In the face of an accelerating duster Donley County's fourth annual Fat Stock Show closed Saturday with the finest parade of ribbonwinning fat calves ever exhibited in the county.

Gillham, FFA sponsor, together with all who worked to make the 1939 event the success it was, expressed their delight at the outcome of the two-day show, declaring that 1940 would see a still further improvement in number and entries.

Grand champion calf was fed by Johnny Leathers, and his entry led the parade followed by the reserve champion, entry of Floyd Lewis.

Outstanding in the 1939 show were the 170 pigs featuring Hampshires, Jersey Reds, Poland Chinas with a few O. I. C.'s. A uniformity among the 'wine gave the pig show a finish that marked the peak in swine exhibitions here.

Forty lambs, mutton and wool variety, were exhibited. There is a growing interest here in wool production and lambs raised have paid a profit to club boys.

Winners in the lamb division—fine wool class included: Clyde Peabody, Billy Green, Horace Green, J. T. Alexander, Frank Cannon, Bill Alexander and J. T. Alexander.

Mutton type lamb winners: Bill Alexander, B. Estes, Bob Phelan, Pete Morrow, J. T. Phelan, J. T. Alexander.

Among more than 250 prize animals exhibited were 33 fat calves, 170 pigs and 40 lambs. Four registered heifers from the E. B. Meyer Hereford farm at Ashtola added a royal strain of Real Domino and Princess to the exhibition. Herd Sire Prince Domino K with a purebred heifer from the Clyde Gilbert Willow Springs ranch gave prize color to the show.

E. M. Regenbrecht, Texas extensions swine specialist judged the pigs. K. J. Edwards, district extension service agent judged the calves and lambs. J. R. Gillham, FFA sponsor and vocational agriculture professor and H. M. Breedlove, county agent, directed the show.

$111,886.04 Received Here By Farmers and Ranchmen of County

Counting the $59,000 AAA range checks recently received here for Donley County ranchmen, the 163,000 plus arriving here Monday and Tuesday for the farmers, brought the total distribution of AAA compliance money in the county up to $111,886.04.

According to County Agent H. M. Breedlove, this represents approximately one-third of AAA money to be distributed here in the payment of 1938 compliance money.

Other shipments of checks are expected from day to day, and will be distributed as promptly as they arrive.

CLARENDON BAND TO SHAMROCK'S ST. PATRICK'S DAY

IRISH CELEBRATION AT SHAMROCK TO DRAW CROWDS NEXT WEEK

Clarendon's crack high school band will be among the score of musical organizations to take part in Shamrock's 1939 celebration on Friday, March 17th—St. Patrick's Day. Many Clarendon people will join the Panhandle in enjoyment of this unique jubilee where Donegal beards encircle smiling Irish eyes.

Headlining the Irish celebration this year will be a five-mile long parade, presenting more than 100 beautiful floats, 20 high school and college bands, 25 beautiful young ladies competing for the title of Irish Rose, 200 children and their pet animals, and scores of comical features. The Saint Patrick's parade at Shamrock, its sponsors say, will be longer than the Mother-in-law parade, funnier than Ringling Brothers and more beautiful than the Parade of Roses.

State officials and radio entertainers will be presented in an afternoon street program while a massed outdoor band concert in which musicians from 20 Western Oklahoma and Panhandle cities will take part promises to draw a large attendance. There will also be an old fiddling contest, amateur boxing exhibition, four public dances, coronation of Irish Rose, and the stage production "Abie's Irish Rose."

An estimated 15,000 persons at tended last year's Saint Patrick's Day Festival at Shamrock and E. K. Caperton, the general chairman, expects twice that number this year.

GAS INJUNCTION CASE IS BEFORE AUSTIN COURT

DISTRICT COURT AT AUSTIN REPORTED TO BE HEARING CASE NOW

According to reports brought back from Austin by Clarendon men yesterday, the Clarendon gas rate injunction hearing opened in the 98th District Court of that city Wednesday morning.

It is said that the gas company has agreed to produce the books and records of the company by agreement, which will preclude the threatened receivership alleged to have been planned by the attorney general's department.

Assistant Attorney General Buck, in charge of the case, told Clarendon men that every effort would be made to force the disposal of the case beginning Wednesday morning in Austin, with the forecast that it might take two weeks to come to a verdict in the matter.

Those present at the meeting were: J. T. Patman, Jess Pool, Wilson Gray, A. O. Hefner, John Goldston and H. C. Brumley.

Outranked by only one Texas team, and three Oklahoma entries the local livestock team placed fifth in the annual livestock judging contest held in connection with the Amarillo Fat Stock Show. Twenty-six top ranking teams from New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma participated in the event.

Russell Morris was fifth high man of the contest and Bailey Estes was tenth. Homer Hardin was the other team member.

The Aubyn E. Clark Post, American Legion here furnished the automobiles for the trip to Borger.

Attend Legislative Hearing On Junior College Aid Bill

Leaving Clarendon at noon Monday, Supt. H. T. Burton, Judge J. R. Porter, Allen Bryan and Bert Smith drove to Austin to attend a hearing before the committee having such legislation in hand with reference to state aid for junior colleges in Texas, now operated by school districts or municipalities.

This bill proposes to give state aid in the sum of $50.00 per pupil per year to such schools as Clarendon Junior College, and will mean a great deal to the local school if the Legislature passes it.

