DONLEY PROTESTS DISTRICT CHANGE

WIRES URGE HIGHWAY COMMISSION TO LEAVE DONLEY IN AMARILLO DIST.

Concerted action in Donley County came to the fore the past week on account of an order of the Highway Commission switching Donley County from the Amarillo District to the Childress District, believed locally to be against the best interests of maintenance and extension of Donley County highways.

Wires from the highway committee of the Chamber of Commerce to Chairman Bobbitt at Austin revealed the fact that the order passed on Sept. 16th, had been held up temporarily by an order Sept. 21st, and that Donley's plea to remain in the Amarillo district would be considered by the Commission before final settlement of the matter.

A mass meeting was held in the City Hall Friday afternoon, presided over by Mayor W. H. Patrick. After the matter was explained by Sam M. Braswell, chairman of the highway committee and discussion was had of the change a unanimous vote ordered a wire of protest to the Commission over the shift, and urging that Donley be left in its present connection, for "practical reasons of better service in maintenance, and the hope of further highway construction," with direct reference to the projected extension of Highway 88 South from Clarendon to Turkey.

A strong letter from the City Commission of Clarendon was also dispatched to the Commission over the week-end, and the commissioners Court of Donley County also filed a plea for the permanency of the country's connection with the Amarillo district.

It is felt here that the shift to the Childress District would lose Clarendon eight or ten families of highway workers, aside from the lessening of the good service the county now enjoys from the department.

The Lions Club joined unanimously in the protest Tuesday and ordered a letter along the lines of those mentioned above.

GINS HUMMING AS COTTON COMES IN

MERCHANTS PREPARING FOR WEEKLY INCREASE IN SATURDAY BUSINESS

With fair weather permitting cotton picking in all sections of the county, more than 788 bales of Donley County's 1937 cotton crop had been ginned Wednesday night, a check revealed.

Ginners yesterday said that cotton was coming in rapidly and ginnings are almost likely to double by the end of the week.

Due to damp weather through late August and early September, the cotton crop is a little later than usual, but picking is expected to be in full swing around Oct. 1.

Farmers continue to predict big yields in all sections of the county. Some growers believe they have fields that will produce better than a half-bale to the acre, and the county average is expected to be between one-fourth and one-third bale to the acre.

Merchants are preparing for another big Saturday business, and from all indications trade will increase each week through the fall. For the past three weeks, Saturday business has been increasing.

Bishop Boaz To Meet Cabinet Here Oct. 7

Bishop Poaz of the Methodist Church, has called a meeting of all the presiding elders of the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference, to convene in Clarendon, Thursday October 7th, according to Presiding Elder Thos. S. Barcus, who invited the group to meet here.

At noon the Bishop and Elders will be guests of Dr. and Mrs. Barcus in a luncheon at the district parsonage.

TRAFFIC LIGHT TO BE INSTALLED

EQUIPMENT HAS BEEN ORDERED; OPERATION EXPECTED TO BEGIN SOON

A light signal system for regulation of traffic at the intersection of Highway 5 and Kearney Street will be installed within the near future, according to an announcement made public Wednesday by City officials.

An order for the equipment has been placed by the city, and will be erected upon its arrival.

The proper regulation of traffic at the intersection, and a method of preventing accidents was the deciding factor in the city's decision to install the signal system.

Officials said that when the light is installed the city marshal will police the intersection to acquaint motorists and pedestrians with the operation of the system, and to advise people that violators of the traffic regulation will be prosecuted.

Poultry Fanciers Plan For Show Here

According to poultry fanciers, a meeting of the Green Belt Poultry Association will be held in the near future at Clarendon to lay plans for a local poultry show.

Much enthusiasm is being evidenced in the forthcoming meeting of poultry breeders, since Donley county carried off first honors at the Tri-State Fair.

SCHOOL BOARD HOST TO TEACHING CORPS OF CHS AT COUNTRY CLUB

According to a custom of many years, the Board of Trustees complimented the teachers with an annual "Get Acquainted" picnic Thursday evening, at the country Club.

The affair was very informal, and the evening was spent with the teacher and trustees making the new acquaintances and renewing old ones.

After a sumptuous picnic supper of individual steaks, brown beans, buns, onions, pickles, salads, pies, cakes and coffee the guests voted the trustees pleasing hosts as well as culinary artists.

Pastors and their families from the various churches were invited guests on the occasion and the ones present were: Rev. and Mrs. E. D. Landreth, Rev. and Mrs. Newton Smith, Rev. and Mrs. Robert E. Apstin, Rev. and Mrs. H. V. Crumley, and Rev. J. Perry King.

Mrs. Ben Buck has been engaged as the operator, officials of the store said.

CITY TO OBSERVE FIRE PREVENTION WEEK, OCT. 3-9

MAYOR ISSUES PROCLAMATION CALLING ON CITIZENS TO BURN RUBBISH

City officials of Clarendon and the fire department officials will observe National Fire Prevention Week, October 3 to 9, by calling upon all property owners, store operators, and the entire citizenship as a whole, to so operate and work with the fire chief, fire marshal and city officials in an effort to control the useless loss of life and property by fire.

Mayor W. H. Patrick in a proclamation issued Wednesday called upon the people of Clarendon to clean up all rubbish accumulations, as a means of preventing fires, and assist in maintaining the good fire credit now available to Clarendon fire insurance policy holders.

Mayor Patrick also said that Fire Marshal James Trent would make a tour of inspection at the conclusion of Fire Prevention Week to ascertain the extent of the cleanup work done by property owners, and check remaining fire hazards.

All kinds of food are covered in the wide scope of lectures.

The whole point of the school is that it enables every housewife, whether experienced or not, to benefit by the accumulated wisdom of thousands of other women.

Great interest is being shown in the motion picture cooking school. There is a universal spirit of cooperation among the participating advertisers in bringing this attractive event to Clarendon, and it is expected that during the whole duration of the cooking school sessions there will be a period when "cooking school" is heard on every tongue.

So don't make any other plans for Monday morning. Be at the Pastime Theatre when the cooking school begins, and as a guest of The Clarendon News and participating advertisers, share in the large number of free daily awards, as well as the individual merchants awards to be made.

BRONCHOS LOSE TO WELLINGTON

LOCAL FIGHTERS SUFFER 71-0 DEFEAT AT HANDS OF SKYROCKETS

The Wellington Skyrockets hit the high spots Friday night at Wellington, when they smothered the Clarendon Bronchos over Powell Field in the most decisive score ever made on the Wellington gridiron.

According to observers who witnessed the tilt, the Skyrockets were masters throughout the entire game, with their string of letter men retained from the team last year and the lack of experienced men on the Broncho team.

The Bronchos scored one first down to the Skyrocket's 24.

The starting lineup for the locals was Wilson, left end; Robinson, left tackle; Taylor, left guard; Lane, center; Mears, right guard; Palmer, right tackle; Warren, right end; Cooke, quarterback; McWhorter, left half; McGowan, right half; and Grady, fullback.

The Broncho's next tilt will be at Wheeler, Friday night. Two weeks ago Wellington downed the Wheeler team 36-6.

DISPLAYS FINE PEARS

CONVENTION OF NEIGHBORLY HOMEMAKERS WILL BE WELCOMED BY THE CLARENDON NEWS OCT. 4, 5, 6, AT THE PASTIME

"The best things in life are free." And so is The Clarendon News' fascinating and different Cooking School that is just around the corner, opening Monday, Oct. 4, in the Pastime Theatre. Last minute plans are being completed, even as this paper goes to press.

No opening bells will be needed for the eagerly-awaited, three-day school, brimming with novelty, romance and practical appeal for advance indications point to a capacity convention of homemakers.

Men have their annual conventions, where they listen to lectures from specialists experts who have devoted years to studying and experimenting along constructive lines. There the crowds of business men get a fresh viewpoint on their job, new ideas and enthusiasm to carry back to work.

Now comes this practical rally of homemakers to contribute fresh perspective for "the same old job," the monotonous day-in-and-day-out job, yet the most important business in the world.

The feminine convention delegates may not pound on a glass and sing pep songs, but they will get-up-to-the-minute news on every phase of household lore, and they will hear from specialists in their own field, who will direct an inventory of simplified methods, routine, products and latest equipment, pointing the easy road to smooth home management.

They may seem like a tall order for one motion picture, but this entertainment is no ordinary film.

True it was cast, directed and filmed in a famed Hollywood studio, but it was assembled thoughtfully and patiently to bring more than passing amusement. Every-day happenings were dramatized in the sound plot. Behind the sparkling humor and suspense that are so necessary to screen stories, was a deliberate plan—an ambitious determination to carry instruction, inspiration and worthwhile home news to women in every community.

The camera and the home specialists got together on their vigorous investigation, and The Clarendon News was quick to snap up the chance to offer the interesting result.

