K-9 Korp rabies clinic scheduled

The Donley County 4-H K-9 Korp, in conjunction with the City-County Rabies Clinic and Deyhle Veterinary Services, will provide their annual heart worm exam, dipping service, and Parvo vaccination.

The clinic will be held Friday, May 13, 1988, in the back of Deyhle Veterinary Services (large animal clinic) from 3:30-5:30 p.m.

The cost of services are as follows: dipping $8.00 Ex-Par, 21 day residual, kills fleas, ticks and lice; heart worm direct exam and filter exam $7.00; rabies $6.00 vaccination plus $1.00 for city tag for a total of $7.00; Parvo vaccination $7.00, distemper vaccination $8.00.

The K-9 Korp will receive a generous portion of the proceeds for co-sponsoring this clinic. The money will be used to help defray the expenses of hosting the 1988 State 4-H Dog Show August 20 in Amarillo, Texas.

Do your dog a favor. Have him checked for heart worm, dipped for fleas, ticks and lice. Do yourself a favor and have him vaccinated for rabies and Parvo!

All Donley County residents are encouraged to take advantage of all the clinic services for your pets, and support your local 4-H K-9 Korp!

Heart worm is still being seen. We found over 30 percent positive results over the past three years and Dr. Deyhle says he is seeing more and more all the time. He also warns that Parvo is on the rampage once again! That's why we are offering the Parvo vaccine to you again this year.

According to Dr. Deyhle, the lake area is particularly bad regarding heart worm problems. At one time, this was considered a problem in the southern areas only, but now it is all over the U.S. It is essential to check animals (blood sample) to determine the status of infection before treatment or preventative medication is started. The disease is treatable. Negative animals are given either a daily or monthly preventative medication. This will also be available if you are interested.

Puppies can be started on preventative at two months of age. Remember, if not detected and treated, this can be a killer!

ATTENTION K-9 KORP MEMBERS! You and your dogs are to be at the clinic at 4:30 to receive any and all shots necessary for the 1988 State Show! You will be notified of your work schedule for the clinic. ALL KORP DOGS MUST BE TESTED AND/OR ON PREVENTATIVE FOR HEART WORM THIS YEAR! You will also be able to stay and observe and help with the heart worm lab work.

Beef referendum vote to be held May 10th

Voting on the Beef Referendum will be held on Tuesday, May 10, 1988, in the County Extension Office from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.

The vote, by eligible cattle producers and importers of beef or beef products, is to decide whether to continue the beef check-off program, says Ronald Gooch, Donley County Extension Agent. Producers are being assessed $1 per head on all cattle they sell. Funds from the check-off are presently financing the Beef Promotion and Research Program.

Eligible voters are all producers and importers of cattle who owned or acquired cattle, beef or beef products during the period of October 1, 1986, through March 31, 1988. This includes 4-H, FFA and other youths who owned cattle during the designated period of time. Gooch points out.

Voting will be by secret ballot in the County Extension Office of the county where a producer or importer resides.

Ballots will be counted by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. The ASCS will also determine eligibility of challenged voters and ballots, and report Referendum results.

Volunteers help adults to read

It is estimated that approximately eighty Donley County residents lack necessary reading skills or are totally illiterate; thereby having great difficulty in functioning in our society.

To lack basic skills means that an individual will have difficulty in reading a medicine bottle, a phone book, safety instructions on cleaning solutions or appliances. He may have difficulty in filling out a job application or in comparison shopping at the grocery store.

Certified trained tutors of the Laubach Way of Reading are prepared and willing to volunteer weekly for as much as two years to aid these individuals. If anyone knows of an adult who cannot read and has the desire to learn, please contact Diane Chardon at the Burton Memorial Library. Phone number is 874-3685.

GENEVA AND GARY MAYS

Print Shoppe offers Computer Photographic System

There is a new and unique business in Clarendon, it is owned and operated by the Mays family, mother Eureda, son Gary and his wife, Geneva. It is located at The Print Shoppe at 116 S. Kearney, phone 874-2711. It is a Computer Photographic System, which computer portraits use the same space age photographic principle that brought the first NSAS photos from the moon to earth. Since that time the computer has been scientifically improved and simplified.

All you have to do to get your picture put on a poster, hat, T-shirt, button, mirror, apron, calendar, tote bag, puzzle, key chain or just framed is sit down in front of the camera and you get an instant snapshot, as a video camera captures the scene in 1/60th of a second. Instead of film, the computer stores the image, which is held on a TV screen for you to see, the computer feeds the photo to a printer, which instantly, line for line, produces a computer portrait. The end results is a picture that can wear on his hat, a poster to hang on the wall, or you may want a calendar. How about a key chain with your girl friend or boy friend's picture on it?

