Band To Head Delegation To Highway 18 Rally

NORTH AND SOUTH ROAD PLANS TO BE FURTHERED

FROM SEVERAL COUNTIES DELEGATIONS EXPECTED ON PROPOSED ROUTE

Headed by the Clarendon High School Band, at least 50 local highway enthusiasts will go to Turkey next Monday night to meet with delegates of the 88-18 Highway association in a rally called to further plans for a Clarendon to Turkey road.

Besides Clarendon, delegates will attend from Perryton, Miami Pampa, Memphis, Brice, Matador, Roaring Springs, Spur and Sweetwater.

The Clarendon band will open the program with a concert at 6 o'clock in the afternoon, according to Sam M. Braswell, chairman of the program committee.

Following a welcoming address by a Turkey representative, the outlook on the road from different towns viewpoints will be discussed generally.

Resolutions in the form of a petition will be drawn up for presentation to the Texas Highway Commission at a hearing by the body later this month. J. R. Gillham, secretary has already arranged for the hearing.

After the plans for the hearing have been completed, delegates will be guest of Turkey at a barbecue at 7:30 o'clock.

The meeting was called by Odos Caraway, Clarendon, president of the 88-18 North-South Highway association, to follow up the line of positive action adopted when the organization was formed several years ago.

The Clarendon to Turkey road is the first link in a Perryton to Pampa to Clarendon to Turkey highway and the organization hopes its construction will become "New Project No. One."

Bond Refinancing Bill May Be Boon to 88-18 Association's Clarendon-to-Turkey Road

That Donley County will benefit greatly from the road bond bill signed Saturday by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel is doubtful, County Judge R. Y. King declared today.

Local members of Highway 18-88 North South Highway Association, however, hailed a bill with delight believing available funds for purchasing right-of-way would greatly speed a Clarendon-to-Turkey road.

"One of the main drawbacks to date," Odos Caraway, president of the association said, "is the question of buying right-of-way without greatly overburdening the counties."

While Donley has no road bonds, approximately $35,000 in warrants for right-of-way on Highway 5 are still outstanding and may be retired under the bill's provisions.

The bill, designed to enrich county treasuries $150,000,000 throughout Texas in the next 25 years, calls for a bond refinancing measure through a 1-cent portion of the gasoline tax which is paid into the county and road district indebtedness fund.

It re-enacts the present road bond assumption act by making eligible for state payment the obligation incurred by counties and road districts in building roads which have become a part of the state net work not later than January 1, 1939.

Because revenue exceeded these obligations, the surplus will be distributed among counties by a formula based on area, motor registrations, lateral road mileage and population. After payments of obligations, the funds may be used for building county roads, payment of debt on lateral roads set in the highway system supplementing federal matching funds for WPA roads, cooperating with the State Highway Department and the Federal Government in constructing farm-to-market roads.

EXPECT TO FINISH WORK ON PARK BY SEPTEMBER FIRST

The work on the City Park is progressing rapidly and will probably be completed by the first of September, Mrs. C. C. Powell chairman of the Park Board stated today.

The grass has been set out and the terraces have been worked down. The workers will start building a walk through the park and a bridge across the draw this week. The work does not progress so rapidly as most people expect because it is all done by hand. Although the grass has not come up and all improvements are not finished, the park is looking very attractive and shows much promise.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Burch and son spent this week end in Dumas.

DONLEY MAY GET $11,504.68 FROM AD VALOREM BILL

TAX REMISSION COULD AS BOOMERANG, MANY OFFICIALS BELIEVE

Whether Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's signature Monday on a bill returning to all counties half the ad valorem taxes collected within their borders for the state's general fund, was a blessing or would be a boomerang in increased taxes, was today still a question of discussion among county officials and local business men.

The remissions, which would start in 1941 and extend over a five-year period, would mean approximately $11,504.68 to Donley County's coffers should the state rate of 49 cents remain and if the same amount of taxes be paid on the same valuations as of this year.

Donley County's contributions to the state general fund from 1938 tax payments was $23,009.36.

However since the bill will take approximately $3,500,000 a year from the state fund, which is already in debt $18,000,000, many questions are raised regarding the necessary tax measure.

Opponents of a general sales tax, which seems a logical levy in view of the fact that money for pension payments could not be raised during the last session of the legislature, point out that while Donley may receive $11,504.68, large counties with a tax remission of around $100,000 or $200,000 would benefit to a greater extent. Donley County citizens, they say, must pay as much in sales taxes as a resident of the larger counties.

