicks.

VENISON

Sausage-filled Venison Steak
2 venison round steaks, trimmed and pounded

2 TBS chopped parsley

1/2 to 1 C Burgundy wine
3 green onions, chopped
1 3 oz can mushrooms
1 egg, beaten
pepper to taste
1 lb pork sausage

Arrange one steak in bottom of greased 1 1/2 qt. casserole. Combine sausage, mushrooms, rice, parsley, pepper and egg. Spread half of sausage mix over steak. Cover with the second steak. Spread remaining sausage-mix on top. Add wine. Cover and bake at 300 for 3 hours or until meat is tender.

Venison Soup

2 TBS chopped parsley

2 TBS salt
1/2 tsp pepper
1/2 tsp savory
1 TBS sugar

Cooking game is not always an easy thing to do. Finding recipes is not always easy to do, either. I have found several recipes for all types of game and some tips on how to prepare game for your eating pleasure.

1. Cook big game the same as lean beef. Most game has little fat and corresponds in quality to beef carcasses with little or no external fat. It should be cooked in the same way. The way it is cut up will determine to some extent the way it is cooked.

The hind and fore shank may be used in soups and stews or ground for sausage, meat loaf, patties and jerky.

The ham or round of the carcass is usually tender enough for steaks. If less tender, use it for Swiss steaks or grind it for "hamburger."

Leg muscles may be cut from the bone and trimmed of connective tissue. It may be cut into strips across the grain of muscle and fried or ground. If ground, remove ALL fat and add beef fat.

The backstrap or loin of game is used for steaks or choice roasts. Shoulder or chuck may be cut into roast for pot roasting or ground. Rump roast is used for pot roast.

Flank and breast cuts may contain considerable meat. Use for soups or stews or grind for patties, meat loaf or sausage.

Heart and liver are cut into strips or sliced and fried.

2. Do not overcook big game meat. It has short fibers that toughen quickly if overcooked or cooked at too high a temperature. Plan to serve it medium-to well-done never rare or overcooked.

3. Use acid to tenderize. Vinegar, tomato sauce and French dressing sauces are good for tenderizing big game. Cover slices or chunks of meat and allow to stand in the marinating sauces for at least 24 hours. Pan fry to medium-done.

4. Reduce the sugar in sauce recipes. The natural

Coyote Control Considered

Predators continue to inflict heavy losses to livestock, poultry and wildlife, pointing to the need for an effective remedy.

That remedy could come in the use of toxic chemicals, but use of such materials, particularly Compound 1080, is not yet sanctioned by the Environmental Protection Agency.

Informal hearings might finally lead to an effective predator control technique for ranchers, they likely would not be completed in time to allow use of toxic chemicals during the coming winter season.

Coyotes continue to cause the heaviest losses to livestock and poultry, and their populations are increasing. They have been a problem to sheep and goat producers for many years, but now they also are causing increased losses in cattle.

In addition to preying on livestock and poultry, coyotes also have inflicted heavy losses in pronghorn antelope, mule deer and other wild species in recent years. This has led some state wildlife agencies to support the use of toxic agents against predators.

Predator control has proven most beneficial in the mule deer management project on the John Lovell ranch. Control has been done using trapping and hunting techniques. The success of predation control for mule deer can readily be seen at this ranch.

Evaluate deer

What can a landowner do to improve deer quality on his ranch? Where have all the big bucks gone? Why are all the deer smaller than they used to be?

These questions and others like them are frequently asked by deer hunters and landowners, says Dr. Milo Shult, wildlife specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "There are no simple answers and the changes seen in deer herd quality may be due to a variety of reasons. Whatever the reason(s), any management changes should be monitored to see if they are having the desired effects," he emphasizes.

"The hunter and landowner are partners in deer management and one important partnership element to determine the effects of management is a good set of records on animals harvested. Records kept on a year-to-year basis are valuable tools which the hunter can help provide," Shult says.

"While records need not be elaborate, some items should be included to make the information useful. For example, all deer should be weighed. Usually weights are recorded on field dressed animals (internal organs removed). In addition to weight, the general body condition (good, fair, poor) should be recorded based on some predetermined criteria," the Texas A&M University specialist suggests.

The antler characteristics of males are important to note. "For example, the number of points on each beam, the circumference of the antlers at the base above the burr, and the burr spread at the widest point of the main beam. A small steel tape is all that is necessary to accomplish this," he says.

