Best Crops In Ten Years May Be Harvested In Donley This Fall

RAINS AID IN CROP PROSPECTS

ONLY SMALL SECTION OF LELIA LAKE COUNTRY GETS INSUFFICIENT RAIN

Reports from all sections of the county are that Donley's crop prospects are the best in ten years with a total of 2.30 inches received from Thursday through Sunday.

Feed crops are excellent, while cotton is heavier with fruit and sturdier than in many years past. Prospects now are not like early forecasts, as the crop is cinched now, the county agent said.

From the J. H. Easterling farm near Martin comes the report that feed prospects are splendid with cotton equally as good.

W. O. Hommell brought milo maize to the News office this week from his farm in Donley County, 7 miles southeast of Alameda, that stands over six feet high and the heads weigh more than one pound. Cotton is good in proportion, he reports. His farm received practically 2 1/2 inches of rain, while he has owned the land, Mr. Hommell reports.

On the J. C. Christal farm at Lelia Lake, the only place in the county which has had insufficient moisture, crops held up well until yesterday under the hot sun. The strip through Lelia which received insufficient moisture, however, will not be greatly damaged if rain-fall is received this week. Moisture went only approximately two inches in the ground at the Christal farm.

C. D. Murphy, who owns tight land farm, reports that he was in a section where only one-half inch of moisture was received, and that his feed crop was not holding up too well, but harvest would be average if no more rain was received.

C. L. Benson, Sr., reports that his farms in the Brice community are holding up splendidly with prospects at a peak.

D. F. Randel of the Ashtola community has the best crop prospects, including the entire crop, in six years. There is a good feed crop on this Ashtola farm as in every farm throughout that section.

W. B. Mayfield, who farms 4 miles southwest of Clarendon, is optimistic, depending upon a bumper feed and cotton crop.

ACCIDENT VICTIM IS BURIED HERE

The body of Meredith June Goodman, who died Saturday in an Amarillo hospital, was brought to Clarendon Monday for burial in the Citizens Cemetery. Brief services were conducted for the three-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Goodman, from the First Baptist Church by the Reverend Robt. Austin, pastor, and the Reverend J. Perry King, Baptist pastor.

The child died from injuries suffered Thursday when she fell from the door of a railroad car in which she was playing.

Before the body was brought to Clarendon for burial, services were held at 1:30 o'clock Monday in the Boxwell Chapel with the Reverend J. W. Drake officiating.

Pallbearers at the Clarendon service were Billy, Jack and G. D. Shelly, Thad Lyle, and Ernest Eudy.

Besides her parents, she is survived by two sisters, Christine, 13 and Pauline 8, and her grandmother, Mrs. N. S. Percival of Clarendon.

PAST PRESIDENTS ON LIONS PROGRAM

HISTORY OF LOCAL LIONS CLUB REVIEWED BY PAST PRESIDENTS.

Past Presidents of the Clarendon Lions Club had the program Tuesday at the regular weekly luncheon of the club, filling every post of the day except that of secretary. Past President Jim Patman was in the chair, Past President O. C. Watson pronounced the invocation, Past President Ira Merchant was song-leader for the day, and Past President Clyde Douglas served as Taitwister.

One after another, Past President Patman presented the members who had served the club as president from its organization in 1922, and each past officer recounted some particular event or fact about his administration, which added together gave the late members of the club a fair insight into the history of the organization through its busy fruitful years.

As first president of the club, Lion Sam Braswell recounted the Charter night events, and the struggles the organization encountered in its first year. Next came Lion Fred Story, now of Childress who mingled his historical events with personal expressions of esteem for Clarendon Lions and other citizens here.

Lion O. C. Watson told of his year's work which ended with a trip to the Miami International Convention and a side-trip to Havana, Cuba. He was the first local president to attend an International Convention. Lion Homer Mulkey recounted events of his administration which included the State Convention at Wichita Falls, and his treasured trip to Des Moines to the International Convention. Followed then Lions Douglas and Rathjen with interesting bits of lore relative to their year's work as president of the club, which showed continued growth in activities and membership. They attended International Conventions at Louisville, Ky., and Denver, Colo., respectively.

In order then came Lion Ira Merchant who encountered the first attacks of the depression, but with co-operation managed to carry on the progress of the club. He will never forget his trip to the International Convention at Los Angeles. The chairman, Lion Patman, followed with his story of work and growth and a wonderful International meeting at Grand Rapids, Mich., where he was a leader in the Texas delegation parade.

Lion Odoo Caraway was next and he began his story with a note of appreciation for having had the privilege of attending the most colorful and interesting International Convention held thus far, at Mexico City. Lion D. O. Stallings followed with his record of more recent memories and a mention of what he termed the "greatest experience" of his life, when he attended Lions International Convention at Providence, R. I.

Lions Porter and Chase were the only local Past Presidents unable to be present for the day. Other Past Presidents who have moved away and were not present were: J. E. Nelson of San Antonio, Dr. H. L. Wilder of Pampa, G. L. Boykin of Las Cruces, N. M., and T. D. Nored of Uvalde.

