Head Lice: Prevention and Treatment

Head lice are tiny parasites - about the size of small ants. Lice have claws on each leg that allows them to cling to the skin and suck small amounts of blood from humans. Infestations of head lice are common among elementary-age school children. Head lice bites often produce redness, itching, and scratching for up to 24 hours after bites occur. Severe bites may result in crusting and oozing from the scalp and along the hair line.

Prescription and nonprescription medicines are available to help get rid of head lice. Prescription medicines include shampoos and cream rinses that are applied to the scalp for a few minutes and then rinsed away. Nonprescription shampoos should be applied a second time, 7 to 10 days after the first application. Some of the shampoo products come with a hair comb for removing lice eggs (nits) that may remain after shampooing.

Prevent head lice infestations by washing infected family member's clothes in hot water and drying clothes in a hot dryer for at least 20 minutes. Vacuum areas such as the backs of chairs and head rests that may come in contact with infected persons. Disinfect combs and hair brushes and periodically check children's hair for lice or eggs.

Minutes of the October 23, 1990, meeting were read, and upon a motion by Alderman James Kuhn, seconded by Alderman Steve Smith, said minutes were approved. Motion carried.

Gayle Edes asked the Board to officially close the dedicated street that would run through her horse lot if ever opened, in Block 2, Tufts Addition. Motion carried.

Memphis City Alderman, George Becci, appeared before the Board to explain the necessity of the City of Memphis increasing the charge per cubic yard of trash dumped in their landfill from $3.00 cu. yd. to $3.90 cu. yd. ### STUDENTS--Cont'd from p.1.

To be eligible, students must have scored in the 97th percentile or better on an in-school achievement or ability nationally normed test. They will sit for the ACT Assessment, (normally taken only by college-bound Juniors and Seniors) on December 8. Many of these students score as well or better than the average college-bound Senior on these measures. All participants receive Certificates of Merit and some become eligible for state-wide recognitions ceremonies or a variety of educational programs.

TIP, established in 1980, has provided thousands of students with information about their abilities and educational options. The purposes of the program are to help academically bright students develop their special abilities, to assist schools in working with their brightest students, and to understand the nature of exceptional mathematical and verbal ability.

In addition to these students in the TIP Search, five students have been accepted for consideration for the Joseph Baldwin Academy for eminent young scholars. The Academy is highly selective, with only 15 students accepted for each of the seven courses offered each session. Even though students are eligible for Distinguished Nominee designation by having scored at or above the 97th percentile on a nationally normed exam and have presented a school transcript that reflects academic excellence, the actual intensive course of study is not for everyone. Only the most serious-minded students will respond positively to the challenges of the three-week academy. Students selected must take and score well on the ACT or SAT examination.

The following students from Clarendon Junior High are applicants for the 1991 summer academy: Amanda Ballard, Mandy Floyd, Joshua Shields, Amy Thornberry and Evan Williams.

PUBLIC NOTICE

On July 19, 1990, GTE Southwest Incorporated ("GTE-SW") filed revisions to the company's tariff pertaining to the features and associated equipment for providing emergency number services (9-1-1).

In this filing, GTE-SW proposes to modify its existing 9-1-1 tariff and to add more than 200 new service offerings. The new items of service and equipment in this application have been added to meet the company's increasing 9-1-1 customer demands and to allow GTE-SW to compete more effectively in the 9-1-1 equipment market.

The product line in the new offerings consists of a mini-computer and specialized console package for larger communities, as well as a personal computer with Automatic Number Identification (ANI) display for smaller communities. (ANI displays a caller's telephone number on the emergency dispatcher's computer screen.) In addition, the product line will include ANI and Automatic Location Information (ALI) display units compatible with, and similar to, those offered by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company and other local exchange carriers in Texas. (The ALI feature displays a caller's address on the computer screen.) The rate charged existing 9-1-1 customers may be revised at the expiration of their contracts with GTE-SW if the proposed tariff is approved.

This filing has been assigned Docket No 9667. The hearing on the merits is scheduled for February 25, 1991, at the offices of the Public Utility Commission of Texas. The deadline to intervene in this docket is December 31, 1990.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information, should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas, 78757. Further information also may be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf.

TIPS ON STAYING SAFE AND SOUND WITH NATURAL GAS.

