Twenty-eight pupils of the Chamberlain school left Tuesday and returned Friday and a trip to Carlsbad caverns as the main objective. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Todd, their teachers. Other adults going along to see that no accidents befell the happy group were Mmes. Roy Blackman, John Aduddell, O. B. Rampey, Frank Reid.

The first night was spent at Roswell, said to be the cleanest town in the southwest and a rival of Salt Lake City.

An early start was made next day and the Caverns inspected along with six hundred and thirty-five others. The most pleasing sight there was to watch the millions of bats come out of the side entrance late in the afternoon.

Back to Carlsbad for the night, a lot of time was taken showing the youngsters through Jim White's Indian museum. Indian artifacts were interesting but the mummified bodies of the Basket Weaver Indians taken from the caves high up in the Guadalupe mountains, was a subject discussed frequently all the way back home.

The big Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum at Canyon took almost a half day on the return trip. Here school folks found a lot of subject matter to work on for some time. Many had never seen this collection, and could have easily staid over more than a day had time permitted.

On to Amarillo, lunch was spread in the big Elwood park. The courthouse was inspected from top to bottom, and the jail was looked over before going out to the municipal zoo. Naturally the animals attracted a lot of attention from the children who were looking at their first bears, lions, monkeys, etc.

The entire trip was paid for out of school funds of the district remaining at the close of the term. The school board is made up of Roy Blackman, Henry Mann and John Aduddell. The school folks are sure that the Board did a wise thing in spending the money for the trip because of its educational value.

Children making the trip were Jolly and Bob Aduddell, Peggy Jean and Harold Rampey, Betty Joy and Neta Aduddell, Junior, Louise and Winfred Mann, Billy Roy Blackman, Billie Bud Aduddell, Roy, Fred and Jewell Pierce, Gene, Nelda and Mary Harrison; Marion, Joy and J. L. Goodman, Lavern Collier, David Isham, R. V. Short, Cecil Ray Short, Glenn Reid, Adrian Myers, Randall and Johnnie Short.

GREAT AMONG MEN.

The greatest of men is said to be those who leave the greatest amount of good behind them when they complete life's cycle. Seldom do we fully appreciate the living. Like looking at a mountain at a distance, we can only fully sum up that greatness when viewing a man's life at a distance—after he is gone.

In the passing of Dr. Charles H. Mayo of Rochester, Minnesota Friday, humanity lost one of its greatest benefactors. He was great in his accomplishments in two fields of thought and action—medicine and surgery. With his brother, he established the most renowned hospital system on the globe. Over fifty thousand afflicted sought a panacea there the past year. Charitable? Yes! Charges for that service was made in accordance with the ability to pay. The name, Mayo Brothers, will live through the ages. Uncrowned kings in a dominion of misery and despair whose messengers are happy spirits reclaimed.

Not many days ago, the Squalus, a U. S. Navy submarine sank in two hundred and forty feet of water off the shore near Portsmouth, N. H. Lloyd D. Maness closed the bulkhead door and, not only saved his own life, but the lives of thirty-three others.

America has no royalty to worship, but we can pay tribute to men and women who do great things rather than worship those who were born lucky. Americans must earn their greatness. In the land of kings, they become great by accident.

FACTS FAVOR
 FORD

1 The 1939 Ford V-8 is a beautiful, modern motor car. Its 85-horsepower engine gives you economical, well-balanced performance over the entire speed range—and the 60-horsepower engine is even more economical.

2 The structural strength of the Ford car—frame, bracing, axles, body—makes not only for safety, but durability and long life.

3 Ford hydraulic brakes are exceptionally large and strong in proportion to car weight.

4 The Ford car is stabilized for comfortable riding. Its springbase, the distance between front and rear suspension, is 123 inches. Seats are toward the center, perfectly balanced. The car does not bob or dip and can have very little sway.

These four points—power, strength, safety, comfort—are by far the most important essentials in any motor car. They form the basic value of your investment.

With this solid foundation to build on, the Ford V-8 has been made beautiful, spacious, easy to drive. It is richly upholstered and has all the modern features which add to the luxury and pleasure of motoring.

You can see these things when you take a trial drive, but do not forget that the main value is in the things you do not readily see—quality of materials, precision of manufacture, fundamental engineering.

FORD V-8

EXCELS IN THE THINGS THAT COUNT

Palmer Motor Co.

A COW, TWO MULES AND A CAT.

With the addition of a panel truck, bedding and chuck, and the live stock enumerated above, eight boys form the nucleus of a great beginning. They are the foundation stock of another "Boys Town" on land contributed by Julian Bivins at old Tascosa. Cal Farley had a lot to do with them getting started. Father Flannigan's visit some weeks ago set Amarillo business men going. The priest is the originator of Boys Town, Nebraska where boys are reclaimed and others given homes. It is a great work and, properly managed, we may hear a lot more about old Tascosa aside from its historical pioneer status.

