Pastor Succumbs At Canyon Home

CANYON, Feb. 23.—The Rev. Franklin Trig Chariton, pioneer Panhandle Presbyterian minister and one time pastor of the Clarendon Church, died at his home here Monday night.

Funeral services were held in Canyon Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. The Rev. Robert S. McKee officiated from Clarendon.

The 52-year-old preacher was well known and beloved by all members of the ministry in the Panhandle. Retiring about five years ago, Rev. Chariton refused to become inactive in his work. He maintained until the last his great religious interest and preached in the church here.

A resident of Texas many years, he came to this state from his home state, Tennessee, where he was born December 7, 1885 in Laverne.

During the period he was a general missionary in the Panhandle territory, he established many churches, which today stand as tribute to his unceasing work and faith in this country.

During his life he preached in the pulpits of churches in Clarendon, Dalhart and Quanah.

He had lived in Canyon for the past 10 years after leaving Clarendon. His wife died several years ago in Canyon.

Survivors include a son, Gordon T. Chariton of San Antonio; two daughters, Mrs. James M. Wise, Amarillo and Miss Agnes Chariton, instructor at West Texas State College here; and three sisters, Mrs. Jennie Foster and Mrs. May Merrett of Lebanon, Tennessee and Miss Juliet Chariton of Nashville, Tennessee.

Hopper Plague To Be Severe In '38

College Station Expert Says Infestation Will Be 10 Per Cent Here

Donley County is listed for 10 per cent grasshopper infestation this summer from estimates by College Station experts which show a 1938 plague even greater than last year.

Saying the pests will return in even greater numbers than they massed last summer, R. R. Reppert, Texas A&M College entomologist believes major attacks can be expected in the upper Panhandle and North Central Texas.

Reppert based his estimates on surveys made the past Fall in cooperation with federal entomologists and county agents. Scientists know they can expect severe hopper infestation the following summer if they find as many as eight egg pods a square foot along ditches or fence rows or two pods a square foot in exposed areas. The pods may contain as many as 75 eggs.

The Federal Government recently made plans to purchase $2,000,000 for purchase of poison bait material.

Percent of infestation in counties near Donley include Dallam, 100; Hartley, 100; Deaf Smith, 33; Potter, 45; Randall, 47; Armstrong, 17; Childress, 25; Hall, 16; Gray, 20; Wheeler, 17.

Farm Aerial Maps of County Received in Donley

Aerial maps of Donley County have arrived and will be used for measuring land for the 1938 farm program, according to county agent H. M. Breedlove. The purpose of the maps is to determine the total acres in the farms.

Community committeemen will also have a small amount of measuring, although maps will reduce the amount of chain measuring done in the past years. The maps are very accurate and will reduce the amount of the administrative expense of the program. Plotting of the fields will probably start as soon as instructions are received from the state office.

Instructions and information on the 1938 farm program have not arrived but this information is expected in the near future.

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 23.—

The agricultural adjustment act of 1938, recently passed by congress, is designed to provide an all-round national farm program which will help farmers and protect consumers of the nation, according to information received by George Slaughter, chairman of the Texas agricultural conservation committee which has headquarters at Texas A&M college.

Principal provisions of the program are summarized as follows:

SOIL CONSERVATION—the new program will continue and supplement the agricultural conservation programs in effect for the past two years under the soil conservation and domestic allotment act of 1936.

FIVE CROPS—Specific provisions are made for five crops, cotton, wheat, corn, tobacco and rice. Texas has a big interest in all of these except tobacco. The program is to provide for producing adequate supplies each year for domestic consumption, exports and ample reserves.

EVER-NORMAL GRANARY—Provisions of the act designed to maintain supplies at specified levels are expected to bring about substantial increases in reserves, particularly in the case of corn and wheat.

LOANS—The act directs loans be made to corn, cotton and wheat producers under certain conditions, and authorizes loans on other agricultural commodities at the discretion of the secretary of agriculture and the president. The loans are to be made by the Commodity Credit Corporation. It is not known at this time if these loans will be available outside the commercial corn belt.

ACREAGE ALLOTMENTS, and QUOTAS—Acreage and commodity allotments will be made for each of the five crops. If a crop is so large that supplies reach high levels, a marketing quota will be effective. Two-thirds of the farmers, voting in a referendum of producers of the commodity, must approve the quota, however. A marketing quota for cotton only is in prospect for 1938.

EFFECT FOR CONSUMERS—Agricultural adjustment administration officials believe consumers will be amply protected by the reserve provisions of the act. The wheat supplies provided are intended to assure ample wheat at all times for the nation's bread supply, exports and reserves. The corn supplies are expected to have a stabilizing influence upon the supplies of meat.

CROP INSURANCE—The act provides for crop insurance for wheat. The 1939 wheat crop will be the first to be insured.