Grandma how would you like to have a mirror for your purse with the grandchild's picture on the back. These make great gifts and something that is finished in just a few minutes, no waiting, you can take it with you.

Come by The Print Shoppe any day Monday thru Friday between 8:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. and let Gary show you this great way to have your picture taken and have a special gift at the same time.

Don't forget that Mother's Day will be Sunday, May 8th and these will make great gifts for moms and grandmas. It's something that they will cherish, a portrait of a loved one made into a useful gift.

Public review period half over

The 60 day public review period for the U.S. Department of Agriculture's proposed changes in the National Conservation Program is half over, Harry W. Oneth, head of Soil Conservation Service programs in Texas said today.

"Anyone interested in the future of soil and water conservation and the environment should study the changes and make their comments and suggestions before June 4," Oneth said.

Changes proposed by USDA may be reviewed in local SCS or Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices.

"Under requirements of the Soil and Water Resources Conservation Act (RCA), public participation and cooperation is an integral part of any conservation program formulation," Oneth said. "This procedure helps USDA planners prepare conservation programs that are responsive to both private and public interests."

Oneth said that the proposed changes place special emphasis on programs to reduce erosion on rural land and measures to protect surface and ground water from contamination.

Comments about the proposals should be in writing and must be postmarked no later than June 4. Mail responses to 101 South Main, Temple, Texas 76701-7682. For further information, contact your local SCS or ASCS office.

Fire and EMS personnel certify in crash extrication

On Saturday, April 30, twenty-two fire and EMS personnel from Clarendon became certified in Crash Extrication through a class taught at the Clarendon Fire Station.

Crash extrication is the method by which accident victims are removed from badly wrecked automobile/truck accidents using various techniques. The way this is done is that rather than removing the patient from the wreck, the wreck is removed from the patient. This is done using hand tools, various pieces of medical equipment, but mostly by using the Jaws Of Life and its various attachments. Statistics show that if a person is stabilized in the accident and then the wrecked automobile is removed from around him, additional injuries are not inflicted and existing injuries are not further aggravated. The "Golden Hour" was stressed throughout the class meaning that if an accident victim can receive surgical intervention within one hour or less from the time of the accident, his chances for survival and rapid improvement are greatly increased. In a badly wrecked automobile, use of conventional tools would take most or all of the "golden hour" to have the patient loose from the wreck and on the way to the hospital whereas using tools like the Jaws Of Life, the victim can be extricated in only a few minutes.

The class began on Saturday morning at 8:00 a.m. and ended at 3:00 p.m. with grilled hamburgers and all the trimmings being served at noon time. A full scale mock-up drill is planned in the near future to test the knowledge of those who took the class. Three automobiles were donated by various individuals in town and the Amarillo Fire Department donated the use of their Carbusters video cassette training films. The four films run a total of approximately 3 hours and cover the latest in extrication techniques. Such things as scene size up and control, incident command, extrication strategy, automobile construction, extrication techniques, patient handling, rescuer and patient safety, use of hand and pneumatic tools, and many other topics were learned and practiced by those participating in the class. The tapes were viewed and then participants practiced what they had learned with hands on training. The class was taught for the first time as an internal class using Clarendon Fire Department instructors. Outside agency instructors had been used in the past classes.

Clarendon Fire and EMS personnel who attended the class were Jim

The Clarendon Volunteer Fire Department has one of the best equipped and most highly trained rescue groups in the Panhandle thanks to the generous donations of various citizens who made the purchase the state of the art equipment available for their use. Clarendon EMS also has a good deal of state of the art medical equipment to use on patients for the same reason. Local citizens should feel secure in knowing that if and when the equipment is needed, it is available and trained personnel are capable of putting it to efficient use and they should also be proud of the fact that they are responsible for this through their support of the Volunteer Fire and EMS squads.

Genevieve

Caldwell and the Amarillo Little Theatre

It takes a lot of involvement from many individuals and businesses to keep a community theatre running at a top notch quality level. The Amarillo Little Theatre, one of the oldest, non-profit theatres in the United States, is fortunate to have many loyal contributors and volunteers dedicated to strengthening the theatre arts.

The Board of Directors is pleased to announce that Clarendon citizen, Genevieve Caldwell, is partially underwriting the Rodgers & Hammerstein musical, "Cinderella".

Shelly Marmaduke, Executive Director, stated, "The ALT is so fortunate to have Genevieve's support of this particular production. Her contribution will enable "Cinderella" audiences to be treated to beautiful costumes in the most royal of surroundings. We are all honored to have such a strong arts advocate involved with our organization." "Cinderella", the musical, was adapted from the classic fairy tale. Bringing the magic of this well loved story to a stage, calls for many special effects, which can be quite costly.