Senator Small and Representative Gene Worley are giving what assistance they can for the passage of the bill, which was introduced by Senator George Moffatt of Chillicothe.

The hearing was held Tuesday night and resulted in shelving the proposal for this session, with good prospects for favorable action next year. The party returned here Wednesday evening, Judge Porter, who stopped by Dallas on a brief business mission.

Mrs. R. H. Odom of Snyder and Mrs. Porterfield and baby of Amarillo spent the week-end with Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Gordon.

Mrs. C. B. McCanne of Dallas was here Tuesday and Wednesday on business.

DONLEY CHAMPION ALL-PANHANDLE CALF AT AMARILLO

DONLEY CALVES DO WELL, BUT PRIZE PIGS HAVE HARD LUCK

Donley County Grand Champion Calf, won the junior grand championship at the Amarillo Fat Stock Show late Tuesday, and proved again just how far youthful calf feeders of the county have gone in their efforts to improve animal husbandry in the last few years. Johnny Leathers' 830 pound grand champion was certainly among the top show animals of the big show and brought much acclaim to this Lelia Lake lad. Johnny received the $50 watch for the best Panhandle calf in the show offered by the Amarillo Fat Stock Show.

This is no small honor when it is considered that 22 Panhandle counties had splendid entries in the event. There were 177 calves in the division.

In the Junior and Senior Calf division the following Donley boys placed in the judging:

In junior calves under 850 pounds: Johnny Leathers of Clarendon was first and Floyd Lewis, Lelia Lake 11th; Leland Lewis Lelia Lake 15th; Burrell Longan 21st; Doyle Martin 26th; Johnny Leathers 29th.

Senior calves over 850 pounds (see calves in divisions): Jolly McGowan, 12th; Floyd Lewis, 13th and Cleo Russell 29th. Donley county took 2nd in best county exhibit of calves at the show. Johnny Leathers took 4th group of five fed by one boy.

The first two senior calves and first two placing junior calves were judged for the Grand Champion. Mason county won the Grand Champion, and Martin county won reserve champion.

In the calf divisions, Donley county placed 2nd in county groups.

Donley's placings in the lamb show were: Fat wool lambs, 3rd and 4th, Clyde Peabody; 7th and 9th, Carroll Peabody; 10th, J. T. Alexander; 11th, Frank Cannon; 13th, Billy Jack Green; 14th, Horace Green.

Group of five: 4th, Bailey Estes. Pen of 15: 3rd, Donley county.

In the swine judging, Donley county, heavy entries with championship calibre, Hampshire pigs failed to get the attention of the judges and their placings were were limited.

LET THE PEOPLE SPEAK AGAIN

It now appears that the Legislature will submit a comprehensive tax measure to the voters of Texas, to see if they will approve paying the bill for the social reforms they have ordered in the Lone Star State.

To The News, this appears to be a very wise move, for there is some doubt in the minds of the Legislature as to the mandate of the people in last July when they approved so heartily a program for greatly expanded old age assistance and other social reform measures.

Chief Justice Hughes of the United States Supreme Court declared a few days ago that one of the foundation stones of our Democracy is the delays that mark the lasting changes in our methods of government; those self-same delays bringing every proposal under the severest test of thoughtful examination and popular discussion.

The News believes the people meant what they indicated when they ordered the larger assistance for the aged of our state, and the relief of certain other underprivileged among us.

Let us hope that the best wisdom and experience of the Legislature is employed in drafting such a measure. If such a measure is submitted to Texas voters we believe they will write their endorsement across it at the ballot box.

SPRING TIME IS CLEAN-UP TIME IN CLARENDON

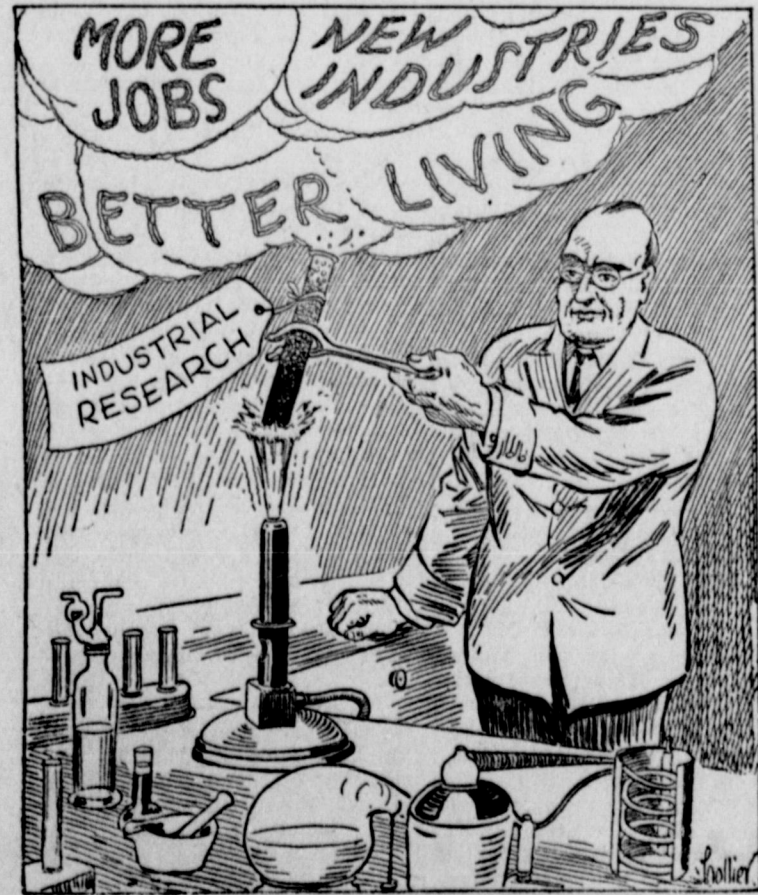

April showers and May Flowers aren't far away. That means spring cleaning time.

