BANDS PROMISED FOR CELEBRATION

GALA EVENT WILL SEE LARGE PARTICIPATION OF PANHANDLE BANDS

That Clarendon and Donley county will be host to the greatest number of bands ever to assemble here for any occasion has been assured by J. R. Band officials of Pampa, Canyon and Memphis have already made definite promises. Tentative promises have been made by bands at Amarillo, Childress and Shamrock.

Prizes will be awarded to the best performing band at the conclusion of the band contest to be held in the afternoon.

DONLEY FARMERS REPLANTING CROPS

Lelia Lake Area Suffers Greatest Damage; 90,000 Acres Replanted

For the third time this year farmers of devastated areas in Donley county went about their work of replanting cotton and feed crops.

The third planting is due to torrential rains received in the county last Wednesday night, causing untold damage to approximately 90,000 acres in the eastern half of the county. Terraces and contours were completely washed out and top soil carried off hundreds of farms.

The greatest damage centered in the Lelia Lake area and extended principally north and south from that community, when a 12-inch rain sent flood waters surging over farms and ranches last Wednesday night.

Of the 142,000 acres of Donley county land in cultivation, at least 75 per cent must be replanted. County Agent H. M. Breedlove said.

From a two-day survey, the agent estimated 33,000 acres of cotton, which last week held promise of normal production, was destroyed.

Elmer Palmer Will Head Council RS&M

At a meeting of the Clarendon No. 152, R. & S. M., Friday night, Elmer Palmer was re-elected Thrice Illustrious Master, the presiding officer for the ensuing year.

Joe Horn and Nolie Simmons were elected to Right Illustrious Deputy Master and C. of W., respectively.

W. H. Patrick was re-elected treasurer and R. C. Weatherly was re-elected Recorder. Installation of officers will take place Friday night.

Football Fans Get Behind Plan To Back Bronchos and Improve Field

Football fans of Clarendon are showing their sporting spirit and instincts this week as they are getting behind the plans adopted by the Athletic Committee for the grassing and improvement of the football field, and the backing of the 1938 Bronchos in their drive this Fall for a District Championship.

"Broncho Boosters 1938" is the name of the organization launched by the Athletic Committee at a meeting held Monday afternoon with Dede Gentry, chairman, presiding. The plan is to take monthly subscriptions for the next six months to provide funds for the improvement of the football field and promote other interests of football in Clarendon this coming Fall. Already over a dozen have become members of the club and committees under the leadership of U. J. Boston, will see interested citizens at once for their signatures and the first monthly payment.

The Athletic Committee was set-up last Spring under the direction of the school board, and is composed of citizens of the town, members of the board and representatives of the faculty.

A man has been put in charge of the football field for the next ninety days, to remove all weeds, cut, spread and water the grass which now has a good start, with a view of having one of the best grassed playing fields in the district when the thud of the pickin is heard in September.

No large contribution is asked of anybody, and everybody is invited to become a member of the "Broncho Boosters 1938" and help in promoting football in C. H. S. It is understood that no other collections or advertising schemes will be backed by the Boosters, each member promising to discourage any such that might come to his attention. This protection is worth a lot.

Rev. and Mrs. N. C. Smith, Mrs. Phyllis Crosby of Shamrock, and Mrs. T. H. Ellis and Miss Maxine Ellis went to Ceta Canyon Monday to the Episcopal Young Peoples conference. Newton Smith, Jr., who is attending school in Canyon, also accompanied them.

Clarendon Masons and other friends who attended the services at Hedley were Frank Whitlock, H. Mulkey, Bert Smith, W. G. Word, Joe Bownds, Allen Bryan, Elmer Palmer, R. E. Drennan, Hugh Brown, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Thompson, S. W. Lowe, Guy Pierce and W. E. Ray.

The first load of 1938 wheat harvested in Donley county was brought to Clarendon Monday afternoon by T. C. Isom, rector on the Chamberlain community.

Three other loads for the 33-acre field have been harvested. The first load contained 126 bushels and was sold to the Clarendon Grain Co., for 62 cents per bushel. It tested 60 pounds per bushel.

Production of the first three loads averaged 18 bushels per acre, but a light final load reduced the average to approximately 12 bushels per acre.

Mrs. A. J. Parker is in an Amarillo hospital following a serious operation Tuesday morning. Her condition is reported to be satisfactory.

Actual construction of the oil well drilling rig on the Robinson and Jones, Nellie Kuteman No. 1 got underway Wednesday when a six-man rig building crew arrived on the site, located about one and one-half miles south of Hedley. Work was supposed to have begun two weeks ago but was delayed.

Erection of the 90-foot steel derrick is expected to be completed by Saturday morning.

Spudding in on the wildcat test contracted to drill 3,500 feet will depend on the arrival of drilling machinery, which is expected in a few days.

Meanwhile, assembling of a block in the Goldston area continues and an announcement is expected to be made soon that the block has been completed.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Duncan left Sunday for Ft. Worth for a short visit with relatives before continuing on to other Texas points for an extended vacation.

Rev. S. L. (Slim) Tidwell, student of Simmons University, is spending the summer vacation with his father, O. H. Tidwell.

Miss Wilma Dee Smith left Sunday for Los Angeles, Calif., to visit with relatives. She will also visit in Colton, Calif., with Miss Hope Reed, an Abilene Christian College classmate.

Another short trip will be made without the band to complete the distribution of circulars advertising the Celebration over territory near by not covered in the big swing Monday.

NYA PROJECT IS OFFERED DONLEY

TRAINING TO BE PROVIDED FOR FORTY-FOUR GIRLS IN THIS AREA

The National Youth Administration headquarters in Amarillo is contemplating opening a girl's residence home in Clarendon for training girls of Clarendon and the surrounding territory in Home Economics. The forty-four girls who would be residents would be supervised and trained by a graduate Home Economics teacher. In addition to the training, the girls would operate a canning plant three days a week for the benefit of the citizens who desire this service on a toll basis; that is the girls would receive a percentage of the goods canned for their work.

