BENEFICIAL RAINS FALL IN COUNTY

Precipitation Brings Total For Year to 7.74 Inches

Three days of rain this week drenched Donley County farm and range land, greatly aiding spring planting and assuring ranchers a good grass crop.

Over 2 1/2 inches of moisture was officially recorded in Clarendon with heavier precipitations in other sections of the county.

Two and seventy one hundredths of an inch was received here to bring the year's total to 7.74. The total, however, is 1.69 short of the first five months in 1937.

Almost 7 inches fell in Clarendon during May of last year.

Comparative figures for 1937-38 are as follows:

	1937	1938
January	.40	.22
February	.00	1.18
March	1.00	1.88
April	1.15	1.76
May	6.88	2.70
Total	9.43	7.74

With the match all square and the stage all set for the grand finale, both gathered in par fours on the 36th to send the tilt into extra innings.

Greene missed a chance for the cup on 36 when his third shot from off the edge of the green, rimmed the cup and Merchant was down in four for a halve.

After his superb exhibition, Greene's losing 6 on the 38th was a surprise. He had a nice chance for (See MERCHANT WINS, Page 8)

POPPY DAY TO BE OBSERVED MAY 28

Poppy Day, memorial for World War dead, will be observed in Clarendon May 28, according to Mrs. Ralph Andis, of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Yearly, poppies are sold by the Auxiliary to further welfare work of disabled veterans, their families and the families of the dead.

The memorial flowers are made by disabled soldiers, working in government hospitals and in convalescent workrooms maintained by the American Legion Auxiliary.

"The poppy was chosen as the memorial flower for the war dead because it grew where they fell," Mrs. Andis said. "Every American who wishes to honor the war dead and aid the war's living victims, should wear a poppy on May 28th," she concluded.

Downs Paul Greene In Finals Tuesday

Challenger Makes Great Rally To Pull Even On 35 But Fails On Last

By DICK COOKE

For the fourth time Ira Merchant has been crowned city golf champion of Clarendon, but he had to stave off a scorching last minute rally by his youthful opponent, Paul Greene, for a 1-up, 38 hole, victory in the finals of the 11th annual tourney Tuesday.

Greene staged one of the greatest comebacks in the history of the meet when he blazed a subpar 69 on the last 18 of the regulation 36 hole match and picked up a deficit of 5 holes that he had spotted Merchant in the morning round.

The challenger however, saw his beautiful uphill battle over the water soaked course, take wings and fly away when he wavered on the 38th and needed six strokes on the par five hole.

Five down at the start of the last 18, Greene's cause looked hopeless against the steady stroking veteran when Merchant holed his approach on 19 to go six up with Halving 28, 29 and 30, with pars, the black-haired boy turned on the heat to take four out of the next five holes as the champion weakened. He took 31 with a birdie, halved 32 with a par, pared 33 and 34 for wins, and Merchant conceded 35 to a par 4 when he got in trouble in a plowed field.

With the match all square and the stage all set for the grand finale, both gathered in par fours on the 36th to send the tilt into extra innings.

Greene missed a chance for the cup on 36 when his third shot from off the edge of the green, rimmed the cup and Merchant was down in four for a halve.

After his superb exhibition, Greene's losing 6 on the 38th was a surprise. He had a nice chance for (See MERCHANT WINS, Page 8)

TRUSTS AND MONOPOLIES.

President Roosevelt comes out boldly against trusts and monopolies when he says "concentration of private power exists today without equal in history." Quoting him further, he says:

"Unhappy events abroad have retaught us two simple truths about the liberty of a Democratic people," he said.

"The first is that the liberty of a democracy is not safe if the people tolerate the growth of private power to a point where it becomes stronger than their Democratic state itself. That, in its essence, is Fascism—ownership of government by an individual, by a group, or by any other controlling private power.

"The second truth is that the liberty of a democracy is not safe if its business system does not provide employment and produce and distribute goods in such a way as to sustain an acceptable standard of living.

"Among us today a concentration of private power without equal in history is growing."

This "concentration" idea of the President could easily be corroborated by the testimony of the newspaper profession, or any line using paper. Mills set an exorbitant price on their news print, for instance, and then compel the distributors to charge a price set by the mills. These mills are located in Canada, for the present, the milling interests of the States claiming that wood pulp cannot be obtained in the States.

ON MANY FRONTS TEXAS ADVANCES.