And spring cleaning shouldn't mean just shaking out the rugs, washing the curtains, and dusting the little-used spare bedroom. It should mean a definite, planned program for putting property in apple-pie order, not only to improve its value and appearance, but to help prevent that dread destroyer that strikes when we least expect it—fire.

Trash-filled outbuildings are perfect incubators for fire from a carelessly dropped match or cigarette. Check over fireplaces and chimneys—from now on, such incidental heating units will be used more and central systems less. As warm, sunny days come, be especially careful to keep grass cut and fields clear of debris.

Above all, go through the house from cellar to attic on an inclusive "junk-disposing" program. Those old newspapers and magazines you've put carefully away and will never look at again—that broken furniture that belongs to the worst period of design—those odds and ends of "gay nineties" clothing—that jumble of worthless, inflammable knickknacks in the hall closets: Get rid of them all. Give them to a charitable organization or the junkman. And you'll materially reduce the chance of a fire hitting your home.

News Item: American industry spends $750,000 each working day for research to find new and better products.

A number of progressive communities carry on general spring clean-ups each year as a civic function. Parkings are tended and beautified, fences repaired, and old firetraps are torn down. Fire departments and other municipal bureaus cooperate and direct the drives. The result is a more attractive and safer town—and a town whose residents may feel proud of it. Every community which doesn't do that now should think it over—and start the idea going around. It pays dividends in dollars as well as less tangible values.

THIS IS FREEDOM—LET US DEFEND IT

Just what do you think would happen to anyone who held a meeting in Berlin at which he denounced the Nazi government and its officials, referred contemptuously to the Chancellor as "Adolph Hitlerovich," and advocated a virtual revolution?

The participants in the meeting would find themselves swiftly incarcerated in a concentration camp—if they were fortunate enough to escape the headsman's axe.

Yet in New York, the German-American Bund recently held a meeting in Madison Square Garden, which was decorated for the occasion with swastika flags and guarded by men wearing Nazi storm-trooper uniforms, at which the speakers sneered at the President of the United States and called him "Franklin Rosenfeld," denounced high government officials, including a distinguished Justice of the Supreme Court called for the extermination of the Jews, and pledged themselves to establish a virtual Nazi dictatorship in this country.

There isn't another country in the world where that could happen. For there isn't another country in the world where the cardinal tenet of democracy, free speech, is so zealously protected. And free speech means the right to speak by those with whom you most violently disagree, as well as those with whom you agree.

When you hear someone denouncing America and its institutions, remember this. Think of what happens to those bold enough to speak, even in moderate terms, against the regimes in power in Germany, Russia, Italy and a host of smaller countries. Ours is a freedom possessed by no other people. Let us defend it.

A BETTER AVERAGE

The ready retort is sometimes useful in holding one's own. It is often far more effective than long-winded argument or straight denial. There's the story of the tough ball player who swung at two strikes and watched the next one go by. "Strike three," right-handed the ump.

"Yuh missed that one," stormed the tough guy.

"Not as much as you missed the first two," grinned back the ump, and the stands wondered why Harrigan quit his beefing and walked so meekly to the bench.—Caps and Lower Case.

JUST HUMANS By GENE GARR

"Now, Ya Broke His Glasses!"

CENTENARIAN WISDOM OF SENATOR COLE

In 1922 the late Senator Cornelius Cole was 100 years old, and Los Angeles gave him a banquet at which, his mind as alert as ever, he spoke.

He said, according to the Saturday Evening Post, that he had only one message for those present, and that it had been impressed on him through long experience: Namely, that human liberties were won in this country at heavy sacrifice of blood and fortune; that liberty is easily lost; that we must be ready to fight again if necessary to keep it; that we must never suffer any man to arrogate to himself the powers of a king, emperor or dictator.

At that banquet was Paul C. Hoffman, now head of the Studebaker company. Speaking in New York recently, Mr. Hoffman recalled Senator Cole's statement, and said:

"We listened tolerantly because he was an old man, but privately most of us thought he was living in a world of ideas belonging wholly to the past. . . . What did an old man's warning have to do with us? We had just finished making the world safe for democracy."

"I have thought of that address a thousand times. The old senator was not in his dotage. It was we who were blind. Do I need to ask you to think of how seriously at this moment those liberties are jeopardized in democratic countries?"

"Why are they in jeopardy? Because of pressures operating against free enterprise. Those pressures come from two sources: First, those who are wrongly called economic planners, but who have something in mind quite different from planning—namely government control of the processes of production and distribution; secondly, from minority groups.

"Special privilege is an invitation to government control, and no business can long survive bureaucratic domination."

The Low Down FROM HICKORY GROVE

I reckon maybe there is a good many folks who figure it don't make any big difference to them what the people in some other states do—like going into some kind of venture.

And I got a neighbor who sure is slick with a pencil and figures, and we were gassin' about the government edging into the electric business in Tennessee and other places. And this neighbor he says, Jo, do you know, he says, that when the government takes over a plant or something down there, that it is costing you plenty. And I says, help no. And he says, sure as shootin'.

