FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Clarendon Church celebrates Centennial

In 1887, a pioneer Methodist minister named J.T. Hosmer arrived in Clarendon and conducted services for the early settlers of that community. However, the First Methodist Church of Clarendon was not officially established until 1888, under the leadership of Rev. Issac L. Mills, with fifteen charter members. This year, the First United Methodist Church of Clarendon is proud to celebrate its Centennial, complete with special events and a list of distinguished speakers.

The original site was located at the corner of Kearney and 4th Streets, but because of a growing congregation, a new brick building was erected in 1910 at its present location. A beautiful dome enhanced this place of worship, but it often leaked after heavy rains or snowfall, which caused internal damage to the church. After great expense and effort was exerted to save the dome, the decision was reached to re-roof the structure, thus greatly changing the appearance. During the ensuing years, many repairs and much redecoration occurred, but the original hitching rings were left in the curbs, a visible reminder of the horse and buggy days.

In 1947, the churches at Ashtola and Goldston merged with this one, with Brice following shortly afterwards. The church today has approximately 400 members and has had 40 pastors in the last one hundred years. Rev. James T. Carter is the current pastor. He has been in the ministry for 43 years and was associate pastor at Polk Street United Methodist in Amarillo before coming to Clarendon. First United Methodist has always had a very active Sunday School program, several Women's societies, beautiful choir music, an interesting Youth program and an organization of Methodist Men.

Perhaps the greatest undertaking, both financially and spiritually for a small congregation, was the erection of a new parsonage on the same ground where the one that had been in constant use by many pastors and their families since 1910 had stood. The home was finished in 1961, one year after receiving approval at the Quarterly Conference.

Rev. Carter will conduct a special Centennial kick-off service on the 17th of January, followed by a church-wide luncheon honoring Mrs. Carter and him. A lovely commemorative quilted wall hanging, designed and made by Mrs. Madelyn Jones, a member of the church, will be on permanent display in the Fellowship Hall. The wall hanging, which measures 36" by 50" and took the entire summer to complete, depicts the church building as a stained glass window. Using mostly colors of blue, purple, orchid and yellow, the piece also has a dove, an angel and a cross at the top, with the dates 1888-1988 at the bottom.

They will be presenting several distinguished speakers during the coming months, with Bishop Louis Schowengerdt beginning our Bishops Series of Sermons on February 21. He will be followed by Retired Bishop McFerrin Stowe on March 20, Retired Bishop Lance Webb on April 10, Retired Bishop Eugene Slater on May 15, Retired Bishop Alsie Carlton on June 19 and Retired former pastor Dr. E.D. Landreth on July 24. The title of the series Bishops Series of Sermons does not mean that only Bishops will participate; other ministers or laymen might also be conducting services. We certainly welcome any guests to our church services.

The members of the First United Methodist Church of Clarendon are proud of their heritage and are inspired to move forward with more determination and loyalty to the church of the future. We can only ask, "What will the next one hundred years bring?"

Hip-O Ranch Australian Cattle Dogs in Nation's top ten

Hip-O Sugar Bigfoot CD and Hip-O Possum CD were listed as Number Three and Number Five in obedience ratings in the United States by The Australian Cattle Dog Club of America in their current breed publication. These dogs are trained, shown and owned by Bob and Vera Andis.

ness, in my opinion, has no parallel in any other part of the world I have ever visited. That includes North from Alaska and Canada.

Clarendon excels them all by far in my book of thoughts. It is a constant source of pleasure to sit in front of the post office here and watch all men hold the door open for all: each and every type or whatever age woman.

An outstanding example of this unusual quality of Clarendon's occurred one cold day a few months ago. Unhurriedly I was emerging from the car on the northside of the First Bank and Trust when I noticed a young man in his late twenties or early thirties rushing, running in the direction of the Bank west entrance - out of sight from our car.

He was obviously in a big hurry and I just ambled along enjoying the scenery and beauty of life itself.

When finally the door of the bank came into sight, there he stood, still holding the door open for me.

"I'm sorry I fooled around," I stammered, "had I known you were holding the door open for me, I would have hurried."

"Oh that's nothing," he beamed, "I would have waited for you anyway." Then he hurried on to finish his task.

