Winter Ills Starting Early

By R.L. Gilkey, M.D., DABFP

There is more illness than usual for this time of year. We usually have sore throats and allergies this time of year but it is worse than usual. Here are some tips to help.

If it is just a simple cold, remedies as Chex-it, Triaminic, Tussagesic, or Sinutabs, help alleviate some of the symptoms. For the cough, Robitussin DM or CF and Novahistine DMX are good. Remember simply covering your mouth with a kleenex or handkerchief when you cough helps slow the spread of germs. Be sure your children do this also. It will benefit your health and school health.

The intestinal flu or gastroenteritis is still prevalent. Fortunately Imodium AD in either tablets or liquid will halt the diarrhea and stomach cramps usually with 24 hours.

There is more hay fever and sinusitis this year than usual because of our excellent crop of weeds. There are many O.C.T. preparations that might help you, such as the antihistamines Chlortrimeton or Dimetane. Sudafed is a plain decongestant and now comes in a 12 hr. preparation. Combinations as, Dimetapp extantabs, Sinutabs, Coricidin D, are some of the combination antihistamine-decongestants. A nasal spray of salt solution, as Ocean or Ayr, helps by washing pollen and dust from the nasal passage. Your pharmacist can help guide you. If it is severe, see your physician.

Sore throats and tonsillitis are prevalent again now that school has started. If the sore throat last more than 24 hours and keeps becoming worse, it is likely to be more than a simple cold. Remember never to eat or drink after a person with any type of cold or sore throat. Advise your children not to do so too.

Influenza is still very sporadic, not many cases yet. The influenza vaccine is now available at your physicians office. Again this year, it is being given to those over 45 not just 65 years of age and over, and to anyone in a high risk group, as lung disease or heart disease. Get your flu shot now.

WESLEY PUTNAM

Methodists Set "Dayspring" Revival Services

Wesley Putnam, widely acclaimed evangelist, singer, and composer, will lead in revival at the First Methodist Church in Clarendon, Texas on Sunday, September 19 - Wednesday, Oct. 2. The Sunday morning service begins at 11:00 and each evening service will begin at 7:00. BibleLympics, a program for all children K-6th grades, will begin Sunday morning at 9:45 and continue each evening from 6:00 - 7:00. There will also be brown bag luncheons during the noon hour, Monday - Wednesday. Bring your lunch; drinks will be furnished by the church.

Wesley's ministry includes preaching, drama, and music woven together to create a fresh approach to renewal. His clear call to commitment through both word and song has impacted the lives of people of all ages from all walks of life.

Rev. Putnam holds a Bachelor of Music degree from Northeast Louisiana University and the Master of Divinity degree from Asbury Theological Seminary. He is an ordained United Methodist clergyman, and he is a member of the Northwest Texas Annual Conference. He pastored local churches for over 8 years before turning his attention to full-time evangelism in the summer of 1981.

Wesley is a prolific songwriter whose compositions touch on virtually every aspect of Christian living from temptation and suffering to forgiveness and praise. He has cut 6 albums, two of which are being distributed nationally to radio stations and book stores. Selected songs from his last two albums, "The Battle's On" and "Hope of the World", have been published by Tempo Music in a choral collection. In addition, he has produced an audio and video cassette of one of his dramatic presentations. Attired in authentic Hebrew costume, Wesley captivates audiences as he recounts the lives of various Old Testament characters as though they were alive today. He animates James, the brother of Jesus, to relate New Testament stories.

Rev. Putnam is in great demand for revivals, concerts, youth camps and retreats. He has presented special music at many national United Methodist gatherings. He is currently serving as president of the National Association of United Methodist Evangelists. He and his wife, Felicia, live in Bedford, Texas with their three sons, James, Philip, and Timothy.

New Social Security 800 Number Announced

"The Social Security Administration (SSA) will change its toll-free telephone number as of October 1, 1991," Jim Talbot, Social Security manager in Amarillo said today. The new number is 1-800-SSA-1213.

"We are giving early notice so that people will not be taken by surprise when they call," Talbot said. "We want people to be on the lookout for it and note the change before they have to use it," he said.

The SSA number change resulted from Congressional legislation that requires Federal Government agencies to convert to a new telecommunications system call "FTS 2000". Since the new system is managed by a different service carrier than the agencies had used in the past, SSA had to change its toll-free number.

Talbot said that since its nationwide implementation 2 years ago, the 800 number service has become a popular option for people who have Social Security business. Callers find that their requests can be handled easily, conveniently, and expeditiously by phone. In many instances, their business can be completed at the time of the initial call. Recent studies show that more than two-thirds of the 800-number callers prefer using the telephone over having to visit a Social Security office in person.

Teachers Can Help Students

Teachers sometimes go beyond the ABC's - they are often the first to recognize suicidal tendencies in their students.

Suicide is the third leading cause of death in young adults, averaging 5,000 each year in the United States, and is becoming more common in young children, said an assistant professor of psychiatry at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

"Statistics from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services show that approximately 12,000 young children are hospitalized each year for intentionally injuring themselves," said Dr. Letha Cole.

Children express their emotions in several ways. Joy, sorrow, anger or depression can be seen through their art, music, and the way they play. Parents and teachers should pay particular attention to these activities.

