PTA Hosts Open House

Clarendon Schools and the PTA organized an open house at the school on Tuesday, September 11th, from 7:00 to 8:00 p.m. Parents had the opportunity to visit with teachers and see the facilities where their children spend much of their time. Both the High School and the Junior High/Grade School were open. The new high school/old college building is impressive. As one student said excitedly, "We now have real laboratories!"

TIMOTHY SEARS, son of Mr. & Mrs. Weldon Sears of Clarendon, won a bicycle from Dairy Queen. The restaurant awarded the Roadmaster bicycle as a prize in its "50th Birthday Cool Wheels" Sweepstakes. Mitchie Fuston, manager, awarded the prize.

Among those at the walk-through were several new faculty members, as well as many veteran teachers.

The PTA served delicious home-made ice cream in the school cafeteria.

Crop Estimate Released

LUBBOCK--Cotton farmers here in the South Plains regions, where half the state's crop is grown, are keeping an eye on the sky and sweating out the critical 10 weeks left until harvest, hoping to make the best of an already bad situation.

If the weather cooperates, the 25 counties around Lubbock should produce between 1.8 million and 2.2 million bales of cotton this year, said two cotton experts associated with Texas A&M University.

But that's still a major "if", especially if the long hot, dry spell continues, causing the cotton plants to shed many small bolls, agreed Dr. James Supak, a cotton agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and Dr. John Gannaway, a cotton breeder for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

If farmers can make the high end of the harvests estimate, the 22.2 million bales will just equal the region's average annual cotton production for the 1980s.

That's not the way things started out in the spring, when farmers in the region planted 3.2 million acres and hoped for a yield of almost 3 million bales.

Drought and a prolonged period of hot weather in May and June was the first big setback.

"About 530,000 acres were abandoned due to drought," Supak said. "Another 30,000 acres were lost to hail."

July rains averted outright disaster and offered a glimmer of hope for the remaining crop. But the rains were followed by a period of cool, cloudy days that caused heavy vegetative growth rather than boll development. Then, the last two weeks of August turned dry and scorching hot.

"What we made up in the dryland area (with the rain), we lost in the irrigated crop" with the late August weather, Supak said. Last year, the region produced 1.6 million bales from 2.8 million planted acres.

Insurance Is Still Available For Small Grain Crops

Planting time for wheat, oats and barley is rapidly approaching, and the deadline for obtaining Multiple Peril Crop Insurance for these small grain crops is September 30.

Multiple Peril Crop Insurance is a proven alternative for dealing with crop damage risks. It provides a financial buffer that enables producers to continue farming next year if a major crop loss occurs. Small grains in Texas in recent years have been hit with floods, freezes, drought and rust. Texas farmers have until September 30 to insure small grains against losses from these calamities and other including hail, wind and insects. Growers cannot change their insurance plans after the deadline.

Insurance coverage levels and costs of premiums are determined primarily by a combination of yield guarantee and price election.

A farmer must choose a yield guarantee of 50, 65, or 75 percent of past production history. Essentially all 1991 price elections have been changed for wheat, barley and oats. The low- and medium-price election for each crop are, respectively: $2.40 and $2.85 per bushel; $1.40 and $1.65 per bushel; and $1.15 and $1.25 per bushel. For the first time, the high price election for each of these crops is market-price determined and should be known in the near future.

For example, the market-based price (MP) election for wheat is equal to 90 percent of the simple average of daily settlement prices for the succeeding July wheat futures contract traded on the Chicago Board of Trade in August, 1990, preceding the September 30 closing date. In case the wheat market during that period is weak, the market-based election will be less than the medium-price election at $2.85 per bushel.

Interested small grain producers should contact a local firm that offers Multiple Peril Crop Insurance to obtain complete details for insuring the 1991 small grain crop.

With respect to the status of crop insurance as of mid-August, full funding of 1990 crop coverage exists. Only growers of 1991 winter wheat with a September 30 or earlier sign-up dead line are safe. The crops such as peaches where insurance attaches later this fall are not currently insurable.