And he showed me how the federal taxes, they fall equal on everybody, whether you are in Montana or Philadelphia. And if the government takes over something in Tennessee and quits paying taxes on it, somebody has got to make it up—and they just add it onto everybody, wherever you happen to hang out—even Stephen on everybody.

And he says maybe you been thinking it is a good joke on the folks down there around Chattanooga and other places, but Jo, he says, you are the guy the joke is on.

Yours, with the low down, JO SERRA.

THIN LAWNS USUALLY NEED FERTILIZING, NOT SEEDING

Every spring thousands of home-owners recalling that the lawn looked rather thin last summer, scatter seed in hopes that a dense stand of green grass will hide the bare spots.

Experience with lawns and pastures have proved to United States Department of Agriculture workers that by far the most frequent cause of thin turf is infertile soil. Grass plants usually adjust themselves to the plant food available in the lawn or pastures. When the grass cover is thin it usually is a sign that there is not enough plant food to support a dense sod. Sowing fresh seed is likely to be a waste of money and effort unless the soil is made fertile enough, the sod may thicken up without additional seeding. If it lacks plant food for the plants already in place, it cannot supply enough food to the new plants with their smaller root systems.

Thin lawns or pastures usually need a complete fertilizer and in most cases benefit from an additional application of superphosphate. County agents know local needs and the fertilizers available in the local markets.

Four Garden Rules to Give Professional Finish

Technique of Seed Sowing in Garden Rows.

Skilled gardeners do not make plants grow, they let them grow. Experience soon teaches that fussing and pampering is more likely to harm than help. The real task of the gardener is to provide a favorable environment for the plant, as to soil, sunshine and moisture, and then devote himself to removing any obstacles to thrifty growth that may develop. Nature will do the rest.

In the vegetable garden the program of care may be reduced to five rules which, if accepted and lived up to, will advance any amateur to a degree of skill which few amateurs attain. They are:

1. Plant in straight rows, running north and south.
2. Do not plant more space than you can cultivate well.
3. Thin out mercilessly plants too thickly sown.
4. Fertilize.
5. Spray to prevent disease and kill insects.

These things may seem so simple as to amount to little, but only good gardeners observe them. When the gardening fever is on—especially a first attack—it seems a bother to stretch a line and see that seeds are planted exactly upon it, each row parallel to the next. But when plants have grown and we come to push a wheel hoe between the rows, then we realize that five minutes spent in aligning the seeds would have saved weary hours in following the zigzag lines with the cultivator, to say nothing of the unsightly appearance of a slovenly planted garden as compared to the just pride we take in straight rows of well-developed vegetables cleanly cultivated.

No one escapes the annual temptation to undertake more garden work than he can reasonably handle. We are eager in April to cultivate all the land we can plant and wish for more; in July the weeds are likely to grow unhindered in much of the garden and vegetables which are planted in excess of the family needs go to waste. Curb your ambitions as much as you can and you will have less waste, more pleasure and better quality in the products of your garden.

An amateur never gets to the point where without a pang he can ruthlessly pull seedlings which are too thick in order to give the survivors a chance to develop properly. There is always a feeling that one is murdering a child, yet this operation is perhaps the most important of all in the vegetable garden and the one most generally neglected or only half done.

"Torchy Gets Her Man" Newest In Comedy Plays

Glenda Farrell and Barton MacLane, the popular girl reporter and her detective lieutenant boy friend, who have made such a hit in the Torchy Blane series of adventure comedies come back with a new one to the Pastime Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday in "Torchy Gets Her Man."

The blonde and wisecracking Torchy always seems to get her man when she and Lieut. Steve McBride start out after the crooks. They have a lot of fun doing it and always manage to get a lot of laughs at the same time.

This time Torchy and Steve set forth on the trail of the country's cleverest and most successful counterfeiter, who bears the picturesque name of "Hundred Dollar Bill" Bailey, because that is the size of the bogus money he makes. He passes these bills at race tracks where the cashiers do not take much time to examine the paper money they receive and where bills of that denomination are not at all unusual. Torchy and Steve trail him there, then Torchy follows him on her own hook and manages to get herself captured and into mess of typically Torchy trouble.

It will be no surprise to you to learn in advance that "Hundred Dollar Bill" is captured, thanks to Torchy and Steve—with a little emphasis, as usual, on Torchy's quick wit. But there are many exciting moments and many laugh situations before he and his pals are thrust into cells. The counterfeiter is said to be very well played by Willard Robertson and of course, the lieutenant's dumb chasseur, Gahagan, is again portrayed by the broken nosed ex-fighter, Tom Kennedy.

Among other notables in the cast are John Ridgely, Tommy Jackson, Frank Richter, Joe Cunningham, Herbert Hawkins, Edward Raquello.

The picture was directed by William Beaudine from an original screen play by Albert DaMont. William H. Moran, for many years chief of the United States Secret Service, acted as technical adviser, so the action concerning the counterfeiters should be entirely true to life.

Pneumonia Now On Increase In Texas Is Warning

AUSTIN, Feb. 22.—"Pneumonia is a seasonal disease in that its incidence and mortality are much increased during wet, cold weather," according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer. Last week 234 cases of pneumonia were reported to the State Health Department. The disease is most prevalent and serious in urban centers where contact with people is most frequent. Pneumonia is always dangerous but it is especially so to persons in a run-down condition. This accounts for the number of cases following illness from some other disease.

