Crops Damaged By Hail In Section Of County

HAIL DAMAGE HEAVY MONDAY

WIND AND HAIL STORM CUTS SWATH THROUGH TWENTY MILES OF FARMLANDS

Hail cut a swath approximately twenty miles long and four to five miles wide late Monday afternoon through Donley County's richest cotton and feed land, leaving in its wake an estimated $100,000.00 loss to crops which showed the best prospects in the past eight years.

The hail devastated approximately 8,000 acres of cultivated land.

High winds, wrecking windmills and outhouses, accompanied the pelting hail which checker-boarded damage from Goldston through the county and to Parnell in Hall County.

The storm lay waste farms West of Clarendon Country Club, swept through the Goldston Community, through Chamberlain, and Hudgins.

A twister struck the vicinity of the Clarendon cemetery, tearing down windmills, and outhouses.

Heavy rain that fell at 6:35 one mile east of Clarendon, flooded the fields and sent water coursing through the spillway at the highway culvert. The intense heat during the day, left the ground so hot, that a steam arose as high as four feet above the water which was banked up in the fields, and in the bar ditches.

Southeast of Clarendon, farms were laid waste to the Donald Ballew farm, where damage was small. Beyond, to the Walter Lowe farm, there was no hail and only a small shower. The storm swung its path southeast from the Ballew farm to the Hudgins community, and extended to the Neal Bogard farm. The Veazy farm at Goldston was possibly the first farm to suffer in the path of the hail and wind.

Loss of chickens and turkeys was heavy. Mrs. C. E. Lindsey reported losing possibly all her young chickens and chickens on the Corbin farm were killed.

Numbers were caught out in the field when the storm began, and the blinding sandstorm which preceded it, prevented many from reaching houses. In the Chamberlain community, the storm struck suddenly and those who were caught out in the fields, sought protection beneath tractors, automobiles or in outhouse sheds.

High winds did considerable tree and yard damage in Clarendon, and in parts of the city impaired telephone and electrical service.

Telephone poles on the Brice road, near the Cemetery, were blown down and a hundred telephone disorders were reported.

COBB SPEAKS ON FARM PROGRAM

DONLEY COUNTY REPRESENTED AT FARM GROUP MEETING IN AMARILLO.

Oully A. Cobb, director of the Southern Region of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, E. M. Hoggren, in charge of the Texas farm program, and Parker D. Hanna, District agent, were in charge of the meeting of county agents and farmers at the Herring Hotel, Amarillo, Tuesday for discussion of a profitable and beneficial farm program for 1938.

County Agent H. M. Breedlove, Assistant Agent Claude Moore and County Committeemen, Clyde Bridge, Nolie Simmons and Chas. Bairfield represented Donley county at the meeting.

While the four years of the AAA's existence have been profitable ones, Cobb said, much must be done before stabilization of the industry can be realized.

He hinted that government control of crop planting offers the only sure solution to the problem of over production.

"A more definite type of adjustment or control to prevent wide variations in prices might come about under a different law," he said.

The original "Triple A" program carried a crop control provision and a tax on processors, but the act was declared unconstitutional by the United States Supreme Court. The substitute pro-

MACHINE IN USE TO KILL FLEAS

SULPHUR DUSTING MACHINE BOUGHT BY FIVE HEDLEY FARMERS.

A machine different from any ever operated in this county before, is at work this week in the vicinity of Hedley fighting a new hazard to Donley County's cotton crop. Five farmers purchased a large machine to spray their crops with sulphur, and destroy cotton flea hoppers.

Jake Masterson, J. G. McDouglas, Roy Jewell, Clyde Bridges, and J. W. Noel purchased the machine in Dallas, and with a sulphur mixture are dusting the cotton fields and killing the fleas.

Although the initial cost of the machine was high, operating expenses cannot justly be determined yet, the owners stated. It will necessitate two or three dustings over a period of approximately seven days to rid a crop of the fleas. Eggs laid under the skin of the stalk hatch out and thereby make several dustings essential to save the crop.

The machine covers six rows, dusting seventy-five to one hundred acres per day. After the owners make use of the machine, they intimated it would be rented to neighboring crop owners for use.

Several specialists on flea hopper control have visited the county during the past week among whom were State Entomologist R. R. Reppert and W. H. Peck of Spur.