Probably the most important information to record is the age of the deer. "Without this, the other data tell very little about the input of management on a herd. We don't know if we have young animals doing well on good range or older animals doing 'fair to middlin' on poor to marginal range," Shult emphasizes.

Deer are aged on the basis of replacement and wear of the jaw teeth (not on the incisors or front teeth). Game Warden Gary Hunt or Wildlife Biologist Dave Dvorak can assist the landowner or hunter in learning the technique. A publication, L-782, "To Age a Deer" is available from the local county Extension office.

Once all the information is recorded, the landowner can evaluate the deer herd and see if the management practices are in that age class," Shult says.

By maintaining these and other records (deer density figures, range conditions, livestock stocking rates, brush control practices, etc.) the hunters and landowners can accurately evaluate the results of their management efforts on the deer herd, he adds.

Last Game of the Season

Memphis action in last game of the season

Player of the Week

OFFENSE PLAYER
Jr. Crump, a senior standing at 5'10" and weighing in around 147 pounds is a flanker. He caught a 77 yard TD pass on the opening play of the game. Jr. has caught a total of 351 yards in reception and has 6 touchdowns.

DEFENSE PLAYER
Brian Hill is a 6' tall, 208 pound linebacker. He has had an excellent game defensively with 6 solo and 5 assists. He has been one of the most consistent players on the defensive unit.

Junior Varsity season record

Clarendon's Junior Varsity Broncos upped their season record to 6 wins and 4 losses by defeating the Memphis Cyclone Junior Varsity 14-8 last Thursday night in Memphis. Memphis was still in the running for the junior varsity district crown and had defeated Clarendon earlier in the season at Clarendon.

Rodney Smith started the scoring for the Broncos with a three yard sweep around the right end to paydirt. Clarendon attempted a pass for the extra points, but was unsuccessful.

and the score was 6-0.

Memphis then scored their only touchdown of the night and made the extra points, putting the Broncos behind by a score of 6-8.

Once again, the Clarendon team went to Rodney Smith who scored on about an eighteen yard run inside. The extra point attempt was good on a pass from Dyron Howell to Stanley Gardner, making the final score 14-8.

Coaches for the Clarendon Junior Varsity are Ron Holmes and Roy Rutledge. According to Coach Rutledge, the junior varsity team has improved, probably one hundred percent, from where they were at the beginning of football season this year. He also stated that perhaps the most improved player would be Stanley Gardner.

The junior varsity Bronco team was a young one this season, being composed of one junior (two juniors for the last few weeks), four sophomores, and the rest freshmen.

This young team can be justly proud of its winning record for the 1981-82 varsity season.

Junior Varsity Beats Memphis

Clarendon Junior High Colts attained a sweet victory over the Memphis junior high team by a score of 6-0 last Thursday night in Memphis. This victory gave the Colts a season record of 3 wins and 7 losses, with the wins coming in the second half of the season.

Clarendon's only score in the Memphis game came on a five yard run by Brent Hayworth. The extra point attempt was unsuccessful, leaving the score 6-0, and both teams played strong defense for the rest of the game, preventing any further scoring.

Jack Hall and Joe Bryant coach the Clarendon Colts, a team composed of 14 eighth graders and 13 seventh graders. Memphis also played a combination of their eighth and seventh grade teams.

Coach Hall stated that he could not single out any one player as being outstanding in the win over Memphis, but rather stated that every player did an outstanding job. Several fans commented that it was the best game they had seen all year. One thing that Coach Hall did comment on was the fact that the entire Colt team had improved very much this season, which is evident by the fact that their wins came toward the end of the season.

A THIEF IN THE NIGHT

A THIEF IN THE NIGHT—a motion picture about Bible prophecy from Mark IV Pictures of Iowa, will be shown at the Clarendon Church of Nazarene on November 22 at 6:00 p.m.

A THIEF IN THE NIGHT is a dramatic portrayal of what could happen when Jesus Christ returns. This suspenseful story centers around Patty Meyers (played by Patty Dunning Rinsinger) a young woman caught up in living for the present, with little concern about the future. What happens when this thinking finally catches up with her provides an action-packed, unforgettable drama.

The fast-moving pace evolves into increasingly tense moments as the Rapture predicted in Bible prophecy takes place, leaving Patty in a world which forces her to make a choice: either for a life of fleeing the inevitable sufferings and death; or for UNITE, a new world government which rejects Jesus Christ and forces citizens to receive the "mark" warned against by God. Suspense builds to a thought-provoking climax as Patty faces the consequences of her choice.