Welcome Georgie
 (But we're locking up our chickens!)

Dear Bertie: We don't know whether we should call you Bertie, which is the name your Daddy and Mother gave you, or Georgie, which is the name the Big Interests of England gave you along with a brand new birthday when they decided to dump your brother, Eddie, overboard because he was hobnobbing rather too freely with the under-privileged and the hoi polloi.

It is a pity, Bertie, that you couldn't come to see us as an individual, rather than for a palpably political purpose. We are told that you are really not a bad sort, don'tcher know! Were you to visit us as plain Bertie Wetlin, which was the name of your great grandfather, we could give you a welcome unclouded with any suspicion of our motives. We have in Washington, Georgie (or is it Bertie?) a better fire department than we had in 1812. Moreover, Bertie (or is it Georgie?) you can't be blamed for what happened in 1812 and that's a long time ago, anyway. So we hope you enjoy your visit to our rebuilt white House (but don't drop any lighted matches!)

Now, Bertie, or Georgie, we know you will take a little friendly advice in the spirit of friendship in which it is offered. When you see the parade of the boys (especially from our State Department) with their trousers rolled up and carrying umbrellas don't mistake them for the American people! They are only the lunatic fringe which sneezes when Royalty (any Royalty) takes snuff; They are the parvenus that think our American Revolution was a horrible mistake which Andy Carnegie almost corrected; they are the lineal descendants of those who hung their flags at half-mast in disapproval of our little scrap in 1812; they represent nobody but a little clique composed of themselves and nobody else; they are just a buffalo chip in the great wide expanse of our American prairie; they are merely a speck on the ocean of real Americanism.

And here's another thing, Georgie (or is it Bertie?) that you want to take to heart. Discount that hands-across-the-sea stuff about 99.44 percent. Don't suggest that Great Britain will fight 'til every last American boy is killed. It's just not cricket, don'tcher know. Bertie (or is it Georgie?) we have problems and troubles of our own, and by the eternal God we are NOT going to send one American boy to Europe again to save your hides; we are NOT going to put our economic resources behind your fake democracy; we will back you in every earnest effort to maintain the peace of the world, but—and listen closely, Georgie—despite our President and his international minded advisers, we are NOT going to risk the life of a single American boy to save an acre—no, not one square inch—of the lands your thieving country has grabbed off in the last three hundred years!

Georgie (we don't know what your name is!) we've read the history of your empire. We are not afraid of your ruling classes when through your so-called government you rave and roar; but when you begin to pray, when you put on a pious smirk and start to preaching virtue, Georgie, you don't fool anyone except yourselves. Then we lock up our chickens and we wonder whom you are preparing to rob next.

Bertie, we wish you bon voyage and are glad that you didn't talk us into cashing another check. You remember the last check. It bounced back in our faces. Well, boys will be boys, and by-gones will be by-gones—so, Au Revoir, and don't hurry back!

Yours,
 UNCLE SAM

PATENTS EXCEED 2,000,000

CARS REQUIRE COTTON

Every automobile contains fifty-five pounds of cotton, and enough additional cotton has been used during manufacture to bring the total cotton consumption per car to nearly one hundred pounds. This is one proof of the interdependence of industry and agriculture.

Mr. and Mrs. Verna Lusk visited in Miami Sunday.

WHAT IS COTTON?

Below we quote one of the best definitions we have seen:

Cotton is the overcoat of a seed that is planted and grown in the Southern States to keep the producer broke and the buyer crazy. The fibre varies in color and weight, and the man who can guess nearest the length of a fibre is called a cotton man by the public, a fool by the farmer, and a poor business man by his creditors.

The price of cotton is fixed in New York, and it goes up when you have sold and down when you have bought. A buyer working for a group of mills was sent to New York to watch the cotton market, and after a few days' deliberation wired his firm to this effect—"Some think it will go up, some think it will go down; I do too. Whatever you do will be wrong. Act at once."

Cotton is planted in the spring, mortgaged in the summer, and left in the fields in the winter. There are other definitions, but none better than this.

Elmer Palmer and Alfred Estlack were in Amarillo Sunday on a business call.

Garlic-Parsley an Aid in HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Medical reports say that Garlic-Parsley concentrate has a double action in reducing high blood pressure. First, it tends to relax tightened arteries. Second, it checks or inhibits decomposition of waste matter in the bowels, a contributory cause of high blood pressure. To get concentrated garlic and parsley in odorless, tasteless form, ask for ALLIMIN. These tablets, used at regular intervals, aid in reducing blood pressure and relieving headache and dizziness caused by excessively high readings. To learn what raises your blood pressure and for medical treatment consult your doctor. ALLIMIN is for sale by all druggists. Large box, 50c. Special economy size, $1.00.

