STOCK SHOW GETS OUT LARGE CROWD

Bigger and Better Stock Show in Donley County Becomes Important Factor

Hundreds of spectators crowded the Brumley and Rundell barns here Friday and Saturday for the third annual Donley County Fat Stock show which excelled all former exhibitions for entries and interest.

Darrell Bailey with a junior calf bred by Frank Bourland took grand champion honors for calves. Joe Williams with a Duroc Jersey had the grand champion pig while Charles Speed's fine mutton lamb carried off lamb honors.

Bailey's calf out pointed the senior Hereford owned by Johnny Leathers of Lelia Lake in the final judging. Leathers calf placed first in the over 850 pounds class.

Other Prize Winners

Calves over 850 pounds, owners and breeders—Leathers, C. T. McMurtrey; John Gilbert, N. Harrel; Harley Longan, George Sitter; Leland Lewis, Karl Adams; Earl Shannon, J. D. Swift; Billie Cooke, J. H. McMurtrey; J. D. Swift, Jr., J. D. Swift; John Gilbert, J. J. Justice.

Calves under 850, owners and breeders—Bailey, Frank Bourland; Carl Morris, N. M. Maddox; Leathers, J. E. Hunt; Claude McGowen, J. F. Blocker; Floyd Lewis, C. T. McMurtrey; Pete Morrow, N. M. Maddox; Wilson Beck, George Sitter; J. D. Swift, Jr., J. D. Swift; Al Word, Frank Bourland. Group of five—Leland Lewis; J. D. Swift Jr., John Gilbert.

About 80 Pigs

Joe Williams with his red Duroc outpointed about 80 pig entries for first place in the judging. Williams and Howard Strawn, who had first place in the heavy class, compared pigs for the final honors.

Other winners in the pig divisions were barrows and gilts under 225 pounds. 1st, Williams; 2nd, Russell Morris; 3rd, Russell Morris; 4th, Earl Shannon; 5th, Johnny Leathers; 6th, Joe Williams; 7th, Earl Shannon; 8th, Beatty Hillman; 9th, Hershel Brinson; 10th, Eugene Putman.

Barrows and gilts over 225 pounds—1st, Strawn; 2nd, Harice Green; 3rd, George Moore; 4th, George Moore; 5th, Odell Davis; 6th, J. D. Swift Jr.; 7th, Max Rampy; 9th, Howard Strawn; 10th, Nashil Cole.

Fine Litters Shown

George Moore with a litter of 8 Duroc Jerseys took first in the litter class. Max Rampy was second with 8 Spotted Poland Chinas and Durocs crossed. Howard Strawn was third, Joe Williams fourth and Johnny Leathers fifth.

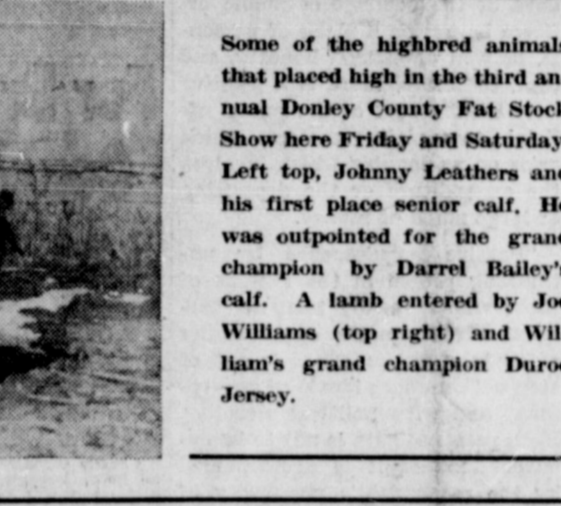

Lambs Make Debut

For the first time in the history of the show, lambs were exhibited by club boys. In the fine wool class, Junior Warren had first, Joe Williams second and Russell Morris third. Others finished in the order named. Claude McGowen, Fisher Johnson, Fisher Johnson, Joe Williams, Harice Green, Charles Speed, Russell Morris.

In the fine mutton lamb division, Charles Speed's entrant placed first and went on to win the grand champion honors. Second was Homer Speed. J. T. Alexander was third; Eugene Putman fourth and J. T. Alexander fifth.

Street Parade

The show was climaxed with a street parade Saturday afternoon led by the Clarendon High School band. Merchants subscribed over $200 toward premiums and expenses for the show. H. M. Breedlove, Donley County Agent sponsored the 4-H club and J. R. Gillham, vocational agriculture instructor is the F.F.A. advisor. R. W. Moore is secretary of the organization with C. T. McMurtrey and Clyde Gilbert directors.

Some of the highbred animals that placed high in the third annual Donley County Fat Stock Show here Friday and Saturday. Left top, Johnny Leathers and his first place senior calf. He was outpointed for the grand champion by Darrel Bailey's calf. A lamb entered by Joe Williams (top right) and William's grand champion Duroc Jersey.

DONLEY COUNTY CALVES, PIGS AND LAMBS TAKE PRIZES IN AMARILLO

4-H and F. F. A. Members Win Over $200 in Premiums; First in Groups of 5 and Carload Lots in Calf Division

The Club boys' hog division held the spotlight at the Amarillo Fat Stock Show Monday. The grand championship was awarded to a Chester White barrow shown by Roscoe Chitty of Custer City, Okla.

Last year 91 pigs were in this division. This week two hundred and eleven head were shown. This should be borne in mind when you check up on the winnings from Donley county. The boys really had a lot of fine competition.

Carson, Armstrong and Donley counties predominate in the swine division. Each of these counties showed more than 25 head.

Donley County Winners
Light pigs: Russell Morris won 6th and ninth; Earl Shannon 7th; Joe Williams 12th; Beatty Hillman 15th.

Heavy Pigs: Harice Green 6th; Howard Strawn 7th.
Litter of five: Howard Strawn 4th; Joe Williams 8th.

Litter of six or more: Max Rampy 4th; George Moore 5th.

In the vocational judging, Odell Davis placed 10th with 390 points. Clyde Gilbert was awarded 8th in the calf division in a spirited contest with exhibitors from several states.

Panhandle Masons Here For Council Work Friday

Visitors from over the Panhandle were in Clarendon Friday night for work in the Clarendon Council, No. 152, R. C. Weatherly, secretary of the lodge, said yesterday.

Youth Files Back to School From Amarillo

Dude Gentry Jr. returning to Kemper Military Academy in Missouri Monday, boarded a plane at Amarillo after looking over the Fat Stock Show. He was accompanied to Amarillo by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dude Gentry.

The invincible Mason county calves produced another winner Tuesday when Mayfield Kothman was awarded the grand champion ribbon for his 905 pound senior calf in the baby beef division of the Amarillo Fat Stock Show.

The Kothman calf defeated a highly finished Haxlett-bred junior calf from Custer, Okla., owned by Jack Scott.

