FIRE DESTROYS CAR AFTER WRECK

Owner Escapes With Minor Injuries In Tumble Off Grade

Returning from Pampa about nine p. m. Tuesday night, the Ford owned and driven by Elmer Palmer left the graded highway at the bridge a mile north of Highway 66 on the Pampa highway.

"I was returning from Pampa at normal speed when the first thing I knew, the lights flared up and went out," Mr. Palmer stated. As the lights went out, the car bounded down a fifteen foot grade into a ditch and under the edge of the bridge. The car instantly took fire as the driver climbed out. The motor continued to run as the fire rapidly enveloped the entire car.

Mr. Palmer suffered bruises about the head, a sprained back and bruises and lacerations on his right leg. His injuries are of a minor nature causing him to receive congratulations of his friends over his narrow escape in this his first accident.

The wrecker of the Palmer motor company brought in the remains Wednesday, the engine block being about all that could be salvaged, it is said.

OLD TOWN TALES

Old Town or "Saint's Root" are names applied to Clarendon as it existed on the north bank of Salt Fork on Carroll creek, having been established in 1878. Native building stone was used to a great extent, but even with what nature did for these intrepid pioneers, they found it necessary to freight in lumber from Dodge City, 278 miles away over trails instead of a highway.

Some of the handicaps may be realized when it became necessary to include a "lock up" for visitors. The normal inhabitants of the town were a sober lot, having barred whiskey and gambling from the beginning.

It was on January 28, 1884 that the county commissioners authorized the purchase of a "powder house" to be used for a "lock up" or jail. County clerk B. H. White, merchant prince with kindly face and chin goatee got the job done. Later a temporary jail was provided by means of a basement in the courthouse.

In the days of 'muzzle loaders,' powder was brought on in kegs. This powder and dynamite for blasting rock, was kept in the powder house at a safe distance from the other buildings. It was this powder house that finally became the first jail of Old Clarendon.

In 1884, G. A. Brown was county judge and A. Bartlett, Chas. Goodnight, L. B. Nall and L. G. Coleman were county commissioners.

Trees Grow in Semi-Arid Plains

No longer is it necessary that the Plains country be a vast, treeless expanse. CLARENDON READY FOR DEATH BLOW AT HANDS OF WELLINGTON 'ROCKETS'

Fans Resigned to Fate, But Loss Won't Detract From The Ponies Rating If Score Is Comparatively Small

The elements had a great big hardy laugh at the expense of Donley County citizens yesterday morning.

A sharp wind, an overcast sky and a preceding weather report of "frost", brought the citizens out in winter dress.

MEMBER OF PANHANDLE PRESS ASSOCIATION

Because of the practical training given students, Tech college at Lubbock has had a phenomenal growth. As to just how practical the training, here is an item appearing in Sunday's Star-Telegram:

"Seven month old Gordon S., and his seven foster mothers, all co-eds at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Gordon, born in an unceded trailer house, outside Lubbock's city limits, has been loaned by his parents to the college home management house, but they visit

The sooner America becomes a nation of homemakers, the better it will be for all of us. Those young ladies named above are an honor to their parents because of wholesome environment and training, and a credit to their school. We may dispute about ologies and isms and pet theories and alleged "progress," but we can't get away from the fundamental principles of God. And children and the home constitute the holiest privilege of His kingdom.

Charged with imbezzlement by a Potter grand jury, Mark Parker, commissioner of Precinct 2, said: "I'm going to let the people of Potter county know just what my activities have been as a commissioner." He should have been that loyal to the citizens of his county all along. The seven hundred and sixty-two county commissioners in Texas should demand that their activities be published. They should account to the people whom they serve through a printed statement in a newspaper showing where every dollar is spent, when and for which spent. That would save a lot of trouble. It likely would have saved Mark Parker a lot of humiliation. A printed statement in mind would have a tendency to hold a board of county commissioners in check. It would serve much as a "pay as you go" policy on the part of an individual. There would be far less spent. Practically every state except Texas requires that county commissioner proceedings be published. Why not Texas?

Articles in a number of papers indicate that an effort is being made to locate a factory in Texas making linen socks. It all came about by a Montana lawyer having bought a pair of Texas made linen socks that he found to have extra wearing qualities. There are a number of Texas factories that never advertise. Keeping the matter a secret has cost them thousands of dollars, and in some instances has meant their ruin because Texas-conscious purchasers knew nothing about it. "That which is made in Texas makes Texas." All things being equal, most any Texan would buy a home made product rather than see the money go back east. Why not advertise Texas-made products?