TEMPLE OF TRUTH

By the Apostle

Near Elvira, Ohio in a rural cemetery appears the following epitaph on an imposing tombstone: "In memory of my bulldog. He was brave, honest, faithful and grateful—which is more than I can accord some of my business associates, a few kinsmen and friends of a sort."

"Every dog has his day," is an old saying, but that bulldog has had several since that tombstone has been there since the earliest recollection of the earliest living resident. After all, the dog is the only known living animal—human or otherwise—to remain faithful through any and all circumstances. Only man alone will poison a dog—his most loyal friend.

LOOKING INTO THE FUTURE.

When old Haston Yazzie was asked when he thought he would get his home paid for that was built with a federal loan, the old haderger whipped his end of navy tobacco to the other cheek and said: "Ifen I don't have better prices in the future than I have been havin' for the past seven years, the termites will be holdin' hands to keep it from fallin' down long before she's paid out."

GROWS STRONGER.

Defeat is the school in which truth grows stronger. It removes egotism and forces a personal inventory that may be of value in future years.

SIMILARITY.

A man and a boy are alike in one respect. Keep a man busy and he will stay out of trouble. Keep the boy busy and he will stay out of mischief.

SENSIBLE THEORY, ANYHOW.

There is an old saying that an old maid knows more about raising children than any one. Bachelors may be able to qualify, too. In speaking to a boy's club recently, bachelor G-Man J. Edgar Hoover said:

"If I had a boy, I would feel that it had been my fault if my son did not grow up to be a fine, honest man—a good citizen in every sense of the word. If I had a son, I'd tell him the truth. I'd never let him catch me in a lie, because I would never tell him a lie. If I couldn't answer his question, I'd tell him so, then we would get together and find the answer."

THE BUSINESS FARMER.

While waxing enthusiastic over the possibility of a local creamery start, the writer sought out men having the largest dairy herds for information relative to their support. I shall never forget what V. V. Johnston had to say. I knew he was a successful farmer, and when he got through, he took all the wind out of my sail. Here is the way he summed it up:

"The sale of cream from one good dairy cow, fed on home-grown feed largely, will bring in about as much as a bale of cotton. In addition, there will be skim milk, which helps produce better hogs, and I don't want the milk to leave my farm. It also means better poultry and more eggs."

METHUSELAH'S HANDICAPS.

There's no telling how long old Methuselah would have lived had some competent workman yanked out his teeth, tonsils and appendix, and he'd followed up with the right kind of tooth paste and smoked the coughless brand of cigarettes.

ON THE BATTLEFRONT.

Whether a man pays his debts promptly is more important than the fact that his ancestors came across in the Mayflower. It's a poor stick who must live on his granddaddy's record.

LEGISLATIVE REMEDY.

While the suggestion was made in this column many months ago, it appears to be needed now more than ever. Both branches of our legislative bodies should be made hold their sessions on a ship three miles off shore on the Gulf. If they did no more than they have done this session, the taxpayers could blow up the ship, wipe the slate and start in new with a crew that had the fear of God in their hearts and get the job done quickly. There wouldn't be more than one ship lost in the deal, either.

INGRATITUDE.

It is a fact that the more you do for some people, the more they expect of you. They get sore and raise the dickens every time one fails to fall for their line of blandishments. In fact we have become so accustomed to that line, it doesn't hurt like it did.

SUGGESTIVE.

A placard in the office of an Amarillo man reads: "If you expect to rate as a gentleman, you won't expect-o-rate on my floor."

OUR WEAKLY POME.

Four-flushing in politics, Banquets every night; Jim's getting over strong Astride of Dynamite.

Royalty's gold braid knocks us. Sounds like fairy tales, But we'll feel hunkadory When Wally comes with Wales.

THAT OLD SPELLING BEE!

Few people today of middle age or older but recall the days of the community spelling bee. That was in the day when folks could really spell. Rural schools had "spelling contests" that some times lasted all day. In an adjoining community lived one red-headed Charley Jones. It so happened that we were spelling "for tallies" and Charley's side got the best of it when closing time came. They had more on the floor than we did. The next time, we "spelled down," only two spellers standing at a time. The old boy who was pronouncing had a flair for hard words. He had legal ambitions and afterwards was elected to congress and died from an auto injury soon after. That was Lucian Parrish. At this particular contest, Charley and the writer were the last up at the Liberty school on the line of Jack county. Lucian had waded through such words as "indelible, delectable, cylindrical, bahr, (the mill stone used in grinding grain), corduroy, debut, bouilli. That last one was a "dilly" as she was pronounced "doo-ye." Then there was "boudoir" and "repertoire" thrown in for good measure with some really difficult ones. Lucian had been to Bowie where some clerk had shown him a bolt of the celebrated lace finery so much in vogue among the ladies of that day in the early 90's. This lace, he was told, was made in Tiedouloureux, France. Well that settled it. Lucian wrote down Tiedouloureux and shot that at Charley as we stood on the floor of the old Liberty school. Charley went down for the count. We were allowed only one trial at spelling a word. And by golly, if you want to know what became of me, why I went down too.

