17 "Magnet" States Named In New Survey

In its thirteenth annual computerized study of migration patterns, Allied Van Lines, Inc. reported that 17 states were designated "Magnet" states in 1980. The results of the survey were based on the more than 183,000 domestic interstate household goods shipments which Allied serviced during the past year.

The world's largest household goods mover indicated that a "Magnet" state is so designated if a minimum of 55 percent of its total Allied relocation activity consists of household moves into the state.

As in the past, the Southeast, Southwest and Pacific coast continued to reflect the largest proportion of inbound movement, while the populous Northeastern industrial states and Central region experienced the largest proportion of outbound shipments. The New England region continues to reflect a relative balance between inbound and outbound movement, as opposed to its predominantly inbound activity in the past.

Hawaii was the nation's leading 1980 "Magnet" state for the seventh year. Arizona was again second in terms of inbound movement in 1980, followed closely by Alaska and Washington. The remaining "Magnet" states were: Arkansas, California, Colorado, the District of Columbia, Florida, Georgia, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire, Oregon, South Carolina, Texas, and Vermont.

South Dakota, North Dakota, and New York recorded the largest proportion of outbound migration in 1980. Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Maryland, Michigan, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin also showed net declines.

A total of 19 states reflected an approximate balance between inbound and outbound relocation activity. Once again, Californians were the most mobile in terms of sheer numbers, with Texas second in 1980. Florida topped New York and Illinois as the third most mobile state.

In 1980, Alabama lost its "Magnet" state status, while Colorado and New Hampshire became new "Magnet" states.

Daze of our lives

By JEAN BURCHETT

Don't tell me that television doesn't work havoc with young people's minds. The things I see there effect mine and I'm supposed to have developed my ideas in concrete by now.

Take last night. Hubby and I were sitting in our kitchen eating the Colonel's secret recipe and it was so quiet you could hear the clock tick. It scares Hubby for me to be quiet so he said, "What're you thinking?"

I didn't answer right away because I was thinking about a show I had seen in the morning where some people aired fantasies that I wouldn't have whispered to my mother in the dark. It had left me feeling unimaginative. The only fantasy that has stayed with me through the years is the desire to actually say two words effectively used in a Shakespearean play; Alas, and Hark! Not only was that fantasy mundane, can you imagine telling an old Texas boy that?

"Aw nothing," I said. "Nothing is always something in your mind," he probed.

"C'mon." "Have you ever had fantasies?"

"Sure," he buttered a roll, "everybody does."

"What do you think a fantasy is?"

"Some nutty thing you've always wanted to do that you never will."

"Some people on the Phil Donahue show said that it was healthy to carry out your fantasy. Why, I wouldn't even tell YOU mine, and it's fairly decent."

Not only did I have his attention, curiosity flat paced across his forehead. His glasses slid down his nose a bit, he lowered the chicken leg and said offhandedly, "I'm your husband. You can tell ME anything."

Isn't that sweet? However... Oh, what the heck! I threw caution to the wind, pushed food aside and slid across the table on my elbows. My eyes grew misty. "Alas," I said softly.

His jaw dropped. I once saw that expression on my brother's face when he backed into an electric fence. "Huh?" he said. "Alas," I repeated. He started cramming chicken bones and napkins and plastic spoons into the red and white box. "Whatsa matter with you?" he said.

"Hark!" I yelled. "Hark! Hark!" Oh, it was great. I collapsed with laughter. "That's my fantasy," I spluttered. "Now, tell me yours."

"I've seen you do dumb things," he said angrily. "But that is the dumbest..."

He jumped from his chair, slapped the box into the trash and I thought he was going to flounce from the room. But he jerked the cabinet door open, got out one of my best glasses and hurled it twenty feet into the fireplace. SMASH! Glass flew from A to izzard.

"Are you out of your head!" I screamed. "Breaking dishes? A $12.00 glass? You've gone bonkers."

"My fantasy," he sighed smugly, "has always been to break an honest-to-gosh glass in the fireplace. My pleasure, Mamm."

"Why couldn't it have been a jelly glass? Now, I only have service for seven!"