"Children and teenagers unknowingly tell us what they are feeling through their schoolwork," Cole said. "Children who draw pictures of death or who write about it in a paper may be asking for help."

Parents and teachers should be aware of other warning signs of suicidal behavior such as:

- *Prolonged periods of sadness and loneliness
- *Withdrawing from family and friends
- *Showing no interest in activities
- *Low self-esteem
- *Unwillingness to cooperate
- *Risky behaviors that could result in physical injury

Not all children exhibiting these signs will commit suicide, but they should be taken seriously, Cole added.

If a child has made previous suicide attempts, has a plan to commit suicide or has a preoccupation with death, Cole advises that a child psychiatrist be contacted immediately.

Many times, troubled students will confide in teachers who can assist them in getting the help they need. Cole recommends that school personnel establish and maintain contacts with local mental health professionals.

School personnel can also help families follow through with recommended treatment and help the child adjust to the classroom. They can play a key role in maintaining the child's educational progress.

"Parents and teachers should not assume that a child in trouble is just going through a phase," Cole said. "Know the warning signs, take immediate action and, most importantly, support the child through the healing process."

Activity Center Dedication and Open House Set

Dedication and open house of the newly constructed Bairfield Activity Center at Clarendon College in Clarendon will be Sunday, September 29, at 2 p.m. The building, located immediately west of the college gym and overlooking the track facing highway 287, was designed by Huckabee and Donham of Andrews and constructed by Hallmark Builders, Inc. of Amarillo.

The 14,000 square-foot facility, built at a cost of $850,281, features a game room, snackbar, student bookstore, meeting room, and banquet area, and offices for financial aid and counseling. Dr. Jerry Stockton, President of Clarendon College, said the building fund for the center was initiated by Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Bairfield of Clarendon who wanted to help finance a facility to serve the needs of students and the community.

Members of the Clarendon College Board of Regents invite the public to join the College and the Community for the dedication and open house of the Bairfield Activity Center.

Cantaloupes And Salmonella

Earlier this summer an outbreak of salmonellosis food poisoning occurred in the Midwest and the Northeast. Minnesota health officials were quick to speculate that melons purchased from South Texas were the source of the outbreak. The claims were made based on epidemiological interviews with affected persons. There were no melon samples left to confirm them as the source of contamination. It has been reported that over 400 people in 23 states and Canada, became ill after eating cup cantaloupe (The Packer, August 24, 1991).
This occurrence of salmonellosis is not a new problem. Salmonella is a common occurring bacteria on the surface of most unwashed fruits and vegetables. As a matter of standard procedure, most melon packing houses brush wash cantaloupe and follow this with another wash using chlorinated water, prior to packing. This procedure helps remove field heat from the fruit and kills most surface pathogens that can cause fruit breakdown in storage transit. Salmonella is one of the pathogens reduced by this procedure.

Surface recontamination of melons can occur at several points during the normal food distribution cycle. As a result, by the time that most melons reach the home, a low level of Salmonella may be present on the fruit surface. The edible flesh can then become contaminated by the knife used to cut the fruit.

Historically, cantaloupes were consumed almost immediately after cutting and/or refrigerated for use at a later time. The low levels of bacteria that may be present were normally insufficient to cause illness. Refrigeration slows down bacteria growth and prevents it from reaching a level that can cause illness. However, the proliferation of fresh fruit on salad bars and in many food service operations including supermarkets is changing consumption patterns of many foods as well as cantaloupes.

In many instances, the fruit are cut or prepared many hours prior to actual consumption. With the case of salad and fruit bars, the cut melons are left out for customers to eat at their leisure. Often times the temperature of the fruit bar is insufficient to retard bacterial growth. As a result, the levels can build and illness can occur.

Most of the cantaloupe/salmonella illness reported have been traced to situations described above. Home consumers of fresh cantaloupes have little to worry about. Especially if common sense prevails and the fruit is gently brush washed prior to preparation for eating. This should be done prior to eating any fresh produce item.

As it is with most situations involving our food, the farmers and shippers are paying the price. Media hype has resulted in current sales decline of 30-50% (The Packer, August 24, 1991) although the incidence occurred earlier this summer.

Changing life style and food consumption patterns are the real culprits, not cantaloupes or cantaloupe producers.

Insurance Is Now Required!

If you're playing highway roulette by driving without liability insurance, you need to know that the stakes have grown considerably higher.

A new law tightening enforcement of Texas' mandatory automobile insurance requirements took effect on September 1, 1991.

You now must prove coverage when you renew your driver's license, buy a car, have it inspected or renew its tags. As in the past, you also must show proof of insurance if you have an accident or are stopped by a police officer.

The Legislature raised the minimum fine for driving without insurance from $75 to $175 on first offense and from $200 to $350 for repeat offenders.

A second conviction also means automatic impoundment of your car and suspension of your driver's license. You must obtain liability insurance — or other acceptable proof of financial responsibility — before you can get your car or your license back.

Until the new law took effect, each insurance company developed and issued its own proof-of-insurance card — one for each insured vehicle.

Now, these cards will be standardized, using a format approved by The Texas Department of Insurance. One card will be issued for each family member named on your automobile policy.