I never saw him again nor before. But his kindness lives in my spirit akin to God.

Now when I experience a door slamming in my face whether it be the post office, the bank, or whatever door, I think: "Now I am up north. This is not Clarendon, Texas."

WARREN CHISUM

Chisum announces candidacy for Texas Representative

Warren Chisum, 49, recently announced his candidacy for 84th District Texas Representative. Chisum, a Democrat, is running for the seat which Foster Whaley has held for the past 10 years. Whaley has announced he will not run for re-election.

Chisum said in his announcement speech in Pampa that his "Chisum Campaign Trail" involves three specific objectives. The first is to work for financial responsibility in state government. Chisum cites the enormous increases in state spending during the past decade and a need to return to a more responsible budget.

The second objective, Chisum said, is to have integrity in dealing with all concerned. Chisum noted that Foster Whaley has had a tradition of telling his constituents where he stood on a given issue even when his position might not be popular. Chisum pledged to continue that tradition of honesty.

And his third objective is to be responsive to interests of all constituents in the 84th District. He said many issues in state government affect farmers, others affect small businesses and the availability of jobs, and still others affect the quality of education available to Texas children. He affirmed his interest in these and other issues important to people in the 84th District.

Chisum was born in Miami, Texas, and graduated from Lefors High School in 1957. He is married to the former Ila Omega Crutcher, and they have two children and two grandchildren. Chisum was president of J.T. Richardson Trucking from 1972 until he sold the business in 1985. He is currently the owner of Omega Energy and Chisum and Wilson, Inc., an oil and gas exploration firm.

He is a Baptist, a Mason, and president of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce. He was honorably discharged from the U.S. Army Reserve in 1963.

Snow, Snow and more Snow!!!!

BY REECE McDANIELS

Look at all this snow! It seems that every time I get out of bed there is another couple of inches of new snow. When will it all end?

At first the new snow was something of a novelty, but now it seems that the novelty has worn off and we are content with just plain ol' putting up with it.

All summer long folks around here were saying that we were in for a bad winter. Here are some of the reasons they have for saying such things.

*Just look at the mesquite trees, the bark is darker and there are more beans on them than normal.

*The caterpillars coats are thicker. This always means we are in for a cold winter.

*The caterpillars are headed for higher ground. They are climbing up in the trees higher than before and seem to almost live on the fences. This is a sign of a lot of snow.

*Just wait and see what day we get our first snow, that always tells how many snows we are going to have. (Our first snow fell on November 18, 1987.)

I do not know if these signs are very scientific or just wives tales but they sure seem to have been right this year. And by the way, in case you are wondering just how many snows we have had since this wet stuff began to fall—I can count 10. I am not sure if I am correct on this but who's been counting.

July 4th, 1983, issue of U.S. News and World Report about how the American dream still lives. In 1985 he also hosted a state-wide television series about the legislature, "Inside the Session."

Sarpalius always defies odds

Bill Sarpalius always has defied the odds, and his political career has proved no exception.

The road to the Senate for Sarpalius began at age 12, when he was taken from his troubled home in Houston and placed at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch in the Texas Panhandle. It was during his seven years at Boys Ranch that Sarpalius developed a deep respect for agriculture and, after graduation in 1967, became Texas State President of Future Farmers of America, traveling constantly on behalf of the agriculture youth organization.

Sarpalius went on to further his education, receiving his associate's degree from Clarendon College in 1970 and his undergraduate degree in agriculture education from Texas Tech University in 1972. He finished his studies in 1978, receiving a Master of Agriculture degree from West Texas State University.

After graduating from Texas Tech, Sarpalius returned to Boys Ranch, where he was a staff member and vocational agriculture teacher for five years. He left the school in 1977 to become district office manager for then-House Speaker Billy Clayton. Sarpalius made his most recent career change in 1979 when he entered the agribusiness industry.