All through the records of the years the work among the blind, crippled and under-privileged ran like a silver thread, and proved again that the main objective of the Clarendon Club is to do good and unselfish deeds here among our own people, which has been the chief tower of strength of the club in popular favor through fifteen years of continuous service.

Visitors for the day were Dr. W. Y. Pond and Rev. C. B. Stephenson, who are in Clarendon conducting a revival at the First Baptist Church, Rev. J. Perry King, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and Carroll Hudson.

A short musical program, violin and piano was rendered by Dick Bell and Dude Gentry.

FOUR SISTERS HERE

Four sisters, nieces of Mrs. L. Ballew are visiting in her home this week. They are Mrs. Will Clifton, Mrs. Aron Jeter, Mrs. Lewis Mann, and Mrs. Will Miller, all of Fort Worth. The four spent Tuesday in Mobeetie, but returned here for the remainder of the week.

Stolen Auto Is Recovered Here

Sheriff Guy Pierce and Deputy Guy Wright recovered a stolen car Tuesday that was stolen Saturday night from Kermit Monzingo in Memphis.

The car was discovered in the Rowe pasture by Cicero Turpin, who notified local officers. The car had been driven north of Hedley, over the river and partially stripped.

Memphis officers were notified and arrested Ed Parmlee, formerly of Donley County, for investigation in connection with the theft.

New Drivers Law Start September 1

Under the new drivers license law which will go into effect Sept. 1, rigid examinations are required, but motorists who possess licenses at that time will not be required to take the examinations. Licenses issued under the original law do not expire until 1939, and then may be renewed until 1939, and then may be renewed without examination. Licenses may be secured between now and Sept. 1 by motorists without taking the examinations.

LELIA SCHOOLS TO ENROLL 200

WILL OPEN MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 6 WITH TEN PERCENT INCREASE.

The Lelia Lake Schools will open for the new term on Monday, September 6. An enrollment of 200 is expected. This will be an increase of more than 10 percent over last year's figure. The increase is due to a greater number of transfers from adjoining districts where high school work is not offered.

The work in vocational subjects which was begun last term will be continued, and one additional unit added. The addition is a second year course in show work. This is for the benefit of those pupils who completed the first year course last year, and who want to continue in this field. Present plans call for a first class manual training department for boys with one Y home economics for girls. One unit of each was accredited last year and another will be asked for this year. This is in agreement with a state-wide trend toward a more practical curriculum.

One change in the Lelia Lake bus route should be noted. On their return run from the Fairview school the route is as follows: 1 mile north, 2 miles west; south to the north line of the Lelia district and then following old route to school building.

Due to resignations during the past week, the faculty has not been completed.

Time Change In Train Schedule

D. F. Wadsworth, agent, announced this week that effective Sunday, August 29, there would be a change in schedule in the Fort Worth and Denver Train Number 8, Northbound.

The North bound will arrive in Clarendon at 6:03 a. m. rather than at 6:36 a. m.

Former Resident Injured Sunday

R. W. Ratliff, aged father of Mrs. Ed Barnes of this city, is given hope for recovery in a Pampa hospital after an accident Sunday which severed his throat.

Ratliff was riding near Pampa when his car collided with another as he topped a hill. His throat was cut by the windshield and he was taken to a Pampa hospital where bare hope was held for his recovery until yesterday when his condition showed considerable improvement.

Mr. Ratliff is a former resident of Clarendon.

Although arrangements are incomplete for the method of examination, the Parent-Teachers Association will sponsor a movement of this type, she said.

STATE VOTES FOR FIVE AMENDMENTS

RESTORATION OF FEE SYSTEM BADLY BEATEN; RETURNS INCOMPLETE.

Incomplete returns from 220 out of 264 counties revealed that all but one of the six proposed amendments to the State Constitution passed with a comfortable margin. The amendment for restoration of the fee system had 49,668 against and 36,369 in its favor.

For aid to destitute children, 60,643; against 26,220.

For discounts for prompt payment of ad valorem taxes, 64,585; against 21,720.

For the Harris county road plan amendment, 46,170; against 32,427.

For aid for the blind, 65,654; against 21,852.

The bureau predicted not more than 120,000 votes would be cast, and indicated the six o'clock tabulation would be the last unless substantial changes occur.

Five of the six proposed amendments to the state constitution carried in this county Monday, according to returns from the 19 boxes in the county.

Amendment 3, for the restoration of the fee system for payment of county officials, was defeated with 102 voting for the fee system and 188 voting against it.

FIVE STATE MEET SET FOR SEPT. 8

FORTY MILLIONS TO BE SPENT BY WPA IN DUST BOWL AREA.

Forty million dollars will be spent by WPA agencies on soil bowl area, according to facts brought out yesterday in an interview in Washington between WPA Director Harry Hopkins, his assistant, Aubrey Williams, Congressman Marvin Jones and Carl Hinto of Amarillo.

Mr. Hinton in a telephone report to officials of the Panhandle Water Conservation Association last night declared that the amount would be spent largely in the construction of ponds and lakes.

