

State Board Chairman Reviews Progress of Agricultural Program

STATE BOARD CHAIRMAN REVIEWS PROGRESS OF AGRICULTURE PROGRAM.

COLLEGE STATION, July 7.—The state AAA office has received 188,370 worksheets under the Agricultural Conservation Program from 213 counties, according to George Slaughter, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee. Of the 213 counties 173, with 153,005 worksheets in 1937 as compared with 153,105 in 1936, are complete.

Heavy participation in the range conservation feature of the program was indicated as Slaughter announced that applications covering 18,306 ranches, totaling 62,744,827 acres, had been received. Range inspectors, who are checking the grazing capacity of these ranches, are expected to complete their work during July.

The work sheets from 20 of the 173 complete counties have been analyzed and the quotas for these counties have been determined. Tabulations on five additional counties have been carried through and figures from these counties are ready for analysis by the statistical unit, Slaughter said.

Compliance under the 1937 program is already under way in South Texas, according to Slaughter, and 12 instructional meetings are scheduled on this phase of the program. Eight re-check engineers are supervising the compliance work in the field and will visit all counties in which farms are affected by the Agricultural Conservation Program.

REV. KING TO CONDUCT CROSS PLAINS REVIVAL

The Reverend J. Perry King left this week for Cross Plains, Texas where he will conduct a ten day revival for the Cross Plains Baptist church. The revival started July 14.

Mrs. King and son, John Burton, are visiting in Ballinger while Rev. King is conducting the revival.

Deacons of the local First Baptist Church will supply pastors to conduct services here during Rev. King's absence.

Utilities Contest To Rename "Housewife"

Over a quarter million people in West Texas last week received the news that the West Texas Company is seeking a new name for the "lady of the house" whose progress in homemaking has made the word "housewife" obsolete.

The company will award $500 in prizes for entries in the "name-a-housewife" contest.

"The average dictionary says a housewife is a 'mistress of a household' and fails to point out that she is interested in civic and social affairs or that she may be an accomplished musician," Chas. Lowry, local manager for the company here, said, "More and more women are turning to modern electric servants to perform household drudgery. So why should they retain a name that is as worn out as an old shoe?"

Early-day pioneers recalled that women used to cook in crude stoves, using various and sundry types of fuel, and that they resorted to crude methods of refrigeration in order to preserve food whereas women of today have electric cookery "at the turn of a switch" and automatic electric refrigeration that isn't dependent on "which side of the house the sun shines on."

"Keeping house in those days was a man-sized job," opines Odos Caraway, who moved to West Texas fifty years ago.

"Women are mighty lucky to have pretty kitchens nowadays that operate themselves. These electric contraptions make it a different story than when I first came to this country."

Chas. Lowry said a Frigidaire will be first prize in the contest to secure a new name for "housewife." Second prize will be choice of a Hotpoint Electric dishwasher or a Thor washing machine and third prize will be a Sunbeam Mixmaster. Ten prizes of smaller electric appliances will be awarded.

Guests of Mrs. Allen Bryson Thursday were Mrs. Holly Guiberson, Dallas and Mrs. Glen Casey, Amarillo.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

AUSTIN. — Just what are the motives behind the inspired talk of a third term for Gov. James V. Allred provided the chief topic of conversation among the political wisecracks here this week. Few believe that Allred seriously is considering seeking a third term, but the politically sophisticated readily agree that the governor is playing his cards skillfully by starting a boom at this time.

JUDGESHIP INVOLVED?

Friends of Senator Tom Connally believe Allred may be trying to "scare" the junior senator into renewed effort to revive the moribund bill to create an additional federal judgeship at Houston, by talking of a third term. If Allred were elected governor again, he would be in excellent position to run against Connally in 1940. It is believed here that Connally would go a long way to avoid a race with Allred as his opponent, particularly in view of the sharp division of sentiment in Texas over the president's court reform plan. Connally has fought the bill unequivocally, while Allred has never committed himself on the issue. Connally undoubtedly strengthened himself with the lawyers, and with the conservative Democratic element in Texas, but recent events have raised grave doubts among his friends about whether he has done himself any good with the mass of Texas voters, who, most observers here think, are strongly for the president. They cite the results in the recent special congressional election in the 10th district — probably the most conservative in Texas—in which Lyndon Johnson won overwhelmingly over a court plan opponent. Johnson endorsed the Roosevelt program enthusiastically.