OTHER PROGRAMS—Other parts of the national farm program will be continued under existing legislation. The range program, a part of the agricultural conservation program, will be virtually the same as in past years. Marketing agreements among fruit and vegetables and dairy producers will be continued, as will the purchase of surpluses by the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation for relief distribution and for the purpose of relieving temporary surpluses of perishable crops.

Natural Gas Company Gets Injunction in Dallas

DALLAS, Feb. 23.—Attempts of the Texas railroad commission to exercise original jurisdiction in investigation and reduction of gas rates in 200 Texas towns and cities were temporarily ended today when District Judge Jack Thornton granted an injunction against the railroad commission and eight of its employees.

The injunction restrained the commission from asserting and exercising jurisdiction and power over the books, records, rates and businesses of the plaintiffs, the Community Natural Gas company and the Texas Cities Gas company in the 200 towns in which these companies operate.

The plaintiffs contended the commission had attempted to exercise original jurisdiction in rate regulation in all cities where the plaintiffs operate, and that original jurisdiction in rate inquiries was vested solely in the incorporated cities and towns involved.

The restraining order will be in effect pending a show cause hearing set by Judge Thornton for March 14th.

CLUB NOTES

The proposition of attending the Zone Meeting at McLean this evening was again presented, and six lions and their wives, with three entertainers will represent the Clarendon Club.

Chairman Watson, of the Civic Improvements and Highways Committee and committeeman Chase gave some interesting information concerning the need of highways and the necessity of working to secure them. In this connection, announcement was made of the coming meeting of the 88-18 Highway Association Friday, 2:30 p. m., at the City Hall.

After facing the flag and singing America, the Club recessed to meet at the bedside of Lion Bartlett at the Hospital.

At Adair Hospital Lion Bartlett answered to the Roll Call and the Meeting adjourned.

Mayor W. H. Patrick said yesterday the court order restraining the Texas Railroad Commission from setting rates in 200 Texas towns supplied by the Community Natural Gas Company would probably have no bearing on the local gas rate controversy. Patrick based his belief on the fact that the Clarendon case had been pending since 1933.

ALLRED DEFENDS SCHOOL INTERESTS.

Governor Allred is in Washington appearing before the House Judiciary Committee to oppose a congressional resolution which might lead to federal claims to submerged oil lands along the Texas gulf coast. The Governor was requested to represent the school interests of Texas by H. L. Mills, chairman of the permanent school land committee, and the State Board of Education.

In the meantime, the oil land leasing investigation continues in Austin where the state land commissioner is alleged to have practically given away valuable oil land leases to the detriment of the state school fund. Attorney General McCraw has been drawn into the investigation, a committee seeking to learn more about McCraw's bank account in Dallas. The committee has allegedly been refused access to the records in question, by the bank.

Commenting upon the matter, Senator Holbrook, chairman of the senate investigating committee stated, "We want it known that we will go anywhere the public interest takes us."

We talk about the great spread between what the farmer gets for his farm products, livestock and dairy products, and the cost of the finished product to the consumer. We talk further about the high price of things the farmer has to buy, and we add that the question of distribution in America has not yet, by any means, been settled.

One reason it has not been settled can be found in our high and constant mounting taxes. Taxation adds a great deal to the cost of living and takes away from the farmer. It is estimated that federal, state and local taxes now consume about a quarter of the income. The farmer gets it in the neck harder than any other citizen unless it be the stockman. He is affected by the high cost of the things he buys and the strangled market for the things he sells. Then when the assessor comes around, he can't hide his holdings and gets stuck for the full amount causing him to pay more than his share of the taxes.

PANHANDLE GETS MOISTURE.

Right at this time, the Panhandle of Texas has the best season that she has had for several years. Wheat prospects in the main are fine. There is plenty of moisture to begin preparing land for the spring planting. Above all, the farmer's morale has been greatly helped. With the aid of the cow, sow and hen, our rural friends in old Donley are going places this season.

WITH OUR EXCHANGES

Where Cost Comes In.

The postal department continues to blame the deficit of their department upon the newspapers which are carried at a loss. The facts are that if government employees were to pay postage instead of using the frank, the deficit would be greatly reduced. Every day the mail box of The News, and every other newspaper in the land is filled with government junk which is sent out free of charge. If each department was forced to pay postage on its mailings, more care would be exercised in the amount of stuff mailed, and the value of the material which was enclosed in the postage free envelopes.

Poll Tax Law Repeat.

Annual passing of the deadline date for poll tax payments after which, for a whole year, one has no way of qualifying to become a legal voter in Texas is a reminder that this archaic law should be repealed. In its place should be substituted a simple registration law that would serve to prevent fraudulent voting.

