The Alumni Association of the state's oldest university will present the coveted award to Mrs. Caldwell for her leadership "in civic, service, philanthropic and church organizations."

She is a 1942 graduate of Southwestern with a double major in English and in education.

A native of Wheeler and a resident of Clarendon for the past 32 years, Mrs. Caldwell was awarded the Texas Distinguished Service Award for Women in 1979 and was named by Beta Sigma Phi as "Woman of the Year in 1978."

Her church, young people, the arts, and the search for a cancer cure have been high on the list of activities to which Mrs. Caldwell has given her time.

She served a double term as local Parent-Teacher Association president and received a life membership in the National PTA.

She served as a Girl Scout leader and neighborhood chairman and received the group's highest award for volunteer efforts.

Active in the Donley unit of the American Cancer Society and on the board of the Panhandle Area Cancer Council, she was instrumental, through this group, in the building of the Don and Sybil Harrington Cancer Center in Amarillo and was recently named secretary to its Board of Directors.

A soloist in the choir of First United Methodist Church of Clarendon for almost 28 years, Mrs. Caldwell has served as a Sunday school teacher and superintendent of the nursery department there for more than 15 years. She has also been an active supporter of Southwestern, serving as an alumni field representative for her area, recruiting prospective students, and donating a scholarship in science to the university.

Mrs. Caldwell has a strong heritage with Southwestern, since her mother and her son were also graduates.

The awards luncheon and reception will follow a meeting of the Board of Trustees at the University Friday.

Flea Market

Feb. 7, 1981

Hobby shared Sarpalius' enthusiasm. "I have given Sarpalius a lot of hard work with these committees, but Bill Sarpalius is a senator the people of the panhandle can be proud of. I know he'll do a good job for them," Hobby said.

Sarpalius also was pleased with the appointments. He said he felt many Panhandle residents thought Austin had forgotten about them, but that he would try to change that. "The key to power in the Senate, or the House of Representatives for that matter, is the committees. Every bill goes through a committee before it becomes law. If the Panhandle is to be heard from down here, we who represent the Panhandle will have to control the right committees," Sarpalius said. Agriculture, both men agreed, was one of those committees vital to the Panhandle.

Senator Sarpalius also will sit on the Human Resources and Economic Development Committees. "Economic development-I don't think there could be any question about the importance of that committee to the people of the Panhandle or the whole state, for that matter. The economy is on everyone's mind right now."

"We can't work miracles in Austin, and I won't promise any, but the economy and its development is a big issue with me, and with the people of my district," he said. The senator's third seat is on the Committee on Human Resources. The committee handles bills relating to child care, nursing homes, hospitals and related matters. The senator, who grew up at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch said human resources and child care were of particular interest to him.

Sarpalius said he was putting the finishing touches on his legislative program, but had no details today.

"I will say this much-I feel like I was sent down here to represent the people of my district and whatever bills I propose will have them in mind," he said.

DORISE McANEAR, employee of Hensan's receives a trophy from Jim Simmons representing the Chamber of Commerce for "Salesperson of the month". These trophies go to sales personnel for excellence in their work.

New from the library

The five poles will be placed in a safe, supervised area and used only on certain occasions. Plans are to use it as a sort of reward for the smaller children upon completion of special achievements.

Calls have been coming in this week for more information about the Flea Market to be held Saturday, February 7th in the new building. The response is good, so there should be lots of interesting items to buy.

A copy of the MX Missile environmental impact study has been received at the library and is available for check out. It contains 8 small volumes in paper back form and is about 2000 pages long. "Great Harry" written by Carolly Erickson is the first full scale biography of Henry VIII in a generation.

To his subjects he was Great Henry the towering, athletic, handsome king who seemed to possess superhuman energies on the battle field and in the tournament. He was a man of remarkable charm and education, yet with an unflinching air of kingly command.

Based on the records of the period, the story of Henry's life unfolds as he lived it.

This is only one of a number of new biographies at the library.