In rebuttal, proponents of the plan declare that while larger counties receive larger sums, their expenses entitle them to greater remissions.

Money remitted the county may be used in almost any way the commissioner's court decides. Unemployment, relief, flood control, soil conservation, lateral road building, reduction of county property tax rates, etc., all come under the bill's legal use of spending.

DONLEY TO HAVE BOOTH AT STATE FAIR AT DALLAS

Under the guidance of the local F. F. A. Chapter, Clarendon will again have an exhibit booth in the State Fair at Dallas this fall, J. R. Gillham, chapter advisor, said today.

Gillham said he was in receipt of a letter from Roy Rupard, secretary of the fair, which said that reservations had been made. Rupard also highly complimented the Clarendon F. F. A. for having the largest and best displays in the club poultry and pig sections of the 1938 fair.

Members of the F. F. A. chapter started gathering materials for the booth, Gillham said, adding that the display will feature local crops, etc. Chapter members expect to exhibit over 150 birds and 50 pigs in the fair.

L. D. SHAW PASSES ON

Out of Higgins last week came the sad news of the death of L. D. Shaw, long-time editor and publisher of the Higgins News, and one of the early day editors of this section. Retired several years ago, Editor Shaw spent his time with his books and his music and in the company of his good wife who survives him.

One of the happy recollections of this editor's life is a visit in the Shaw home some ten years ago when culture and ideals dwelt with these good people. A native of England, Shaw came to America in an early day, drifted to Denver and later into the Oklahoma strip and finally to Higgins where he labored long and well for humanity. A good man is gone. Peace to his ashes.

"INNOCENT AMUSEMENTS"

Speaking of crime, and especially as it applies to youth, which has now come down from an average age of 40 years around 1900, to an average of 25 at present, has the community as a whole set the right example? Have we always returned that that does not belong to us to the rightful owner? And, while we have banned horse racing, which most church members consider the greatest gambling crime, do church members refrain from the very appearance of the evil. On the other hand, the Dr. Gallup survey, which predicted the election of Roosevelt two years ago and the electoral vote almost 100 percent has recently finished a survey of youths as to what started them on a gambling career. It may cause a blush of shame on church members, particularly in cities, that they got their first taste of gambling at church bazaars. Twenty-nine percent gave them as their starter. The Herald has noted that in most of our high school carnivals the bingo game is all the rage, or perhaps any other game where a chance is taken. Bingo is just a midget edition of faro and wheel of fortune played at the big time gambling houses. Yet we outlaw horse racing, the sport of kings, but secretly nigger crap games, poker and many other games go on in the seclusion of the homes or houses for that purpose. Is it not time that we checked up on some of our "innocent amusements?" —Terry County Herald.

ON STICKING THE NECK OUT

The person who is unwilling to "stick his neck out" will never grow any taller. That is what Rev. J. Pat Horton told the men's Bible class which meets Sunday mornings at the Fair theatre.

The world was not built by men and women who constantly feared criticism, feared to take the unpopular side, or advance new ideas.

And in these days of "isms" throughout the world, rule by mass psychology, the role of the individual becomes ever more important. Too many of us depend upon our "leaders," and, says Mr. Horton, if leaders are indifferent, we are prone to lose interest ourselves and to adopt a "what's the use" attitude.

If we love our American institutions, if we value the liberty which seems to dwell in this nation among a very few in the world, we as individuals will have to be ready to "stick our necks out."

We will have to be ready to make mistakes if they are the result of honest convictions. There is an old saying that "he who makes no mistakes does nothing, he who makes too many loses his job." —Community Weekly, Plainview

JIMMY GILLENTINE BUYS HALF INTEREST IN HEREFORD BRAND

In last week's issue of The Hereford Brand announcement was made of the sale of half interest in that splendid Panhandle publication by the owner, Mrs. Seth Holman, to Jimmy Gillentine, who has been editor of the Brand since February 1937.

The News congratulates Mrs. Holman, Mr. Gillentine and the Hereford people on this new arrangement which brings permanence to what has proven a most successful commitment, and we extend our hearty good wishes for the continuance and enlargement of the success which rightfully belongs to the Brand.