Each girl in the home would receive $17.86 every two weeks, making a monthly payroll of $915. Out of the $17.86, the girls would pay $8.50 back into the home for food and working supplies.

At present the most needed thing to start the project is a sponsor. This sponsor must provide a house with beds and dressers for the girls, and the utilities used. This sponsor will receive the percentage of canned goods coming from the canning plant. However, several women's clubs and business men in town have promised to provide the furniture for rooms, but the sponsor will have to provide the house and utilities. It is the belief of the NYA officers that the project will be self supporting within a few months after it is started.

This residence home and training, if established, will be invaluable for the girls of the Clarendon territory and will provide a canning plant which is much needed.

The project will be presented to the Commissioners' Court Friday, June 24, at 1 o'clock, and every-one interested in securing this project for Clarendon is invited to attend and present his views.

LIONS ENJOY A MUSIC PROGRAM

LOCAL ARTISTS BRING VARIED MUSICAL PROGRAM AT TUESDAY MEETING

Hamilton and District Director McClung of Amarillo were introduced and the former presented the proposal of the NYA to establish a home in Clarendon in which 44 girls and young women would be trained in homemaking, operating a canning factory on toll basis for the county, provided proper sponsorship could be obtained in Donley County. The matter will be heard by the Commissioners' Court Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Lion Burton presented the matter of improvement and maintenance of the local football field, and the plans being laid by the Athletic Committee to provide the necessary funds.

CLASS SINGING BIG 4TH EVENT

RUMOR HAS IT THAT MUSIC LOVERS WILL HEAR REAL CONTEST

The Fourth of July Class Singing Contests which so pleased and entertained the big crowds here last year on Independence Day, promises to be an event of still greater interest this year, for rumor has it that a number of singing classes from over Donley will be on hand to give a real contest for the three cash prizes offered.

The prizes offered are: 1st—$20.00; 2nd—$10.00; 3rd—$5.00, and there will likely be more than double the number of contestants which entered a year ago.

Goldston won first prize money last year, with Sunnyview taking second honors.

The singing will take place on the program platform equipped with loud speaker, which will be erected in the second block of Kearney Street. Three judges will work together in making the awards which will be presented at the conclusion of the contest.

All entries must be in by Saturday afternoon, July 2, and are to be made at the Clarendon News office, with Sam M. Braswell, chairman of this feature of the day's entertainment. Entries may be phoned in by any responsible citizen of the community desiring to enter.

FLOOD CONTROL MORE IMPORTANT THAN RECREATION

At the beginning of the organization of the Panhandle Water Conservation Authority, the emphasis was placed on water conservation and flood control, but within the past year, we have seen the strange spectacle of the displacement of these intensely worth-while and practical objectives, for the colorful and appealing aims of the play-boy—recreation.

Now recreation is all right in its place, and the people of the Panhandle section need more recreational facilities, when and if the country's resources are so conserved, we are able to enjoy recreation. If we lose our soil and natural resources for farming and cattle raising, we will hardly have a class left with any time, money or inclination for recreation.

The devastating floods originating in Donley County the past week brings tragically to the attention of constructive thinkers in the Panhandle, the necessity for considering and planning for the conservation of water and soil, as we do something about flood control, even at the risk of disarranging the plans of those whose sole bent now seems to be recreation, and the hand-picking of those precious few sites for the benefit of the recreation-seeking class in this section, placed for political purposes—where the preponderance of votes are "at."

A series of dams in Donley on the several watersheds of the dangerous Salt Fork of Red River, would doubtless have saved the lives of five people the past week aside from the immediate crop losses on one hundred thousand acres of rich farm lands. In addition to this they would have saved a half-million dollars in soil erosion and farm damage—the worst in the history of the Panhandle. This is too great a disaster for other sections of the Panhandle to ignore.

The News knows Donley has not been "slated" to receive any dams for prevention of water and soil erosion. We know we have not been "slated" to receive any dams, even, for "recreational" purposes, but we do believe that it is time for sanity to return to promotional minds of the Panhandle, for Donley floods do damage not only to Donley but for a hundred miles down Salt Fork and Red River, even when heavy rains do not extend out of our boundaries.

Collingsworth County suffered some from their own rains, but there would have been no disaster to the Denver train, workers and bridge, and a highway bridge if Donley's water had been held principally at home.

There is an old saying about the foolishness of "Nero fiddling while Rome burned," and here is its counterpart in the Panhandle, when the Panhandle Water Conservation leadership "goes fishing and boating while a banner farming county is washed away," taking tragic toll of life, property and the natural soil resource so costly to replace. It's a wetter figure of speech, but more terrible in its consequences, for Rome could be burned but once in a season—Donley can wash away any week, to its greater loss and the laying waste of its neighbors.

The News submits that Water, Soil Conservation, and Flood Control are the MOST important objectives for any Authority in the Panhandle country. In fact, these primal

TOO MUCH OF IT ALREADY!

JUST HUMANS

By GENE CARR

"Taxi."
"Really!"

objectives are pre-requisite for the pet objective, "recreation," as desirable and praiseworthy as that may be.

We need more justice, more sanity, more constructive judgement here in the Panhandle.

VIGOROUS INTERNATIONAL TRADE NECESSARY

"No nation, however large in territory and however richly endowed with natural resources can attain a generally satisfactory standard of living and can maintain otherwise a high level of national welfare, if it shuts itself off from the rest of the world and attempts to live a self-imposed hermit life. History clearly shows that nations which have reached a high state of civilization have maintained vigorous international trade, whereas nations with little or no trade have not developed a progressive civilization, but instead have become decadent . . .