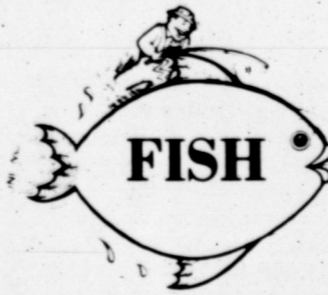

His reply capped it off. He leered at me and softly said, "Alas..."

Phil Donahue, you owe me twelve bucks.

TALES

BY KATIE DVORAK

The Mooring Brothers Baby Fish Sitters has won a state wide trophy, a red lollipop, for raising more walleye fingerlings than the state hatchery! The walleye eggs deposited in the minnow tank at Mooring Bait and Tackle at Greenbelt Lake had an astonishing hatch rate compared to a much lower percentage at the Inland Fisheries Hatchery. These eggs came from the same batch of milked walleye, so it can be supposed that the success goes to the tender loving care the eggs received here.

The fingerlings were dumped with a little fan fare, the clanking of the bucket, into the mild waters of Greenbelt on Monday. We can all hope that they will live to a ripe old age, or at least get trophy size so some of you can catch one in three years from now.

We owe Joe Kraai and the inland Fisheries crew from Canyon, Cotton Bownds and James Park and Ben Bagwell, a debt of thanks for this project. We are indeed fortunate to have such a good crew work on the lake and to care about our fishing enough to help with the earlier bass pond project and now to give us some of our own eggs to hatch and dump back into the lake. Thanks goes to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department every time you catch a fish, hunt a quail or enjoy a state park.

DRUG QUIZ

Any erroneous reflection upon the character of any person or firm appearing in these columns will be gladly and promptly corrected upon being brought to the attention of the management.

Dr. Ken Martin began his duties as the new Dean of Instruction in January and is excited about his association with the College. Dr. Martin comes to Clarendon from Texas Wesleyan College in Fort Worth and brings a solid background in higher education administration to the school. He says there is a vast pool of un-tapped potential in Clarendon College and feels honored to be chosen as a part of its well-established team. Dr. Martin and his wife Dana have three children and all seem excited about becoming settled and established in Clarendon. We will all want to give him and his family welcome and encouragement. We're sure he will be a valuable asset to the school.

Another unique program initiated this spring is a class to train laborers for the railroad. This twenty hour curriculum is now a requirement for employment on the track crews and serves as a prime example of how our college is helping the community by providing training for gainful employment.

Another record enrollment has been logged for this spring semester. A total of 874 students are taking classes in Clarendon, Pampa, Wellington, Shamrock, Valley, and Childress. This figure represents a whopping 11% increase over Spring 1980.

Be sure to come and enjoy the Spring Drama Production

Congratulations: We think it appropriate to give special notice to two Clarendon Alums. Mr. Bill Sarpalas is now a state senator from our 30th district. Also, Mr. Ken Henry, another notable has been among the top ten bull-riders in the nation for the last four years. Coach Mark Nixon was honored by being named Coach of the Year by his peers; and Coach Joe Mondragon took his girls basketball team to Regional.

Now, about the graduating classes of 1931 and 1956: These classes have been chosen for special recognition this year. You'll want to be sure and give them your support with your attendance.

The Art Department has expanded to include photography; first semester class had an enrollment of 12 and second semester enrollment jumped to 27. Mr. Edwards is in hopes of publishing a monthly magazine for the college through a class structure being set up for photography, journalism, and commercial art students. This class will be offered next fall. A duplicating machine that can reproduce photographs is needed for this class. Cost and availability for a machine are being looked into at the present.

Graduates of the Automotive school are being well received throughout the work area. Job offers are made in many instances before the student graduates, and salaries are excellent.

The seminar was sponsored by the National Association of County Agricultural Agents and the Chicago Mercantile Exchange. Gooch and fifty other Extension agents from around the country worked with a number of national experts on livestock marketing strategies that will protect prices and reduce risks for individual cattlemen.

The agents were exposed to exactly how and why a commodity futures exchange operates as it does. Several speakers pointed out how cattlemen have been able to protect cattle prices each year by hedging a portion of their herds through futures contracts offered on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange. The speakers emphasized that far too many cattlemen failed to take advantage of the profit guarantees afforded by the C.M.E.'s heavily traded live cattle contract.