Citizens of this nation are now being listed in only two classes, Americans and New Dealers. The idea was given birth when Roosevelt began his European purge. Old party lines maintained on prejudice, are practically gone. Like the bank deal when Roosevelt took over the reins of government, it appeared that a "farm deal" was imperative. In many respects the plan has been a help. But why not progress? Farmers are getting tired of getting no where. They can't understand why they are prohibited from growing the same kind of crops that are being imported. They can't understand why they are being penalized by a heavy administration expense, all of which must be paid by the farmer. Big business wants consideration. Most every class of business wants more consideration. This consideration is being paid for through hidden taxes. What of the laboring class? They have nothing to sell except muscle power. Prices are increasing through hidden taxes. It might mean a bit more to the producer, but where does the consumer come in? The consumer pays all bills of whatever nature. Farmers are the biggest class of consumers of all. Each day Americans must realize that concentration of power must rest with a few political leaders, or with the people who speak only through the ballot. What makes a government despotic? Power. The more power given political leaders, the more despotism. If this power is vested in one man, then dictatorship results. Despotism drove the Pilgrims to America. Despotism ruined Spain. Despotism is rearing its ugly head in America right now. Americans are pretty well regulated by federal control at this time. Will it continue to the point of regulating the religious faith, or perhaps destroy all forms of christianity as has been done in other nations? Those whom we elect to make our laws are directly responsible. The voters are responsible indirectly. What is the remedy? Make our officeholders afraid of their job! Dictate to them what we as a people want. Demand of them that they serve us sanely. The ballot is our only sane weapon, but officeholders can easily be made to do the bidding of those who hold the balance of power in the ballot. Don't wait for election time to demand that which is fair and just. Demand your right as an American every day, in every way, and our government will grow better and better.

RECIPE FOR SWEATY FEET

One tablespoon common salt and one tablespoon cayenne pepper and one pint good white vinegar. Mix these thoroughly and add pint of boiling water.

After this has stood a few minutes strain out the pepper. Place the feet in warm water and keep adding hotter water until it comes up to the knees and is as hot as can be borne. Keep them in water about thirty minutes. As soon as the feet have been removed from water bath, rub well with the above preparation.

After the feet and limbs have been rubbed well, then rub them well with hot olive oil. Put on stockings to save bed clothes and go to bed. Sometimes a second application is needed.

(This recipe is contributed by Mrs. O. L. Fink who recommends the remedy for sweating feet, and odor prevention. Dr. Reedy of Indianapolis prescribed the remedy).

Do gentlemen really prefer the women pictured on the billboards? If so, are they really gentlemen. This is a moot question since the highways are strewn with gaudy pictures of women in the semi-nude smoking or drinking. Only children notice such things, but is it a square deal for the little folks to parade vulgarity before them with the approval of their elders? The elders could bombard the next legislature until a law is passed setting billboards a quarter of a mile back from the highways.

When a political party gives more time to creating taxes than to retrenchment, it is doomed for a failure. Progress is made by giving the individual a chance to live as a self-respecting, God fearing, law-abiding citizen. Not by taking from him the results of his toil or his genius.

 —Toronto Globe.

Kind friends, have you heard of the town of No-Good, on the banks of the River Slow, where the Sometime-or-Other scents the air and the soft Go-Easies grow? It lies in the valley of What's-the-Use, in the province of Let'er-Slide! It's the home of the reckless I-Don't-Care, where the Give-It-Ups abide. The town is as old as the human race, and it grows with the flight of years; it is wrapped in the fog of the idler's dreams; its streets are paved with discarded schemes and sprinkled with useless tears.—Amon.

Mr. and Mrs. Odis Martin and son Jimmy, Mrs. W. D. Martin and Mrs. Cornelius visited in Amarillo Monday.

BRONCHOS AND CYCLONES PLAY 6-6 DRAW

PIGSKINS PARAGRAPHS

By DICK COOKE

Before we get into the guessing game this week, let's pause to congratulate every member of the Broncho club who saw service in the Memphis game.

It was a case of the underdog rising to great heights and that takes concentrated effort. So the honor goes to all the starters; subs, Dempsey Robinson, who made three beautiful goal line tackles; L. B. Hartzog, Pete Morrow, etc.

It can truly be said that Clarendon missed winning that game by inches. The placement by Collie Huffman that slid under the bar—after Allison's 16 yard center for a touchdown—was the deciding factor of the game; and it looked so good from the stands.

The entire town is singing the praise of the Bronchos, so there is little to add. They were simply marvelous.

It looks very dark for Clarendon this week-end. The Wellington

Skyrockets—the most bloodthirsty club ever to hit the Panhandle—will invade the local field.