This movie portrays the Biblical predictions, "There will be no place to hide" (Rev. 20:11). As one viewer commented: "The film in essence illustrates the consequences of indecision. It leaves the audience thinking."

A THIEF IN THE NIGHT was given the "Best Film of the Year" award by the National Evangelical Film Foundation of Valley Forge, Pennsylvania. Patty Dunning Rinsinger received the "Outstanding Female Actress" award.

A DISTANT THUNDER

A DISTANT THUNDER, a Mark IV Pictures Inc. production, will be presented at the Clarendon Church of Nazarene on November 22 at 6:00 p.m.

A DISTANT THUNDER, a 78-minute color film, is a sequel to Mark IV Pictures' 1973 release, A THIEF IN THE NIGHT.—It begins where A THIEF IN THE NIGHT ended.

Patty, the leading character in A THIEF IN THE NIGHT, is among a large number of people held prisoner because they have not received the Mark of the Beast. Since the day Patty awoke and found Jim, her husband, had disappeared, she has suffered grief, loneliness, hunger, and fear because of the Evil One that works for the control of the world. Patty and her two friends, Wanda and Sandy escape the attention of the authorities for a time. When Wanda and Sandy attempt to help an elderly man, they are arrested by an armed patrol. The girls succeed in warning Patty that their hiding place has been discovered. Patty makes a daring attempt to outwit the soldiers sent to seize her. Audiences are thoroughly engrossed with her predicament.

The film answers many of the questions raised by other recent motion pictures. Events foretold in the Bible as part of the Great Tribulation are vividly portrayed in A DISTANT THUNDER. You will remember this film as long as you live...perhaps forever!

Kenny King relates his football past

Bill Weatherly, City Secretary received a letter the other day, which he passed on to the paper, thought it might be of interest to our readers. The letter contained a very short note and a clipping from the San Francisco Chronicle:

Dear Sirs:

Know the enclosed article will be of interest to you and your city.

A homesick Texan, from Weslaco, Texas. Played football 1939-40-41 for the Weslaco Panthers!

Also PLAYED WITH COACH TOM LANDRY; Cowboys head coach, Mission Texas.

Adios! San Francisco Chronicle Wed., September 2, 1981 Lowell Cohn/Kenny King Arrives

A few weeks ago, Kenny King, third-year Raider running back, carried the ball during a routine practice drill. Suddenly, his heart began to race, he felt dizzy, and he slumped to the ground.

"This is it," he thought. "I'm having a coronary. My career is over just like that." His career wasn't over. It was merely a case of over-excitement leading to a dizzy spell. But that little incident shows two things about Kenny King. He is a very emotional person. And his career has always teetered at the precipice.

It's a career, in fact, which might never have been. King grew up in a small, poor West Texas town called Clarendon. Half the houses in his neighborhood stood vacant because the black families that used to live there simply gave up the ghost in the '60s and fled to California.

When he was kid, King expected to live and die in Clarendon. "The town gave me no opportunity to be anything," he said. "Right now I could be living there, married with seven kids, and ploughing someone else's field."

Would he have been happy?

"It would be an unhappy life," King said grimly. But King could do one thing better than anyone in Clarendon. He could carry a football. Every major university in the U.S. tried to recruit him, but he went to Oklahoma because, "I had always wanted to be part of the Sooner tradition."

He expected the hallowed tradition to engulf him, to buoy him, and in return, his star would bring glory to Oklahoma. It never worked out that way. Coach Barry Switzer was never wild about Kenny King.

Two incidents from his freshman year stick in King's mind. "Switzer said I couldn't focus on the ball," King said. "Once I dropped the ball in practice. So he told me to go to an optometrist and get my eyes examined. The optometrist said I had 20-20 vision. But he said, 'I'll give you glasses, anyway. Otherwise, Switzer won't be satisfied.'"

The second incident occurred at a team meeting after King had just flunked two classes and was put on academic probation. According to King, Switzer got up and said, "We don't need any more Kenny Kings around here." After that, King was not wild about Switzer.

The other crimp in Kenny King's career at Oklahoma went by the name of Billy Sims. King was converted to a blocking back and asked to open holes for Sims to run through. That's like being asked to play Horatio when the part you tried out for was Hamlet. That led to more resentment against Switzer. "He was not concerned with my future. Just with making (Sims) a Heisman winner," King said bitterly.