Thousands of Texas' best citizens are disfranchised every year for lack of $1.75, or disinclination to pay a penalty for the right to vote, a privilege supposedly guaranteed under the federal constitution. And all because an ancient state law (which was no doubt justified when instituted and has long since served its purpose) prevents all otherwise qualified citizens from exercising the legal privilege of voting.

Most of these are poor men and women, whose voices in state and county and city affairs should be heard.—Wheeler Times.

A Thin Argument.

When someone tries to tell you that the big city merchant can sell cheaper than merchants in the smaller towns because the city merchant buys in so much larger quantities, ask him this: "How much higher are his taxes? How much greater is the cost of his light and heat? How much more expensive is his clerk hire? How much more costly is his advertising space in the big city papers than space in the smaller-town paper that serves your local merchant? How much more insurance must he carry because he carries a larger stock? And finally, who has to pay all this added cost in the long run?" If you've been believing that old stuff about "buying in larger quantities," forget it. Answer the above questions for yourself and you'll understand why the small-town merchant does not have to knock under to such sales argument as that, regardless of what section of the country he is doing business in.—Bowie News.

Duty and Devotion.

There is no happiness like that drawn from the golden rhythm of the laughter of the children God gave us. There is no finer contentment than comes from sunshine of youth that lights the home. That joy, that whispering out of paradise, that soothing satisfaction of the heart at eventide, arises from the promise of safety through peace for our loved ones. Measure your devotion for your boy and give as a full measure of services to his protection against WAR.

He makes his rounds in all kinds of weather. No matter what happens, "the mail must go through." How many of us really appreciate the mail carriers?

Old Man History must be getting pretty old, also brain weary. He repeats himself so often these days.

If you still are thinking of the big thing done yesterday, you have done darn little today.

In Europe, governments can change overnight. When a fellow goes to bed, he doesn't know where he will wake up—Europe, Asia or Africa.

And have you seen the new sox. The kind with the garters attached. Well sir, they are sold right here in this town. Except for being accused of being partial to any one merchant, his name would appear right here. The sox are great and the garter idea is something that should have been worked out long ago.

"Often a bridesmaid but never a bride." You guessed wrong. She has cold feet this time.

An Amarillo news reporter

* TEMPLE OF TRUTH *
* By the Apostle *

Snowdrifts are but doormats in nature's gymnasium. And ain't they great!

Back in the alleged prohibition days, a lady collector of antiques entered an Amarillo store and inquired of a clerk "if he knew where she could find a what-not." The young man smiled and instructed her to step into the alley, go three blocks north and whistle two longs and one short into the crack of a double door.

"As welcome as the mail carrier!" There is a lot to that saying.

thinks a steam shovel is an enlarged percolator with a long handle.

Don't enter homes when no one is at home. A family recently absent from Clarendon for several days, left one door unlocked. Inside that door a shotgun trap had been left to give a burglar what he had coming. Don't pay the part of a burglar innocently.

Despite the fact that our women complain about the runners in these silk stockings coming from Japan, nothing is being done about it. The Japs need the business, and the sooner you need another pair of hose, the more money the Jap can spend for ammunition to shoot at the Chinese.

It is usually just the "sap" who boasts of his family tree.

It's a great life if you don't week-end.

Demands made upon the modern barn is that it have a dance floor, orchestra annex, stalls for several autos and a cafe.

Had you ever noticed, (and of course you have) that when a man active for a whole lifetime moves to town and lets down, he never lives very long? He is used to living an active life and his physical being demands at least some of that old-time labor that he has been putting out for years and years. The same thing applies to any animal, I suppose. For instance, the Ft. Worth fire department retired a big white horse in 1907 that had been one of three to pull the chemical wagon. For some time they allowed that horse to go to the fires "on his own" and that horse knew from the alarm just where the fire was just as well as the firemen. Finally, as the horse became a menace to the people congregating at the fires, he was left in his stall when the fire whistle blew. As a result, that big fine, white horse died of a broken heart within a few months. Men who quit, or are forced off active work as they grow old, may not die of a broken heart, but they die very soon just the same.

Some unique if not humorous things happen to a newspaper man. Some time ago a fellow made some bad news. Since he was making the news, we printed it just as he made it. Next day after the Leader was printed, a postal was received from this fellow. It read: "I don't like the way you treated me. You did not spell the name of the man I hit right. If I am a subscriber stop the paper." He never had been a subscriber, but his wife was and is to this date without any complaint from her.

After all, it may be easier to endure criticism than praise.

This is the era when publishers receive mimeographed copy from state candidates asking for gobs of free space.

Inventor Jim Heckman is working on an auto accessory that will make auto lights blue up to 30 miles an hour, white at 50, red at 65 and it plays "Nearer My God to Thee" at 70.

