Cheerleaders Attend Camp

The Clarendon High School Cheerleaders recently returned from a National Cheerleaders Association summer camp workshop where they received top recognition as the most improved cheerleading squad at the camp. The workshop was held at Wayland Baptist University and attracted over 200 cheerleaders from surrounding states.

The National Cheerleaders Association is sponsoring "Most Improved" squad award at each of over 500 NCA workshops held across the United States. The Clarendon Cheerleaders were selected for this award above all other cheerleaders at the workshop on the basis of their improvement in cheerleading technique, unity, friendliness, cooperation, leadership, and sportsmanship throughout the camp.

The presentation of the NCA "Most Improved" squad came at the completion of a full workshop of training on cheerleading technique, cheer, chants, jump, partner stunts, and pyramids, as well as a leadership program for sportsmanship, crowd participation, responsibilities, organization, and dedication. The National Cheerleaders Association has been conducting summer workshops for over 40 years, teaching over 125,000 students each year on the art of cheerleading.

In addition to getting the "Most Improved" award. The squad received three blue ribbons for superior evaluations and won the spirit stick on Tuesday.

Girls on the squad are: Kelli Keown, Ashley Knorpp, Carrie Shields, Elizabeth McAnear, Mandy Floyd, Bobbie Havens (Head), and Shauna Lauderdale (Mascot).

By Tim Trimble, CEA-Ag

The Donley County Extension Crops Committee is sponsoring Cotton Marketing meetings starting September 10 for local cotton producers. These meetings will be informal, coffee shop type meetings, which will be held the second and fourth Thursday of September and October at the Paymaster Gin, ADM in Lelia Lake. These meetings will include a teleconference with Dr. Carl Anderson, Extension Cotton Economist. Each meeting will start at 7:30 a.m. and last approximately 1/2 to 1 hour.

The first meeting will be Thursday, September 10th at 7:30 a.m. at the Gin in Lelia Lake. Producers interested in learning more about marketing and that plan to attend one or more of the meetings need to come by the Extension Office to pickup a packet for prior review to the meetings. The packet will help producers understand terminology and basics which will be used at the meetings. At the meetings we will be discussing why the market is where it is, what is likely to happen in the future, hedging, puts and calls, and answering producer questions.

The dates for the meetings, which will all be at Lelia Lake, starting at 7:30 a.m. are: September 24, October 8 and 22. These dates are subject to change.

This is the start of an emphasis by the committee on marketing. Beginning in 1993 the committee plans to start a marketing club to help producers become familiar and more comfortable with the use of marketing techniques.

Medical Center News

Residents of the Medical Center have been busy the month of August. They have enjoyed participating in the daily activity schedule. Some of the activities that are provided for the residents on a regular basis are: bingo, dominoes, exercise, reminiscing, word games, current events, monthly resident birthday party, ice cream parties, movies with popcorn and coffee hour where residents visit and enjoy each others company. Many of the residents have stated that it's not the activity that's so important, but being together and making new friends.

Resident and family members enjoyed "Family Night", August 21, where a Hawaiian Luau was the theme for the evening. The meal which consisted of ham, sweet potatoes, green beans, yeast rolls, and assorted tropical fruit was enjoyed by all. A big thank you to the dietary department for all their hard work and effort. Also, thank you to those family members who were so kind to bring refreshments.

Special guests for the evening were the administrator and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Alderson, and the Ombudsman and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Roan from Claude, Texas. The staff and residents were happy that they could join them for the evening, and also happy to have as many family members show up as there were. Remember, you do not have to have an invitation to visit the Center, you are welcome anytime.

On top of all the activities, the residents have enjoyed shelling peas together this last week. They would all like to thank Carol Hall and Trista Moore for donating the peas.

Birthdays to be celebrated in the month of September are: Ellar Spurgeon, Willie Brandon, Ruby White, Dorothy Hall, Birdie King, Beulah Maxey, Katie Phillips, and Ione Stanley. Everyone is invited to come help them celebrate their birthdays.

Many Elderly, Poor Texans Paying Needlessly for Medicare Services

Houston (AP)-More than 100,000 poor, elderly Texans continue to pay for Medicare services they should be getting free because they don't know any better, state and federal advocacy groups say.

Under a 2-year-old federal program, elderly Americans living at or near the federal poverty level are eligible to receive all Medicare programs free.

But many continue to pay a $31.80 monthly charge, plus deductible and co-payments, because they are unaware of the program, the Houston Chronicle reported in early editions today.

Families USA Foundation - an advocacy group focusing on health, economic and long-term care issues - estimates that more than 116,000 Texans are eligible for, but not taking advantage of, the free program.

Nationwide, as many as two million people may fall into that category. "There are a lot of people out there who simply don't know they are qualified," Gray Panthers Texas director Charlotte Flynn said.

"For these people, the difference in costs means they are probably not getting the kind of care they need. They put off going to the doctor because they can't afford the deductibles and the co-payments," she said. Medicare is a two-part insurance policy, providing for hospitalization smokers patch. Some of the symptoms include local skin irritation and itching. Other symptoms, dry mouth, dizziness, muscle aches and pains, clammy skin, vivid dreams, increased cough, and nausea are some of the symptoms patients experience. Those who have quit smoking with the patches say that the fourth day is the worst, and that it helps to have another smoker quit with you. Having a "buddy" going through the same thing makes it easier.