"The Trade-Agreements Policy is an indispensable part of our broad and comprehensive program designed not only to promote in our country stable and sustained economic prosperity, but also to assure for our nation a condition of durable peace. That program is based upon what I have often described as enlightened nationalism—a sane and practical middle course between the disastrous extremes of internationalism and isolation. Neither of those extremes will give us prosperity; neither will assure us peace."—Hon. Cordell Hull.

A half moon hanging like a silver pendant on a chain of stars stretched clear across the heavens and through scattered pieces of pearl-bright clouds is nothing short of astronomical splendor.

There is a clear maxim which tells us that unless wicked ideas take root in a naturally depraved mind, human nature in its normal, wholesome state and revolting at crime, will uproot the wrong and substitute the right.

SIDELIGHTS

By MARVIN JONES

The payments under the farm program and the loans made under the Farm Credit Administration have meant much to the people of our section. During the serious conditions that have prevailed over the last few years, these expenditures have not only enabled the farmer to carry on, but they have saved business as well. It has been my privilege to handle the legislation that made this work possible.

MARVIN JONES Fortunately these funds have gone into every county of the District and the benefits have thus been widely distributed.

These expenditures, in the Clarendon area, under the A. A. A. and the Farm Credit Administration since 1933 are shown in the following figures from the Administrative records:

 Armstrong, $1,048,688.68; $1,012,858.00.
 Briscoe, $890,457.30; 1,048,141.00.
 Carson, $1,916,439.41; $1,778,908.00.
 Childress, $1,495,815.93; $902,971.00.
 Collingsworth, $1,973,852.40; $947,667.00.
 Cottle, $1,228,586.05; $473,079.00.
 DONLEY, 1,158,379.89; $714,821.00.
 Gray, $1,427,930.35; $747,919.00.
 Hall, $1,962,004.67; $1,342,092.00.

A total of $37,179,681.05 for AAA payments and $28,700,382.00 for FCA loans have been made in 28 counties of West Texas.

The figures for 1938 are not yet available. These will add several million dollars more, which will be distributed in practically the same way. The average cost of the administration of these programs, including field personnel, has been less than 5 percent.

In addition to agricultural activities, other types of work have been made available in our section.

Post office buildings have been constructed in Canyon, Childress, Borger, Dalhart, Memphis, Pampa, Amarillo, Plainview, and Wellington. Lubbock and Plainview are no longer in the 18th Congressional District, but were when the federal buildings were constructed. More federal buildings have been built in this district during the last few years than in any other district in the United States. This was proper on account of the size of the district.

Another phase of the government's activity has been the C. C. program, which has been carried on in our section through camps located in Deaf Smith county, Hall county, Ochiltree county, Potter county and Randall

LIBRARY NOTES

(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

Lin Yutang in "The Importance of Living," which continues to lead the best sellers in the non-fiction class says, "Reading or the enjoyment of books has always been regarded among the charms of a cultured life and is respected and envied by those who rarely give themselves that privilege." This is easy to understand when we compare the difference between the life of a man who does no reading and that of a man who does. The man who does not have the habit of reading is imprisoned in his immediate world in respect to time and space, but the moment he takes up a book, he immediately enters a different world, and if it is a good book, he is immediately put in touch with one of the best talkers of the world.

When "Of Mice and Men" opened in New York last November, John Steinbeck, author of the novel from which the play was adapted, offered to pay his publisher a barrel of wine if his play ran longer than three weeks. Since then the coveted New York Drama Critic's Circle award for the best American play of the current season went to this play.

A few weeks ago, Mrs. Markham, wife of Edwin Markham, and daughter of New England parents, who became Argonauts in '49, died in her home on Staten Island, at the age of 78. It was she who salvaged "The Man With the Hoe" from a heap of poets' discards. In an emergency she used to pinch-hit for her husband on the lecture stand.

Dr. Paul de Kruif has a new book, "Men Against Death" which continues to tell of the astounding discoveries in the field of medicine by unorthodox methods. His "Microbe Hunters" which many of our readers have enjoyed, made people feel that they "would never again say that there were no unknown regions to be explored, no more fame to be won by the courage that differs conventional methods and leaps the barriers of precedent and hide-bound restraint."

Austria's Nazi Chieftains recently instituted a purge of prohibited non-Aryan volumes in the Austrian National Library. In addition to this some of the works of Thomas Mann, Stefan Zweig, Jacob Wasserman, Vicki Baum and others were ordered removed from the public bookshops and either relegated to the cellars or destroyed.

Borough President Raymond V. Ingersoll of Brooklyn cabled the chief librarian at Vienna offering to pay the cost of transportation to Brooklyn of the banned books, and for Princeton undergraduates sent a similar request to Hitler in Berlin. I have seen

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them! Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out. Frequent, scanty or burning passages may be further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Holloway of Sells, Arizona, recently visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Morris. They left their two daughters, Gail and Betty for the summer, while Mr. Holloway attends school at Fort Collins, Colo.

Mrs. F. E. Chamberlain and daughter, Mrs. R. V. Payne of Turkey, spent Friday in Amarillo.

Richard Wright's "Uncle Tom's Children," a book of four novels, presenting the negro's attitude toward the tragedy of race-hatred violence, was awarded the Federal Writer's Project Prize which was offered by Story Magazine.

Billy Rose of "Casa Manana" fame paid $3,000 for settlement of a suit brought against him by Macmillan Company for the unauthorized use of "Gone With the Wind" in his musical dramatization of best sellers.

The Low Down FROM HICKORY GROVE

I am kind of a half-way law-abiding citizen and I am not agin the Govt. But everything has its place. And the Govt., if it would stick by the army and the navy, it would have its hands full—except maybe for the post-office. But even in the P. O., I have tried the blotter there, and I have tried the pen.