FOOD PRICES could be affected by a comparatively small U.S. corn crop in 1980. According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture in its latest crop report, corn production this year is 17 percent below 1979 levels. As a result of drought conditions throughout the Midwest—where most corn is grown—the projected harvest is 6.46 billion bushels, down 1.3 billion bushels from 1979. The USDA also predicts a 32 percent decline in grain sorghum production, an 18 percent decrease in feed grain production and a 22 percent decline in the soybean crop. This, in addition to the worldwide grain shortage, contributes to an expected rise in both grain and livestock prices.

SNOW Facts and Fancies

Here are some cold facts about snow: Did you know that snowflakes change directly from water vapor into snow without going through an intermediary stage as rain? The biggest snowflakes ever recorded fell in Montana in 1887. They measured 15 inches in diameter and were at least eight inches thick.

Most people think snow is always white. Not true. On January 31, 1925, gray snow fell on Japan. Scientists said it was as a result of a mixture of snow and ashes from nearby volcanoes. Whatever the color, one thing's certain: snow has to be shoveled unless you like being snowed in. There's the old-fashioned way: shoveling by hand. Then there are Power Shovels. One weighs less than 12 pounds, yet can tackle any kind of snow in any quantity. This Toro Power Shovel has a powerful 6.6 amp electric motor and a 12-inch-wide clearing capacity.

It was certainly a winter to remember—the winter of 1910-11. It included a snowfall to end all snow falls. In a one-month period, 390 inches of snow fell on the mountain town of Tamarack, California.

Windbreaks for Conservation

Severe windstorms can make life difficult on rural areas of the Texas Panhandle. One of the most economical ways we can tame these high winds is through the use of windbreaks.

A great deal of soil moisture is lost during wind storms. Windbreaks are designed to reduce the wind velocity and conserve soil moisture which is so important to farming in this area. This extra moisture at planting time can play a major part in getting that good stand that farmers hope for every year. Then, after the crop is up, the dense stand of trees will protect the plants from strong winds that could destroy crops in their early stages.

Farmstead headquarters is another area where windbreaks play an important role. The trees effectively block the wind to provide excellent working conditions within the perimeter of the windbreak on even the windiest days. It is estimated that a well-planned, established windbreak can also save up to 30 per cent in heating and cooling costs. Two or three rows of trees not only protect the farmstead from high winds but also improve the beauty, privacy and overall quality of life within their boundaries.

One last benefit derived from windbreaks is their importance in providing good wildlife habitat. Strips of trees can provide year round cover for upland game bird species such as dove, quail and pheasant.

A windbreak consisting of two rows of evergreens such as Arizona Cypress, Eastern Red Cedar, Rocky Mountain Juniper, Ponderosa Pine or Colorado Blue Spruce can provide adequate protection. The beauty and effectiveness of the windbreak can be greatly enhanced by the addition of one or two rows of hardwoods such as Green Ash, Russian Olive, Osage Orange and Plum.

The cost of establishing a windbreak is surprisingly small. Potted conifer seedlings cost $1.00 to $1.50 each. Bare roots sell for about .35 cents each. The trees grow rapidly and will begin offering protection in as little as four or five years.

Anyone interested in establishing windbreaks on their farm should contact the Soil Conservation Service office here in Clarendon at 416 South Kearney or call 874-2339 for more information.

The average 100-watt lightbulb will give about 750 hours of light.

TUCSON'S CANYON RANCH

Where Fitness Is Fun And Dieting Is Delicious

While instructors demonstrate exercises for some guests in one of three exercise rooms at luxurious Canyon Ranch, other guests (glimpsed through window) head for one of six tennis courts.

When you're a guest at Canyon Ranch, Tucson's luxurious new fitness and vacation resort, you can spend your days by one of the three pools, basking in Arizona sunshine. Or you can spend your time sight-seeing. But most guests choose to participate in what has been called the most comprehensive fitness and health program to be found anywhere. That's because Canyon Ranch's instructors make getting in shape fun.