Gooch participated in a hedging workshop where examples of risk-reduction and profit-protection were applied to the day-to-day realities facing the livestock industry. Because the purpose and mechanics of futures markets are so widely misunderstood by the very producers who stand to gain the most from them, the agents learned in detail how the functions of hedging and speculating are linked to benefit informed cattlemen.

Senator Bill Sarpalius Reports

AUSTIN — Grain is very important to the people in our district. We grow more grain in the Panhandle and the South Plains than in just about any area of the state.

Everything that is impor-dispute from time to time. Grain, and particularly the quality of grain, is no different.

Every dispute needs a referee. That's why we passed a bill to license grain samplers.

There have been too many disputes between buyers and sellers of grain about the quality of the grain. Generally the grain is sold out of an elevator to, for example, a feedlot. The better the grain, the higher the price it brings.

The buyer and the seller agree on a price for grain of a certain quality. So what happens if, after the grain is delivered, the buyer and the seller disagree about the quality of the grain? It may be too late then to take another sample. The grain may have been shipped overseas; it may be seed grain, or it may have been consumed by that time.

Those who deal in grain know that it is possible to take different samples from the same shipment of grain. The quality of those samples may vary widely. So who wins?

Under our bill to license grain samplers, there would be more than just the word of one interested party against the word of another interested party. This bill will license and bond grain samplers to provide a means to decide on the quality of grain from objective standards. Certainly many organizations will soon employ at least one licensed grain sampler, though this bill is not mandatory.

But we think the licensed grain sampler will be a form of insurance for the buyer and a point of pride for the seller. The number of disputes about the quality of grain should be few, and the requirement that the sampler be bonded will provide an incentive for his careful performance.

Training and testing for the grain samplers will be under the direction of the Commissioner of Agriculture. It should be short and to the point. The Commissioner will work out the details of the program.

We know the importance of grain to our economic base. That's why we want your opinion. Please send your opinion to Senator Bill Sarpalius, P. O. Box 12068, Austin, Texas 78711.

Mrs. C.W. Bennett Jr., of San Angelo, spent last week visiting her brother and wife, the Bill Weatherly's, and her sister, Mrs. Lesley Foxhall, of Memphis.

RUBY THOMPSON and LOVIE Taylor helped their mother, Mrs. LIZZIE Wood to celebrate her 88th birthday at the Medical Center Nursing Home.

Margaret Wood celebrates 88th

Margaret E. (Lizzie) Wood celebrated her 88th birthday April 4. The few days before, she had not been feeling very well, so we had a quick planned private celebration in her room.

To help her celebrate were: Ira Stavenhagen, her room-mate; two of her daughters, Lovie Taylor and Ruby Thompson; two of her grand daughters, Nancy Taylor and Debby Shields; and one of her great grand daughters, Traci Shields. Because she prefers Dr. Pepper rather than punch; it was served along with cake and ice cream. She said, "I didn't even think about today being my birthday."

Some pictures were taken as a "memo" of the event. The picture shown is Louie Taylor and Ruby Thompson with Lizzie. One of her gifts was the bedspread on her bed in her room. She was very happy to have her family around her.

She was asked if she had a good birthday, she said, "I sure have had a good birthday."

Xi Lambda Xi Met

The Xi Lambda Xi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met April 13 in the home of Genella Eads.

The meeting was called to order by President Betty Veach with the opening Ritual. Roll call and minutes were read by Genella Eads.

The Ritual of Jewels was given for the following pledges: Katie Dvorak, Maurine Butts, Donna Edwards, Ann Harper, Janie Finch, Priscilla Greene, Pat McCombs and Barbara Morrow. We welcome these ladies as new members into our chapter and feel they will be a great asset to our chapter.

All members have new badges for their pins. A big thanks goes to Donna Mann, Sandra Mooring and Geneva Summers for making the new badges.

Correspondence was read from the State Convention which will be in June at McAllen, TX.

Peggy Anderson read from the Golden Moments.

The "Girl of the Year" award was voted on secret ballot. The results will be known on April 30th at the Founders Day Banquet which will be in the home of Genella Eads. Our program was presented by Genella Eads, Beth Walker, Susan Hanson, Maurine Butts and Katie Dvorak. The program was a readers theatre "Back When Things Was Real" written by Katie Dvorak. It was about things that had happened in Clarendon. It was very interesting and informative.

