COURT UPHOLDS RAILROAD COMMISSION'S RATE ORDER

VERDICT AFFIRMS 51c RATE FOR CLARENDON

MOTION FOR HEARING
BY CIVIL APPEALS
COURT EXPECTED

A six-year-old Clarendon natural gas controversy drew at least one step nearer conclusion this week when Judge A. R. Stout, in 98th District Court, Austin, sustained an order of the Railroad Commission against the City Gas Company, reducing the local charge from 70 cents to 51 cents per thousand cubic feet.

The verdict also called for a refund of all moneys collected over that amount since February, 1933.

The refunds due the domestic consumer under the decision total approximately $36,000 or about $62.50 per meter in the city.

From Austin it was learned Tuesday that the company had planned an appeal. Attorneys here believe that action in the civil appeals could delay the case at least another six months.

The trial was called last Monday and the contention of the attorney general's department, (representing the interest of the commission and the City of Clarendon) was that the rate order was just and reasonable and would afford the gas company a fair return on their investment. The gas company charged that the order was unjust, unreasonable and confiscatory.

The case originated in February, 1933, when the city council passed an ordinance reducing the rate from 70 cents to 50 cents per thousand cubic feet. The company filed an appeal to the Railroad Commission and the question was left until after January, 1937, when the company failed to recognize a 10 cent reduction set out in the franchise.

The city petitioned the commission for a re-opening of the case and after several hearings, the state railroad body last January ordered the 51 cent rate.

Mayor T. F. Connally, who attended the trial, said today: "The case was very ably handled by the attorney general's department. Pat Coon and Hugh Buck of this department were assisted by Railroad Commission attorneys, Sam Green and Walter Ely, together with the Railroad Commission's oil and gas division director, Olin Culberson.

Special Judge Royce Stout overruled a motion by the gas company for a continuance and instructed the jury to bring in a verdict for the state. We think it a fine piece of work well done."

BRONCS TAKE EXES 25 TO 6 IN GRID TILT TUESDAY

The 1939 edition of the Clarendon High School football club came to life after a slow start and took the exes 25 to 6 in an exhibition game at College Field Tuesday night.

The Broncos trailed 0 to 6 at the close of the first period after Ralph Grady of the exes took a pass for 30 yards to the one-yard line from where Longan pushed it over.

Big Boyd Allison crossed the double lines twice for the Broncos with Morrow and Melton reaching pay dirt on one occasion each. Captain Colie Huffman booted the extra point after the Ponies first counter, for a 7 to 6 lead.

Clifford Davis, supervisor of division of employment, WPA, was in Clarendon this week.

Scattered showers fell over the Panhandle this week that gave Clarendon a total of .34 of an inch of moisture.

The precipitations brought the year's total to 4.63 inches with 2.02 inches in January, .08 in February, 1.19 in March and 1.01 in April.

HIGHWAY SPONSORS MEET IN C-TO-G PARLEY FRIDAY

ASSOCIATION'S 27TH
CONVENTION DRAWS
MUCH INTEREST

Highway enthusiasts from all parts of Texas, New Mexico and Colorado met in Amarillo last week-end for the Colorado-to-Gulf Highway Association's 27th annual convention.

The convention was for the purpose of furthering interest in tourist travel along the route from Denver to Galveston and Port Arthur.

"The Colorado-to-Gulf," Harry Hines of the Texas Highway Commission and principal speaker at the meeting, said, "Is a portion of one of the longest highway systems in America—the road from Spokane, Wash., to Miami, Fla."

Mr. Hines said he believed that a well-organized association could get their route printed on the backs of several oil companies' road maps, thus giving tourist an opportunity to see the through route from the snowy mountains of Colorado to the balmy Gulf of Mexico.

In the business meeting, Sam M. Braswell of Clarendon was elected to the resolutions committee. Others attending from here were Homer Mulkey, J. T. Patman and F. A. White, Sr.

CAR DAMAGED IN ACCIDENT HERE FRIDAY MORNING

An automobile owned by C. B. Morris was damaged in a traffic accident here Friday morning about 11:30 o'clock, Sheriff Guy Pierce said.

The accident occurred about two blocks west of Main Street on an intersection of Highway 370.

According to Pierce, H. C. Boswell of Memphis and three other persons were traveling east and Mrs. Morris was going north. No injuries were reported.

Second Annual F. F. A. Father And Son Banquet Held Monday

Declaring that "the farmers will come out from under the depression of the last ten years," Dr. Harry L. Kent, director of administrative research at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, voiced a note of confidence for the agricultural industry in a speech before 180 F. F. A. members, their dads and guests in the second annual Father-Son banquet at the Methodist Church Monday night.

Saying the farmers have always had their troubles and managed to survive and better their conditions, Kent pointed out the hardships of the '90s when "at my home in Kansas there were as many dust heaps, dry years, crop failures, etc., as there are now."

Stressing the importance of unity which he said accounted for the Clarendon F. F. A. chapter showing a $3,000 profit on a project yield of $9,000, the speaker brought down hard the lack of many farmers to work together.

The boys have learned that good seed, close records, study and cooperation go hand in hand with success on the farm, he said. Joe Williams, president of the chapter, acted as toastmaster.

Dean

R. E. Drennan, who this week was again named dean of Clarendon Municipal Junior College and principal of the High School. Mr. Drennan accepted his first position in the city schools about 1928 and has made an outstanding record and an educator since that time.

GREENBELT REA SETS $2.45 AS MINIMUM RATE

A progress bulletin from the Rural Electrification, Washington, this week said the Greenbelt Electric Cooperative, Inc., had adopted a $2.45 minimum rate schedule for service in Donley and Collingsworth counties in Texas and Harmon County, Oklahoma.

The schedule sets out $2.45 per month for the first 25 kwh, or less; 5.5 cents for the next 50 kwh; 2.5 cents for the next 125 kwh and $1.75 for over 200 kwh per month.

