SEVERAL THOUSAND ACRES OF COTTON WILL HAVE TO BE REPLANTED AGAIN

Two Couples Narrowly Escape With Their Lives When Auto And Trailer Is Swept Off Pavement Between Clarendon And Lelia Lake Late Tuesday Night

Flood damage tolls are rapidly mounting as an inventory is taken of the crop loss over an area of several thousand acres between Clarendon and Lelia Lake. The heaviest damage extended from the Joe E. Johnston farm on the south to the north line of the Bertie Leathers farm on the north, and from the Antrobus hill east of town to the Gerner farm east of Lelia.

Heavy rains fell over the county but no serious damage was done except by hail near Ashtola and near Hedley. The hail loss was negligible.

Clarendonites thinking the low hanging cloud about 6 p. m. east of town might be a cyclone in the making, staid in their autos ready to make a hasty retreat. The cloud was nothing more than a cloudburst, as was later learned. Terraces were swept away. Lakes were formed in new places for the first time in years. Lister ridges were leveled and gulleys washed across fields that a few hours before showed fine crops on comparatively level ground. These good crops in most part were already the result of replanting.

The small cloud formed in the west about three p. m. with a strong southeast wind. After the rain reached Clarendon, the wind continued and rain came from most any direction until near dusk. The fall amounted to 1.3 inches in Clarendon, according to weather recorder Joe Goldston, but the fall two miles east of town is said to have been more than ten inches.

Women Carried to Safety

Returning from Memphis about 8:30, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Harve Smith. Behind the Smith car was hitched his trailer loaded with a thousand pounds of hulls. When they reached the depression on Highway 5 just west of the Thompson home near Lelia, the car was swept off the highway by the swift water and the trailer overturned. The two ladies were carried to safety by a highway crew, and the two men waded to shore. The trailer load was a total loss as a large truck pulled the car to a safe landing.

Lightning Plays Pranks

Lightning put the local power plant out of commission after it had disabled the high line. A bolt followed the wires into the transformer necessitating the bringing of a man and repairs from Childress. The trip was made through rain and high water and service restored in a short time. Out at the S. A. Pierce farm where lives the family of Clarence M. Peabody, a bolt followed the radio wire into the home doing quite a damage. A short time later, a bolt set fire to the bathroom burning the paper from one wall and the ceiling. No member of the family was injured.

High Wind Destroyed the Windmill on the Kinch Leathers farm. No other wind damage was noted except to shade trees, limbs being torn away.

Planting seed was in demand Wednesday as dozens of farmers began preparations to rush the replanting that is necessarily late in the season. Quite a number of cotton growers stated Wednesday that fine cotton crops had been produced here planted as late as the 25th of June.

Mrs. G. W. Antrobus and Mr. and Mrs. Barcus Antrobus left Monday for an extended visit on the west coast.

The government gauge showed a fall of two and sixty-five hundredths last night. The fall the day before was one and three tenths. The dam conservation system handled the flood waters perfectly, feeding the stream out according to ditch capacity. One of the Ozler dams had about 30 feet washed off the end. Other dams will need some repairs, it is said.

East of town the greatest damage was noted. The S. W. Butler home was marooned on an island for the first time since the home was built more than twenty years ago. Practically the entire acreage was under water. The auto of Bill McWhorter was left in a lake formed on the Sunnyview highway east of the Butler farm when it stalled during the rain last night.

The Peebles, Stark, Behrens, Thompson, Martin and other fields along Highway 5 are washed into deep gullies in many places. The Behrens fence is covered over with wash sand for some distance next to the highway.

Opposite the Stark farm, and for a distance of nearly a mile, the Denver track is impassable because of the grade being washed out in numbers of places. Autos and trucks are detouring around the lake formed on the Thompson place by traveling over the Denver railway grade. The going is slow and rough, but they are going just the same.

The heavy rains covered most of the county causing an erosion damage running well into thousands of dollars. Salt Fork is said to have been out of its normal banks about 2 a. m.