Until insurance companies phase in the new card, however, proof-of-insurance documents generated by the companies are acceptable for vehicle registration, inspection and driver license renewal. These include proof-of-insurance cards and binders. A binder is a document that serves temporarily as evidence of coverage until a policy is issued. Of course, your policy itself, or a photocopy of your policy, always is acceptable proof of insurance.

An estimated 25 percent of the state's drivers are uninsured.

Texas law provides a source of automobile liability insurance for people whom companies refuse to cover voluntarily.

Drivers who are rejected for coverage by at least one company can buy the necessary amount of liability insurance — plus uninsured motorist coverage and $2,500 worth of personal injury protection (PIP) — from the Texas Automobile Insurance Plan, or "assigned risk pool."

Any car insurance agent can take your application, which must be accompanied by your check for at least 25 percent of the total premium.

The Plan must accept all eligible applicants. It will assign you to a company, which must cover you for up to three years, so long as you pay your premium. The company must allow you to pay out your annual premium in five installments.

Rates for the Texas Automobile Insurance Plan are 22 percent higher than the standard rates for policyholders whom companies insure voluntarily.

Approximately 133,000 Texans are insured through the Plan. Thousands more are expected to apply because of the new law. The Plan has added staff and equipment to help it process the additional applications without delays in coverage.

New policyholders immediately will receive cards that will serve as temporary proof of insurance until they receive their policies.

Spelling Bee Announced

For the 44th year the Amarillo Globe-News will sponsor the National Spelling Bee for students in grades eight and below.

Joining the newspaper in this educational program is West Texas State University, Canyon. And, serving as bee coordinator for the newspaper is Gene Parker, office of career planning and placement. HE has held this position since 1975 when the university joined the Globe-News as a co-sponsor.

The area assigned the two sponsors covers 37 counties in the Texas Panhandle, parts of New Mexico, Oklahoma and Kansas.

Rules established by the national sponsors, the Scripps

Howard Newspapers, state that no student in a grade higher than the eighth or older than 16 by end of current school term may compete. The Bee is open to any student in a public, private, or parochial school. Directors in each of the counties are responsible for scheduling their own county eliminations.

There are two levels of competition: The Junior Bee is for students in the fifth and lower grades; the Senior Bee is open to students primarily in grades six through eight; however, some directors in the small areas combine the two levels of competition.

Each county Junior winner and each county Senior winner will be guests of the sponsors on April 11, 1992 --the date of the Regional Bee to be held on the campus of WTSU. The winner in that competition will represent the sponsors in the 1992 National Bee in Washington, D.C., beginning on May 25. The trip includes free airline tickets for the champion and one parent.

Each of the champions honored in Amarillo will be given special awards.

The director in Donley County is Mike Word, Principal,

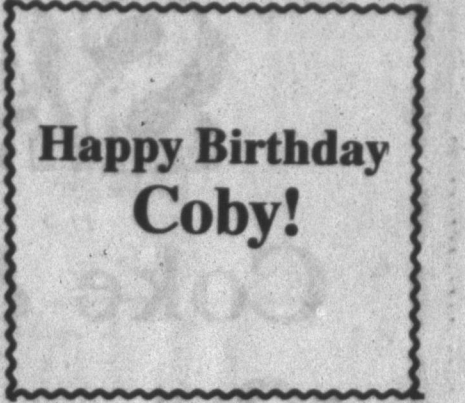

Clarendon Elementary/Junior High.

Any interested student or teacher should contact the director for additional information. Or, contact Jeane Bartlett, Spelling Bee Editor, Amarillo Globe-News, Box 2091, Amarillo, Texas.

In most counties students use the booklet prepared by the national sponsors, "Words of the Champions". This booklet is available from Mrs. Bartlett for only 50 cents each and may be ordered by contacting her at the newspaper, Box 2091, Amarillo, Texas 79166. The new 1992 issue will contain more than 500 words over the previous year's issue.

"I encourage all students to take part in this outstanding program", Parker said. "It is a wonderful opportunity as well as a learning experience and those of us at WTSU who are involved in the program are pleased that we may recognize those students who excel."

Otitis Externa is "Swimmer's Ear"

An infection of the ear canal brought on by the presence of too much moisture in the external ear is commonly referred to as "swimmer's ear." The technical or medical name for this condition is otitis externa, meaning inflammation of the external ear canal.

Very often otitis externa results from water entering the ear during diving or swimming. Water may become trapped in the ear due to the presence of excessive ear wax. The moisture softens and wears away skin lining the outer canal. This makes the canal more susceptible to infection. Other causes of otitis externa include hair dye, hair spray, or excessive cleaning of the ears with cotton swabs. The ear canal may itch and become inflamed. Fluid may drain from the ear at night and often can be seen on pillows the next morning.

Although nonprescription ear cleaners are available, many authorities recommend professional removal of ear wax. Ear drops may be effective in relieving pain and itching. Aluminum acetate drops may help decrease swelling and ear canal crusting. Oral pain relievers may help. Antibiotics or antifungals sometimes are needed.

Colts Play Canadian

The 7th and 8th grade Colts teams will travel to Canadian Thursday, September 26, beginning at 5 p.m. Let's all support our Junior High teams.