GAS COMPANY PAYS EIGHTEEN CENTS TO LOCAL MEN

R. Y. KING AND G. F.
LANE COLLECT GAS
RATE JUDGEMENT

County Judge R. Y. King and G. F. Lane Monday were paid 18 cents each on a judgment secured recently against the City Gas Company in a justice court trial alleging overcharge on domestic gas bills.

The suits were tried jointly before Judge W. A. Davis who awarded the plaintiffs judgments for the amounts set out in the complaint.

The cases grew out of the company's failure to reduce the local domestic rate from 70 cents to 60 cents per thousand cubic feet as set out in the franchise. The clause called for a 10 cents per thousand cubic feet cut after a 10-year period which expired June, 1937. King and Lane paid their residence bills on the 70 cent rate then filed suits for recovery on ground of overcharge.

The gas company claimed the franchise clause was void after the city council passed an ordinance in 1933 reducing the rate to 50 cents per thousand cubic feet.

Carl Morris, representing the Clarendon chapter in public speaking, and Howard Gibbs and Frank Cannon, debaters, placed second respectively.

The teams will enter the area contests in Canyon this week-end.

CONSTRUCTION ON OIL MILL MAY START SOON

BUILDERS SAY WORK MAY BEGIN WITHIN
NEXT TWO MONTHS

Construction of a $75,000 cotton oil mill in Clarendon may be expected to get underway within the next month or two, interested parties said Wednesday, declaring the 50-ton capacity plant would be in operation by next fall.

The engine, to be used for power in operating the hydraulic presses, linters, etc., has already arrived and work in securing a suitable tract of land was going forward this week.

In answer to question concerning the supply of cottonseed, the builders said they had been studying this section for the past two years and believed obtaining seed would be a simple matter.

The Clarendon territory affords one of the greatest markets for cottonseed cake in the Panhandle, and it is estimated a mill here would save Donley County ranchmen and feeders at least $5,000 per year.

Under the present plans, concrete for foundations will be poured immediately upon completion of legal matters concerning the site. The buildings will be of the new one-story sheet-iron construction, and will be served by rail switches. The railroad right-of-way has already been secured, it is said.

Three shifts daily of eleven men each will be required to operate the mill during the cotton season. The payroll will be around $15,000 a year.

This is the only program for which an admission charge will be made. The program will be put on entirely by class members.

Sunday, May 14, the baccalaureate sermon will be given at the First Methodist Church at 8 p. m. Rev. J. Perry King has been selected to deliver the address. All three graduating classes, Junior High, High School and College, will participate in this.

The Junior College graduation exercises will be held Thursday night, May 18, at the College Auditorium. Judge E. C. Nelson will be the speaker for the occasion. Nineteen students will graduate.

"OUT OF STEP WITH THE GOVERNOR"

If the Texas Senate rejects many more of Governor O'Daniel's appointments the people will begin to think "they're all out of step but Jim."

In fact, comments from many quarters indicate there already is a pretty strong suspicion of it over the state.

Old time legislative observers cannot recall when the Senate bucked against so many appointments. The legion of the condemned includes three nominations for highway commissioner one for member of the pardon board (both appointed by the chief justice of the supreme court) and one for tax commissioner (his official rejection undoubtedly was avoided only by the abolishment of the office).

Even the opposing senators would admit their opposition to most of those appointees had nothing to do with their qualifications or character. But if it did, the public as a whole would not be prone to believe it, the rejection business has become so unprecedentedly chronic.

Criticism of the Legislature always has been a popular pastime among the citizenry. Perhaps the people feel it is their prerogative to cuss those whom they have elected to represent them, though from one viewpoint it seems they should either take the trouble to select the kind of lawmakers they want or hold their peace about the ones they get. Howbeit, such criticism is more marked this year than usual. And when the Senate turns down one appointment after another, the people become more and more of the opinion the Senate is doing it purely to spite the Governor.

All of which is water on the Governor's wheel, as far as public sympathy is concerned. But if it goes on much more it soon will take an intrepid man to brave the embarrassment of having his name run through a gauntlet of whispers, gossip and outright assaults, and then, as likely as not rejected.—Ed Kilman in the Houston Post.

WHAT A BABY!

On December 5, 1938, repeal became a lusty five-year-old baby. Sired by the father of all evil and mothered by the depression, conceived in sin and born in iniquity, the little devil is full of mischief and wickedness and grows in favor with Beetlezebub each day.

How foolish we were! Some millionaires and social leaders who poured out their millions to finance the anti-prohibition movement, patronized bootleggers and shook hands with those who helped to break down prohibition by encouraging crime, told us they were serving God and the country. They promised us "temperance" to replace an "unworkable" law. Millions of us, ordinary, home-loving, commonsense Americans believed them.

They haven't done one thing to serve the cause of temperance since the day they beguiled the people by their false promises until now. The liquor traffic has largely written its own laws and erected its own standards. The heretofore unexploited parts of our population—the women and the adolescents—are being systematically induced to drink by seductive advertising, radio appeal, constant suggestion in the plays and the theaters. Restrictions which we built up even in the days of the saloon have been junked—neither the home, the church, nor the school has any protection from the arrogance and greed of the liquor traffic.

COTTON AT THE GROCERY

Sugar is sweet in the South both for the customer and the merchant when it's packed in cotton sacks, according to the National Cotton Council of America and the Cotton Textile Institute, the organizations jointly sponsoring National Cotton Week.

The statisticians of these organizations have proved that every time a carload of sugar is packed in cotton bags, no less than 16,800 cotton containers are used. And what does this mean?

It means a day's work for 43 cotton farmers, 32 cotton mill employees and eight cotton bag employees—a total of a day's work for 83 persons.