Donley County Winners

Donley county took two first places when Leland Lewis of Lelia Lake had the winning group of five and Donley County had the County group. John Gilbert of Clarendon placed second in the 5 group and J. D. Swift Jr. of Clarendon, 5th.

Other local winners and their placing were Junior Calves—Darrel Bailey, 3rd; Johnny Leathers, 6th; Floyd Lewis, 14th; Wilson Beck, 22nd; Carl Morris, 23rd; Johnny Leathers, 30th.

County Agent Notes

By H. M. Breedlove

Anyone who has not signed a work sheet for 1937 must do so before Wednesday March 16. If your place did not have a 1937 work sheet, one will have to be signed before you can sell cotton in 1938 without a 5c a pound penalty referendum pass, on all cotton sold. This is absolutely necessary and the final date for signing is March 16, 1938.

Come to the County Agent's office at once, if you did not have a 1937 work sheet.

There will be a meeting held at the places and times stated below on the new Farm Program. We only have a little information on the new program and only on the cotton program, but everyone should come to the meetings and get an idea on what it will be for 1938.

The meetings will be held at the places indicated below. Please tell everyone of this meeting and try to be present.

Funeral Services For McCrary Held This Afternoon At Baptist Church; Blanks Rites Set For Friday

Famous Chorus To Sing Here Tonight

Program at College Will Be Heard Here Tonight At Eight O'clock

Baritone and tenor solos will be given in the program of the West Texas State College Men's chorus at a public concert here tonight at the College Auditorium at 8 p. m.

Houston Bright, baritone, will sing "On the Shore," by Neidlinger and "The Two Grenadiers," by Schumann. O. T. Craig, tenor, will sing "In Praise of Tears" by Schubert, and "Calm as the Night" by Bohm. The chorus of about 25 voices will sing the following standard chorus numbers:

"Pilgrims' Chorus" (Tannhauser) by Wagner; "A Song of Winter" by Hawley; "Lamp in the West" by Horatio Parker; "Death Rides High" by Will James.

Four American folk songs: "The Battle of Jericho," a negro spiritual; "Swanee Song," a sea chant; "Sour Wood Mountain," a Kentucky mountain song; and "Turkey in the Straw," an old barn dance.

"Moaning," by Oley Speaks; "Sylvia," by Oley Speaks; "Shadow March," by Protheroe; "Thanks be to God," by Dickson-Salter.

The chorus will be directed by Prof. Wallace R. Clark, head of the music department, whose organizations have long been famous in Texas for their excellence.

Prof. Clark is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, later a student of C. A. Clippinger of Chicago. He studied at the Davies studios in London, England. Because of his outstanding work in the field of public school music and singing, the West Texas State College has been designated by the state for the special training of public school music teachers.

Prof. Clark is the director of the Madrigal club which is known throughout the state. This Club owns the largest library of Madrigal music in the nation.

Clarendon clubs sponsoring this program are the Pathfinder, Les Beaux Arts, 1926 Book Club and Junior Les Beaux Arts clubs.

Robert Reed Writes Home That All Is Well

Robert, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Reed of Lelia Lake, and who joined up with the Loyalist forces in Spain several months ago, writes that he is having a great time. The last letter was received by his parents this week.

Robert has served on twelve days on the firing line, he states. Just what part he is playing in the war game at present, his letter fails to disclose.

Death came to E. L. Blanks, 48, and Joyce McCrary, 17, Wednesday morning when the car in which they were riding was smashed at a grade crossing by a west bound Fort Worth and Denver passenger train.

The accident occurred about 7:30 o'clock at the Stock Yard crossing, east of town. The bodies were badly mangled.

Blanks and McCrary were planning to go to Amarillo for the celebrations. They had been to town and were returning home with the car which had been stored at a local garage.

There were no witnesses to the accident but several persons said they heard the crash. The automobile was demolished.

The car was carried 300 yards down the track by the locomotive where it struck and demolished the railing on a bridge. Blanks body was found by the bridge with McCrary resting about 10 feet farther on. The twisted mass of steel that had been the automobile was deposited over 50 feet from the bridge.

Blanks, a Clarendon high school football candidate, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. McCrary of Clarendon. He was born here November 8, 1921. He had resided here all his life.

Blanks had resided here for over 8-years. He moved to Clarendon with his family from Whitewright in October, 1930. He was born in Grayson County, Texas, July 28, 1890.

Besides his parents, McCrary is survived by four brothers, Clifford, Amarillo; Normal, Silver City, N. M. and Clebert and Ollie of Clarendon; two sisters, Mrs. Mona Wood of Elcentro, Calif., and Lois McCrary of Clarendon.

Blanks is survived by his wife here, his mother, Mrs. Ellie Blanks of Whitewright; three brothers, Jim Blanks of Clarendon, D. Blanks of Whitewright and Shilo Blanks of Calif.; one sister, Mrs. Cecil Henderson of Calif.; six daughters, Mrs. J. T. Ayers, Amarillo; Etta Faye, Amarillo; Mrs. Bernice McCrary, Nola B., Louise and Pauline all of Clarendon.

Funeral services for McCrary were held at the First Baptist Church this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The Rev. J. Perry King officiated.

Pallbearers for the funeral were Raymond Hay, Thad Lyle, Coleman Huffman, Kermit Sloan, Joe Hayes and J. B. Martin.

In charge of the flowers were Dorothy Riley, Johnnie Rhodes, Billie Lou Gilbert and Pauline Riley.

Flower Exchange Is Annual Affair

Will Begin at 9 Saturday Morning of the 19th

Enterprising ladies of Clarendon who take a pride in growing flowers are due a lot of credit for their unselfish devotion to the cause of offering inducements to others to brighten their homes and gardens.

The annual flower exchange this season will open at the Club Room at 9 a. m. Saturday, March 19th. All ladies of the county interested in an exchange, are cordially invited to share in the exchange. "Bring a pot and take a pot," is the slogan.

In many homes are a surplus of some particular variety. This is an opportunity to exchange that surplus for some other variety. Both flowers and shrubs will be exchanged, Mrs. W. W. Taylor stated.

MEMBER OF
 PANHANDLE PRESS ASSOCIATION

IN THE TENTH YEAR.

Nine years ago the 12th of this month, the first issue of the Donley County Leader was issued. Eight hundred and fifty-six had paid their subscription before the first issue came from the press. It is a source of pleasure to note that practically all of this number, and several hundred more, are named on the mailing galleys at this time.

The paper has been under the same management and ownership through the years. It has been a pleasure to work with and for the citizens of this trade territory. That the Leader has continued to expand through the years is evidence of appreciation and its need for continuation.