Sarpalius has been an active senator since his election, passing 137 pieces of legislation into law. Included among those are bills that have helped agriculture organizations fund research and development and a comprehensive bill overhauling Texas' drunk driving laws. The latter bill has been credited with saving more than 2,000 lives. In the Legislature's more recent session, Sarpalius passed a bill outlawing drinking while driving and another that saved Texas taxpayers $75 million by re-working the state's system of granting ethanol tax credits. His work has not gone unnoticed. Sarpalius was named Texas Humanitarian of the Year for his 1983 efforts to stiffen dogfighting penalties and Public Servant of the Year in 1987 by the Coalition of Texans With Disabilities for his efforts to make the roads safer for hearing impaired drivers. He was Chairman of the Southern Legislative Conference on Children and Youth which involved 22 states. His life's story was the subject of a

J.G. AND FRANKIE McANEAR

J.G. McAnear's celebrate 50 years of marriage

J.G. and Frankie McAnear celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on January 2, 1988 in their home. They were married December 21, 1937 at Clarendon in the home of the pastor of the First Baptist Church, Bro. J. Perry King. With the exception of a year in the Martin Community and one in the Goodnight Community they have lived in Clarendon the entire time. Mr. McAnear worked for Thompson Hardware for a number of years. He delivered butane, in this area, for Freeman Thacker of Matador for awhile before he and the late Bill Todd bought the Household Supply in 1945. Both operated the business until they purchased the T&M Oil Co. in the early 1960s. McAnear then managed it and Todd managed the Household Supply. The Household Supply was sold to B.B. Osburn in 1970 and the Oil Co. was sold to West Texas Oil and Gas Co. in 1979. After farming for 3 years he is now retired.

Their 4 children and their spouses, Jeanie and Robert, Dwight and Vickie, Ronnie and Melinda, and Freddie and Marsha hosted the event which was attended only by the family.

Jeanie began the occasion with a short talk and comments. Then the gifts and cards from relatives and friends were opened including a card from President Ronald Reagan and Nancy of the White House. Frankie then told of their meeting and early courtship. To the surprise of them all she displayed their wedding clothes. No one knew she still had them. She then presented each of the 4 children with a kitchen utensil that has been used the entire 50 years. That brought back many precious memories (and tears). She had also put together a picture album which begins with their wedding pictures and then many pages are filled with pictures of the family, places they been, things they have done, and people they have loved. Pictures taken that day completes the album and 50 years of memories. She also had made a quilted wall hanging using the "Golden Wedding Ring" pattern. After each one told some outstanding events that they remembered and that had always meant something special to them the group was served the anniversary cake and golden punch. The table was centered with a beautiful centerpiece which was presented, along with the corsage and the boutonniere for the "bride and groom", by Dr. and Mrs. R.L. Gilkey. Jeanie Echols served the cake and Elizabeth McAnear served the punch.

Those present were Jeanie and Robert Echols of Rockwall, Texas, Dwight and Vickie McAnear, Granville and Garrick of Pateau, Okla., Ronnie and Melinda McAnear, Todd, Jennifer and Elizabeth of Clarendon, Freddie and Marsha McAnear, Dax, Lydia, and Kenneth of Midland, Texas, Jim and Jeanine Hill, Talmadge and Lauren of Forney, Texas, Jan Matthews of Austin, Jimmie and Robbie Gehling and J.C. of Flower

Poff seeks State Senate

H. Bryan Poff, Jr., a 48 year old former 2 term State Representative and 3 term District Judge, announced his candidacy for the State Senate, 31st Senatorial District, which includes 29 counties of the Texas Panhandle and South Plains. Poff, a Democrat who represented Carson, Potter, and Randall Counties in the Texas Legislature in 1971 and 1973, stressed his proven record of fiscal responsibility and conservative leadership, and stated if elected Senator he would sponsor GRAMM-RUDMAN type legislation to control State spending. Poff also stated his opposition to an Income Tax and any other Tax increases. "It's time we put a stop to the tax and spend cycle; and if we can not break the cycle, I feel a Tax Revolt is inevitable. If you want a Senator who will lead the revolt, I am your man," Poff said.

Poff also addressed the need for the State to take an active role in stimulating the area's economy with special emphasis on agriculture and oil and gas. Poff proposed sale of State Bonds, to assist with long term farm debt refinancing, and to assist in diversifying our crop base, and to improve marketing and processing of local farm products. Poff said, "The family farmer is not only the cornerstone of our area's economy, but they are an integral part of the social fabric of our area, and we must do all we can to preserve the family farm."