Last year, American retail merchants sold to you and me and other consumers more than four and one-half million tons of sugar, amounting to 120 thousand carloads. If every bit of that sugar had been packed in cotton bags, it would have meant a day's work for 9,900,000 people, or a third of a year's work for 100,000 people.

This is for sugar alone. Flour, salt, feed and other staples packed in cotton bags would add tremendously to the total. These staples, too, regardless of their flavor, would be as sweet as sugar—in an economic way—to cotton farmers.

In the battle for increased markets, King Cotton has the right to ask that the southern seller and purchaser demand cotton wrapping, cotton bagging and cotton containers wherever the use of such articles is feasible and practicable.

Without going into dry detail it may be pointed out that staples are easier to handle in cotton bags, with less loss through tearing; that cotton bags and their contents do not deteriorate easily, the cotton allowing "natural breathing," preventing caking, minimizing heating and sweating.

If consumers and merchants would voice a vigorous "No!" to staples packed in substitutes, King Cotton would not totter so noticeably on his throne.—Mission Times.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By JULIAN CAPERS JR.

AUSTIN. — Analysis of the House taxation committee's substitute for Senate Joint Resolution No. 12—the constitutional amendment which would freeze a 2 per cent sales tax into the Constitution of Texas—gives a fairly clear picture of why the House appears so reluctant to take it up for consideration that there was a growing possibility at the week-end that no tax bill would come out of the regular session.

The Senate constitutional amendment proposal would levy a two per cent retail sales tax, a similar levy on utility bills to be paid by the customer, and about a 25 per cent increase in present severance taxes on natural resources. It would yield approximately $40,000,000 of revenue, of which the sales levies would yield about $33,000,000. It would allocate $20,000,000 of this for old age pensions, and fixes this as a "ceiling" above which future pension payments could never go. It would also take care of the other social security needs, including aid for dependent children, the blind, and teachers' pensions, at a total cost of about $3,500,000 to $4,000,000. But—and here is the joker No. 1—it releases from present pension revenues about $10,000,000 now going to pensions from liquor, cigarette and amusement taxes.

TRADE $4 FOR $1?

Thus, in order to provide an additional $10,000,000 for pensions, the taxpayers would be required to pay a new tax bill of $40,000,000 annually. The surplus would go to relieve large special interests of state ad valorem taxes, by extending the general fund overdraft, and otherwise.

Joker No. 2 in the committee amendment provides that the rates provided in the amendment may not be increased above the figures named in the bill for pension purposes. The rates may be reduced ratably, if too much revenue is produced. The rates may be increased above the stipulated amounts if it is desired to tax these same sources for other state purposes. But nothing is said about ratably increases for these other "state purposes." Therefore, in the future, it would be easy for the Legislature to jump the sales tax to levy to 3 or 4 per cent, without hiking the natural resources taxes at all, if more money were needed for the general fund, for instance. That, of course, is the purpose of the special interests—to do away entirely with state ad valorem taxes eventually, through remissions and repeal bills, and when such abolition of real property as a source of state revenue is accomplished, they hope to put the entire state tax burden on the small income group by hiking the sales tax rate.

WOULDN'T END AGITATION

The House anti-sales tax bloc stood fast and refused to set the Senate amendment for special order, either last Saturday or last Tuesday. Many observers questioned the ability of the sales taxers ever to get 100 votes for the scheme in this House, despite the terrific pressure from the sales tax members, the special interest lobby, the governor, and other sources which are carrying the flag for the special interests.

That the special interest lobby program would never satisfy the old folks, even if it were enacted seems apparent. Liberalization of the pension restriction to the extent of removing the ability of children to support their parents as a factor in determining need, it is estimated, will add only about 35,000 to the rolls, leaving nearly 100,000 oldsters now off the rolls still off. And the House has clearly indicated twice that it doesn't want to go any further in liberalizing the requirements. So the claims of the sales taxers that they will settle the pension agitation seems absurd, since the plan would leave 100,000 old folks off the rolls to complain and agitate in the future, just as they have in the past. The net result of the lobby scheme, if the people were to adopt it, would be to raise pension payments from an average of $13 to about $18, for a while at least, until the increasing ranks of the pensioners forced a cut to prorate the $20,000,000—and to add about 35,000 not now on the rolls. The House seems to think $40,000,000 is too big a price to pay for the small benefit indicated.

GARNER CANDIDACY

Indicative of the increasing tension between the New Deal and conservative forces backing Vice President John Garner for the Democratic nomination for next president, is a story brought to Austin by a prominent Texan from the national capital, Charley Michaelson, publicity director of the Democratic national committee, compiles periodically a file of reprints of newspaper editorials from all over the country, dividing them into two groups, those "favorable" to the Democrats, and those "unfavorable." According to the story, Garner noticed every editorial referring favorably to his candidacy and grouped by Michaelson with the "unfavorable" clippings. So Garner called up Michaelson.

Committeeman from Texas?" "Yes, Mr. Garner." "Then, why in the blue blazes is every newspaper referring to me classified as 'unfavorable' to the Democratic party?"

According to the narrator, Michaelson is still trying to think up an answer to Garner.

OIL FRONT QUILTS

The short-lived attempt of Rail Commissioner Lon Smith and Jerry Sadler to "take charge" of oil prorations by leaving Commissioner Ernest Thompson, the admitted proration expert of the commission, out of their councils, came to a quick end. After the salutary lesson Smith and Sadler learned when bankers, oil producers and business interests generally "turned the heat on" and forced them to back down on their discriminatory order hiking allowances in East Texas, and slashing competing fields, reinforced by an injunction from Federal Court, the two commissioners solicited and obtained the counsel of Thompson this week in writing a new 60-day order. The new order calls for continuance of Sunday shutdowns, for Saturday shutdowns two days each month, remains below the U. S. Bureau's market demand estimate, and generally follows out the conservation policies originated and practiced for the past four years by Thompson. The oil industry breathed a sigh of relief, and rumors that a strong candidate to oppose Smith's re-election became rife, and the name of County Judge Roy Hoffmeyer, of Houston, ex-legislator, most often mentioned as Smith's opponent.