That this really happened, we are positively assured by the big business man in the story. That is, he was a big business man, but he has shrunk several sizes in his own estimation. He has a little seven-year-old son and he thought it would be a fine idea for the boy to have a dog. Every boy should have a dog so he got one for his little son. As usually happens, a most affectionate attachment immediately developed between the youngster and his four-footed pal. But alas, the dog ran into the street and was killed by a passing auto. The boy was heartbroken. The father endeavored as best he could to console him, but had a hard time doing it. Thinking to divert his grief by taking another tack, he reminded the lad that losing a dog was not the most terrible tragedy in the world, for one of his little playmates had just lost his father. "Think how terrible it would have been if it were I, instead of the dog, that was run over."

Imagine the father's feelings when the boy replied, "but Daddy, I'd rather you had died than my dog. He and I were pals."

The shock of that confession jarred the father out of his smug

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

AUSTIN—State officials and employes, whose compensation is dependent upon the biennial appropriation bills, were in a state of jitters this week end, as the deadline for signing the appropriation bills approached, and Gov. O'Daniel notified department heads that he intended to take some healthy slashes at the appropriations set up by the legislature to operate the state's departments and the state institutions. For the first time in years, the appropriation bills are itemized, each job and the salary being listed separately. This will permit the Governor to cut out any that he sees fit, by veto, but he cannot alter the amount fixed in the bills for any particular job. Thus, he may eliminate jobs entirely, but not cut their pay. Department heads reported, after being called into conference with the governor, that he apparently is seeking to reduce the total appropriations for departments and institutions by 10 per cent. He gave some department heads the option of making suggestions for eliminating jobs and employes, or of submitting to an arbitrary elimination decided by himself. Nobody knew what jobs and which employes would be abolished, and the working forces were in a demoralized state, with many expecting to "walk the plank" on September 1.

Who Wants Special Session?—Political observers here were surprised at the statement of the Gov. O'Daniel on the radio that a special session is being sought by three groups, namely, race horse gamblers and liquor dealers newspapers, and members of the Legislature. The real pressure for a special session is coming from the old folks who didn't get any money for pensions, and it hasn't gotten up a full head of steam yet. The real pressure from this group will come when enlarged pension rolls and decreasing revenue force a reduction from the present average of $13.85 per month pension payments to half that, or less. That will probably happen within the next 90 days, and that is when the squawk is going up from the old folks. The race horse gambling sentiment is at a low ebb in Texas. The gamblers' lobbyists found that out when they sought to enact a bill re-legalizing that form of "sport" at the regular session. They not only lost, but they barely avoided getting a constitutional amendment adopted by the house which would have forever prohibited race track betting if okayed by the people.

Certainly, the governor, who never talks to newspapers or reporters, and presumably doesn't read them either, is mistaken about the newspapers seeking a special session. Editorial sentiment, as expressed in papers throughout the State, both daily and weekly, so far has given no indication that the editors think the governor ought to call a special session. So far as the legislators are concerned, it is likely a good many house members would like to see a special session. And since 94 of the latter went down the line with the Governor, on his tax program, and were beaten, and now are "on a spot" with the old age pension seekers, it is reasonable to believe the Governor, if he has any sense of gratitude, will eventually listen to their pleas. The special interests, which fought so hard for S. J. R. No. 12, the sales tax constitutional amendment backed by the Governor, are certainly not seeking any special session. They had an ace in the hole all the time, figuring that if the Governor's program lost, they would escape any further taxes, and they still feel very happy at the outcome. They are now paying not one penny of taxes for social security purposes — It all comes from liquor and amusement taxes. The O'Daniel program calls for raising at least another $25,000,000 for pensions. The special interests know they will have to pay some of that, and they fought hard to make their share as little as possible. Certainly, having es-complicity, and for the first time he realized that being the head of a big business and making a lot of money, was not nearly so wonderful an achievement as being a real father to his own son.—J. H. Farmer's Optimeter.

102-YEAR-OLD ASKS WHO IS COMPLAINING

CENTENARIAN DECLARES FANS, AIR-CONDITIONING ETC., ARE DISGUSTING

SHAMROCK, July 12—Everybody is sure being a sissy over this hot weather. All this clustering in air-cooled spots, keeping fans whirling and drinking super-iced liquids is certainly disgusting when you see a "young fellow of 102 years" trotting about in the heat and quite happy about the whole thing, but that is what T. A. Lovelace, who celebrated his 102nd birthday this spring, was doing Friday.