Youth Delinquents Problem To Texas

AUSTIN.—State-guarded mental patients, delinquents and criminals exceed the number of high school graduates who enroll as freshmen in Texas colleges each year. Dr. H. T. Manuel University of Texas educator, said today.

Dr. Manuel has completed the ninth of a series of investigations covering the whole pupil field, for the Texas Commission on Co-ordination in Education. This study surveys "You of College Age in Texas." Dr. Manuel cites 74 white boys, 44 white girls, 22 colored boys, and 18 colored girls 16 to 20 years of age in Texas State hospitals on February 20, 1939.

Texas' two training schools for delinquent boys and girls had among their "enrollees" February 15, 1939, a total of 258 white boys and 134 Negroes 16 to 19 years of age.

The girls' training school, with 242 "pupils" on August 31, 1938, had a waiting list of girls being held in jail awaiting their turn for admission.

Among the inmates of the Texas Prison System as of December 31, 1938, 826 were youths 17 to 19, and 1,900 were 20 to 24 years of age.

"There are, then, in our State correctional institutions 8,000 individuals, half of whom are not more than 25 years of age," he declared.

"The problem of crime is primarily a problem of youth. In fact in its beginning much of the difficulty goes back to maladjustments of children at home and in school.

"More than 20,000 individuals—a large number still in their youth—wrecked in mind or personality awaiting rehabilitation, or perhaps only death! Would not prevention be cheaper? It would certainly be much more satisfying."

DON'T TRY TO TREAT COUGHS WITH HOME-MADE REMEDIES
Coughs Are Danger Signs, Treat Them Accordingly
If you are suffering with a cough of long-standing, and do not know its cause, go to see your doctor immediately. You might have a serious ailment. Even coughs due to cold or exposure often lead to serious complications by breaking down your resistance. For the latter type cough there is a medicine, compounded by a great scientist, fortified with both Vitamins "A" and "D," given to the world by a great laboratory and sold by leading druggists under the name of Mentho-Mulsion, at an all-time low price of 75c. Although home remedies are sometimes effective, many of them have been proven merely superstition, so why take chances when Mentho-Mulsion is sold under an iron-clad guarantee of satisfaction or your money-back by good druggists everywhere.—adv.

GARDEN GLANCES

"America beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners."

"My Lilies" seems to be the chief subject in conversation among the gardeners this week. There are several varieties blooming, but apparently the Misses Harned have the loveliest display. There are forty clumps, or stalks blooming in majestic splendor along the front walk. Then at Mrs. Frank Bourland's, Miss Annie Bourland's, Mrs. Swift's, Mrs. Fink's, and several other homes you will see lovely clumps of this pure white lily. Mrs. Joe Goldston is discussing her red Russian lilies. There are seventeen clumps of these, and on one stalk there are thirty-five buds. Mrs. Chase, too, has several varieties of lilies blooming. Quite a few of these lily growers have grown baby's breath and Bristol Fairy to use with lilies in bouquets. The results are exquisitely beautiful.

Roses are blooming showily on Mrs. George Ryan's yard fence, and Mrs. Benson's front porch. Small but lovely rose gardens are undiscovered by the public in dozens of back yards.

The catalpa trees in Mrs. Cole's yard and the one at Mrs. Crockett Taylor's are exceptionally beautiful with innumerable blossoms. The Taylor lawn has many enchanting nooks, lovely trees, and flowers at all times.

The Clarendon gardeners, or flower growers have been fortunate in having nature's cooperation of showers and very little hail this spring. The trees, flowers, pools, and shrubbery is prettier than usual.

Thousands View Museum In Austin

AUSTIN.—Fifty thousand sight-seers have passed through the great bronze doors of Texas Memorial Museum since its opening four months ago, officials revealed here today.

Dr. Sellards, museum director, reported that visitors from 207 Texas counties, 44 other states and 19 foreign countries have viewed the State's greatest collection of Texana, located on The University of Texas campus.

Only the states of Delaware, Nevada and New Hampshire were as yet not represented on the visitors' register. From as far as Australia, Siberia and China, foreign visitors had paused in Austin to view museum exhibits.

Them Good Old Days

Times have changed. If you don't believe it read the following rules that were in force at the famous Mt. Holyoke College in the year 1837:

"No young lady shall become a member of Mt. Holyoke Seminary who cannot kindle a fire, wash potatoes, repeat the multiplication table, and at least two-thirds of the shorter catechism.