In every part of Texas one or more of the grains, roughages, or pasture grasses necessary for beef production can be grown. There is land available under the present agricultural conservation program on which to grow feed.

CLARENDON METHODIST CIRCUIT

J. G. Walker, Pastor

Our revival meeting at Lelia Lake started Monday evening as we announced in last week's issue. The very first service was encouraging. The attendance was beyond our expectations, and there has been a steady increase in attendance and interest. Brother Allen, the Baptist pastor, called off his service and brought a large crowd to help us, for which we are very grateful to him and his good people. We received one member Sunday morning by vows. We are expecting to receive others before the meeting closes. Next Sunday, all who are interested in a Sunday school at Lelia Lake Methodist Church are invited to be present at 10 a. m. We are today ordering the literature, and sure it will be here by that time. Brother Gordon has won the hearts of all the people. We have nothing but praise for him. He is indeed our friend and we love him.

We went to Bray at 2:30 Sunday afternoon for the workers meeting for Bray and McKnight. It was a good program, and enjoyed by all.

The program was rendered mostly by home talent. Brother Bigg and wife from Hedley added to it.

It is our plan to develop home-talent and then use this talent for further development. Lots of good talent around Bray and McKnight. The Clarendon Circuit is full of it. Of course if it is not developed, not many will ever know about it. We think it would be a tragedy for all this talent to lie dormant. We know that if you should make a rapid advance that there is a possibility of going beyond the present advancement of the pastor. But don't let that bother you, for there is a chance to change pastors once a year in

GOLDSTON NEWS

(Mrs. M. Grant)

We are having lovely spring weather and some farmers are planting. We had a thunder-storm and some rain Sunday night.

We are sorry to report Mrs. Pegram being on the sick list. Hope she soon recovers.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ziegler of Amarillo visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Zeigler Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Neely Hudson and Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Grant visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Everett Stevens in Midway community.

Leonidas Yankee made a trip to Oklahoma City the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fontayne Elmore of Clarendon were out here Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Malone, formerly of this place, now of Fort Worth, with her two sons with their wives, were visitors in the community Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Elmore and Mrs. Grant went to see Mrs. Pegram Monday afternoon.

Mr. Young and family have moved to the Wisdom place north of Goldston.

We are expecting Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Veazy home from East Texas this week.

Methodist churches. Remember though that your pastor is capable of development, and not too indolent to try. Indolence seems to be the greatest fault of our people and it is very fertile soil for the production of tares sown by the enemy of God and His church.

Remember we go to Ashtola next Sunday. Meet us there with the whole family and a host of neighbors.

Houston Told To Retreat After San Jacinto Victory

Five days after the victory of San Jacinto, Sam Houston was ordered to retreat!

"If you consider it expedient to risk an engagement with the enemy and consider a retreat inevitable from the position you now occupy," wrote Warren D. C. Hall, acting secretary of war for the Texas Republic, from his temporary headquarters at Galveston, "you are hereby ordered to march with the army under your command to the nearest and most convenient point to this island, giving information of the same to this department, when transports will be sent forthwith to cross the troops to the island."

At almost the identical moment—at least it was the same date, April 26, 1836—Houston was dashing off a jubilant proclamation reporting the outcome of the engagement at San Jacinto.

"Tell our friends all the news and that we have beaten the enemy," he wrote. "Killed 650, taken 370 prisoners. Generals Santa Anna and Cos taken & 3 generals slain. Vast amount property taken and about 1,300 stand of arms, many swords & one nine-pound brass cannon.

Tell them to come on and let the people plant corn."

The messages must have passed each other between San Jacinto and Galveston.

Houston's report was delayed, apparently, as a result of the wound he suffered in the battle, before news of the victory had reached Galveston.

Both documents have been preserved in the personal archives of Gen. Sam Houston, now in the possession of the only surviving son, Col. Andrew Jackson Houston of La Porte.

The order to retreat was the climax of a comedy of errors—a comedy which began with Santa Anna's inexcusable error to attack during his army's mid-afternoon siesta.

Other elements of the comedy included the fact that Thomas J. Rusk, secretary of war for the republic, was serving in the field as a colonel under Houston, thus actually being subordinate both to his commanding general and to his assistant, Hall; and that when messengers finally did reach Galveston with news of the victory at San Jacinto they were not only accused of being liars but were almost thrown into jail on charges of spreading false information.

Houston's proclamation was not the first official word of the victory that was sent out. On the day after the battle, Rusk wrote a report and dispatched it to Galveston—where the rapidly shifting capitol of the Texas Republic was there housed in a tent—by Capt. Robert J. Calder and Private Benjamin C. Franklin. Calder and Franklin left San Jacinto on Saturday, April 23, 1836.

All manner of difficulties plagued them. They had set out in a skiff, which soon sprang a leak and was about to founder under them. They sighted a steamer—the "Laura," which had played an important part in still earlier Texas history by bringing many of Stephen Austin's settlers here—and sought to flag it down, but the "Laura" disregarded their distress signals and passed them by.

Finally, another vessel sighted them, but the captain refused to pick them up until they had told their story of the victory of San Jacinto. Then he made them work for their passage into Galveston. Then he and his crew, unable to contain themselves, spread the good news far and wide before Calder and Franklin could get to President David G. Burnet to make their official report.

Burnet, angered at the breach of etiquette, received the messengers "in rather a cold and distrust manner," as Calder reported later, and the colony in general treated them as deserters or imposters. The president was all for having them thrown into jail, but Commodore Charles E. Hawkins persuaded him to relent. Calder was especially relieved at this intervention. One of his most impelling reasons for seeking the appointment to carry the news to Galveston had been that his fiancée, Miss Mary Walker Douglas, was there and he was anxious to see her. With the threat of jail removed, he did see her, and in the following year he married her. He later became chief justice of Fort Bend county.