This remarkable centenarian, who now resides in Shamrock, is more active than many people twenty years younger and when asked if the heat was causing him any discomfort he laughed and remarked, "Certainly not! I've been here too long to let a little thing like weather bother me!"

Such a statement from a man who claims he is growing younger every year should make most people less heat conscious, but it probably will have very little effect. It seems as if everyone is determined to complain about the weather.

To somewhat rectify this inequality, the amendment which I have offered provides that the Federal government shall contribute two-thirds of the payment to be made to eligible old age pensioners on the state rolls to an amount not exceeding $15.00 (in other words, the Federal government would pay $2.00 for each dollar provided by the State or $10.00 in Federal contribution to $5.00 state contribution, to a maximum of $15.00 under such proportion). It further provides that from $15.00 up the state and the Federal government shall match payments equally as under existing laws.

Senator Connally continued: "The purpose and the effect of the amendment, if adopted, will be to aid the states which have not adequate revenues to provide payments under existing law, and the states where there are relatively large numbers of old age pensioners in proportion to the remainder of the population. It is well known that in certain states of the Union that condition exists.

My amendment will be urged when the bill is considered by the Senate. I feel its adoption and enactment into law will afford a very substantial contribution toward meeting the obligations with respect to old age pensions" Senator Connally concluded.

Today's popularity of Doan's Pills, after many years of world wide use, surely must be accepted as evidence of satisfactory use. And favorable public opinion supports that of the able physicians who cost the value of Doan's under exacting laboratory conditions. These physicians, too, approve every word of advertising you read, the objective of which is only to recommend Doan's Pills as a good diuretic treatment for functional kidney disorder and for relief of the pain and worry it causes.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove waste that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole body suffers when kidneys lazily and diuretic medication would be more often employed.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination may be warning of disturbed kidney function. You may suffer nausea, backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out.

Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Ask your neighbor!

Random Reflections

By DICK COOKE

It always happens during mid-summer heat and when the deadline is peeping over your shoulder like Simon Grege reading little Eva's report card—that's the time when ideas drift away with the steam of your body and you're faced with about 1,000 words of column to write.

Jolly Ed Dishman comes to the rescue with the first bit of space filler with a yarn about houses and things burning up.

So showing an utter disregard for heat and all things that make other things hot we give you Ed's tale.

It seems that once upon a time, not in the too distant years, there lived in the thriving town of McLean, a man by the name of Bill Smith and who was a druggist by trade.

Bill came to work one morning to find his store had been burned to the ground. With a cheerful outlook the druggist replaced his store and, of course, was surprised and chagrined when flames again leveled his business.

Not beaten, however, Smith went to Oklahoma City and purchased a brand new stock of goods, furniture and fixtures and had them shipped to McLean. The fates, we suppose, could not tolerate the delay of finishing another building, so Bill came to work one morning to find the box car and his goods smoldering upon the siding.

About this time it probably occurred to the merchant that somewhere around McLean there must be an Indian sign against him so he pulled up stakes and moved to New Mexico to shake off the bad omen.

He rested peacefully there until the fire bug again caught him and one night his home fell in flames.

Bill was probably getting rather disgusted now so he decided to pay his former home town a visit while a new house was being erected in New Mexico.

Arriving in McLean, he sent his suit to a tailor shop and was enjoying old acquaintances when yes you've guessed it—the shop burned with his clothes in it. Now heaping coals upon oil, his father in law's house was consumed by fire the same night.

Ed says the merchant then went back to New Mexico and shot himself. . . we don't know why.

Note: For obvious reasons the name Bill Smith is fictitious.

Although they may deny it, every West Texan has his "rain sign" but for the most unique we have ever heard its the cornsies-bunionosis system practiced by druggist George Norwood.

While in an idle conversation last week-end, George, without a word of warning, says "boys its going to rain before Monday."

After a light shower we prevailed upon George to let us in on the secret and after much coaxing he said (and this is really the truth) that when his corn and bunions pads sales ran three or four boxes a day there was no use of bringing a raincoat to town but when they jumped to twelve or fourteen, then boy you better get ready for rain.

Texas is headed for an era of quieter, more mature living, Dr. George Cox of the University of Texas Health department believes. Cox bases his prediction on the declining birth rate and the increased life span of the black leghorns, light brahmas, white wyandottes and Anconas brown leghorns.