But you take your own off-spring, and if they are 6 or 10 or 20, you are for 'em 100 per cent, but even they have their place. And their place, it is not showing you how to take out an appendix, if you happen to be a doctor—or tellin' you how to make both ends meet, while they sit in the shade or use your credit card for gas.

And our Govt., it is getting to act like a juvenile and is diving in where it don't know how deep it is, like in this Tennessee electric shin-dig, and will maybe need a life preserver—and we will get the hospital bill.

If I happened to live down there around this here new TVA diggin's, I would feel safer if I had a few candles handy.

Yours, for the low-down,
JO SERRA

Col. Charles Goodnight Was Lone Hand On Trail With 2,000 Head Cattle

GOODNIGHT, Texas—Discussion of the proposed marking of the grave of Col. Charles Goodnight here has brought out many interesting stories about the colorful frontiersman.

One which pictures Goodnight's fearlessness most adequately is told of a time when, in a lonely section of New Mexico he fired three men who were helping him handle a herd of 2,000 steers—leaving himself alone and without help.

J. Evetts Haley gives this account in his biography, "Charles Goodnight, Cowman and Plainsman."

All the country was still wild and unsettled," he (Goodnight) explained, "I crossed the mountains, and when I reached the Canadian, dropped into a Texan's cow-camp. He had wintered about two thousand steers there. I stayed all night, pretending I was going to Bosque, where I always traded, to buy my cattle. The owner persuaded me to try to buy his herd, which I finally consented to do.

"In the morning we counted the cattle out, only a few miles from my trail, and I bought some of his horses and hired three of his men to help me handle the herd. I had instructed Rumans to follow me up as fast as possible with the outfit, and expected him to reach me the second day.

"I noticed that these men gambled all night at the camp just before we started on the trail. So when I hired them I told them I never allowed gambling, as I did not think it best. They readily agreed to this, so we packed our things on one of the horses and started.

"All went well that day and night, but on the first graze with the herd next day, they got down, went to gambling, and left me with the cattle to herd. I worked around to them as soon as I could and told them they and agreed not to gamble, and they must mount and get back around the cattle, which they did.

"We drifted on, and the next day at noon they got down under a pinon tree and again went to playing cards on a saddle blanket. I got around to them as before, and tried to talk with them reasonably as before, but the fighter of the bunch, thinking he had me in a hole, looked up and said: 'Well, what're you gonna do about it?'

"One thing I can do; I can pay you off."

"What'll you do with your cattle?'

"Listen here, that's none of your business. They're my cattle and I paid for them. See that trail. Get your horses and get on it."

"I happened to have plenty of silver in my pocket, and just pitched their wages down to them without getting off my horse, made them saddle their own, and saw that they took the back-trail then and there."

Here, far in the wilderness, in the heart of outlaw domain, Goodnight fired the only hands he had because of his rule against gambling. He expected John Rumans to meet him almost any time, but the outfit didn't appear. He and his Shephard dog kept the cattle grazing in the right direction. On the evening of the second day he reached the Capulin Vega, where he happened to meet a Texan who had worked for him before. The puncher looked at the herd, and back to the owner with the natural question: "Wher're your hands?'

"Here," said Goodnight, pointing to himself.

"Oh, I mean the cowboys," the puncher said.

When told there were none, he asked if some were not needed and the owner said he "thought so." The man joined him and they moved the herd on. Days later they met the outfit which had been delayed because of a flood on the Picketwire.

Contributions to mark the grave of Colonel Goodnight have been asked by a committee headed by W. H. Patrick of Clarendon. The committee's goal is $1,000, with more than one-half subscribed.

"Contributions may be given to members of the committee in the different towns of the Panhandle or sent to Mrs. Harold D. Bugbee, Clarendon, treasurer," Mr. Patrick said.

AT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

There Is Always Worship Fellowship—Service

Life, the abundant life as we find it in Christ, is the challenge which confronts us today as we live in the world with its collapse of social standards, appalling economic maladjustments, and intellectual bewilderments. Christ pulls life together, puts meaning into it, runs purposes through it, and puts horizons around it. Without Christ life is atheized, paganized, and demoralized. With Christ, life is lifted to levels of love and immortalized, christianized, and civilized. We are now living in a day of realistic drama. Storms, tragedies, grasshoppers, crop failures, financial bankruptcy, political insecurity, social sorrow, and religious indifference beset us on every side. But it was in days akin to these that a handful of Christians under the command blazing and burning from the lips of our Lord, went out to establish Christianity in the heart of a pagan world and amidst the ruins of a collapsed empire and wrecked civilization. Christians have grown strong, grappling with stark, tragic times. The order has been from tribulation to triumph; from despair to deliverance; from darkness to light. We get our optimism facing pessimism. Our hope leaps out of despair. Great days are ahead for us if we follow him who is the giver of all life. What a challenge!

The Baptist Church is always happy to minister to those who come into her services. Delightful hours may be spent there morning and evening next Sunday.

J. Perry King Pastor.

He lowered the utility rates: gas, water, lights, and telephone; he lowered the tax rate 25 per cent.

As Railroad Commissioner

He stabilized the oil and gas industry, he reduced the freight rates for the drought area to allow the farm and ranch products to get to the market; he preserved State's rights and stabilized industry without national control.

NOW, Let this man do for Texas what he did for Amarillo; let this red-headed man stabilize the farm and ranch industry as he did the oil industry; let's elect Ernest Thompson, a man with a sound public record, Ernest Thompson, as governor of Texas.