ALLRED AIDES DRIFTING AWAY

There is little doubt that the third term talk on behalf of Allred also is designed to hold the Allred machine together, and halt a distinct tendency which it has been manifesting in recent weeks to break up. The governor, in the always unfortunate position of a second-term governor "on the way out" has seen politicians whom he has rewarded with one, two and in some cases, even three fat appointments, drifting away from his influence. Most notable is the case of R. B. Anderson, ex-assistant attorney general under Allred, and later state tax commissioner, then director of the unemployment compensation commission. Anderson hired out to Waggoner interests of Fort Worth as an attorney. The governor was rather burned up to discover later that Anderson had worked to defeat his race-track betting repeal bill. Still another Allred stalwart, highly placed in state bureaus by the governor, have conveniently "overlooked" recent patronage recommendations of the governor. Actually, the boys have been scurrying about, seeking new alignments in the forth-coming governor's race. They figure Allred has done all he can for them — and politics, after all, is a cold-blooded business. A notable exception is Ed Clark, secretary of state, ex-secretary to the governor, and ex-assistant attorney general. Clark has remained loyal, and the "third term boom" is largely his own idea to whip some of the others in line.

SCHOOL FUND ROW

The action of the state board of education — including a healthy segment of Allred appointees — in ignoring the governor's expressed hope that the per capita school appropriation might be held at $19, and the tax rate on property reduced, was still another manifestation of the waning Allred influence. The board promptly hiked the per capita figure to $22.00. If Allred can get one other member of the state automatic tax board — which includes the governor, Comptroller George Sheppard, and Treasurer Charley Lockhart — to stay with him, he may nullify this action, however, by getting the tax board to reduce the school ad valorem tax rate from the present 30 cents to 6 or 8 cents, thus giving the property taxpayers the "break" Allred claims they deserve. The school lobby, however, is all-powerful, and it is doubtful whether, with an election in the offing next year, either Sheppard or Lockhart would care to antagonize the school vote by joining the governor in such action. The board meets July 20 to settle the matter.

THIRD TERM REACTION.

First reaction from out over the state to the third term movement is privately reported somewhat disappointing to the Allred strategists. Observers who have traveled into the creek forks report a lack of strong public demand for the breaking of the two-term tradition. Allred, despite his vetoes of many measures affecting large groups, seems not to have made many bitter enemies recently, except an extreme, but comparatively small group of "liberals"—over the race repeal business. But, on the other hand, the scouts report he has made virtually no new friends, as they point out he had the "moral" vote almost solidly already. And too many folks just don't think a governor ought to have a third term to steam up the boom very much at this writing.

GILCHRIST TO A. & M.

Inside information that Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer, will accept the proffered post as dean of engineering at A. & M. college—which he has under consideration as this is written—is welcomed enthusiastically by A. & M. alumni throughout Texas. Gilchrist is recognized as one of the nation's ablest engineers, even by those who have clashed with him politically in the past, and the offer to head A. & M.'s engineering school is a high compliment that goes with the post probably will help to compensate Gilchrist for a sacrifice in income which his acceptance will necessitate.

Campaign Committees Are Named For Human Security

The State Committee for Human Security was organized at Fort Worth, June 26, for the purpose of conducting an educational campaign, looking toward the adoption of the two proposed Constitutional amendments authorizing legislative appropriations for the needy blind and for dependent and destitute children. The campaign will be launched at once, with Austin as the headquarters, and will extend up and down through the day of the election, August 23.

One week—August 9 to 16—was authorized by the Committee to be devoted to an intensive campaign, with public mass meetings, addresses by representative men and women, radio broadcasts, movie presentations, etc., the week to be designated as Human Security Week. The Governor of the State was petitioned to issue a proclamation setting apart the week as Human Security Week and calling upon organizations, groups and individuals to properly observe the occasion in bringing to the attention of the public the purpose of the two amendments and the provisions of the same, as they relate to the State law and the National Social Security Act.

The organization of the Committee is as follows: Miller Ainsworth of Luling, Permanent Chairman; Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, Austin, First Vice-Chairman; Burris Jackson, Hillsboro, Second Vice-Chairman; Mrs. W. J. Danforth, Fort Worth, Third Vice-Chairman, and Mrs. S. M. N. Marrs, Austin, Secretary-Treasurer. A committee on Ways and Means was appointed, with Abe Goldberg of Port Arthur as Chairman. The report of this committee, which was unanimously adopted, constitutes the general campaign plans as follows: The nomination and selection by the State Committee for Human Security of a State Central Committee of 100 persons, equally divided as to men and women, and the appointment by the State Chairman of a County Chairman in each county who will have authority to name a Secretary and Treasurer, and 12 key persons, equally divided as to men and women, who will constitute a County Committee to do intensive work in each county; also to raise $5,000 by public subscription and otherwise to finance the State-wide campaign. The appointment by the State Chairman of a small Advisory Committee from the Central Committee was authorized for convenience in making plans and in dispatching work. A further recommendation was made that an invitation be extended to Mr. Frank Bane, Executive Director of the Social Security Board, Washington, to make the opening address, with the Governor of the State, on Monday of Human Security Week, the place to be one strategically located, and the time an evening mass meeting. It was further recommended and unanimously adopted that the churches, the press, and the general public be invited to cooperate in all plans of the campaign.