The 65.5-million, 35-acre super-site, nestled in the foothills of the majestic Santa Catalina Mountains, offers the ideal solution to couples, one of whom wants to reduce and the other just to have a great vacation. There are plenty of exciting activities for both fitness-seeker and vacationer. Every day there's a choice of as many as 25 different sports, fitness and recreational activities right at the resort.

But that's just half the story. Jeanne Jones, Canyon Ranch's nationally known nutrition consultant, has created menus which make dieting a gourmet delight. "Our calorie control is achieved through portion size," she explains, "so guests who want to lose, maintain or even gain weight—all eat the same well-balanced, delicious and attractive meals."

The Canyon Ranch philosophy of diet and exercise is designed to start a permanent change in lifestyle, rather than just while a guest is at the resort. The reasons for such unexpected diet success at Canyon Ranch are the variety of choices and the fact that they're available to all guests. What's more, special classes in food preparation are offered, so the benefits of their Canyon Ranch experience can continue when guests return home.

A moment for Meditation

By INEZ G. LAWRENCE
"Man shall not live by bread alone but by every word of God" Luke 4:4
Jesus spoke these words during His temptation in the desert. He was very hungry so Satan suggested that since He could perform miracles, why not turn the stones into bread? It was foolish for a miracle worker to go hungry. Jesus relied with a quotation from the Old Testament—a common habit of His. The meaning is clear. There are more important things than bread. One's reputation is more valuable, and so is one's integrity. The setting for the quotation Jesus used was at the end of Moses' life. He addressed the people for the last time and recounted all that God had done for them. He reminded them of their hunger in the desert before they received the manna. He told them their hunger was to humble them and to show their dependence upon God. Also that bread alone would never satisfy them fully. It is interesting that Jesus quoted this text when He was so hungry. The real test for Him was to refuse to use His power selfishly for Himself. Throughout His ministry He never once pampered Himself.

Coping with inflation may have positive outcomes, says Bonnie Piernot, a family resource management specialist.

For example, less money may mean more family interaction, time to get to know each other, to play games and to plan other family activities.

With more emphasis placed on family decision making, there is a much greater potential for creative decisions. Children have an opportunity to learn responsibility and cooperation if they are part of the decision-making team, the specialist adds.

Mrs. Piernot is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"THE ELECTRIC SAVINGS MACHINE"

WINTER It Heats SUMMER It Cools

Stretch your energy dollars—install an energy-efficient electric heat pump

A heating system that's more than 200% efficient may seem like something out of the future. But it isn't. It's yours today, with the electric heat pump. Because when correctly installed in a properly insulated home, the heat pump produces two units of heat for each single unit of electricity it uses. It transfers heat that's always present in sun-warmed outside air into your home during the winter. And reverses the process, pumping heat outdoors during the summer.

Daze of our Lives

By JEAN BURCHETT

I realize now that Hubby was walking knee deep in the midlife crisis before it hit me. Not that he would admit it, but he's been acting as peculiar the last couple of years as I am now. I don't remember any other period of my life to change so abruptly without warning.

It reminds me of my one rollercoaster ride. There I was, gliding along, thinking, "Heck, there's nothing to this". When WHISH! The tracks fell from under the cussed thing and I was dropped into the bottomless pits. I had a sensation of needing to gather my "things" from up there to go with what was "down here", and I clung to the little bar in front as if it would stay if everything else went.

But with this other thing, so often and erroneously called "the mini-pause" there's nothing to hang to. I started breaking eggs in the sifter when I made cornbread. I would dash into a room and just stand there wondering why.

Hubby started helping me remember. He turned off my bath water, my stove burner, my reading light. "You're driving me crazy," I said. "Why are you doing this?"

"Because you're not well," he said. "You need to see a doctor."

"Doctor," I told this kid so fresh out of medical school that he still had beanie creases in his hair, "you won't believe some of the things I do lately. I speak to cardboard ladies holding Pyrex dishes in the hardware store. I freeze the dishrag and try to scrub the sink with a hunk of hamburger. I can't remember anyone's name and call everybody, including my husband, 'Ruby'. What's worse, HE ANSWERS!"