"Every member of the school shall walk a mile a day unless a freshet, earthquake, or some other calamity prevent.

"No young lady shall devote more than an hour a day to miscellaneous reading.

"No young lady is expected to have gentlemen acquaintances unless they are returned missionaries or agents of benevolent societies."

FREAK ACCIDENTS TAKE HEAVY TOLL

AUSTIN.—Death moved in many ways to claim the lives of 90 Texans in April traffic crashes, a state police analysis of last month's toll revealed today.

An oil field worker was killed and his companion injured when their car hit the curbing on an "island" in front of the New London school.

In Beaumont, a man was fatally injured when his motor-propelled bicycle crashed as it failed to make a curve.

In Port Arthur, a bystander was killed on the sidewalk when two automobiles collided at an intersection. One of the cars was catapulted into the man.

A doctor died as he hastened on a call. Excessive speed was blamed for his car's failure to make a slight curve.

When its driver went to sleep, a car hit a concrete bridge and crashed. A passenger asleep on the back seat never knew what hit him.

A 19-year-old student, riding as a passenger, was thrown from a car as the machine left a curve, hurtled across the ditch to the left of the road, and overturned. The car landed on the student's neck, killing him instantly.

The seriously injured driver lay in the wreckage two hours before help came.

Near Henderson, a driver had his left arm hanging out the side window when a passing driver, veering close to the automobile, knocked the arm off. The man died from loss of blood, but the truck driver drove on. He didn't know what had happened.

Near Seguin, a driver and his passenger were trapped in ten feet of water when their car ran off a curve and skidded into the river. The driver freed himself and came to the surface. His friend's body was recovered.

Headon into a bunch of mules and horses traveled a car on a West Texas road, killing two mules and fracturing a rider's leg. Then the left door of the machine was thrown open and driver struck the pavement. He died there.

In South Texas, a Mexican pedestrian, caught between two lines of traffic, became confused, jumped back to avoid a car and toppled over, fracturing his skull on the pavement. He was 90 years old.

Mrs. D. P. Ross of Amarillo visited here Friday on her way to Dallas.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Speaking about old timers, When I was just a lad, I will tell you of an ox train My old Grand-daddy had. It was down in southern Texas, Just fifty years ago, That I watched him as he yoked them up, I'll say it was a show.

They were old long horn Texas steers, The biggest I've ever seen; Some were stags, both blue and black, And extra wild and mean. He had ten yokes of these old steers, He worked them on a chain; The rodeo was always on When Grand-dad hooked his train.

He rode a pinto Texas horse To help him do his stuff; With a temper just like Grand-dad had, They handled them plenty rough. His leaders were two small blue stags, Luke and Logan by name; And they could guide that big outfit By working on that chain.

He called his gentle steers by name Till they got placed around; While the wild ones stood and shook their heads And pawed up lots of ground. He'd rope a wild one by the head And tie him to the chain, And the loose ones left the score right then, He'd round them up again.

The pinto horse knew what to do When the old man left the ground; He was running his best the second jump To circle them around.

That spotted horse was quick as thought, And how he handled his feet! Good rider that the old man was, He would nearly lose his seat.

When all were hooked and in their place You should see the old man smile; He'd squall at the leaders and pop his whip, You could hear him cuss a mile. He'd ride up and down that string of steers, And they'd try to break that chain, It never bothered Grand-dad at all To use the Lord's name in vain.

I often thought about Old Paint And how he met his fate, I never rode one like him, For I was born too late. My Grand-dad died a few years back At the age of ninety-nine, If he hadn't drunk and smoked cigarettes, He'd have lived for a hell of a time. —Pecos Higgins, Pine Top, Arizona.

Surface Burial Vaults
Now Manufactured
By Local Firm

The old idea that one cannot discuss such things and the still older idea that such topics should be discussed with woe and gloom, are indeed passed away. The loving consideration of the living for those who pass on, as well as the advisability of being informed on all subjects, brings about a desire to see and handle this subject now. It is doubly interesting to people of this section when one learns that individual Mausoleums, described as "civilization's greatest advancement in burials," are now being manufactured in Clarendon. These vaults or crypts for surface burials are being made and may be inspected at the Surface Burial Vault Company plant located across the street west of Cameron Lumber Co. L. L. Wallace is the manager. The name Mausoleum, a sepulchral monument containing a receptacle for the dead, is derived from the famous tomb of Mausolus. By extension the term "Mausoleum" is used to designate any monumental sepulchre whether modern or ancient. For those who have an abhorrence of the grave, the Individual Mausoleum with its security, sanitation and beauty, has come to mean much. The Individual Mausoleum is a memorial repository for perpetual preservation—a loving tribute paid to the memory of those who are gone. These modern vaults or crypts, made of the only material known to construction engineers that improves with age, are but 38 inches in depth. No earth is placed atop. The Individual Mausoleum has a polished cast granite surface. This top cover plate remains above the level of the ground.