Genevieve, recent recipient of a Golden Nail Award, stated "I am very fortunate to be able to assist the theatre with this musical. Theatre is an important part of the performing arts and I hope that many people in Clarendon will have an opportunity to see "Cinderella".

Other sources of support for "Cinderella" include Hasting's Book & Records, Target Stores, the ALT Guild and other various individuals.

8:00 p.m. evening performances for "Cinderella" are scheduled for May 5, 6, 7, 13, 14th. Sunday Matinees will be held at 2:00 p.m. on May 8th and May 15th. Children under 12, bringing four cans of food to the matinees will be admitted at discount prices. All canned items will go to the High Plains Food Bank. Reservations may be made for "Cinderella" by calling the Box Office at 355-9991 or by coming by the ALT located at 2019 Civic Circle.

Benny and Ruth Cloy have returned home from a trip to Bartlesville, Okla. where they visited her brother and his wife Grady and Ruth Porter. They fished while there and caught some crappie but not as many as they would have liked to catch.

Former Clarendon residents Bryan and Nina Armstrong of Madsonville had been to a niece's funeral at Stinnett when they stopped by Friday night to spend the night with Nina and cousin Mary Land and her daughter, Pat Scroggins. They also visited Hazel and Cotton Darnell, the Tom Shadles and spent the night with a sister Myrtle Blanks at Memphis. THE WINDS OF CHANGE CAN CARRY US TO GREATER HEIGHTS Editors Note: This article written by Bright Newhouse was published in The Journal, February 1988 issue.

"Sometimes, when we reach for the stars, we fall short. But we must pick ourselves up again and press on despite the pain. Our nation's in indeed fortunate that we can still draw on immense reservoirs of courage, character and fortitude - that we are still blessed with heroes like those of the space shuttle Challenger."

These words of encouragement were spoken by President Reagan shortly after the disaster of the Challenger crash in January of 1985. This tragedy was a great shock to our nation, and as a nation we mourned the great loss. We learn from such experiences not only as a nation, but as individuals too.

I love the life insurance business, and it has been good to my family and me for more than 20 years. However, for the last two or three years it looks as though we, too, had crashed.

We were comfortable with American-Amicable Life. We took pride in our "Faithful Protection" logo, and we dearly loved our "Dog and Baby."

As you all know that's been replaced with the "AG Edge," but we press on despite the fact that some of our best agents panicked and are no longer with us, having sought shelter from the storms of change.

I am reminded of a great truth spoken many years ago by Isaiah the Prophet and recorded in the bible - "Those who wait upon the Lord shall mount up with wings as a mighty eagle." God does not permit storms in our lives or in our business for the purpose of defeating us, but only for our benefit.

As we continue to learn in new situations of life and in business, we need to observe again some of the great truths in the Bible. "As an eagle stirreth up her nest, fluttereth over her young, spreadeth abroad her wings, taketh them, beareth them on her wings." We are like eagles too, in that we often face turbulent winds in our personal lives and in our business.

The eagle is the only bird that will fly directly into a thunderstorm. Other birds fly away from the thunderstorm, seeking shelter and refuge in the safety of the nest. Turbulent winds cause the eagle to fly higher and faster with less effort, giving him a larger view, lifting him above the harrassment. Updrafts help the eagle to reach great heights as he soars with them.

From this vantage point, his sharp eyes see more, and he glides smoothly in the wind currents at speeds of up to 100 miles per hour.

When the "AG Edge" was introduced, I felt as though I was suspended at a great height, and was afraid of falling. But when I look down and see the jagged rocks, I take heart and know that it's getting better.

I feel the excitement, I feel the strength. I feel that the years ahead will be the very best ever, and I'm ready to learn the lesson of the mighty eagle.

Many of us are like the baby eagle in a nice warm, comfortable nest, sure of our ability to handle problems as they come our way.

If a sparrow or robin learning to fly falls to the ground, it doesn't have far to fall, and likely will land upon a cushion of leaves. But a baby eagle who falls from his nest on the mountain top crashes into the craggy rocks below.

Yet the baby eagle has to be taught to fly, and is said to be one of the hardest to teach. No wonder the baby eagle is very hesitant to leave the nest.

Life sometimes forces us out of our nests, removes the comfort, the warmth and security of the status-quo. We too must sometimes be pushed over the edge to discover our capabilities and accomplish greater things.

You can almost see the baby eagle peering over the edge of the nest, shaking his head and thinking, "No, this is not for me - I have never passed this way and I am not about to begin now. This nest has been my home for a long time and I'm going to stay in it."

At this point, mother eagle takes control, and begins stirring up the nest, breaking twigs and turning over leaves. Suddenly the nest - once so safe and comfortable - is open to the wind and inhospitable. Mother has torn up the nest to force the baby to leave, yet the baby eagle clings to it.