In 1979, King was drafted by the Oilers. They told him he wouldn't be frustrated the way he was at Oklahoma. That makes him laugh. The crimp in King's career at Houston went by the name of Earl Campbell.

"It was like history repeating itself," he explained. "I was just like dust on a lampshade."

Did King get along with Earl Campbell?

"Earl tried to talk to me, to tell me to hang in there," he said in a strained voice. "It was easy for him... He had it... He ALWAYS had it... I never did... Not at Oklahoma... Not at Houston... He always had what I always wanted."

In his short, unhappy tenure at Houston, King carried the ball three times for nine yards. He played mostly on special teams, eventually lost interest in football and thought of quitting. Things reached a low point on a plane trip back from Baltimore. "On the way to Baltimore they told me I had to have a good game," he said. "I didn't. I sat there on the way back and thought about shooting myself in the head. If I'd have stayed at Houston, I don't know where I was headed."

He didn't stay. In 1980 he came to the Raiders in exchange for Jack Tatum and draft choices. Given the chance to play—to really play—King gained 761 yards for Oakland and was named All-Pro. His 89-yard touchdown run against San Diego was the longest run from scrimmage in Raiders' history and longest in the NFL since 1972.

Kenny King is still emotional. These days, however, the dominant mode is happy. I asked him what the world looks like the moment he gets the ball and starts charging through a hole. He sat contemplating.

"I don't see a helmet or the defenders, if that's what you mean," he finally explained. "The world looks wide open. Here's your chance. Here's your future. Go get it."

Farm-City Week Nov. 20-26

Farm-City Week, Nov. 20-26, focuses on the involvement of farm and city people as partners in growing, processing, marketing and consuming food and fiber.

One out of every 30 Texans is a farmer or rancher, and 30% of the state's retail trade business is directly associated with agricultural production and selling of food and fiber products.

While the overall cost of living has increased about 11% from a year ago, food prices in the grocery store have increased 6.4% and apparel has risen less than 5%. This compares with an increase of nearly 13% in housing, 16% in fuels, 11.5% in medical care and 25% in public transportation.

With more than $3 billion in farm exports last year, Texas is one of the leading states in shipment of agricultural products abroad. Texas led the nation in shipments of cotton, cottonseed and animal fats; was second in meats and meat products, hides and skins; and third in rice, peanuts and peanut oil.

On a national scale, farm exports total about $44 billion. Leading customers are Japan, Netherlands, Mexico, China, Canada, Germany and Korea.

Farm exports support more than a million jobs, and the added business stemming from agricultural exports about equals the value of products shipped.

Deficiency Payments

likely on '81 cotton

Cotton farmers will likely collect 5 to 7 cents a pound from the government for their crop this year. The money will be in the form of deficiency payments—the difference between the target price set by the government and the actual market price.

"The 1981 target price for cotton is 70.87 cents a pound," explains Dr. Carl Anderson, economist in cotton marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "The average price received by farmers in July (70.20 cents) just missed this level. Since then, the cotton market fell to 65 cents a pound in August and in October was running about 60 cents. At this level the deficiency payment would be 5 to 7 cents."

And this is a likely probability since plentiful cotton supplies, high interest rates and a weak demand will tend to keep market prices down the remainder of this year, contends Anderson.

Deficiency payments will be based on the difference between the weighted monthly average price received by farmers in 1981 and the target price of 70.87 cents, explains the economist. Monthly prices received are weighted by the proportion of the crop sold that month.

"All farmers get the same payment regardless of the price they received for their cotton," says Anderson.

"Payments are based on the farm program acreage and yield established on each farm."

Deficiency payments are limited to a combined total of $50,000 per person under the Upland cotton, wheat, and feed grain programs in 1981. Farmers must be in full compliance with government programs involving other crops to receive payments under the cotton program, adds the economist.

Thanks from the 4-H Club

Donley County 4-H Club would like to say "Thanks" to everyone who helped with the Cornbread and Bean Supper.

The 4-H Club made a $275 dollar profit on the supper. This money will be used to finance programs and activities throughout the year.

The November 4-H meeting was held Monday, November 16, in the Clarendon College Cafeteria. There were 25 members and parents present at the meeting. Officer and Member pins were awarded to the 4-H'ers.