Although the Memphis Cyclones beat the Clarendon Broncos, Friday, September 20th, by a score of 25 to 0, the Broncos played a good defensive game. The game was mistake-filled by both teams, but Clarendon could not capitalize on the Cyclones' mistakes.

The Cyclones lost five-of-seven fumbles and committed 12 penalties for 106 yards. Clarendon lost four-of-five fumbles, threw two interceptions and committed 14 penalties for 141 yards.

The Memphis offense turned three turnovers into touchdowns. Also, linebacker Cosme Duran returned an interception 65 yards for a touchdown and a 13-0 lead late in the first half.

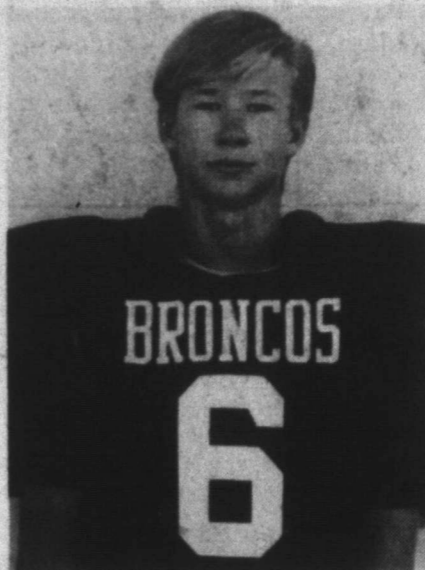

The Broncos had numerous opportunities to score, but failed to do so. Rickey Smith caught a Gage pass that carried close to a first down, but Clarendon was penalized 10 yards for holding with five seconds left. Gage threw incomplete from the 16 as time ran out in the first half.

Memphis scored a touchdown in each of the final two quarters.

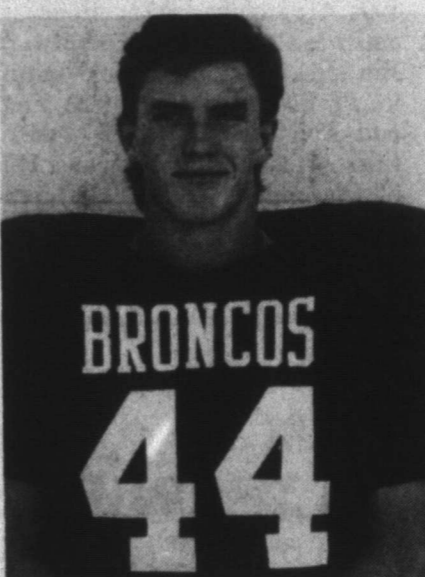

In the fourth quarter, Memphis recovered a fumble at Clarendon's 8. On first down, Runnels hit Finis Barker on a touchdown pass for the game's final points.

Public Notice

On June 28, 1991, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (Southwestern Bell) filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission) to add a new optional service offering for business Private Branch Exchange (PBX) Trunk customers called Digital Loop Service. The application has been assigned Docket No. 10461.

Digital Loop Service provides digital transmission of circuit switched voice and data communications between the customer's premises and the central office. This service allows the customer to use a 1.544 Mbps facility capable of delivering up to 24 line terminations. Southwestern Bell will provide Digital Loop Service within the customer's serving central office where facilities are available.

If approved by the Commission, the rates for the Digital Loop Service facilities will be $445 per month for each digital transmission loop arrangement which provides a capacity of up to 24 line terminations, plus $5 per month for each line termination and $9 per month for each channel termination. The proposed rate for the unlimited use of the central office varies from $12.25 up to $18.90 per month for each line termination depending on the rate group classification, determined by the customer's location. Southwestern Bell estimates revenue of $2.1 million from this offering during the first year.

As proposed by Southwestern Bell, customers who currently receive digital loop compatibility through facilities installed under a special construction agreement will have the option to receive their current digital loop arrangements pursuant to the Digital Loop Service Tariff or continue to pay their current charges until they make a change of location or account. Any increase in the number of line terminations to a customer's current digital transmission loop arrangement will be provided pursuant to the proposed Digital Loop Service Tariff; however, the customer will continue to have the option of paying current charges for the existing digital transmission loop capacity. Southwestern Bell's proposal to "grandfather" existing digital loop facility arrangements is subject to review and approval by the Commission.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible, but not later than October 15, 1991. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256. The telecommunications device for the deaf (TDD) number is (512) 458-0221.

Advice On Mice Offered

When the weather gets colder, people aren't the only creatures who go indoors for warmth, shelter, and food. You may very well find "Mousequest" before the winter ends, according to Lee Van Sant, Manager of Amarillo Service Center of Terminix International.

"This is the time of year when we start getting a lot of calls about mice," Van Sant says. Many people are surprised to have a mouse problem in clean, modern homes, but, they shouldn't be. Mice seek warmth by crawling through foundation cracks, attics, and around pipes, any nook and cranny they can squeeze through.

Mouseproof your home by closing off as many routes as possible, keeping garage doors closed and pet foods in tightly covered containers, and sealing other possible entry points with steel wool. Mice especially like to hide in kitchen cabinets, where warmth and food are readily available.