Then the mother eagle takes the next step, confirmed by the bible and wildlife experts - she hovers over the young bird, flapping her powerful wings just over his head. She is actually flogging him, resting for brief periods, then beginning again.

No matter where the young bird moves in the nest, his mother will follow. The baby eagle probably thinks, "What a terrible turn of events this is. These are the wings that hid me when forces threatened, that protected me from the cold, and now they're trying to beat me to death. Mother doesn't love me anymore."

But this is far from the truth. Mother eagle is simply trying to get her baby to launch out and become the eagle he was meant to be.

As the flogging continues, the young bird might think to himself, "I know what I'll do. The next time mother rests those wings, I'll run up on her back where she can't beat me."

He does exactly that, and probably thinks himself smart. But if eagles could smile, mother eagle would probably have a gib grin on her beak as she flew away with her young one astride, because she knows that he'll never return to the nest he's known as home.

The mother eagle will take her baby high above the clouds, higher than he ever dreamed of going. Sitting on his mother's back, the young bird might think, "My, how beautiful this is, truly a peak experience."

And just when he is enjoying life at its fullest, his mother darts out from under him, leaving him stranded in mid-air.

The little bird begins to flap his wings as hard as he can, but they won't support him. He looks at the ground rushing toward him, and closes his eyes to avoid the sight.

Suddenly, there is mother's wing, and once again she bears him up into the heavens.

Isn't this exactly the way life is to us? Sometimes everything is going great - everyone we talk to just happens to need some life insurance, and they listen to us, they appreciate us.

We close the Big Sale; we're on

THE SCHOOL OF PHARMACY at Southwestern Oklahoma State University at Weatherford had its 1988 awards ceremony on April 22 to honor outstanding students. Receiving School of Pharmacy awards were (front row left): Dryon L. Howell, Clarendon, Martec Recognition Award, also received Kappa Psi Best top of the mountain; we'll never see another poor day.

This is only natural. Sometimes we have peak experiences, and other times we are walking through the valley of despair - nobody likes us, everything's against us, all we can think about are the negatives.

At this point, we must remember another great truism: "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he."

Once again, the young eagle is safely on his mother's back. The little bird thinks, "Wow, I never want to go through that again. Mother, if you love me, don't ever drop me again." Mother flies along for a while, and the young bird's heartbeat slows to normal again. Just when he thinks everything is right, mother darts out from under him again, and he falls through space.

His little wings are still unable to hold him, but something wonderful has happened. His wings are stronger - he can flap them longer, and he is not falling as fast.

Time after time, the mother will catch her baby, take him high into the air, then drop him, until he finally learns to stretch those wings and soar through the sky the way

McWilliams Memorial Award. Back row - Alan G. Morgan, Jacksonville, AL, K-Mart Corporation Scholarship; God intended an eagle to do. Even then she will not leave her baby, but will teach him how to build a nest, hunt, and survive.

Isn't life wonderful? I am convinced that 1988 will be the very best ever for all of us who will spread our wings and dare to fly with eagles. Thank God for the heroes who show us the way.

I believe that success and happiness in life is a journey and not a destination - I believe that the thrill is in the anticipation, and not the realization. The joy is in the ascent, and not in the arrival at the summit.

CHOOSING A CHURCH?
 "Do not think that I came to bring peace on the earth; I did not come to bring peace, but a sword... He who loves father or mother more than Me is not worthy of Me; and he who loves son or daughter more than Me is not worthy of Me. And he who does not take his cross and follow after Me is not worthy of Me. He who has found his life shall lose it; he who has lost his life for My sake shall find it!" -Jesus
 To all those who are seeking, or may in the future be seeking, a "church home," we make this plea: Please pause and prayerfully consider whether Christ may not be calling you into a risk-taking, sacrificial, demanding church membership, rather than a traditional, safe, spectator one! Why not become a member of a church where your presence would make a real difference, rather than merely changing a digit or two in the church statistics? Why not deliberately choose for yourself a church setting which would challenge your thinking and force you to delve more deeply into God's word and discover, develop and exercise spiritual gifts you never even knew you had, rather than simply going along with the status quo, maintaining the family heritage and complying with old, worn out church traditions??? We believe that God calls His church to always be out on the cutting edge of life: Taking a stand for righteousness and challenging the morality of the world; Taking a stand for truth and challenging the religious traditions of men; Loving, serving and making a genuine difference in the lives of people!!! Could it be that Christ calls you to the church where you can BEST SERVE, rather than to the one that BEST SERVES YOU? And, above all, shouldn't your own love for Christ & His word lead you to look for and value a church's faithfulness to Christ more than it's mere physical assets!!!

BY MACK GARRISON

Deuteronomy 6:7-9

CHILDLIKE OR CHILDISH?