"My mother does things like that," he suppressed a smile. "But have your husband come in for a checkup."

Hubby and I started competing with each other for sanity marks. "Where are the carkeys?" he asks, and pats all the flat surfaces in the house.

"In your hand," I gloat at my clarity.

"Oh. We're out of cereal."

"I got milk," I say defensively.

"I took out your trash," he snarls.

"Good. Just leave yours under the sink."

We couldn't go on this way. After we twisted the third thermostat off the wall I went to Mother for help. "Mom," I looked her in the eye, "do you remember the bad years of yours and Dad's life? You know," I prompted as her brow furrowed, "when sleep came in quantities of ten hours every four nights? You'd pass Dad in the hall at two in the morning and he'd eaten a bowl of cereal, taken a bath, a dose of soda and was on his way back to bed? Well, how long does this nutty existence last?"

She was trying to come up with a reasonable answer when Dad tromped through the room muttering, "Cap, cap, cap..."

"Bless his heart," she said. "That's the third time he's been in for his cap and he can't remember to get it." "You mean it lasts forever!" I gasped. I gave up when she said, "Does what last forever?"

Now there is a solution to everything -- and I had it there, right on the tip of my tongue, but...well, I'll swear its just slipped my mind!

Broncho roundball roundup

By RICK HAYES

The Clarendon Broncos played but one game last week and absorbed a bitter district defeat at the hands of pre-season district favorite Canadian, 61-43 at Clarendon gym (the Corral).

The much larger Wildcats proved to be simply too much for the frigid shooting Broncos as they trailed only after the first Bronco score, an inside jumper by Brad Thompson. Canadian roared back to take a 19-13 lead at the end of the first quarter, and led 32-18 at the halftime intermission.

The Broncos pulled to within eight in the third period on a bomb from the perimeter by Drew Thornberry, but the Wildcats scored again and never looked back.

The Broncos were paced in the scoring department by Brad Thompson and Drew Thornberry with 10 points each. Bryan Hill contributed 8. Eric Boyett was the high man for Canadian with 13. Donnie Rex and Van Morrow had 11 apiece, and Lee Young dropped in 12.

A disappointed but philosophical Ron Holmes had nothing but good things to say for the victorious Wildcats.

"We got beat by a better basketball team Friday night," remarked the Clarendon mentor, "they're well disciplined and well coached. We had several guys down with the bug, but that's no excuse. I think we learned a lesson. I guarantee it'll be different next time."

In other district games, Wheeler upset Shamrock, and Wellington upended Memphis. The Broncos travelled to Wellington Tuesday, and will be in Wheeler to take on the Mustangs tomorrow.

"Wheeler, Wellington, and Canadian are in the driver's seat right now," added Holmes, "But we are improving, and I still think we're a good basketball team. Just ask the 9 teams we've beaten."

The Broncos are by no means out of the district race, as there are two halves of the season, and the race will be a close one.

The Broncs next home game will be Tuesday, January 27 as they host an outstanding Shamrock Irish team in "the Corral". The next game, however, is at Wheeler Tuesday starting at 5:00, with the J.V. girls. Please attend games if you possibly can!

Until next week, keep on dribblin'!

EH Woman of the Year candidates

Frieda Tucker

Frieda Zybach Tucker was reared in Canadian, Texas. She was an honor graduate of Canadian High School.

After two years of college she worked as a secretary. It was during this time she met Jim Tucker. They married in 1950. Frieda and Jim are the parents of three children--Dr. Brian Tucker, of Temple, Leanne, who recently earned her degree at WT, and John a Junior at Tech.

Frieda continued college through night school and when John started first grade she commuted daily to Canyon and earned the BS degree. She has taught fourteen years in Clarendon Public Schools. First grade is her favorite level.

As their children left home, Frieda became active in club work. She belongs to 1926 Book Club and has served as vice president. She is now president of Ladies Circle of First Christian Church and is active in other church activities.