Never has the camera been more faithful in this motion picture Cooking School. Never has a model kitchen been portrayed so accurately and in such detail.

The camera took its time and it took its close-ups, so that every person in the Pastime Theatre will have a "large as life, and

WHEN SHALL "TAXATION BE EQUAL AND UNIFORM" IN TEXAS?

Taxpayers of Texas find themselves in an uncomfortable situation this week when the Legislature meets in special session to consider Governor Alford's message to raise $15,000,000 additional revenue in order to keep state expenditures from piling up an enormous deficit.

The News believes with a great section of Texans that the additional revenue can be found without adding any more taxes, which are becoming a great hindrance to profitable business in this state. We believe that since the Texas Constitution provides that "taxation shall be equal and uniform," that it is time that something is done about the huge proportion of real and personal property in Texas which today escapes any form of taxation through the bunglesome system now in vogue. The Texas Tax Journal says that it "ventures . . . more than one-third of the property is escaping taxation."

The Galveston News, arguing along the same lines, says "it is notorious that collection of taxes against personal property is almost a farce. The Tax Journal suggests that the state would recover millions of dollars by amending the law to make a tax lien against personal property a first lien, just as in the case of real estate."

"The outstanding fact is that one legislature after another has dodged the issue of tax reform, taking the line of least resistance, until the tax system has become a travesty on the constitutional injunction that 'taxation shall be equal and uniform.'"

TRI-STATE FAIR SETS RECORD

In the record-breaking attendance of the 1937 Tri-State Fair at Amarillo last week, Panhandle folk have ample reason for genuine rejoicing, for two things have been fully proven—that this section of the country has "come back" a long way, in spite of certain sensation-hunting periodicals like Colliers and others; and that horse-racing and race-track gambling isn't necessary to make a success of a regional fair.

The Panhandle country is made up of intelligently persistent folk of progressive mold. They will not be overwhelmed by droughts and sectional persecution. They will not be held back from growth and advancement because public gambling is not permitted the minority who foster such degrading sport and entertainment.

The growing importance of the Tri-State Fair in the Southwest is indicative of the true moral fibre and energetic powers of the Panhandle people.

GIRLS DRINK MORE

A survey commission reports that conditions in New Hampshire since repeal are "far worse" than in prohibition days; that "social and moral conditions have grown alarmingly worse"; that "more youths are drinking"; that "girls drink more than ever"; that "repeal has made drinking, socially acceptable but demoralizing", and that repeal has made it "harder to trace bootlegging."—Concord Daily Monitor and N. H. Patriot.

Only Right Makes Right

Are the principles of our government right because they are in our Constitution?

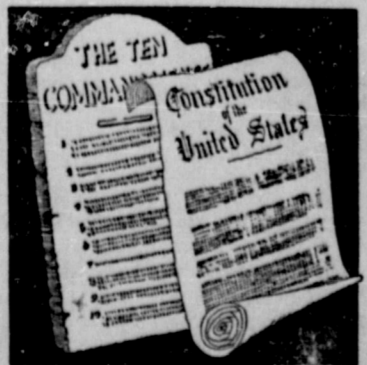

The ten commandments are not right because they are in the Bible. They are in the Bible because they are right.

With this in mind, let us see whether the following principles of our Constitution protect us against despotism:

1. Our Constitution makes the people master and the government our servant;
2. It grants the government only such powers as are listed;
3. It distributes these powers among three separate and independent departments instead of concentrating them in one department;
4. It declares our Constitution to be "the supreme law" and provides that only the people can amend it;
5. It creates a Supreme Court to see that both the people and the government obey our Constitution as the supreme law of the land.

We of today do not need to preserve these principles merely because they are in our Constitution. Like the ten commandments, we need to observe and preserve them only if they are right.

THE FEAST

KAUFMAN GOT THE FACTS

Kaufman, a trading center in Kaufman County, reached the decision a few weeks ago to conduct a poll of the people of that territory as to the shortcomings of the merchants of the city. A questionnaire published in the local newspaper asked many and varied questions, one of them being, "What in your opinion, is the outstanding need of the merchants of Kaufman?"

The answers brought out many salient facts and these answers opened the eyes of the merchants of that East Texas metropolis. One person wrote in to say that "salespeople are entirely too indifferent when approached by customers." There were many other answers, of course, and after a study of them all merchants and salespeople alike have been greatly benefitted. They have started an intelligent study of their needs.

Too many towns, as well as individuals, fail to take stock of the true facts and silently complain about mail order houses destroying them and the evils of trading away from home. There is always room for improvement, but a sharp pencil and facing the true conditions as they exist will many times bring out an answer to the problem.

The merchant that keeps hustling after business, maintains an attitude of friendliness, all the while offering merchandise that is reasonable and properly priced, will come out with a profit at the end of the year. Likewise, towns that adopt aggressive trade expansion programs and forget about the troubles of the competitive city, will go forward.

Kaufman has undoubtedly started something that can well be copied by other towns in Texas.—Stephenville Empire-Tribune.

BANKRUPTCY THAT'S A COMPLIMENT TO TEXAS

Last year the nude shows of the "Streets of Paris" in the Centennial did big business. Nudity was something new in Texas, and Texans always pay to see something new. But nudity soon lost out in popularity and now the "Road to Rio," the successor to the streets, is in bankruptcy, a total failure. And it is a distinct compliment to the people of Texas and the Southwest that their taste for nature in the raw is soon satisfied, and they desire something above this type of entertainment.—Kerville Mountain Sun.

"The Bride Wakes Up" is an entirely new and different kind of Cooking School. It has romance, humor, glamour—it will hold your interest every minute you are in the audience.

For the first time at a Cooking School you will be able to see every single one of the important steps in the preparation of a recipe. Mixing, blending, stirring, baking—all the many and varied points essential to successful cookery are shown in close-up on the screen.

And lots of new and interesting recipes are demonstrated in the model kitchens especially built for this picture.

The picture will be entertaining as well as instructive. The various characters in the picture are portrayed by talented actors and actresses—the picture was made in Hollywood.

You will see real-life situations—similar to the ones you encounter every day—actually re-enacted on the screen. You will understand the problems of a bride and see how she adjusts herself to her new life as a wife and home-maker.

There will be daily gifts for some fortunate women, and of course free recipes for every one.

MILK-AND-EGG "CHANGE" BUYS NEW DODGE

Proceeds from the wife's small-scale milk-and-egg sales, assembled in a basketful of small coins and offered as down payment on a new Dodge sedan, sealed one of the "clean deals" for the Dodge dealer of Lafayette, Indiana. The purchaser was John Trost, corn specialist attached to the U. S. Department of Agriculture and working with the Botany Department of Purdue University.

BY FRED M. ROBERTS
District Scout Executive

The young boys of Clarendon are eagerly looking for at least two young men who will lead them in their scout work. The qualifications, although high are within the reach of all those who wish to serve our youth. First he must be clean of thought and habits of living; regular in his church attendance and expect these things from those with whom he comes in contact. Then he must be mature in his thinking but young enough to re-live, with these boys, the joys of his own boyhood.

Here is a job to challenge any man. A job so big that the greatest cannot claim success, yet so full of rich returns for effort expended, that the busiest cannot afford to overlook its possibilities.

A Scoutmaster—what a privilege, an honor! In fact one takes the mantle of the Great Scoutmaster when assuming leadership of a group of boys.

Can you pass this opportunity? Can you—in your heart of hearts say—I haven't the qualifications? Certainly you can't—and here is the opportunity you have been waiting for. The big chance of a lifetime to teach the growing boy all those wonderful things you learned as a boy and those things you know as a man.

Just think of the joy of seeing others doing those things you enjoy—and of teaching all the little tricks you know so well as a boy.

A group of boys want you and are seeking you to be their Scoutmaster.

Do not hesitate because of the lack of your training in Scouting. All that is necessary is the desire and willingness to give of your time and of yourself to help these boys. The training in Scout-mastership will come as you lead.

frying pan—these are but a few among the long list of brands registered with the cattleman's association. A scruple indicates that the ranchman was a druggist before becoming a cattle owner. Hearts, diamonds and clubs—of the sort so aptly written about by Mr. Hoyle—are found, but the spades are all of agricultural design.

Ranches oftener take their names from the principal brand than from their owner. For example we hear of the "Spur" ranch, the "Turkey Track" ranch, or the "Lazy K." Every ranch has its principal brand, and some have many others. Ranch owners who trade extensively, and who are constantly acquiring cattle with different brands, have plenty of insignia on record.