She was born to a young couple still in their teens. She was healthy, strong, and determined to learn all she could from day one. At three months she began to crawl; at five months she could stand using the aid of her surroundings; at six months she began to walk. Pulling herself up, she stood, and, filled with excitement, turned to look across the vast expanse of the empty room and the task that lay before her. Wobbling and shaking, she poised herself like a great Acapulco cliff diver. Then taking a large engulf of air into her tiny lungs, she launched herself out into the unknown. One, two, three steps. Her miniature legs began to tremble as she struggled to keep her balance, but gravity would finally win out. With a great but small thud she landed on the floor. Rage filled her, then fear, then tears began to flow. Helplessly she struggled to regain her stance, but could not. Hopelessly she cried out, looking desperately for a parent to come and rescue her out of her failure. Then, suddenly, two strong arms encircled her from above, pulling her up from the desert wasteland in which she sat. Now she was safe, cradled in the only arms she knew would give her support, strength, and love.

In Matthew's gospel, the eighteenth chapter, we find Jesus expounding childlike faith to His disciples. What a beautiful picture Jesus gives us of the simple trust we should have in Him.

Notice that Jesus' disciples came to Him and wanted to know who would be the greatest in the kingdom of heaven. Jesus takes a little child and puts him in front of them and says, "Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven. Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven."

How often do we tend to act like the disciples here in being childish instead of childlike. God loves us all to an extent we could never know. He wants all people to come to know Him through childlike faith in His son Jesus Christ.

We must somehow always remember to remain childlike and not childish. We must always endeavor to keep our hearts softened with God's love.

We will all fail, and we will all fall, but we know this one thing, that we can at any time lift our hands to God as a child and just say "Daddy".

Hedley: Home Sweet Home!

By EVELYN MESSER

Some weeks ago Editor Woody suggested that a story about the large number of local people on the Hedley School Faculty would be interesting and worthwhile. In odd moments I have pondered the situation and I hope I have a theory or two that may be reasonable.

I called Mr. Holland to ask for his comment on the topic. He said there was no reason that he could give other than when there has been an opening, there has been a local person who was available and qualified.

When I came to Hedley thirty-five years ago, J.S. Hinds was superintendent and his wife, Frances Kendall Hinds, was a classroom teacher. She had been reared in Hedley and graduated from High school here. Her mother and father had a small business on Main Street.

Mrs. Elva Davenport was the English teacher at that time; she retired in 1954. She was Elva Wiggins Davenport and had lived here and graduated here.

The only other native on the staff in 1953 was Doyle Messer, the vocational agriculture teacher. Although Doyle graduated from Quail School, he had attended Hedley School some and Hedley has always been his home town. Although I didn't realize it at the time, and it was not mentioned in our marriage ceremony, I married the Hedley Independent School when I married Doyle. I began teaching here in August, 1953. He retired in 1984, I in 1985.

Over the years the number of local people who came back to the Hedley school system has kept increasing.

Mrs. Boliver joined the Hedley faculty in 1958. Her mother, Mrs. Tinsley, had taught here from 1929-1947, and Mrs. Boliver had attended school and graduated from Hedley. She retired in 1984.

Mr. DeBord began teaching here in 1956. He too graduated from Quail, but Hedley has always been his home town. He was farming in the McKnight community as he still is. He retired in 1984.

Jewell Quisenberry, who retired in 1985, has always been at home in Hedley. She spent a number of years in the local school kindergarten department. Ida Lou Johnson Dickson is another Hedleyan who lived in the community and reared her family here and taught several years in fifth and sixth grades. Letha Moss Springer taught a number of years and her sister, Thelma Moss Shields, also taught her first year in Hedley. Reatha Ranson Pyeatt, who is now teaching in Amarillo, began her career here.

There may have been others here for short periods of time or at an earlier time, but these are the only ones I recall.

The 1987-88 faculty includes the following Hedley graduates: Glyndol Holland, Supt.; Bryan Hill, Principal; Jon Leggett, Math; LaMoss Springer, Science; Lyndon Messer, Social Studies; Terry Collins, Coach; Nancy Mullins, Librarian; Kay Talley, Aide; and Carole Ward, Nurse.

If my math is accurate, this is 50% of the faculty. If we count Becky Hill and Barbara Collins, who, like me, are "in-laws", and Sharon Wheatly who attended school in Memphis but has been a resident of Hedley community most of her life, the percentage rises to 66%. If Mrs. Wade, Mrs. Longdon and Mrs. Reynolds who live in Lelia Lake community, are counted, the percentage is 83. That leaves only Mrs. Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Pickard as "foreigners" to the community.