Approximately 95 percent of current crop production capacity next year will not be covered. Why?

Archaeological Society Met

On September 11 at 8 p.m. the Clarendon Archeological Society met at the Clarendon College Library. Those present were Walter Warner, Beryl Roper, Dr. Jack Hughes, Wayne & Sammie Doering, Mary Neal Risley and Pat Thornberry.

Walter Warner called the meeting to order. Dues per year were set as follows: $5. per student, $10 per individual and $15 per family. Meetings are to be held in the college library at 8 p.m. the 2nd Tuesday of each month September through May excluding December. Charter membership will be held through the month of November. The constitution was presented and will be voted in next meeting.

Hedley Lions Clean Highway

The Hedley Lions participated in a Texas-wide project called "the Texas Green Up Program", observed on September 15th. The civic-minded Donley County citizens cleaned up a two-mile section of Highway 287 on Saturday and planted some of the area in wildflowers. The Anheuser-Busch company furnished seed.

Anthony Knowles, Jimmy Taylor, Burford Holland, Troy Monroe, Gary White, Harold White and Merle Whitaker all helped pick up the highway. The group is now working on the Hedley Cotton Festival.

The Hedley Lions are the only group in Donley County to adopt a highway and stay with it.

Birds Win At Fair

Russell Estlack carried 14 birds to Amarillo for the Tri-State Fair Poultry Show. He had three White Bearded Silkie that he exhibited as an old trio. They place 1st Old Trio, Best of Variety on the Cock Bird, and Reserve of Variety on hen #62. The Cock bird was later placed Best of Breed.

The two Black Cocks placed 3rd hen and first Cock. The Cock bird was Reserve of Variety and Reserve of Breed.

One Golden Sebright Pullet was judged second in her class. In the Silver Sebright competition two hens were placed first and second. The Cock bird was 1st in class, Best of Variety, and Best of Breed. Hen #140 was Reserve of Variety and Reserve of Breed. The Cock later was judged Best of Breed and Reserve Champion Rose Comb Clean Leg Bird of the show.

Russ had his greatest success with the Black Breasted Red Old English game birds. He had 1st Cock, 1st & 2nd Hen, 2nd Cockerell and 1st Pullet. The Cock was Reserve of Variety, while the pullet was Best of Variety, Best of Breed and later Champion Old English of the show.

son family who purchased the ranch in 1984 and made it available to research it now provides much information about the inhabitants of the Texas Panhandle 900 A.D. - 1450 A.D.

Dr. Hughes answered many questions about the Wolf Creek area and sites around Clarendon. He generated real enthusiasm in everyone present so the next field trip date was set.

October 6, 1990 interested parties will leave Clarendon College at 9 a.m. to tour the remains of an Indian Village north of Clarendon. He will discuss what should not be done at a site such as this one -- vandalism. Dr. Hughes stresses the importance of studying the past in order to learn about the present and future.

Anyone interested in joining the tour and/or the society are welcomed. You may call Walter Warner at 874-3269 or Beryl Roper at 874-5125 or 874-5100. Better yet -- just show up! We had watermelon at the last meeting and it sure made those old bones and a few saints magnetic!

Bike-A-Thon Set

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital announced today that Missy Kidd will coordinate the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital "Wheels For Life" Bike-A-Thon in Clarendon Sept. 9, 1990, at 9 a.m., Farm to Market Road 2362.

Founded by Danny Thomas in 1962, St. Jude Children's Research Hospital is the largest childhood cancer research-treatment-education center in America. Although located in Memphis, TN, the hospital has a local impact because area doctors and hospitals can use, at no cost, treatments and procedures developed at St. Jude.

St. Jude Hospital is non-sectarian, interracial and provides medical care for over 3,200 active patients. Currently, over $183,000 is needed each day to keep the doors open. These funds come primarily from public contributions.