When the raging waters coming down Windy Valley, some five miles south of Lelia Lake, reached the windows at the Roy Darnell home, Mr. and Mrs. Darnell grabbed quilts and made for a large tree in the yard. Down in the section of Finch Bros. ranch south and southwest of Hedley, great damage is reported. The heaviest is said to be on the Dude Gentry farm where Bus Bell is in charge of farming operations, or was until the crop was buried by an avalanche of rain late Tuesday. FINDING A MARKET FOR CROPS.

There never has been a time when our farmer friends could not produce the crops if they could get a fair price for what they produced. With the rains of Tuesday, a bumper crop in old Donley is practically assured.

This problem has been met and overcome in many sections of the state by the establishment of cheese factories. Some of them have included by-products and thus enlarged the scope of their usefulness.

Isn't it about time to move up a peg and get the factory under operation before feed gathering time? A competent authority states that Donley county has some 6,000 dairy cows. This information was gained from a careful survey.

PUBLIC OPINION
A LETTER

The following is a portion of a letter received by Forrest Adamson of Hedley from his aunt, Mrs. Gibson, who was formerly Miss Maggie Adamson. She has been blind since childhood. She lives in Ft. Worth, Fort Worth, Texas May 25, 1938

Dear Forrest:
"How shall I ever let you know how glad I was to receive your graduation announcement? It makes my heart rejoice to know that you have accomplished so much. Please accept my congratulations and my sincere wishes for a happy, prosperous career. Remember that in life you never stand still, you are learning or forgetting; going forward or dropping behind; increasing in wisdom and understanding or else allowing these essentials of life to decrease with every passing year.

Forrest, you have youth and health and strength. These are wonderful qualities of life. Use them in the right way. Remember that every problem of life has its solution. Always keep in mind that there is a right way out of every difficult situation. Make life a glorious success. Keep in mind always, the good, the true, the beautiful."

A. N. Wood Thanks Those Who Wrote Him

The following letter was received Sunday from A. N. Wood of Maywood, California with a request for publication:

To all my friends, and to those who wrote me, I take this means of saying, until I am able to write, I got word from more than twenty at one time while at the hospital, and maybe you think it didn't do me good. Am having a heck of a time but trying to grin through it all, but some times it is a sickly grin. Am just beginning to sit up. As to when my side will heal, time will tell. My doctor said he never saw one that did not heal, but he could not tell how long it would take to heal. He had the same experience in 1910, and it was 10 months healing. I have a wonderful doctor and a friend on cancer and radium. In fact treating cancer is about all he does, and he has made some remarkable cures.

Well here is hoping none of you will ever be subjected to the suffering that is my lot at present. Best wishes to all and at least one big oil well for old Donley county. A. N. Wood 4414 East 55 Street

Mann Made Justice Performs Ceremony

DALLAS, June 7.—Former Secretary of State, Gerald C. Mann, candidate for attorney general, holds the unique distinction of being the only man who was ever made a justice of the peace for the sole purpose of performing a marriage ceremony.

It happened while Mann was a student at Harvard Law School. At that time he was earning his way through school by acting as pastor of the Union Congregational Church at Magnolia, Mass., a small town some thirty miles from Cambridge.

When he had held this pastorate a few weeks, two youthful members of his small flock decided to get married. Since Mann was their pastor they wanted him to perform the ceremony.

As they discussed wedding plans, Mann recalled that under the law, marriages may be solemnized only by an ordained minister or a justice of the peace. He was neither. He held a lay minister's license in the Methodist Church, but that wasn't enough. So a request for his appointment as justice of the peace was hurried off to the governor.

In due time, the appointment came through. Mr. Mann was now Justice Mann.

It had come too slowly, however, for the impatient lovers. Unable to wait until the law's slow processes were complete, they had sought another minister.

But it was due to them that the community gained a new justice of the peace—a role which Mann filled whenever called upon to do so during the remainder of time he was in that community.

TEMPLE OF TRUTH
By the Apostle

Nature has apparently smiled upon West Texas this spring in the matter of rains. Up Dalhart way, she just laughed right out, according to a man who lives in Dalhart, the edge of the Dust Bowl and middle of the grasshopper ocean. He told me that they had trained bird dogs to hunt the fire hydrants out of the weeds when an alarm was turned in to the Dalhart fire department.