The snow the past week afforded Pampa papas an opportunity to show their offspring how to make a snow man. One fellow made a snow man, placed a pipe in his mouth and to make it more realistic, placed a shovel in his hands. When he returned home that evening, he thought it best to put his shovel away lest a thief get it. When he walked out to his snow man, imagine his surprise to find a WPA check fastened to the shovel handle.

One can be inconsistent and always sincere, or one can always be consistent with the help of hypocrisy.

The "thin veneer of civilization" that has separated us from barbarism in the past, appears to be growing thinner the past few months. Have you made a mental picture of the fellow you want to shoot at "over there"?

A woman is a person who can do something to hurt your masculine pride, and yet make you feel like a brute for not liking it.

Have you read the book, "Durn Donegals Doomed" by Wells? No, not H. G. or Caveth, it's written by Deck.

The Old Apostle clipped off another milestone a few days ago. Cards and letters from several states and various publishers and writers remembering the date from last year. Sox, shirts and ties and other personal necessities from relatives and others. Thanks a lot. If we could combine an individual's birthday feeling with the glad-handing of a politician, this would be a great old world.

Yours for more "long-handle" weather with moisture in any form.

* MIDWAY *
* Mrs. John Goldston *

It has been a white Midway for the past few days. Cold, but every thing has been beautiful, all covered with snow and when the sun shines everything glitters, being covered with icicles. Farmers are glad to get the moisture.

The Midway younger set enjoyed Monday, in the snow, having invited their going out from town; all spent the afternoon sleigh riding.

A number of Midwayists have been and are on the sick list. Mrs. Pierce, Mrs. Pickering, Mrs. Holland and Miss Minne Naylor are now convalescing from illness.

Mr. Jess Cornell after being sick a week was taken to a Dallas hospital last Saturday.

Calvan Holland was out of school the past week on account of illness. Mrs. Carl Naylor is also on the sick list.

Thanks to those that inquired about the absence of the Midway news the past week. Glad to know that it was missed.

Mrs. Hefner has been suffering from a fall on the ice last week. However she improved enough to visit her grand baby who has been sick for the last few days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Naylor, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Eanes, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Naylor, went to Memphis Monday eve to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Gene Chamberlain and the new son, John Eugene.

The grandparents, the John Chamberlain family and the John Goldston family, visited the new grandson Sunday in the Mr. and Mrs. Gene Chamberlain home.

Alfred Ray Pierce and William Johnson visited with Calvan Holland Sunday.

Mrs. Pierce returned home from Lefors Sunday.

The Porter Arnold family visited in the Hefner home Monday and the Scotts were guest on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Beach of Plainview and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gather of Amarillo spent the week end in the Pat Longan home.

Mr. and Mrs. Beach purchased them a new Plymouth car while here over the week end.

Jack Beach and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Longan went to Wichita Falls Sunday to visit the Nelce Robinson family for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Headlee of Borger were guest in the Garland home over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Matheson of Lella Lake visited with Mr. and Mrs. Garland Wednesday.

The Misses Hardins visited with Mrs. Donald Harlan Monday afternoon.

A letter from the Jimmie Millsap family former teacher of Midway, says they are all fine, having moved to their new home near the school where he is teaching; also that the ball teams of which Mr. Millsap is coach had won every game they had played.

The Naylor Birthday Club met in the home of Misses Minnie and Eva Naylor for the Feb. meeting, with these ladies as hostesses. A delicious dinner was served, after which the club held a business meeting. Pres. Mrs. Pickering being absent, Miss Minnie Naylor acted as Pres.; Mrs. Chamberlain, Secretary.

Round table letters were written by the club members to Mrs. Pickering and Mrs. Gene Chamberlain whom were ill.

Mrs. Quattlebaum is to be hostess for the March meeting.

Mrs. J. S. Baker and children are visiting her parents in Colorado for a few weeks.

* EXOTIC RITUALS *
* By H. V. Crumley *

The Jews, as a nation, believe that the Old Testament and its rites, commands are still binding and that they are unchangeable and that God shall never give another law other than that law that he gave to Moses. This accounts for the strange rites performed at the burial of their dead and all their religious ceremonies. The burial of their dead is performed like unto this:

As a person is dying they salute him. To be present and perform

THAT'S WHAT I CALL A FRIEND

One whose grip is a little tighter,
One whose smile is a little brighter,
One whose deeds are a little whiter
That's what I call a friend.
One who's the same today as to-morrow,
One who will share your joy—and sorrow,
That's what I call a friend.
One whose thoughts are a little clearer,
One whose mind is a little keener,
One who avoids those things that are meaner,
That's what I call a friend.
One, when you're gone, who'll miss you badly,
One who'll welcome you back again gladly,
One who, though angered, will not speak madly,
That's what I call a friend.
One who is always willing to aid you,
One whose advice has always paid you,
One who defended when others flayed you,
That's what I call a friend.
One who has been fine when life seemed rotten,
One whose ideals you have not forgotten,
One who has given you more than he's gotten,
That's what I call a friend!
—John Burroughs.