The locals can expect no mercy from the stony hearted lads from Collingsworth county. They hung up a very noble victory over Lakeview last week, 73 to 6, to serve notice on the world that they like the big scores. Remember they beat Clarendon seventy something to nothing last year.

Well let's get down to business. The winners: J. R. Gillham and Clarence Whitlock tied for first place with 99 points picking Wellington and Shamrock to win. They will split the Bryan Clothing Co. and Douglas & Goldston awards.

In third place was Bill Alexander with a total of 95 points also picking the winners. He gets the Shaver and Whitlock prize.

Two guessers, who otherwise would have been first, had to be disqualified because of entering two contest slips. Only one vote is allowed to an individual and two guesses render them void.

Now here's the guesses this week:

- *Clarendon vs. Wellington.
- *Memphis vs. Shamrock.
- *McLean vs. Whitedeer.
- * Indicates where games are to be played.

Wellington Takes South Half Lead

Shamrock Downs Wheeler To Hold North-Half First

The conference rating of district 3-B changed complexion last week-end after Wellington's smashing 73 to 6 defeat of the Lakeview Eagles. The win was the first loop engagement for the Wellington club and gave them first place standing after Clarendon and Memphis fought to a 6 to 6 draw to trail the leaders by one-half game.

Clarendon and Memphis who were deadlocked in first position by their respective wins over Lakeview must be contented this week with a tie in second place. Lakeview still is the cellar club with three straight losses.

The conference standings:

Team	G	W	L	T	Pct.
Wellington	1	1	0	0	1000
Clarendon	2	1	0	1	750
Memphis	2	1	0	1	750
Lakeview	3	0	3	0	000

Results last week: Wellington 73, Lakeview 6; Clarendon 6, Memphis 6.

Clarendon and Wellington will meet in the only south half conference game.

3-B RESULTS

ence game next week with Clarendon playing host to the strong Skyrockets here.

In the only north half conference game, Shamrock held the lead of circuit play by downing the second place Wheeler Mustangs 19 to 6. The loss left the Mustangs still in second place with a half-game lead on Lefors.

The conference standings:

Fighting doggedly every inch of the way, an inspired Clarendon High School football club gained a 6 to 6 tie with the favored Memphis Cyclones on the Memphis home lot Friday night before 2,500 frenzied fans.

After a weak first quarter start that gave the Hall County lads their lone marker, the Broncs came back furiously to hand-cuff the Memphis attack for three quarters and send Allison, burly Clarendon back, over the line for the tying counter.

It was a great line in the Clarendon uniforms, but the upset of the night was the helplessness of the famed Memphis passing machine. The Broncs secondary rose up and intercepted the first three heaves by Memphis and the startled Cyclones were lost in the fog.

Clarendon showed a nice running game but again surprised the majority of backers with their own passing ability. Allison did the tossing chores, but Beryl Longan took over the duties ably in the last period.

Memphis scored early in the second quarter after the closing first period gun left the ball on Clarendon's 21 yard line. The marker was set up by an interception of a Bronc pass by Crump on the locals 47.

Lindsey took personal charge of the running and throwing in some nice gains around Clarendon's left end, finally went over from the two yard line. Lindsey's placement was blocked and the score was Memphis 6, Clarendon 0.

The Broncs fought their way out of a bad hole soon afterwards when Allison dropped back to punt and the ball soared over his head to the one yard line. The play set Allison up in the hall of fame when he retreated the ball, and while covered by a host of Cyclones rifled it into the feet of an onrushing Memphis man. Memphis fell on the ball but the referee ruled it an intentional grounded pass and Clarendon received a 15 yard penalty from their own 36, the spot where the play originated.

With the ball on the Clarendon 21 yard line, it was here that the Broncs played superb football. In three downs the Cyclones had lost 5 yards, then Bob McWhorter, Clarendon end, intercepted a Memphis pass and got back to the 50 yard marker.

From then on it was all Clarendon. Memphis nipped a scoring threat in the third quarter when Billington recovered a Clarendon fumble on their own 4 yard line. Lindsey skirted to the Clarendon 27 yard line in two tries and on fourth down, fumbled and threw the ball after almost being tackled. Clarendon got 9 yards in four tries but a Memphis off side gave them a first and ten on the Memphis 16. From that point, Allison hit the line and went over standing. Huffman's placement was short by inches and the game was knotted, 6 and 6.

the Cyclones but couldn't cross the double lines again.

The Cyclones passing attack clicked in the fading minutes of play but the time was too short to be real dangerous. With only 51 seconds to play, Captain Huffman elected to use his fourth down in an attempt to hold on to the ball. The ball went to Memphis and after three plays, the game was over.