Then down around Dumas we hear of the champion kidnap scare. A little boy was missed for a whole day and great crowds were out looking for him. Late in the evening his pappy waded into the front yard of weeds with a hoe and found his son asleep near the front gate. Since then they have imported grasshoppers to eat up the weeds in their yards before some little fellow is lost for good.

This morning's mail brings a lot of fat letters from candidates which they evidently expect us to publish. Half of them are fair enough and deserve some consideration only we don't have space, time or money to make a donation to them. The other half are plain liars. Their past records reek with treachery. One fellow wanting a high office took a leading part in knocking the old folks out of a lot of pension money. He's out now with soft words lining up the old folks to give him a better job. They will likely vote for him since they keep no check on their enemies. What's the use of printing anything in behalf of people who won't think for themselves. Only about 25 percent of our people keep a check on men in public office and know what to do about it when these bushwhackers again offer for office.

Down at Clyde, near Abilene where they had a cyclone a few days ago, an auto was scattered and all the occupants killed except two little tots. Jess Donald Rutledge, was swept into a ditch. He saw his brother of three months in the water and held his head up out of the water until help came. A boy with that kind of forethought at that age is worth more than a dozen of these professional politicians going over the country howling for office. All honor to the little lad who stuck to his job after his parents were killed.

Of all things! Wisconsin legislators are being petitioned to pass a law designed to prevent baby spanking in picture shows.

Along the highways of Texas appear signs: "If you drive, don't drink. If you drink, don't drive." In Oregon signs along their highways read: "Honest now, what's your hurry?"

Kidnappings might be stopped by preventing the payment of ransom money and putting a high price upon the head of the guilty party. Why should any one be allowed to award crime?

"Birds of a feather flock together," is an old saying. Of all of them, it appears that the storks use the poorest judgment at times.

Speaking of Cats: The following essay was turned in by a 10-year-old pupil: Cats and people are funny animals. Cats have four paws but only one ma. People have forefathers and only one mother. When a cat smells a rat he gets excited. So do people. Cats carry tails and a lot of people carry tales also. All cats have fur coats. Some people have fur coats and the one who don't say catty things about the ones who do have them.

Mark Twain is credited with saying that "we all talk about the weather, but nothing is done about it." That reminds us of the fact that McCraw and Thompson in the governor's race, and C. V. Terrell out for railroad commissioner, and Ralph Yarborough seeking the attorney general's place, all are giving the Lone Star Gas company "hail columbia." But nothing has been done about it to date.

"57 candidates and just as sour," is the byword down state anent the announcement of 57 candidates for the various state offices to date.

Thomas Self, candidate for governor announces that he is non-smoking, non-drinking, non-candy-eating. But some of the other 14 candidates found out he did not keep his morning to (him) Self, and that's what is going to defeat this perfectly composed gentleman of few habits.

Missionaries will find it a difficult task to explain to the Chinese just why America double-crossed the heathen. The Chinks are thinkers, not fighters.

Believe it or not, but of twenty-four people asked here as to whom they proposed to support for the governorship, 17 preferred O'Daniel, 5 Thompson, and 2 were for McCraw. They were asked the question on the street and represented both town and rural dwellers. Several volunteered the information that they "were tired of lawyers in the governor's office."

At the rate we are traveling, politicians won't have to be buried. They will be "screwed" into the ground.

Horsepower is a help to humanity, but it is political power that gets us all in bad.

Well, we're going places at that. There was a time when a man wasn't dressed-up unless he wore detachable celluloid shirt sleeve cuffs.

A tourist stopping over night Sunday had spent a week down state. He praised our wonderful climate, cool nights and refreshing sleep. We may not have as much scenery as other sections, but we have something better-climate.

We have tried about all the experiments that can be studied out, isn't it about time to trade some experiments for experience? People naturally grow tired after several years.