If we were asked on how many fronts Texas is advancing, we would be sure to mention education, public health, tourist attraction, oil development, highways, reforestation and poultry and dairying. We would not insist that this list is complete, but it is encouraging. We are moving forward in grand old Texas. We are big enough to be moving along a lot of lines that would include natural resources in which development has not yet been started. Best of all, Texas is looking steadily forward to a greater future with the courage of the noble men and women who established our state under Anglo-Saxon rule.

CLARENDON MISSIONARY TO SOUTH AMERICA WRITES ACCOUNT OF TRIP

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article was written especially by request for the Donley County Leader by Miss Vada Waldron, local girl, who recently accepted a Baptist missionary post in Argentina, S. A.

By VADA WALDRON

We had a lovely sea voyage to Argentina. Due to rather calm sea almost all of the way, we were able to arrive in Buenos Aires one day earlier than we had expected. We sailed from New Orleans, Louisiana December 11th, and our first stop was in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil December 28th. We were there about 24 hours. This is a beautiful harbor and is very interesting going in and out. We had an enjoyable sight seeing trip over part of the city. That was the time of year for it to be very hot there, but it had rained just before we arrived, and we were comfortable while we were there. Our next stop was for 12 hours in the port of Santos, Brazil, and while there, we had a trip over a part of Santos and then over across mountains to Sao Paulo, Brazil about 50 miles away. On this trip we saw many beautiful and interesting things. Having arrived in Montevideo, Uruguay on Sunday, January 2, we had the privilege of attending three different religious services. We were in this port 24 hours and we saw much of the city. We set sail again January 3, and landed in Buenos Aires, Argentina January 4th. Here we also had a very interesting sight seeing trip in this city. We visited with missionaries in Rio de Janeiro, Montevideo, and Buenos Aires.

I came on the train from Buenos Aires to Mendoza (20 hour trip) and arrived here January 9th. I am delighted with Mendoza, and am happy here. It is a real pretty and interesting place, I think. The population of Mendoza is 75,700 and the population of Godoy Cruz is 26,000. These two join, but they have separate city governments. Because of such a small amount of rainfall in this province, this would be almost a desert around here were it not for the wonderful irrigation system they have using the melted snows from the mountains. We are only six miles from the Andes Mountains; we often see snow on some of the peaks even though it has been summer here.

These people love parks and they have several here. One of them is especially large and beautiful, and there are so many things of interest in it; the largest cactus garden in South America, and one of the largest in the world, is in this park. Another thing of much interest is the "Cerro de la Gloria," a high hill on which is erected a very large monument in memory of General San Martin and his army who freed Argentina from Spain and then went across and helped to free Chile.

There are many beautiful trees and flowers here. The principal kinds of trees are weeping willows, cottonwood, pepper trees, elm, catalpa, eucalyptus, poplar, locust, oleander, magnolia, palm, and several varieties of evergreens. They have about every kind of flower here that is grown there, and a few other kinds besides. I surely have enjoyed the delicious fruits, and there has been such an abundance of them. The principal kinds are peaches, pears, plums, figs, apricots, apples, cherries, grapes, and olives. Also some English walnuts and almonds are grown here. Since this is a noted grape growing section, there are many, many vineyards as one would expect. I was told that there are 20 main varieties of these grapes. The cantaloupes are especially delicious, but the watermelons are not so good.

The main animal life around here are guanacos, horses, cows, goats, sheep, dogs and rabbits.

There are still seen a few remnants of the earthquake in Mendoza in 1861 when 10,000 people were killed.

Of course I do not know many of the people here yet, but the few that I do know and the others whom I have met seem to be very friendly.

We are having autumn now and will soon have winter, while you are having spring and will soon have summer. I am sure that everything is pretty and green there now.

COTTON ALLOTMENTS SET

COLLEGE STATION, May 18.—Cotton acreage allotments have been set for all cotton farms in 133 Texas counties, according to Geo. Slaughter, Wharton, chairman of the state AAA committee, who pointed out that the state AAA office at Texas A&M College was releasing the allotments at the rate of 8 to 10 counties a day.

Mrs. R. Younger of Amarillo was in Clarendon this week.

We have all heard that a man is done for at 40, or some of us have heard it that way. The cat is out of the bag as it were. With a small gadget, a scientist has discovered that most men at forty, and certainly not later than 45, is subject to and has "fortyphobia." Man around this age becomes a poor risk, a sorry investment and almost a dead loss, according to the inventor of the gadget, Dr. Sokloff.