The Leader has ever championed the worth-while things. It has just as conscientiously opposed those measures it deemed unfair to our people. Through its columns readers learned that it had no faction, clique or ring, or even individuals to favor. Whatever may be ahead of us, the Leader will continue to neighbor with our folks, aiding in every possible manner with that sympathetic understanding that all of us must prosper to have a happy, contented people. If we can't, we shall all suffer the hardships together, if need be. Your interests are ours. We believe in our people and our country. We confidently believe that we shall win over the present obstacles though it may take some time for the return of normal conditions.

MEDICAL QUACKS ON THE AIR.

Fortune telling is not the only outlawed feature carried over the ether by way of the radio to the unwary and ignorant. In a recent survey made by the American Institute of Public Opinion seeking public opinion of radio censorship, some astounding facts came to light.

The idea of a strict censorship was passed up by the many demanding a halt not on vulgarity, stupid programs, programs that involve the ancient "buggar man" in children's bedtime stories. Not any of these came in for condemnation. There was a lone feature that attracted more attention and elicited more concern and disgust. This lone feature was fake medical advertisements put on the air in the fantastic style of an expert script writer. While many of the programs are an insult to the intelligence of a child of ten years, the "curealls" are even more so. Often these programs are put on by talented performers who no doubt gag at the idea of having to sell out so cheaply. Some of the sponsors employ wit, others humor and some include both on a program that excludes from the air programs that could be of much intrinsic value and enlightenment to those who do not have contact with the centers of learning.

The sponsor in any case is being charged a huge sum. Every moment must be accounted for with any form of appeal that will break down resistance against what would be considered a fraud under less strenuous vocal argument. As a last resort, preaching and praying have of late been employed by some salesmen in order to appeal to the finer sensibilities of the intended victims.

Government censorship is badly needed since we don't seem to have any at present. The air belongs to the public. It is being commercialized by the few, and less and less radio owners care to tune in because of a personal disgust for the namby-pamby brand of ballyhoo we are now getting.

"THE REST OF THE RECORD"

BY JAMES V. ALLRED
 Governor of Texas

The daily press has been full of accounts of the investigation carried on by a Senate committee beginning in Dallas and winding up in Austin. In Dallas for nearly three days they heard Tom Clark, a public official, who is now an Assistant Attorney General of the United States, and was a partner of Attorney General William McCraw up to the day he became Attorney General.

Clark admitted that he had agreed to pay McCraw $10,000 for his interest in their partnership, which had not yielded either of them nearly this much the year before the time the partnership was dissolved. He admitted that he had paid the Attorney General over $9,000, some of it in cash, some in checks and some by the payment of accounts for the Attorney General, during the first year he was in office.

He also admitted that during that time he had received fees from marble machine operators and from insurance companies, who were affected by opinions of the Attorney General's Department. The Attorney General claims however, that Clark at no time discussed these matters with him, although he admits that during that time Clark paid him over $9,000, about $7,000 being in cash from time to time.

The evidence before the committee showed that during the first two years of McCraw's administration as Attorney General, Clark's income jumped to twenty and thirty times what it had been the year before. Clark refused to permit his bank to produce his bank account during and before that time. He wrote a letter to the bank telling them if they turned the record over to the committee he would sue the bank for damages.

The committee had asked for these records over a year ago when Clark was still practicing law in Texas, and he refused to produce them. He immediately went to Washington, and got the place as Assistant Attorney General, where he is now and has been since that time a public official.

Clark's attitude in this matter brings to my mind the rule laid down by President Roosevelt when he was Governor of New York and had before him removal proceedings against Sheriff Thomas Farley and Mayor Jimmie Walker.

I have gone back and checked the newspaper accounts of those hearings and find that the President then laid down the rule that "public officials when under investigation must explain their private incomes as well as their official acts." It might be well for us to read some of the things the President then said, I quote:

"As a matter of general sound public policy, I am certain that there is a requirement that where a public official is under inquiry or investigation, and it appears that his scale of living or the total of his bank deposits far exceeds the public salary which he is known to receive, he, the elected public official, owes a positive public duty to the community to give a reasonable or credible explanation of the sources of the deposits, or the source which enables him to maintain a scale of living beyond the amount of his salary.

"While this rule may seem to be an enlargement of any previous ruling by a Governor of this State, it is time, I believe, that the standard of the conduct of public officers be put on a plane of personal, as well as official honesty, and that, therefore, there is a positive duty on the part of the public official to explain matters which arise on an inquiry which involves the expenditure or the depositing of large sums of money.

"Passive acquiescence by unthinking people in the actions of those who shrewdly turn to personal advantage the opportunities offered by public office is out of step with modern ideals of government and with political morality. Such personal gain is not to be excused because it is accompanied by the respondent's popularity of person and great public generosity. Public office should inspire private financial integrity.

"The stewardship of public officers is a serious and sacred trust. They are so close to the means for private gain that, in a sense not at all true of private citizens, their personal possessions are invested with a public importance in the event that their stewardship is questioned. One of their deep obligations is to recognize, not reluctantly or with resistance, but freely. It is in the true spirit of a public trust to give, when personally called upon, public proof of the nature, source and extent of their financial affairs.

"It is true that this is not always pleasant. Public service makes many exacting demands. It does not offer large material compensation; often it takes more than it gives. But the truly worthy steward of the public is not affected by this. His ultimate satisfaction always must be a personal sense of a service well done, and done in a spirit of unselfishness. Standards of public service must be measured in this way. The State must expect compliance with these standards, because if popular government is to continue to exist it must in such matters hold its stewards to a stern and uncompromising rectitude. It must be a just but a jealous master.

"Public office means serving the public and nobody else."

I like this statement of President Roosevelt's as to the responsibility of public officials.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kemp were Amarillo visitors Tuesday.

poo, no rum, witch hazel, hair tonic, hot towels, or face massage. I don't want the manicurist to work on me, nor the bootblack to handle my feet, I don't want to be brushed down, and I'll put on my coat myself. I just want a plain shave, with no trimmings. Understand that?"

"Yes, sir," said the barber quietly. "Lather sir?"

* TEMPLE OF TRUTH *
* By the Apostle *

That sarcastic article last week about having inspectors look after the preachers brought a protest, but it was mild. One barber said there was more barber shops than churches. He counted the dumps and butcher shops. You know these places where they try to shave a fellow with a hoe—or it feels that way when he begins to drag it around over the face.

That all calls to mind that old gag: "I want a shave," said the sergeant as he climbed into the barber's chair. "No haircut, no sham-

We were talking to a man who purchased his first automobile in 1904. It was a one cylinder car and cost $1,500. In 1909 he sold this car for $50. In 1909 he purchased a four cylinder car for $3,000 and sold it in 1918 for $75. In 1918 he purchased a six cylinder car for $3,000 and sold it in 1926 for $40. In 1926 he purchased an eight cylinder car for $3,300 and in 1936 he sold it for $75. All told he had spent $10,800 and got back $240, or two cents on the dollar. The worst bankruptcy cases generally pay ten per cent.