County Agent H. M. Breedlove, Mr. McDougall and Mr. Masterson made a trip to Dallas Friday and purchased the machine.

XIT Celebration To Be Held August 10

The director for the giant XIT historical pageant, modelled on a plane and scope no less intriguing and spectacular than Cavalcade, will arrive in Dalhart Saturday.

Detailing the epic highlights of the famous three-million acre ranch, the only one in the world that ever built a state capitol, the pageant will be a major entertainment at the second Annual XIT Ranch Reunion to be held in Dalhart, August 9 and 10.

Recalling the Old West in another fashion will be rodeo, the best that Dalhart has ever attempted. Ailyn Finch and Sol Skidmore, real cowhands who are in charge of the affair, recently went to Canadian to see the Beutler Brothers rodeo stock in action.

"They have some of the best outlaw horses in the Southwest," declared Finch. There will be big Brahma steers to ride; smaller ones to bulldog, and fast, dodging calves that the cowpokes will try to dab a loop on. Beutler Brothers live in Elk City, Okla.

Amid fanfare of music, and a glorious burst of color, the Queen of the XIT will open the pageant by bidding the world welcome to the land where the latherstrung hangs on the outside.

The countless ages of the grasslands will pass in swift and colorful review, with their conquistadores, explorers, ciboleros and Comancheros, the latter being the name given the Spaniards who years ago traded with the Indians at Buffalo Springs, later the No. 1 headquarters of the XIT, and other water holes over what the conquistadores called the Llana Estacado.

Then in brilliant patomine, with a narrator; or in action with the voices of the cast of more than 200 carrying over a loudspeaker hookup, will come the days of Old Tascosa, established by the Spaniards who flowed down from the hills of New Mexico, descendants of those hardy bands that spread commerce and the Gospel behind Coronado, Cortez and the others.

Rolling back the curtains of time, the pageant will show the birth and development of conditions that led to the creation of the XIT ranch, then trace its history under the noted "Barbecue" Campbell, its first general manager; under Col. Al G. Boyce, its second; down to the days of the nestor, the range wars and finally into the great West Texas kingdom of the present. It will end as it began, in a blaze of color, the character dances of many people to symbolize the mighty spirits that fused and swept the West on to an empire.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Whitlock and C. A. Bryan returned this week from a visit with relatives in Teneha, Texas.

HAIL AREA TO BE REPLANTED

FARMERS WILL PLANT GRAIN SORGHUMS; STILL ARE IN COMPLIANCE.

Plant acreage devastated by hail in grain sorghum, County Agent H. M. Breedlove told more than sixty farmers who have reported complete hail loss.

If acreage, laid waste by hail, is planted in grain sorghum for harvest, it will be measured for compliance under the farm program and counted as cotton, the County Agent said.

Planting grain sorghum on this land will not put the farmer out of compliance with the program for having too much feed, nor will any soil depleting crop planted for harvest on this acreage.

"It is individuals who have suffered from hail loss," the county agent pointed out "and not the county as a whole. Rather, the county as a whole benefitted from the rains, and only those farmers within the hail damaged area are at loss."

Committeemen will measure these farms first for compliance under the farm program, in order that farmers who lost their cotton crop will receive their checks first.

WHAT CAN WE DO TO PREVENT WAR?

What can we do while there is yet time to prevent the next war? I would suggest these things:—

1. Insist that your church and all its agencies work constantly against war. Failure to fight or peace in the past has been a disgrace to Christianity. In no way can the church now more surely honor itself and the Prince of Peace than by resolutely setting out to free humanity from the scourge and shame of war.

2. Insist that other organizations to which you belong—the Grange, Farm Bureau, civic clubs, women's clubs, P. T. A., 4-H clubs, etc.—enlist actively in all campaigns to promote peace and end war.

3. Write now to your Senators and Representatives in Congress and ask them what they are doing to promote peace and prevent war; ask specifically what they are doing (a) to reduce war expenditures, (b) to take the profits out of war, and (c) to provide effective world courts and other judicial machinery for the peaceful settlement of disputes between nations.

4. Whenever and wherever candidates announce themselves for Congress or the United States Senate, write to them and call on them to state their peace programs.