Old Texas Brands Interesting Study

It is not without a pang of regret that the old-time ranchman views the passing of the cattle trails, even while he admits that the new way is the best. He realizes that the old days, before the coming of the barbed wire fences, were happy ones, though fraught with peril. In those days he was indeed "master of all his broad acres," as well as a power in the commercial and social life of the state. In his tales he will tell you how, in the absence of fences, the ranchman advertised his various brands in such newspapers as then existed, the intention being to acquaint everyone with his cattle, and to ask those who found "mavericks" or calves to give them the brand of their true owner. The Western Stock Journal, published at Pleasanton, Atascosa County, ran pages of these brands during its lifetime.

It was customary among the stock owners to brand the calf of any cow whose owner was unknown with the same brand as the mother cow; but it was the desire of the owners to have their individual brands put on all increase from their herds, and the brands were advertised to make this fact clear.

A perusal of these advertisements back in the eighties and early ninties is an interesting study itself. Some are very mild in their statements; some give only their post-office address; some give only instructions as to what to put on their calves; some ask that nothing under three or four years be held; some say they want $30 per head for anything sold from their brands, and others that they will prosecute any one killing animals in their herds. One ranchman said in his advertisement that he had no objection to any one milking his cows, or selling his heaves, provided they had them inspected and made prompt settlement for them, and that "any one in need" had his permission to use his heaves to "supply actual want." Such an advertisement today would probably force the cattleman into bankruptcy.

These big ranches, stretching for miles and miles, and including more acreage than many European kingdoms, have their heraldry as well established as had the knights of old, the heraldry in this instance being the various brands, of which many thousands were—and are still—on record with the Texas Cattleman's Association. Brands were often better known than the owners themselves, each having a peculiar significance. Some stood for honesty in breeding, honesty in weight and honesty in dealing, just as the heraldry of knighthood stood for honor, bravery and deeds of accomplishment. The announcement that a certain brand was offered for sale was frequently a sufficient guarantee, and no precautions against fraud were taken.

In the record brands every letter of the alphabet is represented, and some letters are found in three or four positions. An exception is "O," which has but one shape and, therefore, can be used in but one position. True, there is the "O" flattened at the sides, but then it is called the "mashed O," a "link" or a "goose egg."

"N" is another letter not susceptible to use in many positions, for horizontally it is a "Z." The letter "I," too, has a very limited use. It is seldom seen except in combination with other characters, and is usually called a "bar." "C" and "K" are used in four positions. For example, an ordinary "K" makes one position; turned to an angle of forty-five degrees it is the "tumbling K;" inverted it is the "lazy K," and reversed it gives still another position. There are "lazy" and "tumbling" brands in all letters except "O" and "I." "The letter" brand, which is perhaps the oldest known in the cattle country, usually has its beginning in the initial of its owner. Finally, all the letters but one are eliminated. When the cattle business became a great industry, however, and instead of hundreds of ranches, there were thousands, new brands had to be devised. Each cattleman wanted something different from his fellows, else the brand would fail in its purpose. So, in later years, when all the brands were taken, the necessity for unique and individual brands led to many devices.

One cattleman has a "pig pen"—a square with its sides extended to form the exterior angles. Crescents are common, and one ranchman is represented by a hatchet. A bow and arrow gives the name to one big Texas ranch. The I. J. Kimberlin Ranch has a coffee-pot on the side and a crutch on the hip. The coffee-pot design is not so intricate as one might think, consisting of only eight lines.

Wine glasses are not uncommon as brands, and the J. W. Friend Cattle Company in Crockett County has a gourd. A rocking chair is the brand of H. B. Opp of Sutton and Menard counties. Lee Brothers have for their brand the graceful fleur de lis. Anchors are common, but only the John W. Franks ranch in the Osage reservation boasts of a swastika. A comet, a pitchfork, a knife, a hat, a ball, a key, a Masonic Square, an hourglass, crossed walking sticks, an apple, a flag, a slipper, a boot, a tree, a fence, rakes, ladders, a flower, a fishhook, a bottle, bridle bits, a

A Home For The Bride

It doesn't take the average bride long to wake up to the act that with the money she's spending for rent she could be paying for a home of her own—a home planned to suit her individual taste and desires.

We urge all brides, brides-to-be, and brides of yesterday to think this over. Why pay rent all your life when you could take the same money and pay for your own home in a few short years.

Employment Gains In Texas Cities

AUSTIN, Sept. 27.—Reports to the Bureau of Business Research of The University of Texas from over 1,800 Texas establishments showed that 91,282 workers were employed during August, an increase of 7.9 per cent over August last year. Total weekly payrolls of these establishments was $2,333,941, an increase of 23.9 per cent over the corresponding week last year, the Bureau's index indicated.

Cities in which the gains in both employment and payrolls were above the average gain for the state were Amarillo, Denison, El Paso, Houston, Port Arthur, and Wichita Falls.

EASY CCC ELIGIBILITY INCREASES ENROLLMENT

Due to recent changes in eligibility requirements for CCC enrollment, applications are being made in fast increasing numbers daily.

The relief status requirement has been waived. A boy from a family whose income is not sufficient to provide a normal standard of living and also furnish training comparable to that received in the camps is now eligible. Also in the past, a former enrollee must have served four months while in camp and must have been out of camp a full year before being allowed to re-enroll. The four month requirement has been waived and it is now only necessary that the applicant have been out of camp six months.

Boys interested in enrolling should do so at once as the quota allowed this district cannot be exceeded. The actual enrollment will take place some time in the first part of October but the quota may be filled before that time. Applications are being received by the worker in the local county welfare office.

QUEER NAMES AND WHY

Five towns in Texas have every right to be dirty—their names are Mud, Clay Earth, Sand and Grit. Among other odd names is that of Round Top, so-called because it has an old log house with a round dome situated on a round hill. Origin for one of the most optimistically named towns in the state, Rising Star, has never been discovered. And then there is the town named Floydada by mistake, because some postoffice employe could not read the handwriting which designated it as Floydalia.

Northwest Texas Gardens Yield Surplus For Canning by Club Members and 4-H Girls

Home Demonstration club members and 4-H club girls of northwest Texas already have a large supply of canned vegetables and fruits on hand from their spring gardens, and fall gardens give promise of yielding an even larger supply for the winter, county home demonstration agents in that section report.

The pantry shelves of Bernice Hackfield of the Brownless 4-H girl's club of Nolan County carry 76 containers of vegetables made up of 20 quarts of pickles 35 quarts of beans, 7 pints of English peas, 14 quarts of black eyed peas, and 4 quarts of spinach.

From 160 feet of row space, Mrs. C. B. Edgar, of the Witharal club in Hockley county, gathered and canned 27 pints of English peas. Mrs. Edgar prefers to plant English peas on a high bed with a double row, as she finds that this system permits irrigation without baking the soil around the vines.

"I have more canned products this year than I have ever had before, now that I have a cellar in which I can store them." Mrs. W. M. Bradford of Hutchinson County recently told her county agent. In her cellar she has 150 containers of fruits and vegetables, including plums, peaches, apricots, grapes, rhubarb, cherries, tomatoes, beans, English peas, and pickles.

Club women and 4-H club girls of Hale County have already canned 22,760 quarts of food and still have the fall gardens to draw from. Eight home food supply demonstrators in the county, who set as their goal the canning of 7,294 containers, have already preserved 5,251 containers.

Alanreed School To Have Fair Oct. 22

The Alanreed public schools has announced that the school will hold a fair at the high school building and gymnasium, October 22.

The fair is being sponsored by the school and the board of trustees, and will provide a variety of entertainment and exhibits.

There will be agricultural exhibits and an exhibit of horses, mules, dairy and beef cattle. Judging will be conducted during the morning of the fair.

On the fair ground will be school carnival attractions and confection stands as well as places to eat lunch, school officials said.

The school band will also give a concert during the morning. During the afternoon a rodeo will be held, and a football game between Alanreed and the Pampa second string squad will be held, and a soft ball game at which the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce team will participate.

The fair committee extended an invitation to Donley county to attend the fair with the Alanreed people.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Boomer and Miss Dorothy Jo Taylor of Amarillo and Miss Vivian Taylor of Canyon spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Taylor.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

H. V. Crumley, Minister

The thought that should be uppermost in the minds of all Christians, is "How can I build up the church?" Jesus said, "Seek ye first the Kingdom of Heaven," so first in our lives should come the church. How can we build it up will be discussed at the Sunday morning services.

An age old question will be discussed at the Sunday night services, namely, "What is Man?" Infidels say that he is just an overgrown monkey. The materialist says he is all matter and when he dies he is like the little dog Rover, he is dead all over. The agnostic says "If there is a higher power that made man, he is unknowable, and he never has revealed himself to man or if he has we can't understand him. All these statements will be discussed in this lesson, "What is Man?"

WEST TEXAS UTILITIES CO. JOINS NATIONAL FIRM IN $40,000 CONTEST

Believing that West Texans have an opportunity to "cash in" on a national contest, the West Texas Utilities company yesterday invited all Clarendon citizens to participate in a $40,000 contest on the "electrical standard of living."