Today, autos are much, much better built from every standpoint, and cost but a fraction of what they did before the days of mass production. If heavy farm machinery prices had been lowered in proportion to what the autos have, every farmer would have all kinds of modern implements on his place.

Back yonder when the depression was at its worst, old Hastoon Yazzie had a soup bone that he loaned around among the neighbors. Beans were boiled with that soup bone (that was formerly a hog jowl to start with), all the way across the country. Finally a lady near Lelia Lake in the oil belt used the bone. That's what ruined it. She used water out of an oil well, and it turned the bone black. After that, no one wished to borrow the bone again.

Moral: Promote oil wells, but keep the soup bones out of the deal.

The young man usually thinks he's a wise guy. At middle age he looks back and considers himself pretty much a fool in his kid days, but that he is getting wised up finally. Old age comes along and he knows he never did have a lick of sense.

A Kansas City paper relates how a car hit a sturdy citizen and bounced to wrap itself around a telegraph pole. We need more sturdy citizens for the benefit of these hit-and-run drivers.

Don't confuse ignorance and dumbness. All are born ignorant and some are born dumb, but ignorance may be overcome.

When a man begins to locate a bald spot on his head, his worries are greatly increased. The poor nut doesn't know that it could be a lot worse. Suppose hair ached like teeth, and had to be pulled out!

And another thing that goes to prove the world is getting better. You don't see these young mothers spitting on a finger and washing their babies' faces.

The optimist says the "world is getting better every day." And the pessimist expresses "doubt about the conditions at night."

An old lady poked her face up to the stamp window of the post-office Saturday and said: "I've been expecting a package of medicine for a week back and it hasn't come yet."

"For a weak back?" asked Ernest. "What do you take for it. I feel that way often when I chase over this canyon country taking pictures all day."

"I'm not interested in your back," replied the lady. "What I want is my medicine."

"Very well," said Ernest. "Please fill out this form and state the nature of your complaint."

"Well," said the angry old lady, "if you must know, I have gas on my stomach!"

NEW INDUSTRIAL FIELD IS OPENED

A new mass production industry, promising new jobs to thousands of persons and carrying with it the possibility of a new power era, has come into being here with the opening of a new industrial unit of the General Motors Corporation. The new unit will manufacture "small package" Diesel engines.

At the same time, the corporation put into operation the largest laboratory in the world devoted solely to study of Diesel engine problems.

Through its development of the "small package" engines, the company expects to make cheap electric or direct power available to remote areas which otherwise might not obtain it for many years to come. Complete with base and wiring, the small engines can be set up with but little more than is required to push a plug in for electric current in the modern home.

The engines, ranging in size from 22 to 1,200 horsepower, will be adaptable for industrial operations, farms, theatres, hospitals, irrigation projects and other developments calling for cheap power. The engine will operate on ordinary low-cost fuel oil such as is burned in oil burners in homes.

Research will continue, the company announced, in an effort to adapt the new power field to automobiles and airplanes. Two factories, in addition to the one here, will be opened to produce the engines.

All Cotton Farmers Urged To Vote In March 12 Referendum

COLLEGE STATION—"It is very important that all cotton producers take part in the March 12 referendum on the cotton marketing quota," Geo. Slaughter, Wharton, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee, says.

The cotton quota plan will require a two-thirds favorable vote to be effective, or a one-third negative vote to be rejected, the state committee chairman pointed out. Therefore, the true will of the cotton farmer can be expressed only if practically all producers vote.

The referendum will be in charge of the county committees, who will provide convenient voting places and will appoint three local farmers to handle the referendum at each balloting place. Unofficial county results may be announced as soon as votes are tabulated.

The polls will open not later than 9 a. m. and will close at 7 p.

m. Each producer who grew cotton in 1937 will be entitled to cast one vote.

Printed leaflets and other information on the details of the 1938 farm program have been sent to county agricultural agents for distribution among farmers, according to Slaughter.

Every farmer will have, before March 12, an opportunity to attend a county or community meeting at which the program will be explained, he said.

The material being distributed includes "A New Farm Act," a leaflet which summarizes the provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, and "Questions and Answers on the Agricultural Conservation Act of 1938 as It Applies to Cotton," which covers important points on marketing quotas, acreage allotments, penalties, payments and loans.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

You Can't Do It!

No matter what you may have to say in praise of the radio as compared with the newspaper, there are a lot of things you can't do. For instance, you can't put a radio broadcast in your pocket and read it at your leisure. You can't save a clipping from a radio broadcast. You can't stop listening to answer a knock at the front door without missing something. You can't get a line on market prices when you have but a few minutes to spare but the program that is being broadcast has another half-hour to run. You can't find out what your own neighbors are doing, for you can listen to the radio forever and you will never hear about the deaths and accidents, the marriages and the births, the fires and the festivals in your community. You can't mark something of interest and send it to a distant relative by mail. And no housewife in all the world can use a radio broadcast for nice clean pantry shelf covering. It's a wonderful thing, this thing we know as radio. But it hasn't taken the place of the home-town newspaper. And it never will.—Westminister, Calif., Gazette.

I take pleasure in writing this testimonial in regard to the wonderful results I have received from treatments from Dr. H. H. Milling.
I went to Dr. Milling, suffering from siatic rheumatism. I had been treated by other doctors and did not receive any results at all. After coming to Dr. Milling and taking the first treatment, I was able to lie down and sleep—something I hadn't been able to do. I was forced to sleep what little I did, sitting in a rocking chair. I stayed and took treatments two weeks and have not been bothered since.
I also was treated for high blood pressure and after eight day's treatment my blood pressure was normal, and has been ever since.
My wife and daughter have also taken treatments with wonderful results.

JUNIOR BEAUX ARTS CLUB

The Junior Beaux Arts Club had their monthly meeting at the club room, Thursday afternoon, March 3rd.

The program consisted of a talk on "Symphony Orchestras" of America by Mrs. Sam Cauthen, and a talk on "Texas Poetry" and a selection of her mother's poems by Margaret Davenport.

A delicious salad course was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Sam Cauthen and Mrs. David McCleskey to the following club members: Miss Howren, Peggy Word, Pauline Betts, Margaret Davenport, Margaret Cope, Mrs. Burton, Mrs. Willard and Durwood Skelton, Mrs. Bill Johnson, Mrs. Frank White, Mrs. George Bagby, and a new member, Miss Hall.

T. E. L. SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS

Mrs. Nolle Simmons was hostess to the T. E. L. S. S. Class of the First Baptist church when she entertained the members and guests Tuesday at her home with a quilting and covered dish luncheon.

At the noon hour the lovely luncheon was served to guests, Mesdames J. T. Warren, J. D. Moss, Genoa Dozier, Harry Blair, N. D. Hudson, W. E. Hardin, Geo. McCleskey and hostess, Mrs. Simmons. Class members, Mesdames R. R. Dawkins, O. L. Poss, Ed Barnes, Frank Whitlock, Major Hudson, W. C. Stewart, C. C. Phelps, Tom Tucker, Finis Harp, Buel Sanford, R. C. Bingham, Ed Speed and W. A. Simpson.