Buildings near open fields and with high grass or other vegetation around the perimeter are especially attractive to mice. Conventional snap traps work well if they are correctly baited and placed. First, make sure you place the trap where the mouse is likely to be, look for mouse droppings, holes in installation or nibbled food. Since some mice move mostly at night, look for these clues left while you were asleep.

Mice are incredible prolific and athletic, for instance: two mice can multiply into 100 in as little as four months. Mice can drop as much as 20 to 50 feet without injuring themselves and can climb too. Mice can hear twice as well as humans and can sense motion up to 50 feet away. Mice can swim up to one half mile and have been known to tread water for up to three days. They can survive being flushed down the toilet. It is possible for a mouse to squeeze through a one quarter inch crack or even a hole the size of a dime.

If Homemaker look for early signs of mice and take action quickly, it sure helps. Mice can spread diseases through lice, fleas, and mites so their presence really should be taken seriously. They can also damage electrical wiring with their gnawing.

If you need professional help, be sure the company you call is reputable and reliable. Many companies offer free inspection, ask about this service when you call.

Get more than one estimate and compare services. Make sure the pest control company you choose guarantees their work.

SGT MITCH McELROY Serviceman Honored

On Saturday 7th, Sgt. Mitch McElroy was named honor graduate upon completing Air Assault School at Ft. Richardson, Alaska. McElroy graduated with a 97 average. The Sgt. also won the 12 mile forced march, the last trial of this school. The forced march was a 12 mile run in the Alaskan mountains with full pack, combat gear, etc. Mitch finished this run in 2 hours and 15 min.

Sgt. McElroy's other honors include, The Army Commendation Medal, NCO of the company, NCO of the Battalion, NCO of the Base, NCO of the year, NCO of the division and in Hawaii earlier this year was awarded Non Commendation officer of the U.S. Army Pacific. In Hawaii, McElroy competed against an Army Ranger, and other NCO's of the Pacific area. McElroy is a squad leader in company A, Forward Support maintenance Company, 706th Maintenance Battalion, Ft. Richardson, Alaska. Prior to his assignment here, he served as a paratrooper with the 82nd Airborne, Ft. Bragg, N.C.

His wife Cindy is the daughter of Pam Tubbs of Amarillo. They have 3 children, Anthony 5, Health 2, and Jennifer 11 mo. Mitch is a native of Claude, Texas, where his parents Marie and Nat reside. His grandparents are John Richey of Clarendon and Mrs. Enioce McElroy also of Clarendon.

How Far Would You Go To Get An Education?

Clarendon College students in just the vocational programs alone are putting over 160,800 miles on their odometers in order to attend classes this semester.

The average age of college students is getting older as adults recognize the need for training and retraining. Not all students live in dormitories on a campus.

Their daily cost of getting to class is one that has to be added on to tuition and books.

The "miles travelled" figure is a finding of the needs assessment done to allocate the Carl D. Perkins grant Clarendon College received this school year to support students in its five vocational programs. Students in Childress, Shamrock, Pampa and Clarendon may use Perkins funds to study electronics, licensed vocational nursing, secretarial sciences, ranch and feedlot operations, or cosmetology.

The nursing students in particular do a lot of travelling, as they are required to take part of their clinical training in area hospitals. This training is provided by hospitals in Shamrock, Childress, Memphis and Wellington as well as Amarillo.

Child care costs are also paid for eligible vocational students through Clarendon College's Perkins grant. For parents trying to support families, these costs add up quickly. Without assistance, the costs of child care would be a barrier to a better life for the whole family.

This semester's Perkins grant pays for the daily care of 28 children while their student parents are in school.

Clarendon College's purpose in obtaining the Perkins grant is to make the vocational programs more easily available to area residents. To check whether you would qualify or for other information, call the Special Populations Coordinator at 806-875-3571.

Solar Water Heater Workshop Scheduled

Participants in Grasslands' Solar Water Heater Workshop will construct their own Solar Tube passive water heater to install on their own rooftop. The one-day event, held September 28 at Grasslands' project site near Bushland, Texas, will be lead by Pliny Fisk III, director of Maximum Potential Building Systems of Austin, and designer of the ST-85 Solar Tube water heater.

The ancestor of the ST-85 is the black water tank in a weathertight glazed box. Mr. Fisk has modified this traditional design by adding technological advances to make a competitively-priced, high-performance solar system. The ST-85 is a simple device that differs from active and passive flat plate systems in that collector and storage are integrated into the same roof-mounted unit. Among the advantages of the ST-85 is its low-cost, ingenuity of design, lack of moving parts, low maintenance, and invulnerability to freezing.

The workshop will be Saturday, September 28, from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. The cost for each participant is $60, which includes meals and overnight camping. Indoor sleeping space will be available. The optional materials kit (for constructing a water heater to take home) is $175. For more information contact: Grasslands, Box 248, Bushland, Texas 79012, or phone (806)426-3393. Availability of kits is limited - early registration is encouraged.

Flu Season Is Approaching

North Americans could be in for a repeat of the 1989-90 influenza season when 50,000 people died of flu-related illnesses.