Poff also proposed new reasonable regulations for drilling for and producing oil and gas with special emphasis on Stripper oil and gas wells. "We need to reduce taxes or give tax incentives or tax credits for marginal wells as an incentive to keep them in production. Any loss in revenue would be more than compensated for by the fact that more oil would be produced from each well and fewer jobs would be lost", Poff said.

Poff concluded his announcement by urging his supporters to stop depending on the Federal Government to solve our problems and start solving our problems on the local and State level.

Before election to the State Legislature, Poff was an Attorney for the Texas Legislative Council and an Assistant County and District Attorney. He graduated from Texas Christian University and the University of Texas School of Law. In addition to his private law practice and public service Poff has taught courses at both Amarillo College and West Texas State University.

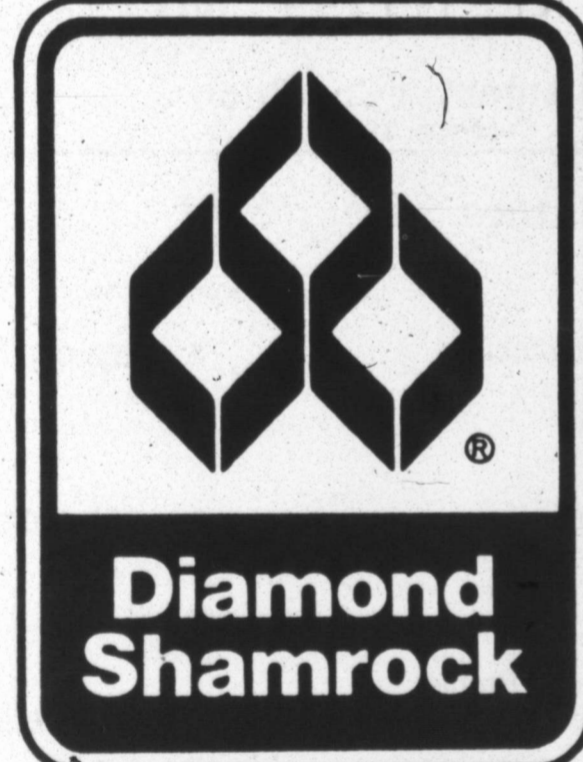

Bryan and his wife Janis make their family home in Canyon. Bryan is a lifelong Baptist and is a member of First Baptist Church of Canyon. He is also active in civic affairs being a former J.C., a member of the Lions Club, and the Randall County Historical Society. As a father of four children and one grandchild, Bryan has also given of his time in Boy Scout work and as a basketball and football coach.

The weather has been just awful. Snow, cold and ice for around 3 weeks now. Everyone in Hedley is just staying in and keeping warm.

If you don't just have to get out please stay in doors and don't take a chance on falling on the ice and snow.

This is very dangerous especially for the older folks.

On Dec. 31, the Hedley Homemakers joined together to ring in the New Year at Mark and Tammy Brinson's home. Everyone brought snacks and a good time was enjoyed by all.

During the Christmas Holidays when Santa Claus came to Hedley, the Hedley Homemakers Club took children's pictures with Santa. The proceeds for this activity went to the Fire Station Improvement Fund. We had a good turnout and appreciate everyone's participation.

Slover enters race for State Senate

Amarillo oil and gas broker Ron Slover has entered the Republican race for State Senator. During an informal press conference, Slover said he'd discuss three predominant issues, oil and gas, agribusiness and dismantling of the State's most recent tax bill. Referring to those two industries as being economically sick today, he called for the creation of a new natural gas supply for Panhandle dwellers and agribusiness, and opening up the Panhandle field for development.

Slover stated many publicly-held gas companies are removing the natural resources in the Panhandle without its production resulting in any meaningful economic benefit to the local area. He went on to say that getting the oil and gas development moving again would be a tremendous boost to agriculture, an energy intensive industry, by allowing for a significant reduction in the cost of production, a situation each farmer and his banker labor over, especially in the Panhandle and South Plains with irrigated farming so prevalent.