If you thus resolutely set out to help prevent war and to inform yourself about all plans and movements to this end, you may hasten the day when war will be as obsolete as slavery or dueling. You may save the life of your own son, brother or husband. In any case from across nineteen bloody and war-cursed centuries you will bring to your heart and spirit that benediction which is also a divine and ceaseless call and challenge to action:—

"Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called the children of God."—The Progressive Farmer.

WATER CONSERVATION A PERMANENT POLICY

Following some individual effort in the county, the Donley County Commissioners Court last week endorsed a proposed site for a dam, under the projected Water Conservation program for the Panhandle, whereby the proposed dam becomes Project No. 1, for Donley.

Lest there be some misunderstanding of the matter, let The News remind the public that this Project No. 1, is not the one and only dam the county may secure under the federal aid plans. The fact is, water conservation in the Panhandle and the Dust Bowl has this year become a permanent policy of the government, because the people have so willed it, and while each county must necessarily secure its Project No. 1, there will be other projects following, just as rapidly as feasibility and finances will permit.

The News hopes that there will be none of this "dog in the manger" attitude, which will demand that personal profit and gains be served, as against the larger good for the whole people, accompanied by the determination to wreck or retard the proposed project, simply because it doesn't happen to serve personal ends.

Let us give earnest, constant and whole-hearted support to Donley's Project No. 1, until we get it—then there will be time and opportunity to begin working and planning for project No. 2—and so on.

The People's Law

Why is our Constitution often called "the people's law"?

(1) Because it was drafted not by the government but by representatives of the people.

(2) Because it was not effective when submitted by its authors to the Continental Congress but only after ratification by the people.

(3) Because it protects all the people—minorities as well as majorities.

(4) Because it protects the people in their natural rights such as stated in the Declaration of Independence—namely, that all men get their rights not from government but "are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights. . . . That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed"—from the people.

(5) Because it gives the government only such powers as "we the people" grant it.

(6) Because the government's powers can be increased or decreased not by the government—but by Congress, the Executive or the Courts—but only by the people—by an amendment which to be effective must be approved by the people.

(7) Because it provides the first instance in history where the people are master and the government is servant.

Our Constitution is called the people's law because it was drafted by the people, ratified by the people, protects the rights of the people, makes government the servant of the people, protects all the people, may be amended only by the people and so provides for a government of the people, for the people and by the people.

IF THINGS WERE MADE BY HAND

Critics of the machine and mass production methods seldom consider what the machine has done in making more and better things available to more people.

According to the National Machine Tool Builder's Association, a large automobile manufacturer recently estimated that a car which today sells for $600 would cost at least as much as $3,500 if made by non-mass production methods.

It isn't hard to see what this would do to automobile production when we note that in 1935 in the above-$3,000 wholesale price range, 2,428 automobiles were sold in the United States and Canada. But of all price ranges somewhere in the neighborhood of 4,000,000 cars were sold this same year.

Here are some other facts about what things would cost if made by other than mass production methods:

A leading typewriter manufacturer estimates the cost of a typewriter at $1,000 instead of slightly more than $100.

An alarm clock would sell for at least $25, according to the vice-president of a leading alarm clock firm.

An electric refrigerator manufacturer states that refrigerators made experimentally cost approximately six times as much as those made on production assembly.

CANNING SCHOOL IS OPENING HERE

WOMEN OF CITY INVITED TO BALL CANNING SCHOOL AT THOMPSON'S.

A Ball Pressure Cooker School will be conducted in co-operation with Thompson Hardware, July 28 and 29, from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. by Miss Sylvia Gray, home economist.

The classes will be conducted to educate homemakers in the selection and preparation of the proper foods in cooking and canning. Homemakers includes both those who prepare their own meals and those having servants who prepare the meals for them.

The latter class will find it to their interest from an economical as well as from a health standpoint to know what this help is doing in the preparation of food that goes on the table, also helpful in case of an emergency.

The Ball Pressure Cooker has proven very helpful for those who have only a limited time for meal preparation as complete meals may be cooked in less than one-fourth the usual cooking time and with the use of only one burner.

Those who are familiar with Pressure Cookers will learn the latest ideas and improvements. There is no branch of foods work that undergoes so continuous and regular advancement and improvement as the use of the Pressure Cooker for cooking and canning.