"Fifteen Minutes From Broadway" --- New York's Fair

NEW YORK (Special).—If shadows a little longer could be cast by the pinnacles of New York's skyscrapers they would fall across the site of the New York World's Fair of 1939. Only a few miles of the busy Borough of Queens lie between the exposition grounds and the heart of Manhattan. How close they are is illustrated in this aerial photograph taken from a plane winging over the Fair's main exhibit area. In the lower right corner is the Home Center Building in the Welfare Zone. In the center of the picture is the Hall of Communications, nearing completion. Beyond it is the Administration Building, already housing the 600 officers and executives of the Fair and their staffs. On extreme lower left is the steel frame of the Medicine and Public Health Building. Diagonally across the center of the picture is the Long Island Railroad, which has just opened a new World's Fair station. The upper diagonal line marks the elevated tracks of the Interborough, Brooklyn-Manhattan and Second Avenue subway lines. The background shows the towers of mid-Manhattan, the tallest of them that of the Empire State Building, where the Fair Corporation still maintains several of its executive offices.

News of Interest to Donley Farmers

Prepared by Extension Service
Texas A. & M. College

WHEAT GROWERS FACE POSER IN LOAN DECISION

COLLEGE STATION — Under the new farm act, a wheat loan must be offered at the rate of 52 to 75 percent of parity if the June 15 price of wheat is below 52 percent of parity or the July crop estimate is above normal domestic and export needs. It is generally agreed that the loan will be offered on both counts.

They have a long time bearing on the welfare of wheat growers, and they should study the matter from all angles before they ask for a loan on any definite level." W. E. Morgan, economist in agricultural planning of the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College has pointed out.

With the parity price for wheat at $1.15, the loan may vary from 60 to 85 cents per bushel.

"The loan rate on wheat this year will have a bearing on the price of the entire crop," Morgan said, "so we must think not only about the 200 million bushels put up for loans but also about the price on the other 750 million bushels of wheat.

"We have a carryover of around 200 million bushels and it is estimated that the winter wheat crop will be 760 millions and the spring crop another 250 million. That gives us a total supply of about 1,200 million bushels.

"The normal domestic consumption and export of wheat is around 750 million bushels a year, so we will have left some 450 million bushels to store. We can figure on exporting between 80 and 100 million bushels.

"The prospects for the export figure are holding up pretty fair, but if we loan far above the world price of wheat, we will shut off our exports. That would mean that we would face a carryover of some 500 or more million bushels of wheat in 1939."

The decision wheat growers must make, according to Morgan, is whether to ask for a high loan and let the future take care of itself, or ask for a loan at a level which will allow foreign markets to absorb some of the potential 1,200 million bushels supply of United States wheat.

A. & M. COLLEGE SHORT COURSE FOR BOYS, GIRLS

COLLEGE STATION—About 2,500 boys and girls from Texas farms and ranches will have the undivided attention of Texas A. & M. College July 6 to 9 when the Junior section of the annual Farmer's Short Course will be held at College Station. This is the first time that adult and junior Short Course visitors have met on different dates, according to Roy W. Snyder, Short Course general chairman.

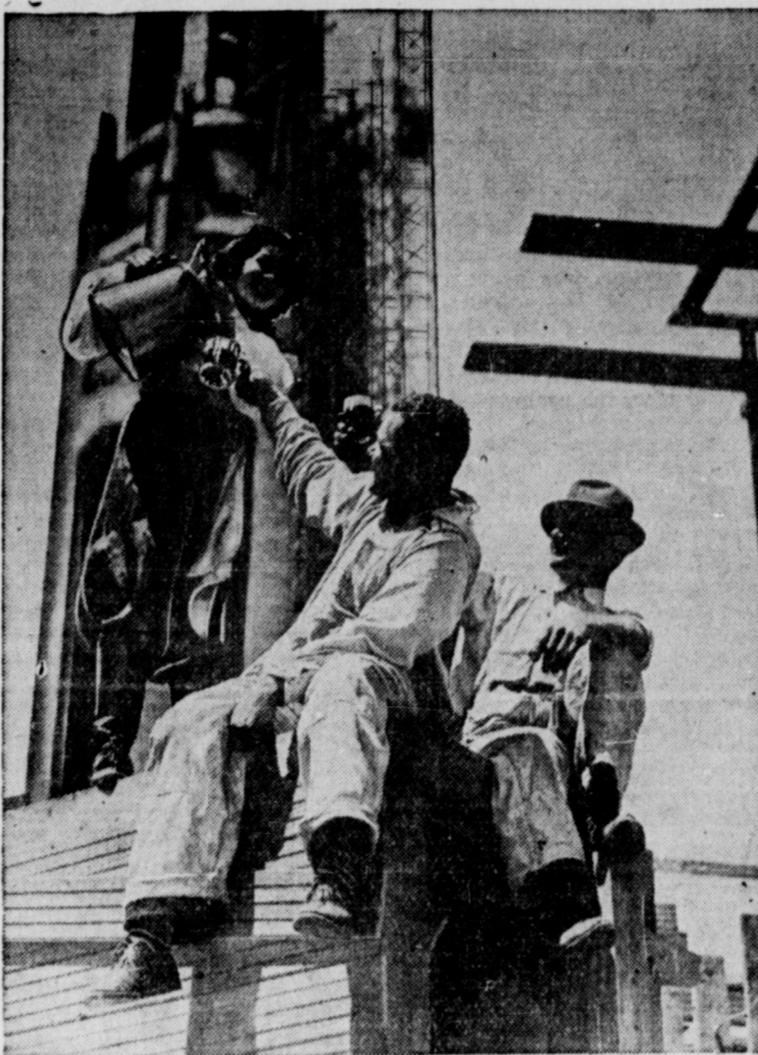

The arrangement has been made because the yearly increasing attendance at Short Course has taken place at the same time when summer sessions of the College have also been growing. Each year it has been harder to make room for both groups and this year it was impossible.

General assembly every morning and the night programs will be joint meetings of the boys and girls, with music in charge of the famous Rotary International song leader, Walter H. Jenkins, of Houston. Speakers and picture shows will feature these meetings. A tea honoring the gold star boys and girls will be given one afternoon.