This year's Bike-A-Thon is dedicated to Brooke Simon. Five-year-old Brooke, from Delcambre, Louisiana, developed Wilms Tumor in November, 1988. Following the removal of her left kidney, she has undergone radiation and chemotherapy. Though her prognosis is good, her fight still continues.

We are grateful for the concern that Mrs. Kidd has for our work and we hope the citizens of Clarendon will support the Bike-A-Thon to help provide the funds that are needed to preserve the world's greatest asset... "Our Children".

The Most Common Pain Complaint

The most common pain complaint is headache. According to recent reports, 45 million Americans suffer with chronic headaches. Approximately 10 million Americans report having headaches every day. Headache pain often can be relieved with aspirin, acetaminophen, or ibuprofen - all nonprescription medicines.

Migraine headaches are among the most difficult to treat of the common headache types. Migraines occur when blood vessels in the head become enlarged, pressing on nerves and causing pain. The pain generally occurs only on one side and lasts from several hours to several days. Prescription medicines are used in the prevention and treatment of migraines.

Muscle tension headaches are caused by contractions in facial, neck, or scalp muscles. These headaches often occur following a specific event that causes muscles to tense. Physical problems in the eyes, teeth, jaws, or poor posture also can cause tension headaches.

Inflammatory headaches occur when pressure within the head causes pain. One of the major causes of inflammatory headaches is clogged sinus passages. Nasal decongestant medicines may relieve the cause of the pain. Other less common causes of inflammatory headaches include fever and infection.

Last Tuesday, September 11, 1990, we celebrated our September birthdays. The ones having birthdays in September were: Ellen Spurgeon, age 93, born Sept. 3, 1897; Lola Hardin, age 99, born Sept. 22, 1891; Dorothy Hall, age 84, born Sept. 24, 1906; Iona Stanley, age 86, born Sept. 28, 1904; and Willie Brandon, age 86, born Sept. 17, 1904.

The cakes were very beautiful, and we wish to thank the families for their thoughtfulness and attendance.

The traditional good wishes were made and happy birthday was sang to each, as they blew out their 3 candles. One candle for the past, present and future.

There were 36 residents, 36 visitors and employees in attendance. All were served cake and punch.

We wish to express our gratitude for all the wonderful volunteers that help in any way. We wish to thank, Lovie and Nancy Taylor, for baking a cake for Mrs. Spurgeon, because her children were not able to be here. Many thanks.

BRONCOS IN ACTION?

Football

For the second week in a row the Clarendon Broncos were bit by the fumble bug and lacked an offensive punch and was shutout by Boys Ranch 37-0.

The Broncos received the opening kick-off and Randy Allen returned it from the 7 yd line to the Bronco 36 yd line. After 2 incomplete passes and a quarterback sack, Clarendon punted to Boys Ranch on their 45 yd line. Boys Ranch moved to the 50 yd line in three plays and than punted, where the Broncos took over on their 28 yd line. The Broncos could not move the ball and again punted. A 15 yd penalty on BR gave the ball back to the Broncos on their 40 yd line and their only first down of the 1st quarter. On the following play the Broncos fumbled the ball to BR who recovered on their 44 yd line. BR moved to the 4 yd line in 7 plays, but were caught for two losses back to the 12 yd line. BR attempted a field goal from the 18 yd line but missed. However, a running into the kicker penalty gave them another try, this time from the 13 yd line. This time the kick was good and BR led 3-0 with 3:33 left in the 1st quarter. The 1st quarter ended with BR on the Bronco 15 yd line.