Complete meals will be prepared, meats and vegetables will be canned during the school.

The Homemakers of Clarendon, are invited to attend the school at Thompson's Hardware Wednesday and Thursday, July 28 and 29.

Cavalcade Will Be Free To Everyone

DALLAS, July 21 — Cavalcade of the Americas, huge historical spectacle of the Texas and Pan American Exposition will be free to the public hereafter. This $500,000 show, presented on the largest stage in the world with a cast of more than 300 people, tells the dramatic story of the fight of North and South American peoples for liberty. Director General Frank L. McNeny of the Exposition makes the great spectacle a free attraction complimenting Latin American nations who are participating in the Exposition and also at suggestion of various school authorities who point out that the educational value of Cavalcade should be made available free to every school or university student in the Southwest.

Cavalcade starts in the days of the Aztecs with human sacrifice on top of the Mexico City pyramid in the shadow of an erupting volcano. Then comes the discovery of America by Columbus. The conquest of Mexico by Cortez, the Boston Massacre and the American Revolution culminating with the surrender of the British at Yorktown. Washington is inaugurated first President of the United States. Then comes the story of the fight for freedom in South America and in Mexico with Hidalgo, Morelos, Bolivar and San Martin fighting with their armies against oppression and tyranny. Theodore Roosevelt charges at the head of his troops and takes San Juan Hill while gaudy soldiers, the gay nineties, with their horse drawn fire engines, high wheeled bicycles, hand-some cabs, bustles and barouches lend a picturesque touch to the story of America's development following the settlement of the Western states. The grand finale with galloping cowboys, waving flags, fading out behind the unique and beautiful water screen, follow the representation of the last year's peace conference called by President Roosevelt at Buenos Aires.

Governor Prepares Safety Publication

AUSTIN, July 21 — Governor Allred announced this week the publication by the Governor's Traffic Safety Committee of a traffic safety manual, "Creating Safer Communities," and urged the co-operation of all towns in organizing local safety councils.

The fifty page manual is an exhaustive treatment of every phase of the traffic control problem and is the result of a five months' study by the Governor's Committee to determine the best method of traffic control application in cities, towns, and counties. With illustrations showing a variety of recommended safety procedures, the publication is divided into six parts: organization of local committee, preparation and use of accident facts, the educational program, enforcement, engineering, and the rural problem.

"I have been repeatedly asked," Governor Allred said, "What can our community do about traffic accidents and how shall we do it?" The manual answers this question.

"I hope the mayor and civic organizations in every town where there is no local safety council will back me in the statewide traffic safety campaign by writing for this manual and organizing to combat traffic accidents.

"The problem of traffic control cannot be solved overnight. The solution to our Texas problem, however, is contained in this manual published by the Governor's Traffic Safety Committee. It is up to the individual communities to apply the recommended safety procedure and thus create safer communities."

Palo Duro Is Taos Of Texas

The Palo Duro artists' colony, the Taos of Texas, which has been one of the most outstanding and most fascinating attractions of colorful and picturesque Palo Duro Canyon for two seasons, now has more than thirty artists enrolled who are lectured by nationally prominent art instructors who visit the wonderland of unique and fantastic formations each summer.

Miss Isabell Robinson, instructor in art in the West Texas State Teachers College, who is directing the artists' colony has announced a growing interest in the school this year as compared with last year. Visiting instructors this summer include Miss Amy Jackson of Amarillo, A. W. Mack of San Antonio, Carroll Killebrew of Pampa, Gene M. Brock of Houston, and Harold Bugbee of Clarendon.

Living in platform tents with modern conveniences in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park, this school of art disciples search the walls of the canyon every day striving to catch the magic of a setting rich in legend and lore of the Indian and his instinctive enemy who early roamed the regions of the wild west in the role of cow-puncher. The colony's background is the same romance and drama of the wide-open-spaces that made the old Colonel Good-night Trails and the famous JA Ranch notable in the history of the early west.

The only artists' school of its kind in Texas, the Palo Duro Canyon colony is growing rapidly and its director plans to build a second Taos in the West regions of the majestic Palo Duro as the idea becomes more popular with students of colors throughout the country.