The share of the Texas Panhandle was estimated at $4,750,000, Mr. Hinton said.

He declared that a decision had been reached by the Resettlement Administration to spend $300,000 for lake site purchases in this area. It was announced that work on the land purchase program would probably begin September 1. The entire $10,000,000 allotted for the purchase of submarginal land under the Farm Tenancy legislation will be spent in the five-state region.

Announcement of a five-state meeting to be held in Amarillo on September 8 was made following the report from Hinton. The meeting is being called by the Panhandle Water Conservation Association and will be two purposes, John McCarty, president, said last night.

First: To permit the five-state conference and committee to hear the report of Carl Hinton, Hinton was delegated to act for the five-state region at a previous meeting several months ago.

Second: To honor the Senators and Congressmen of the five-state area who formed themselves into a committee under the leadership of Congressman Marvin Jones for legislative activities looking toward a broad-gauged program for the dust bowl area.

Governors of the five-states will be invited to attend the meeting and to co-operate in carrying out the plans which are now being made.

It is expected that the meeting on September 8 will be an all-day affair and will probably include a barbecue for the visitors. Plans are being discussed for this phase of the event.

Officials of the Water Conservation association were jubilant over the report, some declaring the movement would be of inestimable value here and over the nation. They also said the organization would exercise every vigilance to see the program was carried out with dispatch and cooperation insofar as the counties and the organization's officials were concerned. They were unanimous in declaring they expected the same fine type of co-operation from the WPA, Resettlement and other governmental units.

J. R. Porter, Panhandle Water Conservation director from Donley County, has worked untrudgingly on a program for this County. At a recent meeting of the County Commissioners Court, a Water Conservation Committee, composed of John Blocker, J. H. McMurtry, Shorty Spalding, C. T. McMurtry, and John Howard was appointed.

FIRST BALE IS GINNED TUESDAY

BRINGS T. M. GILES $89.70 IN SALE, AND PREMIUMS FROM CITY.

The first bale of 1937 cotton was ginned Tuesday by T. M. Giles of Lelia Lake at the Smith Bros. Gin in Clarendon and with premiums, the sale of his bale, netted the owner $89.70.

The cotton was planted in April on the J. R. Rowland farm, 3 miles south of Lelia Lake, and would have been brought to Clarendon earlier in the week had not rains delayed the picking.

The bale weighed out 1425 pounds of snap cotton, and the good grade brought ten cents per pound. The bale weighed 422 pounds and was bought by Smith Bros. Gin.

A premium of $15.00 was awarded Mr. Giles by the Chamber of Commerce and local merchants made up a premium list of $32.50.

CLYDE WARWICK THROWS SPOT LIGHT ON SLIGHTING OF PALO DURO STATE PARK

The Palo Duro State Park is the largest and most important state park in Texas. It has received the hearty endorsement of the National Park Service. More work has been done on this park than any park in Texas. It has been called the park of the greatest possibilities by the national park service. A move was made several years ago to form a separate park board for the Palo Duro because it was felt that the State Parks Board was not sufficiently interested in the future of the Palo Duro. Governor Allred vetoed the bill creating such a separate board because he felt that the Palo Duro should be tied into the state system. The State Parks Board was scheduled to visit the Palo Duro last Friday. Some of the members came more than a year ago and spent a few hours in the park, but some members have never seen the park. When the party reached Lubbock, the members of the Texas State Parks Board deemed it more important or them to cut out the Palo Duro—the most important park in the state—in order that the members go to Carlsbad Cavern. Of course Carlsbad Cavern is a wonderful cavern—the greatest of its kind in the United States—but since the Texas State Parks Board is supposed to be looking after Texas parks rather than national parks in New Mexico, it seems rather queer that the Texas officials should see fit to suddenly change their plans and cut out the trip to the Palo Duro. The Palo Duro is very much a step-child to the Texas Parks system. After all, it probably will be the wise thing to ask Governor Allred to either see to it that some member of the State Parks Board has an interest in the Palo Duro, or that a separate board again be authorized.—Canyon News.

The Clarendon News was one of the first newspapers in the Panhandle to call attention to the need of a member on the State Parks Board if the Palo Duro State Park is to receive the attention its importance entitles it to at the hands of that body. It doesn't make any difference who is Governor of Texas, if the State Parks Board doesn't have a member on it who is able to keep constantly before that body the wonderful possibilities of the Palo Duro State Park. By all means the Governor of Texas should name a man from the upper Panhandle on the State Parks Board—a man who knows what the Panhandle wants and will fight for it, as well as take proper interest in every other state park in Texas. We have a number of such men who have already been recommended to Governor Allred.

FOR THE NATION'S WELFARE

Congress has at least adjourned and the last few weeks of its session gave an unusual exhibition of bitter, partisan and selfish political action that cannot be for the good of the country, now or ever.

The News believes adjournment has served a good purpose—it believes that a little silence in Washington and rest on the part of the solons will serve to smooth grating dispositions, level out personal differences, so that when Congress convenes in special session it will go back with a better vision and viewpoint of what the country really needs, which will mean action on all worthy objectives.