The initial Fort Worth meeting was called by Fred Young, Department Adjutant, The American Legion, Austin, at the instance of a number of interested organizations and individuals in the adoption of the two welfare amendments.

The State Chairman was authorized to increase the size of the State Central Committee at will, and to designate each County Chairman as a member of that Committee.

The State Central Committee was selected at Fort Worth and includes the name of Sam M. Braswell, Clarendon.

Infantile Paralysis Is Summer Disease

AUSTIN, Texas—Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, states that infantile paralysis, like typhoid fever, is largely a summer disease. Although cases may occur during any month of the year, over half the total number come in July, August, September and October, to date, 69 cases of poliomyelitis have been reported to the State Health Department in 1937.

Direct contact between persons is regarded as being the chief factor in the spread of infantile paralysis. Because of the seasonal prevalence of the disease, flies and other insects have been suspected of conveying the virus or germ. Insect transmission has not, however, been demonstrated. Although animals are subject to paralysis, they are seemingly not susceptible to the human type of this paralytic disease. Carriers are difficult to determine; this fact makes advisable the reduction to a minimum, of human contact during an outbreak.

Early symptoms of infantile paralysis comprise headache, fever, vomiting, bowel disorder, drowsiness and irritability, followed by neck or back stiffness. Prompt medical care, early recognition and reporting of cases make possible the use of valuable preventive and control measures. After the acute state of the disease has passed and walking is finally permitted the patient, under no circumstances must the affected part be fatigued. It is thus observed that the secret of successful rehabilitation lies in continuance of professional guidance and large doses to patience. Children under five are more susceptible to the disease and all children under 12 should be watched for suspicious symptoms. There are important things to do when a child shows symptoms. Your family physician should be

Introducing Today's Show-Off

Back in the days when there was less haste, A checkered suit, a diamond of paste, A gay cravat and a limber cane, Such were the marks of a male who was vain.

But now he "struts" in a car with flash He's always out for a crazy dash. His brakes may be worn and out of line But both of his horns are always fine.

He drives like a demon, even though He hasn't a single place to go. He cuts around when chances are slim— Danger to others means naught to him.

He thinks that a "Stop" sign just means "Slow," And jumps the lights before they say, "Go," He shows no quarter to those who walk And thinks that their rights are so much talk.

Many automobile accidents are simply the outcome of showing-off by motorists, although few if any drivers, after an accident has occurred, would admit their vanity. The statistics of last year, as gathered by the Travelers Insurance Company, reveal that the major portion of all the accidents due to driving errors resulted from hasty, needless and careless action. What a good many drivers fail to appreciate is that a minute gained at the cost of an accident is no bargain.

LANDMARK DOME OFF OF LOCAL METHODIST CHURCH

The dome of the First Methodist Church of Clarendon, which has been a landmark in this vicinity for over a quarter of a century, has been lowered until the cap of the dome rests on the base platform, some ten feet lower than it formerly stood.

High winds have racked the structure which held eight windows until the vibration threatened the roof, and the cracks allowed the rains to trickle in with resultant damage, so the officials of the church decided to correct the trouble by lowering the dome-cap as outlined above.

called at once and physicians should report all cases to the health authorities immediately. When the disease occurs all cases should be isolated for 21 days. All milk should be boiled unless it is pasteurized.

Children should not visit homes where the disease exists or there are symptoms of it. Flies should be killed and their breeding places destroyed. Promptness in diagnosis of poliomyelitis is important in preventing spread of the disease.

FFA Boys To Insure Stock

Each Clarendon F. F. A. student feeding a baby beef for the spring show will insure his animal under the new plan recently approved by the state department of vocational education, according to adviser, J. R. Gillam. A majority of the boys will insure their pigs. The insurance covers all forms of loss including veterinarian's fees if animal should need to be treated.

The insurance is based on purchase price of animal and the policy value increases 10 per cent each month. The vocational agriculture teachers at the different schools are to act as adjusters for the company. No commission in any form is paid to anyone by the company for the insurance of policies.

Trades Positions Are Now Opening

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced open competitive examinations for the positions of senior cabinet-maker, senior carpenter, senior electrician, and senior painter, for appointment in Washington, D. C., and immediate vicinity only. These examinations are open to all United States citizens who meet the requirements. The entrance salary for these positions is 1,860 a year. Applicants must have had at least 1 year of journeyman experience in the trade for which application is made, subsequent to the completion of a 4-year apprenticeship therein, or 4 years' practical experience in the trade applied for, the substantial equivalent of such completed apprenticeship.

Full information may be obtained from Miss Norma Rhoads, Secretary of the U. S. Civil Service Board of Examiners, at the post office or customhouse in this city.