For more than 90 years, Lone Star Gas has been providing safe, dependable energy to Texans. Our customers trust gas and take comfort in the impressive safety record we've compiled. By following a few simple rules, you can help keep that record intact.

Always have qualified service people install and maintain all gas appliances, following the manufacturer's instructions for installation and operation. And always use a gas appliance only for its intended purpose. An oven, for example, should not be used to heat a room.

Natural gas itself is odorless. Its strong smell is added for your protection. If you ever smell gas in your home, follow these rules: ■ Do not switch anything electrical on or off. ■ Do not use your own telephone (telephones use small amounts of electricity). Do not strike a match, and do not do anything that might cause a spark. ■ Have everyone leave the house immediately, leaving the doors open for ventilation. ■ Go to the nearest telephone and call Lone Star Gas Company. Wait until we have found the cause of the gas leak before returning to your home.

Since gas lines run underground, you should also take precautions against disrupting these lines, particularly if you plan to: ■ Put in a new fence. ■ Install an underground sprinkler system. ■ Perform any major landscape renovation.

Before you dig, call your local Lone Star Gas Office. If you smell gas while you're outside, contact Lone Star Gas immediately.

In our continuing effort to provide better, safer service, local Lone Star Gas offices are ready to answer any questions that contractors may have concerning the location of gas lines in their areas.

Our safety record proves that when you follow these simple guidelines, you and your family can stay safe and sound with natural gas. Energy you can trust.

Don't Compromise. Demand Gas.

Tempered Glass Wins

by Ty Wyatt

It took over a year, but Tempered Glass finally lived up to her owners' expectations on Breeders Classics Championship Day at Los Alamitos on November 17. It was a year late, but worth the wait.

Last year at Sunland Park Tempered Glass' owners Janice Knorpp and Judy Neumayer had high hopes for their Streakin Six filly, who went postward in the grade I Breeders Juvenile Classic as the 7-2 second choice in the wagering.

Tempered Glass finished eighth. To say that Tempered Glass's owners were disappointed would be an understatement.

That disappointment lasted nearly 13 months. It then ended in 19.79 seconds.

Trainer Blane Schvaneveldt took over the training duties on Tempered Glass this fall with her immediate goal being Championship Day. The trainer that has won more Championship Day races than any other trainer(seven) placed Tempered Glass in the $31,100, grade II Breeders Sophomore Classic.

Once again Tempered Glass was the second choice, but this time she lived up to her connections' expectations.

With Bruce Pilkenton riding Tempered Glass from the outside post position in the seven horse field, Tempered Glass broke alertly to take the lead.

Pilkenton used a right handed stick on the Streakin Six filly and then went to a hand ride in the final 50 yards when the outcome had been determined.

Favored Ourautograph was closing ground under Kip Didericksen but was never able to threaten Tempered Glass, who finished a half length on top.

Ourautograph, a gelded son of The Signature, won two stakes during the Los Alamitos summer season and started the current meet with a win in a division of the Garden Grove Handicap, a race in which Tempered Glass ran third.

"She fell down last time and got up and ran a heckuva race," Schvaneveldt said in reference to the Garden Grove division. "We loved her in this race. We thought she had a good shot to beat them. We drew a good post and beat them."

Pilkenton also thought the difference was at the start.

"It went really good," said Pilkenton. "She stood up on her feet tonight and ran a terrific race."

The Sophomore Classic victory gave Tempered Glass her third win from just five 1990 starts. She started the year with an easy win in a Ruidoso Downs allowance race and then cruised to a length and a quarter victory in her All American Derby trial.

In the grade I All American Derby Tempered Glass checked in fifth, her only off the board performance this year.

After the All American Derby Tempered Glass was shipped to California and made her Los Alamitos debut in the Garden Grove Handicap.

Tempered Glass went from a disappointment in the 1989 Breeders Juvenile Classic to setting a stakes record in the 1990 Breeders Sophomore Classic.

"It is absolutely the most wonderful thing that has ever happened," Janice Knorpp said while clutching her crystal trophy in the winner's circle. "It was worth waiting a year for this"

Highlights of the race can be seen locally on ESPN at 9:00 a.m., November 30.

What Jesus Wants

In the 17th Chapter of John's Gospel, the apostle recorded Jesus' prayer that his followers would be one so that the world would believe. That message seems to have attracted little attention from modern Christians, but it must have been desperately important to Jesus, for he knew that he would go directly from that prayer to arrest, torture and crucifixion.