The company will cooperate with a national firm in distribution of two grand prizes and 10 prizes each week for 10 weeks, Chas. Lowry, local manager, announced. Entry blanks may be secured at the local office, he said.

All you have to do is write 100 words on why the electrical way of living appeals to you," he said. "Although similar to our recent contest for a new name for women, in which Neoclect was chosen as a substitute for housewife, there is no connection.

"In this new contest, the grand prize will be a $12,000 all electric home. Second prize is an $8,000 home. Winners of these two prizes will be chosen from winners of weekly prizes. The contest will last ten weeks, beginning at once. Both men and women may enter, sending in entries each week."

Entries must be made on the official entry blank, he said, which gives all details and instructions. The entry blank may be obtained by request at the office here.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cook of Pebble Beach, Calif., are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bugbee of Goodnight, John Bugbee of Clarendon and other relatives. Mr. Cook is a brother-in-law to Wesley Knorrp.

Every family will be in Sunday School Sunday where it is at all possible. It's a good time to start the habit of Sunday School and Church attendance. We expect a large attendance. 9:45 is the time.

Morning worship at 10:45 with the pastor preaching.

Evening services, beginning at seven o'clock, will be in charge of the young people of the Church. They will furnish the leader, the choir and orchestra, and the talks. The following numbers will be on the program, the theme being "Pictures That Will Fill the Mind."

Scripture Reading, Rayburn Smith; vocal solo, Kitty Ruth Bailey; Shopping for Desirable Movies, Jane Williams; How We Get Our Movies, Allen Patman; The Church's Responsibility, Rev. E. D. Landreth.

Let us give our young people a good congregation and thus encourage them in this fine work they are doing. They will have charge of services every Sunday night for the remainder of the conference year.

We welcome the visitors as well as our own people to all the services of our Church. Let us save our Sabbaths for the great things of God.

The School Bus' Trip to The Fair "We won't be home until morning—" was the song of the Martin school as it pulled anchor for the Tri-State Fair last Wednesday morning.

Heard on the same bus about midnight, among the two or three trying to stay awake—"Be it ever so humble there's no place like home."

However, in spite of light pockets and heavy eyes on Thursday of the company of forty-four, not a single one complained of not getting his or her money's worth.

Highlight of attraction—circus and the octopus. We all thoroughly enjoyed both the exhibits and the amusements and wish to thank our trustees who so generously turned the bus to our disposal for the entire day, and our driver who even knowing that every one else would sleep while he got us home, stayed right in there till the last straggler came in broken and ready to go.

So here's to next year's fair. May she be bigger and better and find us each with an extra dollar to feed the "Octopus."

Ceremony Read For Hedley Girl

Climaxing a series of pre-nuptial affairs was the marriage of Miss Ruth Wells of Hedley, to Mr. Roscoe Pinnell of Pampa, Saturday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. and Mrs. M. E. Wells.

The impressive ring ceremony was read on the lawn of the Baptist parsonage by Rev. M. E. Wells, Baptist pastor and father of the bride. An improvised altar of garden flowers, ferns and greenery with lighted white tapers in tall silver candelabra formed the back ground for the marriage service.

Miss Opal Pinnell, sister of the groom, attended the bride as maid of honor and Mr. Hudgins of Pampa, acted as best man.

The bride was lovely in a fitted white satin gown made along simple lines and wore a fingertip veil. Her bouquet was Sweet-heart roses.

A reception followed the wedding ceremony at the Wells home and ice cream and cake was served to approximately fifty guests.

The bride is the popular daughter of Rev. and Mrs. M. E. Wells at Hedley, having attended school at Hedley and received her degree from W. T. S. T. C. at Canyon.

The groom attended school in Canyon, now holds a responsible position with the King Oil Company at Pampa.

SHERIFF WARNS OF PETTY THEIVING

DON'T LEAVE VALUABLE ARTICLES IN PARKED CARS, SHERIFF ASKS

"Watch your property, and take down the license number of any automobile seen prowling around your farms," is the warning to farmers issued by Guy Pierce, Sheriff, Wednesday following investigation of stolen property at Hedley this week.

Sheriff Pierce said that the unusual number of transient people floating through the country during crop harvesting, gives ample cause for Donley residents to be on their guard. He asks that someone be left at farm homes during the time-members of the family are away. Transients will be on the lookout for unguarded homes to perform their petty stealing, he added.

He also asks that Clarendon residents drive their cars into driveways or garages, instead of leaving them parked in front of the residences, and not to leave valuables in cars that are parked down town unless the car is locked.

In summing up the warning, Pierce offered the full cooperation of his department and will welcome telephone calls about suspicious characters or prowlers.

The retiring officers carried lighted pink candles which were practically burned, designating the years work that they had completed while the new officers carried unlighted green candles denoting the beginning of their year's work. As each new officer was installed, the retiring officer lighted her candle and relinquished the office with a toast to which the new one responded.

McMurtrys Attend Parents' 60th Wedding Anniversary at Wichita Falls

Mr. and Mrs. McMurtry were married in Sedalia, Missouri, September 26, 1887, living there for ten years. Then in a wagon caravan they set out for Texas; their oldest son rode most of the way on his mother's lap. Six weeks of travel brought them to Denton County where they established residence for a year. In 1888 they purchased land and settled in Archer County.

McMurtry began life as a Texas cattleman, a grim business of eeking out the lean years by looking forward to the fat ones to come.

Mrs. McMurtry, his slight brunette wife, took up her tasks getting acquainted with her widely scattered neighbors, helping organize church societies and working for better schools.

McMurtry served one year as county road commissioner and has always been active in the rural schools of the county. The McMurtrys have been community builders since the day they began the task of fencing off their land.

Mr. McMurtry is seventy-nine years of age and she is seventy-eight.

Editor's Corner

Why doesn't the school mimeograph football programs for the next game held here? Since most of the players are new, few of the fans can identify them, and a game is much more enjoyable when you know who makes the play. It wouldn't cost so much and it would add greatly to the fan's satisfaction.

Now that the high school classes are organized, why doesn't the College do something toward getting started? It certainly is late enough.

As everyone knows, a photographer came to the school Monday to take pictures. When the pictures are finished, as many as possible are urged to buy one or more, for 15 per cent of the money will go to the school to be used in some worthy cause. So if any of you buy pictures, you will probably be helping yourself in some other way.

Everyone who can is urged to go to Wheeler to the football game Friday. Even though you may think the team doesn't have much chance of winning, go and support them. When they don't win is when they need your support the most.

Jeanice Porter spent the weekend at the ranch home of Mary Charlotte Word.

Royce Turnbow, ex-student, was a visitor on the campus Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Rufus White attended the Fair in Amarillo last week.

Campus Clothes

With the pleasant mixture of days that we have been having neither summer nor winter clothes have been in a majority. New fall print in blue and red is being worn by Ruth Connell.

Margaret Easterling has a dress with large multi-colored flower groups on a black background. Rickrack braid is used in trimming on Peggy Word's green dress. Pauline Betts', black and white check, Rebecca Welch's red and white peasant dress, and Jane Williams' flowered print.

Mararet Davenport has a dark blue and red coronation print. A rose knitted suit is being worn by Fannie McGowan. Kathleen Ryan is wearing a grey, blue and red plaid skirt with a red sweater and a blue blouse.

The fad for calots has become popular here. Some of the girls seen wearing them are Phoebe Ann Buntin, Ethlyn, Drennan, Dorothy Jean Bogard, and Dorothy Wisdom.

Charley Murphy and Wesley Powell have sweaters alike. Gerald Noble has a pair of leather and suede shoes in brown.

SEEN AT THE FAIR

Joan Smith having to rest, a few minutes before getting out of the loop-o-plane.

Thad Lyle trying to find a friend.

Dorothy Jean Bogard getting two tickets for the price of one. How did she manage it?

Dan Boston escorting a cute Memphis dame.

Joan Smith making a ticket seller think she is only eleven-years-old. (Dumb guy, I would say).

Betty Jo Caraway and her B. F. (boy friend) riding the ferris wheel.

JR. HI ACTIVITIES ARE ORGANIZED

The Junior High School has organized two activities this year. One of these is a boy's gym and tumbling class conducted by Mr. Penick. About 30 boys have enrolled and there are a larger number of applicants. The class meets after school in the gym. Miss Sirman, English teacher, has organized a girl's chorus, which number 35. Miss Sirman is accompanist and director for the chorus, both of these groups hope to become skilled enough soon to give public performances.

WE WONDER

When Earl Porter got to be such a flirt. You've been holding out on us, Earl.

Why Ethlyn Drennan is always hoarse after football games. How Ruth Connell likes being thrown in a trash can.