Programs for the boys have been arranged on subjects of livestock; field crops; entomology; horticulture; plant production; cotton classing; and meat. For the girls, the program will center around home making subjects, wild flower legends, and "The 4-H Club Girl's Dollar and Sense." One series of talks by the girls themselves will be presented under the title "How I got on friendly terms with the things around me."

"What 4-H Experience Means to a College Girl" is the subject of a talk by Ruth Foshee, former Hunt county 4-H club girl, winner of the Texas Home Demonstration Association college scholarship. "A 4-H Club girl as a Homemaker" will be discussed by Mrs. Paul Stauffer, former 4-H club girl of Wheeler county.

VACCINE REDUCES LOSSES FROM BLIND "STAGGERS"

COLLEGE STATION—Heavy losses from encephalomyelitis, usually called "blind staggers," "brain fever," or "sleeping sickness," an infectious disease of horses and mules, may be reduced by a two-dose vaccine given at least 30 days before the disease usually shows in July, August, and September, according to Roy W. Snyder, specialist with the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College, who has done a great deal of horse extension work.

The vaccine, developed by the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry, should be given in two injections 7 to 14 days apart, by a veterinarian. Snyder warned that "remedies" and "cures" sold by peddlers are of no value in controlling the disease.

Symptoms generally show up in three phases. The first phase may escape notice as it is usually only a mild indisposition accompanied by a rise in temperature. Distinct nervous symptoms, with or without fever, occur in the second phase. In the last stage the animal is unable to stand and sometimes thrashes violently with the head and legs.

The disease may be easily confused with other illnesses and only a veterinarian can distinguish it with certainty.

"Blind staggers" is caused by a virus which may be transmitted by mosquitos, flies, and other blood sucking insects. It is therefore advisable to stable work animals when not working them, and in every way to protect them against insects, Snyder said.

Horses and mules that begin to show symptoms of the disease should be isolated from healthy animals and protected from biting insects. Where possible, Snyder pointed out, such animals should be placed in a screened enclosure.

Jasper County was named for a hero of the American Revolution.

A Hundred Hens

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Texas Breeder-Feeder Association

"I have found that 100 hens is about the right number as a farm flock," say Mrs. Greer Creager of Wilbarger county, Texas. "I can take care of that number without their interfering a great deal with other duties, and they feed around the place. I usually buy or hatch 300 chicks, sell off the roosters at frying size and sell the cull pullets down to the 100 best ones for next winter's layers. They are bringing me several dollars a week egg money."

Mrs. Otto Obenhaus of the same county agrees with Mrs. Creager. Mrs. I. B. Ray of Wilson county says practically the same thing. So does Mrs. Schneider of Hays county, and "Pat" Geiselbrecht, Clifton banker, backs them all up with the statement that "a farm flock of chickens or turkeys is the safest security; if they get into large numbers it takes more time and special attention than most farmers and their wives can give them and are less profitable per hen than in the farm size flocks which make a part of their own living by picking up what would otherwise be wasted."

Every one of the ladies quoted have the usual household duties of a well-rounded farm—house-keeping, cooking, butter-baking, etc. They all buy starter mashers and other special mixed feeds as needed, since no farm produces all the elements of a first-class chick or laying ration. But—and here's where the farm flock shows its great advantage—there is waste grain, green feed, insects and plenty of room for healthful conditions for a hundred hens where 20 would have to go on a deficiency diet.

Mr. and Mrs. George Boehning of Wilson county have one of the most modern homes in the county, and all the electrical gadgets they want. They have reared a family of six, who are now out in the world on their own and making good. A farm flock of chickens, again about 100 hens, ranges all over the place, and has been one of the principal features of the Boehning manage all these years when they were paying for 231 acres of land and building and equipping that handsome home.

Eggs go up and eggs go down, like cotton and wheat and every other thing, but the farm flock of hens will turn in a profit when the specialized egg factory is losing money. And the eggs they lay will keep almost any farm family out of debt for supplies whatever the price.

Many southwestern farms have no chickens at all. Most of them have less than enough to supply the family with all the eggs it can eat, and chicken on Sunday. If the ladies quoted know their chickens—and results show they do—most Southwestern farm families are missing out by not keeping more hens. Maybe 100 is too many for some farms, as they now are, but not if the farms are planted as they should be.

In the past generation scores of big "poultry farms" have been started, great expense incurred in equipment, the best of breeding stock secured, and skilled management employed. Few of them operate long. A good many farm folks get the "chicken bug" and true to the American spirit of doing big things in a big way, start with 500 or 1,000 chicks. Usually they also retire shortly, for reasons unnecessary to explain.

Meanwhile the farm flock goes on and on, and outside of a few special regions like Petaluma or in the environs of great eastern cities, the farm flock continues to

NOBODY'S BUSINESS
BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

AUSTIN—A new kind of political medicine man—the likes of which has not been seen before in Texas—engaged the avid attention of the old line politicians here this week, and brought on millions of words of political talk. He is W. Lee O'Daniel, the Fort Worth flour miller, who, with his hill-billy string band, has been entertaining some thousands of Texans for years on a radio program designed to sell flour.

Opening at Waco before a crowd of 15,000 persons, O'Daniel mixed entertainment and hill-billy music with political talk, and aroused his crowd to the wildest enthusiasm. He followed through with record-breaking crowds at several West Texas points, and this week was taking his campaign into the small towns and cities of populous North and East Texas—where the votes are thick.