The upcoming events discussed at the meeting were: Horse Club Record Book Workshop -- this workshop will be Tuesday, December 1, at 7 p.m. in Room 102 in the College Administration Building.

Donley County Food Show -- to be held Saturday, November 21, in the Clarendon School Cafeteria. Registration will be from 9:30 to 10 a.m. and at 10 a.m. the judging of the food products will begin.

DeLorge

Mrs. Patricia Gattis of Irving and Jimmy Gattis of Dallas announce the marriage of their daughter Elizabeth Shawn to Frederick Thomas DeLorge on November 6, 1981. The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boots O'Neal and Mrs. Thelma Gattis of Clarendon.

Texas Gulf Coast in the early 1960's are continuing their dramatic resurgence.

David Blankenship, a National Audubon Society biologist from Rockport, said 57 nesting pairs of pelicans were counted in 1981. Ten years ago, the count was down to fewer than 35 birds.

A tick infestation disrupted the birds' nesting efforts this year resulting in only 46 young fledged. "Last year, about 76 birds were fledged, so we were hoping for better production in 1981," said Blankenship.

Biologists believe a lack of nesting success caused by use of the pesticide DDT was the main factor in the decline. Their numbers have continued to climb since the chemical was banned. Brown pelicans still are classified as an endangered species in the U.S.

Clean-up on Community Center underway

Wind, rain and cold did not deter the energies of twenty folks who showed up at the Community Center site Saturday. Several years accumulated debris was cleaned away and hauled off to the dump. The more people that can turn out to help clean up and fix up this Community Center, the quicker the work can be done.

Now that the Boy Scout house tearing down project is almost done, maybe we can expect some "experienced" demolition teams to come help at the Community Center on their work days.

The next project will be to pour the cement floor. This will be a messy job and will certainly require several helpers with hip boots and a willingness to work.

The Community Center will benefit everyone in the community. Those who want to host a family reunion but don't have a suitable place can use the new community center. Those with a party or dance scheduled will find the facilities at the new center a dream come true.

In order to make this community center a reality, the Outdoor Entertainment Association will need YOUR help on their work days. Pitch in for your community. After all, the only thing we need is your time.

NUMB ARMS, LEGS Danger Signals

There may be misalignment of vertebrae in the spine causing pressure on nerves, yet the patient experiences no pain in the back. Instead, a variety of sensations may be felt in other parts of the body. These include tingling, tightness, hot spots, cold spots, crawling sensations, electric shock sensations, stinging, burning, and others.

Here are nine critical symptoms involving back pain or strange sensations which are usually the forerunners of more serious conditions. Any one of these usually spells back trouble.

- (1) Paresthesias (see above)
- (2) Headaches
- (3) Painful joints
- (4) Numbness in the arms or hands
- (5) Loss of sleep
- (6) Stiffness in the neck
- (7) Pain between the shoulders
- (8) Stiffness or pain in lower back
- (9) Numbness or pain in the legs

These signals indicate that your body is being robbed of normal nerve function. Until this function is restored, you will, in some degree, be incapacitated. The longer you wait to seek help, the worse the condition will become. Don't wait! Should you experience any of these danger signals, call for in depth consultation in Layman's terms.

THEN and NOW

THEN: In the early 1960's, a team of researchers at the University of Florida began a project to develop a product for rapid fluid replacement to the body to overcome cases of severe dehydration and loss of body salts due to high temperatures brought about by physical exertion. Because football players experience tremendous fluid losses during practice and games, it was decided to test the formula on the University of Florida Gators. The formula was quickly termed Gatorade® thirst quencher and the Gators enjoyed a winning season.

NOW: Today, that thirst quencher is produced and sold by Stokely-Van Camp, Inc., a leading packer and marketer of fruits and vegetables, and is the drink of many professional sports teams. It can be found throughout the country in both liquid and powder form.

A Moment for Meditation

"Whatever ye do, do all to the glory of God."
 1 Cor. 10:31

"A Christian should be better at anything he does than a non-Christian." This thought was planted in Natalie Roumain's mind when she was a child. It took hold and became her motto. Years later she became a bank vice-president in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, the first and only woman to serve on the Chamber of Commerce board, the first woman president of the Young Men's Christian Association in her city, and an active worker in her church. She serves on various committees as a volunteer and heads up the visitation program to newcomers and shut-ins in her church. She says each activity is an opportunity for her to do something to the glory of God. Her philosophy of life came out in an interview conducted by Jacqueline Durham for Royal Service, a publication for Baptist women.