Frieda joined Late Edition Extension Homemakers Club four years ago. She served as secretary one year and is now starting her second term as President of the Late Edition Club. The club has had six new members since Frieda has been president. She has near perfect attendance at club and council meetings and is enthusiastic about 4-H work. This fall she presented the awards at the Food Show. Her club furnished these awards.

She was chairman of the Donley County Extension Homemakers cookbook committee and will oversee distribution of the cookbooks which were planned and assembled around her dining room table.

Lola Bartel

Lola Bartel is the choice of the Lakers Homemakers Club for their "Woman of the Year" and we proudly present her as our candidate for Donley County "Woman of the Year". Lola has lived in Howardwick with her husband, Allen, for about two years, having formerly lived in Sunray. They have five children, all married, four of whom live in Amarillo, one in Brady, five grandchildren, and one great grandchild. My, my, a family like that is quite an accomplishment, isn't it, and certainly commands our respect and congratulations! The two younger children, a boy and a girl, were active in 4-H during their school years, so Lola is very familiar with, and highly supportive of 4-H work. 1980 was her first year as an EH Club member, but long number of years does not necessarily qualify one to be "Woman of the Year".

She is a member of the Rebecca Lodge and First Baptist Church in Sunray. Professionally, Lola is employed as dietician at Thomas Nursing Home in McLean and plans to continue her work there as long as possible. She served as secretary of the Howardwick Friendship Club during 1980 in a very efficient way. Her hobbies are crocheting, sewing and reading. She has a straightforward, cooperative, and friendly personality.

Don't you agree that Lola is certainly worthy of your consideration and choice as Donley County "Woman of the Year"? I believe you do. Evelyn Burleson

Neva Spier

The Young Homemakers Club of Clarendon has elected Neva Spier as their Woman of the Year. Neva grew up in Quitaque, Texas and after graduating from Quitaque High School in 1971, she attended Clarendon College with an Associate of Arts degree. Neva has made her home in Clarendon for seven years with her husband, Mike Spier, and her four year old son, Darren. She works as Chief Deputy in the Donley County Tax Office. Neva enjoys such hobbies as making crafts, reading, and playing sports.

Neva has been a member of the Young Homemakers Club for two years. She has helped greatly with the Club's fund raising activities such as the ice-cream booth on the Fourth of July and working to raise money for the Club's donation to the new library. She has served on club committees as organizing fund raisers and decorating. She has given programs for the Club and has always been dependable to help in the Club's various activities. She has represented her club at Council meetings when the regular Council members could not attend. Neva has been elected as the Young Homemakers new president for 1981 and is currently the Secretary-Treasurer for the Extension Homemakers Council.

I think our Club made the right choice in awarding Neva "Woman of the Year". She was always involved in all the activities our organization did and we are looking forward to her being our new president.

Kathy Skinner

Clara Hodge

Clara Hodge, Woman of the Year from the Early Bird Homemaker's, has been an extension homemaker for 5 years. She is a Charter member of the club and the first meeting was held in her home.

Clara is a full time homemaker for her husband and has two daughters, Lanette Parker of Irving and Sue Cosper of Hereford. She has 6 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Clara's hobbies include

HEATS ON

By KATE DVORAK
When you are on a diet and eat alot of salads, it is often disappointing to discover that your favorite salad dressing is out of your diet range. What do you do if you have no dressing on hand and have to eat a huge salad without any dressing? Try one of these diet salad dressing ideas.

Cottage Cheese Dressing
1 C cottage cheese, not creamed sugar substitute, your choice of brand, equal to 2 TBS sugar
4 tsp lemon juice
1/2 C skim milk
Combine cottage cheese, sweetener, and lemon juice in blender; blend till creamy. Add milk, a tablespoon at a time, till a desired consistency. Makes 1 C.

Gourmet Dressing
1 1/2 tsp unflavored gelatin
1 1/2 C tomato juice
2 1/2 tsp dry salad dressing mix
2 TBS vinegar
Soften gelatin in 1/2 C tomato juice; bring to a boil, stirring to dissolve gelatin. Add salad dressing mix, vinegar and remaining tomato juice. Blend thoroughly; chill. Stir before serving. Makes 1 1/2 C.