EXPERTS PUZZLED

O'Daniel's enthusiastic reception stirred political talk and speculation in every corner of the State. From many rural communities, and even from some larger cities, came reports—admittedly exaggerated by the heat and excitement of the moment—that he was going to sweep McCraw and Thompson and Hunter—admittedly the three leading candidates,—right out of the race and win the election. Cooler analysis discounted these reports, of course, but the political managers were frankly deeply interested, and some worried. In Bill McCraw's camp especially, the gloom was thick and obvious. Bill heretofore has been the master exponent of the informal, "showmanship" type of campaigning, and his backers fig-supply the maternal egg of the hungry urbanites of the nation. The answer is that the farm flock is less liable to disease, requires less expense and its care uses time that would otherwise be wasted.

ured he had the most of the voters who favor the jovial backslap and the funny story of wise-crack that engenders a real belly-laugh as "in the bag" for McCraw. Obviously, then, any serious turning of this group who like to be entertained, toward the hill-billy candidate would cut into McCraw's vote. The McCraw brain trust evidenced this worry when they put Mayer Tom Miller, of Austin, on the radio and made what many experts here pronounced a major strategic mistake by attacking O'Daniel as a "jitterbug" candidate. That revealed, the observers declared, who is worst worried by the hill-billy candidate and his string band.

THOMPSON IGNORES HIM

Ernest Thompson, whose platform and speeches throughout the campaign have been designed to catch the attention from the serious-minded voter who thinks about state problems, and particularly the farmer and rancher; took no cognizance of the O'Daniel phenomenon. He pushed ahead vigorously, advocating relief for farmers, liberalized pensions for old folks, industrial development of Texas, and relief from new taxes. If O'Daniel catches Thompson votes, the defection likely will occur in the farmers' ranks, and it will not be so serious, the experts believe, as his forays into McCraw's strength.

Thompson also got another break when the Democratic Com-last week, summarily ruled "Ver-nest O. Thompson" off the ballot, mittee, as forecast in this column when he failed to appear and explain about his own name, "Ver-nest's" campaign manager threat-ened a lawsuit, but so far hasn't filed it. Beaumont was awarded the September Democratic state convention, after eloquent pleas by the veteran Beeman Strong, and other supporters of the South Texas Oil metropolis.

GAS CASE IN COURT

Back before the Austin court of Civil Appeals this week was the celebrated Lone Star gas rate controversy, remanded two weeks ago by the U. S. Supreme Court. The State took the case back for resubmission and additional argument, asking the Court of Civil Appeals to reform its judgement, which was in favor of the rate cut ordered by the Railroad Commission for 275 Texas towns, in line with the high court decision in favor of the Lone Star. Although the State filed a motion asking the case be advanced, court attaches believed it unlikely the court would get to the matter before the summer recess, so that the election, in which the case has become quite an issue, will be over before additional court action is taken.

CAMPAIGN NOTES

The politicians in office at Austin this year are getting a 'break' because of the fact that public interest, slow to awaken this year, has been centered largely on the "big show" staged by gubernatorial candidates so far. Opponents of the better-known folks in office have a hard time arousing interest under such circumstances, thus making the incumbents, including Judge C. V. Terrell, of the Railroad Commission; L. A. Woods, State Superintendent of Education; George Sheppard,

Comptroller and Treasurer Charley Lockhart, favorites to repeat . . . Tom Love, once Assistant Secretary of the Treasury under the Wilson administration, tossed his hat into the ring as an opponent of Hattin W. Summers, congressman from Dallas, this week-end. Love has been an ardent New-Dealer, while Summers has differed with the president on the court bill and other New Deal measures. Summers is chairman of the important Judiciary committee, with 24 years of service in Congress . . . Love served at State Senator from Dallas, and Democratic national committeeman for Texas, and was beaten for Lieutenant Governor by Barry Miller, with the Klan and prohibition as issues, way back when those issues were hot in Texas. . . Rogers Kelley, Hidalgo county district attorney who is running for the Senate from the Valley district, got a real break when, after he had been advocating for weeks, pressure on Washington to settle the Rio Grande irrigation water problem with Mexico, a drought sent the River so low that most of the voters in the district were threatened with ruin, and made the water issue a paramount one down there . . . Politicians here were holding their breath, awaiting nomination by President Roosevelt of the newly authorized Federal Judge for South Texas, expected any day . . . with Gov. Allred still a hot favorite with most wise ones as the new judge . . . They were also watching announcements in connection with the President's forthcoming trip through Texas, to see if any of the gubernatorial candidates will "get a nod" from the White House.

Our thanks and appreciation must include the CC Camp men who have been so wonderful in their willingness and endurance.

God bless each of all the hundreds who have helped.

In sincerest gratitude,

Grasshopper Finds New Diet Saturday

Yarns have been told of the famous West Texas grasshopper that jumped upon the drug store counter and said, "give me a shot of arsenic, the county agent is making a dope head out of me," but it remained for Allen Bryan, owner of Bryan Clothing Co., to have a suit of clothes partially eaten by the deadly West Texas menace.

Having occasion to visit his store Sunday morning, Bryan noticed a jumbo grasshopper on the coat sleeve of a new suit of clothes in his stock. The "hopper" had already damaged the suit considerably, and continued to eat around a large hole in the coat sleeve.

Bryan said the "hopper" evidently was in the case Saturday night when it was closed for the week-end.

Donley Roads Take Heavy Flood Damage

Donley county road commissioners will be some time replacing bridges and culverts washed out by heavy rains received here last week.

Flood damage to Donley county roads has been estimated to be from $10,000 to $15,000 by the commissioners.

Flood damage was greatest in Commissioner Claude Nash's precinct, where 18 drainage structures were lost.

G. G. Reeves, commissioner of precinct number 2 reported three bridges washed out in his territory.

Candidates Dig Up Assessments

The heavy financial burden of holding elections for 1938 rests mainly upon county and precinct candidates with the greater portion being borne by county candidates, as revealed by the assessments made on candidates by the county Democratic Committee.

W. P. Cagle, county chairman, said assessments were made in comparison to the amount of salary or fees the particular offices paid. Amounts assessed for the several offices by the committee in their meeting Monday are as follows:

County Judge, $87.00; Sheriff, $100.00; Tax Assessor-Collector, $150.00; County Clerk, $93.00; County Commissioners, $60.00; District Clerk, $49.00; County Treasurer, $60.00; Justice of the Peace, Precinct No. 3, $4.00; Constable, $2.00; Public weigher, $3.00.