Four plays later BR scored increasing their lead to 10-0 with 11:08 remaining in the second quarter. The two teams traded punts as neither were able to move the ball effectively. The Broncos were able to move the ball from the 48 to the 34 yd line on a fake punt run by Michael Shadle, plus a 15 yd penalty on BR moved the ball to the 19 yd line. This was as close as the Broncos could get to the end zone because on the next play they fumbled and BR recovered on the 18 yd line. BR then drove 82 yds for a touchdown capped off with a 18 yd run for the score by Mike Nguyen and the 2 point pass was good to make the score 18-0. with 3:49 remaining in the second quarter. Again neither team was able to move the ball and the 1st half ended with Boys Ranch leading 18-0.

Boys Ranch took the second half kick-off and moved from their 38 yd line in nine plays for their 3rd TD on a 33 yd pas to Shane Wiggins to increase their lead to 24-0 with 7:33 remaining in the 3rd quarter.

The Broncos managed to get to the BR 34 yd line before they fumbled this time. Both teams traded punts again. BR then scored on a 73 yd drive in 4 plays, scoring in a 45 yd TD pass to Kenny Larkan to make the score 31-0.

Late in the 4th quarter Scott Hankins intercepted a pass, as BR was driving for yet another TD, and ran it out to the 15 yd line. The Broncos were able to move the ball to the 32 yd line and then punted. With 9 seconds to play BR put their first team back into the game and scored on a 50 yd pass as time ran out. Final score Boys Ranch 37, Clarendon 0.

Nathan Lowrey caught 4 passes for 26 yds. Hugo Vaquer recovered a fumble and made 10 tackles. Scott Hankins intercepted a pass. Jonathan Stewart completed 4 passes, punted 7 times with a 35 yd avg. and made 9 tackles. Billy Bob Hoggard made 12 tackles. Spencer Smith, Brice Fletcher, Jared Estes and Bryan Black made 9 tackles each. The Broncos will host the Memphis Cyclones Friday for Homecoming. Make plans to attend and support the Broncos.

NATHAN LOWRIE breaks up a Boys Ranch pass.

JV Broncos Win

The JV Broncos beat White Deer, Thursday, September 13, 1990, in the Bronco Stadium. The final score was Clarendon JV 20 - White Deer 12.

The JV Broncos led White Deer at halftime by a score of 14-6. With 1:48 minutes left in the ballgame, Clarendon intercepted a White Deer pass and ran for a touchdown.

The JV team will travel to Memphis, Thursday, Sept. 20.

OOPS! Boys Ranch did not catch 'em all.

• Pep Rally Set

There will be a pep rally at 3:10 p.m. in the school gym, to help cheer the Broncos to Victory. Everyone try to attend and let the Broncos know we are behind them one hundred percent. Beat Memphis Broncos!

Letter to the Editor

Monday, September 27, 1990 will mark the 203rd Anniversary of the signing in Philadelphia of the Constitution of the United States. On that date 39 men serving as the Constitutional Convention and representing 12 of the original 13 states placed their signatures to a draft copy of that document which has served this nation so well.

The signed document was forwarded to the government of the Articles of Confederation in New York City with the request that it be sent to the 13 states for ratification. The approval process required several months. With the signing in July, 1788 by New York and Virginia, the acceptance of the document was complete. The fundamental law of the nation began to function in 1789 and has ably served our government since that date.

The men who drafted the Constitution performed well, and we have the pleasure of remembering and appreciating their handiwork.

Sincerely yours,
Kenneth N. Sloan, President

Minding Your Own Business

by Don Taylor

Persistence Pays

As a small boy, I watched a pile-driving machine at work. The operator pulled a huge weight to the top and turned it loose to come crashing down on the column. Even though the impact shook the ground under my bare feet, the steel piling hardly moved at all. I soon tired of watching the machine make noise but seemingly accomplish little else.

It was not until some years later that I began to understand and appreciate the pile-driving process. Its results are cumulative. The pile-driver must keep pounding away, even if it isn't making any visible progress. Persistence really does pay.

For small businesses, persistence is one of the basic ingredients for success. It is steadfastness of purpose that drives the business to prosperity. Persistence is the continual striving toward a goal that ultimately guarantees success. At times, you may feel that you aren't getting anywhere. When you feel this way, just remember the pile-driver. Keep hammering away until you have built a firm foundation.