Panhandle Museum Is Big Attraction From Outside Texas

CANYON, Feb. 23.—Registered visitors at the museum of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society on the campus of West Texas State College numbered 27,536 last year.

This brings the total since April 24, 1934 to more than 125,000 persons, who have come from all of the states and from most of the countries of the world. Visitors recently have been from as far away as London, Dublin, Old Mexico, Alaska, and several South American countries.

States represented during the last year included Oklahoma, Arizona, Utah, Kansas, Colorado, New Mexico, Washington, Oregon, New York, Louisiana, California, Georgia, Missouri, Nebraska, Arkansas, Illinois, Washington, D. C., Indiana, Alabama, Maine, Michigan, Montana, Massachusetts, North Dakota, Mississippi, Wyoming, Virginia, Maryland, Tennessee, Iowa, North Carolina, South Carolina, South Dakota, Idaho, Wisconsin, Kentucky, Florida, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Minnesota.

Many of the exhibits housed in the museum are the most complete of record. These include both archaeological and paleontological specimens. Through excavations conducted by Prof. C. Stuart Johnston and WPA projects directed by Mrs. Johnston, together with gifts and exchanges, the museum's collections of paleontological finds are as complete as any in the country relating to ancient life on the plains, despite the fact that many institutions preceded the Historical Society in this work.

Art objects also attract many visitors.

CASTOR OIL—SYMBOL OF CHANGING TIMES

Forty years ago the rural district provided no grander treat for the childish mind than the drug store with all its interesting items and its pleasant odors. It was grander still if the proprietor happened to have a liking for children, for then he would reveal secrets of his business that were most impressive. It was interesting to watch him at work with his mortar and pestle as he pulverized some of the ingredients for his prescription. It was interesting to watch him as he deftly wrapped the powders in their white jackets. They were always so neat and compact.

The smells were different, too—more individualized—in the old days. Today, in your modern drug store, the aroma is a thing of many parts. It is subtle. Try as you will, it is difficult to decide just what smell is dominant. Really, it is a matter of location. One corner may suggest magazines, fresh from the press. The soap section has an individuality, but the blended fragrance fades out just a few feet farther to become lost altogether in the clean, sanitary smell of the rubber section. The drug store fountain contributes its luscious cocoa syrup blend to the not unpleasant odor ensemble.

But times have changed, and for the better. The chemists have done a wonderful job for humanity, even with castor oil. It now comes in seven flavors—strawberry, raspberry, orange, lemon—or are we thinking of something else? At any rate the fluids have been air-conditioned and steam-lined and they have put sugar-coatings on the pills which contain the same old ingredients.

Who of the older generation cannot recall the bitter doses the old practitioners concocted in their own laboratories. Usually, after taking one dose the patient was obsessed with an inordinate desire to get well immediately. The medicine usually did the trick, but it was tough going. Few of the doses could be taken without a preliminary bracing for the shock. A severe spasm was the conventional ritual before and after swallowing. The younger physicians made a hit when they introduced their brand of milder liquid doses, but the older practitioners retained their prestige. They had loyal supporters too, and many a white-haired patient will testify that while their medicine smelled awful and tasted worse, it certainly accomplished results.

NEWSVERTISING

(Sooner State, Okla. Press) What is advertising? One form of salesmanship. Purpose? To sell. Who pays for it? John and Mary Public say they do, indirectly.

Solomon Isaac Business Man says he knows too well that he pays for advertising. But I say the customer does not pay an advertising bill if the advertising is effective, efficiently done, run in the right medium at the right time, and is, in every other respect, right.

For when greater demand for goods is created by advertising, more goods can be manufactured in larger quantities, and shelves restocked at less cost per unit of production per item of merchandise, in consequence of that created demand, either at less cost or with more quality at the same cost—which amounts to the same thing. There you have the theory of mass production and quantity buying packed together in a pecan shell.

Yes, the merchant is sure he pays the advertising cost. But I say he does not, for the larger the volume of business the retailer can do, the less his percentage is but one of many items. No more light, no more heat, no more of several other overhead items required for $110,000 turnover than for $100,000.

Well, if the customer doesn't pay and the merchant doesn't pay for advertising—then, who does pay for it?

Why, bless your souls! The truth of the matter is that effective advertising is self-supporting, self-liquidating. Nobody pays for good advertising, unless, if we must find someone to pay for it, I guess it comes pretty near being the non-advertising merchant who pays—and pays and pays—whose overhead goes up as his sales volume goes down—he and the non-reading customer who buys blind, fails to read the ads and in consequence, gets stuck with inferior, non-advertised goods at higher prices than he needs pay.