The raffle was won by Maurine Butts.

All joined hands for the closing ritual and mespash. Refreshments of finger sandwiches, fresh vegetables with dip, fresh fruits with poppy seed deep and punch were enjoyed by all. Maurine Butts served as co-hostess.

Members present were: Francis Johnson, Peggy Anderson, Susan Henson, Gloria Gage, Frankie Henson, Donna Mann, Betty Veach, Charlene Mayes, Genella Eads, Sandra Mooring, Beth Walker and all new members mentioned above and one guest Donna (Eslack) Allen from Hart, TX.

The next meeting will be in the home of Frankie Henson, April 27th.

Tax rebates made to cities

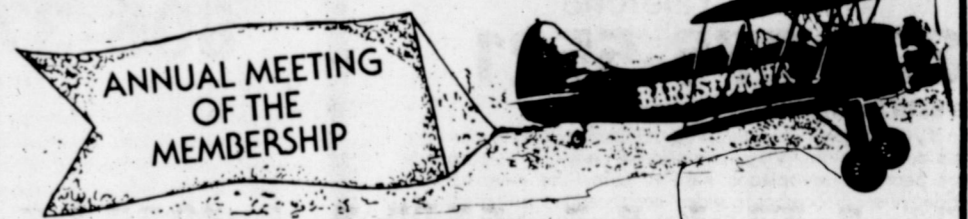

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said total rebates this calendar year to Texas cities reached $180.0 million, about 14 percent more than cities took in during the first four months last year.

State law allows Bullock to withhold check from the state to persons indebted to the state. Money is withheld if Texas cities owe the state, until the debt is paid. Regular audits are conducted.

Clarendon, Memphis, Wheeler, Wellington and other area cities are still above the 1980 figure for this date.

Local Supper guest of Mr. & Mrs. Lloyd Molder Tuesday night were Mr. & Mrs. Ed Mobley of Amarillo, Chester & Gladys Southard of Vina, California, Mr. & Mrs. Gary Mays, Wayne and Logan, Mr. & Mrs. Mike Garrison, Bryan, Jennifer and Bethany, Kay, Diane and Elaine McDaniels all of Clarendon.

LAND OWNERS

Appraisal of all real estate in Donley County is being done for the Donley Appraisal District. Land will be described by use category and productive capacity from existing records to reach estimated market value.

However, there is no generally available information as to boundary lines of specific tracts within a section or survey of rural land. If you own parts of sections or surveys, please come by the Appraisal Office in the Northwest corner of the Court House Annex and draw in the boundary lines on the county map so that we can have the most accurate record of ownership location for your and our benefit. Most acreage owners will receive a plat questionnaire in the mail which can be mailed or brought to the Appraisal Office but the best way is for you to draw on our map.

Please come by soon!

Thank You
It is such a great feeling to live in a community where your friends and neighbors demonstrate time after time that you are not alone in your time of trouble and sorrow, and that they do really care.
People who have never experienced this feeling have never really lived. A mere thank you seems terribly inadequate for all the food, flowers, prayers and other acts of kindness during the passing of our loved one. Our prayer is that God will bless you every day for your Christian acts, and they will never be forgotten by our families.

FEATS ON

By KATE DVORAK

Local Eat and Run Stewed Prune Spitting Contest has gone past us and we didn't even tell you about it. Well, here is the Prairie Dog Beans recipe to help you forget your disappointment. In fact, the Texas Aggies will be eating this dish at their Muster next week!

Prairie Dog Pinto Beans
1 lb pinto beans
3 qts. water
1/2 lb salt pork, cut up
1 med onion chopped
1 clove garlic, minced
1 6 oz. can tomato paste
1 tsp salt
1/2 tsp sugar
1 tsp cumin seed
1/2 tsp marjoram

We missed one of the best treats in Texas, sometime about now in Poteet, Texas is the Strawberry Festival. There is a parade, a fiddler's contest and a chili cook-off. But here is a delicious Strawberry shortcake recipe you can prepare at home and pretend that you are the Poteet Strawberry Queen at your own festival.