Why Ben Hill doesn't use his imagination more in Ag. class.

Who Jo Word's B. F. from Sweetwater is. We hear he's taking flying lessons.

When Oscar Butler will catch up on his sleep. He puts in enough time in the fourth period study hall.

If Marie Charlotte Word likes a cold climate best. We think she prefers Maine.

Why Dorothy Kerbow quit the pep squad, and who was behind it.

How Yvonne Smith can always manage to be humorous even in a wreck.

If June McMurtry will ever learn to scream. She ought to take lessons from the two girls who rode the "Twist-O-Whirl" with her at the fair.

Why Ralph Grady is always teasing the girls. They seem to like it, Ralph.

Who painted Katrina Carlisle's nails Monday.

S & N's

What this school needs is a five cent cigar and we might add a place to smoke it. (Catch?)

Math Problem—which is the highest (1) the national debt or (2) the football score last Friday night? If there is any doubt, Miss Howren will enlighten you.

Strawn has lost all faith in the human race. He claims that after playing on the football team that set the record for scoring (71-0) that the boys just had to go break it last Friday. Oh well, records are made to be broken.

"That I May Live" Dramatic Romance Of Fugitive Love

The deeply moving story of a love so steadfast that your heart exults "That I May Live," opens October 7 at the Pastime Theatre with Rochelle Hudson, Robert Kent and J. Edward Bromberg in the featured roles.

A dramatic romance, produced by Twentieth Century-Fox, it tells of a young couple who, defiantly, desperately, cling to each other, although love for them must mean flight, danger and fear.

Although primarily a skilled work of entertainment, "That I May Live" brings up some interesting questions concerning what might happen to a young man following his release from prison. Suppose the penitentiary had succeeded in its avowed purpose by reforming him? What chance would he then have for life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness? Does society permit a one-time loser ever to wrest victory from a'c after the prison stamp has been placed on him? Can he do it alone? If he needs help, where can he find it?

"That I May Live" takes the case of such a young man, played by Robert Kent, and shows how on his release from prison he is met by three crooks who force him to join them in a crime they are planning. Killing a watchman in a bank robbery, they knock out Kent and leave him with the death gun beside him. Police recognize him as an ex-convict and threaten him with the gallows. Desperate, he seizes a chance to escape.

Broke and hungry, he attempts to hold up a small restaurant, but Rochelle Hudson, the waitress-cashier talks him out of it, gives him a meal, and gets him a job washing dishes. They soon fall in love, and when the jealous proprietor, in a drunken rage fires them, they start hitch-hiking. J. Edward Bromberg, a traveling trailer peddler, befriends them and helps them to get married.

How these three human beings contrive and carry out a plan that will restore Kent to society makes for an intensely exciting climax to an emotionally affecting film.

"That I May Live," for which Sol M. Wurtzel was executive producer, was directed by Allan Dawn from a screen play by Ben Markson and William Conselman.

HERE'S NEWEST TASTE SENSATION!

Cooked bananas are the "golden opportunity" for housewives and Banana Scallops, pictured above, are the newest members of the cooked banana family!

FOR a brand new flavor and extra-added favor with all the family, try cooked bananas! You know how good bananas taste, how good they are for you. You've tried them in dozens of ways. Now see what a mere kitchen range can do to bring out that hidden, exotic flavor!

To Bake Bananas: Peel bananas. Use whole, or cut into halves or quarters. Arrange in shallow baking dish. Brush with melted butter and sprinkle with salt. Bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) until tender. Allow 12 to 18 minutes for whole bananas or crosswise halves. Allow 8 to 12 minutes for quarters or lengthwise halves. Serve hot.

To Broil Bananas: Peel, use whole or cut in halves or quarters. Place on broiler rack or in pan. Brush with melted butter, sprinkle with salt. Broil until tender—6 to 10 minutes for whole bananas or crosswise halves; 3 to 5 minutes for quarters or lengthwise halves.

To Fry Bananas: Peel, cut into quarters or lengthwise halves. Heat 1 or 2 tablespoons butter in frying pan. Fry, turning bananas, until brown and tender. Salt and serve very hot.

And now for that brand new cooking sensation, Banana Scallops! Serve them with your meat or main course, serve them with pride to the tune of compliments.

Banana Scallops: Melted fat or oil 1/4 cup fine corn flake 1 egg crumbs, bread or cracker crumbs, or corn meal 1/2 teaspoon salt 6 firm bananas

For shallow frying, have 1 inch of melted fat or oil in frying pan. For deep-fat frying, have deep kettle 1/2 to 3/4 full of melted fat or oil.

Heat fat to 375° F. (or until a 1-inch cube of bread will brown in 40 seconds). Beat egg and add salt. Slice peeled bananas crosswise into 1-inch thick pieces. Dip into egg and roll in crumbs or corn meal. Shallow fry or deep-fat fry in the hot fat 1 1/2 to 2 minutes or until brown and tender. Drain on unglazed paper. Serve very hot. Six servings.

TWO POPULAR DISHES FEATURED IN PICTURE

You are missing a rare treat if you don't go to see "The Bride Wakes Up"—as delightful a picture as has ever been produced, and amazingly well done. While the central theme is a gay love story built around the problems that beset any young bride, the picture is brimful of household hints, artfully slipped in here and there. Household hints that will be warmly welcomed by any woman, be she single, a bride or a matron. You laugh one minute and your mouth waters the next. Especially mouth-watering is the delicious Lemon Chiffon Pie that climaxes one of the interesting scenes. Your first temptation will be to dash right home and make one just like it. But don't miss the rest of the picture, for here is the recipe... and it can be made in no time:

LEMON CHIFFON PIE

One envelope Knox Sparkling Gelatine, 1/4 cup cold water, 4 eggs, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoonful salt, 1 teaspoonful grated lemon rind.

Add one-half cup sugar, lemon juice and salt to beaten egg yolks and cook over boiling water until of custard consistency. Pour cold water in bowl and sprinkle gelatine on top of water. Add to hot custard and stir until dissolved. Add grated lemon rind. Cool. When mixture begins to thicken, fold in stiffly beaten egg whites to which the other one-half cup sugar has been added. Fill baked pie shell or graham cracker crust and chill. Just before serving spread over pie a thin layer of whipped cream.

ANOTHER handsome dish that caught our eye was Perfection Salad. And after reading the recipe we've decided to pass it on to you as it's an "Open Sesame" to any man's heart:

PERFECTION SALAD

One envelope Knox Sparkling Gelatine, 1/4 cup cold water, 1 cup hot water, 3/4 cup mild vinegar, 1 tablespoonful lemon juice, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoonful salt, 1/2 cup cabbage, finely shredded, 1 cup celery, cut in small pieces, 1 pimiento, cut in small pieces, or 2 tablespoonfuls sweet red or green peppers.

Pour cold water in bowl and sprinkle gelatine on top of water. Add sugar, salt and hot water, and stir until dissolved. Add vinegar and lemon juice. Cool, and when mixture begins to stiffen, add remaining ingredients. Turn into mold that has been rinsed in cold water and chill. To serve, remove from mold to bed of lettuce leaves or endive, and garnish with mayonnaise dressing. Or cut salad in cubes, and serve in cases made of red or green peppers, or turn into individual molds lined with canned pimientos.

These dishes are all made with a well-known, unflavored gelatine which is one of the products being featured in this cooking-school picture. Noted for its purity and quality this plain, unflavored gelatine has played the stellar role in many famous menus.

Gigantic Swindle Has Been Ousted

Postmaster General James A. Farley announced last night that, through the efforts of the Post Office Department, another gigantic swindle carried on through use of the United States mails, which netted its operators approximately one million dollars and numbered among its victims individuals in every state of the Union, Canada, Mexico and Cuba, has been stamped out. It was also pointed out that twenty-four members of various groups engaged in this fraud against the public have been brought to trial and convicted.

The latest swindle to receive the attention of postal inspectors involved the promotion of the mythical "Baker" or "Becker" estates in the State of Pennsylvania, particularly in the city and county of Philadelphia. The promoters of this racket represented to their victims that they had indisputable proof of the existence of these estates, which included properties in the very heart of Philadelphia, worth approximately sixty million dollars. In addition, Independence Hall, Franklin Square and the grave of Benjamin Franklin itself, as well as the Post Office and the United States Mint in Philadelphia were included by these promoters as being "Baker" property. Broad Street Station of the Philadelphia Railroad and the abutments on the Philadelphia side of the Delaware River Bridge were, likewise, given as part of the "Baker" estate. Then, to make the proposition more attractive to the intended victims, there were added to the Baker estate eleven thousand acres of valuable coal, lead and zinc lands throughout the State of Pennsylvania.