The walls of the Individual Mausoleum are thick, strong, reinforced to withstand the ravages of time and elements. It takes no more room than an ordinary grave. The same number of graves can be made on a lot. Within 30 minutes after the services at the cemetery the remains are taken care of forever. The marker is complete. (Adv.)

PAPA DIONNE
SUES DR. DAFOE
FOR SLANDER

NORTH BAY, Ont.—A writ charging that he had been held up to ridicule and lampooned by Dr. Allan Roy Dafeo during the physician's initiations into the Circus Saints and Sinners Club in New York was issued by the Supreme Court Tuesday in favor of Olivia Dionne, father of the quintuplets. No stated amount of damages was contained in the writ, which named Mrs. Dionne and the quintas as plaintiffs as well as Dionne.

Dafeo, who brought the five girls into the world almost five years ago and has attended them ever since, was initiated April 12 in the New York Luncheon Club, which customarily puts its prominent new members through initiation based on lampooning of their activities. He appeared in a long white apron inscribed, Doctor of Litters, and carried a satchel labeled Mass Delivery. This according to Dionne's suit, held him and his family up to ridicule. The suit was filed two weeks ago but Dionne withheld service until Tuesday because of the presentation of the quintas to King George and Queen Elizabeth. Dr. Dafeo was with the Dionnes and their famous daughters at that time. Dionne had feared that Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn of also enjoyed a fine birthday dinner. Miss Billie Whorton spent Saturday night and Sunday with Geraldine Jordan. Mrs. Walter Hutchins, Mrs. Virgil Jordan spent awhile Monday with Mrs. J. H. Helton. The Martin Quilting club met last Thursday with Mrs. Thomas at the school house. We quilted out two quilts and a delicious dinner was enjoyed by 16 members and two visitors and several children. We adjourned to meet with Mrs. Will Jordan the 8th at her.

Ontario Province would be embarrassed if the suit was revealed prior to the visit.

In Ottawa, Henri St. Jacques, Dionne's lawyer, said: "We are not after money. We want an apology." Asked if Dafeo's resignation from the club would be accepted as an apology, St. Jacques said: "I'm not prepared to answer that. We have been insulted by the affiliation with pigs and rabbits. St. Jacques said Dionne also would sue all newspapers in the State of New York which printed the picture showing Dafeo's initiation as well as three Canadian papers. He said that it had yet to be decided how much the Dionnes would sue for, but he added that it was a possibility that the suit might be settled out of court.

Chemurgy Seen To Be Key To Texas'
Growth In Future

Texas business men were urged Tuesday by Viktor H. Schoffelmayer, agricultural editor of The Dallas Morning News, to become interested in the problem of declining cotton exports, which have cost the state approximately $500,000,000 in the last five years. Speaking before the Kiwanis Club at the Hotel Adolphus in double observance of National Cotton Week and Foreign Trade Week, Mr. Schoffelmayer said lint exports will fall still further if Brazilians, Hindus, Egyptians, Turks and others continue to raise more cotton for the needs of foreign mills. "In normal years," he said, "Texas could count on exporting 4,000,000 bales, an extensive business for farmers, ginners, warehousemen and exporters, but this total has slumped to 3,000,000 and is still going down. "Our former monopoly of British, German, French and Japanese markets as to specific spinner requirements has been destroyed largely through our failure to safeguard the Texas stake in foreign trade." Mr. Schoffelmayer, who warned in 1933 that Texas was due for a lulling in world cotton trade, said the lost markets are not likely to be regained in toto because other nations can raise cotton profitably even at the world price below 10c a pound. The future of Texas, he predicted, lies in balanced farming and chemurgy, the application of science to the products of the farm and forest in the creation of new industrial articles. Newsprint, kraft paper and rayon from pine and gum trees, starch from sweet potatoes and scores of other widely-demanded industrial products can be made from Texas raw materials, he said. Once the industrial movement is established, Mr. Schoffelmayer concluded, chemurgic activities besides giving farmers new income should contribute to a substantial revival in foreign trade. Because Texas has the raw materials and seaports, Texas businessmen will be in a position to ship pulp, plastics and other products to new markets in Mexico, Central and South America, he said.