Diphtheria Kills

351 During 1936

Texas loses more than three hundred of its children each year from one preventable cause, according to State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox. Diphtheria, that ever present menace to children, was responsible in 1936 for 351 deaths.

No parent would allow his child to run in front of trains or automobiles, but many allow them to run the danger of contracting diphtheria. Prevention of diphtheria in children is a simple matter of inoculation with toxoid.

If you have a child six months old or more, take him to your family physician and ask to have a Shick test made to determine whether the child is susceptible or immune to diphtheria—for 75 to 90 per cent of children under twelve years of age are susceptible.

Information that as high as ninety per cent of all children under twelve are susceptible was gained from Shick tests carried out on thousands of children during the past decade, and indicates that young children should receive immunizing treatment against diphtheria without a preliminary Shick test. Such a test should, however, be carried out six months after preventive treatment, to make certain that immunity has been established. In older children and adults, a preliminary Shick test is advisable, since immunity may already be present.

Diphtheria immunization is accomplished by the injection of toxoid. Your doctor can tell if the immunization was successful by giving you the Shick test four to six months after the last treatment of toxoid. It takes that long for protection to develop. There is no guess work about toxoid, it is a safe and proven preventive. The wise and cautious parent will take his child to the family doctor now, before school opens, and have him protected against the danger of contracting diphtheria, by immunization with toxoid.

Mrs. Fanny Smith of Vernon is in Clarendon visiting Miss Isabelle Wright and Mrs. Gene Herd.

Mrs. Odos Caraway and daughter, Betty Jo, are in Dallas visiting her sister, Mrs. A. J. Dyer.

NYA Helps Youths Through College

H. T. Burton, president of Clarendon Junior College, has reported to J. C. Kellam, Texas Director of the National Youth Administration, that NYA College Aid funds were used to provide part-time employment last year for 19 students who otherwise could not have attended college properly.

Although NYA students worked their average grade was equal to that made by the student body as a whole, President Burton said.

President Burton reported that four students were assigned to laboratory assistance while three were assigned to clerical and stenographic assistance. Three worked as assistants in dramatics, and three others assisted in the commercial department. Two were assigned to varied tasks under the supervision of a responsible person who reported on their work accomplishments.

"As far as possible each student was assigned the type of work in which he was particularly interested," President Burton said. "These students did a great deal of work in their special assignments which was very beneficial to the college and to the community." He reported that approximately ten other eligible students to whom the College was unable to assign part-time employment on NYA projects after available funds were exhausted applied for assistance.

The employment program at Clarendon Junior College was part of the nation-wide Student Aid program, under which more than 8,000 needy students were employed part-time in 86 Texas colleges and universities last year. Over 14,000 needy students were employed part-time in 2,135 Texas secondary schools.

Robert Montgomery and Rosalind Russell in "Night Must Fall"

Actor Welcomes Chance To Change Type of Role

Playing a Murderer Daring Experiment for Robert Montgomery.

What Robert Montgomery likes about his role in "Night Must Fall" at the Pastime Theatre is that he is not in love.

"A man in love usually makes a stupid spectacle of himself," Montgomery explained.

"Of women in love, that's not true. There's an aura which surrounds them and makes women ever more interesting. But the lovelorn male? No."

The part Montgomery plays in "Night Must Fall" is a daring experiment for him. It's different from anything he ever has done before.

Instead of being a charming hero he is an ingratiating murderer. He wheedles his way into women's hearts to rob them and to kill them, just so he can experiment the thrill of power denied him as a resort hotel menial.

"As a matter of fact," Montgomery said, "it's not a murder mystery. It's more of a character analysis of a murderer and of the people who surround him. There's never been a screen drama like it."

"I saw the play three times. It was a great hit, running fifty-five weeks in London. The killer's part was so fascinating I asked M-G-M to purchase the play."

And he raved so much about the production that fifty per cent of the stage cast was brought from England to appear with Montgomery and Rosalind Russell. Dame May Whitty, seventy-one-year-old star who has been on the London stage for fifty-six years; Merle Tottenham, Kathleen Tarison and Matthew Boulton were imported by M-G-M from London. Richard Thorpe was the director.