The germs that cause pneumonia are spread by careless coughers, sneezers, spitters and objects they thus infect. The first symptoms are usually severe chill and fever, a very sick feeling, loss of appetite, rapid breathing and a heavy sensation in the chest. Sometimes coughing brings up blood from the inflamed lungs. Any of these symptoms should be the signal for going to bed at once and sending for your family doctor.

The rules and prevention of other respiratory diseases apply to pneumonia.

These rules should become personal habits and not put on or off at times of prevalence or absence of disease. Persons should avoid careless coughers and sneezers even if it means rudeness. Wash your hands thoroughly before each meal. Keep your hands, pencils, money and such objects away from your mouth and nose. Get plenty of fresh air and night Exercise and eat in moderation and wear clothing suitable for the weather.

Pneumonia ranks second as a cause of death in Texas. In 1938 5,432 persons died of this disease. It should be remembered that contagious and infectious diseases cannot be decreased or eliminated without the cooperation of the people and this means the people who are sick with contagious and infectious diseases should be isolated and visited as little as possible by relatives and friends.

How to grow old scientifically will be shown in a "March of Life" exhibit in the Hall of Science at the California World's Fair.

Fred H. Douglas, noted anthropologist and authority on Indian life, is in charge of presenting the Indian exhibit in the Federal Building at the World's Fair of the West.

CLARENDON METHODIST CIRCUIT

J. G. Walker, Pastor

We enjoyed the entire day at Ashtola Sunday. Our attendance was fairly good and interest was fine. Some sickness and some fear of smallpox. We did quite a bit of visiting in the afternoon. We came in home after the evening service and felt that it had been a profitable day. The Ashtola people seem to be proud of the improvement done on the parsonage. Of course we are proud of it, and we are thankful towards them for the special room they fixed. They furnished material and labor for renovating and papering the room and also paint for the wood-work. The pastor did the painting of it. We are not ashamed of it. Want you to come around and see it. This gives us three rooms nicely fixed. Hope other rooms will be fixed soon. Want to make a full report of it at our quarterly conference which will be March 18th at McKnight.

Elder preaches at 11 a. m. Lunch on the ground furnished by the good McKnight people. Conference in the afternoon. Let nothing keep you away. We want the fellowship of the entire circuit as well as attend to business.

As the winter passes out and spring comes in, let's renew our efforts to advance the Kingdom of God in the Clarendon Circuit.

The pastor pledges more time given to visiting. Anyway you can assist young people will be aiding in the Youth Crusade.

Let's begin to plan and talk our revivals now.

Next Sunday we are to be at McKnight at 11 a. m. and at Bray in the evening. Always glad when the time draws nigh. We are praying for fine weather and large attendance. Everyone should help us advertise it.

San Francisco Chinese are writing to kinsmen and friends throughout the United States, "Loy Tai Feb," or "Come and see us at the World's Fair."

RECOGNIZE HIM?

In most every neighborhood where respectable people live there dwells certain type of fellow seemingly devoid of conscience or principal, whose conduct makes him the subject of a lot of gossip, especially, among the women.

You will probably recognize his counterpart in your own neighborhood from the following description of him:

We don't know who said it, but we think some of the neighbors. Some fellows can get away with anything. There is one in our neighborhood that does. Morals don't mean a thing to him.

He's unmarried, and lives openly with a woman he's crazy about, and doesn't care what the neighbors say or think. He has no regard for truth or law. The duties of the so-called good citizen are just much bunk so far as he is concerned. He does not vote at either of the primary or the general election. He never thinks of paying a bill. We have seen him take a two-dollar taxi ride without giving the driver so much as a pleasant look. The driver only started at him and muttered something silly. He won't work a lick, he won't go to church, he can't play cards, or fool around with musical instruments or the radio. So far as known he has no intellectual or cultural interest at all.

He neglects his personal appearance terribly. He's so indolent he's let the house burn down before he'd turn in the alarm. The telephone can ring itself to pieces and he would not bother to answer it. Even on such subjects as the liquor question, nobody knows where he stands, because one minute he's dry, and the next minute he's wet.

But we'll say this for him, in spite of all his faults he comes of a darned good family.

Dave Johnson says: "That is my Grand-Son."—(Contributed by a friend of both of them).

BERT SMITH ANNOUNCES FOR MAYOR OF CITY

In the announcement column of The News will be found the name of Bert Smith listed as candidate for Mayor of Clarendon in the April election.

Mr. Smith is well-known in Clarendon as a progressive citizen and asks The News so say that he will make no great promises in his bid for support in the coming election preferring to say that, if elected, he will give Clarendon the very best administration he is capable of, working constantly to reduce the tax burden here, and attempting to hold the city's expenses to the lowest figure, while rendering the service the citizenship has a right to expect. He says he will take only one dollar per year for his services, donating the dollar back to the general fund, believing this would be proper on his part, so long as the city has so much outstanding indebtedness.

Mr. Smith invites the vote and support of all Clarendon citizens in the April election, and will appreciate every consideration given his candidacy. He has no criticisms to offer against any past or present office holder, and offers himself in the single aim of being of some benefit to Clarendon as a whole.