Franklin likewise did well in later life, afterwards becoming the first judge of the Republic of Texas. He also is credited with buying the first lot in the city of Houston, being lot No. 1 in block No. 45, for which he paid $1,000. The city's first investor lost money on his deal. Franklin sold his lot six months later for $800. Franklin Avenue is named for the messenger from San Jacinto.

It took Calder and Franklin four days to make the trip to Galveston. Having set out on April 23, they did not arrive until Wednesday, April 27.

On the 26th, President Burnet, who had at all times a pessimistic opinion of General Houston's ability, directed Hall to order and provide for another retreat, not having then heard of the victory on April 21, and all other news arriving lately from the army being of a discouraging nature.

Thus was the order to retreat issued after the war was ended.

DONLEY WOMEN TO HELP IN CANCER FIGHT

CAPTAIN AND SEVERAL LIEUTENANTS TO BE APPOINTED

A captain and several lieutenants in Donley will be appointed soon in the Women's Field Army for the Control of Cancer, Mrs. Volney W. Taylor, Brownsville, state commander of the Army, announced today.

The captain herself will be appointed by Mrs. Taylor, and then will name her own lieutenants in each city of the county. The officers will be in charge of a membership campaign throughout Donley county to further the work of the Women's Field Army in its campaign to educate Texans about cancer.

It is the aim of the Army, through the distribution of calm and accurate information about the ravages of cancer and its cure while in the early stage, to save the lives of possibly thousands of Texans from death by the disease.

Captains and lieutenants are now being appointed in every county of Texas as the statewide campaign on cancer gets under way. In keeping with the work of the Army's field campaign, Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel designated April as Cancer Control Month.

Work of the Women's Field Army, a branch of the American Society for the Control of Cancer, has been praised by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and hundreds of the nation's leaders.

Aim of the Army is reflected in its motto: "Earl Cancer Is Curable; Fight It With Knowledge."

MOST AUTOMOBILE TRANSACTIONS INVOLVE LESS THAN $50 PAYMENTS.

More than half the cars sold in the United States are sold in transactions involving the outlay of less than $50 at any one time. Most buyers of new cars turn in their old cars for whole or part of the down payment, and they pay $25 to $50 a month on the balance of the purchase price. The payments on used cars are less. Today the purchase of an automobile usually consists of a series of transactions involving comparatively modest amounts of cash.

Garden Glances

Presented weekly by the Garden Club

"America beautiful lies in the hands of the gardener."

One does not realize how many species of shade trees there are growing in our town until observations of the various lawns are made. The tender foliage of each tree seems attempting to rival its neighbor in the delicate beauty of its greenery. The stately old black locust, pioneer from early days, are displaying their blossoms and majestic beauty at the Frank White home. At the U. J. Boston home are magnificent American elms and at the Harry Brumley home, gray green Russian olive trees tower. Then unnumberable homes have thorny locusts, Chinese elms and huge ash trees. The evergreens are dressed in two shades of green, and the pines with their tender green candles are more than attractive.

The tamarax on the Tom Conrally lawn has very beautiful pink feathery plumage. The snowball bushes on the lawns of W. W. Taylor, Tom Goldston and the Massey homes are revealing their unmarred grandeur. Several ailey fences are overrun with yellow roses, and some hedges are formed of this early flowering shrub.

The iris are cultivated in practically every yard. They grow readily, and are in gay clumps and at the foot of shrubs flaunting their gorgeous rainbow hues. Glance at these many carefully kept lawns, and secure your share of the enjoyment they offer.

GATHERINGS OF A BUSY REPORTER

That Eugene Putman was with a new girl Saturday night.

That Mr. Larimer will be glad to get rid of a few of those typing nuisances.

Rebecca Eanes giving Joe Williams some wistful looks.

Some hockey players out of the dog house.

Rue Zell Ryan with that Memphis boy again.

Earl Shannon says a tractor was the cause of his black eye.

J. B. Martin claims that the reason Mrs. Stewart moved him up the front seat was just to be closer to the door when she said "Seram."

Charlie Murphy is back again, and it really looks as if he means business this time.

Those girls just simply can't leave him alone. Welcome back, Choppo.

Rayburn Smith is a one-woman man now. Will miracles never cease?

CAMPUS CHATTER

If Eugene Butler's popularity continues, as the votes indicate at Mrs. Mac's store, he will be able to run for public office. As it is I think he is running for the best boy out of school. It is rumored that Billie Cooke, Homer C. Speed and Gene Butler all enjoyed the barn dance last Friday night. These boys were accompanied by Ray Palmer. Glen Bruce finds Clarendon so interesting that he is frequently seen here on Friday nights. Little has been said about the College picnic, so I wonder if everyone had a good time. Pat Slavin still says that James Bartlett put that lipstick on him when he caught James washing his feet in a little pool of water near Dripping Springs.

School will soon be out and I am sure that most of the students of Clarendon will appreciate that for more than one reason. The thought of being able to read the paper without seeing their name in print with some silly phrase accompanying it. At the time this was written the football game between the future stars and the exes has not been played. The betting has been in favor of the exes because of the fact that three college guys are going to play. The former stars are Ray (you know me) Palmer, Ralph (pretty boy Grady), and Jack (It is the truth) Reeves. With these boys in the line-up it will be hard for the other side to win. Well so long until next time.

Faye was Tops instead of Sides. Billie was Housekeeper instead of Cook.

Clay was Mud instead of Clay. Johnnie was Highway instead of Rhodes.

Neil was Wrong instead of Wright.

Zackie was Mackerel instead of Salmon.