Now is time to get your flu immunization. This year we were able to obtain all the vaccine that we needed, so we are offering it at a big discount. It is recommended for anyone who wants to avoid the flu, not just those 65 or older or those with chronic illnesses as heart disease, lung disease, diabetes, etc. We are offering the vaccine for $10.00 per dose, or $12.00 if you want to charge it to your account, to help defray the bookkeeping costs and sending out a statement. Get your flu shot now.

Cooler temperatures continue to slow cotton and peanut development. Much of the cotton in the county is in cutout, but with recent rains some regrowth could occur if temperatures are above normal and fruit set is light. In some areas cotton is showing signs of drought stress with shedding of squares and small bolls. Peanut fields are showing yellowing from leafhopper damage, but this should not be of major concern to producers. Peanut producers should be applying fungicides on a regular basis by now to prevent leaf spot.

Cotton insect problems have increased this past week. Very high numbers of cotton aphids persist in some fields, mostly younger fields and fields, where insecticidal applications have been applied. Recent rainfall should help reduce aphid levels to some degree. Many fields have large numbers of beneficials which are suppressing aphids in many fields.

Boll weevil activity has increased particularly northeast of Hedley. Stage of cotton development will determine if weevil damage will occur. Boll protection is the major objective at this point in the season. Bolls should be protected until the last bolls that you expect to harvest are at least one inch in diameter. Many fields will be past the point of sustaining heavy weevil damage. But, increased weevil populations at this point could increase the amount of weevils that go into overwintering.

Bollworm moth activity increased also this past week which would indicate that eggs and small worms may be found this week.

Problems with worms will likely be erratic and only in select fields. Most larvae are five to ten days old that are present in fields now. Bollworm activity has been fairly light as of Monday. Producers should inspect all fields for possible outbreaks of bollworms but especially those fields that are not showing moisture stress. With the recent rains many fields that were showing signs of moisture stress may become attractive to worms. With recent rains cotton should not be watered anymore this year. Peanut irrigation should be decreased to avoid pod rot and also encourage maturity.

Bronco FOOTBALL

CLARENDON HIGH SCHOOL

Football Season Opens

Clarendon will open the season Friday, September 4, against Claude. If last Friday's scrimmage against Spearman is any indication of this seasons' ball club then things are definitely looking up. The Broncos are more aggressive as indicated by helmets against helmets and it appeared that Spearman was surprised at the Broncos aggressiveness. The Broncos are very optimistic this year because they have more depth and are more confident in themselves and their abilities to be the best they can be. Clarendon has 18 lettermen, 17 starters, nine Defensive and eight offensive. Their strength is in their speed, size and experience.

The Broncos will travel to Claude to take on the Claude Mustangs At 8:00 p.m. Every come out and show your support for the Broncos.

WTSU Awards Professor Emeritus Ranking

The title of Professor Emeritus has been bestowed on 27 retired West Texas State University faculty members. Representing more than eight centuries of combined service, the recipients are the first in the history of the University to receive the ranking.

Dr. Marian Z. SoRelle, professor of speech, of Clarendon, Texas, was among the professors honored.

The titles were officially confirmed by the Texas A & M University System Board of Regents at its July 23 and 24 meeting, upon nomination by Dr. Barry B. Thompson, WTSU president, and a recommendation by TAMUS Chancellor Herbert H. Richardson.

"I felt the time to recognize the contributions of so many people who have given their lives to education and especially West Texas State University was long overdue," Thompson said. "These people have contributed a great deal to the University and their fields, and it is important that we not forget those contributions."

Nominations of deserving individuals were made by faculty members and administrators with faculty ranking. The prime selection criterion for conferring the title was "a significant contribution through long and distinguished service to the University in administration, teaching, research and professional service. Any person with faculty rank who has retired from the University after at least 10 years of full-time employment is eligible for consideration for Emeritus rank."

Nominations were submitted to a standing Emeritus Rank Committee, chaired by Dr. Joseph L. Cox, professor of music. Other committee members included Dr. James B. Davis, professor of accounting; Dr. F. Darrell Munsell, professor of history; and Dr. Kenneth R. Van Doren, professor of mathematics.

Recipients of the Emeritus ranking were honored at summer commencement exercises August 20. Each will receive a certificate from the University as well as extra privileges including listings in the University catalog, invitations to academic and other University functions, invitations to faculty meetings where they will be extended privileges of the floor but no voting rights, and the use of services and facilities such as Cornette Library and parking.

Medicare News

Medicare was designed to help elderly Americans get, and pay for needed medical care; it is unfortunate indeed that many older Texans qualify for free Medicare services but do not know it.

Under a federal program, elderly Americans living at or near the federal poverty level are eligible to receive all Medicare services free. Currently, the elderly pay $31.80 monthly Medicare fee plus deductibles and co-payments for secondary coverage. For those who fall within the guidelines of the federal program, all those costs are waived.