 There is Always Worship Fellowship :: Service

The world has yet to find a better and more constructive program for happy living than Christianity. The programs offered by the isms in the world today are negative, not positive; destructive, not constructive. They solve no problems, remove no perils, soothe no sorrows, inspire no hopes, kindle no ambitions lasting and worthwhile. Where we find the best homes, the highest moral standards, the purest womanhood, the best institutions, the place where investments are safest, we find the influence of Christianity. Where we find the greatest amount of debauchery, licentiousness, immorality, the most prolific wickedness, we find the effects of all kinds of isms and infidelity. This is the time of all times when the citizenship of Clarendon, should be true to the teachings of Christ regarding the rules of right living. Faithfulness to your church now may mean more than at any other time in your life. If you have to leave off some of your activities do not begin with your church. Others have found such a course to be disappointing and disastrous.

The evening Preaching Service will begin at 7:15. The Training

Union at 6:30 p. m. We will be happy if you are helped by these services. Your presence always gladdens our hearts.

WHAT GREAT REFORMER
THREW AN INKSTAND
AT THE DEVIL?

Satan continually appeared before him. The monk, however, refused to desist from his sacred task. According to legend, one day when Satan appeared Luther became so incensed that he seized his inkstand and hurled it at the intruder. The apparition disappeared and the missile was dashed to pieces against the wall of the castle.

The keeper of the Wartburg still carefully calls the traveler's attention to the spots made by Luther's inkstand, and there is good reason to believe that fresh ink is occasionally applied to the spot for the benefit of visitors.

Sam Davis of Oklahoma City is visiting in Clarendon this week.

After Martin Luther appeared at the Diet of Worms in 1521 his friends feared that his safe-conduct would be violated and that he would be seized and punished as a heretic. Thereafter his protector, Frederick III, elector of Saxony, had the monk secretly conveyed to the Wartburg, a historic castle at Eisenach.

This protective imprisonment lasted for about ten months and Luther took advantage of it to translate the New Testament into German.

During this work he fancied that

'Keep Smiling' Seen
As Jane's Best Hit

PRODUCER HAILS FIRST OF BIG SERIES FOR YOUNG
FILM STAR

Announced as the first of Jane Withers' 1938-39 pictures for 20th Century-Fox, "Keep Smiling," which opens at the Saturday night Prevue at the Pastime Theatre, finds the delightful 20th Century-Fox star in what Associate Producer John Stone confidently predicts will be the grandest surprise hit she's ever made.

"Everybody on the set knew we had a hit," Stone said, "long before the picture was finished. I can't tell you why, but somehow everybody connected with the picture—cast, writers, cameramen and crew—sensed that we were going over the top with a big picture."

"Jane felt it, and I think the rest of the cast took their cue from her, because they all turned in fine performances—with Jane herself better than she's ever been. And the story offered her the widest possible range for her talents. Because, in addition to some of the most hilarious comedy ever written for the screen, it has a poignant, heart-warming quality that really gets under your skin."

Gloria Stuart and Henry Wilcox head the cast, which includes Helen Westley, Jed Prouty, Douglas Fowley and Robert Allen.

The story, according to Stone, opens with Jane in a fashionable girls' boarding school, hocking her clothes to raise the fare to Hollywood, where she plans to visit her movie-director uncle, whom she has never seen. Upon her arrival in the film colony, Jane discovers that her uncle has taken to drink, has been deserted by his fair-weather friends, and can no longer get a job. In her efforts to rehabilitate him she crashes a big studio—and lands a job in the movies herself. When the hot-headed director on the set where she is being coached for stardom suddenly "blows up," Jane's uncle, now working as an extra, is given the chance to take over, with his old crew cheering his come-back and the girl he loves right by his side. The screen play of "Keep Smiling" was written by Frances Hyland and Albert Ray from an original idea by Frank Fenton and Lynn Root. Herbert I. Leeds directed.

Federal Prisons
Found to Reflect
Anti-Crime Gain

Growth of the Federal prison system from five institutions 25 years ago to 21 penal institutions yesterday, spanning the length and breadth of the nation, can be traced to action on the part of the Federal Government in closing loopholes in the criminal statutes.

That was the assertion of James V. Bennett, Director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons, in an address before members of the American Prison Association Congress.

"The increase in the number of prisons is due partly to the fact that the Federal Government is reaching out into the legal 'no man's land' to capture and punish criminals who formerly could carry on their nefarious activities without fear of punishment," Mr. Bennett said.