Candidates for district offices not listed, a flat fee of $1.00 for each candidate is charged by state law, Mr. Cagle said.

Gold Rush Era Is Recreated In Film

California in all its romantic glory of the gold rush and mission days is brought to the screen in "The Girl of the Golden West," co-starring Janette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy, and opening at the Pastime Theatre Sunday.

A lavish musical. The new picture introduces several original musical numbers by Sigmund Romberg and Gus Kahn and a spectacular early California festival, "The Mariachi."

Adapted from the David Belasco play, "The Girl of the Golden West" is the story of the girl owner of the Polka saloon and dance hall, loved by the sheriff, Jack Rance, but who falls in love with the bandit Ramirez. When the bandit is captured, the girl promises to marry Rance if he will free Ramirez, but Rance eventually realizes that the two love each other and he vanishes from the proposed wedding, leaving the lovers in each other's arms.

Bear Dog Skull Unearthed Here By WPA Party

CANYON—One of the most ferocious of carnivorous animals which inhabited this section more than a million years ago was the "bear dog," an animal as large as the Alaskan brown bear.

The Great Dane and St. Bernard are large, but they are puny creatures compared with the Amphicyon Gidleyi, or bear dog. One of the finest specimens of these dogs was found by a WPA party recently in Donley county, where Wayne Christian is supervising excavations. It consists of a complete skull with the lower jaws and all the teeth in place excepting a few incisors. According to Prof. C. Stewart Johnston of West Texas State College, it is the best specimen of the kind in existence.

This valuable skull will be placed in an exhibit case in the museum of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, where the collections obtained through the WPA paleontological excavations sponsored by the College during the last four years are housed.

NEGROES OBSERVE JUNE 19TH IN ANNUAL PICNIC

June 19th was observed very quietly this year by Clarendon negroes.

A small group gathered at Albert Boyd's residence in "the flats" for a picnic spread, Saturday afternoon.

Another group, consisting of members of the Holiness Church, journeyed to Quanah for a church meeting Sunday.

The occasion passed without any disturbances, the colored folk celebrating in the general get-together and singing songs in a manner that is peculiar to their race.

Collingsworth Dam Site Survey Begins

Work on the surveying of a dam site on Elm creek, north of Wellington, was begun this week, after the Collingsworth county water conservation committee had secured an option on 1,760 acres of land from Albert Mamby.

The effort to secure the dam at that point came after it was impossible to purchase land on the Dozier creek site, which was first recommended by the committee.

When the survey is completed, Bob Glenn, chairman, and Lee O'Neil will go to Amarillo to tender the option and make application to the bureau of agricultural economics.

The active cooperation of Wheeler county has been promised the Collingsworth county delegation in securing the dam, it was reported.

Survey In Progress On Briscoe Dam Site

Survey of the site for the dam on Red River in the Antelope community, near Silverton, was started last week, Briscoe County officials have announced.

The survey, which will take about 90 days to complete is being made by Army engineers under the direction of Lieutenant Colonel Scott of Little Rock.

Airplane pictures will be made of the drainage basin which covers the entire upper Red River territory and includes several Panhandle counties. The dam will be about 6,000 feet long and 150 feet high and will be a $1,000,000 project.

The project will be known as the Caprock reservoir.

The reduced interest rates on Federal land bank and Commissioner loans have been extended by Federal legislation for a period of two years, according to word received today from the Federal Land Bank by C. E. Killough, Secretary-Treasurer of the Clarendon National Farm Loan Association.

On Federal land bank loans through national farm loan associations the temporarily reduced rate of 3 1/2 per cent per annum will be continued for all interest installment payable prior to July 1, 1940.

The temporarily reduced rate of 4 per cent on Land Bank Commissioner loans is also continued until July 1, 1940, Mr. Killough said.

The Clarendon National Farm Loan Association at present has 184 Federal Loans and 198 Commissioner Loans aggregating more than one million dollars.

"BUT WE DIDN'T GIVE UP" Sometimes in this day of relief, pensions, and increasing demands from every side for government help, it seems that the fine traditional American qualities of sturdy self reliance and grit are vanishing. But they still exist, perhaps in as large proportion as ever. Here's a bit of testimony on the point from The Progressive Farmer:

"Yes, I had a pretty good sized farm and was doing right well, I thought, before the big depression hit us about 1932," said a friend in our office. "Then I lost the place and about everything I had saved in 30 years of work. But we didn't give up. My wife and I started life over again on a 40-acre tract. And we are climbing back. We are making a living and keeping our faith in the future."

There are thousands and thousands of just such folks on southern farms. To all of them we take off our hats. They are the salt of the earth. No matter what sort of trouble comes, the individual, the family, the county or the section that can say afterwards, "But we didn't give up," is the one that triumphs in the end. Confederate soldiers were able to say it in the years after Appomattox. Their sons and grandsons still say it, no matter what fate offers them.

One of the fleet of great trucks belonging to the Southwestern Paper Company of Ft. Worth, Dallas and Houston, docked at the Clarendon News Office yesterday afternoon to discharge its quota of a car lot of newsprint shipped to Wichita Falls for distribution.

Over 5,000 pounds of Canadian manufactured news paper was marked for the News and stacked on our floors is one of the largest shipments of this necessary product ever brought to Donley County—enough to supply News readers with their weekly copies for many, many months.

CAREFUL WITH POISON

Farmers are cautioned to be careful in putting out grasshopper poison bait as in some instances a shovel might be employed in the distribution of the poison and in some cases some hazardous results might be encountered by livestock. If the poison is distributed by hand being careful to sow broadcast at the rate of 20 pounds per acre practically no danger from poison of livestock will be encountered.