The money is not a tremendous sum; however, for those who qualify, it is a substantial amount, enough so that many do not seek services because they cannot afford the deductibles or co-payments.

"There are a lot of people out there who simply don't know they are qualified," according to Gray Panthers Texas director Charlotte Flynn. "For these people, the difference in costs means they are probably not getting the kind of care they need."

The program was established to help the elderly poor and it should be utilized. For a single person with a monthly income of $588 or less and total assets of $4,000 or less is eligible, and a couple is eligible if they have a, monthly income of $786 or less and assets of no more than $6,000. The Texas Department of Human Resources administers the program.

Families often have the responsibility for taking care of the paperwork and red tape involved with Medicare and other insurance. They, too, need to be informed about the program, because their mother or father may qualify for the free care. America has a compassionate tradition of taking care of its elderly, and this program is proof. It is of little use, however, if those who are eligible do not participate.

The Lions Tale

by Gene Alderson

The Lions Tale "Wags" Again!

Your reporter has completed training for his new career and is glad to again be able to attend our regular club meetings.

The Clarendon Lions Club held its regular meeting at noon on Tuesday, August 25, 1992 at the Lions Hall with seventeen members and two guests present. Tiny Bernabe arrived in time to play the piano during the opening ceremony. We enjoyed a chicken fired steak dinner and then the meeting was called to order by Boss Lion Tamplen. Following the regular opening ceremony, Liontamer Henson introduced our guests including Jenks Boston, local rancher, who was the guest of Lion Walt Knorpp.

The Boss Lion made several announcements and then a very informative program was presented by Delbert Robertson on the Associated Ambulance Authority and Emergency Medical Service. Meeting adjourned.

and physicians' fees. Normally, $31.80 a month is deducted from Social Security checks for Medicare. In addition, recipients pay the first $625 annually in hospital costs, $100 for physician charges and 20 percent of other costs.

The new law exempts those charges for people below the federal poverty level. A single person with a monthly income of $588 or less and total assets of $4,000 or less is eligible for the program.

A couple is eligible if its monthly income is at or below $786 and 0 other assets total no more than $6,000.

The Texas Department of Human Resources administers the program. The federal government pays for 64 per-cent of the program, with the state taking care of the balance.

Families USA Foundation charges that the federal government has been negligent in publicizing the Qualified Medicare Beneficiaries program.

"What should be an important protection for the elderly poor is still a government secret," the group's executive director, Ron Pollack, has said. Reprinted from the Amarillo Sunday News-Globe.

Volunteer Highlight

Charlotte Roan is a RSVP volunteer from Claude, Texas. She is one of many multi-talented volunteers. She is involved in a number of ways helping others.

She works to help the residents of Claude with their Medicare Insurance Claims. She works with nursing homes in Claude and Clarendon as an Ombudsman Volunteer. The Ombudsman Program trains volunteers to monitor nursing home facilities concerning abuse and neglect of residents. Ombudsman training is offered by the Texas Department of Aging.

Mrs. Roan also works with the Texas Department of Health when they do inspections of the nursing homes where she volunteers. She enjoys the one-on-one visits with nursing home residents and really enjoys taking older Claude residents for coffee.

When asked why she volunteers, she said "I've volunteered for a long time because it gets me out of the house, makes me feel better, and gives me something to do."

Congratulations to Mrs. Roan for her work helping others. RRSVP is proud of her and our many other volunteers for sharing their time and talent to help make our communities better places to live.

Doctors Must Limit Medicare Overcharge

Reprinted from The Claude News

Editor's Note: The following information was contributed by Charlotte Roan who acts as a local Ombudsman for the aged and their families. Persons may contact her in Claude at 226-6701.

Beginning in January 1992, doctors can charge no more than 20% beyond what Medicare allows. But doctors, Medicare carriers and beneficiaries are misinformed or uninformed about Medicare's limits on balance billing.

The Health Care Financing Administration (HCFA) which administers Medicare, is sending directives to its regional offices and to insurance companies that process claims. It enforces the law which forbids the excess billing of Medicare patients.

Still unresolved, however, is whether people who have been overcharged can get refunds. While now conceding that beneficiaries needn't pay bills that exceed the legal limits, HCFA says it lacks the authority to order doctors to refund patients money. The law does not explicitly state that enrollees are due refunds when they are overcharged.

HCFA now requires that beneficiaries be told that they are not responsible for billed amounts in excess of the limiting charge for a covered service. This information will be on the Explanation of Medicare Benefits (EOMBs) in every instance when the limiting charge is exceeded. By 1993 the exact amount of the limiting charge for each claim will be printed on the BOMB.

Beneficiaries who feel they have been overcharged (20% over the approved Medicare charge) should contact their carriers.

USED OIL: 240 million gallons a year are poured on the ground and into drains that foul sewer systems, lakes and rivers.

The Environmental Alternative

Environmentally conscious motorists can reduce the amount of drain oil they personally produce by as much as 70%. AMSOIL recommends extending oil drain intervals (on mechanically sound engines) to 25,000 miles or one year, when using AMSOIL Synthetic Motor Oil.