And there you have one answer to the old, old question: Who pays for effective advertising, in the final analysis? Not the buyer of advertised goods, not the merchant who sells the goods and uses the advertising space, but the non-advertiser who fails to get the business and the non-reading public.

Clarendon Judging Teams To Compete In Miami

The local F. F. A. poultry and livestock judging teams will participate in the Miami judging contests Saturday, February 26, J. R. Gillham stated today.

Beatty Hillman, Joe Williams, and Homer Speed will represent Clarendon in the poultry contest. These boys have won the last three contests in which they have been entered and hope to place high in this contest.

Carl Morris, Jr. Spier, Johnny Leathers, Odell Davis, Russell Morris, George Moore, Pete Morrow, Harice Green, and Maschil Cole, all first year students are working out for the livestock team. None of these boys have ever participated in a judging contest other than acting as alternates in the Claude contest. A livestock team will probably be entered in the Amarillo contest, but the judging of entries in the pig division will conflict with the contest, and the majority of the boys working out for the team are showing pigs in the show.

Myrna Loy and Franchot Tone in "Man-Proof"

Myrna Loy, Tone, and Rosalind Russell Score in "Man-Proof" Romantic Comedy

In today's mad race of modernity, the marital "triangle" has been pushed into limbo and in its place rises the matrimonial "rectangle" in the fast stepping comedy-drama, "Man-Proof," presented at the Pastime Theatre, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

With Myrna Loy, forming the quartet of principals, are Franchot Tone, Rosalind Russell and Walter Pidgeon.

Miss Loy is a young artist disillusioned in love. Miss Russell is a wealthy socialite. Franchot Tone is a newspaper cartoonist and Walter Pidgeon is a social climber.

Miss Loy loves Pidgeon, but he marries Miss Russell. Tone loves Miss Loy, but he keeps it to himself. Miss Loy is determined to separate the newlyweds and marry Pidgeon herself. While they are away on their honeymoon, she temporarily forgets Pidgeon and remains "wedded" only to her art. Tone, idolizing Miss Loy, marks time.

The honeymooners return and Miss Loy's waning spark of love for Pidgeon is rekindled. They have lots of fun together at the fights and in night clubs, until the wife finds the husband in Miss Loy's rooms. Yet it is not an "irate wife" scene. They sit down and talk it over, friendly-like. The wife offers a divorce to the husband. He doesn't want to lose his job and declines the divorce, forgetting Miss Loy to return to his wife. Miss Loy realizes her mistake. She and Tone pledge themselves to remain friends—but her mother knows it is love.

Richard Thorpe directed "Man-Proof" and admirable performances are given by the principals and by such supporting players as Rita Johnson, Nana Bryant, Ruth Hussey, Leonard Penn and John Mullan.

"THE REST OF THE RECORD"

BY JAMES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas

My fight to secure the return of the State's lands has developed rapidly the past week.

When I requested the Attorney General to file a number of suits to recover these lands for the State, he told the newspapers that I was childish. From Paul's letters to the Corinthians, he quoted:

"When I was a child, I spake as a child; I understood as a child; I thought as a child, but when I became a man I put away childish things."

I can readily understand why the Attorney General, who calls himself the "Great McCraw," would have to resort to the Scriptures to prove that he has grown up.

Immediately after I demanded that these suits be filed, however, the Land Commissioner cancelled the big lease I had been complaining about—the one where he turned down $103,000 in cash and accepted $310.

This is the second time I have made him back up and cancel out. It appears, therefore, that my "childishness" has already resulted in the cancellation of two valuable leases which he had executed.

You will remember that the Attorney General also said that he would not file all the suits that I had requested, but would file only one test suit. He said that the State's rights would not be jeopardized; but when I pointed out that if these people were allowed to let the matter rock along until a test suit could be drawn out through the courts they would then have their gamble and know whether the well being drilled was a producer or dry; and when I pointed out that these people could even assign these leases to others who could claim to be innocent purchasers, the Attorney General changed his mind and filed nine additional suits.

So my "Childishness" has resulted in further action.

The trouble now is that the Attorney General only set up one ground in asking for cancellation of these leases. He did not allege in his petitions that the facts constituted legal fraud, as I had requested him to do. Nowhere did he allege the facts and circumstances which I set out in my letters. I think these facts and circumstances taken as a whole clearly show a fraud upon the rights of the people. I am sorry that the Attorney General is not going to give the court the opportunity to pass on these facts. I would rather have three legs to stand on in a lawsuit than just one, especially where millions of dollars belonging to the school children are involved.

To save my life, I can't understand why the Attorney General hasn't been just as anxious to investigate and go after these mat-

Beware Coughs from common colds That Hang On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hypoten in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

ters as I have been. Heretofore the Attorney General's office has been regarded as the watch dog for the people. One after another, former Attorneys General have stepped out with lawsuits to protect the rights of the people. The most recent instance was when former Attorney General Dan Moody broke up the highway contracts, and was immediately elected Governor.