He said that while both oil and gas and agriculture have seen better times, we must not forget that they are still the Panhandle's most basic industries. "It's great for the community to pursue additional industries for the Panhandle, but, let's not discount the value of oil and gas and agriculture. They still offer plenty of opportunity to play the significant role in the Panhandle's economic future."

Concerning the tax bill created by the last Legislature, Slover said small businessmen now have to pay twenty five dollars for a sales tax permit to become a regulated, non-paid, book-keeper and tax collector for the State. He said that all candidates want no new taxes, no increased taxes, and reduced spending. To his knowledge however, he knew of no candidate committed to dismantling the tax bill we already have.

Slover said if we don't deal with that disastrous tax bill, we'll not only continue seeing small businessmen go out of business, but, out-of-state industries looking for a new home would start looking less favorably at locating in Texas.

Broncho Basketball

Varsity Boys beat Hedley

The Broncos beat Hedley an outstanding score of 81 to 41.

Wes Hatley had an outstanding game with 24 points and 5 assists to lead both categories. Jason Klinnert scored a great 13 points and had 4 assists. Jay Gage scored 12 points and had 7 rebounds. Chris Ward also had 7 rebounds and scored 10. Good job guys.

Both Varsity teams will be starting district this week so come out and opening up the Panhandle field for give the teams some support.

Varsity Girls lose to Hedley
The Lady Broncos had a disappointing loss to Hedley last Friday. The final score was 36 to 52.

Jennifer Davis led the scoring with an outstanding 18 points. Marcy Helms followed next with 8. Christie McAnear had a good game and scored 4. Stacy Graham and Laura Copelin scored 2 each. Linde Bowling and Kristal Hill each contributed with one each. Good luck to all teams during district play!

Staniswalis files for seat in U.S. House of Representatives

Chip Staniswalis, is announcing his intentions to capture the Republican primary nomination and to run in the November election for the office of 13th Congressional District of the United States House of Representatives. He said, "I have made this decision after long hours of thought and several frank, but positive conversations with friends and supporters. It was not an easy decision to leave the Texas House of Representatives. However, my eight years of service to the people of Texas provides a record that will be invaluable as your next Congressman. It is a record that will give the people of the 13th Congressional District a sense of comfort and familiarity."

The reason he has decided to run is simple: "the federal government can't solve our problems because it is the problem. My basic attitude about our federal government will be the theme of our campaign: I want government on our side and off our backs."

Static positions provide little challenge, even when they have a large comfort zone. He said, "I have matured into the position of the United States Congressman. An individual grows by accepting new challenges, even when the outcome is uncertain. The timid never start and the weak never finish. This is a moment in history that shall not pass us by. We need a Congressman in Washington that will empower the people and provide a balance between the proper role of government as it affects our lives and livelihoods. I intend to be that kind of Congressman and public servant."

DREAM WITH ME for a moment....

Imagine a community where no denominational barriers existed... And where all those who loved the Lord met together as one church to worship Him in a spirit of love & unity... Where God's Word, the Bible, was held up as the only source of religious authority and the basis upon which we could all unite... Where our religious differences were worked out with patience & gentleness... Where people could feel free to disagree without having to divide and go their separate ways... Where brothers & sisters in Christ recognized one another as such, no longer distinguishing themselves from each other by using this name or that, but just referring to themselves as "Christians"... Imagine the joy and radiant power for good of a church like that! You say, "but it's only a dream!" Yes, but with God, member, all things are possible. Why not come help us build the dream of.....

Robin Green of Lubbock brought Margaret and Ben Green of Montrose, Colorado New Years Eve to visit H.A. and Naomi, Charlotte Payne and "Hoss" Watts and Lori Green. We enjoyed movies, visiting and blackeyed peas, home grown for the menu next day. The Colorado cousins met their mother in Amarillo to return to Montrose that afternoon.

The Horace Green family had their Christmas get together January 2nd. Those to join the already in-house guests were: Beth Watts of Amarillo, Robin and Paulina Green of Lubbock, Ellen and Tiffany and Stephanie Patterson of Weatherford, local families of the Don Williams, the Jerry Greens and Larry and Jason. As for a weather report update it is cold. The men were able to get baskets off the strippers Monday. It is sometimes hard to catch a day not too windy so they were glad to progress that far even if it is cold.

How many times have you already "Let Down" your New Year's resolution???