This ad is the first in a series that will explore the nature of unity and division among Christians. This series is based on the following:

- 1) The Scriptures command oneness and condemn division. As long as Christians are divided, they violate the expressed will of Jesus.
- 2) God expects each believer to engage in holy living, including evangelism, benevolence and nurturing the oneness of the Body (the unity of believers). Unity is the individual responsibility of each Christian, as well as of all collectively.
- 3) Church politics cannot bring "the unity of the Spirit". Just as merging two unprofitable corporations may not generate profits, merging two sects or denominations may not bring wholeness.
- 4) Christians must share a faith in a crucified and risen Lord. Each Christian must try to obey him in all things. A Christian must not judge or reject others over theories or opinions. (Although willful violation of God's word is another matter.)
- 5) Since the Scriptures are a common standard for all, each believer should live as closely to the Biblical precedent as possible and encourage others to study, as well. When differences arise, each believer must follow the Scriptures (as he understands) and refrain from judging others.
- 6) In every situation, Christians should be Christ-centered and emphasize those things that encourage and build up faith in Him.

Our Lord knew that divisions weakened his Body's incentive to preach the Good News and destroyed the effectiveness of the message to unbelievers. Yet for hundreds of years, people who claimed to be Christians have divided into ever-more-numerous sects, denominations and splinter groups. This diabolical insanity must end. The torn Body of Christ must be allowed to heal.

Please pray--as did our Lord--that those of us today who believe may realize that by his grace we are one in Him, and that we may learn to live in unity.

He Did What?!

by Jon Leggett

Why, oh, why did he pass by? Good grief—I made a rhyme! Here I am lying in the road, my head feeling as big around as a barrel, and I'm making stupid poems. I don't believe I'm rhyming and laughing about it! Why am I laughing? Dear Lord, it hurts to laugh. It hurts to think. But why did he pass by? How could he just look at me and walk on? I just wanted him to extend a hand and help me up. Am I invisible? That's it—I'm invisible. No, I'm dreaming that I'm invisible. What a crazy dream! That character I just dreamed up looked so real. His robes looked so real—like a priest's. A priest that offers no aid—what a crazy dream!...Help!...

Owww! My head hurts! How long have I been lying here? Where is my water bag? What was I dreaming? Yes, I remember—a priest who wouldn't help me. Why did I need help? Everything is so fuzzy. Robbers—now I remember—six of them—so much snatching, grabbing—so much cursing—clubs swinging. I taste blood. Ugh! What a gruesome dream! Where is my water bag?

Gone. My stick, too. And my purse! By Jacob's bones, I'm not dreaming! I've been robbed! Help!...

If I could only get up. Maybe then I'd quit taking these naps in the middle of the road. What's that? Footsteps? Help!

Praise the Lord, it's a Levite! Help me up, please! Why are you looking at me like that? May I have a sip of your water? Please?

No! Please don't leave! Wait! Please help me up! Wait! Please!

This is a nightmare! No, it's a curse! It must be! God has placed a curse on me for my sins. I can hear my voice, but no one else can.

Why else would a Levite ignore my cry for a drink of water. A curse! Of course! That's why I was robbed. That explains the pain. Have mercy, Lord! Mercy! Mercy!...

Every inch of me hurts. But what soft hands! They feel so good. Did I say "hands"? Whose hands? Soft, dark brown hands. Every step the donkey takes jolts me like a heavy hammer's blow. Donkey? I don't own a donkey. How my back hurts! But my poor, parched throat has stopped burning.

Those soft hands, again. They must belong to the shadow that sits by my bed. How long has the shadow sat and watched? It seems like ages. Such soft hands! Another sip of water? Yes, thank you!...

What is this place, innkeeper? How long have I been here?...Really?!

Sir, you must have heard every silly excuse imaginable over the years, but this is the truth—I lost my purse to thieves on the Jericho road, and there wasn't much in it to begin with....What? Nothing at all? Not a single denarius? The Shadow did what? But he doesn't even know me!...Went where? Back to Samaria?

The hurting is finally just about gone. Thank heaven, because I've got to get home. Look! A caravan heading my way! I'll see if its master will let me travel with them. No more solitary treks for me. I need a road-neighbor!