The "Great McCraw," as he calls himself, has had a similar opportunity and failed to take hold of it, even after I furnished him with all the facts and made an official request of him. I hope he will yet amend his pleadings and go after these suits seriously and in a fighting mood.

Mrs. Allred and I tremendously enjoyed our visit to Washington.

Of course, we were honored beyond expression by being privileged to attend Vice President Garner's dinner to the President; but, to our joyous surprise, the President and Mrs. Roosevelt invited us to have lunch in the White House last Sunday. It was just a fine family party, one which made us all feel perfectly at home. The President is in the best of good spirits, still thinking and working for the people.

Rev. and Mrs. R. S. McKee attended the funeral services of Rev. F. T. Charlton at Canyon Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

A sister of Mrs. C. D. McDowell, Mrs. W. L. Johnson who was out here the past summer from Vivian, Louisiana, witnessed the recent cyclone at Rodesia near her home.

 Our English word "Church" has been translated from the Greek word "Ekklesia" which means "Called out". When one is saved he has been called out of sin. He is a member of Christ's called out. One could not be saved without being "called out of sin", and as the Church is Christ's called out, he could not be saved without being a member of the Church. Christ's Church. One can be saved without being a member of a man made, man named Church, but he can not be saved without being a member of Christ's Church. Why should one join something when he is already a member of The Church of Christ, if he is saved. If one has joined something he is more than a saved person, a called out person, or a Child of God. Why not be content to be just a saved person, a member of Christ's Church. Think!

 You will enjoy coming and studying the simple teachings of the New Testament with us and certainly you will be welcome.

The day has dawned when duty demands that people practice what they preach. That has always been true, but it blazes abroad in big headlines now as never before. Insincerity has caused many a rebellion. Sincerity is one of the supreme virtues of the soul and if given a chance to express itself will rectify the wrongs in human life and amongst nations. We are exhorted to fight the good fight of faith, and profess the good profession of Christ, thereby laying hold of the hope eternal. All fights are not good fights, nor are all professions good professions, but the fight of faith and the profession of Christ are both good and should be primary in every life. Faithfulness to your church will help you to fight the good fight of faith. Attendance of the preaching services in your church will greatly encourage the profession of faith in Christ as your Savior. Churches are always happy to have people present in all of their services. Do not neglect church attendance.

Regular services Sunday at the Baptist Church. Objects that equal each other equal the same thing. We believe that you will be happy in the coming and we know that your presence will be a delight to the church.

FARM CONDITIONS IN THE SOUTHWEST REPORTED TO BE BEST SINCE 1930

DALLAS — Southwest farmers have entered the new year in the best condition since 1930.

Although farm prices the last few months have slumped to the lowest point since 1934, bumper productions of cotton, wheat, rice, wool, mohair, grains and meat animals have restored buying power in many states almost to pre-depression levels.

From the plains of West Texas to the Mississippi valley farm implements sales have been gaining since September, mortgages are being repaid and bank deposits in rural hamlets are soaring—a sure sign that the farmer is going to town.

From '36 to '37 Texas farm income gained $80,000,000; Oklahoma $37,000,000; New Mexico $4,000,000; Kansas $37,000,000 and Colorado $18,000,000. This means more rural youths going to college, more automobiles on the new farm-to-market roads, more newspapers and radios for amusement.

Throughout the Southwest greater wealth came from increased production rather than from a program of scarcity with pegged prices. In most states production was well above 1936 for major field crops and greater than the 1928-32 average in some instances.

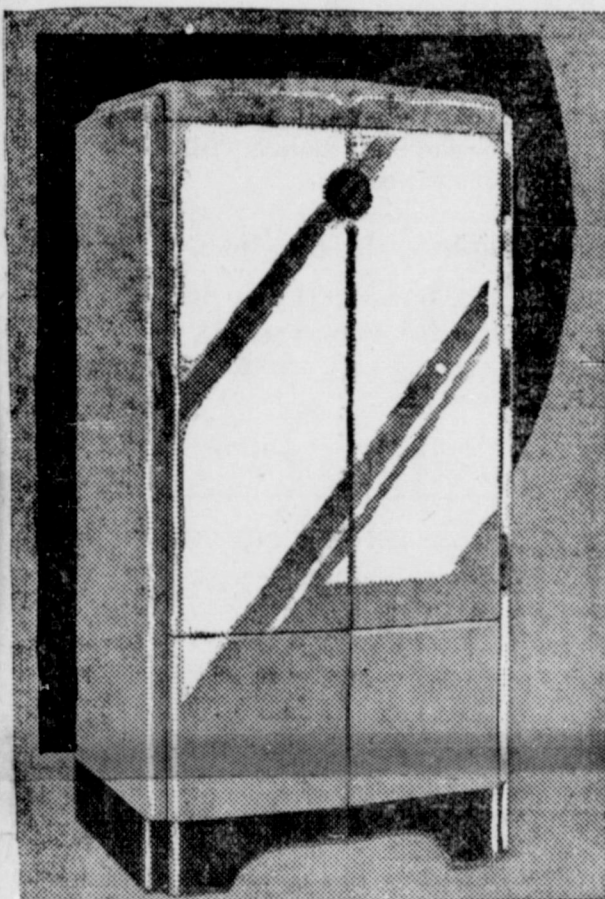

It was a blessing of nature. There was no widespread drought as in 1936. Copious rains, as if divinely ordered, seemed to come at the right time.