Great is old Donley county! When you take an inventory, sum up all the advantages of climate and water, it is hard to beat. Above all, our people are equal to any in the West and the West has the best people on Earth.

George McCleskey, law student of the State University, came home Friday to spend a short vacation with home folks.

Row Crop "70" Brings Modern Power to Modern Harvesting

Roll easily and quickly through your harvest with an Oliver Row Crop "70" pulling and driving an Oliver Grain Master Combine. It's just one more job in the busy year-around schedule of the "70", and as the lucky owner of the outfit you'll know the "70" has everything, does everything and is a beauty to operate as well as to look at. You'll discover its great economy, easy-handling and fast working speeds that get jobs done in a hurry at lowest cost.

Smooth, lively, 6-cylinder "70" power is ideal for operating small combines or similar power take-off jobs, and belt work such as driving a 22x36 thresher. The steady overlapping power of six cylinders means more effective delivered power for such work. Power take-off and belt pulley speeds depend directly on engine speed, and are independent of tractor travel. Finger-tip control of all operations, from the comfortable driver's seat, and automotive steering mean easier driving, time-saving operation. The Oliver Variable Speed Governor Control enables you to use only the fuel needed for the work.

Oliver builds the "70" in two fuel types for maximum fuel economy—the "70" HC with high compression engine for gasoline, and the "70" KD with engine designed for kerosene or distillate. Pick your fuel and your "70". Get modern low-cost tractor power. See us today about a demonstration.

Children to Receive Free Balloon Gifts Friday

With the announcement in today's issue of the Leader introducing "Reddy Kilowatt", Chas. Lowry, local manager of the West Texas Utilities Company, made this explanation of the new addition to the company's staff:

"For a number of years, we've been seeking some way in which electric service could be pictured to the public. Practically everyone knows about electricity. But to many persons it is a mysterious force which they believe comes out of the sky. In fact, however, it must be generated at a high voltage, then subdued and more or less served on a platter in homes and business where it may be safely used at a mere turn of a switch.

"In Reddy Kilowatt we believe we have a figure which illustrates electric service in an unmistakable manner—one which immediately suggests electric service."

In order to help acquaint WTU customers with "Reddy", Mr. Lowry said that free balloons bearing Reddy's picture and small pasteboard cutout figures of the little fellow will be presented to all children, accompanied by an adult, who visit the local office Friday.

"We preferred a character such as Reddy Kilowatt because we regard our service as friendly and helpful," Mr. Lowry declared. "We felt that our sentiments could best be expressed by a real, lifelike electric servant. That's how Reddy came into being. He typifies modern electric service as it is available in every home."

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Eanes Jr. visited in the Travis Lawson home in Amarillo Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Blair had business in Amarillo Monday.

Agent Issues Another Plea In Fight Against Hopper Infestation

With wet weather seriously hampering the grasshopper fight in Donley County, County Agent H. M. Breedlove this week again appealed to farmers and ranchers to vigorously continue the war against infestation.

Recent rains have washed much of the poison off the mixture already spread and an additional amount is probably needed, the agent said.

Over 10,000 pounds have been spread by the state highway department and the Fort Worth and Denver railroad in cooperation with the Donley County Agent's office. Of this amount, the highway department has used over 3,500 pounds in two trips from the county lines.

Here's Good Health, Governor!

AUSTIN, Texas.—The milk route to good health was recommended by the Governor and the State Health Officer of Texas as Governor James V. Allred (right) issued a proclamation designating June 9 to July 6 as Milk and Dairy Products Month. "Here's good health," the Governor was saluted by Dr. George W. Cox, who added: "Good, clean, safe milk is the nearest-perfect of all foods."

NEW FORD PLANT WILL MAKE TIRE IN RECORD TIME

A new tire plant in which Henry Ford expects to produce a finished automobile tire within four hours from the time crude rubber arrives from the East Indies, is now in operation in suburban Dearborn.

E. F. Wait, plant manager, said that the same process in many tire factories now requires a week.

Automatic handling of materials in the 5-million-dollar plant which spreads over four and a half acres is credited for the speed.