CLARENDON H. D. CLUB

Mrs. A. L. Chase was hostess to the Clarendon Home Demonstration Club Friday afternoon, March 4th with eighteen members and one visitor present. The president Mrs. Fink presided over the business meeting. Mrs. Estlack read the club prayer. Members answered to the roll call with monthly reports and notable state products. Members voted to donate $5.00 to the school cafeteria fund.

Mrs. Mattie Hudson was chosen as the club's mother. Mrs. Chase had a quilt in the frames, so quilting proved a pleasant task for the afternoon.

Club adjourned to meet at the club room March 18, when the Sr. club will entertain the Jr. club. Members will answer to roll call with names of state flowers. Mrs. Chase and Mrs. Van Eaton will have charge of the program. Subject: Flower growing. Picture framing will be demonstrated by Mrs. Fink and Mrs. Anderson.

The hostess Mrs. Chase served a delicious salad course to the club's mother, Mrs. Mattie Hudson and to members, Mesdames G. A. Anderson, A. H. Baker, C. L. Benson, John Black, W. A. Davis, J. C. Estlack, O. L. Fink, M. A. Hahn, Cap Lane, A. G. Lane, J. D. McAdams, C. D. McDowell, A. W. Simpson, Ed Speed, W. D. Van Eaton and Misses Etta and Ida Harned.

FRIENDSHIP CLUB

Mrs. J. E. Mongole was hostess to the Friendship club at her home Tuesday afternoon.

The rooms were decorated with Spring flowers and the St. Patrick Day Motif was used in favors.

The afternoon was spent in conversation and reading of Bible literature.

A lovely ice course luncheon was served at the close of meeting to Mesdames G. J. Teel, J. D. Stocking, H. Tyree, Smith, Ballew, Meaders, C. R. Skinner, Miss Katie Meaders and hostess, Mrs. J. E. Mongole.

WIN ONE CLASS

The Win One Class of the Methodist church met in regular monthly session Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Lon Rundell.

The class has been doing some very fine work worthy of mention, and recently presented the Adair Hospital with 18 sheets, 28 bath towels, 8 tray cloths, 2 luncheon sets complete with napkins, and a lovely floor lamp.

Mrs. Dr. Barcus gave a very interesting devotional, following a brief business session. Mrs. R. Y. King sang a solo, "Hold Thou My Hand," by Briggs, much enjoyed by all. The St. Patrick Motif was carried out in the refreshments served to 18 members.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Barcus.

MOTHERS CLUB

The Mothers Club met with Mrs. Alvin Landers and Mrs. Tom Murphy at the Club Room Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Joe Bownds appointed a committee for the new year book during business meeting. Mrs. Joe Ritter was appointed chairman of this committee and Mrs. Earnest Hunt and Mrs. Francis Brown elected to assist her.

Mrs. Joe Ritter had charge of program and gave a talk on Dale Carnegie's book on "How To Win and Influence Friends." Mrs. Joe Bownds gave a talk on a magazine article entitled, "The House of Tomorrow."

A very delicious refreshment was served to about 9 members.

MUSIC CLUB ORGANIZED

A group of Mrs. Allen Bryan's younger piano pupils met at the home of Mrs. Bryan Saturday, Feb. 28. The meeting was opened with each pupil playing a solo. After which they organized a music club. It was decided to call the club the B. N. (Be Natural) Club. They planned to meet once each month. The next meeting to be March 28.

Refreshments were served to one guest: Cassandra Morris of Memphis; members Dorothy Anne Kennedy, Margaret Ann Jenkins, Guida Myrl Miller, Beverly Gray Stricklin, Betty Jo and Marilyn Bartlett, Nelda Sue Burton, Naomi Morris, Margaret Fay Wadsworth, Frankie Hommel, and hostess, Mrs. Allen Bryan.

CARD OF THANKS

We the undersigned, take this means to thank every one for their loving kindness and acts of love and words of sympathy in this, the saddest hour in our lives in the loss of our darling son, brother and nephew. It is impossible to thank each one individually, and for the beautiful flowers.

89 Candles On Cake Here For Pioneer Mason

With a cake and 89 candles, P. A. Buntin, Clarendon resident for 53 years, last surviving charter member of the local Masonic Lodge and First Methodist Church, celebrated his birthday Monday with open house at his home here.

In 1892 he established here the first funeral home in the Texas Panhandle. He came to this section two years before the City of Clarendon was founded.

He was born in Anderson County, Kentucky. His first home in Texas was in Sherman.

SOMEBODY'S LITTLE BOY

"Somebody's little boy was crossing the street, Innocent, young and fair, He hadn't the judgment of older folks, He didn't see the danger there.

Somebody's boy had a song on his lips, But it died in an instant away; For a motorist ran the little boy down And he died at the close of the day.

Somebody kneels by an empty bed, And fondles a little shoe; Somebody looks through the empty years, Suppose this somebody were you?

Will you watch for the little boys, Drivers, in the city and town? Really, it's one of the greatest of crimes To run a little boy down."

THE COTTON GIN

There's a song in the air when the old gin hums, And the cotton piled high on the wagons comes All day long, all day long!

A song of autumn, of sweat, of toil, And pull of long sacks over dry, hot soil, All day long, all day long!

Humming, humming a hungry call, The cotton gin sings a song in the fall, All day long, all day long!

GARBO, and BOYER ON PASTIME SCREEN IN "CONQUEST"

Seen in Spectacular Drama of Napoleon and the Woman He Loved

Hailed as the most distinguished motion picture in which Greta Garbo has yet appeared, the Pastime Theatre announces with pride its forthcoming showing, Wednesday and Thursday of "Conquest," stirring romance of the fabulous Napoleon Bonaparte and the woman he loved, in which the glamorous Swedish star makes her first co-starring appearance with Charles Boyer, hero of "The Garden of Allah" and "History Is Made at Night."

In the new story, filled with the memories of an epochal period in world history, Garbo plays the role of the beautiful Countess Walewska who forsakes her home and her husband in an heroic attempt to win over Napoleon and thus save the life of her country. Boyer in an astoundingly realistic makeup is seen as Napoleon whose power-mad determination to rule the world leads him to doom.

The picture is the latest directorial achievement of Clarence Brown who was behind the cameras in the filming of such earlier Garbo successes as "Anna Karenina," "Flesh and the Devil."

As is customary in all Garbo pictures, no effort was spared in assembling a supporting cast of distinction, Reginald Owen is cast as the unscrupulous Talleyrand; Alan Marshal is Captain D'Ornano; Henry Stephenson is seen as Garbo's husband; Leif Erickson as her brother; Dame May Whitty as Laetitia Bonaparte, and C. Henry Gordon as Prince Poniatowski. There are twenty-four other speaking roles in the imposing cast.