Adjournment now seems definitely for the Nation's welfare.

OLIN HINKLE BACK TO PANHANDLE

Tuesday morning's Amarillo Daily News announced that Olin Hinkle, now of Lexington, Ky., but late of Pampa, had accepted the chair of Journalism at West Texas State Teachers College, and would move to Canyon on Sept. 1st with his family. This is good news to the newspaper fraternity of the Panhandle, and bodes well for the department of Journalism at Canyon, for Olin Hinkle has made a name for himself in proficient, aggressive, scholarly journalism not attained by many newspapermen in this modern age.

The whole Panhandle is to be congratulated on the return of Olin Hinkle who came "Home" because he preferred to do so, even though he was successful in his Kentucky connections.

BACK TO PROHIBITION

America is drinking itself back to prohibition. Sentiment against women and minors drinking is stimulating the fourth temperance drive to make America dry. "The first great wave of sentiment against liquor started two centuries ago—before the American Revolution—and continued until the Civil War . . . The second temperance movement followed the Civil War and reached its peak in 1885. The third movement is dated 1900-1920 and ended with prohibition. A new one now looms."—The Challenge, April, 1937.

ANOTHER PRICE ADVANCE IN PAPER AND SUPPLIES

Publishers and printers over the nation are faced this week with another general advance in prices on papers and supplies.

Along with meats and foodstuffs, printers' prices are being forced up by increased costs—and there's nothing to be done about it, but face it.

The WEEKLY CONSTITUTIONAL

by MAX BERNS

Powers of Government

Why does our Constitution limit the powers it grants to our government?

The age-old theory of government was that it and not the people was all-powerful; that the people possessed only such rights as the government saw fit to grant. From this sprang the idea that "the king can do no wrong" and "the divine right of kings."

It took four centuries for the English to force their kings to sign the great liberating charters—Magna Charta in 1215, the Petition of Rights in 1628, the Bill of Rights in 1689.

The American Colonists suffered similarly. In the Declaration of Independence they complained about the king for a long train of abuses and usurpations, for making judges dependent on his will alone, for combining with others to subject us to a jurisdiction unacknowledged by our laws, for declaring the right to legislate for us in all cases, for altering fundamentally the forms of our government, and other "repeated injuries and usurpations." Profiting by these lessons, our Constitution reverses the age-old idea of an all-powerful government and instead makes ours a government of limited powers—a government in which the people are supreme. Then to further assure keeping the government within the scope of power given it, the Tenth Amendment declares that "the powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the states, are reserved to the states respectively, or to the people."

The Rest of the Record

BY JAMES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas

This week demonstrated again the wisdom of taking the unrestrained power of pardon out of the hands of the Governor and placing it in the hands of a non-political board.

Upon my return from Mexico I found four men condemned to die in the electric chair. Under the old system the Governor, with all his other cares and responsibilities, would have had to pass on these cases. It simply wasn't fair to compel him to submit to the tearful appeals of wives, mothers, relatives and friends. Although he might have a Legislature on his hands, although he might have sickness in his home or several other trying ordeals, he was placed in the position of weighing the life of a man and almost standing outside the death chamber watching the condemned man pace back and forth waiting for the deadly hour of twelve o'clock and the last walk to the little green chamber.

I don't think I ever slept a wink on the night any man was compelled to pay the penalty.

Now it's different. Before the Governor can commute a death penalty, or grant any other kind of clemency, it has to be recommended by the Board of Pardons. The Governor can refuse to follow the Board if it recommends clemency, but cannot grant any what-ever unless the Board recommends it.

There are three members of the Board. One only is appointed by the Governor, and the other by the Supreme Court and Court of Criminal Appeals. The members of the Board have several investigators and, of course, no other responsibilities than looking into clemency cases. In this manner both the convict and the public get a better deal than under the old system where the Governor was charged with all the responsibility in addition to his other duties.

I am proud of this great reform. We are not having any complaints about wholesale abuses of the pardon power. It is all based now on merit, and unquestionably everyone is much better satisfied.

Naturally I have been quite busy catching up with my correspondence after a two weeks vacation.

However, on Friday of last week I flew down to Palacios on the Gulf Coast to review the 36th Division of the Texas National Guard in camp there. Texans generally probably do not realize what a wonderful organization of fine young men this is. Unquestionably, we have one of the best National Guard units in the nation. Nearly 8,000 men train intensively at Palacios each summer for two weeks. This is in addition to their regular drills and parades back home. They are well equipped, well officered, and as fine soldiers as any I saw during the World War.

The total cost for military defense in Texas which is borne by the Federal government approximates more than a million dollars annually. The National Guard has in its possession more than four and a half million dollars of Federal property, guns, uniforms and equipments. Its payroll, including both men and officers from the highest to the lowest military grade while large in the aggregate, averages only $83.50 per capita per year. Their time is given free as a patriotic duty.

In addition to the 36th Division, we have what is known as the 56th Cavalry Brigade, about 1100 in number who train for two weeks each year at Mineral Wells. As Commander-in-Chief of the Texas militia I always visit these two camps. It was a great joy to me upon my recent visit to Mineral Wells to hear one of the Federal army officers praise the cavalry brigade. He said that we had as good, if not the best, in the nation.