A so-called will, dated December 27, 1839, and claimed to have been executed by one Jacob Baker, was used by the promoters of this swindle to obtain money from their victims. The will purported to dispose of the valuable property mentioned in the City of Philadelphia and the mineral lands throughout the state to so-called heirs of Baker. The scheme of some of the groups carrying on the racket was to solicit money through the mails and otherwise for the pretended purpose of probating the alleged will. If the person solicited was not a Baker or Becker descendant, then he was sold a share in the mythical estate. Other groups solicited "enrollments" at ten or twenty dollars each, in addition to "memberships" with monthly dues.

Inspectors assigned to this work thought it very unusual that an authentic will to such valuable property should remain unprobated for almost one hundred years. Through court proceedings the alleged will was obtained. Inspectors caused the paper and the writing thereon to be analyzed by a chemical engineer and handwriting expert. It was discovered that the paper on which the will was written was not manufactured until about 1890, over fifty years after its date. The paper had been artificially aged. The signatures of the witnesses to the will had been forged, it was discovered. The information thus obtained by the inspectors proved beyond a doubt that the promoters were attempting to pass off a forged and spurious instrument to the thousands of persons, who believed and were led to believe they were heirs to a vast estate.

As the will in question and representations of the promoters called for property throughout Pennsylvania as part of the alleged inheritance, it became necessary for the inspectors to trace in and out of the name of "Baker" or "Becker" and various companies in which they were interested every piece of real estate in the sixty-seven counties of Pennsylvania from 1682 to the present time. Over four hundred days were consumed in this work. The search disclosed that none of the property called for in the alleged will was owned by a Jacob Baker or any other Baker at the time it was purported to have been executed. It was further ascertained that there is no vast unsettled and undistributed Baker or Becker estate anywhere in the State of Pennsylvania.

Another false claim of the promoters of this swindle was that Jacob Baker or some other Baker had executed a 99-year lease to one Martin Yales on property upon which most of the buildings in Philadelphia now stand.

Another method by which money was obtained from victims of the swindle was in the compilation and sale to them of so-called genealogical charts. Needless to say, these traced the ancestors of the victims back to the Baker or Becker of whom they were supposed to be an heir. Charges for these charts ranged from one to fifty dollars or whatever the traffic would bear.

Many of the swindlers organized into "Associations," "Leagues," etc. Memberships were sold to victims in every state of the Union, ranging from one to twenty dollars. This amount, however, was not the limit of loss of any particular individual. When the promoters found one willing, able and ready to pay, special attention was given him. Through false and alluring promises he was frequently enticed to part with his CASH. The investigation revealed several persons whose contributions amounted to from one thousand to seven thousand dollars apiece.

The inspectors found that the promoters had represented that various banks and trust companies in Philadelphia were holding millions of dollars for "Baker heirs," which sums were supposed to represent rentals and other collections resulting from the alleged 99-year leases executed by the Baker ancestors years ago. It was discovered by the inspectors that not a single penny was held by any of the financial institutions mentioned in the literature of the promoters.

During the trials of the promoters of this swindle, inspectors produced thousands of letters containing false representation and promises mailed by them to their victims. It was claimed that Jacob Baker was a colonel or captain in the Revolutionary War and that in return for his military services he was given valuable land grants. Inspectors produced proof from the War and Navy Departments that there never was a Jacob Baker from Pennsylvania who served as a commissioned officer in the Army or Navy during the Revolution. Furthermore, no land grants were made by the United States government to any Captain, Colonel or other Baker in Pennsylvania on account of such alleged service.

Other promoters represented that the Treasury Department was holding vast sums for distribution among the supposed heirs. The inspectors proved that there were no such funds in the Treasury. It was also claimed by promoters of the racket that millions of dollars were available for distribution to the purported heirs of Baker as a result of the French Spoils in indemnities. This was proven to be false in every particular.

During the investigation, inspectors unearthed evidence to show that a total of forty-four different organizations at one time or another engaged in the operation of this gigantic swindle. Most of them after conducting their scheme for a comparatively brief period would fold up when the pressure from their victims became too great. Some of the members, however, would inspire the creation of new organizations. They, in turn, would disappear after defrauding those victims it could entice into their clutches.

These spurious practices continued for many years. Finally, relief was requested from the Post

HALE CENTER.—Homesteads can be foreclosed on for back taxes, county judge H. M. Lafont said when he explained the county's position in regard to delinquent taxes. "The last session of the state legislature passed a law providing that when one subdivision of government forecloses for taxes against property it must make other subdivisions of government, which have a lien for taxes, a party to the foreclosure suit," Judge Lafont said. "This means if a school district forecloses for taxes on a piece of property in its district, the county must be made a party to the suit. And, if the property is located in a city, the city government must also be made a party. It means further that all delinquent taxes against the property would have to be paid at one time, including the school, the city, the state and county taxes, or the owner of the property would lose it by foreclosure for taxes."

Judge Lafont issued the statement after a school district in the county began proceedings to collect delinquent taxes. "The state has insisted for some time that delinquent taxes be paid and many counties, cities and schools have employed counsel for the purpose of foreclosure of property for taxes," he continued. "It is the belief of many people that a homestead cannot be taken for taxes. This belief is prevalent over a large section of the state. However, it is not true, and a homestead can and will be taken for the taxes that are against it."

In giving Donley county and its trade territory a complete up-to-date weekly newspaper, The News requires a large quantity of newsprint, if laid end to end, would reach nearly four miles.

Office Department. It was then the matter was placed in the hands of the inspectors of the Department who exploded the myth and secured evidence resulting in the conviction of twenty-four out of the twenty-five swindlers who were brought to trial.

There is no Baker estate and there never had been such an estate that could possibly be the subject of such schemes. Something that started as a rumor grew into a gigantic fraud. Thousands of people were deceived into contributing their time and money for many years without any return or possibility of reward.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS
BY JULIAN CAPRIS JR.

Back to School
The hope of the preservation of democratic government lies in the education of the masses of the oncoming generation of voters. This week, throughout Texas, millions of youngsters were beginning to resume their trek up the trail to knowledge. At Texas University, main fortress of the state higher educational system, nearly 11,000 students, by far the largest enrollment in history, took up their labors.

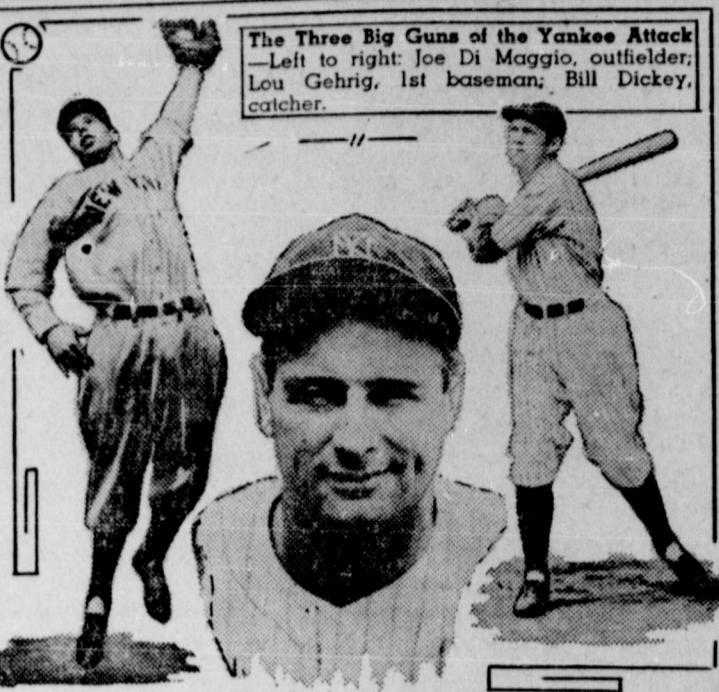

One obscure freshman from a tiny West Texas hamlet, owes his place on the university rolls to the gift of Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodul remembered the day, more than a score of years ago, when he entered the university. This lad talked Woodul out of a job as senate messenger, working half a day, and his earnings will see him thru the first semester. Woodul, entering his own son this term, recalled how he borrowed $100 from a railroad conductor friend and came to Austin for an education. He got a job as a dishwasher in a boarding house and eventually worked his way to a law degree.

Hundreds of students, working their way, find sympathetic friends in state officials who have travelled the same trail. Railroad Commissioner Ernest Thompson worked as secretary to a supreme court justice, and now a score of engineering students find jobs every summer with the commission, because Thompson remembers his own struggle. Speaker Bob Calvert ran an elevator in the capital to get his education, and he, too, has aided several youngsters with jobs in the house.