The two influenza strains expected to dominate the 1991-92 season are A/Beijing and A/Taiwan, each named for the area where it was first observed.

"The 1990-91 season was predominantly influenza B so we expect influenza A to be dominate for 1991-92," said Dr. W. Paul Glezen, chief epidemiologist at the Influenza Research Center at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

Outbreaks of Influenza A are frequently more severe than type B. The epidemic two year ago was the worst in 20 years.

A complicating factor, Glezen said, is that many elderly people, who comprise the major influenza high-risk group, were born or went through childhood prior to the emergence of the A (H3N2) strain, of which A/Beijing is a variant. As a result, they have not built up resistance through prior exposure.

Help is available, however, because the vaccine for this flu season protects against A/Beijing and A/Taiwan as well as against B/Panama, another strain that could appear. But, despite the availability each year of an effective vaccine, thousands of people most at risk from flu complications fail to get vaccinated.

The elderly are the single largest group of people who should get flu shots. They are particularly susceptible to such serious flu complications as pneumonia.

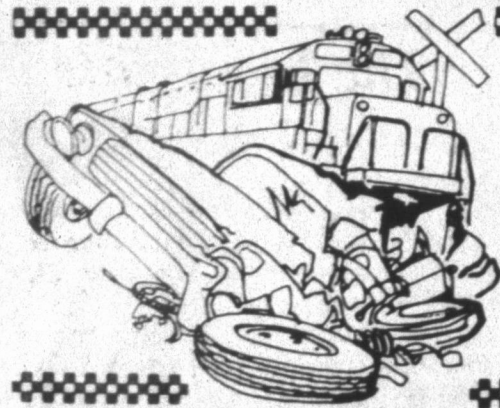

The ideal time for flu shots is long before the appearance, usually in December, of the first cases. Glezen suggests being vaccinated by Thanksgiving at the latest. It takes two weeks for a flu shot to provide full protection.

The elderly are not the only ones who should guard against the flu. Other high risk groups include people with heart disease; lung disease; including asthma and chronic bronchitis; diabetes; chronic kidney disease; and chronic anemia; including sickly cell disease.

Also at risk are people, such as health care workers, likely to come in contact with those in the high risk groups.

Influenza usually strikes suddenly and produces fever, generalized muscle pain, weakness and a dry hacking cough.

People younger than 21 should use only aspirin free pain relievers. Aspirin has been associated with Reye's syndrome, a complication of flu and chicken pox that can cause vomiting, convulsions, brain damage and death in children.

Computer Center Offers Course On Developing

Producers wanting to learn more about developing financial statements to improve their record keeping should sign up now for a new course to be taught October 2 - 3, 1991, at the Texas A & M University Computer Training and Education Center in Halfway. This course will utilize Quicken4, a low cost, easy-to-use cash record keeping system that is popular among South Plains farmers.

With the decrease in the cost of computers and the improvements in low-cost, high quality software, computerized cash record keeping is an option for more and more farmers, said Dr. Jackie Smith, Economist and management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Lubbock. In our rapidly changing agricultural environment it becomes increasingly important to have, at our fingertips, information for making decisions at our fingertips, he said.

Participants in the course need to be familiar with the Quicken software and have used in enough to be comfortable with transaction entry. The course will begin with a review of Quicken4, highlighting entering, memorizing and splitting transactions and the use of accounts, categories and classes. Other review topics will include report options and shortcuts to speed transaction entry. Transferring between accounts, customizing, filtering and closing out a year will be covered. Emphasis will be placed on generating reports for complete financial analysis, including the cash flow plan, balance sheet and income statement. QuickPay, a new add-on feature that simplifies payroll record keeping, will be introduced.

Fiesta De Comida Scheduled

A Fiesta De Comida is scheduled for Friday, September 27, 1991, at the school cafeteria in Lakeview, Texas. Judging will begin at 5:30 p.m. and the Fiesta at 6:15 p.m. Cost will be $3.00 per person or $10.00 per family.

High school students, parents, teachers, staff, friends, relatives, enemies, out of towners, dudes or anybody may enter. For more details call Lakeview school at 867-2871.

The course will run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day. Cost for the session will be $100, which includes workshop materials and catered lunches each day.

Registration is limited to fourteen (14) to ensure hands-on participation. The deadline for registration is September 27, 1991.

For more information, contact your local county extension agent or telephone Dr. Jackie Smith at the Texas A & M Research and Extension Center in Lubbock, (806)746-6101.

4-H'ers Place At Fair

Donley County 4-H members recently competed at the Tri State Fair in the Junior Lamb and Barrow divisions. The lamb show was held Tuesday night, followed by the barrow show on Wednesday night.

In the lamb division, D. J. Edwards placed first in the second class of Medium Wool sheep and third in the light Fine Wool Cross class. Also placing in the Medium Wool in their respective classes were Shane Ashcraft (Clarendon FFA), 10th place; Aaron Ashcraft, 12th place; and Matt Fraser, 11th and 12th place.

In the Junior Barrow Show, D. J. Edwards placed fourth and 12th in the second class, and fourth and 8th in the third class; Karli Hill placed fourth in class 7, while Matt Hill placed 9th in class 6. James Lee Potts placed tenth in class seven. Clarendon FFA member Phillip Williams placed first in class one and Brendon Moffett placed 6th in class 2.