Over the years, I have watched the listings of honor students in Clarendon College. If there are any students from Hedley attending, it is almost a certainty that their names will be on the Dean's list. More Hedley School graduates have been valedictorian or salutatorian than have students from any other school. Three of these are on the present faculty: Glyndol Holland, Jon Leggett and Lyndon Messer. Carole Ward was top student when she graduated from Nurse's training in Amarillo.

If our local school turns out top students, it seems reasonable to take them back as teachers.

One time when I was at my childhood home, a friend asked where we lived. I told him that Doyle thought Hedley was the only place to live to which he replied, "If it isn't the best place to him, he shouldn't live there." I have thought about his somewhat philosophical comment many times, and I believe he is right. Perhaps it is the best place to live. No doubt, Hedley is proud of its "products", and evidently they love and appreciate their community.

GTE Southwest begins rental of business equipment

GTE Southwest is now renting selected business telephone equipment to customers through its deregulated division - GTE Business Phone Systems, according to Bruce Cole, GTE Southwest vice president - marketing. Effective April 15, the types of rental offerings will be either month-to-month or under term for two to five years, depending on the type of system.

The rental offering will be only to GTE Southwest customers in towns where GTE provides the customer with local service. All rental rates will include maintenance.

Rental customers will have three options subsequent to contract expiration:

1. Customer may purchase the system at the price established at the time of the original rental.
2. Customer will have the option to remove the system.
3. If the customer does not select to purchase or remove the system, the month rate will be reduced to 50 percent of the then current rate and rental will continue. This 'stepdown' rental rate will also include maintenance.

New tax laws have made direct purchase of equipment less desirable to customer than in the past. In a recent market survey, more than 70 percent of respondents indicated they were interested in a rental arrangement that included maintenance.

"The customer benefits are obvious," Cole said. "Not only are the tax advantages of ownership reduced but the customers need not invest their capital in a communication. They retain their flexibility to move and expand and, more important they need not be concerned about maintenance."

Wigwagging is a method of signaling with one flag. The three motions used represent a dot, a dash and the end of a word or paragraph.

Rx Relief for Wrinkled Skin?

Researchers at the University of Michigan reported in January that they have found a topical medicine that may repair sun-damaged skin and remove age spots, giving the skin and complexion a new look. The report, which appeared in the Journal of the American Medical Association, evaluated a prescription drug known as tretinoin, a topical medicine which has been used for more than 15 years in the treatment of acne.

Fifteen individuals in a four-month study applied tretinoin to their faces and forearms. Fifteen other individuals (control group) applied a cream base containing no active ingredient. Fourteen of the 15 who used tretinoin cream had fewer "fine wrinkles." Six of the group had "slight improvement" in "course wrinkles." There were no improvements observed in the cream base-treated group.

Although some news stories have referred to the cream as a "new youth cream" or "fountain of youth," researchers are being cautious. It is not known, for example, if the smoothed skin will wrinkle again in the future. And the highly irritating nature of tretinoin is of some concern.

ALL Beef Producers: May 10th Determines Your Future

In this year of elections, the last thing you need is someone else talking to you about politics or your responsibility to other beef producers. It's a busy time of the year, and you've got your mind on your operation, not on going to town.

But, on Tuesday, May 10th, if you don't stop for a few minutes, go to your County Extension Office and vote, you'll miss the referendum that decides the fate of the Beef Checkoff Program.

Just a couple of years ago, our industry was being beaten up, and we were backing up . . . taking it. But we got our backs up and did something.

We drew a line in the dust. We began to fight back. And you know what . . . it's working. Many people are eating beef more often, and the newspaper headlines read that beef is coming back.

Now, we're not telling you how to vote. That's your business. But, on Tuesday, May 10th, the National Beef Checkoff Program is going to continue, or it's going to stop dead in its tracks.

It's totally up to you. So take a trip to your County Extension Office and vote. You'll be glad you did.

GREG COLLINS AND WESLEY SMITH

During May 1888 state government moved into offices in the newly-constructed capitol with the formal dedication taking place on May 16, 1888. State Senator Temple Houston, Sam Houston's youngest son, accepted the building on behalf of the people of Texas.

To commemorate this centennial anniversary, the Texas State Library, in association with the Capitol Centennial Celebration Committee, will mount an exhibit in the lobby of the Lorenzo De Zavala State Archives and Library Building.

Featuring original records from the holdings of the Texas State Archives, the exhibit will include correspondence, advertisements, building plans, payrolls, contracts, specifications, receipts and vouchers and original legislation concerning the survey of capitol lands, the construction of the temporary capitol and the construction of the present-day granite capitol.

The Lorenzo de Zavala State Archives and Library Building is located at 1201 Brazos in Austin. The exhibit will be on display throughout the month of May and will be open to the public from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m., Monday through Saturday.