A neighbor. The Shadow! Lord, was he an angel? Was he there all along? Will I see him again? I must—I simply must—thank him!

Praise the Lord, the caravan's moving. I've got to get home. Old Ezra asked me to help him fix his roof, and I put him off. The rainy season is almost here. Forgive me, neighbor! I'll be there shortly!

"Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour unto him that fell among the thieves? And he said, He that shewed mercy on him. Then said Jesus unto him, Go, and do thou likewise" (Luke 10:36-37).

4-H Dog Classes

Bob and Vera Lee Andis are once again volunteering their expertise in the area of dog care and training to the 4-H. The K-9 Korp Dog Classes will be registering for the upcoming year on Wednesday, November 28th at 7:00 p.m., in the Clarendon Community Center. This is one of the most exciting projects we have in Donley County. The project has dwindled in numbers over the past couple of years. 1990 should be the year that we thrive once more.

Dog classes are held weekly on Wednesday nights with the exception of holidays. Classes begin at 7:00 p.m., and last only one hour. It matters not what type of dog you own—young, old, small, large—all are suitable for this project.

Items that you need to bring on registration night are: a dog, choke collar, and six foot lead. You should also bring one parent with you. There are releases that must be signed and it is a good idea for your parents to know what you will be learning. Adults are also welcome to take the class, for a small charge (to be donated to the K-9 Korp).

If you are interested, please call the Extension office at 874-2141 or Melinda McAnear at 874-2377.

Lindley Attends Seminar

Almost 200 tax officials from across the state came to College Station to enroll in the 8th Annual County Tax Assessor-Collectors' Seminar at the Hilton Inn Conference Center, Nov. 17-20.

Taking part was Wilma Lindley of Donley County's tax assessor-collectors' office.

The training was conducted as a program of the V.G. Young Institute of County Government of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Cooperating were the Tax Assessor-Collectors Association of Texas and the Continuing Education Office of Texas A & M University.

Wilma said tax assessor-collectors can prepare to meet future challenges—and do a better job today—by taking part in professional seminars such as the one just conducted.

John Gilmartin and Joe Rothe, Extension Service specialists with the V.G. Young Institute, supervised the professional training session for the tax officials.

County tax assessor-collectors are required to achieve certification by successfully completing continuing education courses. Those attending all sessions received 1.9 continuing education units from Texas A & M Continuing Education Office.

December 1, 1990. Those winning first place in their division and will be participating in the district competition are Melisse Campbell, Jessica Rogers, Jenny Roberts, Lindsay Green, Freedom Garrison, Missie Butts and Amanda Ward. Jan Melton placed first in intermediate nutritious snacks and desserts but will be unable to travel to Dalhart and Carrie Holley will represent Donley county in that division.

Those participating in the Food and Nutrition project but did not enter the Food Show are Christina Woodard, Rachel Woodard, Joshua Talley, and Angela Turner. Leaders for the project groups were Vicky Tamplen and Kathy Turner. Each of these ladies did an excellent job with their groups.

Donley County 4-H Food Show Held

The Donley County 4-H Food Show was held Saturday, November 17, 1990 in the Clarendon Senior Citizens Center. This show is in conjunction with the 4-H Food and Nutrition project which has been going on for the past eight weeks.

Those participating in the show and their categories were:

Junior Main Dish: Melisse Campbell and Michael Holley; Junior Fruits and Vegetables: Troy J. Turner and Jenny Roberts; Junior Breads and Cereals: Jessica Rogers and Cindy Hearn; Junior Nutritious Snacks and Desserts: Tarah Tamplen and Lindsay Green; Intermediate Main Dish: David Ward and Missie Butts; Intermediate Breads and Cereals: Clint Green, Freedom Garrison, and T.J. Turner; Intermediate Nutritious Snacks and Desserts: Jan Melton and Carrie Holley; Senior Main Dish: Amanda Ward.

Judging began at 1:00 p.m. with the awards ceremony beginning at 3:00 p.m. Awards were presented by Cheryl Pickard, County Extension Agent, Home Economics, and Amanda Ward, president of the Hedley 4-H Club. Lindsay Green was presented with the award for Best Project Record form. Winners of each division are eligible to participate in the District I 4-H Food Show to be held in Dalhart