This is a fresh new approach to Christian service. Somewhere along the way during the centuries there grew up a stereotype for Christians. A down-at-the-heel person, so spineless he would hardly swat a fly became the image of a deeply religious person. No ambitious or successful person could possibly be a genuine Christian. Such an idea serves well the mediocre individual. It is actually a cop-out to avoid doing one's best, whatever the job. We like to excuse our poor performances whether on the job or in the church. It is so easy to rationalize. The job is uninteresting. It is too time-consuming. Someone less busy can do it. And so it goes year by year; opportunities slip away; enthusiasm wanes and life becomes more boring. Seldom does an opportunity come a second time, but there are always others coming up. We can seize them and give them our best. By taking this Bible verse as our motto, there is no limitation to being a real Christian, whatever our occupation is.

Conditions suggest testing cottonseed for free fatty acids

Wet and relatively warm fall weather in the Texas High Plains has increased the possibility that the seed in early-maturing cotton fields has suffered some deterioration, cautions a cotton specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.
 Cottonseed exposed to such conditions or subjected to poor storage conditions after harvest often undergoes fairly rapid deterioration in quality, said Dr. James K. Supak, Extension cotton agronomist. This deterioration is frequently reflected by an increased free fatty acid content of the seed, he said.

"Basically, these acids are both the building blocks for—and the breakdown products of—cottonseed oil," Supak explained. The cotton plant is able to convert the sugars it produces into fatty acids and eventually oil. This oil serves as a major source of energy that keeps the seed alive during storage and that enables the seed to germinate and establish a strong, healthy seedling.

Cottonseed always contain some free fatty acids that were not synthesized into oils or to fatty acids that result from breakdown of oil needed to keep the seed viable during storage. The concentrations of free fatty acids in well matured, properly processed cottonseed are generally well below one percent, the agronomist said.

"Seed with free fatty acids in the 1 to 2 percent range are considered questionable whereas seed with less than 1 percent free fatty acids usually make acceptable planting seed," Supak said.
 At the other extreme, seed can be dead and not have a high free fat acidity content, he noted. Seed can die from causes other than the high humidity-high temperature condition normally required for free fatty acid development.

"If seed die or deteriorate under dry conditions the free fatty acid levels may be quite low but the seed will be useless for planting purposes," Supak said.

The over all analyses should also include consideration of how well the crop matured in the field, how much exposure to weather the crop endured before harvest, conditions during storage (especially moisture and temperature levels in modules), the appearance of the seed after ginning and performance in laboratory germination tests.
 Free fatty acid levels can serve as a rough guide in determining the extent of seed deterioration, the Extension agronomist said. Many delimiting plants and private laboratories are equipped to conduct both the free fatty acid and germination tests.

CAR CARE TIPS

DO-IT-YOURSELF PAINT SEALANTS CAN'T PROTECT YOUR CAR FOREVER

Do-it-yourself paint sealants, according to manufacturers, are designed to protect car exteriors forever. The very important "other half" of the story is that a paint sealant can only work if it is properly applied... and proper application is a complicated process to do yourself.
 First, the paint must be clean and free of all particles of damaging dirt and pollution. This includes removing the thin film of oxidation (deterioration caused by exposure to air and sun) found even on new cars. Deoxidizing a painted surface can take a trained professional several hours using both chemical and buffing systems to ensure the surface is clean.

If no deoxidizing process takes place, the sealant is wiped over pollution and oxidation particles. The effect is like sanding rather than sealing the finish. Without the deoxidizing step, the risk that the sealant will wear unevenly and cause blotches over a period of time is great. It's a job best left to professionals.

Rodney McAnear & Virginia Clifford

Clifford & McAnear honored

Thirty-eight outstanding members of 4-H Clubs in the Texas Panhandle were honored in Amarillo Saturday night, November 7.

In addition to receiving the Gold Star Award, highest honor presented at the county level, the youths heard State Rep. Foster Whaley of Pampa praise 4-H and challenge them to continue their contributions to their communities, state, and nation.

Joining the youths at the awards banquet at the Hilton Inn were parents, government officials, Extension leaders, fellow 4-H'ers and other community leaders.

Honored from Donley County were Virginia Clifford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clifford of Clarendon; and Rodney McAnear, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McAnear, Jr., of Clarendon.