Two Clarendon Children Have Scarlet Fever; No Epidemic Is Expected

Lama V. Tatum and Richard Van Kennedy students in the primary grade in Clarendon are recovering from cases of scarlet fever, it was announced here today. Young Kennedy is in an Amarillo hospital.

Physicians said today that a scarlet fever epidemic was not expected here and that dismissal of the first grades of the local schools was a precautionary measure only.

The grades were ordered closed Monday when two cases of fever were discovered here and will be re-opened next Monday unless additional sickness is recorded, according to information from the county health officer's office.

Superflex Oil Burning Refrigerator

Many of these oil burning refrigerators are in use in tropical countries as well as in rural homes in this country. The burners are lit only a short time each day, going out automatically after operating about two hours to create ample refrigeration to last 24 to 36 hours.

Requiring no outside connection of any kind and having no moving parts to wear out or cause trouble, these refrigerators are being successfully used in all parts of the world, including remote sections of Africa, India, the Philippine Islands, Central America, and other tropical countries.

An exclusive feature which is said to make these refrigerators effective even under the most severe conditions is the cooling system; that is, the condenser, which provides both water and air cooling. Water is used in the condenser tank in much the same way as it is used in automobile engines.

The refrigerators freeze 40 or more ice cubes at a time, the quantity varying with the different models.

TWINKLING TOES OF HUBERT REAVIS GIVES DUKE SOUTHERN CONFERENCE INDOOR GAMES TO THE BLUE DEVILS

Fleet footed Hubert Reavis whose twinkling toes carried him to fame when he was a one man track team for Clarendon junior college, coupled up with Bill Morse recently to give the Duke University Blue Devils the Southern Conference Indoor games championship at Chapel Hill.

Following is a report by Jake Wade, Durham North Carolina Sports Editor:

Hubert Reavis and Bill Morse, Duke tracksters with plenty of swift in their fine legs and stamina to sustain it, yesterday were the toast of their campus.

Due largely to their brilliant individual performances Saturday night, the Blue Devils, previously fumbling uncertainly and inconsistently in the winter sports, achieved the Southern Conference indoor games championship, finishing two points ahead of their arch rivals, the University of North Carolina Tar Heels.

Yesterday the upwards of 2,000 customers who saw the brilliant three-ring track circus unfolded in the colorful trappings of a gaily decorated Tin Can sports arena praised the fine feats of these two high scoring speedsters.

Reavis' Fine Work.
Reavis roared magnificently to first in the 60-yard dash and the 70-yard low and high hurdles for a total of 15 points, high for the evening, while Morse finished first in the mile and two-mile events to accumulate 10 points.

Reavis, in addition, was anchor man on the Duke relay team which finished second in the final and deciding event of the meet. Maryland won in the relay and Carolina didn't place. It was the Tar Heel's failure to place in this that cost them the meet, for they were leading by one point, 38 to 37 when the relay came off. The relay settled it, giving Duke 49 points to Carolina's 38.

FARMERS TO VOTE ON COTTON PLANS

Boxes For Balloting March 10 Over County

A referendum will be held in Donley County March 12 for the purpose of allowing farmers to vote on a compulsory marketing quota on cotton.

In explanation, County Agent H. M. Breedlove said "this referendum does not pertain as to whether you will have a farm program, but it does have a great deal to do with the king of program. If this referendum is passed by two-thirds of the cotton farmers, cotton produced in 1938 will be eligible for loans, but if it is not passed there will be no loans on cotton in 1938. Quotas deal with acreage and all cotton produced on the allotted acreage will be eligible for sale without penalty. If the referendum is not passed the cotton program will be purely voluntary.

Voting boxes will be at the following places on Saturday, the 12th of March from 9:00 a. m. to 7:00 p. m.

PANHANDLE SCENE IN ANCIENT PAST

CANYON, March 9.—If you wish to know what life was like along the Canadian river five million years ago, take a look at a new habitat case completed for the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society museum here by Prof. C. Stuart Johnston.

The attention of visitors is first arrested by a scene in the foreground showing a saber-tooth tiger killing a three-toed horse. Nearby, eager for the scraps after the tiger has had his fill of horse flesh, are hyena-like animals. The models were made and the landscape fabricated by Prof. Johnston.

Forming the sides and back of the case are paintings which were drawn under Prof. Johnston's direction by Ralph Sheard of Norman, Okla., a professional artist skilled in this type of work. The Canadian river is shown, as are herds of mastodons, horses, camels, hornless rhinos and dogs. The paintings were made possible by C. S. Lambie of Amarillo.

Indirect lighting brings out the colors and makes the models stand out in realistic fashion. The case, Prof. Johnston said, is an original restoration based on fossils on display at the museum. It is one of a number which will interpret for the layman the pictures which are formed in the minds of the paleontologists as they study the middle Pliocene and other eras of life on the plains.

Memorial To Noted Detective

Above is an architect's drawing of the proposed $40,000 gymnasium, which Cotton Center, Texas, hopes to erect and dedicate as a memorial to J. Frank Norfleet, noted West Texas detective. Funds are being solicited now by a memorial association, chartered by the State of Texas, for the school annex. J. C. White, Cotton Center, is treasurer of the association. He reports numerous contributions have been received to date for the building. Many of them have been anonymous.

Inset picture is of Norfleet, who, in 1917, set out to round up a gang of swindlers who fleeced him of $45,000. He was successful in his chase, rounding up all seven men and placing them behind bars. Since then, he has been employed by numerous other victims of swindlers—and has been successful in bringing to justice more than 100 operators of con games, rackets and other swindle schemes.

The memorial building will be erected on a site just a few yards from the original Norfleet ranch.

.78 of an Inch of Moisture Received Here Tuesday

Low clouds Tuesday left at least .78 of an inch of moisture in Donley to run this year's total to 2.13 inches and insured a normal amount of winter season.

Rain started falling in Clarendon at noon and continued intermittently throughout the afternoon and night. The heaviest fall was reported in the eastern part of the county although official figures could not be obtained in any part except Clarendon.

Precipitation this year is recorded above corresponding periods in recent years. Twenty-two one hundredths of an inch fell in January, 1.13 in February and .78 in March.

Miss Anna Moores visited with her niece, Anna Moores Swift, at Dallas this week returning home Tuesday night.

FUTURE

Some sage of long ago proclaimed the fact that the head of a nation may consist of aged material but the heart and backbone is built of youth and its future depends upon them.

We believe this to be a fact. Not through any disrespect to age, but because of the simple fact that after our elders are gone we shall carry on, just as our following generation shall take the lead when our day is passed and gone.

Because of these facts we are vitally interested in the molding of youthful character. We read of all sorts of modern institutions whose sole purpose is to build solid character while youth is flexible.