Plan the Work; Work the Plan

One of the ways for a small business person to make continual progress is to stay focused on where you are going. Only when you have an achievable goal in sight can you measure your success.

I believe that business people should write their goals into a formal business plan. The planning process is a prerequisite to success. Plan the work, then work the plan.

The conquering of Mount Everest in 1953 is a good example of planning and persistence. Although only two men made the final assault on the summit, their success was the culmination of months of preparation. The project team included more than 300 packers, climbers and support personnel. They established supply bases at strategic points and stockpiled tons of supplies and equipment. Sir Edmund's team didn't just decide to go for a hike that day; they had a plan. Their success in reaching the top was a direct result of following the plan.

As a small business person, you will be more likely to reach the summit of personal and financial success if you first determine a course for your business. If you stay focused on that course, persistence will allow you to accomplish the most difficult objectives.

Fight One More Round

"Gentlemen Jim" Corbett was one of the toughest bare-fisted boxers ever to enter the ring. His personal motto, "fight one more round," became a tribute to his persistence. Corbett said, "When your feet are so tired you have to shuffle back to the center of the ring -- fight one more round. When your arms are so tired that you can hardly lift your hands to come on guard -- fight one more round. When your nose is bleeding and your eyes are black and you are so tired you wish your opponent would crack you on the jaw and put you to sleep -- fight one more round -- remembering that the man who always fights one more round is never whipped." Corbett practiced persistence. He won his first fight in the twenty-eighth round.

When business drags you down and you feel like quitting, keep on trying. Think of the pile-driver, Sir Edmund and Gentleman Jim, and keep hammering away.

Take a moment and reflect on some of America's great examples of persistence. Remember Thomas Edison who had hundreds of failures before he lit up our lives. Remember Abraham Lincoln who failed in business and lost several elections before becoming President of the United States. Remember Colonel Harland Sanders who was 66 and nearly penniless when he founded Kentucky Fried Chicken.

And, of course, don't forget Tommy Puttzer. Who is he, you ask? Tommy is the guy who only tried a couple of times, then gave up.

Charlie Brown Turns 40

Good grief, Charlie Brown! Can you believe that 40 years have passed since Charles M. Schultz's "Peanuts" comic strip made its debut in seven newspapers on Oct. 2, 1950? Charlie Brown, Snoopy and the rest of the Peanuts gang are celebrating "40 years of happiness" — the theme of the anniversary year.

Today, 2,300 newspapers feature the "Peanuts" comic strip. And with over 200 million readers in 68 countries, "Peanuts" is the most widely syndicated comic strip in the world.

Although there may be disagreement over which Peanuts scenario is the favorite — Charlie Brown's tireless efforts to kick the football, his pursuit of the little red-haired girl or Snoopy's ongoing fight with the Red Baron — one thing is certain: Americans have been nuts about "Peanuts" for 40 years. ll

J.S.B., J.J. and S.D.G.

The man was obscure throughout his life. At least one employer, considered the man a mediocre second choice (after a more favored applicant refused to take the job.) The man never earned much more than just enough to support his many children. After he died, his widow had a hard time making ends meet. Probably some of those who read his obituary considered the man a ne'er-do-well or perhaps even a total failure.

Today those who wrote and read that obituary are dead and forgotten. Yet today everyone is familiar with the name of the man whom they scorned. Scholars in his own field regard the man as "one of the greatest—probably the greatest" in that field. Dr. Albert Schweitzer [who held doctorates in medicine, music and theology and spent his life as a medical missionary] simply referred to the man as "the Fifth Evangelist". The man was, of course, Johann Sebastian Bach. And more people love his music today than ever before in history.

Why was Bach great? Obviously he had talent. But hundreds of men in the last four hundred years have had talent. He may have received unusually good training. But it could hardly have been that much better than that of contemporaries—his or ours.