Whaley said the thing that has made 4-H such a great organization "is the idea of helping people help themselves." He said 4-H also has always emphasized patriotism and pride in country.

He said the boys and girls being honored for their achievements and contributions are the tops in the more than 13,000 4-H members in the 20 Panhandle counties.

Guests were welcomed by David Pruitt, manager of the Greenbelt Electric Cooperative, Wellington, one of the five electric cooperatives which sponsor the annual banquet. The others are Deaf Smith, Rita Blanca, North Plains and Swisher.

Master of ceremonies for the program was Flynn Farris of Dallam County, chairman of the Panhandle District 4-H Council. Other 4-H'ers participating in the program were Connie Terry and Mary Peters of Moore County, Deana Trent and Marie deKeraty of Potter County; Joe Martin of Carson County, RaLynda Wharton of Dallam County, and Glenda West of Deaf Smith County.

Special entertainment was provided by the Canyon High School show choir, directed by Doug McCause.

The Gold Star Awards were presented by Mrs. Sue Farris and Paul Gross, district directors of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Four-H is a youth program of the Extension Service.

Newhouse awarded scholarship

Bubba Newhouse was one of three recipients of scholarship awards at Abilene Christian University's annual Ex-Aggie Reunion.

Newhouse, a senior of agriculture business major, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bright Newhouse of Clarendon. He received the Robert Malone Scholarship. This scholarship was established by the wife and family of Malone after he was killed in the Vietnam war. Newhouse also is a member of the Aggie Club and was freshman class senator. He is a 1978 graduate of Clarendon High School.

Artist Studio elected president

In a regular meeting the Artist Studio Club met at 7 A.M. in the Donley County Day Care Center with Edie Robertson, president, presiding.

A strict policy of membership attendance was adopted.

Election of new officers was held with the following results: Mary Martin, president; Robbie Hill, vice-president; Dolores Crump, 2nd vice-president; Jeanice Weatherly, secretary-treasurer; and Eureka Mays, historian.

Two new members were elected to membership; Rita Payne and Christine Brummet. We welcome these new members into the club.

Artist Celia Meadors gave an interesting demonstration with a charcoal portrait of club member Dolores Crump. Following a question and answer session, Ms. Meadors excused herself, and the club went into its business session.

In a regular meeting, the Artist Studio Club met at 7 a.m. with Robbie Hill presiding. Mary Martin declined her election as president. The motion was made and carried to move the elected officers up to give the office of President to Robbie Hill.

Eureka Mays was duly nominated and elected to the office of 2nd vice-president. New member Christine Brummett was elected as historian.

Names for artists to be considered for the July 4th art show will be submitted by each member. The December meeting will be held at Clarendon College in order that James Edwards, head of the art department, may present the program.

Dessa Day reviews "Thorpe" for 1926 Book Club

The 1926 Book Club met on November 3, 1981 at the Patching Clubhouse at 4:00 p.m.

The hostesses, Billie Clinton and Pauline Morris served delicious orange cake with pineapple topping, nuts, and mints while Rachel Butler poured the tea or coffee from a table decorated with fall motif.

President Betty Veach brought the meeting to order. Evelyn Mann read the minutes from two meetings, they were approved. Reports were given from two committees. The Membership Committee submitted the name of Jesse Adams for membership in the 1926 Book Club. By unanimous vote, Jesse Adams became our new member. The Nominating Committee reported on nominations for officers for 1982-83. Billie Clinton presented the following slate of officers:

President, Betty Veach; Vice-President, Helen Phelps; Recording Secretary, Oressa Delaney; Corresponding Secretary-Frieda Tucker; Treasurer-Pauline Morris; Parliamentarian-Dorothy White. The following officers were elected by acclamation.

Helen Phelps reminded the members that their help was needed to prepare for the tea and hat show on Saturday, December 5.

The program was turned over to Dessa Day who gave a book review on THORPE by Mary Dutton. She gave a very good review of a young girls adventures with her family. An example would be like the Walton series on TV.

Enjoying the rendition of THORPE was Joy Martin, Thelma Bairfield, Rachael Butler, Dorothy White, Carolyn Hamilton, Oressa Delaney, Jessie Adams, Billie Clinton, Pauline Morris, Dessa Day, Susie Shields, Evelyn Mann, Helen Phelps, Gladys Blackburn, Lockie Pitts, Janice Johnston, Betty Veach and Viola Graham guest.