SESSION COST GREATEST EVER

AUSTIN.—This Legislature will cost more than any other session in the state's history. That became apparent Tuesday when the Senate finally passed a House bill appropriating an additional $75,000 to defray session expenses, raising the total to $750,000. There was a balance of $20,000 in the appropriation account and with $75,000 added it was $95,000. The average weekly expense of the session is around $35,000. Thus there will be about $20,000 remaining to pay the heavy printing accounts and other items at the close. All of it, and perhaps more, will be required to meet after-session bills; therefore, the $750,000 is a minimum. If the session goes three more weeks additional money will be needed and the cost will grow to some $800,000.

METHODIST CHURCH

With the prayerful cooperation of our members and friends, we purpose making the regular Sunday services of our church evangelistic through summer months. Then probably in the early fall, a pastor from another charge, will be invited to come and lead us in daily services for one, or perhaps two weeks. H. C. Gordon, pastor.

HERE FROM FT. SMITH

Hon. and Mrs. Guy Stidham of Ft. Smith, Arkansas were here over the week end visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Davis. Guy is practicing law in the big Arkansas town and doing well.

AT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

J. Perry King, Pastor

There is Always Worship Fellowship :: Service

Next Sunday promises to be unusually interesting in our church. It will be the beginning of the sixth year together as Church and pastor. We hope that all will be as interested and enthusiastic and concerned for the life of the church and the betterment of the community as five years ago when we started together. They have been happy years even under the strain of unprecedented difficulties. We hope that next Sunday will be a renewal of our opportunities, obligations and responsibilities to God and to each other. Let us make history on the next Lord's Day for his glory. We will observe the ordinance of the Lord's Supper at the close of the morning preaching service and baptism after the service in the evening. Training Union begins at 7:15, and the preaching service promptly at 8:00 o'clock in the evening. We will be happy if you are in the service. All are invited.

FIRST STEAMBOAT ON MISSISSIPPI RIVER

Nicholas J. Roosevelt built the steamer New Orleans at Pittsburgh in 1811, under an arrangement with Robert Fulton and according to Fulton's plans. This was undoubtedly the first steamboat to navigate the Mississippi. The New Orleans was of about 200 tons burden and was propelled by a stern wheel, assisted, when the wind was favorable, by sails carried on two masts. The boat was 138 feet long, 30 feet beam and its cost, including the engine, was about $40,000. The builder, with his hands, left Pittsburgh in October, 1811, and reached Louisville in 70 hours and New Orleans in 14 days. The New Orleans could steam along at ten miles an hour, and created a sensation at every landing it passed.

METHODIST CIRCUIT NOTES

J. G. Walker, P. C.

Well, Lelia Lake put on her beautiful garment Sunday. Forty-eight in attendance at Sunday school. Some others came in for preaching. Received the three waiting candidates for membership by baptism. You should have seen and been admitted to the large table loaded with good eats. All present had enough and much left over. Looks like some of the dry bones of which we had reference to sometime ago are coming to life.

Notwithstanding a ball game was launched about the time we began our afternoon services, about the same number worshiped with us. Bro. Harold Leach the Assistant County Agent of Donley County was with us and made a fine talk on Church School work. The pastor preached at 2:45 p. m. Of course our little crowd looked very small compared with the attendance at the ball game and did not make as great a noise as they, but seemed happy and acted very intelligently.

Some folks say the world is getting better. Maybe so, but there are some places that the movement has not reached yet. "I have been young and now I am old." I have never found a community yet whose citizens would stand for a ball game to be pitched just in front of a church and at the same hour services were being conducted in the church. We do not say that a ball game is wrong within itself, but the fact that it is being played on the Sabbath Day is wrong. "Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy," is God's command. Don't tell me you can play a ball game like that and be keeping it holy unto the Lord, and especially if it becomes a hindrance to the weakest servant of God. "It were better for him that a mill stone were hanged about his neck and he cast into the sea, than to thus offend one of the little ones."

Had the best services at Naylor at 8:30 p. m. that have ever had there. Next Sunday we go to Ash-tola. Meet us there. We are praying for a great day.

DAREN'T START DRY

EVEN if this is the camel that holds all records for going-without-more-drink, how long could he last if he had to start dry? Your car and your engine oil can't last either if you keep starting dry this Summer. But how can you help it?

You can't... not with any of these oils that are always in a rush to drain down to the crankcase completely.

You certainly can help it though, by getting your engine OIL-PLATED.

NEVER all down in the crankcase, no matter how long or how often you park your car, OIL-PLATING is lastingly close-knit to every inner engine surface by the action of Conoco Germ Processed oil. Patented Germ Processing creates the strong "power of attraction" that fastens non-detachable OIL-PLATING throughout your engine. Does chrome-plating drain down at a standstill? Neither does OIL-PLATING. Therefore actually in advance of starting, OIL-PLATING is ready to slide every working part into easy motion, without rasping dryness. And since OIL-PLATING doesn't fly off or fry up it helps your engine to shatter the record for going-without-more oil. That's why you want to OIL-PLATE today with Germ Processed oil, at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company

CARNIVAL MAN DONATES SUM BEFORE SHOW STARTS

Fist fights, family rackets and neighborhood gossip are all hard on the individual finances of the average individual. Before the carnival could get under way Monday, two families are alleged to have engaged in a cuss fight. One did a better job of it and was hailed before his honor, Judge W. A. Davis. There the brother departed from $17, that being the price of an abusive language charge and costs.