The 4-H and FFA livestock program continues to help young participants through the education, hard work and responsibility that goes with the livestock project. This program also helps young people to make decisions, solve problems, set goals and learn social skills. The livestock project can, and usually does, involve the family, which is the key to the success of the project. Youngsters also learn how to deal with failures and setbacks through positive, productive activities.

State 4-H Leader Supports Houston Livestock Show's Award Ceiling

The head of the state's 4-H programs welcomed last month's decision by the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo to limit the cash awards for its champions in youth livestock competition.

"The decision to reduce the amount of winnings is a positive move and I applaud it," said Dr. Lynne Thibodeaux, assistant director for the Texas 4-H and Youth Development Program.

Officials of the Houston Livestock Show, largest in the world, had announced that a ceiling would be placed on the amount of money that could be given to winners with champions in youth livestock events.

The grand champion steer this year sold for $221,000 at auction. Under the new rules next year, the owner of the grand champion steer will receive no more than $50,000. Any money the steers brings over that amount will fund scholarships awarded by the Houston Livestock Show.

Such a policy should discourage young people from investing tremendous amounts of money into animals, and more will benefit from an increasing number of scholarships, Thibodeaux said.

"No matter how those scholarships are offered, we're confident that a 4-H members will be able to compete successfully," said Dr. Milo Shult, Extension Service associate director. "Our youth development program prepares young people for just such competition".

The Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo provides $400,000 in scholarships each year to 4-H members - a significant contribution that is probably the nation's largest, Shult said.

"The decision to cap premium money is likely to remain controversial for only a short time," he said. "However, the Extension Service supports the Houston Livestock Show in its efforts to provide more opportunities for young people."

The Texas 4-H program has more than 402,000 members, ages 9 to 19. About 40,000 members are annually enrolled in some type of animal project and often exhibit cattle, horses, sheep, swine, rabbits and chickens. They are usually the largest youth group involved in livestock activities.

Thibodeaux said she has concerns for those youngsters who have already invested a great deal of money in animals in hopes of big winnings in the future. They must realize, however, that no promises have been made.

"Unfortunately, some people have just lost sight of the real purpose in these competitions," she said. "They forget that they are not owed anything and that sale prices are totally at the discretion of the donors (who bid on the animals). Furthermore, some forget that this isn't about the animal anyway - it's the youth on the end of the halter."

According to Thibodeaux, most young people benefit from the education, hard work and responsibility that goes along with all the 4-H projects. The program continues to help young people make decisions, solve problems, set goals, and learn social skills. She said 4-H also seeks to teach youngsters how to deal with failures and setbacks through positive, productive activities.

Thibodeaux sees another positive aspect that could benefit some families.

"Some parents put undue pressure on their children, whether it's done unknowingly or on purpose, in some competitive events," she said. "Perhaps the Houston Livestock Show's decision will lessen this problem, too."

The Lions Tale

By Gene Alderson

The Clarendon Lions Club held its regular meeting at noon on Tuesday, September 24, 1991, at the Lions Hall with 26 present. After a delicious meal, Boss Lion Robertson called the meeting to order and, following the regular opening ceremony, (singing was very good today) introduced our guests. Bob Williams, owner and editor of The Clarendon News was the guest of Lion Bivens.

For our program, Lion Dumas, introduced Dr. Jerry Stockton, President of Clarendon College, and Royce Bodiford who is in charge of development and publicity for the college. Dr. Stockton invited us to attend the dedication of the new Bairfield Student Center at 2:00 p.m. this Sunday. He gave us information on several programs at the college and then answered a number of questions by the Lions.

Letter To The Editor

An Open Letter to the Residents of Howardwick

Lack of communication regarding any situation is always to blame to lack of understand; A prime example being the recently written ordinance by the Howardwick Board of Aldermen concerning the method chosen to initiate a program of trash collection in the City of Howardwick.

The Mayor and Aldermen have been bombarded for more than two years with information from the State Health Department that time was growing short to come up with another means of disposing of the City's trash other than our "City Dump". In January of this year John Kiel, of Panhandle Regional Planning Commission came and talked to our Board about joining other area cities in trying to develop a plan for regional landfills, since federal regulations are becoming impossible for most cities to meet.

Through bulletins, newsletter, and subsequent meetings in Amarillo we have been warned to get our dump closed as soon as possible and at all costs, get it closed before the E.P.A. implements the federal regulations that are on the drawing board; and the probable date that these regulations will be implemented was before the end of this year.

Already, more than two-thirds of the U.S. landfills and town dumps have closed. And if our dump has not been closed before the federal regulations are adopted we will be closed in to a forced monitoring of that dump for thirty years plus an approximate price tag of $50,000 to cap a 50 X 100' trench, done according to the new regulation. In addition, a well for the purpose of monitoring ground water that filters through the old site would have to be dug and maintained.