Down in the Valley there is a county noted for the three things noted in that heading. They don't stop at that, either. They want to cut off a corner of the state and have gone so far as to cristen it "Texish" without getting permission. The great seal includes a bottle of gin, dice and a chorus girl. Instead of wine, women and song, the new state (to be) offers home brew, mama and the radio. The new state is isolated on the south by Mexico, King ranch on the north, the Gulf on the east and a major oil company on the west. A prominent and leading citizen of that section who has been arrested for every crime known to man and never convicted by his friends, made a talk in which he announced: "We have seceded, formed the 49th state and propose to go to hell and bankruptcy with the mermaids of the flood waters rather than to continue a part of a state that kicks every time a man is murdered, or a newcomer high-jack on a land deal and thrown into the river. We demand free action and don't ask for, neither will we tolerate free speech or free press." Hot ziggity and hurrah for the free state of Texish!!!!

I once knew a seedy old codger with shaggy whiskers and hair on his neck two inches long. He walked bow-legged and could hardly read. Moonsnipers and Bootleggers Still Keep Busy In Texas

AUSTIN, May 18.—Anyone who doubts the existence of moonsnipers and bootleggers in Texas might glance at these figures.

Despite the fact that prohibition came to an end in this State more than three years ago liquor inspectors in the last fifteen months have captured and destroyed.

Nearly 1,000 illegal stills. More than 6,000 gallons of contraband whiskey.

More than 250,000 gallons of mash.

The liquor and mash represented a potential tax evasion of more than $3,500,000.

Thousands of gallons of home-brewed beer, of which no accurate record is kept, also have been found and destroyed.

The Liquor Control board has two still squads which, with Federal alcohol tax unit men and local officers, are kept on the run raiding moonsnipers' lairs which are found in about equal numbers in dry and wet territories.

I, E. P. Deahl, do certify that I am the father of Elaine Deahl, who was afflicted with Chorea (St. Vitas Dance) for three years and seven months; confined to her bed, unable to walk at all. In fact, she could not raise her hand, and after three treatments from Dr. Milling and staff she walked across the lobby of the Sanatorium, and after five treatments she was able to walk up a flight of stairs, and after a series of treatments over a period of only a few weeks she has been much improved, and has gone to school ever since, making her grades and doing well in school.

My wife was also afflicted with Leakage of the Heart, and after a few treatments from Dr. Milling and staff she was much improved, and was able to drive a car after one week's treatment.

Myself and my family have received such wonderful results from the treatments we received at the Milling Sanatorium that it is impossible for us to say enough in praise of his fine work and the good he and his staff are doing humanity. It is our earnest belief that they can help anyone they will accept in the Sanatorium.

GARDEN GLANCES

"America beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners"

The patter of rain on the roof has been as enjoyable to the dirt gardeners as music to the musicians. For the cold winds had left the lawns crisp, and bruised the annuals and shrubs that were blooming. However, the delphiniums, clumps of coreopsis, pinks, snap dragons and various other colorful plants are standing erect and perky since having a nature's tonic.

Should you drive along the street north of the Junior High ball ground, glance at the several mesquite bushes growing there. Their delicate fern like foliage that contrasts with the green of the surrounding shrubs and trees has caused the admiration and comments of many of the school children.

Don't neglect to glance into the back yard of the Odos Caraway home. It is a beauty spot that readily out ranks many illustrations of famous beauty spots shown in the garden magazines.

Have you ever noticed the old tree overgrown with English ivy in the back yard of the Rathjen's. This is a picturesque way of beautifying some of our old locusts. This gardener has attempted to coax trumpet vines to over run them, but the results are slow.

The next few days will likely be busy ones for the gardeners who will be encouraged by the recent rains and the many bird choruses one hears now.

"EVERYDAY IS A HOLIDAY"

NEW YORK IN 'GAY 90's' SCENE OF MAE WEST HIT

New York in its most glittering and romantic mood—the mood of the Gay Nineties and the Naughty Hundreds, the period that saw "Diamond Jim" Brady, "Jubilee Jim" Fiske and other bon vivants at their gayest, is the playground of curvaceous Mae West in her new film comedy, "Every Day's a Holiday," opening Wednesday at the Pastime Theatre.

Set at the turn of the century, Miss West's latest adventure is the story of a girl with a penchant for selling the Brooklyn Bridge to unsuspecting strangers, an idiocracy which gets her into difficulties with the police, particularly Edmund Lowe, a detective. Lowe is assigned to the task of "bringing in" the elusive Miss West, a job which is not an easy one for him since he happens to be in love with her.