Rosalind Russell, who was cited by American critics as having given one of the five best performances in 1936 in the title role of "Craig's Wife," was selected to play opposite Montgomery.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

AUSTIN. — The long-sleeping Blanton mystery sprang back into the newspaper headlines this week, and became the center of news interest in Austin, as well as thruout Texas. Last November Luther Blanton and his son, John, Willacy-co farmers, living near San Perita, went onto the former King ranch property near their home, presumably to hunt ducks. They never returned, and no trace of them has been found since. Local officers failed to find any clue. Texas Rangers were sent to the scene, the governor offered a reward. Safety Director Carmichael personally visited the scene. Months went by, and the case remained as complete a mystery as ever. Public interest died out, the newspapers ceased to mention the case.

Then it flared up again this week, when Ranger Power Fenner, Game Warden Morgan Miller, Sheriff Howard Cragg of Willacy-co, and his deputy, Mallie Brownfield arrested Louis LaMadrid, a deputy constable who claimed to be nearing a solution of the Blanton case, on a charge of illegally carrying a pistol, and impersonating an officer. They spirited LaMadrid to Brownsville, despite a pending writ of habeas corpus. The quartet of officers were cited for contempt, found guilty by Willacy-co Judge F. E. McCharen, given nominal fines. After the hearing, Ranger Paner drew a pistol on a valley newspaper photographer, seized his camera, tried to destroy the plates.

RANGERS PASSING?

LaMadrid came to Austin, interviewed the governor. There it developed Col. Carmichael, safety director, had hired him months ago as an undercover investigator, and given him $150 expense money. After the conference, Gov. Allred issued a statement saying LaMadrid apparently had no information on the case that was worthwhile. Carmichael suspended Ranger Fenner pending "investigation." Miller was ordered to Austin to make a personal report to the game commission of his part in the affair. People of the valley section were deeply aroused. Judge McCharen wired the governor, asking removal of Fenner "in the interest of the public peace."

The incident was in keeping with a series of similar affairs in which the Rangers have participated during the last four years. The Ranger force, "problem child" of the state government, apparently is slowly but surely writing its own death warrant thru its inability to adapt itself to changing conditions. It resisted amalgamation with the state highway patrol, when the legislature created that body, demanded and received separate offices, separate commandants, and other favors.

FAIL ON CASE

The Rangers of today are a far different group from the storied heroes of the Texas pioneer days. Their failure to get anywhere with the Blanton case, after eight months, together with their apparent resentment of the efforts of any other investigator to solve the case, has caused eyebrows to be raised thruout the state. Their mistreatment of the photographer, their political alliance with a certain group in the Sheriff's association which has tried to dictate administration of the Rangers, their illegal seizure of a political newspaper at Wichita Falls recently are all part of a series of indictments which many here believe indicate clearly the Ranger force has outlived its usefulness, and that in the near future the legislature may turn the state police job entirely over to the highway patrol. The highway patrolmen are picked thru competitive examination, thoroly schooled in police work, and they have made an enviable record. The Rangers, like the hairy mammoth of a bygone age, are threatened with extinction because they seem wholly unable to adapt themselves to new conditions brought about by the process of evolution.

NEW HIGHWAY ENGINEER

Who will be the successor of Gibb Gilchrist as state highway engineer interested political observers thruout Texas this week. Gilchrist will become dean of engineering at A. & M. college Sept. 1. Because of a joker, inserted in the highway appropriation bill by Sen. John Redditt of Lufkin, and overlooked until now, it is possible no successor may be named in special session in September. Redditt's joker provides for hiking the pay of the engineer from $6900 to $7750 a year, but it also provides that unless the engineer shall have had five years experience in the department, he will receive 20 per cent less, or $6200. This provision will tie the hands of the highway commission in seeking Gilchrist's successor, limiting them to men now in the department, since a competent outsider probably wouldn't want the job at $6200. Seeking to give the commission the same freedom in seeking the best man possible for the job, Gov. Allred may merely name an acting engineer until the legislature meets, then ask the solons to repeal the requirement mentioned, before an engineer is named. Among those discussed for the job are T. E. Huffman, division engineer at Lufkin; Eddie Arneson, former chief engineer for the WPA, of San Antonio, and D. C. Greer, chief engineer of design and construction in the department.