Congressional Races
The declaration of President Roosevelt in his Constitution day radio talk that he proposes to battle on for supreme court reform has centered attention here on next year's congressional races. There is the widest divergence of opinion among the 21

Texas congressmen about this and other New Deal policies. The congressmen, back home to mend political fences, are trying to guess how the people stand on the New Deal. Some, like Hatton Summers of Dallas, who has been thundering with the voice of the old preacher in Ecclesiastes against dictatorship and court reform, apparently believe the people of his district have quit FDR. Others like Sam Rayburn of Bonham, Marvin Jones of Amarillo and the brilliant young Lyndon Johnson of Austin, are still vigorously proclaiming their New Deal allegiance. Still others are hedging, hoping for a "break" that will show them how the wind is blowing before next July's elections. State politicians, likewise are much upset by the prospect that the court fight issue is to be kept alive, and they may have to declare themselves.

Rep. Emmett Morse of Houston hopes to get the issue of sale of whiskey by the drink, killed in the regular session, up again this time, on the theory that it would be a tax measure and within the governor's call. . . . Texas banks, seeking to restore the pre-depression good will they enjoyed, are again pointing to their willingness and ability to serve their communities in their advertising. Typical of the trend is this line from Channey Parsons, "your singing neighbor" on a recent radio program of the Mercantile National Bank of Dallas: "The platform of this bank is to deal humanly with our clients; to share the common interests of our friends; to serve with a generous understanding on a common ground with our patrons. After all, there can be friendliness in business" . . . Another effort to submit the constitutional amendment providing for a state advertising campaign to attract tourists and industry to Texas will be made at the next regular session. The amendment failed to get out of committee last session.

TEA LEAVES IN THE RAW ARE ALWAYS GREEN

It's The Way They're Manufactured That Makes The Difference
Like most other people, you've probably always thought that green tea and black tea were two separate and distinct species of the tea family. If such has been the case you and most of the other people have been all wrong. It was all explained to us the other day by an expert of the Thomas Lipton Tea Company. Black and green tea leaves are blood brothers and sisters. They both start life green on the same bushes. It's the difference in their respective upbringing that makes one the black tea of the family and leaves the other green.

When they are very young, tea leaves are plucked from the bushes and the process of making them presentable for your tea party begins. At this point in a tea leaf's career it is decided whether it shall be brought up to be a black tea or a green tea. If it is to be a black tea it is allowed to ferment at a special time during the process of manufacturing. If it is to be green tea this step is left out. This fermentation period is what turns these leaves black and distinguishes them from their green brothers and sisters.

In the tea family there is no stigma attached to being either a black member or a green member of the family. If they have been looked after from start to finish by experts such as Lipton's, they will be of equally high standing in tea circles and your taste, not their color, will decide which one is to receive your particular favor.

AN ARGUMENT FOR ALTITUDE

It's long been an established fact among tea authorities that finest quality tea is grown on highest plantations.

Among the first to realize this was Sir Thomas Lipton, world prominent plantation owner and packager of Yellow Label Tea. Lipton's tea gardens are among the highest in the world—just as Lipton's Tea is internationally known for superlative flavor and unvarying fine quality.

Agricultural Conservation Program For 1938 Is Announced by Officials

COLLEGE STATION—The 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program will set up acreage goals for cash crops which are smaller than the established bases according to Geo. Slaughter, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee, who has recently returned from Washington, where representative farmers were called to confer with AAA officials as to the program.

The 1938 program is in most respects quite similar to the 1936 and 1937 program, Slaughter said. The range program, developed during 1937, will be continued.

Chief difference in the new program from previous plans is the provision for national goals for major soil-depleting crops to provide adequate supplies for consumption and export, but such as to keep down burdensome surpluses, according to Slaughter. He explained that each state will be given its share of the state goal. The county goal will be distributed among the farmers of the county.

In 1938 the maximum payment for each producer will be calculated at the beginning of the crop year and the attainments of soil depleting and soil building goals will be set as conditions for full payment.

The division of payments between landlords and tenants will be the same as the division of crops, Slaughter said.

The new program was hailed by Slaughter as by far the most uniform in application to all regions that has yet been developed.

ed. He stated that it is the plan of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to inform each farmer as to the acreage in each of his crop goals before planting time in the spring of 1938.

OCTOBER 3-9 IS DESIGNATED FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

AUSTIN.—Urging State wide observance of the annual Fire Prevention Week, Marvin Hall, fire insurance commissioner, has written over 425 mayors of Texas cities and towns requesting their continued support of what he terms a "most profitable and worthwhile civic project." The week of October 3 to 9 has been chosen and appropriately named, Fire Prevention Week of 1937.

Adding impetus to the movement will be proclamation issued by Governor Alford requesting support and cooperation from "every Texan interested in performing a distinct service to his state, to his community, and to himself."

"Fire uncontrolled is one of the most serious problems that confronts us today," Hall declared in his letter to Texas mayors. "For years it has taken far too heavy a toll in life and property. May we suggest that you and your city officials fire marshal, fire chief and his department begin making preparations at once for the proper observance of Fire Prevention Week this year."

Tersely expressing the theme of the week's activities, Hall wrote: "The fire that never starts will never get out of control. Fires can be controlled, but not until every single Texas citizen accepts fire prevention as his individual responsibility."

LIBRARY NOTES (By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

The three books of fiction which seem to be leading in sales this week are "Northwest Passage," by Kenneth Roberts; and "So-Victoria," by Vaughn Wilkins; "Gone With the Wind" by Margaret Mitchell. The three leading non-fiction best sellers are given as "How to Win Friends and Influence People," by Dale Carnegie; "Orchids On Your Budget," by Marjorie Hillis; and "Life With Mother," by Clarence Day.

We are told through the press that President Roosevelt has signed a contract authorizing the collection of his addresses and papers in a series of books to be published in 1938.

Emily Post has revised and rewritten "Etiquette" the Blue Book of Social Usage. A reviewer says she has done this with greater tolerance for contemporary standards," and Margery Wilson has just had published "The New Etiquette."

Anne Lindberg's "North of the Orient" may now be had at a much lower price, made possible by its enormous sales since publication.

Grace Noll Crowell, Poet Laureate of Texas gave readings from her latest book of poems, "This Golden Summit," at a recent literary hour sponsored by the Cokesbury Book Store in Dallas. "The Light of the Years," is another volume of her poems published recently.

A new novel by Sinclair Lewis is scheduled for January publication. It is to be called "The Prodigal Parents," and the plot is said to deal with the revolt of the older generation against the revolt of the younger generation. Incidentally, most of Sinclair Lewis' books are now on our shelves.

"An American Doctor's Odyssey," by Dr. Victor Heiser remains a best seller after many months and is still taken from our shelves quite often. Dr. Heiser, who has been traveling in Africa, for the past six months has returned to the United States full of enthusiasm for his plan to raise $2,000,000 with which to fight leprosy. He plans a coast to coast lecture tour this fall.

It is interesting to notice "vogue" in literature" as in other fashions. One of the vogues of the present is the novelette, the popularity of which is largely due to James Hilton's "Good-bye Mr. Chips," which was followed by MacKinlay Cant's "The Voice of Bugle Ann." Now Mr. Cant comes with another, "The Romance of Rosy Ridge." A reviewer says of this latest, "It is a tale to be read aloud in any home where people, sensitive to the bird songs and fiddle tunes of that daring, vanished America that Mr. Cant evokes with haunting fidelity."

Kathleen Norris has a new book, "You Can't Have Everything," Temple Bailey has a new one, "I've been to London," Helen Topping Miller's latest is "Storm Over Eden," and Grace Livingston Hill's new one is "Daphne Drane." All of these authors are very popular with our readers, though we do not have these new books.

"The New World" is Edgar Lee Master's new poem to be published early next month. It is a blank verse history of America, an American Calvacade.

Edith Whorton, whose death a short time ago left the literary world the poorer for his going, left one ghost story which has never been published, this, with her other stories of this kind, is being published this fall in a volume called "Ghosts." The preface deals with the art of writing stories of the supernatural. Quite a number of Miss Whorton's books are on our shelves.

Robert Penn Warren, managing editor of The Southern Review, is editing a collection of short stories called "A Southern Harvest." He is using stories by Katherine Anne Porter, Caroline Gordon, Erskine Caldwell, Rook Bradford, Jessie Stuart and Paul Green.

Recently Catherine Drinker Bowen has returned from Russia which is to be published in 1938, where she gathered much material for the book on the Rubins, She was co-author of "Beloved Friend," last year's biography of Ishaikowsky.

"Around the World in Eleven Years," the amusing story purportedly written by the Abbey Children, three youngsters still below their teens, has brought us a new type of story, "Do Not Disturb," by Elizabeth Luling is such a story. Elizabeth, aged seven is the daughter of the novelist, Sylvia Thompson, whose "Recapture the Moon," has just been published, Elizabeth decided to write a novel too, and she gives the travels and adventures of the Bears in Europe and America. Again it is claimed that the story is just as she wrote it.

