CLARENDON'S FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION GROWS IN INTEREST AND ATTENDANCE

It is very gratifying to those who have expended their time, talents and money in the promotion of Clarendon's Annual Fourth of July Celebration to find that the 1938 event was easily the largest attended for many, many years. Naturally, the interest has grown to bring such a great crowd of Panhandle people to the city for a fine, neighborly, sensible, clean attraction.

Next year it is already proposed to stage a two-day Celebration on Monday and Tuesday, July 3-4, and the plans are already in the making to make it by far the greatest affair of its kind in the entire Panhandle country. Committees soon to be appointed will begin work at once to make the 1939 Celebration just what its most ardent promoter could wish.

Now to progress and develop means that there must be more personal co-operation by the citizenship, and The News bespeaks for the general leadership of the 1939 Celebration the whole-hearted co-operation and loyal efforts of our whole citizenship, looking to a tremendous success next July 3-4.

Make your plans now to have a large part in bringing a new and larger success to pass in 1939.

DELAY LIKELY MEANS DEFEAT

Warning that cities and other public bodies which delay filing applications for allotments from the new billion dollar Public Works fund may find available money exhausted was sounded this week by George W. Bull, regional PWA director at Fort Worth.

This is quick confirmation of what The News urged last week that Clarendon and Donley County get several worthy projects filed with the PWA authorities at once, for it is the announced policy of the government agency to give preference to those projects which can get into the construction stage earliest in order to provide jobs and orders for materials all over the Nation and deliver a body blow to the business recession.

In this emergency a delay may mean defeat insofar as local spending is concerned, besides having a general bearing on the whole employment situation throughout the country.

Millions are ready and waiting for use by those cities and communities who are alert in getting in their requisitions for worthwhile building projects, while they co-operate in the national movement of speeding up jobs and movement of building materials of all kinds.

Clarendon and Donley county have many possible worthwhile projects which may be secured now by prompt action. Delay may mean defeat, insofar as the local situation is concerned—and that is the concern of every one of us.

WALTER WOODUL DESERVES REWARD

The attorney general's race this year is unusual in that every candidate has the legal ability to make Texas a good lawyer, but we prefer Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodul. Mr. Woodul has made Texas a good lieutenant governor.

and has frequently taken the lead in important civic enterprises. He deserves promotion.

His determination to use the attorney general's office to stop reeketeering in mutual assessment insurance is excellent. His condemnation of land grabbing and promise to help bona fide occupants get the benefits of their land, instead of helping vacancy hunters, is sound. He promises to oppose monopolies when they break our state laws. That is a good program.

His greatest accomplishment was in highway building. He was among the first to realize the old plan of requiring counties to finance state highways was breaking the counties and creating a patchwork of highways. As senator from Harris County, he took the lead in making state highway building a state responsibility, with fine results in highway building and local tax relief. His work on the Centennial, National Guard and many civic and charitable enterprises is commendable.

On the basis of what he has done and what he can do, we recommend him for attorney general.

Ralph Yarborough is a very commendable young lawyer, and our only criticism of him is that he has represented vacancy hunters and favors that system of recovering vacancies that gives the state 12 1/2 per cent and the vacancy hunter 87 1/2 per cent of the proceeds.

Bob Calvert is a clean young man and a capable lawyer, and his only fault in public service is that, as speaker, he sometimes let Governor Allred, whose votes elected him, influence him too much.

Gerald Mann, after starring on the football field, acquired valuable background in state government as secretary of state.

We have heard some nice things about Lewis Goodrich, the district attorney from Shamrock.

We are not against any of these men. They would probably make the state good lawyers. We prefer Mr. Woodul because he is just as capable a lawyer and has more experience and background in public service.—The Fort Worth Press.

Indians Celebrate Green Corn Festival and Adopt Governor

CHIEF TI-CA-I-CHE of the Alabama-Coushatta Indians in Texas led the pow-wow to which the White man was invited this summer for the first time. His tribesmen paraded into Livingston for their green corn festival.

GOVERNOR ALLRED of Texas, first Governor to visit them since Sam Houston in 1848, was adopted by the tribesmen.

FESTIVAL ENDS IN FEAST for this papoose, taking his grade A repeat with no concern for the photographer.