STRAWBERRY SHORT CAKE

1/4 C shortening
1 1/2 C sugar
3 beaten egg yolks
2 1/4 C sifted flour
1/2 tsp salt
3 1/2 tsp baking powder
3/4 C cold water
1/4 C crushed strawberries
1 tsp almond extract
3 egg whites, stiffly beaten
1 C whipping cream, sweetened (or Dream Whip or Cool Whip)
2 TBS powdered sugar
2 pints fresh strawberries sweetened with
1/2 C powdered sugar

Cream shortening and sugar, add yolks, beat well. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with water, crushed strawberries and almond extract and a few drops of red food coloring if you desire. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in 2 waxed paper lined 9" round cake pans at 350 F for 20 min. Cool and put together with a layer of whipped, sweetened cream and a layer of sliced, sugared strawberries. Top with more cream and garnish top and sides with whole berries.

Poteet Strawberry Pyramid
1 C sugar
1 C heavy cream
2 C sour cream
1 pint whole strawberries (fresh or frozen) raspberries (fresh or frozen) powdered sugar
shiny decorative fresh leaves

Combine sugar and heavy cream, gently combine this mix with sour cream. Chill until thickened. Arrange decorative leaves in a circle on serving plate. Put about 1/2 C of cream in center and begin arranging strawberries around edges and in center of cream. Add more cream and more strawberries on top of first layer and continue to build into tapering tower. When ready to serve, drizzle mashed, sweetened raspberries over top of chilled strawberry pyramid. Dust with powdered sugar.

Another fun filled event we may have missed is the Prairie Dog Chili Cook-off at Trader's Village in Grand Prairie. The World Championship Pickled Quail Egg Eating Contest and the Cuzin' Homer Page Invitat-

(You can probably substitute lamb or loin roast for this recipe).

Add oleo to a Dutch oven. Fry meat until brown. Add all the vegetables and let saute 5 minutes. Add wine and mushroom juice. Cover the pot and let simmer until meat is tender and add any liquid needed. Add flour to make a gravy. Add the onion and parsley, mushrooms and enough water to make a gravy. Cook 5 minutes and pour over the meat and serve with white rice.

When Men Tried But Failed

BY WAYNE NAYLOR

When God made His plan known to save the world and to work that plan as soon as the Religious LEADERS found out it did not coincide with their plan they began the effort to stop Him. They insulted Jesus; tried to arrest Him but were afraid because of the crowds following; tried to mob Him and push Him off a cliff and hurl stones upon Him until death would come, but... "He conducted Himself out of their midst saying 'It is not yet my time to die.'" Continuing their abuse upon there was no group finding more "woes" pronounced upon them than these Scribes and Pharisees about whom He said, "Except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the Scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the final commitment of Jesus to drink the cup in the garden. Then His swordsmen were rebuked, an ear was restored, they took Him who had at

His back and call Ten million angels and the awful wrath of His Father, had they not chosen the route of spilled blood to save us from our sins. His closest followers thought it was all over and though many had vowed to die with Him they had gone and Peter denied Him three times. They said of Him we... "thought He would save Israel." It was His plan, but not as men had it planned for Him. Many became despondent and went back to their old livelihoods thinking that men have defeated the Son of God. Had they only read and believed the prophecy of the Old Covenant they would have found those items predicted being fulfilled one by one and that man had not won any victory, but that this also was a fulfillment of all the teachings of the sacrifices of the Old Testament.

guards, a great stone over the door and seals on the door and men seemed to have the battle against the plan of God and His Son won. As we wait and the women who were closest to Him went out to anoint His body their greatest problem was getting someone to take off the seals and move the stone. As they approached an angel of the Lord announced in front of the tomb where the stone had already rolled away, "He is not here; for He is risen," and they found the tomb empty. They tried to prevent His coming forth, but He came forth anyhow victorious over the grave for Himself and those who believe in Him.

Men had tried. They had failed. Jesus had triumphed over their efforts and also all those of Satan. He won that kind of victory for Himself and all who believe in Him and Trust Him as their Savior.

But our Savior was still in the grave guarded by Roman

BOOK WORM

The Library dance and branding party last Saturday night is now history. But what a wonderful success it was. The proceeds, which will be used for furnishings came to a grand total of $3930.