"SAVE GARDEN POPPY SEED AND CURE SINUS TROUBLE," SAYS UNIVERSITY STUDENT

AUSTIN, March 7.—Save your garden variety of poppy seed and cure your sinus trouble, Junius Evans, University of Texas pharmacy student, would advise.

Evans, who already has his bachelor of arts degree, has begun research on poppy-seed oil of the common garden poppy to see if such oil may be successfully iodized. An iodized poppy-seed oil, now imported from France, is used in treatment of sinus trouble. Placed in the sinus region, the oil gives up its iodine providing the therapeutic powers that Evans hopes to obtain.

The remainder of the program was turned over to the band, whose opening numbers were "March of Youth," and "Overture Militaire," the piece which is to be played in the contest at Plainview.

John Burton King, accompanied by June McMurtry played a cornet solo, "Trees."

Following "Blue Danube Waltz" played by the band, Charles Blanton, accompanied by Nelda Sue Burton, played a French horn solo, and Mary Ella Williams played a baritone saxophone solo, "Song of the Evening Star."

The program closed with selections from "The Merry Widow," and "Most of Freedom March," the latter directed by Led Jay. Mr. Drennan and Mr. Burton then made some announcements.

TO THE MEN

Rebecca Eanes
Blessed be the men,
And blessed again
Be those so kind and true
Who take the girls
E'n with their curls
To see the Saturday revue.

Blessed be the men,
For all their sin;
We love them just the same.
Now some are wild
And others wild—
The latter we must tame.

In times gone by—
Oh, time does fly—
Men were dashing, gay and bold;
To ladies fair
With golden hair;
Their tales of love they told.

Now time has passed,
And very fast
But we still bless the men,
For all they are.
And that is far
From what they might have been.

Several members of the Clarendon Home Economics Department attended the area meeting of the Future Home Makers of Texas, held at Pampa, March 4. Approximately 800 girls were gathered at Pampa, eager to make the meeting a successful one and learn about the work of different chapters.

The White Deer Chapter had charge of the interesting program. The program consisted of a radio television style show that brought many comments. The art of hospitality, art of personality, the art in clothing, and art in dating were the main features. The good and bad points were both given so that girls might draw their own conclusions as to which one they preferred. The art of making each club was analyzed by one of the supervisors.

A welcome to the city of Pampa was given by one of the members of the Chamber of Commerce, and the welcome from the school was given by the school principal. The area supervisor, Miss Armstrong, gave an invitation to all members to attend the state rally in Galveston.

It was decided to have the next area meeting in Quail next fall. Those attending from Clarendon were: Jessie J. Tomlinson, president; Maggie Lee Davis, Kitty Ruth Bailey, Thelma Hardin and Miss Berry, sponsor.

LOW FEED COSTS MAKE MORE WORK FOR COWS

Because feed costs have been low during the past several months, milk production has continued rather heavy since early last summer, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics reports. The number of milk cows also has begun to increase.

The Bureau points out that the milk cow may be likened to a pump which draws upon the farmer's feed supplies to produce a stream of milk. When prices are favorable, the farmer can put more pressure on the pump by heavier feeding.

"Looking ahead," the Bureau says, "the stage is set for an increase in milk cow numbers. The extent to which the prospective increase will be realized will depend to some degree on the extent to which present favorable conditions are maintained." These might be seriously interrupted by drought, unfavorable prices, and other adverse factors which cannot be accurately forecast.

BETTER THAN A MUSTARD PLASTER

Fried Chicken Or Fat Pork

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Texas Breeder-Feeder Association

Fried chicken is a luxury for which city people willingly pay high prices. Probably not one person in ten ever had enough friend chicken to get tired of it, for few are able to buy it regularly after it passes through the hands of dealers and caterers, yet farm folks who raise it and can have it every Sunday and in between at a fraction of the money cost to city people, are too much inclined to treat friend chicken as luxury only to be served when company comes.

Whether you set the hens on their own eggs, hatch them in a home incubator, or buy baby chicks from the commercial hatchery, the cash outlay for raising a two-pound fryer is only a few cents. Any well-managed farm raises at least a part of the grain which chickens need, and for which they will pay a good price, either for home consumption or sale. The mash feeds required to balance the ration can be had in every town nowadays, and few farm "crops" offer as quick a turnover as the sixty days or so that it takes to bring a chick to maturity for market or home use.

It is nothing short of tragic that some farm families deprive themselves and their children of all the eggs and chickens they can eat and enjoy, sitting down day after day to fat pork shipped in from Wisconsin or Iowa. Of all people who ought to live well the farmer who produces the food is that one, and he lives well in just about the proportion that he grows what he can use at home without paying tribute to handlers, processors, haulers and merchandisers.

All these people render an essential service and farmers can no more do without the cities than the cities can do without the farmers. It is worth thinking about, however, that every dollar a farm family saves by producing for its own use is a dollar that can be spent for something else they cannot produce—some of the things farm folks too often do without because they are not indispensable.

Now the farm poultry business is different from the specialized poultry business in many respects. There is less cost, less risk of disease, less cash outlay all along the line. At the same time it brings returns for time and labor that would otherwise have no market, and since their time and ability is the principal thing many farm families have to sell, those who do not find some profitable activity for the hours not needed in crops, lose something that is irreplaceable.