We hear the importance of moral leadership in our schools, our Sunday schools and our scout camps, and we wonder if that is sufficient unto itself. We wonder, if all our parents realize the "follow the leader" instinct existing in the heart of all youth toward his or her mother and father. We wonder if you realize that lack of visible interest on your part, not deeply hidden interest that lies at the core of every paternal heart, but the kind of interest that takes you hunting, fishing or hiking when you had rather rest your tired old bones, that takes you to church and Sunday school when you had rather sleep late over Saturday's hard day in town, or to a ball game or a party about which you care nothing, may have any thing to do with that youngsters indifferent attitude toward his school work or school play, toward his or her misconduct and after complete lack of respect for right and wrong.

You love your children, certainly, and you are deeply interested in all their activities. But do you take the trouble to let them know, in actual word and action, of your pride and approval, as regular as you make known, in a loud voice, your disapproval of things that displease you?

Check your schools, your churches, and your institutions of every sort, sure, check them well, we must have proper leadership before our American youth, but above all, parents, don't forget to check your selves occasionally. Are you expecting your institutions to pattern and mold and finish the character of young America? Or are you depending on them to maintain and help to finish a character that you yourself are working diligently on at home.

It's all worth a thought now and then. Along this line of thought, we are reminded of a beautiful piece of logic, based on the importance of the family kitchen table in the character building of American youth. This piece is printed in the editorial section of the March-April "Furrow" and in conclusion we should like to pass a short sketch of it on to you.

"From dawn until bedtime, around the tables in millions of American farm homes, the future is made."

May we add: Future is one of the most far-fetched words in the English language. History has told us of "Future" making and breaking nations, of making boys and girls of today into great and important men and women of tomorrow, while it sent others to ruin disgrace, prison and the hangman's noose.

Your handwork produced around the kitchen table (or any where you find it possible to exercise praise and good influence) may help to define the word "Future" as meaning a noble citizen, being one among many of a great nation.

Your careless, negligence or your honest timidity in showing interest may change the same word into one portraying an individual in conflict with human society, with his hand already dipped in disgrace, supporting a slipping nation, a product of his own weakness, and of the neglect of a former generation.

"From dawn until bedtime, around the tables in millions of American farm homes, the 'Future' is made."

Class Report

Primary Room.
The first and second grades finished their Dutch village in the sand tables last week. It is certainly a pretty village and they have several guests in to see it.

Intermediate Incidents
Silhouettes of boats on the Zuyder Zee and pictures of tulips, Dutch windmills, boys and girls have drawn by intermediate pupils to be used in decorating our room this week. We are also learning a song "The girl on the Little Blue Plate," in connection with our study of Holland this month.

The third grade pupils are having a contest in reading and spelling which they call "The Wind Marches on." Pictures of boys and girls marching in the wind are given to each pupil who makes 100 in either subject. These pictures are pasted on paper and form a border around the bulletin board. The one who pastes the most boys and girls on the border will be the winner on reading and spelling respectively.

EXOTIC RITUALS

By H. V. Crumley

The strange ritual that we will learn today has not happened nor will it happen if the Word of God be true. This one is taken from the belief of the Mohammedans. Mohammed was a man born in Mecca, Arabia, 570 A. D. His followers believe him to be a prophet sent from God. He was subject to epileptic fits. This will account for his strange teachings and his claiming to be sent from God.

The Mohammedans believe and teach that at the final judgment when all the families of earth shall be judged, Mohammed will return to earth and will set on a rock that projects from the literal walls of Jerusalem, just opposite the Mt. of Olives to the west. They teach that at the same time Jesus will also return and set on the Mt. of Olives, just across to the east from where Mohammed will sit. There will be a small wire drawn from Jesus on the Mt. of Olives, to Mohammed on the walls of Jerusalem. All the people of the earth, both those alive and those raised from the dead, will be forced to walk this wire, or try to walk it. All faithful Mohammedans will be guarded by angels that will not let them fall off, but all Christians (which they consider infidel dogs) will fall off and in falling will land in Hell.

As you will gather from the above, the Mohammedans hate for all followers of Christ, is only surpassed in its passion, by their love for Mohammed and his teaching which are strange indeed.

Mann Popular Speaker Over His Native State

Gerald C. Mann, candidate for attorney general, was invited this week to make a number of non-political talks including addresses at two meetings attended by boys.

Speakers last month at an Older Boys' Conference arranged by the Y.M.C.A. he was invited by the same organization to speak at a second conference arranged for boys of Southeast and Southwest Texas, to be held in Galveston from Friday until Sunday. The problems of high school age boys will be discussed at the conference.

Mann was the chief speaker at a Father and Son banquet for Jewish boys and their fathers at Temple Emanu-El in Dallas Thursday night, March 3rd.

As Independence day speaker at Decatur and Plano Wednesday he declared that the stirring history of Texas should inspire the people of this state to meet their responsibilities as citizens. He will talk Sunday morning in the First Methodist Church at Galveston.

Slaughter Explains Practical Application of New Farm Act

COLLEGE STATION—The new farm act continues and strengthens the provisions of the Agricultural Conservation Program of the past two years, and at the same time provides a means of controlling the production of cotton and other major crops, according to Geo. Slaughter, Wharton, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee.

Control of cotton and other major crops is provided by marketing quotas, which in the case of cotton, will apply to the 1938 crop unless rejected by more than one-third of the cotton producers voting in the March 12 referendum. If the cotton marketing quota is rejected, the conservation feature will still be in effect.

Cotton loans at the rate of 52 to 75 percent of the parity price are provided by the act, but will not be offered if the quota is rejected. If the quota is accepted, each cotton farm will be allotted a cotton acreage from the county acreage quota. A producer's marketing quota will be the actual production of his allotted acres or the normal production of his allotted acreage, whichever is higher.

This means, Slaughter says, that a farmer who does not exceed his acreage allotment may sell without penalty all the cotton he produces, regardless of the amount. Sales in excess of marketing quotas when the producer has knowingly planted more than his acreage allotment will be taxed at two cents a pound, with the buyer collecting the tax.

"A farmer who does not cooperate with the program if market quotas are approved will lose all agricultural conservation payments, his cotton price adjustment payment to be made on the 1937 crop, and the chance to obtain a full loan on the marketing quota for his farm," Slaughter pointed out.

John H. Bulls returned Sunday from a visit with a son at Wink.

Mrs. Fred Wewerka and two sons of Elreno, and Misses Helen and Mildred Martin of Pampa and Oklahoma City respectively, visited in the T. M. Shaver and Bill Patman homes over the week end.

Shamrock Gets Greenbelt Golf Tournament

The Cole Creek County club's links will be the scene of the annual Greenbelt Golf Association's tournament May 23-24-25-26, according to a decision reached by directors at a meeting in Childress Sunday. Shamrock and Clarendon entered bids for the event which has been held for the past few years at Quanah.