Of course, we don't want war, and I pray God we may always be spared what is going on in Europe. It has been the policy of the State, however, to maintain a regular militia from the beginning. The wisdom of this was demonstrated in the World War when our National Guard was the first nucleus around which our defense was built.

It is heartening to know that if a war emergency should arise, our guard is manned, officered, equipped, trained and ready for immediate service.

Of course, as most everyone knows, soldiers don't have much use for a sailor. I was in the Navy during the World War and I had quite a bit of fun out of some of the National Guard officers by reminding them that their Commander-in-Chief was once a sailor!

"The Child in the Corner ..." NEEDS GOOD LIGHT, TOO!

IT IS unfortunate that so many West Texas school rooms were built without consideration for "the child in the corner". Too often he or she is surrounded by blackboards that give off no light. Crowded conditions make it impossible to seat every child where ample light is obtained from outside.

It is safe to predict that school rooms of the future will be constructed so as to assure students the maximum light provided by nature. But, meanwhile, it is impractical to re-build the present facilities. Hence, it is highly important that artificial light be used to give EVERY child an opportunity to develop under normal circumstances.

Nor can the most scientifically constructed school room, depending upon nature alone, provide sufficient light on gloomy days during the winter school months. Children are required to read on cloudy days when light is reduced to less than 10 foot-candles.

This company has developed a school lighting system that is economical. It is designed primarily for "the child in the corner". At the same time, it throws no major burden on school trustees—responsible for school finances. Inquire at our local office for free estimate.

Home lighting problems have been solved by the student lamp. Installed today, the I. E. S. student lamp is a guarantee of ample light conducive to sight conservation when your boy or girl begins the forthcoming school term.

LITTLE DORR NEAL ELLIS, JR.

Little Neal blessed this earth with only eight short years, but lived his days to full capacity. He scattered rays of sunshine everywhere he went and seemed to have the unusual knack of leaving no kind word or deed undone. Neal was a happy Christian, having been christened in the Methodist Church of Clarendon when he was three years old, by the then pastor, Rev. S. E. Allison. He loved the Church and was a regular attendant on Sunday school, usually leading the march in his department. Early he could repeat the Lord's Prayer, the Apostle's Creed, the Twenty-Third Psalm, and many other loved passages of scripture. As a very young lad he loved to hear stories and have selections read to him, and as he learned to read outside play never dimmed his interest, and he read for himself. He had his little mother read to him until an hour before he passed from this life.

At church he was an appreciative listener and communicant. He never left the building without smilingly extending his little hand to his pastor and saying, simply, how me enjoyed the service. At Mineral Wells, he always sat by his grandmother, Mrs. Sayre, at church, found her songs, and assisted her in every way possible. Lovingly, she spent much time training and teaching him in things spiritual. They sang the songs he loved as she played them at the piano. The little fellow had a sweet voice, and was proficient on the piano himself.

Already Neal had developed a marked love for school. He was affectionate toward his teacher and loved his class-mates tenderly. On vacation trips he was always sending little gifts back to them, although he had been prevented through illness from completing the two school sessions he had attended. He was unusually apt, and spite of his illness was ready for the 4th grade had he lived to attend another term.

Neal divided his vacation times with his father, D. N. Ellis, of Eagle Pass, Tex., and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Blocker, here on the Ranch, and all branches of the family looked forward with anticipation to their time to enjoy his visits.

The unanimous testimony of all members of the family, is that Neal never left one thing undone for any loved one or friend. With what loyalty, he loved and cherished every member of the family and every friend. The first thing he wanted to do when he came to Clarendon was to hurry around and see everyone he held dear, and how he enjoyed every moment of meeting!

In his last illness, Neal told his loved ones not to be afraid, that he had no fear, and like a little soldier he went uncomplainingly through the sufferings that were his until the end. Many friends of his in Mineral Wells offered their blood when it was determined that he must have blood transfusions in the battle to save his life. Loved ones, doctors, specialists, nurses and friends did all in their power to stay the hand of the Grim Reaper, but such unspoiled goodness was not for this world, and God who gave him, took him to that Bright Home. As Bro. McKee said, he has gone to the play-ground in Heaven, where many of the family are awaiting him.

We cannot estimate the power and influence of such a pure, happy life. In the service for Neal at the Church, Bro. Landreth, the pastor, declared that Neal had accomplished more in his brief span of life than many who had lived their allotted time! How true that is—for he had lived life to its fullest, crowding into its days, laughter, and sunshine, and hope, and joy and faith.

Your family and friends await another and a brighter day, Neal, when we shall meet again, and when the trials and sorrows of earth are forever passed away. We shall strive to enter into that Heaven where you have gone for a little while—that City where the streets of gold are filled with the laughter and simple joys of happy children.

—Mr. and Mrs. Sam M. Braswell.