Madelyn was Blacksmith instead of Taylor.

Gene was Maid instead of Butler.

Jelly was Jam instead of Jelly. Jo was Sentence instead of Word.

Ione was Floor instead of Wall. Raymond was Timber instead of Woods.

J. D. was Slow instead of Swift. Nancy was Farmer instead of Miller.

Forrest was Woods instead of Forrest.

Dollie was Stairway instead of Hall.

Led was Robin instead of Jay. Root was Write instead of Reed.

Wallace was Wave instead of Riffle.

Christine was Doorbell instead of Knox.

Jo was Pools instead of Wells. Ruby was Pearl instead of Ruby. Glenn was Spruce instead of Bruce.

Ray was Beam instead of Ray. Eugene was Whistle instead of Bell.

WE WONDER

Who Pauline Riley was with Saturday night.

If Cleo Russell will enjoy being in Alcatraz.

If Christine Knox gets tired of changing boy friends.

If Annie Ruth Peden went after Ray Bulls Saturday night.

Why Thelma Hardin was traded off for another boy's girl friend.

Why Joe Hays isn't going to be in town Friday night.

If Rex Shannon really is in love.

Who Frank Mahaffey's latest heartbeats is.

If Russell Morris had more fun on the picnic or on the way back.

"Doc" Adamson has failed to break into the "date" news lately. Doc are you slipping?

LISTENING IN ON ASSEMBLY

The accompaniment for the opening songs at assembly Friday the sixth period was played by Mrs. Allen Bryan. The songs were: "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," "The Long Trail," "Let Me all You Sweetheart," and "Smiles."

The program, presented by Mrs. W. G. Word, was as follows:

Solo, "Danny-Boy," Jane Williams.

Solo, "In Old Madrid," Jo Word.

Solo, "Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses," Mrs. Frank Heath.

"The Call of the Sea," College quartet (Jo Word, Jane Williams, Pat Morris and Jo Wells).

"Mighty Lak' a Rose," sextet (college quartet, Theresa Bain and Inell Biffle).

"Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," sextet. These last two numbers were sung a capella style.

SPORTS

Coach Hutto has divided his big squad into two equally powerful teams. They are the Reds and Whites. The line-up of the Reds is as follows: J. Grady, P. Morrow, A. Cobb, Summers, Doc Adamson, F. Johnson, H. L. Lane, J. Lumpkin, Howard Gibbs, Buddy Hermesmeier and Jack Rolf. The Whites are W. Melton, B. Allison, L. B. Hartzog, G. Gordon, E. Putman, A. Anderson, C. Huffman, Junior Spier, G. Reeves, Ray Bulls and J. W. Goodman.

These teams have clashed twice on the Bronco stadium. The Whites won the first game by a score of 7-6. The Whites had the ball in their possession the entire first quarter.

Waldron Melton called his plays skillfully and successfully. He and Carlton Gordon, with Hartzog's magnificent blocking, paved the way for a touchdown by Allison. The Reds took the ball and punched their way over for a tally but failed to kick an extra point.

The two teams have played a second game which ended in a 6 to 6 tie. This game was a sight for sore eyes. Those boys really had blood in their eyes and how they rocked and socked. We could hear leather popping on the sideline. No one has been injured in these games, except for a few knockouts. "Bud" Hermesmeier sprawled gracefully among the daisies when a couple of Whites slipped up on him in the first game.

HERE-N-THERE

Louise Russell denies throwing eggs, but we don't believe her. Rayburn says that he wants his tire retuned, but Gail doesn't feel self-conscious.

Flash! Glenn Bruce is in love again. He says it's a glorious feeling to have.

J. D. Swift is determined to beat his cousin's time.

Wanda is happy this week. Maybe it's because Ottis was here Sunday.

Yvonne's weakness (?) for uniforms was quenched last Sunday. Flash! The romance of the century is on the rocks. Raymond Hay is losing to Kenneth Bell.

Among the celebrities that attended the ball last Wednesday night were the famous Rayburn Smith and Margaret Hill, Jelly McGowan and LaVerne Goodman, James Bartlett and Ruth Cornell.

We pity the person that asks Alan Anderson to take the leading role in another play.

Kitty Bailey loses her appetite every time a jail is mentioned at lunch time.

Raymond Woods says that Jimmie Watters had better leave his blond alone or else.

What professor used Max Wilson as an example of evolution. Now, now, Mac we don't believe it's that bad, do we, girls.

JR. HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Thirty-five books were given to the library by Mrs. Robert McKee and Mrs. Chase.

The eighth grade will enjoy a picnic Friday afternoon. Around fifty-five to sixty members are going on trucks to Troublesome Canyon. Food and transportation committees were appointed to plan for the picnic.

Lamour-Nolan Team Tops Big-Name Cast

Dorothy Lamour's many local fans will see their favorite star with a new leading man and a highly original screen story, when the Paramount romance with music, "St. Louis Blues," opens next Friday, May 5 at the Pastime Theatre. Teamed with rugged Lloyd Nolan, Miss Lamour plays a dazzling theatrical celebrity who runs away from fame and glamour and finds love on a Mississippi river showboat.

The story, by John Coffitt and Malcolm Stuart Boylan, two writers who know the Mississippi region from first-hand experience, plots Miss Lamour's exciting experiences from the dramatic moment when she rebels against her manager's insistence that she always appear in public in a sarong, palming herself off as a South Sea native, and decides to make her getaway once and for all.

From this point on, most of the action of "St. Louis Blues" takes place aboard Nolan's rather down-at-the-heels showboat, one of the few such crafts remaining on the river in 1939. Not knowing who Miss Lamour is when she arrives in a much-bedraggled state, the hard-boiled Nolan gives her a job as singer.