We could not exercise our option to keep the dump open after the regulations are implemented for these reasons: 1. an attendant would be required to be on duty all of the time, 2. the landfill would have to be fenced with a "manproof fence" consisting of a six-foot chain-link fence topped with 3 strands of barbed wire. No liquids would be allowed in the landfill and 3. all wastes would have to be covered with six inches of clean fill material on a daily basis. Also, ground water would require testing, a methane gas monitor would have to be installed and other testing procedures would be placed on the landfill.

So, we really don't have a choice about closing the dump. And the program we have chosen to collect the trash may not be the best program possible. But, we have to start somewhere and learn as we go.

We have received bids from many haulers, including BFI, Homer Cluck of Amarillo, Stanley Dobbins of Amarillo, Dowlings of Amarillo, and Neal Lee of Howardwick. We chose the local bid because it was the least expensive per household and we know everyone is concerned with cost. We will learn a lot the first month of operation, including our average volume of trash. We have received permission from the Pampa landfill to take our trash there, but we won't really know the cost of dumping until we see how much trash there is.

We probably will have to make changes as we go and will be open to suggestions from all people. We need to work toward incorporating a recyclable materials such as plastics, glass, aluminum, paper and used oil drained from vehicles.

We have a big problem here, but we are in the same boat with every other town in America. We can work together and fine the best possible solution. We ask for your cooperation and we urge you to share your ideas with us.

Thanks for listening,
Nancy McClintock

Changing The Retirement Test

By Jim Talbot

The current public attention on the Social Security "retirement test" -- the limits placed on the amount of earnings a beneficiary can have -- raises a number of questions about its purpose. A rule that restricts earnings is viewed as unfair, especially since so many of those affected are older people who are already limited in their earnings capacity.

Nevertheless, an earnings limitation has been part of the Social Security law since the first benefits were paid in 1940. At that time the limit was $14.99 per month. A Social Security beneficiary who had earnings above that amount did not get a check for that month. The limit gradually increased over the years to the point where today, many Social Security beneficiaries can receive their benefits even though they have substantial earnings.

But the basic principle of the earnings limits remains the same-- to ensure that a worker has "retired" in order to receive "retirement" benefits, or that a person is dependent on a retired, disabled, or deceased worker in order to receive benefits based on the worker's earnings under Social Security.

In 1950, the limit had increased to $600 annually, but people age 75 and older were exempt. In 1954, the exempt age was dropped to 72. Gradual increases in the earnings limit continued to depend on yearly Congressional action until 1972, when an automatic provision was included in the law which provided that future adjustments to the limit would keep up with annual increases in general wage levels. In 1981, the age at which a beneficiary is exempted from the test was lowered from age 72 to 70.

In 1991, the earnings limits are $9,720 for people 65-69 and $7,080 for people under 65. If you're 65 or over, we withhold $1 for every $3 in earnings over the $9,720 limit. If you're under 65, we withhold $1 for every $2 of earnings over $7,080. Depending on their age and the amount of their Social Security check, some can earn as much as $30,000 and still get some of their benefits. Thus, most Social Security beneficiaries are better off financially working than not working, and are able to increase their incomes substantially.

Current proposals to change the law range from provisions that would eliminate the retirement test altogether for beneficiaries over 65 to increasing the annual exempt amount for those beneficiaries.

PCS Helps Weatherize

Applications are currently being taken for the Panhandle Community Services Weatherization Program.

This program provides free weatherization of low income homes with emphasis on homes of elderly and handicapped individuals.

With many of the elderly on fixed incomes, personal comfort and overall physical well being are often set aside in order to save on utility bills.

Weatherization can reduce the cost of utility bills up to 30 percent, allowing these individuals to live in a better home environment.

Money to provide for this free service is a result of a fund for energy conservation by the state and federal governments.

There are some basic qualifications, including one member family income not to exceed $8,275, and two member family income not to exceed $11,100.

On site home evaluations are conducted by a Panhandle Community Services representative.

For more information, contact Robbie Hill at 300 S. Sully, Clarendon, or call 806-874-2573 for an appointment.

New Law Will Make Government Jobs More Accessible Statewide

"Texas job seekers now have an opportunity to apply for state government jobs without having to travel to Austin," said TEC Commissioner Mary Scott Nabers. "The recently passed House Bill 2556 will give Texans a chance to compete for state government job opportunities for Texans across the state. The new law went into effect June 16 and requires all state agencies within the executive and judicial branches of government to list with the Texas Employment Commission (TEC) all job openings which are open to outside applicants. The only state agencies not affected by the law are agencies that serve as arms of the Legislature such as special committees or advisory boards.

Nabers said that in the past most state agency jobs were posted at the Governor's Job Bank in Austin, and few individuals had the opportunity to apply for them. TEC is delighted to have the new statewide job listings but is concerned that many job seekers may still be unaware of state government job opportunities available in their hometowns.

"State leaders wanted to increase the options for out of work Texans and, at the same time, make searching for qualified job applicants much easier for state agencies," Nabers said. "I believe we can achieve both of these goals."

SOLAR WATER PUMPING SYSTEMS

Proven water pumping systems for livestock, home, or small irrigation use. These pumps, solar panels, and control equipment are now available and in many applications less expensive than wind or fuel powered equipment & systems. They are very reliable and require very little or no maintenance. They have only one or two moving parts. I have several systems in place now in Donley County. If you are interested please give me a call.