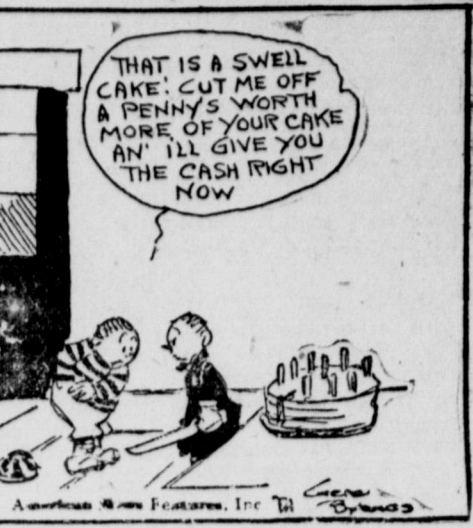

Besides the good eating there is always some kind of a market for the surplus, and many a farm flock buys the flour, coffee and other groceries which cannot be produced at home. If the market is low when the fryers or broilers are ripe, housewives have learned to can the meat for future use or sale. I know a West Texas store which buys its canned chicken from the women's home demonstration club members in the community and sells it in chicken salad and sandwiches.

W. A. Painter, a tenant farmer in Hale county (Texas) rents a freezer-locker in town for $10 a year. If the fryer, broiler or turkey market is down when his fowls are ready, he dresses them at home and stores them in the locker to be sold after the rush season is over. Mr. Painter also has built up a good business in dressed turkeys direct to customers in Dallas and Fort Worth, 300 miles away. "Where there's a will there's a way" is just as true as when it was first printed in the old Blue Back spellers three generations ago.

More than 100 seasoned San Francisco fire fighters are stationed in three fire houses on Treasure Island. An airplane assembly line at the alfiorina World's Fair will enable buyers to watch their own ship put together and then fly it home from the Port of Trade Winds, if they wish.

Governor A. B. "Happy" Chandler of Kentucky, and Mrs. Chandler, were visitors at Treasure Island a few days before the Golden Gate International Exposition opening date.

REG'LAR FELLERS

If Jimmy Has Enough Guests The Party Ought To Pay By Gene Byrnes

NOBODY'S BUSINESS BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

AUSTIN.—All eyes in Austin this week-end were turned upon subcommittees of the House revenue and constitutional amendments committees, which were scheduled to report to the two committees jointly some kind of a revenue bill early in the week. The committees have ended weeks of hearings upon a variety of assorted tax bills, including transactions tax, sales tax, gross receipts tax, net income tax, gross income tax, natural resources tax, "use" tax, and various combinations of all these taxes.

Best opinion here was that whatever action is taken by the House will be in the form of a constitutional amendment. The liberal pensions program profulgated by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, together with other social security needs, calls for an additional expenditure by the state of somewhere between $30,000,000 and $50,000,000 annually, depending upon just how liberal a pension policy is finally adopted. This legislature apparently is wholly unwilling to take the responsibility, on its own motion, of laying such a terrific financial burden upon the already heavily loaded taxpayers of the state. Whether the solons are willing to pass the responsibility on to the people, by submitting a constitutional amendment levying the tax, remains to be seen. At any rate, few here believe that any taxes will be inflicted unless the people do so directly at the ballot box.

HOPE VOTERS WAKE UP

Conservatives in the Legislature hope that the wide discussion of taxes which has resulted from the long hearings may have aroused the people to a knowledge that they cannot have several hundred thousand people living off the state without digging down into their own pockets to pay the bill. They hope the "pensions for everybody" sentiment, aroused by demagogues and nurtured by professional pension agitators for profit, involves only a minority of the voting population of Texas, and that, confronted with the serious business of levying thirty to fifty millions of new taxes upon their own backs, the sane citizenship may outvote the gimmecrats, reject the tax program, and thereby declare for a sensible social security program of taking care of the actually needy only. With such a mandate directly from the people, the Legislature could solve the state's financial problem in 30 days, without crippling business, industry, or other taxing agencies.

WHISKEY BILL DEAD

Attorney General Gerald Mann virtually wrote the death warrant for the bill to legalize sale of liquor by the drink, when he handed down an opinion, in response to a House committee request, holding that such traffic is in direct violation of the constitutional provision forbidding open saloons. The best constitutional lawyers in Austin have held this view all along. They hold a similar view on the constitutionality of the bills to legalize race horse gambling under a "local opinion" scheme. They say there is no authority in the Texas constitution for local option on anything except sales of beer and liquor.

TRUCK BILL LOSES

To E. B. Hamilton, second-term legislator from Hillsboro, fell the rope of casting the decisive vote in one of the most spectacular battles of the present session. A member of the House highway and motor traffic committee, Hamilton voted against a favorable report of the bills of Homer Leonard, to raise the 7,000-pound truck load limit, after the other 20 committeemen had divided, 10 to 10. Thus the bill failed of a favorable report, 11 to 10, and its only chance now in the House is to get it printed on minority report, which appears unlikely. The battle ended one of the most hotly contested lobbying efforts seen in Austin in recent years. The railroad lobby recruited about 50 active workers, besides the three house members who are railroad employes, and divided the house membership up so that each lobbyist had to check only three House members. They worked night and day, and won, despite a vigorous effort by truckers, Rio Grande Valley grapefruit and vegetable interests, and other farmer and shipping interests throughout the state. Those voting for the Leonard bill included Monkhouse, of Uvalde; Allison of Levelland; Burkett of Cisco; Burney of Evant; Gilmer of Rock-springs; Goodman of Midland, Howington of Comanche; Mays of Atlanta; Mohrman of Gonzales and Leonard of McAllen. Against it were Rhodes of Hearne; Fuchs of Brenham; Hamilton of Hills-boro; Harper of Jefferson; Mc-Alister of Fort Worth; Reader of San Antonio; Reed of Dallas; Robinson of Galveston; Stoll of Taylor; Turner of Cameron and Wood of Marshall. Reed and Wood are railroad employes.