The showboat sequences offer Miss Lamour and other members of the cast ample opportunities to sing Hollywood's newest and most popular song hits, written especially for the film by such outstanding tunesmiths as Leo Robin, Sam Coslow, Heagy Carmichael, Frank Loesser, Matty Malneck and Burton Lane. The five new numbers are: "Kind'a Lonesome," "I Go For That," "Blue Nightfall," "Junior" and "Let's Dream in the Moonlight."

"St. Louis Blues" boasts one of the year's most talented casts of supporting players. Tito Guizar, the charming young Mexican who won feminine hearts everywhere in "Tropic Holiday," plays a Mississippi planter in love with one of the showboat troupe, Mary "Punkin" Parker. Maxine Sullivan, the dusky songstress who has made swinging the classics a national pastime, renders her versions of "Loch Lomond" and famous Russian folk song, "Dark Eyes."

All juniors and sophomores seemed to have enjoyed themselves at the picnic last Wednesday. At least Mary Lee was the attraction of the day.

Joan took an interest in nothing but throwing rocks into the water just to see it splash. (On someone).

Fisher couldn't take a hint that three was a crowd. Anyway he stuck around.

Johnnie Grady liked to drink that mountain water all right. Or was it mountain water. (He drank it out of a Coca Cola bottle).

Mr. Stewart came to the picnic western style. But his bluff didn't last long, if that was his bluff, because he got ducked under the falls. (So did some other people).

Waldron and Maggie Lee were eager to have their picture taken. They didn't mind getting out in the sun.

I wonder where L. D. would have landed if he had taken off the top of that hill when he was peeing? (As graceful as a bird).

My but Cleo is brave. He killed a snake with a stick. Then secured all the pretty little girls with it.

Collie said he was hungry until he sa wall those weiners. Then he lost his appetite.

Maybe you wonder who was taking all those pictures. Well, it was Booger.

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF

Glenna couldn't sing.

Margaret Hill couldn't dance.

Dorothy Nell was seen without Thad.

Billy Latson kept quiet during history.

Bud ever met his dream girl.

If L. D. Lumus ever made a great big noise.

Grey-headed men delivered groceries.

"Jeep" couldn't talk about her relatives.

J. B. Martin got his ring back.

POWER COMPANY TO DEMONSTRATE NEW LAMP SOON

Shades of the old oil lamp! That relic of a by-gone period in West Texas history has been replaced by a new electric lamp giving several hundred times as much light.

"With this new lamp," said Chas. Lowry, local manager of the West Texas Utilities Company, "you can thread a needle in the darkest corner in the average room. It is a 500-watt lamp specially designed and manufactured at the request of our lighting department and is expected to fill a long-felt need in many homes."

The lamp, he pointed out, provides light enough for several persons in a room to perform close-seeing tasks as reading fine print, sewing, or playing bridge, and may do away with the necessity for two or three lamp cords strung across the floor.

The company's lighting advisors soon will begin demonstrations of the lamp in Clarendon homes.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feet constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Use Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to get rid of excess poisonous body waste. They are antiseptic to the urinary tract and tend to relieve irritation and the pain it causes. Many grateful people recommend Doan's. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Ask your neighbor!

Water—For Floods Or Crops? .

Proper control of water is necessary to prevent soil erosion and to insure successful crops, the Soil Conservation Service says. Straight rows and down slopes, shown at top, serve as miniature drainage ditches which allow water to flow off land where it falls. This rushing water is taking a heavy load of valuable topsoil and is being lost for use in growing crops. To say nothing of adding to flood danger downstream. Contour rows, shown at bottom, strengthened by terraces where necessary, hold practically all the water on the land. This insures even crop stands, better yields, prevents soil losses and gullying and tends to check flood damage.

COLLEGE STUDENTS ARE GLOOMY OVER FUTURE

AUSTIN.—Half of America's college students face a gloomy prospect in their own futures, the current poll of Student Opinion Surveys disclosed here today. Published by the University of Texas student publications, the intercollegiate poll surveyed 85 colleges and reported that 48 per cent of the young people believed opportunities "to get ahead" were not what they were 30 years ago. The optimistic half was found mainly in Southern and West Central colleges, the surveys reported. In sections other than those, less than 50 per cent were confident of their own futures. Growth of the use machinery and government regulation of industry and employment were pegged as reasons for the decrease in opportunities to get ahead.

The Safe Diet For Good Health and Vitality

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Texas Breeder-Feeder Association

Good health depends upon proper nutrition. Proper nutrition depends first, upon the availability of the food supply. This takes us right back to the Breeder-Feeder Movement, or balanced farming program, which is the basis for Southwestern economic independence. Secondly, proper nutrition depends upon the proper use of these food products. Whether you are a producer or consumer, both phases of the problem are of vital importance. Good health and vitality are the direct results of proper nutrition.

But, what is proper nutrition? Briefly the needs of the body are (1) Calories for heat and energy, (2) Protein to build and repair the body tissue, (3) Minerals to regulate body processes, to build bone, blood, etc., (4) Vitamins to promote growth and protect health, and (5) Bulk to aid in elimination of body waste. Proper nutrition means the selection of a diet which supplies all of the daily needs of the body with a small reserve supply.

The Texas Extension Service working with other scientific specialists, set up a Texas Food Standard as a guide to proper nutrition for rural people. This standard has been broadened for use of urban families and is being suggested as the "Safe Diet" by nutritionists, dietitians, home economists and teaching groups throughout the Southwest. The following standard is a safe guide in evaluating the daily menu, and attaining proper nutrition through an adequate, balanced diet.

- The safe diet:
- 1 quart of milk.
 - 1 egg.
 - 1 serving lean meat.
 - 1 serving potatoes or rice.
 - 1 serving green or yellow vegetables.
 - 1 serving other vegetables.
 - 1 serving citrus fruit or tomatoes.
 - 1 serving other fruit—dried, canned or fresh.
 - 1 serving whole grain products.
 - Bread and butter at every meal.
 - Some sweets.
 - Cheese three times per week.
 - Dried peas and beans three times per week.