Willard Skelton did a fine job as auctioneer assisted by Walt Knorpp and Jerry Courtney. The branding board which was prepared and presided over by Wayne Riggs was branded by 63 people. Wayne was assisted with the branding chores by Jack Moreman. Bunny Owens did the art work on the brand register for the middle of the display.

Our thanks and appreciation to the many people who donated food, art work on the invitations, flowers, decorations and their time. Also a very special thanks to the people who provided the auction parties and other items. Dr. and Jane Gilkey offered their vacation home for a 3 day weekend. The hayride will be hosted by the Douglas Sheltons, the Lee Palmers, the Jerrell Martins, and the Stina Cains. Vera Lewis, Jo Baldwin and Jean Chamberlain are giving the brunch. The dinner for six will be prepared by Betty, Bobby and Jenks Boston. The oil painting was donated by Mary Martin. James Ivey Edwards gave the Library both a bronze and a water color for the auction.

In the food department cheeses were given by Bylow's Foods, Gibsons provided dip and chips and paper goods and Charles Market donated several hundred pounds of ice. Thanks go to these businesses for their help in this community effort.

This is expected to be the last benefit the Library plans for sometime to come. Moving day will be in a few weeks pending the arrival of the new shelving.

Several new books were given to our Library by Panhandle Planned Parenthood, North Plains Association for Children with Learning Disabilities, Junior League of Amarillo, Amarillo Child Care 76, Golden Spread Assoc. for Education of Young Children, and Region XVI Education Service Center.

Books were donated to all area Libraries, purchased with proceeds from a lecture given by Dr. Lendon Smith. The books are: "Improving Your Child's Behavior Chemistry" by Lendon Smith, "The First Three Years of Life" by Burton L. White and "My Moms Having a Baby", by Elaine Evans Rushnell. We appreciate this donation to better inform parents about the needs of young children.

Those Crazy Episcopalians

Did you ever see one of their funerals? brrr!

Some say an Episcopal funeral is cold. It's short, simple, and taken straight from the Prayer Book. Never maudlin. The casket remains unopened. It's covered with a pall, so you don't know if it cost a hundred dollars or a thousand. And there is no eulogy for the dead.

Episcopalians, though, say the funeral service affords one of the strong reasons for their faith in the Church, because it's conducted as much for the living as for the dead.

In such a context, eulogies seem hardly apropos. After all, we're all children of God and equal in His sight. How important, really, is the fact that "the departed" was highly regarded by his fellow man? It seems pretty insignificant compared to God's loving promise of eternal salvation.

Like its funeral service, the Episcopal Church is conducted for living people. Afterwards, it's between you and God.

At St. John the Baptist Episcopal Church, 3rd and Park St., we have room for anybody. During Lent, (the 40 days before Easter) services and a meditation will be held at 5:00 p.m. every Wednesday. This would be a great time to meet the Vicar, the Rev. J.Scott Turner and ask that burning question you've always wanted to.

YOU and the LAW

PRESENTED BY THE STATE BAR OF TEXAS

Q: My neighbor grows hedge and honeysuckle on his side of our common fence. I planted running roses which I can't even see because of his hedge and vines. The fence belongs to me, but I don't want to cause hard feelings. What is the law on this problem?

A: If your neighbor's activities interfere with the condition of your property, or with your use of the property, it may be shown that he has created a private nuisance. You could bring suit under this theory. The case would focus on the extent and duration of his interference with use of your property.

Q: I'm renting an apartment on a month-to-month basis but I signed no rental agreement. The landlord now says he is going to raise the rent. Can he do this, and how much advance notice am I entitled to have?

A: The nature of a month-to-month rental agreement is that it renews itself each month on exactly the same terms as the preceding month. Either you or your landlord may terminate the lease upon one month's notice. You are entitled to a month's notice of a rent increase. If he does give this notice, you can either pay the increased rent or tell the Q: On the 15th day of the month I signed a deed for my house. My husband and I both signed it. We have not yet received the proceeds. Can he sell the house and keep my share of the proceeds?

A: Since the Deed bears both your names, the property will remain one-half yours. Your husband will not be able to sell the home without your joining in the sale. Actually, most real estate agents will not even list community property for sale unless both spouses sign the listing contract. During separation and divorce, community property continues to belong equally to both, and even during your absence, your interest cannot be disposed of.