Also seeking Miss West is Walter Catlett, a theatrical producer who wants her to head a new show. It then becomes necessary for Miss West to don a black wig, acquire a French accent and become "Mile Fifi," an actress who takes the town by storm.

"Mile Fifi" becomes involved in a better government crusade before the picture comes to its hectic finish—an election which sweeps Lowe into office on a reform ticket.

The cast of brilliant players in "Every Day's a Holiday," includes Charles Butterworth, Charles Winninger, famed "Cap'n Henry" of "Show Boat," Lloyd Nolan, Herman Bing, Chester Conklin, Louis Armstrong and his Orchestra, and many others.

FIVE GROUPS COMBINE FOR RELIEF IN CHINA

Theodore Roosevelt to Head National Drive for Funds

Consolidation of five national organizations, now active in relief work for China, into a central body to be known as the United Council for Civilian Relief in China was announced yesterday by Theodore Roosevelt, national chairman of the new council.

The five organizations entering the coalition are the American Bureau for Medical Aid to China, Labor's Committee for Civilian Relief in China, the woman's division of the labor committee, the New York Woman's Committee for Civilian Relief in China and the China Emergency Civilian Relief, Inc.

Consolidation of these forces, Mr. Roosevelt said, means that the United Council will have behind it 4,000,000 members of organized labor and 2,000,000 women affiliated with labor organizations, a group of nationally known industrialists, financiers, educators, religious and civic leaders, and a committee of about seventy New York social leaders.

Plans for a national campaign for funds will be announced "within the next few days," Mr. Roosevelt stated.

000,000 innocent and unarmed Chinese civilians, who are in a state of destitution as a result of the Japanese invasion of their country, is one that arouses the sympathy of Americans in all walks of life," he declared.

"An appalling number of these Chinese civilians victims are women and children. I am confident that in the national endeavor to raise funds for their relief, plans for which now are being made, we will have the hearty support of all those Americans who are roused to action by such cruelty and injustice as now are being visited upon the civilian population of China."

Torn From Homes by Tornado, Electric Refrigerators Still Provide Ice, Food Protection

FOLKS who spend good money for a refrigerator are buying a specific Service. In addition, their purchase should give them a guarantee of Safety. The folks who many years ago bought the two electric refrigerators pictured above bought both Service and Safety. A recent tornado in a small West Texas community proved this point. Buildings crumbled around them and the wind tossed them into the street like a fretful child discarding a toy. But—these electric refrigerators operated perfectly when picked up and connected to an electric socket the following day. That IS Service! There was no damage resulting from refrigerant fumes. That IS Safety!

EVERY FARM A FACTORY

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
 Texas Breeder-Feeder Association

Cheap raw products are the basis of all manufacturing. The raw products of the farm do not always have to travel far away to an industrial plant to be manufactured. Farm livestock and poultry are nature's own machines for turning crops into concentrated finished products, for the use of the human race. The miracles of modern chemistry fill the public eye, but none of them approach the marvelous efficiency of the miracle of life, through which the animal world transforms plant life into meat or eggs or milk or wool, "each after his own kind."

Wherever we find a farmer who has successfully survived the droughts and the low prices which have plagued the country of late years, we usually find that he is "manufacturing" finished products by running his crude materials through those live, walking machines which cackle, moo or baa about the farm. Several tons of grass, fodder and grain (most of which could not have been sold as raw material) went to market wrapped in steer hides when H. C. Lippe sent two truck loads to Ft. Worth and cashed them for $2,000, a few months ago.

The acreage diverted from cotton under the new farm program will be planted, mostly in feed crops. It will not bring much cash if sold in its raw state. Much of it will be grazed off, saving the labor and expense of harvesting. Much will be harvested and stored, either dry or as silage for later feeding. In the form of meat or milk these crops may, as they often have done, bring in more dollars per acre in net profit than the same number of acres in cotton.

Farms which are not fenced and cross-fenced of course cannot be grazed, but temporary fences may be quickly set up to confine stock on the field to be grazed. The kind of livestock to best utilize the crops, whether grazed or harvested and hand-fed, will of course be chosen according to the crop itself and the preference of the owner.