Neal was born Oct. 9th, 1928 in Clarendon, at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Blocker. He died at Mineral Wells Friday, Aug. 18th at 5 p. m., after a hemorrhage, two weeks following a tonsillectomy, in which a streptococci poisoning developed. His funeral was held in Clarendon, Sunday, Aug. 15th, 2:30 at the Methodist Church, with interment in the Citizen's Cemetery.

Light Rate Reduced By West Texas Co.

The West Texas Utilities Company this week ignored the rising cost of living when it announced a reduction of 16 2-3 per cent in electric rates for Clarendon.

A new low rate of 2 1/2 cents per kilowatt-hour for all current over 50 kilowatt-hours used monthly in homes equipped with electric ranges was announced by Chas. Lowry, local manager. The reduction makes electricity as practical as any other fuel for cooking purposes, he said.

The 2 1/2 cent rate is effective with this month's bills. Only customers using electric cookery will benefit by reduction. It is based on the theory that "the more you use, the less it costs," Mr. Lowry said.

Where the electric range is installed, all current over 50 kilowatt-hours used each month will take the lower rate. It is a step in the "incentive rate schedule" which provides low-cost current refrigeration, lights, and other domestic purposes inasmuch as these are included in the high-usage bracket.

Popularity of the electric range was credited with making the reduction possible. The spread of electric cookery to hundreds of homes formerly using old-fashioned methods makes a low rate practical, Mr. Lowry said. "The reduction is in keeping with the company's policy of lowering rates as fast as increased usage permits," he added. "Although the cost of living in general has risen and taxation has reached an unprecedented height, we believe it wise to encourage home modernization by making electric service as cheap and efficient as possible."

The Reverend and Mrs. C. B. Stephenson and children of Houston are guests in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Taylor, while Mr. Stephenson is assisting in the Baptist revival.

Donley County Folks Invited To Labor Day Picnic Near LeFors On Monday, Sept. 6—Legion Affair

All Panhandle roads will lead to Gray county on Labor Day, Sept. 6, when the first annual free community picnic will be held on the Saunders Ranch, three miles east of LeFors.

The national holiday has been chosen by the Kerley-Crossman post of the Amrican Legion at Pampa, sponsors of the Panhandle-wide affair, as the best day of the vacation season to get together all the folk for miles and miles around for a good, old-fashioned basket picnic.

Officials of the Pampa Legion post have sent letters to mayors and officials in dozens of surrounding towns and cities inviting them to come to the picnic.

"This picnic is for everybody everywhere," said Charlie Maisel, Commander, "and we want everybody to come, bring the family and their own baskets to make a day of it."

Particularly are the picnic sponsors anxious to get large attendance from Pampa's neighboring towns and communities which have so much in common.

It will be an all-day affair, and plenty of entertainment has been planned. There will be games and contests of every description with prizes for the winners. More of the program details will be announced later.

An unusual list of distinguished visitors will be present to address the huge throng expected to attend.

Col. Earnest Thompson, of the Texas Railroad Commission, will be one of the principal speakers. Invitations also have been sent to Governor James V. Allred, Vice President John Garner, and Congressman Marvin Jones.

Legion officials pointed out that the picnic is not merely a picnic for legionnaires, but a gala event, planned for all the people of this section of the country.

Labor Day was chosen as a logical date in which parents can bring their children out for "one final fling" before the opening of school.

There will be plenty of the good things that go with picnics—pop, ice cream, lemonade, 'n everything. Labor Day is to be a Red Letter Day in the Northwest Panhandle, and thousands of persons are expected to attend the big picnic.

Business in practically all cities surrounding Pampa will be suspended for the day to give everyone an opportunity to attend.

This is your invitation to be there—come early and bring the family!

LIBRARY NOTES

(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

We have a few new books on our shelves during the last few days: "The Street of the Fishing Cat" by Jan Folds; "Mary of Scotland," Maxwell Anderson; "Live Alone and Like It," Marjorie Hillis; "Light of the Western Stars," Zane Grey; "Run of the Prairie," Bess Streeter Aldrich.

The first of these, "The Street of the Fishing Cat," won the International Prize in 1936. The idea of this International Prize novel contest originated in 1934, and this is the first award. The plan was sponsored by two firms each of English and American publishers who invited other countries to join them. Thirteen countries responded: France, Canada, Germany, Hungary, Denmark, Sweden, Spain, Italy, Holland, Norway, Czechoslovakia, besides England and the United States.

During the contest Italy withdrew for political reasons and Spain found it impossible to carry on with her part in the competition—although a Spanish novel was submitted and was considered among the final group as a matter of courtesy.

The plan was for a publisher in each country to nominate a board of judges who would select from the manuscripts submitted in that country the best novel. These would be submitted to an International Board of Judges who would select the final prize-winner. Each country was to give a sum of money toward the International Prize and some countries gave an award to their own winner. The contest opened on April 30, 1935, and closed a year later. John T. McIntyre's "Steps Going Down" was selected from the 500 manuscripts submitted as the best American novel and was awarded the American prize of $4,000. The Hungarian entry by Jan Folds won the International award of $10,000.