Perhaps one could make a good case for the fact that Bach was the greatest because of the way that he used the gifts that God gave him.

Much of Bach's work was religious in nature. Part of that may stem from the fact that he worked as a church organist in Leipzig. But that employment only gave him opportunity. He wrote religious music because he chose to do so. Today we have a great many Bach compositions because he wrote so much—thousands and thousands of pages. In fact, what survives is but a fraction of what Bach wrote. Why did he write so much? Perhaps his motive is a significant reason for his success. Bach wrote a new composition each Sunday because he did not want to offer to God anything used. What a beautiful attitude!

There are two other bits of evidence about the composer's attitude. They appear at the beginning and end of virtually every composition, in Bach's own handwriting. At the beginning are the two initials "J.J.". At the bottom of each composition he wrote the letters "S.D.G.". The first stands for Jesu Juva—Jesus help me! The second is an abbreviation for Soli Deo Gloria To God alone be the glory!

Can anyone improve on that formula for beginning and ending each project?

DOORPOSTS

My Dirty Room

by Perry Mack Garrison

Dreams are very strange human phenomenon--memories, thoughts, fantasies, and projections--which have never been understood. Professionals tell us that we all dream even if we don't remember them; and I don't. But, I did have a peculiar dream lately, and although I don't put much stock in my mixed-up, obscure dreams, this one got me thinking.

I dreamed that I was back in grade school once again (God forbid) and I was sitting in my room at home. I looked around with astonishment; the room was a total wreck. Now I have never been known as an overly tidy person or even having a clean room, but this was ridiculous! It was cluttered knee deep in things I hardly remember ever owning: toys, and stereo parts, and stuffed animals, and paper, and trash, and clothes, clothes, clothes. It was a mess. The curtains were torn and dirty and there was a half-eaten, rotten chicken on the night stand stinking, and crawling with cute, little, "baby flies". The bed was turned over on its side and the pillows were lost in the mayhem on the floor. The electric wiring was pulled out of the walls and the light fixture was broken and hanging from the ceiling. It was unbelievable. Then I heard footsteps coming down the hall. It was my mother! I panicked! I couldn't let her see my room like this!... But I had no choice. She rounded the corner and entered the doorway to my room. The look on her face startled me from my dream and back to the real world. It was a look of dismay and hurt; a look that said, "You let me down."

I have since tried to laugh it off but it still haunts me. The look on her face and the feelings that washed over me, like: I want to clean this room up, but it's too late. I now believe there to be a message in this dream that I could apply to the day in which we live.

Jesus asks a very important question--to be answered by us saints today--in Matthew 24:45. "Who then is a faithful and wise servant, whom his lord hath made ruler over his household, to give them meat in due season?" And then He adds: "Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing."

Here we are sitting in our little mess of a world and wondering what we can do to fix it. Living our little, smoke-filled lives with cluttered priorities about our feet.

Then we must ask ourselves this question anew: "Who then is a faithful and wise servant...?" Look around, what do you see? Is it pretty? Or is it chaos? Are we really ready as a nation? Ready as a church? Ready as individuals?

"The lord of that servant shall come in a day when he looketh not for him, and in an hour that he is not aware of..."

Is your room a mess? Jesus cleans a room better than anyone.

SHhhhh...listen! Do you hear that? It sounds like footsteps in the hall...but...there's something else. It sounds like the fanfare of a thousand shofars.

AARP Chapter to Meet

The Clarendon-Hedley-Memphis Chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons will meet on Friday, September 21, at 12:30 p.m., in the Hedley Senior Citizens Center. A film will be presented showing sites in Texas worth visiting. This has been described as an especially interesting film. Everyone is invited to attend.