Dairy cows will usually pay the highest return for large quantities of silage or dry roughage with the proper grain supplements, but beef cattle will run them a good second. Sheep will utilize some weeds that cattle will not eat, and glean many a pound of meat and wool, but they must have more than weeds and gleanings. Hogs and poultry, including turkeys, of course require a high percentage of grain in their rations, but they should always have access to green pastures, in the interest of both thriftiness and economy of production.

Not an acre of the land diverted from cotton but can be turned to profitable account, by "putting it on legs." We are so accustomed to nature's own "manufacturing machines,"—farm livestock—that we are prone to forget that the cackle of the hen means more in the total than all the factory whistles in the country; that the dairy cow's synthesis of grass and grain into milk and butterfat is more wonderful and more potent for human good than anything chemists have ever done with coal tar or soy beans.

The new farm program provides both the incentive and the opportunity for many farms to change to a system that will utilize both the land and the man-power better than cotton or other cash-crop farming.

Lee Ella Wood, 3rd grade, Mary Louise Evans, 4th grade, Myrtle Gibson fifth grade, Vada Fay Holland, sixth grade, Dorothy Jo Salmon, seventh grade, June Morman eighth grade.

Graduation Exercises
 The seniors of Lakeview High school will receive their diplomas Wednesday night, May 25, at the Lakeview school auditorium. The Baccalaureate sermon will be Sunday, May 22 at the Lakeview Baptist church by Rev. R. G. Brister. The annual Junior-Senior banquet was held Friday night, May 13.

RATS COST TEXAS

COLLEGE STATION, May 18.—Rats cost Texas people around 20 million dollars a year, according to J. M. Hill, Jr., of the Rodent Control Service of the U. S. Bureau of Biological Survey, who added that farmers alone suffered an annual loss of over 2 million bushels of corn through this source.

Trapping is effective after the rat infestation has been reduced by poisoning or by other means. A careful and systematic use of traps will keep the premises free from the rodents.

"The Rodent Control Service of the Bureau of Biological Survey is ready to assist communities and counties in fighting the rat menace," Hill declared.

SADLER SPEAKS OF AIDING FARMERS IN CAMPAIGN TALK HERE SATURDAY

Youthful Candidate for Railroad Commissioner Charges Donley County Being Discriminated Against In Jobs

Declaring that Donley county has been discriminated against in that none of its citizens has been appointed among the hundreds of employees of the Railroad Commission of Texas, Jerry Sadler, 30, Longview attorney, spoke in the interest of his candidacy for Railroad Commissioner in Clarendon Saturday.

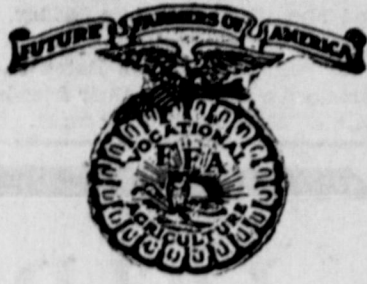

Sadler promised to equalize commission affairs and give a fair and impartial administration. He explained his plan for lowering freight rates on Texas products and necessities to be offset by higher rates on luxuries.

"Rich people can afford to pay higher freight rates on luxuries," Sadler said, "but lower rates on farm products would give the producers more farm income and help everybody in Texas."

Sadler expressed fear that Saturday shut-ins of oil wells, resulting in a 12-23 per cent reduction in daily allowable of Texas, may necessitate disastrous tax increases or endanger public schools of the state, which are supported by gross production tax on oil.

Sadler's Cowboy Stringers band played before and after the speaking. The candidate came here on a whirlwind 2,000 mile dawn-to-midnight tour of West Texas and the Panhandle during which he had made more than 100 speeches.

LOCAL FARMERS PREPARING FOR DRIVE ON GRASSHOPPER INFESTATION SOON

Fear Plague To Be Worst In Years; Six Carloads of Bran For Mixing Has Been Requested Here

With two poison stations opening in Donley County this week, local farmers will begin a concentrated fight against grasshopper infestation as soon as weather conditions are favorable, County Agent H. M. Breedlove said today.

With the infestation expected to be the heaviest in recent years, Breedlove has requested six carloads of bran, to be used in mixing from R. R. Reppert, state entomologist.

The program is being handled this year the same as last year with the farmer furnishing half of the bran or an equal amount of ground bundles or cotton seed hulls to be put with the bran furnished by the Government.

For producers who do not have ground bundles, cotton seed hulls will be available at the poison plants and also molasses can be obtained at the plants to be mixed with the poison. The fight this year will probably be one of the biggest fights the farmers have ever witnessed in Donley County.