With the exception of rubber, Wait said, all ingredients are weighed or measured automatically and fed into the production process at the proper time. Production is routed straight from the hold of the rubber-carrying freighters to the tire delivery truck. Materials are elevated or pumped to the top floor and fed down thru the processing machinery. Twelve mixers, 100 yards long and forty feet high, face a row of twenty pressure mills, each mounting two rollers eighty-four inches long and twenty six inches in diameter. Pressures run as high as 300,000 pounds.

The plant now produces about 4,000 tires for each eight-hour shift. Wait said that when fully completed, the factory will produce 6,000 tires each eight hours.

Altho none of the raw materials are coming from there now, the company ultimately expects to obtain the bulk of its crude supplies from Ford South American plantations.

A BIG MAN FOR A BIG JOB

The governor of Texas should be a big man, in every sense of the word—mature, experienced, able, honest, courageous.

Because Colonel Ernest Thompson meets all of these requirements and is, in this newspaper's opinion, the best qualified man in the race for governor, we are supporting his candidacy.

In the nearby East Texas oil field Ernest Thompson has been severely tested, and has not been found wanting.

As a member of the Railroad Commission, Thompson first proved his courage when he fought for the principle of proration through more than two thousand court battles. With oil selling at 10 cents a barrel and the giant industry in chaos, but with probably 90 per cent of the people of East Texas antagonistic to the commissioner's policy, the red-headed scrapper from West Texas stuck to his guns.

And he has lived to receive, in a few short years, the commendation of a vast majority of straight-thinking people who came to scoff but remained to praise him for his vision and his courage in stabilizing one of the State's most vital industries.

It was this same able and hardy spirit which carried the Railroad Commissioner to Washington and inspired his leadership of a successful fight to stave off Federal Control of Texas oil and maintain the sovereignty of the Lone Star State.

Ernest Thompson will be a good governor. He knows Texas—and loves Texas. Throughout a busy life he has gained intimate knowledge of the many problems of this great State.—Morris County News.

At least 25 purebred calves will be shown this year, according to County Agent H. M. Breedlove, director of 4-H Club work in Donley County.

4-H boys now feeding calves are Johnny Leathers, Floyd, Jack and Leland Lewis, Doyle Martin, Darrell Bailey, Jelly McGowan, W. R. Peggram, Jr., Allen Hardin, Herschell Brinson and Harley Longan.

FRIEND OF PRESIDENT

Regardless of what you may think of the present Democratic administration, one fact must be faced by the voters in the July primary: "Do you want to throw away all chances for this district securing, during the next two years, the things which are absolutely necessary for a continued recovery of this fine section?" Those who want to see this section reclaimed and restored to the fine country that we know it can be will vote for Marvin Jones. Those who wish to express their dislike for the administration and tell Washington to go to hell and let the people flounder their own way out of a difficult situation of course will vote against Mr. Jones. We do not believe there are enough foolish people in this district to defeat Mr. Jones. The administration will continue supreme in Washington until 1940. Marvin Jones is a friend of the President and a friend of the people of this district. To throw away the friendship of both the President and Marvin Jones during these distressing times would be the most foolish thing that any people could do. Confidently we expect to see Marvin Jones carry every county in the district by an overwhelming majority, regardless of whoever is in the campaign against him.—Canon News.

TWO COWS PER FARM

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Texas Breeder-Feeder Association

"A PENNY SAVED—"

Says the adage, "is a penny earned." Thinking of that thrifty principle in terms of the farm, making the crop is not completed until it is saved. It is saved only when it has been either safely stored for future use, or consumed by livestock and transformed into a saleable product. Tons of meat and milk, eggs and wool are produced on some farms merely by "saving" grass, weeds and crop residues which go to waste on neighboring farms for lack of the animals or fowls to utilize them when available.