Hedley News

Hedleyans celebrated the birthdays of two longtime area residents this past Sunday. Approximately forty relatives and friends gathered at the home of Doyle and Evelyn Messer Sunday afternoon to honor Lillie Messer on her eighty-seventh birthday. Visitors enjoyed punch and a slice of the beautifully-decorated birthday cake. Mrs. Messer received a great number of cards and gifts. She has been a resident of the Hedley area since 1905.

Then, following the evening worship service, the congregation of First Baptist Church surprised Annie Mae Sims with a party in recognition of her ninetieth birthday. Members and guests enjoyed ice cream, punch, and a beautiful cake baked and decorated by Rhonda Shaw. Mrs. Sims, whose birthday was actually Tuesday, September 18, moved to Hedley in 1919. She has been a member of First Baptist Church for seventy years. Floy Barrow and Jean Stavenhagen took pictures of the occasion. Mrs. Sims and Jean, whose birthday is also September 18, have been exchanging birthday greetings for a number of years.

Best wishes are extended to Mrs. Messer and Mrs. Sims. They represent the fine, stable, hard-working Christian people that every community desperately needs.

Ben Carson has been quite ill, and spent most of last week in Hall County Hospital. He was released on Friday, and was feeling well enough to be in church Sunday. We're glad to see him up and about again.

Ben's mother, Mrs. Jo Carson, also spent several days in Hall County Hospital, having suffered a rattlesnake bite to the ankle. She was released on Thursday, and is reported doing well.

Johnnie Wilson underwent surgery in Childress General Hospital on Wednesday the twelfth, and is recovering nicely.

Gerald Bland was admitted to Hall County Hospital on Thursday the thirteenth. As of this writing (Monday), he was still not feeling well at all.

Tiny Harmon was admitted to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo on September 7. She had minor surgery on her foot, and is back home and doing well.

Brandon White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary White, is among the thousands of American servicemen participating in Operation Desert Shield. He has been in Saudi Arabia about two weeks. In a letter which arrived Friday, Brandon said that he was aboard an overcrowded transport ship anchored in the Persian Gulf, just sitting, waiting, and getting a bit nervous, but otherwise doing well. The Whites were glad to receive a telephone number where he could be reached, at least in case of an emergency. Be sure to remember Brandon and all our military personnel in your prayers.

Hedley experienced a good shower--an inch or so in many rain gauges--along with high winds, lots of lightning, and some very light hail on the evening of September 10. Light rains returned to the area late Saturday, and continued as our Monday press deadline approached.

Jim and Sharon Boliver and daughter Angie visited this weekend with Joyce Boliver. He provided special music Sunday morning at First Baptist Church. Jim and family also visited Marie Johnson in Clarendon.

In Need Of A Blanket

One was a home economics teacher and ski coach from Cornell University, one was a high-fashion model from California, and yet another was a copilot for the national airline of Peru. What did these women have in common? They all were Army Air Corps flight trainees at Avenger Field, Texas, the largest all-woman airbase in the history of the United States. Located at the Sweetwater, Texas, municipal airport, Avenger Field had been established in 1942 as a training base for pilots in World War II. First serving male cadets, in 1943 it was converted to serve women pilot trainees of the Womens Airforce Service Pilots. The role of the organization was to ferry military aircraft and by so doing to free male pilots for combat duty. All the women who joined the WASPs already had aviation experience and licenses for flying small private planes. Their training at Avenger Field was in the theory and practice of flying larger military aircraft. Over 1,000 graduated with their "wings" to serve the armed forces.

While half of the women training at Avenger Field were in the classrooms, the other half would be either flying or in the "ready room" waiting to fly. The days were full, with instruction and flying during the day followed by organized games like baseball and volleyball each evening. The only day off was Sunday. Lights were out at 10:00 p.m.

Following the solo flights in their PT-19 planes, the trainees were permitted to take the aircraft up by themselves. During the summer weather in West Texas, the open cockpits of the little trainers proved to be desirably comfortable places.

The story is still told among Avenger Field veterans of a WASP trainee who decided that the PT-19 at 3,000 feet in the air would make an ideal place to sunbathe.