Liver once a week. Water daily—six to eight glasses.

This "Safe Diet" has meat once a day and specifies liver once a week. More meat could be used with more safety because, of all the foods, meat offers the most in food elements, satisfying qualities and in palatability.

In our urge or need to economize, we have skimmed too much on meat. Had this not been the case, perhaps the results might have been different. We are told that the diets of the Southwest are dangerously inadequate, that only 25 per cent of our people are today enjoying diets supplying a small reserve strength over and above the daily needs. Rural people can grow their own and need not lack for all the elements of a good diet—meat included.

Better dietary habits improve health; better health raises economic and social standards; the route to security and economic independence lies through both producing and consuming a "Safe Diet" on the farm as far as possible.

All Peas Yield Better When They Can Climb

For many years the dwarf peas, grown without any support, have practically driven the tall or bush peas out of the home garden. Now that the development of gardening has shown conclusively that even the dwarf varieties are much better and give larger crops if given support, the medium and tall peas are coming into their own for it is very little more trouble to put up a three-foot wire fencing for them to climb than it is to put up an 18-inch strip.

While the dwarf peas are indispensable for the earliest crop, for the mid-season and late crops the bush types are most satisfactory. Their chief advantage is a much heavier yield with as fine quality as the dwarf varieties furnish, bigger pods, and a much longer bearing season.

The support should be given when the peas are planted so that they may start their upward career at once. They should be given rich soil and should be liberally fertilized. Some expert pea growers say that the vines should be three inches apart for their fullest and best development and that thick sowing is a waste of seed and an injury to the bearing ability of the vines.

The tall and medium peas are self-protecting in one respect. The pea demands a cool root run for its best success. The foliage of the tall sorts shades the soil and helps to protect the roots from the sun.

LIBRARY NOTES

(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

The daily press the past week carried an interesting story of the finding of an old frontier army post at Ft. Davis of several copies of Le Figaro, a Paris newspaper, dated 1880 and 1881. And the thing that made them specially interesting was the fact that they contained several stories by Alexander Dumas and Honore de Balzac—and Mark Twain. The papers were in a splendid state of preservation, having been nailed under the board wall as a protection against the wind. Another interesting thing found in the papers was an advertisement of stocks in the Canal de Panama—going back to the days when the French were trying to dig a canal across Panama.

"The Neighbor," by Lord Melchett, is one of our new books, which should appeal to thoughtful reader at this time when the Jewish question is absorbing so much of world attention and interest. The book is a survey of the history of Jewish persecution throughout the ages, an account of the position of the Jews in the world today, and an account of Zionism in which Lord Melchett sees the hope of the Jewish people.

The author, Lord Melchett, is a prominent English industrialist and director of some of the largest corporations in the world. He is a member of some of the most important industrial organizations in England. He served in France for three years during the war, and has been a member of parliament twice since. He is listed with other famous English Jews like Disraeli, Reading, Montagu and Herbert Samuel.

Another Jewish book which is getting much attention from the reading public is J. J. Singer's new novel, "East of Eden." Mr. Singer is the Yiddish writer who first came to prominence in America with the production of his play "Yoshe Kalb," in New York in 1933. Then in 1936 his "The Brothers Ashkenazi" was a great success. This new book, like its predecessor, is a story of Poland's Jews. Singer is spoken of as a Jewish idealist and revolutionary.

Anxiously the literary world particularly is still watching for news of Richard Halliburton and the uncertainty of his fate makes strikingly interesting the following recent statement made by him: "My great ambition in life is to keep myself free enough from possessions and responsibilities to be able to obey the moment's impulses."

Sinclair Lewis' new book, "Utopia, 2939 Model," has first appeared and promises to be as sensational as some of his others. We will probably hear much of it soon.

William Stanley Hoole, librarian at Baylor University says of Pearl Buck: "Nowhere on the American scene—and doubtless on the European—is there another novelist with Pearl Buck's facility for plumbing the very depths of the human heart with simple words. From first to last, throughout her nine-year career as a novelist, she has drilled deep into the tenderest emotions of mankind; she has stilled proud hearts, unfolded man's oneness with the soil, delivered man's sons into a strife-torn, peace-loving story of the conflict of these two peoples, so much alike in many ways—ending in 1938 — after months of conflict. Again from Dr. Hoole, "Pearl Buck knows more about the people of the Far East than any other living novelist. Vividly, she tells of them, and with deep sincerity. But what is more important is her love for humanity, her devotion to the basic qualities that underly mankind the world around. This book is Pearl Buck at her loftiest."

Some interesting sidelights: Archie Binns traveled over the famous Old Oregon Trail on foot and by automobile to gain the background for his best seller, "The Land Is Bright"—Somerset Maugham's "The Moon and Sixpence" is to be filmed by Warner Brothers—Susan Ertz is at work on a new novel to be published this fall—Howard Spring's best seller, "My Son, My Son," is to be screened by Edwaul Small—Albert Payson Terhune is the son of Mary Virginia Terhune who was famous in the 80's for her books on home economics written under the name "Marian Harland"—Walt Disney has acquired the film rights to "Peter Pan," and he may film "Don Quixote."

YOUNG EGG THROWERS GO TO COURT MONDAY

The curfew rang for about 15 Clarendon school students this week when County Judge R. Y. King, County Attorney John Knerpp and Sheriff Guy Pierce had them up Monday afternoon for throwing eggs at automobiles.

Although no legal court action as taken, the officers recommended that their parents keep the children at home after nine o'clock at night and suspend their automobile driving for a 30-day period.

Both young boys and girls were questioned concerning the egg throwing which allegedly occurred after a school party last Wednesday night. Several cars were smeared, the officials said.