ADD MILK AND STIR—The squares created a corn chowder for the feast of the brave, and then they were taking part in a nationwide Milk Month in which tens of thousands of chain food and drug stores and variety stores with luncheon counters, and independent merchants in Texas and all over the country are helping the dairy farmer market his seasonal overproduction.

Beating the "Summer Drouth"

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary Texas Breeder-Feeder Association

One of the Southwest's climatic peculiarities is so common that "the summer drouth" is a standard part of our vocabulary. It doesn't occur at all, but as a rule there is a period when rainfall is deficient, pastures dry up, and crops suffer to a greater or less degree.

or other cultivated pastures, or keep a supply of ensilage in reserve. It is far cheaper in the long run to fence a field of Sudan so it can be grazed, than to let the growing animals take a set-back or let the milk flow fall off.

"I had eight acres of corn that was 'firing up' so I dug a trench and put the corn in it," said a Guadalupe county farmer at Luling. "My pasture was dry, and I fed the corn to my cows right along out of the silo and kept the cream checks up to normal. Before the corn was all fed up my hegarri also began to fire before the grain was ripe. I cut that and ensiled it in the same trench. My cows never fell off in their milk all summer; and the trench, which my son and I dug in half a day, made me many times its cost before the summer was over. I'll have a bigger one ready next year."

Sudan grass at certain stages is high in protein and next to alfalfa is probably the best and cheapest feed for growing pigs and lambs. It has become customary throughout the Southwest to carry spring litters of pigs through the summer on Sudan, if alfalfa or sweet clover is not available. A small amount of grain along with the Sudan pasture may be used to advantage if available, but if grain has to be bought at a high price it may be more profitable to grow the pigs out on pasture at the expense of a little more time to attain feeding size.

Another saving practice which is coming more and more into vogue is that of turning the farm flock of sheep into the corn field to graze the grass and weeds

Zephyrs Pass 5 Million Mile Mark

FIVE million miles of regular passenger service was completed by the fleet of eight Zephyr trains of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, June 21, 1938, at 6:07 P. M., Central Standard Time.

Miss Adelyn E. Lutz and Albert Cotsworth, Jr., passenger traffic manager of the C. B. & Q., are pictured examining the huge speedometer erected in Chicago's Union Station to celebrate the occasion. Inset is the famous Pioneer Zephyr, first of the Burlington's fleet.

near Zephyr, first of the Burlington's fleet. Built by the Edward G. Budd Manufacturing Company of Philadelphia, builders of light-weight, stainless steel railcars, the fleet compiled the enviable record with the "availability for service" figure being approximately 95 per cent, in spite of the extremely fast schedules the trains observe.

The grand total of five million service miles is made up of the following mileage records between Zephyr terminals: Chicago-Twin Cities, two trains, 2,007,743; Chicago-Denver, two trains, 1,512,549; Lincoln-Omaha-Kansas City, 547,701; Houston - Dallas - Fort Worth, 353,040; St. Louis-Kansas City, 308,673; St. Louis-Burlington, 270,294.

When the five million mile mark was reached the eight trains were running in six different states. Their combined current schedule calls for 5,903 miles per day—more than two million miles per year.

which spring up after the last cultivation. It serves the double purpose of weed and grass control in the field and relieving the pasture of its load for a few weeks, and the damage to the standing corn is negligible. If some of the old sheep develop a habit of riding down the corn take them out and leave the field to the lambs.

"I am building small trench silos for emergency use," says Robert Lindley, ace Jersey breeder of Hopkins county, Texas. "Since ensilage spoils more rapidly in hot weather, and has to be fed to a greater depth each day to avoid loss, it is economy to have small narrow silos for summer, while the main supply is stored in the large trenches for winter use. They cost so little to build and fill that it's mighty cheap insurance against feed shortage at any time."