The session was presided over by President Paul Vinson of Paducah and attended by 11 directors. W. H. Cooke Jr. and Alex Cooke attended from here.

Mrs. R. Y. King and Mrs. Lon Rundell spent Friday in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brumley are expected home Friday after spending ten days in Tennessee.

SCHOOL NOTES

By Geo. W. Kavanaugh

All teachers of the county should have the opportunity to attend the teacher's meet at Canyon March 18th and 19th. This meet is to take the place of the Teacher's Institute which was disposed of some time ago. All trustees should allow the teachers to dismiss their school Friday, March 18th provided they attend the meet at Canyon. Trustees should insist that teachers attend such lectures that will be offered at Canyon thereby inspiring them to render the best services possible. For the benefit of our schools, let's make the attendance from Donley County the best possible this year.

Trustees who desire to do so may call for their Election supplies at the County Supt's office Sat. March 12th.

Mr. Hartzog, director of Basketball, announced that the Interscholastic Basketball meet will be held at Lelia Lake next Saturday, March 12th.

Miss Lucille Polk was elected as director of Rhythm Band for the County. All teachers who wish to enter this event please notify Miss Polk of Clarendon.

Mr. Lane was appointed president of the State Teachers' County Unit. Mr. Raymond Wilson is to be secretary, provided he is successful in making bond.

year. Mr. Todd seemed to have a wonderful memory of the police system of St. Louis. From the description he gave of the interior of the cells no one would doubt that he was there in person.

Miss Lucille Polk also gave an interesting talk on a trip which she made to the Catalina Island. She gave a good description of the many sights to be seen at the Island. Pictures of the Island were passed around as she made her talk. "The glass bottom boat which enabled one to see the animals and the vegetation of the ocean bottom was one of the most colorful scenes I have ever witnessed Miss Polk said. She stated that she hopes to make the trip again in the near future.

HERE'S A WHOPPER! Believe It or Not?

The following story entitled "A Modern Jonah" appeared in the press bulletin of the U. S. navy recruiting office at Des Moines:

"In February, 1891, near the Falkan Islands, two whaleboats were attacking with harpoons a large whale which suddenly capsizeed one of the boats with a strike of his tail. One of the crew, James Bentley, was lost. The whale was finally harpooned and made fast alongside the ship. The next day after cutting the mammel open the men hauled the stomach of the whale, as usual, aboard the ship. Inside the stomach was Bentley. He was alive but unconscious. He said that he had had difficulty in breathing but that the intense heat and the scare caused him to faint."

PAMPA BUSINESS SCHOOL

"I Cannot tell a lie," said the Advertisement

A precept every good advertisement knows is: "I cannot tell a lie—and get away with it." Even if it wanted to stretch the truth, just a teeny bit, that wouldn't be smart business. For, in that way, more people would discover the exaggeration, more people would be off that product or that store for life.

Advertisements, then, are essentially truthful. If not from moral scruples, then on a hard-boiled basis of good business practice.

Yes, you can trust the advertisements in this paper. Make it a habit to read them, along with the other news. They will save your time. Save your steps. Save the pressure on the family budget that must see you through until next pay-day.

In the columns of this newspaper, the show-windows of the town's stores march before your eyes in review. You relax in your chair, enjoy a preview of all the nice things on sale down-town. You enter the stores with your mind more than half made up.

SCORES OF DONLEY COUNTY PEOPLE ATTEND MOTHERINLAW CELEBRATION

Early Wednesday Highway 5 was teeming with autos carrying interested citizens bound for Amarillo to do honor to the Fifth Annual Motherinlaw celebration. It is said that about half of the citizens of Clarendon were in attendance. This must be a fact because familiar faces were everywhere in evidence among the one hundred and fifty thousand or more visitors that swarmed the metropolis of the plains Wednesday.

The Clarendon band in the big parade was led by Homer Mulkey in an auto accompanied by a number of local young ladies whose names are not obtainable as we go to press due to the absence from town of Mr. Mulkey, and followed by the Clarendon High School Band directed by bandmaster Ray Robbins. The Clarendon band compared very favorably in appearance and musical skill with the many crack bands from this and other states in the mammoth parade.

Mrs. O. L. Fink, president of the Motherinlaw Club here alone was honored with a seat on the large ship in the parade carrying some five hundred mothersinlaw.

Among the large number in Amarillo Wednesday from here were Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Pickering, Mrs. L. T. Burton, Mr. and

Throngs of Friends Pay Tribute To Lee Casey's Memory

Funeral Service Conducted At First Christian Church Sunday

As the funeral hour arrived, all the seats were taken and practically all the standing room in the First Christian church at 4 p. m. The pastor, Rev. Robt. E. Austin was assisted by Rev. J. Perry King, pastor of the Baptist church. Wilfred Hott, choir leader, as a special number, sang "Does Jesus Care," with Mrs. R. E. Austin at the piano. Attending the casket were G. L. Green, Bill Ray, Frank White Jr., Dick Chunn, Roy Clappitt and Homer Parsons.

Both ministers, personal friends of James Lee Casey, paid tribute to his honesty, industrious habits, christian living, kindness and fidelity. Lee Casey, born at Arlington, was brought to Clarendon a few months later. Practically all of his life of thirty-nine years was there spent in Clarendon where he was esteemed as a highly respected citizen. For 26 years he was an employe of Homer Mulkey in the picture show business. Mr. Mulkey always trusted him implicitly, appreciated his skill and the two were bosom friends through the years.

About eleven o'clock Friday forenoon, a pistol shot was heard. Mr. Mulkey and Lee Bell in the building attending to the usual routine of duties, rushed to the projection booth only to find Lee Casey unconscious with a bullet wound just below the heart. He was rushed to Adair hospital in a Buntin ambulance where he expired about 2 a. m. Saturday. A note was found in the booth referring to his ill health, and that he thought it best to get out of the way and not become a dependent.

Lee Casey, unmarried, had been the mainstay of the family since his early manhood. He was calm and collected, a man of few words, attended to his duties faithfully and bore his afflictions with patience. He is said to have been informed recently that there was no hope of preventing blindness that was gradually being added to his worries.

The Lee Casey that stepped into the booth at that fateful moment was not the Lee Casey whom his friends knew. It was a man with a distraught mind, clouded and benumbed with worries through years, and recently beset with oncoming blindness. Lee, as we knew him, had already passed on. There was naught left but an irresponsible subconscious mind to guide his actions. The kindly-mannered man whose nature over-flowed with human sympathy, had become a nonentity. His friends feel deeply the loss. The many whom he had helped, and those who have felt the joy of his charitable contributions will miss him. Lee Casey today becomes a sweet memory within the minds of relatives and friends.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim H. Casey, two sisters Miss Roxie Casey and Mrs. Clarence Pipes of Clarendon, and a brother, Alan Casey of Memphis, Texas.