Send your questions to "You and the Law," State Bar of Texas, P.O. Box 12487, Austin, 78711. Answers may appear in columns in hypothetical terms; personal answers not possible.

More Efficient Range Management Can Add Billions to State Income

By Robert L. Hancy
TAES Science Writer

Better rangeland management can add billions of dollars to Texas' income in this decade, according to range scientists with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and specialists with the Extension Service.

Texas' range and pasture lands currently support about 15 percent of the total mature beef cows, 20 percent of the total sheep numbers and all of the Angora goats in the U.S., says Joseph Schuster, Head of Range Science with the Experiment Station and Texas A&M University.

To get a better perspective of this, consider that cash receipts from livestock sales in Texas represented 61 percent of total agricultural sales in 1979. Sales of cattle and calves alone represented 80 percent of the 6,100 million dollars in cash receipts for livestock producers in the State. Our 90 million acres of rangeland represents 23 percent of the total U.S. inventory of non-federal rangeland.

In addition, cattle production is estimated to have stimulated an additional 12,500 million dollars in agribusiness activities in Texas. That's an estimated 17,400 million dollars of total economic activity in Texas which resulted from cattle production.

Other livestock added an estimated 4,160 million dollars to economic activity for the State making an impressive total of over 21,500 million dollars fed into the State economy in one year.

So our range and pasture lands represent a renewable natural resource that contributes billions of dollars to the State every year. It's no wonder that so many people are concerned with preserving and improving this source of wealth.

Major objectives of range research have been to maintain and increase range forage production up to its full potential, to develop more efficient ways of harvesting range forages, and to develop ranch management practices that would increase income.

Major problems include range forage reduction as a result of noxious weed and brush invasion, inefficiency in the harvest of range forages, and complex managerial decisions required for efficiently organizing a ranch.

Most of the forage needs of beef cows, sheep and goats must come from rangelands and the relative importance of this resource is expected to increase because of 1) rapidly increasing energy costs, 2) potential shifts by consumers to leaner beef which will require increased forage inputs, 3) urbanization demands for agricultural land, and 4) increased demand for water and recreational opportunities originating from rangelands.

Control of brush is one of the most obvious ways to increase forage production since an estimated 82 percent of our rangelands have undesirable woody species on them that reduce forage production.

Brush control research has led to the development of both herbicides and mechanical treatments which proved effective. It's estimated that about 1.5 million acres were treated annually between 1956 and 1977.

Rising costs of treatments have increased the urgency of developing even more efficient systems. Current brush research is designed to discover new alternatives and control systems using combinations of fire, herbicide, mechanical, and biological methods.

The most serious brush problem in Texas is mesquite which infests about 55 million acres of which 50 to 60 percent has a moderate to dense canopy.

The potential increase in beef production from even partial mesquite control is estimated to be in a range of 68 to 136 million pounds of beef per year, worth (depending on price) from 156 to 415 million dollars per year.

Not included in this estimate are the acres controlled by other brush species — the mixed brush complex, oak complex, pricklypear, whitebrush, and others (which also represent serious problems to ranchers).

Grazing management represents one of the most basic range improvement tools available to ranch managers. Grazing management strategies have resulted in increased livestock production in Texas.

It's estimated that beef production increases resulting from brush control and grazing management research, range from 144 million to 297 million pounds of beef per year.

Additional benefits include increased water yields, reduced soil sediment losses, increased wool and mohair production as well as significant increases in long-term range condition.

Potential annual economic impact resulting from grazing management and brush control research can be expected to average about 600 million dollars per year, with a range of 358 million dollars per year to 916 million dollars per year, depending upon economic conditions and adoption rate by producers.

"Range improvement practices will be sought that allow the manager to increase his efficiency of livestock performance, increase water yield, and reduce chances of possible pollution from range watersheds," Schuster concluded.

Know The Arthritis Warning Signals

It's America's number one crippler. It affects more than 31 million Americans, and every 33 seconds someone else becomes a victim. The disease: arthritis.