Alcohol Hazards

Many individuals who consume alcoholic beverages—beer, wine, distilled spirits—do not consider alcohol to be a drug. Other persons more correctly term alcohol a "social drug" and classify it with marijuana. Health professionals and researchers know that alcohol is, indeed, a drug that has the characteristic effects of a central nervous system (CNS) depressant.

Seven out of ten Americans use alcohol on a regular or occasional basis. Alcohol's popularity in the social setting is undoubtedly related to its effect on the CNS. Yet, there are a number of problems associated with even the occasional use of alcohol. Consider the following:

- When alcohol is taken with other drugs that depress the CNS, such as antihistamines, or anti-anxiety agents, confusion and disorientation may occur.
- Mental health problems and alcohol abuse often go hand-in-hand, with one-half of the mentally ill also having alcohol-related problems.
- Alcohol is involved in 90 percent of all boating accidents and 50 percent of all automobile accidents. Recent reports indicate that alcohol, directly or indirectly, is the most common cause of death in persons under the age of 40.

Brandon candidate

for U.S. Congress

Jim Brandon has decided to become a candidate for the Congress because he is concerned about the direction of our nation and our local economy. Our Number one problem is that the two basic industries in our area, energy and agribusiness, are both in trouble. This campaign is about which candidate is most qualified to go to Washington where the problems were created and work effectively to rejuvenate these industries.

Brandon stated, "We must establish a national goal of energy self-sufficiency. Not only are hundreds of thousands of jobs dependent upon oil, but also the economic and military security of our nation. Without adequate oil, no nation and no industry can be truly secure."

He also stated, "The human side to the decline in the oil industry is the pain and suffering families have gone through seeing their bread winners lose their jobs and often everything they have built up for their families over the years. But this pain will reach much further than just the oil producing states if Congress does not face reality about our declining oil and gas reserves.

"To remedy the situation we may need an oil import fee to keep the price of oil above the cost of production. We definitely need incentives to encourage drillers to take the risks inherent in exploring for new reserves because one of the places we are going to find energy independence is at the end of a drilling bit.

"I will fight for the elimination of trade barriers in foreign countries like Japan which prevent the importation of American agricultural products.

ducts. If the Japanese refuse to allow our corn, wheat and meat into their country we should refuse to allow their products to enter the U.S. We must eliminate the use of taxpayer money in creating foreign competition to our American farmer," he continued.

"Our entire farm program is threatened by the budget deficits created by Speaker Jim Wright and other tax and spend Democrats in Congress. Unless the deficit is cut, the Federal Reserve will have to raise interest rates in order to support the dollar.

"The answer to cutting the deficit is apparent; freeze spending for two years as proposed by Senator Phil Gramm and others. I support this sensible and fair solution." Brandon stated.

"We need to continue the President's program of modernizing our military defenses to meet the growing Soviet threat. In particular we must press ahead with development and deployment of a Strategic Defense Initiative against missile attack.

"I am pro-life and pro-family and will support a Constitutional Amendment to ban abortion.

"My commitment to education has been firmly demonstrated over many years. I was elected and re-elected for 12 years to the Amarillo College Board. It has been my privilege to serve as a Trustee of President Reagan's alma mater, Eureka College. I am a past President of the Panhandle Plains Higher Education Authority and have worked in two universities as a teacher."

"It is important that the Party nominate someone who has a track record as an active conservative Republican. I have served 6 years on the State Republican Executive Committee, been State Vice-Chairman of the 1980 Reagan campaign, Panhandle Chairman of his 1976 campaign and helped numerous Republican officeholders get started in politics over the years, among them Beau Boulter.

"I am no stranger to Washington.

For the past 6 years I have traveled there regularly as a Presidential appointee on the Board of the Student Loan Marketing Association, a 20 billion dollar asset company known as Sallie Mae.

"As a businessman, I have made my living as a C.P.A., a tax attorney and an investor in energy, cattle and real estate ventures. I feel this lifetime of experience in finance will enable me to understand pending legislation and serve the taxpayers' interests well.

"With your help, we can keep this conservative Republican seat and send a veteran Reaganite to Washington who will vote to continue building on the President's legacy of a strong military defense, a growing economy and a return to traditional family values." Brandon ended.