Of this story Joseph Wood Krutch, American representative on the International Board of Judges, says: "The great merits of this book are the freshness of the material and the moving sincerity of its presentation. The story of a group of exiles transplanted to an alien land might easily have been over-written but the author has stuck close to simple human realities and created characters so touching that only in retrospect does one realize that they are heroic also. The author is interested in the human rather than the political value of the story, she has to tell and her people are vivid individuals, but they will serve as real individuals always will, to tell the story of many others like them. It is a very readable as well as a true and significant book."

Jan Folds was born in the Hungarian village of Kenders, was educated in Vienna University and the Paris Sorbonne. At nineteen she ran away with a boy of her own age and married and the parents of both were so disappointed that they stopped sending the young couple money and they were forced to go to work at anything which presented itself. She says that about the time the parents became reconciled to the marriage they were divorced and she remarried, this time more intelligently. She went to Egypt as secretary in the Hungarian Embassy for some time. Four years ago she wrote her first novel which won a Hungarian literary prize. Since then she has written one other besides "The Street of the Fishing Cat."

Thrilling Drama Of Mine Rescue

A thrilling drama of men's courage in facing death to rescue ill-fated comrades is depicted in the First National production, "Draegerman Courage," which opens at the Pastime Theatre today, with Jean Muir and Barton MacLane in the featured roles.

"Draegerman Courage" takes the audience down into the bowels of the earth—and introduces them to plain men who show themselves great in their ability to meet disaster—and to other plain men, who toil with no thought of self when called upon to free their comrades from their living entombment in a mine cave-in. The picture is stirring in the extreme from the moment of the first fade-in to the last fade-out.

In addition to its breath-taking action, the story carries a heart-warming romance in which a young girl battles at the side of her sweetheart through long, dreary days and nights to rescue the victims, one of whom is her father, from the caved-in mine.

The picture paints realistically the desperate courage of the Draegerman—a picked, organized rescue named for Draeger, the man who invented the tools of their merciful trade.

Besides Miss Muir and MacLane, the cast includes Henry O'Neil, Robert Barrat, Addison Richards, Helen MacKeller, Gordon Oliver, Joseph Crehan and Priscilla Lyon. Louis King directed the picture from the story by Anthony Coldeway.

Mrs. Paul Slaton, Mrs. Bennett Kerbow, Mrs. Ralph Kerbow, Mrs. Paul Smither, Mrs. A. Brooks Chesshir and Misses Pauline Sanford and Dorothy Kerbow spent Tuesday afternoon in Amarillo.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS
BY JULIAN GARDNER JR.

AUSTIN. — Two highly controversial special sessions of the 45th Texas legislature, which will have important effects not only upon the state's financial situation, but also upon the 1938 political campaigns, were seen by observers here as the Sept. 20 date set by Gov. Allred for the first session nears. The governor has indicated that he will submit taxation first, and public utility regulation second, and other matters "if there is time for them." There probably won't be any time for these "other matters," because both taxation and utility regulation are expected, as they always have in the past; to stir plenty of time-consuming controversies.

A drive by members of the legislature, led by a senate investigating committee which has been studying the problem, to balance the budget by lopping off unnecessary expense of state government by eliminating duplicating departments and unnecessary employees, has gained considerable pre-session support among members. Gov. Allred has indicated he will stick to his original tax recommendations—higher natural resources taxes—but the governor's taxation record makes it extremely hazardous to predict in advance just what he may recommend. Best early indications are that the resources folks will oppose bitterly any new taxes, on the ground that they are unnecessary and that a large state deficit acts as a "brake" upon public expenditures; but they will centralize their efforts toward keeping new increases in taxes on oil, gas and sulphur as low as possible, with the reasonable expectation that they will get some increases. Some reduction in unwieldy bureaus, centering on old age assistance, and the liquor control board, may be achieved, and some of the extremely liberal appropriations voted by the regular session may be trimmed downward, in an effort to balance the budget.

POLITICS OPENS UP

The special sessions, of course, will mark the jumpoff of the 1938 political season, with the usual scrambling for advantage which may affect legislation as much as any other factor. Gov.

Allred has not elaborated upon his third term ambition. Jim Ferguson has been trying desperately to work up sufficient enthusiasm to nominate his wife for a third term, on a sales tax and pensions for everybody platform. The McCraw candidacy, which reached its peak ahead of the primaries, appears to have eased off considerably during the past 30 days, while that of Col. Ernest O. Thompson is slowly gaining headway as his friends have begun active work.

In the attorney general's race, the apparently wide field has narrowed down considerably, with Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodul, District Judge Yarborough of Austin, and Gerald C. Mann of Dallas as extremely active, and Woodul obviously holding a wide advantage at this early date.

LAW AND ORDER IN DALLAS

Twenty-five departments of public safety men, ordered into Dallas by the governor after a disgraceful series of beatings and kidnappings of rival labor faction leaders and a Socialist lecturer, restored peace there this week, and were busy on the job of clearing up some of the lawlessness which Dallas police officials and Smoot Schmid, the Dallas county sheriff, raised no hand to halt or prosecute. Allred declared the state coppers would remain on duty as "long as necessary," despite a dozen or more inspired telegrams of protest sent by the rival labor factions to him.