FAIR TRADES BILL REPORTED

The fair trades practice act, sponsored by a group of independent drug stores, which forbids "loss leader" sales and fixes minimum prices at which merchandise may be sold, came out of both House and Senate, sitting jointly with overwhelmingly favorable reports. It has passed twice in the House before, but was killed in the Senate. This time, endorsed by all the leading candidates for governor and many legislative candidates in last July's elections, it seems certain of enactment.

HUNTER WITHDRAWS

Facing certain defeat of confirmation by the Senate, J. C. Hunter of Abilene, nominated two weeks ago by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel to be Highway Commission chairman, ended the deadlock between O'Daniel and the East Texas Senate group, who are demanding an East Texan as commissioner by voluntarily asking the governor to withdraw his name. Repeated canvasses showed the East Texans had sufficient votes to block confirmation, and they held their line against all attacks. Hunter, declaring he had been out of the state immediately before his nomination, and knew nothing of the bitter fight engendered by rejection of Carr P. Collins, told O'Daniel he wouldn't serve, unless the Senate indicated support of his nomination, and that he didn't want to drag the Highway Commission into a political fight. Speculation immediately revived here about the next nominee, with most of the names previously mentioned being brought up again, together with a rumor that John Wood of East Texas, whose term expired in February, might be renominated by O'Daniel. Wood originally was an appointee of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson.

THE AWFUL PRICE YOU PAY FOR BEING NERVOUS

Quivering nerves can make you old and haggard looking, cranky and hard to live with—can keep you awake nights and rob you of good health, good times and jobs. What you may need is a particularly good woman's tonic—and could you ask for anything whose benefits are better proved than famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? Let its wholesome herbs and roots help Nature build up more physical resistance and thus help calm your shrieking nerves, give more energy and make life worth living again. More than a million women have reported benefit—why not let Pinkham's Compound help YOU, too, to go "smiling" trying times like it has other "suffering" women for the past 2 generations? IT MUST BE GOOD!

Premier 1939 Showing in Local Salesroom on March West Texas Utilities Company

Clarendon People Invited To See Frigidaire Display

The general public is urged to attend the premier showing of 1939 model Frigidaires at the West Texas Utilities Company, opening Monday, March 13, and lasting through March 14, according to Chas. Lowry, local manager, who said the display rooms had been arranged to take care of hundreds of visitors.

The new "Cold-Wall" model, designed to save women the necessity of covering up dishes of food, will be a feature of the show, he announced.

"In comparison with past showing of new models," he declared, "we feel this will be the most important since electric refrigerators first were placed on the market. Special attention is directed to the new Cold Wall Frigidaire, which offers the most modern development in electric refrigeration since they were introduced more than a quarter of a century ago."

The lower half of the cabinet in the new model is partitioned by a solid glass shelf and concealed coils in the wall maintain low temperatures without the aid of circulating air which heretofore has forced women to cover food.

Many other new refinements have been added to all 1939 models, Lowry said, tending to increase efficiency and economy.

The Clarendon Lions Club will present their annual benefit show Tuesday night, March 14, at the College Auditorium. The curtain will rise sharply at 8 p. m. on a burlesque show which will include a one-act play, a beauty contest, and other comic numbers. The play is a farce with men portraying the parts of women. The beauty contest will also feature prominent business men.

Excellent music, chorus girls, and clever costumes will provide a colorful background for the comedy. The production is under the direction of Mesdames John Knorpp and Ira Merchant, both of whom have had dramatic training and experience. The cast also has been chosen from experienced persons.

Those who will appear on the program are R. E. Drennan, J. T. Patman, H. T. Burton, Dr. H. R. Beck, P. B. Gentry, Ira Merchant, Bert Smith, Isadore Mellinger, M. P. Gentry, Jno. C. McLEAN IN HALL OF FAME AS TAXLESS TOWN STIRS SENATE AT AUSTIN

AUSTIN, March 7.—McLean, Texas, will levy no ad valorem tax this year and has more money coming in than it can use under present law, the Texas Legislature learned today.

The thriving Panhandle community asked authority to use part of the income from its municipal gas plant to build streets. The town owns its own gas well, pipe line and distribution system.

A Senate committee approved a bill to divert part of the gas income to street work. Members suggested McLean's name be changed to "Utopia."

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Merrell and daughter, Muffett of Memphis visited here Sunday.

Jimmy Dean Howze spent the week-end in Hedley.

Junior College Will Sponsor Show March 15-16

In order to raise funds for trips to advertise the school, students of Clarendon Junior College will sponsor a show at the Pastime Theater Wednesday and Thursday, March 15-16. The show is "Torchy Gets Her Man" and is a thrilling story of a newspaper reporter who hunts down a criminal. The college students will sell tickets at the regular admission prices for which they will receive half of each ticket. On March 30 and 31 the student body will tour various surrounding towns in an effort to interest high school students in the college. This is an annual affair and has proved beneficial to the college in the past. They will very much appreciate your buying your show tickets from them for that pleasure.