Slim-Trim Dressing
1 TBS cornstarch
1/2 tsp dry mustard
1 C cold water
1/2 C vinegar
1/2 C catsup
1/2 tsp paprika
1/2 tsp prepared horseradish
1/2 tsp Worcestershire sauce dash non-caloric liquid sweetener dash salt
1 clove garlic, halved
Combine cornstarch and mustard in small saucepan. Gradually stir in water.

Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly till mixture thickens; cool. Add remaining ingredients except garlic. Beat till smooth. Add garlic cover; store in refrigerator. Shake well before using. Makes 1 1/2 C.

Isn't it difficult to limit your beverages during a diet? Soft drinks, coffee and tea are alright, but what do you do when you need something hot, sweet and rich?

Diet Hot Cocoa
Mix 3 TBS regular dry cocoa

Bronchettes basketball

By BRAD THOMPSON
January 13-Clarendon's Bronchettes, who saw themselves fall behind by as many as 10 points in the first half, used championship poise and a big spurt late in the second quarter to overcome the River Road Lady Wildcats, 51-42.

The Bronchettes trailed by their biggest deficit of the night at 22-12. But after a time-out, they finished out the half smoking, outscoring River Road 14 to 2 to lead at the half.

Vanessa Calloway led the scoring way with 17 points, with Angela Gardner and Kelli Hardin in also getting into double figures with 11 apiece.

Clarendon showed unusual poise in retaining their composure as they steadily chipped away at their deficit, staying patient and working their offense good shots.

January 16-The Bronchettes opened the 1981 District campaign with perhaps their most frigid shooting performance of the season, but stayed extremely poised and determined to pull off a big 33-28 triumph over Canadian.

Despite shooting only 26% from the floor, seemed to score when they really needed to, and their defense would not allow the Lady Wildcats to get the ball inside, where Canadian's big guns were the most powerful.

The Bronchettes, practically everyone's pre-season choice as the District 2-AA winners, showed the little things in the contest that separates the champions from the also-rans.

When their usually potent offense bogged down, Clarendon resorted to a gutsy defense that was probably the best they have played all year.

Calloway led all scorers with 14 points, twelve of those in the first half. Hardin, who was shut out in the first half, opened up a little in the second half for seven points, and Gardner also had seven markers.

JV Roundup

By SPENCER HAYES
This past weekend, the Clarendon Bronco JV boys basketball team had, by far, the busiest three days of the year. In fact it was probably the busiest three days in several years as the Broncos played four games, including three games in the Valley High School Junior Varsity Tournament. The other was the district opener: Canadian.

The opener of the tournament, on Thursday was Motley County. The Matadors fell quickly behind because of a solid Bronco press, and at the end of the first quarter, Clarendon led 16-6. And the going looked easy. Even though the Broncos shot only 31% from the field, they still managed to hit six field goals, three by Ray Crump who hit 7 out of 15 shots for 14 points. And, in the second quarter, the shooting got worse. However, at halftime, Clarendon held a 12 point lead: 27-15. Finally bad shooting caught up with the Broncos. A Matador press and lack of Clarendon shots got Motley County back in the game by the end of the third quarter, as the score stood 33-32, in the Broncos' favor. The Matadors tied the game by the end of regulation play, so the game went into over-

Obituaries

Ruel P. Harmon

Services for Ruel Page Harmon, 92 of Panhandle, were held Saturday, January 10 in the First United Methodist Church with the Rev. Vernon O'Kelly, pastor, and the Rev. Ron Thomason, of Rockwell, officiating. Burial was in Panhandle Cemetery by Smith Funeral Home.

Mr. Harmon died Wednesday, January 7, 1981.

Survivors include his wife, Ruby, of the home, a son,

Ralph Harmon, and a daughter, Georgia Bell and six grandchildren.

The Harmon family were residents of Clarendon for some years and the children attended Clarendon schools.