At this season of the year the Southwest is often threatened with drouth, corn begins to "burn up" and its failure is indicated. Since the introduction of the trench silo it is quite possible to avoid a total loss by cutting the corn and storing it in the trench before it dries up. That is not merely a penny saved and earned, but dollars on dollars, for the ensilage will keep indefinitely and can be turned into cash through livestock whenever you are ready. If rainy weather interferes with curing hay it need not be lost. Put it in a trench silo, which can be dug in a few hours, or at most a few days. You can't lose it then; it cannot burn up, blow away or deteriorate from weather.

There is nothing mysterious or complicated about ensiling a crop. A few simple rules must be observed. Green crops with a reasonable sugar content need nothing but close packing to exclude the air, either cut or ensiled in the whole stalk. Other crops, such as alfalfa and other non-saccharine forage crops, require some cheap molasses to start fermentation. The size and shape of the trench, how to fill it and treat each crop, and how to insure its keeping, can be learned from your county agent or your neighbor who has had silo experience.

A few cross fences, either temporary or permanent, are indispensable to the full utilization of what grows on the farm. Grass, either in field or pasture, and crop residues have no market value on the ground, and usually will not pay for the harvesting unless the livestock do the work. It is poor business to lose this potential cash return, whether for lack of livestock to use it or for lack of fencing so they can use it.

An Arkansas authority says an acre of good grass has made up to 400 pounds of beef, and the steer did the work. Few acres will make so much, but every day's good grazing represents a pound of beef or butterfat; to "save" it means the animal must be on the ground when the grazing is ready. Like some factories, the value of by-products saved on the farm often means the only profit in the manufacture of the main product.

A Pennsylvania Dutchman lives well and gets rich by saving what we in the Southwest too often waste—the straw, grass and manure. None of them can be sold in the market place as such, but what a difference they make when saved and used on the farm where they are! The difference between success and failure, profit and loss.

A penny saved is still a penny earned, no matter what form it takes.

The sermon lesson for this Lords day will be, "The Lords day." Is the Lords day the Sabbath? Or is the Sabbath the Lords Day? Many have mistaken ideas about the Lord day; how to keep it; why to keep it and what it is. The First day of the week is the only full day that we are commanded to keep and give wholly to his service. Is it too much to give just one day out of seven to his service? Every Christian should hear this lesson discussed.

"IN OLD CHICAGO'S" STARS

STIRRING "IN OLD CHICAGO" ROLE GAVE ALICE FAYE HER REAL BREAK

Mr. and Mrs. Leamon Wallace and children visited in Dallas over the week end.

RISE TO DRAMATIC PEAK MARKED BY COMBINATION OF HARD WORK AND LUCK

For a long time Alice Faye wished she could get a chance to sing and dance in the movies. Then for a long time she wished she hadn't had the chance. Now, with her appearance in "In Old Chicago" she feels that she's achieved the happy medium; she dances and she sings but her role is essentially dramatic. When Alice was a little kid in New York, all her ambitions centered around the stage. If only she could get a chance in a musical show, she felt, she'd be on her way up the ladder. To prepare herself for her chosen career she studied dancing, and after about a year of it, at the age of fourteen, she got a job in the chorus line of a Chester Hale unit.

Studied Singing
She saw that it took more than a knowledge of dance routines to get a girl ahead; accordingly she studied singing, on the theory, which she herself has demonstrated, that every added talent helps.

At first, aside from training her voice, the singing lessons didn't seem to help much; Alice was still tagged as a dancer. She left the Chester Hale unit for a job as a specialty dancer at the Hollywood Restaurant, and, in the same capacity she signed on for an edition of George White's "Scandals."

One reason, perhaps, why the singing lessons didn't help Alice rise was shy about singing. Usually when a producer would ask if she could sing she'd mean to say "yes," but the answer would come out "No." However, one night during the New York run of that year's "Scandals," Alice attended a party. And at the party was a voice recording machine. Everybody sang into it, Alice among them, and then when the records were played back her rendition of "Mimi" won the prize. Everyone urged her to stop hiding her light under a bushel, but one friend, a more astute psychologist than the others, decided that the best way to help Alice was secretly. He stole the record and took it up to Rudy Valee. The maestro heard the song, took out his little note book, wrote in it, and promised that Alice would hear from him later.