Capitol Centennial Exhibit

More than one hundred years ago a new Texas state capitol was proposed during the 1875 Constitutional Convention. Four years later the 16th Legislature authorized a new capitol building and set aside more than three million acres of public lands to pay for it. Contract negotiations, materials selection, and construction took seven years. Completed, the new capitol was the largest statehouse in the country; only the national capitol in Washington, D.C. was larger.

I am a candidate for re-election to the Clarendon Independent School Board on May 7th.

Chamber of Commerce banquet successful

The annual Chamber of Commerce banquet held Thursday, April 28th was attended by some 175 people. The dinner of Sam Hill's barbecue with all the trimmings was delicious, and there was plenty of food for everyone and some left over.

Mayor David Davidson was master of ceremonies and the group was entertained by Marj Ekleberry and Arthur Harris, two high school students.

Donley County District Judge John T. Forbis was guest speaker. If you missed this banquet, you missed hearing a wonderful speaker.

Xi Lambda Xi presents Leslie Schnauffer as their Woman of the Year. The Fire Department presented a plaque to Gerald Lane as Rookie Fireman of the Year, Jim Sharrar received their Fireman of the Year Award, and the Firebelles Edie Robertson Memorial Award was presented to Tammie Taylor.

Chamber of Commerce awards went to Ruth Hancock, Woman of the Year; Wes Henson, Work Horse Award; Frank Derrick, Man of the Year; James Owens, Saint's Roost Award; and Renee Campbell, Youth of the Year. There are always many deserving of these awards, and the choice is always hard to make, a special thanks for the people who served on these committees.

The Chamber of Commerce would like to thank all the committees who helped make the banquet a success. The decorating committee worked long and hard in decorating the hall in the Texas Our Texas theme and I love Donley County. Those working on this committee were Sammie Doering as chairman and helping was Bobbie Floyd, Sandra Eads, Phil Fletcher, Dan Lewis, Mike Butts, Todd Knorpp, Jim Shelton, Eddie Floyd, Carol Hinton, Linda Welch and Patsy Leffew.

It takes two, your Chamber and you to help Donley County grow. If you are not a member of the Clarendon-Donley County Chamber of Commerce, you should consider joining today.

A special thank you to: Lions Club for tables; Eureda Mays, Margaret Smith, Jeff Topper, Bobbie Floyd, Derlene Graham, Carolyn Altman and Mary Martin for their paintings; First Bank & Trust, Greenbelt Marina, Inc., Hensons, WTU, Dolls and Things, Golden Acorn Dining Room, Simmons Insurance and Sam Hill BBQ for centerpieces.

TENSION HEADACHES

If you're bothered by headache that seems to have its origin at the base of your skull, you may be suffering from tension headache.

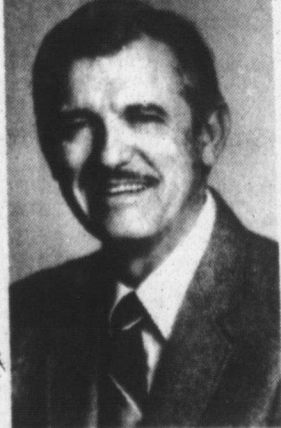

Tension headaches can be caused by an irritation of the nerves in the area of the spine immediately under the skull. These are called the suboccipital nerves. They pass through small openings in the spinal column to muscles in the surrounding area. Any abnormal pressure or dysfunction of neck and muscles can irritate the nerves, causing tension.

The tension doesn't cause the headache. To treat this form of headache, attention should be paid to the bone and muscle structures. They should be returned to normal balance so they can function properly again.

Medication is not the answer to tension headaches. Aspirin and other painkillers may give you temporary relief but they won't solve the problem. Once the source of the problem is found and treated, THEN you can get the relief you need.

ADDITIONAL ANA ACP SIGN-UP

There will be an additional ANA ACP sign-up starting April 18, 1988, and continuing through April 29, 1988. This additional sign-up was established by the COC due to the interest producers expressed concerning top priority practices, such as grass seeding, that have a cut-off date before the next regularly scheduled sign-up. If you have any type of conservation problem, come in and let us see if we can assist you.

FINAL DATE TO REPORT SMALL GRAINS (May 16, 1988)

The last day to report small grains (wheat, rye, barley, oats, triticale), ACR with a small grain cover, and conserving use acreage (CU) with a small grain cover is May 15, 1988. This applies to farms not participating in the 1988 Farm Program as well as participating farms.

REDUCED ACR

If your payments that are subject to the limit exceed $50,000, you may apply for reduced ACR. The released acreage may be used to plant non-program crops or can be hayed or grazed during the 5 month non-grazing period. The deadline for application for reduced ACR is June 1, 1988.