SCHOOL ROW OVER

An ending as happy as a movie fade-out climaxed the long-drawn apportionment, which the board of education met, reelected its former action in fixing a $22 per capita apportionment, then reset the apportionment at exactly the same figure—$22—on the basis of a revised estimate by Comptroller George Sheppard declaring there would be sufficient money available to pay the $22. All the pending lawsuits have been dropped, the automatic tax board scored a moral victory, the school kids get the money, and everybody is happy over the outcome.

TREASURER'S RACE

Interest in the race for State Treasurer Charley Lockhart's job heightened following Lockhart's positive announcement that he will run again next year, after a story was published to the effect that Rep. Jesse James, of Cameron, who resigned from the legislature to become Lockhart's chief clerk, would run and Lockhart wouldn't. Lockhart declared his health, which has been so poor as to make his candidacy doubtful, is much improved, and added James had promised him not to run. Lockhart will have other opponents, however, at least two having announced already. Special elections have been called for Sept. 18, to name successors to James and Rep. Oscar McCracken of San Antonio, who also resigned. Rep. Byron England of McKinney is scheduled to resign after the special sessions, to accept an accounting job with one of the state departments.

COTTON LOAN PASSES

Best news of the week for Texas farmers was the action of congress, in the closing hours, in making available a $65,000,000 fund to take up the slack between the market price of cotton and the 12-cent loan figure demanded by the "cotton bloc." Washington dispatches indicate the loans will be available for this year's crop, now moving which will mean the best prosperity since the depression for Texas

NOTES.

Prosperity will hit Austin Sept. 20, with the opening of the University fall session, with an estimated 10,000 enrollment, and two special sessions beginning. Cafes, hotels, liquor shops, and merchants in the capital city reap a daily harvest estimated at $10,000 during a session. State officials with political ambitions were visiting the Texas American Legion convention in San Angelo this week. Speakers included Gov. Allred, Rail Commissioner Ernest Thompson and Bill McCraw, attorney general. The governor was to proceed to Denver to attend a wedding, making Walter Woodul governor for the 12th time in the past three years. State health officials reported the infantile paralysis situation, which reached mild epidemic proportions in some sections this summer, improving steadily with the advent of cooler weather. No delay in reopening schools next month is anticipated because of the disease.

R. A. AGENT HAS BUSY SEASON

MISS MARTIN WORKING ON SCHOOL CLOTHES, LUNCHES AND GARDENS.

School clothes, school lunches and fall gardens are the things uppermost in the present program of Miss Vera Martin, county home management supervisor, with offices at Clarendon. Miss Martin works with all borrowers of the Resettlement Administration in Donley County in a comprehensive rehabilitation program.

Planning and advising with the farm women in this county, whose home-making budgets were necessarily limited by conditions over which they had no control, is one of the major projects of the home management supervisors, and with another school term near at hand she is emphasizing the importance of adequate clothing for school children, and well-balanced school lunches.

Quoting from a Department of Agriculture bulletin Miss Martin says growing children have special needs in the way of food. Even when they eat all of their meals at home, it is no easy matter to see that they are properly fed, and when they eat part of their meals at school the difficulty is far greater. This is not because healthfulness and cleanliness are more important in this meal than in any other, but because they are harder to secure. It is not easy to keep food clean and attractive when it must be packed and carried in a lunch basket. Nor is it easy to prepare meals in schools which are not specially fitted for the purpose.

Miss Martin points out that economy, warmth and durability are the keys for school clothing, although style and finish are by no means neglected. One particular item in this project is the making over of old garments until they look and wear almost like new ones.

She says the value of fall gardens is an important factor in a successful rehabilitation program because in addition to meeting dietary needs, they provide a valuable barrier against food costs.

Sleeping Sickness Is Not Spread Here

Dr. Lewis, assistant State veterinarian, was in Clarendon yesterday to check stock for sleeping sickness. Only two cases were found and those in horses owned by W. D. Franklin of Hedley and R. O. Thomas of near Clarendon. The sickness affecting horses in this county, generally speaking, is not sleeping sickness, but from sudan and other green pasture stuffs, the state official reported.

The veterinarian arrived in Donley County after the request of numerous farmers to determine the cause of sickness among the horses and stock.

Early Plans Laid For Spring Show

Early preparation are being made for the Spring Stock Show to be held in Clarendon in March 1938. County Agent H. M. Breedlove pointed out, however, that a large show such as is anticipated for Clarendon will require considerable preliminary preparation.

Money will be given in the club calf divisions, and more than twenty-five calves are being fattened by 4-H Club boys.

In addition to the calf division, a hog division for 4-H club boys will be held and money awards given in this classification for the best brood sows, gilts, best fat barrows, and best litter of five or more pig.

A wide open competition for farmers will be held. The hog division will include the best brood sows, gilts, fat barrows, boars, and best litter of five or more pigs. Stallions and jacks will also be exhibited by the farmers of Donley County. Money will be given in all competitions open to farmers, also.