Arthritis literally means "inflammation of a joint" and is the name for close to 100 different conditions that cause swelling, aches and pains in the joints and connective tissues throughout the body, according to Dr. Frederic C. McDuffie, senior vice-president for medical affairs for the Arthritis Foundation.

Arthritis can and does occur at all ages, from infancy on. It usually does not occur suddenly, however. It's a progressive disease, and there are warning signs that let you know it's developing.

The Arthritis Foundation provides this list of warning signals:

- Persistent pain and stiffness on arising.

- Pain, tenderness or swelling in one or more joints.

- Recurrence of these symptoms, especially when they involve more than one joint.

- Recurrent or persistent pain and stiffness in the neck, lower back, knees and other joints.

Grasshopper Counts Indicate Treatment Maybe Necessary

AUSTIN — Grasshopper populations in some areas of the Texas Panhandle may reach levels which will require pesticide treatment according to recent field surveys, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has reported.

"Although the results from our fall-adult grasshopper survey in North Texas tell us where high infestations may reach dangerous levels, only our spring count will determine whether pesticide treatment will actually be necessary," said Brown.

"Keeping aware of current counts is very critical," continued Brown. "We'll be watching them closely."

In heavy infestations, grasshoppers can decimate rangelands, Brown noted.

In 1979, the Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA) treated approximately 1.5 million acres and in 1980, sprayed just over 1 million acres.

"Last year we got very good control with aerial treatment using malathion at 8 oz. per acre," said Brown. "We reached upwards of 95 percent control in the target area and this year we have had no reason to go back."

TDA's grasshopper control program is on a cost-sharing basis where each of the participants pays one-third of the treatment cost; the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the individual landowner and TDA.

HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION AND AG USE VALUE FOR SCHOOL TAXES

The Clarendon C.I.S.D. hereby announces that all persons are entitled to receive an exemption of $5,000 from the market value of their residence homestead for the purpose of school taxes. In addition, all persons who are 65 or older or under a disability for purposes of payment of disability benefits under Federal Old-Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance are also entitled to an additional exemption of $10,000 from the market value of their residence homesteads for the purpose of school taxes. Also all persons owning land that is currently devoted principally to agricultural use for at least five (5) of the preceding seven (7) years may file an application of agriculture land use. The application classifies the value of land considering the agricultural use to which the land is principally devoted and the average annual net income derived from its use.

To qualify for these exemptions, an application must be filed with the school district tax office by April 30, 1981. Application forms are available at the School Tax Office.

Mullin- the name for Ford service & parts

For the most reliable service and parts for Ford tractors and accessories ask about Mullin Motor Company in Turkey.

Mullin has spent the last 30 years in business there and business is good.

Customers from Memphis, Clarendon, Wellington, Roaring Springs, Tulla, Floydada, Paducah and Spur are regulars for parts and service. Not only have these customers been coming for many years, but some of them are buying parts for the same machinery they have had for many years. What better representation for a product than the fact it lasts and keeps performing! And what better recommendation for a dealer than one who keeps parts for ALL Ford farm machinery.

The persons who comprise the personnel for this "Ford only" business are J.T. Mullin, who is the owner; Rod Mullin, General Manager who has been with the firm 10 years; Ray Mullin, Service Manager, 11 years with the business; Bill Green, service with five years credit with Mullin Motor Co. and Frances Mullin, Bookkeeper and a veteran for 25 years with the company.

With impressive experience, dependable service and the part you need for your Fords the customer knows the place to do business is Mullin Motor Company, in Turkey, Texas. Needs parts or Ford service call 1-423-1002.

L. to R.: Rod Mullin, J.T. Mullin, Bill Green and Ray Mullin.

FACTS & FIGURES

Americans are fast becoming expert conservers of energy. Comparing 1980 consumption to 1979, Americans used 6.5% less gasoline and 11.4% less heating oil.

That's important, because 38% of the oil the U.S. uses comes from overseas. This is a problem because America will depend on gas and oil for most of its energy for the rest of this century. Alternate energy sources hold great promise, and Gulf Oil is actively involved in several of them. But they won't be commercially viable for many years. That's why the first priority of Gulf Oil Corporation is the discovery and development of oil and natural gas resources within the United States.

Most geologists believe the Great Lakes were once river valleys enlarged by glaciers during the Ice Age.