Others expected to show this fall are Claude Primrose, E. V. Quattlebaum, Sam Tankersly, Clarence Cobb and J. F. Cannon. Donley has won the county exhibit at the Tri-State Fair for the past four years.

average Texan. By 1975 persons living over the age of 65 will have trebled their number from seven and a half million to twenty-two and a half million. Stricter immigration laws, smaller families and more beneficial use of medicines, Cox says will be the reason. Not trying to pun, we wonder if they will have arrived at an answer for payments of liberalized old age pensions by that time.

Recent headline: "Many injured at political rally platform falls". It is rather serious when it doesn't even wait until they're elected.

Of all the things in the world that Colonel T. H. Peebles wants it is a poem entitled "The Graveyard Haints."

It is, to Mr. Peebles at least, a soul stirring tale that brings back the days of the deep south negro superstition. Mr. Peebles who came from Tennessee, says he still loves to hear the old stories as told by the darkies. He also says that he's not going to take many chances at night.

Although well known by cattlemen, it was surprising to us to learn that animals killed by lightning are not marked by burns.

Forrest Sawyer ventured that information the other day in telling of two cows killed on its place in a recent thunder storm.

Regan Bain's brother-in-law, Frank Davis of Amarillo, and his son were down Sunday with a model airplane. The ship, powered with a miniature gasoline motor made four flights with the last, a slow circling sail ending four miles south of town.

Weighing about three pounds, the plane lands so gently that its 6 feet of wings have never been injured.

Garden Glances Presented weekly by the Garden Club

"America the beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners"

"America the beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners."

A few minutes taken for a garden pilgrimage in our town brought this gardener home with some excellent ideas for improving a neglected corner. To others it may be a return to your own garden sanctuary to enjoy its beauty, as there are some beautifully kept lawns here.

The Turner Nichols lawn has been relandscaped, or carefully worked, as it is exceptionally pretty. Other lawns near this that have attractive features are Johnson's Brown's, Jefferies, and Mrs. Rufus Chamberlain's.

As you drive on 1st street, notice how well tended every lawn on the left side is. Then in another part of town you will be surprised to find the lovely plants, shrubs and trees showing much care at the George Green home. He must be using his leisure time working there. Mrs. Kerbow's lawn is very neat with its colorful bordered beds, trees and shrubbery. The Heltons seem interested in their lawn with its multicolored beds of flowers bordering the walls. Another continuous row of homes that unconsciously compete for the best-looking lawns are Strickland's, Mrs. Gray's, J. Perry King's, Duncan's, Taylor's, Clappitt's, and Greene's. It is so restful to see a continuous line of these entrancing spots, but it does mean much planning and work. However, a few minutes of effort each day can lend surprising enchantment after a few weeks.

New Squashes Table Treat

CROOKNECK, PATTY PAN SQUASHES AND VEGETABLE MARROW.

Summer squashes and vegetable marrows are becoming staple articles of the summer table after a slow progress towards popularity.

They must be cooked quickly and lifted and drained before they disintegrate. Served with butter they have a delicate flavor and are much liked when known. Another excellent way and one which preserves the substance of this rather intangible vegetable is frying in butter like eggplant, which it much resembles in delicacy of flavor.

The marrows are a variety of summer squash growing to huge size. They may be used when only a few days old and a few inches long. Boiled and served with a butter sauce, they are a revelation in tenderness and flavor.

The culture is the same as for cucumbers—warm, well-drained soil, thoroughly enriched and with a plentiful supply of moisture. The same army of bugs menaces the marrow and summer squash that attacks the melon and cucumber and winter squashes. Protect by the same methods and poisons. Plant marrows and summer squashes only after the ground warms up.

The Low Down FROM HICKORY GROVE

A feller, even in a half-way doze and with one eye shut, he can see some odd things.

And what I got in mind, is this excitement down there in Washington, about being scared about a shortage of electricity in case of war.

This country, she is oozing with power. The Government it has been building dams and putting up wires on every mountain top, river and creek. And some of them are now finished, like on the Columbia, and Washington is sitting up nights trying to induce or inveigle somebody into going out there and use the surplus—but nobody shows up.

And in Nebraska, the state is getting round-shouldered from power. And in Tennessee, they are about flooded since the Govt. edged into the business there, on a grand scale. But the Govt. pays no taxes—and the folks there, they have to make up the difference—and it is not so pleasant.