JUDGE DAVIS UNITES POPULAR COLORED COUPLE

Among the colored population Jim King is well known, but none the less than Lorane Minifee. They were married shortly after twelve o'clock Monday in the Judge's chambers at the courthouse. The Judge explained to the Gretna Greeners that he was no minister, but could tie a legal knot as tight as any one these days, which is generally considered to be rather loose in many instances after all.

Sam Lowry, collector of Indian artifacts and better known thereby as "Chief," spent the past several days with his grandmother, Mrs. J. W. Storey at McLean.

CAPTAIN KING WAS RANGER ORGANIZER

Force Necessary Because Indians Became Menace During War

A few days ago in the "50 Years Ago" column of the Dallas Morning News appeared the following:

"Governor Ross today appointed Capt. Rufus Y. King to be a director of the State Reformatory at Gatesville."

Capt. King was an uncle of our county Judge Rufus Y. King of Donley county, the Judge being named for the illustrious leader. For many years, Capt. King was manager of the Confederate Home at Austin. He died about twenty years ago at his home in Temple, at the age of 84 years.

At the beginning of the Civil War, the Indians of central Texas became a menace as they did in other sections of the west. Geo. W. Littlefield and Rufus Y. King got into action and organized the Terrell Rifles, a bunch of men who later became a part of the Ranger service.

Littlefield, whose benefactions are much in evidence in Austin to this day, had some military training as the "Rifles" were being organized. He gave King a few lessons and "Major" Littlefield and "Captain" King blossomed forth as full fledged commanders of a company of men who later made history for Texas.

In speaking with Judge King Monday, it was learned that a former soldier of Napoleon's army in France had given Capt. King some military lessons in his old home state of North Carolina.

Under Major Littlefield and Captain King, men outfitted themselves and drove to the west the outlaw Indians, and gathered up those opposed to war and placed them on restricted territory almost equivalent to a reservation. This was not accomplished, however, without a number of skirmishes, according to Texas history books.

Over Half Million Trees Are Planted in Donley

The shelterbelt work began with tree planting December 14, 1938 at the Marvin Warren farm near town, and the work of planting ended at the A. T. Jeffries farm April 13, of this year. W. J. Griggs, trained forester, had direct supervision of the work.

The average length of tree rows is a half mile. Total individuals accepting the plan is one hundred and two. Total trees planted out is 560,000 on 20 miles had they been planted in one row.

Fifteen men were employed during December, 54 men during January to April, and 29 are on the present force. These men worked out of Clarendon, Hedley and Lella Lake.

Varieties of trees planted: Russian olive, desert willow, mulberry, hackberry, pecan, apricot, walnut, osage orange, honey and black locust, cottonwood, Chinese elm, green ash and red cedar. While it is a bit too early to determine the percent of loss, the plantings at this time indicate that the percentage will be low due to seasonable rains at the right time of year.

The highest percent of loss is from rodents and live stock in most instances, it is said. The forest service cooperate by supplying poison grain to control rodents, and will erect fences if materials are furnished.

Cultivation is entirely up to the landowners, and unless he does a good job of keeping the shelterbelt free from weeds, a large percentage of the trees will die, and the growth of those living will be retarded.

Varieties are selected that are most suitable to the type of land. In Donley the land ranges from an upland sandy soil to subirrigated black land in the valleys. The tree plantings were made in practically all available tests suitable over the county except the high table land or plains in the northwest corner of the county.

How are YOUR RESOLUTIONS HOLDING OUT?

By this time, a lot of the resolutions that were so shining bright on New Year's Day are badly bent or broken.

Maybe your resolutions were too lofty to allow for human frailties. We'd like to suggest another resolution that is both easy and profitable to keep.

It's just this: Read the advertisements regularly.

Sounds childishly simple, doesn't it? But it makes sense when you stop to think about it.

You have a certain amount of money to spend for all the things your family needs. It's up to you to get the most out of it. And the advertising pages of this paper can help you.

Here merchants and manufacturers advertise their best values, their lowest prices. They know they can build business only by giving you satisfaction. You know you can depend upon the things they advertise. It works both ways.

Watch for "specials," for seasonal sales, for news of new foods and new conveniences. You'll learn the best time to buy winter coats or bathing suits. You'll learn prices, styles, brands. You'll shop without wasting time or steps. And you'll live a lot more comfortably.