MAY CHANGE POLICY

Many small towns in Texas are watching with extreme interest the outcome, since the policy of the engineering department in the past, of by-passing small towns and leaving them off main highways, has virtually spelled the economic doom of many such communities. Altho Chairman R. L. Bobbitt, Commissioner Harry Hines and Gov. Allred are all on record against by-passing the little towns, as a matter of policy, the by-passing has continued as a matter of engineering expediency. Half a dozen small towns in Dallas-co are the latest to raise loud protest at plans to leave them off the highways. They have recently cited figures to show that 75 per cent of the highway traffic in that county is local, and led by W. H. Bradfield, Garland publisher, are making a determined fight to retain their location on the main highways.

WOODUL TO RUN.

Chief political announcement of the week was that of Walter Woodul, of Houston, lieutenant-governor, who announced that he will be a candidate for attorney general next year, and will not run for governor under the circumstances. Many persons have believed if Woodul became governor thru resignation of Gov. Allred, he would seek election as chief executive. His statement set these rumors at rest.

COBB SPEAKS

gram, now in effect is one of voluntary co-operation on the part of farmers.

Without making a definite suggestion to the farmers, Cobb said "the farmers have the power to make adjustments to stabilize prices at reasonable levels and to make agriculture profitable."

"We can stand a lot of imagined punishment if the results come out all right," he said.

He asked farmers who believed the 1938 Panhandle wheat acreage will be no larger than the 1937 acreage to hold up their hands and no hands went up. But when he asked how many thought the 1938 acreage is going to be greater than this year, virtually every hand in the house was raised.

Then he asked, "What is that going to mean?"

And a farmer replied: "Too much wheat and not enough price."

Cobb said that this is one of the most promising cotton years in the history of Texas and predicted that there will be a large carry-over this winter—in addition to a carry-over from the 1936 crop of six million bales.

"We are facing another serious situation, possibly as bad as 1932 or 1933—though I do not think so," he said. "But at any rate the prospects are that prices this fall will be no better than those of 1936—and they were 75 below parity."

Reviewing the AAA's progress during the last four years, Cobb said, "I regard these four years as four years in planning a long time basis for agriculture."

But, he said, many inadequacies of the present program must be eliminated before full results can be accomplished. The prime objective, he said, is to restore prices of farm commodities to a "parity" level.

"I believe that when the equality of income is reached, then we can begin to stabilize agriculture," he said.

Then he indicated that the tendency of farmers to plant greater acreage when prices rise is the greatest stumbling block to the program.

"We can prevent wide swings that takes us up on small crops and then tear us down again on big crops," he said. "We are eventually going to be prepared to do something about it, but not until we are willing to face the truth and abide by the truth, and conduct ourselves accordingly on our own individual property. "I am wondering if we don't need some stop and go signals in agriculture.

"I believe there has got to be a system that will see to it that all play the game according to some definite set of rules.

"If we are in it just for the few paltry dollars that come down from Washington, then we might as well quit and give up."

He said that experiment stations have proven that by employing proper moisture conservation methods yields on all crops can be increased "beyond anything we have yet known" and suggested that if yields are increased, the 45 million acres now planted to cotton in the south will not be needed to produce the nation's cotton.

The unneeded acreage then could be devoted to soil conserving practices for "conservation, development and protection of the soil" for future generations, he said.

He declared that "our economic freedom" depends upon faithful carrying out of the federal farm program, "just as much as our political freedom depends upon our going to the polls at election time."

Among inadequacies of the present program, Cobb said, is the failure to announce each year's program before the first of the year.

"You have got to know a long time before January 1 what you have got to do," he said. "We are not going to announce the program in time until it is announced in July or August. We are moving the date up gradually and I believe the 1938 program will be announced within a few weeks."

Cobb spoke at the morning session of the conference. The afternoon was devoted to a discussion among farmers of the provisions they want in their next year's program. Later, a meeting of county agents to hear lectures on the technical provisions of the program was held.

The meeting was the second of two annual sessions held in Amarillo by the AAA to determine the wishes of farmers themselves on their program. Mr. Cobb was present for the first meeting last year.

As a basis for the round-table discussion, questionnaires were sent to 48 counties in the "wind erosion area" and the answers were taken up one by one in order that AAA officials might determine whether they correctly presented the farmers' wishes.

Buel Sanford is back in his place of business after an illness of several weeks.