Bearers were Billy Ray Johnston, Leonard Hutson, Archie Looten, Paul Detten, Jimmy McAneer and Steve Land.

Frank Jones

Frank Jones, 86, died Monday, January 12, 1981.

Graveside services were held January 13, at Rowe Cemetery, in Hedley, with the Rev. Wayne Naylor, pastor of the Hedley First Baptist Church, officiating.

Born in Tennessee, Mr.

Jones was a retired former nightwatchman for Hedley. He held the position for a number of years, and was a long time resident, having moved to Hedley in 1914.

He is survived by a nephew Glen Jones, or Casa Grande, Arizona, and several other nieces and nephews.

rebounds. Arlis Thomas hit four crucial pints, then the Broncos attempted to stall the game away. This brought on fouls. But Clarendon choked at the charity stripe and only stayed alive in the stall with three critical offensive rebounds by John Braxton, who scored 15 points and had 12 rebounds. Finally David Weatherton canned two free shots to put the game away at the end.

The next day, Friday, there was a schedule conflict, pitting the JV against both Childress (in the tournament), and Canadian. The team split up, with most of them going to Valley. But shorthanded as they were, they fell to a strong Childress team, 43-21. Creed Wright dumped in nine points to lead the Broncos while David Weatherton snatched five rebounds. That night, the Broncos took on Canadian for their first district game. The Broncos stayed ahead in the first half, with John Braxton dominating the boards. He had eight in the first four minutes of play to get his start on 22 for the night. He added 14 points. The game was a very physical one, as the Wildcats went ahead at the end of the third quarter, 26-25.

In the fourth quarter, Clarendon could hardly buy a shot, hitting on only two of 12 shots. In fact, over a 10 minute period in the second half, Clarendon missed 14 shots in a row. In the half, they hit only 5 of 25 shots. The final score: 37-32.

After such a poor performance, the Broncos bounced back in Valley to win the third place title over Silverton, 50-32. The game was close in the first quarter, but the Broncos led 11-9, with Brad Woodman scoring 8. But in the second quarter, Clarendon pulled away, scoring 14 points to Silverton's two. Ten of the 14 were by John Braxton, who added 16

TIPS ON TRIPS
Traveling With Children
The delightful thing about traveling with kids is watching their sense of delight. A trip to the zoo is pretty sure to bring that out. Visitors to Milwaukee can take their children to one of the top zoos in the world, with a world of wildlife including Samson, Milwaukee's famous gorilla and 6,000 other animals.

Children who like sports can watch Milwaukee Brewer baseball, basketball with the Bucks, and pack it in with the Green Bay Packers who play half their home games in that beautiful city. There's also professional hockey with the Admirals making it a year 'round spectator sport paradise.

Your children can take special joy in the great outdoors because Milwaukee is a town for all seasons. It has the sweep of Lake Michigan at its front door and minutes from downtown are 115 well-groomed county parks with over 14,000 lush Wisconsin acres. For a free packet of visitor information, write the Greater Milwaukee Convention and Visitors Bureau, Dept. P, 756 North Milwaukee Street, Milwaukee, WI 53202.

ESTROGEN CONTROVERSY

During the past 15 to 20 years, estrogens have been used extensively in the female menopause...namely, "hot flashes". In 1975, the first articles were published that suggested a link between estrogen use and an increased chance of developing endometrial (uterine) cancer.

Several reports indicated that the higher the dose of estrogen and the longer the drug was taken, the greater the chances were for developing this form of cancer.

Recent reports criticize the former studies as being improperly constructed. It is claimed that patients analyzed may not have been representative of those receiving estrogens. It is also pointed out that certain noncancerous problems were possibly misdiagnosed as cancer.

One article in the New England Journal of medicine suggests that there are many benefits to be received from estrogen therapy. These include the prevention of osteoporosis (thinning of bone) and subsequent bone breaks.

The questions related to the use of estrogens may not be resolved for some time. Until then, we will assuredly hear much on both sides of the estrogen controversy.