Boulter will seek position in U.S. Senate

13th District Congressman Beau Boulter announced he will seek the Republican nomination for the right to challenge Democrat Lloyd Bentsen saying that "the people of Texas deserve a responsible alternative to Lloyd Bentsen's record of tax and spend."

"He's tax-happy," Boulter said. "Lloyd Bentsen shows an astonishing enthusiasm for tax increases."

"He says he works for Texas as Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, but it seems to me he has worked more for taxes," Boulter said. "I will not criticize Lloyd Bentsen for ineffectiveness. The problem, unfortunately, is he has been all too effective in steering through the Senate two new tax bills this year alone."

"It's great that a Texan is Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, but what good is it for Texas if he's using it to lead the charge for higher taxes," Boulter added.

Ending weeks of speculation, Boulter embarked on a three day tour of the state, beginning in Houston and concluding Wednesday in Texarkana, to announce his candidacy for the U.S. Senate seat currently occupied by 17-year incumbent Democrat Lloyd Bentsen. By Wednesday, Boulter will have traveled more than 4,000 miles criss-crossing the state to bring his message to the people of Texas.

Boulter said that he made his mind up to challenge Bentsen when Bentsen unveiled plans to raise taxes on the American people by $23 billion over the next two years.

"The big-money people of this state and the self-appointed political pundits may say it can't be done, but we're going to draw a line in the dust and get it done," Boulter said.

"I believe strongly in an America of less taxes and less government spending. The size of our government is becoming an unbearable burden on the backs of the American taxpayer," Boulter said. "In contrast, Lloyd Bentsen's vision of America is one of bigger government, never-ending budget increases, and higher taxes to cover our budget deficits."

Beau Boulter has earned a reputation as an effective spokesman for responsible federal spending and as a champion of lower taxes and reduced federal spending. Through his position on the Budget Committee and as chairman and founder of the Congressional Grace Caucus, Boulter has worked hard to save the American taxpayers money.

Boulter was born in El Paso. Later his family moved to Levelland. Boulter graduated from the University of Texas and later finished in the top 5% of his class at the Baylor University School of Law. Soon after graduation he and his wife Rosemary moved to Lubbock to establish his law practice. In 1974, Boulter and his family moved to Amarillo.

In 1981, Boulter defeated a five-term incumbent for the Amarillo City Commission. In 1984, Boulter was elected to represent the 13th District of Texas, defeating a five-term incumbent. In 1984, he was re-elected by 65%.

Boulter serves as a member of the Budget Committee. He is also chairman and founder of the Congressional Grace Caucus, organized to eliminate wasteful government spending.

Beau Boulter also is chairman of the House Republican Energy Task Force. As an outspoken advocate of the Texas oil and gas industry, Boulter has been recognized by the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association for his work to promote a national energy policy. In awarding Boulter the 1987 "Hat's Off Award," TIPRO noted that Boulter "has opened doors and minds in Washington and has propelled him into prominence as a leading energy security spokesman."

GOD'S MINORITIES

During the time NOAH was building the ark, he was very much in the minority — but he won!

When JOSEPH was sold into Egypt by his brothers, he was a decided minority — but he won!

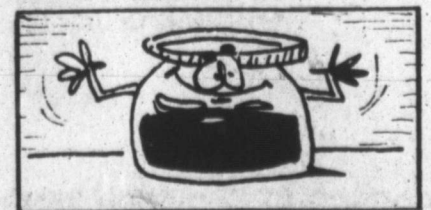

When GIDEON and his three hundred followers, with their broken pitchers and lamps, put the Midianites to flight they were in an insignificant minority — but they won!

When ELIJAH prayed down fire from heaven and put the prophets of Baal to shame, he was in a notable minority — but he won!

When DAVID, ridiculed by his brothers, went out to meet Goliath, in size he was in a decided minority — but he won!

When MARTIN LUTHER nailed his theses on the door of the cathedral he was a lone-some minority — but he won!

When JESUS CHRIST was crucified by the Roman soldiers, he was a conspicuous minority — but he won!

Brown sugar will keep soft if removed from the package and placed in a dry glass jar with a fresh peel of lemon.