After checking the surrounding skies for any other planes, the trainee trimmed the little plane so that it would smoothly almost fly itself. Then holding the control stick between her knees, she gingerly took off her shirt and pointed her face into the sun.

A few luxurious minutes into the sunbathing, the pilot heard the sound of other aircraft engines. Rousing herself from the semi-reclining position in the cockpit, she discovered around her not female trainees from Avenger Field but male cadets from other nearby West Texas bases.

As the cadets grinned and waved, the WASP trainee fumbled with her shirt while still controlling the flight of her plane. The PT-19 began bobbing and weaving through the air as she struggled with the uncooperative shirt. Then, despite her best efforts, the garment slipped from her hands into the air, floating down to the Texas prairies far below. The aerial audience cheered with delight.

Ducking down into the open cockpit, the trainee banked away from the other planes and headed home to Avenger Field.

On landing and taxiing up to the flightline in front of the dingy little wooden barracks and classroom buildings at Avenger Field, the embarrassed pilot shut off her engine and called out from what looked like an empty cockpit:

"Somebody bring me a blanket!"

Making School Lunches More Fun

Remember the kid in your elementary school who always seemed to bring the best sack lunches from home? Everyone wanted to swap lunches with this kid, because he or she usually had something much more interesting than the standard peanut butter and jelly or bologna sandwich.

Times haven't changed. With the start of school just around the corner, parents are still struggling to pack lunches their children can brag about. If the fare you prepare for your child is met with a response such as "Do I really have to eat this?" don't despair.

"A school lunch does not have to be boring," says Kerry Lyman, a spokesperson for Hostess®. "All parents need to do is use a little creativity to pack a lunch their children will be excited about."

It's not hard to pack a lunch your child will open with enthusiasm. Packaging improvements in the food industry now make it possible to include items that previously would have been inconvenient and messy to eat on the go. For instance, the makers of Hostess Breakfast Bake Shop® products have introduced a new line of bite-sized muffins called Mini Muffins, which are ideal for packing in school lunchboxes because of their crush-resistant packaging.

Some children have small appetites and require snacks between meals to sustain their energy level. Several school districts have recognized this need and allow students to bring snacks for recess or other breaks during the day. Thanks to the miniaturization of many popular foods, parents can include a variety of small snacks to keep energy up without spoiling appetites. Although it's important to use ingenuity when making a lunch, you never should compromise safety. When packing a lunch, place all foods that are not prepackaged in clean, air-tight containers. Vacuum bottles for hot and cold beverages or foods, thermal bags, and re-usable plastic containers keep foods fresh at the right temperatures. Never use glass and be sure to clean the containers between each use.

Remind your children not to store their lunches next to radiators or in direct sunlight and to try to keep them in a cool place. In addition, children should know the hazards of trading lunches with their classmates. Remember, your child will be less likely to trade a fun and tasty lunch.

By following a few simple tips, you can make a hit with your child's lunch and move onto the next challenge: wrestling your youngster away from home video games long enough to complete nightly homework assignments.

Study Tracks Associations' Spending

For those who wonder how associations use charitable contributions, a recent study may shed some light on the subject. According to the United Press International news service, the study, conducted by the Capital Research Center, found that at least three of the nation's largest health organizations spend less than a quarter of total funds raised on medical research.

The organizations — the American Cancer Society, the American Heart Association and the American Lung Association — spend significantly more on public relations, salaries and political lobbying than they do on actual medical research. The study named the American Lung Association as spending the least income of the three on research — only 4.1 percent of its $103.6 million income in 1987. During that same period, the association spent 33 percent of its income on fund-raising and administration.

Because crop insurance is being squeezed by proponents for program reform, House Appropriations, and budget negotiations. Observers expect that crop insurance will be addressed in the House-Senate conference of the Farm Bill in September.

Growers interested in the status and future availability of MPCI should contact their farm organization and Congressional representatives.