Closing the loopholes in criminal laws, he said, and the determination of the Department of Justice to stamp out organized crime has "brought into the Federal prison system a large number of offenders who today are serving time for acts which were not Federal crimes 25 years ago."

Mr. Bennett also hit at local jail conditions in some regions and said that his department has discovered that in some areas "kangaroo courts flourish, discipline and control is lacking, graft and favoritism are rampant, and sanitation is unbelievably poor."

Homelike cottages for juvenile offenders were recommended and the county jail system was assailed as "flagrantly undemocratic" by other speakers.

The cottage plan of institution was recommended as the only reasonable type for juveniles in a report to the National Conference of Juvenile Agencies by E. H. Roselle, New Haven, Conn., Chairman of the Committee of Planning and development of Institutional Plants.

The Committee suggested cottages accommodating a maximum of 25 children, each a complete home unit, the cottages and related units so placed as to give the aspects of a normal community and not the forbidding as "institutional" aspects "now so largely a byword in describing our institutions."

G. Howland Shaw, Chief of the Division of Foreign Service Personnel, Washington, said nearly a million men, women, and children, are sent to county jails every year, some frequent inmates of penal institutions but "almost one-half are first offenders, sent to jail because they cannot pay their fines."

"This is a flagrantly undemocratic procedure," he said.

Miss Dorothy Jo Taylor of Amarillo spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Davis and babe of Amarillo were guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Davis Sunday.

Prospects For Spring Stock Show Bright

Prospects are that the best show in Donley County history will be held next March. The largest number of pigs and calves in the history of club work in Donley county are on feed at the present time. Approximately thirty-five calves are on feed at the present time, and at least ten more will be placed on feed in the near future by 4-H and F.F.A. members.

Darrell Bailey, Johnny Leathers, Floyd and Leland Lewis, Doyle Martin, Allen Hardin, Harley and Beryl Longan, Hershell Brinson, W. R. Peggram, Jr., Jelly McGowen, Risley, Cleo Russell, Joe Williams, L. B. Hartzog, Bobby Word, Cecil Hickman, Carl Morris, Joe Frank Heathington, J. H. Greene, and J. D. Swift, Jr. are Donley County youths feeding for the show.

Approximately 25 litters of pigs totaling over 200 pigs with the singles included are now on feed for the spring show. The pigs are fairly evenly divided between the Hampshires, Poland, and Duroc Jerseys. More F.F.A. members are feeding pigs than ever before as a result of the swine production contest sponsored by the State Swine Breeders Association.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Douglas and children are in Dallas this week.

Panhandle's First Pioneer Settlers

Employed Irrigation Back In 1300, and Lived In Crude Homes of Mud

CANYON, Oct. 19.—The average Panhandle family in 1300 A. D. may have had smoke in its eyes, but it probably was quite proud of the architecture typical of that period—a kind of low, flat communal structure built of adobe and stone.

A restoration of the Panhandle culture ruins on Antelope creek in southwest Hutchinson county, 12 feet 6 inches long and built to scale, has been completed in the laboratory of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society museum on the West Texas State College campus. It is the work of G. F. Sundstrom of San Antonio, who has given most of his life to such restorations. He is now with the museum here.

The model shows 27 ruins, all restored with the exception of cross sections which reveal the interior arrangements. It is based on excavations made by WPA crews, who found well preserved rooms about 20 feet square, facing east on a flat hill overlooking Antelope creek. There were scattering houses down the hill, but the model shows only the grouping at the top, where about one hundred persons lived.

The skillfully made miniature shows thatched roofs with the roof poles projecting from the covering of brush and adobe. A smoke hole, well smoked, is in the center of each roof. Entrances in that day were low—only 2½ to 3 feet high, and usually placed between low storage rooms built in front of the living rooms. The entrances were closed, in cold weather, by rock slabs or hide curtains.

The room floors show fire pits. In the actual ruins, seven burials were noted beneath the floors. Burials under the living rooms were common before the coming of Coronado. The construction was nearly arrow and fire proof, and the location doubtless furnished an advantage for the defenders.

Outside but nearby are shown refuse heaps and storage cysts, the latter lined with rock.

The Indians who occupied the buildings were not unlike those living today, it is shown by the skeletons which were unearthed! They hunted the buffalo and other animals and also raised some corn and perhaps squash or other vegetables.

The restoration was made under the direction of C. Stuart Johnston, professor of geology and anthropology. A smaller model of the ruins has been constructed for the State Fair at Dallas. Valuable assistance in the projects has been given by Floyd V. Studer, Amarillo insurance man, who for many years has been locating and studying evidences of prehistoric life on the plains.