Scandals Audition
The "Scandals" closed, and Alice set about looking for a new job. She'd forgotten all about the record, and so when she got a call for an audition from the Rudy Valee office, she was completely frustrated and bewildered.

The audition was a success, and Alice found herself the featured woman singer with Valee and his Connecticut Yankees. She toured and broadcast with the band, and, naturally, when the whole outfit was signed by Hollywood to make a movie version of "Scandals," Alice went along. She was going to sing one song, and maybe do a little dance.

It didn't work out quite that way; the rushes of Alice singing and dancing were so splendid that she was given the lead in the picture. And she did so well that, practically before she knew it, she was signing a long-term contract. As musical succeeded musical,

Alice wished more and more that she'd never learned a tap routine never sung a note.

Actress Now

And now in "In Old Chicago," the most important picture ever produced at the 20th Century-Fox studios, Alice comes into her own as an actress. She sings, it is true but the studio cast her because she was an actress who could sing, not because she was a singer who could act.

Other members of the cast of this picture opening at the Pastime Theatre Sunday, June 19 are Tyrone Power, Don Ameche, Alice Brady, Andy Devine, Tom Brown, Phyllis Brooks, Sidney Blackmer and Brian Donlevy.

There is Always Worship Fellowship :: Service

Where are you going, is a question casually asked by friends almost every day. That is not an idle question if we would answer it seriously and in the light of present day trends. A young man was asked that question one day as he went out hopeful and respectable, with a high head, proud walk and pocket full of money into a far country. Oh, said he, I am going to have a good time. I am going to break with the home ties, the church, the old fashioned idea of religion and explore new fields of thought, leaving God out. After living riotously for a while, he found himself penniless, homeless, friendless, breadless, and jobless; destitute of all that makes for manhood and happy living. One day a friend found him in the hog pen eating with the hogs and said, where are you going? He said I'm going back home, where God, good friends and gladness abide. Any path that leads away from the home, the church and God, leads to stark loneliness, gnawing hunger, want and destitution; the hog pen. Where are you going? Oh, I'm not going to church. I'm not going to Sunday School, I'm not going to Prayer meeting. I'm going into a far country. Yes, and you will be coming back one day more helpless than when you went out. Don't fail God. Don't fail your home. Don't go back on your church.

The Baptist Church will be happy to minister in the regular services Sunday to all who come.

Build Rock Garden At Home Of Baptist Pastor

The beautiful rock garden at the Baptist parsonage is largely due to the efforts of the pastor, Rev. J. Perry King, aided by Mrs. King and son John Burton King.

The collection includes freak rocks, minerals and fossils of several types. The collection represents a wide area, most of them stones from various sections of Texas. A multiple of colors and shapes is represented.

A visit with the rocks discloses a tourist trip through the realms of geology from the cretaceous to the pleistocene. The fossils, mostly invertebrate, are cretaceous and glauconite. The collection represents time, trouble and expense, but is well worth the consideration of any one interested in nature's queer products of a workhouse little understood. The collection, carefully selected, is one of the most interesting in West Texas.

GRASS ON AMARILLO STREET MONDAY

You have probably heard the prediction that if so-and-so is not, or is done, grass will be found growing on the street. A lot of grass was seen on the corner of Folk and 4th streets, Amarillo, Monday. When the grass was first discovered, one party laid it to the fact that one of the local papers had run a beer ad. Upon closer inspection, it was found to be only a load of hay dumped on the street after the truck carrying it collided with an auto. The hay was garnered by the trucker, (not Tully), and all parties separated evidently satisfied.

"In Old Chicago" Comes To Pastime Next Sunday

One of the most talked of motion pictures of the year will be shown at the pastime for three days, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, June 19, 20, 21. This picture brings out the highest degree of skill in the production of Chicago's great fire of 1892, the reflection of which is said to have been seen as far south as Alabama. Events leading up to the fire, the actual holocaust pictured in all its horrors, the thrills and drama of a love affair mixed in with the picture makes of it one of the most thrilling yet to be offered the public. You will appreciate "In Old Chicago."