Dairy farmers in the cost testing associations are also learning that a regular supply of green pasture or succulent feed is the only fair way to learn whether a cow has a profitable productive capacity. Many a cow has been condemned without having a chance to show what she can do, because so seldom have they had the right kind of feed throughout an entire lactation period.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

AUSTIN—W. Lee O'Daniel, the Fort Worth flour broker and his hill-billy band, still held the center of the political stage in Texas this week, continuing his trek through South Texas, and drawing extraordinarily large crowds. O'Daniel, demonstrating his sound knowledge of advertising methods, has worked out a routine that gets people out to hear him, and he shrewdly lets it ride, making virtually no changes in his speech or his program. He has borrowed from the technique of the old-time tent evangelist. He works his crowd up to a high emotional pitch by tricks that are familiar to students of psychology, and even his severest critics admit that he is a master showman. His stunt of circulating his children through the audience with miniature flour barrels, in which his listeners are asked to throw in nickels and dimes to "help finance his campaign," is clever use of the old principle that if you sell a man a little interest in a movement, he becomes a convert. Also, his clever sarcasm, when he creates a symbolical figure of the old age pension inspector, and the professional politician, and then literally demolishes them before his audience's eyes, while the crowd howls, is reminiscent of the evangelist casting the symbolical figure of the devil back into the sulphurous pit. And when O'Daniel calls for a show of hands on who is going to vote for him, it reminds the political analyst of Aimee Semple McPherson, in her palmist days, calling for those who have "the true faith" to stand up.

HE COULD GO FAR Opinion among the experts here is divided. Many including some of the shrewdest political thinkers in Texas, believe that a fire that burns as fiercely as the O'Daniel flame must burn itself out before election time. Others suspect that a fire that hot may set the political woods afire and land the flour broker in first or second place. Attorney General McCraw, whose campaign, according to best reports here has been most seriously crippled by the defection of voters to O'Daniel, shifted his campaign headquarters to Dallas, attacked O'Daniel fiercely, and dropped everything that faintly resembled a wisecrack or a joke from his speeches. But the effect of O'Daniel's showmanship, which has made McCraw's efforts in this direction look very feeble, indeed, has apparently made heavy inroads into McCraw strength.

Thompson, playing what the politicians regard as good strategy has kept his line of campaigning intact. He continues to advocate aid for farmers, economy in government, better administration of pension laws, and a policy of industrial development that will "keep open the door of opportunity" for Texas children. He vigorously denounces chain stores, monopoly, special interests, and utilities and declares they are supporting his opponents. He has let O'Daniel strictly alone, which, in view of the possibility of the flour broker being in position to deliver a substantial vote in the runoff—if he isn't in it himself—is regarded here as smart strategy. The lack of a poll tax payment by O'Daniel, who has educated his three children at the expense of the taxpayers and hasn't contributed the $1 a year that goes to schools from the poll-tax has been the toughest circumstances that O'Daniel has tried to laugh off so far. His frank admission, too, that he doesn't know a thing about running the State government, has also set some voters to thinking.

OTHER RACES WARMING UP There is every prospect of an interesting run-off election this year, with second choice contests in view for several major races besides that of Governor. The list of possibilities includes Lieutenant Governor, where Coke Stevenson and Senator G. H. Nelson appear now to be leading contenders; Attorney General, with Walter Woodul and Jerry Mann as the best prospects for a second heat; Land Commissioner, where Bascom Giles has been gaining strongly and may get into a run-off with Commissioner Bill McDonald. In the Railroad Commissioner's race, Chairman C. V. Terrell is virtually sure of a second campaign, with John Woods and Bob Stuart both pushing hard for a place in it. Stuart has been speeding his campaign vigorously recently, having made 54 speeches in seven days on one foray into West Texas.

WISE-CRACKS The O'Daniel boom has brought on a crop of wise-cracks around Austin lobbies and headquarters. Bob Barker, genial secretary of the Senate, started a fad of putting an "O" before everybody's name. He introduces himself as "Bob O'Barker" and half the people in Austin were putting the "O" before their names.

Will Pace, Tyler's able Senator, brought a new one from East Texas. He sized up the situation there by declaring it is: "Ernest O. Thompson, Lee O. Daniel and Oh, Oh, McCraw."

When Joe Lewis knocked out Schmeling in short order, the politicians went around cracking that "it looked like Schmeling didn't have a poll tax."

NO SESSION SEEN Likelyhood of a special session of the Legislature this fall seemed small, as Claude Teer of the Board of Control, issued figures to show that the present scale of old age pension payments could probably be maintained until January 1 without additional state financing. Incidentally, Teer dropped a warning, pointing out that candidates who promise $30 a month for everybody are promising something that would deprive the State of Federal contributions, and on which the State's $15 payment would total around 45 millions of dollars a year—which is over four times the State revenue available for pensions.