I am afraid the public is forgetting our second hand magazines. Wonderful bargains in them—25c magazines for 5c. And I am wondering if anyone has copies of the Readers Digest to give us? And I especially need the Atlantic Monthly for May 1937. Can someone give it to me?

Students Have Decayed Teeth

AUSTIN, Texas. — Ninety-five out of every hundred school children have decayed teeth, estimates State Health Officer, Geo. W. Cox and the average pre-school child of six years has three or four cavities.

Dr. Cox this week urged Texas parents to have their children's teeth examined now by the family dentist in order that mouth defects might be corrected early with the least possible ill health, pain and expense.

"It isn't possible to say definitely how much time is lost in school attendance through tooth troubles and neglected teeth," Dr. Cox said. "But it is an admitted fact that if every school child could start the school year with teeth free from defects and well cared for attendance would be materially improved. At the same time, the child would be spared the unnecessary suffering that comes from neglected teeth.

"Individual care of the teeth is

Ft. W & D C Has Iron Lung For Patrons

The Burlington Lines, of which the Fort Worth and Denver railroad through here is a portion, announce the purchase of a Drinker Respirator, or "iron lung," to be available for use, without cost, to employees of the company, their families, and citizens of any community served by the Burlington, according to John A. Hulen, vice-president.

The use of the respirator is properly a hospital service, but in an emergency a respirator may be placed in the home if electric current is available. The machine has been used for infantile paralysis, carbon monoxide, morphine and other drug poisoning, alcoholic coma, drowning and asphyxia of the new born.

When not in use the respirator will be stored at Omaha, Neb., under direction of F. R. Mullen, general manager, Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Co.

AGENT EXPLAINS 3 COTTON LOANS

LOANS WILL BE MADE ON BASIS OF STAPLE CLASSIFICATION

Three loans can be taken on cotton, according to the grade, County Agent H. M. Breedlove said Wednesday in explaining further the loan and subsidy plan of the government.

A nine cent loan will be granted on 7-8 middling; eight cents on 13-16 middling, and 7.75 cents on that grade below 13-16 but not below middling.

Cotton will be graded at warehouses (at Memphis for Donley County) and if it passes the grade the producer can get a loan.

When the loan is taken, the cotton must be sold before June 30, 1938. On the day the producer sells the cotton he will receive the difference in the average between the 10 spot cotton markets and twelve cent cotton in subsidy payments not to exceed three cents. If the producer takes a loan on the cotton he is not liable for any deficiency on sale of pledged cotton.

Subsidy payments will be made next fall after compliance, and all producers in taking this loan are obligated to cooperate in the 1938 farm program, Breedlove said.

If the producer does not place cotton in the loan, and sells his cotton now, he will receive the same above mentioned subsidy payments.

Cotton sale certificates must be

Rites Sunday For Martha Scoggins

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the First Methodist Church for Miss Martha Elizabeth Pruett Scoggins of Baird, Texas following her death last Wednesday at the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn.

Services were conducted by Rev. E. D. Landreth, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. R. B. Freeman, Abilene.

Interment was in the Citizens Cemetery under the direction of the Buntin Funeral Home.

Miss Scoggins was born Oct. 28, 1916 at Stanley, N. M., the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William T. Pruett. Her father was a pioneer rancher of New Mexico at his death, and following the death of her mother, at the age of two, she came into the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Scoggins, and has been with them continuously for the past eighteen years.

Rev. Scoggins is a former resident of Clarendon, and is now pastor of the First Methodist Church of Baird.

Surviving are two brothers, Ben Pruett of Raton, New Mexico, and Jack Pruett of New Castle, Colorado; three sisters, Mrs. Ira Carpenter, Newcastle, Colo.; Mrs. Willie Welch and Miss Ruth Pruett, Okmulgee, Oklahoma.

Filed in the office of the county agent within five days after the cotton is sold.

twice as natural" view of each operation. There will be no "orchestra circle" at this entertainment, since the back row of guests of The Clarendon News will have an equal chance to peer into the busy mixing bowl, watching the deft steps of measuring, creaming, sifting and thorough mixing, not overlooking the final work of baking, roasting, French frying or freezing.

For this is no half-hearted demonstration. Each delicious dish will be completed and shown with such realism that there are sure to be hungry "ohs" and "ahs" from the audience. If any stray husbands get into the theatre, they are certain to ask: "When do we eat?"

Troubled by left-overs? Haunted by never-ending jobs? Tired of housework that seems like drudgery?

The cure: New wrinkle will smooth the brow of the weary housekeeper; that is new house-keeping wrinkles to economy and time, effort and dollars.

Not only does this picture school show new dishes, styles and interesting ways to serve everyday meals and party feasts, but it demonstrates how to make intelligent use of the ingenious mechanical servants that take the guess work out of housework.

To the fun of watching an expert cook at work in a model kitchen is added the real joy of studying the practicable possibilities of such full-time servants as an electric refrigerator, a smartly styled range, and other cooking accessories and convenient laundry equipment, designed to take the gloom out of Monday.

There is nothing formal and "up-stage" about this screen Cooking School. Informality, hospitality and neighborly welcome are joined in the picture meaning that a good time will be had by all, as the saying goes.

What about recipes? Naturally every guest of The Clarendon News will want to test these tantalizing cures for menu monotony. Free recipe sheets will be distributed daily. And other things will be given away—valuable gifts that will find long and useful life in many a home. Guests at the school will want to meet and remember the friendly local firms and nationally-known products that are helping the Clarendon News in this community undertaking.

Does your house run you? If so why not accept The Clarendon News' invitation to join the neighborhood Cooking School party, starting Monday, October 4, at 10 a. m. in the Pastime Theatre. Remember the dates and opening hour.

Monday, October 4, 10 a. m. Tuesday, Oct 5, 10 a. m. and Wednesday, October 6, 10 a. m. Doors open at 9:30 each morning.

Mrs. George Dugan of Greenville is visiting in the home of her sister, Mrs. Mollie E. Gray.

METHODISTS SET CLOSING NOV. 7

OFFICIAL BOARD MONDAY EVENING PLANS FOR FULL YEAR'S REPORT

"All claims paid in full by Sunday, November 7th," is the goal and slogan of the official board of the Methodist Church, according to Judge J. R. Porter, who presided over a called meeting of the body Monday evening at the church. A waffle supper was served the stewards at 7:30 immediately preceding the meeting, by Mesdames M. R. Allensworth, Homer McElvany and Sam M. Braswell.

A report from Secretary-Treasurer Paul Shelton showed that a total of some $1,400.00 would have to be raised for the budget to pay all claims in full by the date agreed on, with the exception of the Conference Benevolences, which the pastor Rev. E. D. Landreth, announced lacked a little over $300 being subscribed and paid.

Almost every steward of the church was present and the vote to close the year's report by Sunday, Nov. 7th, was unanimous. There was a general air of confidence on the part of the stewards, that the membership would co-operate in liberal payment of unpaid claims to give the church a clean slate when annual conference meets in Quannah in November. "The membership is invited to give the stewards prompt aid in reaching the goal," was the statement of Judge Porter, chairman of the board.

HIGHWAY-COTTON IS LIONS THEME

CLUB ORDERS RESOLUTIONS PRESENTING COMMUNITY VIEWS ON BOTH MATTERS

Two matters of vital community and county interest held the attention of the Clarendon Lions Club at its Tuesday luncheon at the Clarendon Hotel. State Highway connection and government cotton loans were the matters under discussion, which ended by the club voting to send resolutions to the State Highway Commission and Congressman Marvin Jones, respectively.

Lion Braswell presented the matter of now pending shift of Donley County from the Amarillo District to the Childress district and offered a resolution in which the Lions Club backed the position of the Chamber of Commerce, a citizens mass meeting, the city commission and the County court, asking that Donley be left in the Amarillo district. The resolution was unanimously passed and ordered sent to the Commission at Austin.

Lion Breedlove explained the delay in prompt cotton loans by reason of no government cotton-classing at the compresses, which caused them to be hesitant of assuming the risk involved. He mentioned the plan of asking government classers for this territory, and the resolution included in Lion Cap Morris' motion urged the immediate assigning of such classers to the compresses in this territory.

Lion Patrick made some observations on the coming Fire Prevention Week and urged the careful checking of all gas connections as winter approaches in the interest of prevention of explosions and fires.

Field Director Amos of the American Red Cross was introduced and spoke briefly of the coming annual Red Cross Roll Call, explaining that the great work of the Red Cross was dependent wholly on the money received from the Roll Call and private gifts. He complimented Donley County on its prompt response to appeals last winter in the Ohio and Mississippi floods and bespoke a generous enrollment in the Call this fall.

Mrs. F. E. Simmons returned to her home in Dallas Sunday after attending the Stewart-Randel wedding last week and visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stewart.