Next meeting is November 17.

The Battle of Bunker Hill was unique in that thousands of spectators in the Boston area had ringside seats for the spectacle. They sat on rooftops, in tree-tops, on church steeples, and in the rigging of the ships in the harbor.

NO GAS SHORTAGE

A common complaint for which people seek medical attention and request nonprescription medicines is gas. The three major symptoms are excessive belching, abdominal discomfort, and passage of gas from the rectum. Interestingly, it has been found that those people who have these symptoms actually have no more gas in their stomachs and intestines than do people who do not have symptoms.

Many authorities advise against eating certain foods that have been categorized as "gas producers". These include cabbage, beans, peas, and peanuts. Individuals who cannot digest lactose sugar may develop symptoms of gas after eating milk or milk products. A diet high in fiber is often considered best to help reduce symptoms in almost everyone.

If one lies down immediately following a meal, air may become trapped in the stomach and this may lead to gas symptoms. A brisk walk or jogging, on the other hand, helps to increase the movement of food and gas through the intestines and helps reduce or prevent gas symptoms.

A variety of prescription and nonprescription medicines have been advocated for relief of gas symptoms. These include the antacids, charcoal, simethicone, and the antispasmodics that calm the movement of the intestines.

Soil conservation problems study

America will face reduced agricultural productive capacity and increased production costs unless the critical soil and water resource conservation problems of the nation are addressed. This is the conclusion of a three-year study by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The study was required by Congress in the Soil and Water Resources Conservation Act of 1977 (RCA), according to Jim Donaho, Soil Conservation Service (SCS) District Conservationist in Clarendon.

Specifically, the RCA study showed that:

--One-third of America's cropland is eroding faster than the soil can rebuild itself through natural processes. Unless corrective actions are taken, the acreage of this excessively eroding land will increase further.

--Floods threaten human life, cropland, and other property, livestock, and crops in upstream watersheds. Greater damage is likely in the future.

--Depletion of ground-water threatens the continuation of irrigated agriculture in extensive areas of the west.

--Deterioration of water quality may limit the use of water for irrigation, municipal and industrial supply, fish and wildlife habitat, and other purposes.

These RCA findings are based on the most intensive and accurate appraisal of the country's nonfederal natural resources ever conducted, Donaho reports. "Much of the data came from on-site examinations at about 200,000 sample points across the United States. In Texas, some 14,550 sample points provided information for the national summary."

The information gathered included data on land uses, soils, erosion, prime farmland, cropping sequences, and crop residue treatment.

Beside the SCS inventories and other USDA studies and evaluations, the RCA process drew on studies made by the Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, Fish and Wildlife Service, Environmental Protection Agency, Water Resources Council, Bureau of Outdoor Recreation and others.

RCA Appraisal Part 1, the first of three major documents, contains detailed information on the resource base--status, conditions, and trends. A reference copy of all three major RCA documents is available for use at SCS and Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices throughout the state.

Copies of a short leaflet summarizing the RCA findings and proposed conservation program are also available at the two USDA offices. It contains a pre-addressed, postage-paid response form that people may use to comment on the program.

Dave & Katie Dvorak attends Navy Reserve meeting Lubbock

Vice-President and Mrs. Bush were in Lubbock Friday to speak at a Chamber of Commerce convention. They stayed at Reese Air Force Base in the VIP quarters.

Class Katie Dvorak and Hospital Corpsman David Dvorak were also at Reese AFB in the visiting officers quarters.

Security by both the airmen and all law enforcement personnel provided superior coverage for both parties. Armed airmen stood atop buildings, and law enforcement cars were at all of the intersections of the planned route from the Air Force Base to the Convention Center.

Later Friday evening, the Dvorak party turned from Quaker Avenue and found themselves leading the Bush procession from Lubbock back to Reese AFB.

An alert airman recognized that the lead car was not one of the assigned cars and abruptly commanded the Clarendon couple off of the road where the couple were relieved of their unexpected roles as the leaders of the Bush party parade.

Circumstances also presented DTI Katie Dvorak with an unexpected opportunity to be formally presented to Admiral Smith, the interim head of the Readiness Command, Region Eleven, out of New Orleans. The out-going officer, Captain Fend, and the commanding officer of the Lubbock and Amarillo Navy Reserve Centers, as well as several other officers, shook hands with her and visited with the Clarendon sailor about her role in the Reserve program.