Now, as these bronzed southwesterners prepare for another year, they are still smiling. Heavy rains in late fall and winter have assured more-than-ample moisture in the cotton and wheat belts. For water in the Southwest is the limiting factor in crop production.

More Than Half University Students Earn Own Way

AUSTIN—Of the 9,206 students enrolled in the University of Texas last year, a total of 5,125, or 55.7 per cent, worked their way through school, earning part or all of their school expenses, it is shown by the latest report of the registrar. By far the larger number of these working students were men, 2,284 of them earning part of their expenses, either before entering the University or while attending the institution, and an additional 2,126 earning all their school expenses, making a total of 4,410, or 70.7 per cent of the total male enrollment. Of the women students enrolled, 24.1 per cent earned all or part of their expenses, 326 not receiving any financial assistance and 389 paying part of their own expenses by working.

Well, Sir, the same is true of electric refrigerators. They blazed the trail, bringing the greatest domestic improvement of all time into every other West Texas home by 1937. See for Yourself What It's Like to Cultivate with the "70"

Don't take anybody's say-so about what a great job the Oliver Row Crop "70" does with its centrally mounted cultivator. Drive the "70" and see for yourself how it has everything, does everything and is a beauty to handle as well as in looks.

See the shovels working in plain sight right in front of you, as you roll straight down the row, at 4 1/4 m.p.h. on Tip Toe Wheels that tread so lightly that they actually cultivate the soil. You draw close up to the fence... a second's pause, up come the gangs as you whip the wheel around and the automatic steering brakes come into play... you're on line, the brakes release, down come the gangs and away you go down the rows with a running start.

That's cultivating as only the Row Crop "70" cultivator does it. That's smooth, lively 6-cylinder power under finger-tip control from the comfortable driver's seat—automotive steering with steering-braking on turns—the Oliver Variable Speed Governor Control that enables you to use only the fuel needed to do the work—speed that gets cultivating done when it will do the most good.

The "70" is built in two fuel types: the "70" HC with high compression engine for gasoline and the "70" KD with engine designed for kerosene or distillate. Pick your fuel and your "70" and get modern low-cost tractor power. See us about a demonstration today.

4-H Club Members Are Ready For Stock Show

Donley county 4-H Club members will exhibit twenty two calves and seven fat barrows in the Donley County Fat Stock Show, March 4 and 5, according to county agent, H. M. Breedlove. "These calves are the best that I have ever had fed under my supervision," Breedlove says.

There will be six calves over 850 pounds and sixteen calves shown as juniors under 850 pounds. Three hogs will exceed 250 pounds with the remainder under this weight.

Some of the calves on feed have excellent chances to go high in the Donley county fat stock show and also in the Amarillo fat stock show. The calves and hogs will then be loaded in trucks and taken to Amarillo where they will be exhibited and sold at auction.

"The 4-H club members are in high spirits for the show and all boys are working hard as the competition will be keen," the county agent states. "And also of interest to the boys is the large premium list that will be offered to winning exhibits by the boys," he concluded.

Christian Parsonage Receives More Attention

The kitchen of the parsonage has been painted ivory, and finished in small red designs. Metal surfaces are done in aluminum. The front and dining rooms are getting about the same attention, with hardwood floors added.

Carpenters Roy Clampitt and C. L. McCrary are doing the work in their line. Lee Bell contributed the 'sanding' work on the floors. "It really looks like a brand new home," the pastor stated Tuesday. The work will be completed by Friday.

NATIONAL Save Your Vision WEEK Eyes Cause Death

This is National Save Your Vision Week devoted to the conservation of vision. This year, because of the increase in the death rate among motorists the Optometrists are stressing the fact that eyes play a very important part in any safety program.

Drivers Ignorant of Eyes

Dr. Harry Pine, president of the National Association of Optometrists says, "The public is ignoring eyes as a vital part of safety. Safety Councils are considering speed, mentality, road laws. The highways are being made safe for the increase in the number of cars traveling them, the car manufacturers have given their products every means of protection; yet all of these things are governed by the eye. And very few drivers know anything about their eyes. They have never had an examination to determine how their eyes behave."