DISPOSITION DATES FOR SMALL GRAINS

Producers who desire to not destroy their small grain cover on ACR or CU have until May 16, 1988, to come in and file a request ($10.00) to leave small grain standing. The acres may not ever be harvested in any manner. If this request is not made the small grain must be substantially grazed out, baled, or destroyed by May 16th.

It is very important to remember that any volunteer small grain standing on May 16th will be considered as grain. If these acres are not substantially grazed down by this date they must be plowed, shredded, or pay a

MEASUREMENT SERVICE

We are now accepting requests for measurement services for small grain crops and small grain cover on ACR and CU. Let me encourage you to use this service if there is any doubt about the acreages you need to certify. This office will guarantee all official measurement services. This is cheap insurance for program benefits.

VA Home Loan guaranty

legislation amended

Recent legislation signed by President Reagan will allow the Veterans Administration to relax downpayment requirements in the sale of certain homes acquired by the VA through foreclosure.

The Veterans' Home Loan Program Emergency Amendments provide the VA with the authority to reduce or waive the five percent downpayment requirement on the purchase of VA-owned properties when it is determined necessary to market these properties competitively. This provision was effective February 19, 1988, the date the new bill was signed. VA intends to use the authority in areas of the country where, due to local economic conditions, the supply of foreclosed homes is high.

The measure also corrected a technical error in earlier legislation where the amount of a veteran's prior use of "entitlement" or loan guaranty benefits was subtracted from the potential guaranty on a new loan. Instead, prior use of a veteran's entitlement will now be subtracted from $36,000, the maximum amount of loan guaranty benefits available to an eligible veteran, with the remainder for use on new loans. This provision applies to all loans closed on or after February 1, 1988, unless a guaranty commitment was made on or before December 31, 1987.

THANK YOU, TEACHERS! Your job is not an easy one and we appreciate the dedication and support each one of you gives to our children. An excerpt from Chalkdust by Elspeth Campbell Murphy expresses the importance of the role you play in our children's lives: For the "Why-Aren't-I-Doing-Anything-Important?" Blues Oh, Father, How small this world of the classroom is.

bounded by alphabet charts and chalkboards, bookcases and maps. And how far this world seems from the adult circles of money and prestige. While other adults work together in those circles, I am alone among a throng of scurrying, chattering little people. Little people and little things. My days are so filled with little things. Today I handed out a ream of kleenex. Marched a miscreant to the principal's office, and put up a new bulletin board.

What am I doing here? Why aren't I doing anything exciting and important in the grownup world? But, Father, there were other "little things" today. Today Kevin came up to me, bubbling with excitement, and said,

"I can read this whole book all by myself!" Today Michelle wrote a story that said: "My dog is brown and white. He is a very nice person." Today Kathleen, who has hardly said two words all year, raised her hand to answer a question. Perhaps years from now I'll learn the results of these "little things" that happened today. Perhaps I won't. But, Father, teach me to take delight in little things, and never, never let me doubt their importance.

Now breast cancer has virtually nowhere to hide

The best weapon against breast cancer is early detection. That's why a mammogram is so important.

A mammogram is a low-dose x-ray that helps your doctor "see" breast cancer before there's a lump when the cure rates are near 100%. It could save your life and your breast.

However, a mammogram is only part of the fight against breast cancer. You should regularly have them examined by your doctor as well.

Although not perfect, mammography is still the most effective weapon in the early detection of breast cancer. See guidelines, and consult your physician. It's essential you have a mammogram -- even if no symptoms are present.

Because all breast cancer needs a place to hide. To fight breast cancer, the American Cancer Society offers the following mammography guidelines:

Women 35 - 39: See your doctor for a baseline mammogram.

Women 40 - 49: Have a mammogram every 1 to 2 years, even if no symptoms are present.

Women 50 and Over: See your doctor for a mammogram every year.

In addition, a professional breast examination is recommended every three years for women 20 to 40, and every year for those over 40.

Have a mammogram. Give yourself the chance of a lifetime.

Portrait of a Mother
A mother can be almost any size or age, but she will not admit to anything over thirty. She has soft hands and smells good. A mother likes new dresses, music, a clean house, her children's kisses, an automatic washer and Daddy.
A mother does not like having her children sick, muddy feet, temper tantrums, loud noise, or bad report cards. She can read a thermometer (much to the amazement of Daddy) and like magic, can kiss a hurt away. She can also bake good cakes and pies, but likes to see her children eat vegetables.
A mother can stuff a fat baby into a snowsuit in seconds and can kiss little faces and make them smile. She is underpaid, has long hours, and gets very little rest. She worries too much about her children. And no matter how old they are, she still likes to think of them as her little babies.
A mother is the guardian angel of the family, the queen, the tender hand of love. She is the best friend anyone ever has.
A mother is love.