Trying to figure out why the stripes go round and round on a zebra, instead of lengthwise, it is kinda confusing, but trying to savvy what the Govt. will do next, it is more so.

Yours, with the low down
Jo SERRA.

FORMER CC STUDENT AND TEACHER NOW PASTOR IS VISITOR HERE TUESDAY

Rev. and Mrs. W. Y. Switzer and daughter, Mary Lou, of Wynnewood, Oklahoma, were in Clarendon a short while Tuesday morning to visit scenes familiar to the former who was a student in old Clarendon College around the turn of the century, and later a teacher here. Switzer joined the Methodist ministry a few years later and has served since that time mostly in Oklahoma where he has held important posts.

Rev. Switzer, known as "year-gin" to his intimates, was a printer back in the early days, and recalls that he printed the first issue of The Clarendon News, when the paper came into possession of A. M. Beville over thirty-five years ago. Visiting briefly with the News editor, Tuesday, the two exchanged recollections of having operated a print shop for old Polytechnic College in 1903, publishing the college magazine and the school catalogs and bulletins.

The Switzer family were here enroute on a short vacation trip back over territory rich in memories of the long ago.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Calhoun and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Milner of San Antonio visited Mrs. B. W. Chamberlain this week.

Mrs. Clifford Whitmore and son left Thursday for their home in Beaumont after a visit with her mother, Mrs. J. T. Sims.

Mrs. Lee Mears and daughter Emma Jean of Amarillo visited in Clarendon this week.

MEMPHIS PLANS LARGE RODEO JULY 27-28

110 HEAD OF TOP NOTCH ANIMALS TO BE USED IN PERFORMANCES

MEMPHIS, July 13—One of the best amateur rodeos in West Texas will be staged at Cyclone Stadium here July 27-28 when Hall County celebrates its 49th birthday with an annual Old Settlers and Cowboy Reunion.

Red Lyons of Byars has contracted to bring 110 head of top notch rodeo stock to Memphis for the two-day show. Lyons' stock is used each year in the head-stamford rodeo, and was a head-line attraction last year at Madison Square Garden in New York City.

Jess Slaughter, Sheriff of Howard County and a prominent Texas rodeo official from Big Spring will head the list of judges. With him in the judges box will be Frank Rhode of Throckmorton and Mill Miller of Snyder. Bob Corley, riding for Brown Saddle Company of Amarillo, and John Selman, foreman of the famous Swenson Ranch at Stamford will be arena directors.

CLARENDON METHODIST CIRCUIT J. G. Walker, Pastor

Not so very well satisfied with our services at McKnight Sunday. A little late gathering for Sunday school. About forty present. Several others came in for preaching. Looked like everyone enjoyed it. Don't know why we can't get more people out.

On the magic canvas of the stage it will paint in sweeping strokes the story of the XIT under the six flags of roaring empire—first the French, then the Spanish, then Mexico, then the Republic of Texas, then the United States, then the Confederacy and back to the United States.

It will echo the clanking armor and heavy tread of Coronado's men who crossed the XIT lands twice on their historic search for the Seven Cities of Cibola and the fabled golden houses of the Gran Quivira.

And on the story will run in a swift and colorful torrent of action and pantomime that will show the rise of the XIT, the swashbuckling days that went with its heyday and the development that has made the present possible.

In swift, dramatic action the "Saga of the XIT" will sketch in flashing, colorful style the history of this most famous of the world's ranches.

On and on the story will run in a swift and colorful torrent of action and pantomime that will show the rise of the XIT, the swashbuckling days that went with its heyday and the development that has made the present possible.

Donley Workers Well Informed On Unemployment Compensations

AUSTIN, July 12.—In spite of several "blind spots" Donley County workers are generally well-informed on unemployment compensation, Orville S. Carpenter Texas director of the jobless benefits program, said this week.

Employment service interviewers report that individuals do not confuse jobless benefits with relief. There is no connection, Carpenter affirmed. These Donley County workers thoroughly understand that jobless benefits are the right of the eligible unemployed. A man is probably eligible for benefits if he has earned at least $80 during a prior 12-month period, and has carried it from a tax-paying employer. As a rule, a tax-paying employer is one who customarily employs at least eight workers.

A key point in the jobless benefits program is that the individual must be physically able to work. Claimants in Donley County do not understand this,

Carpenter asserted. The individual formerly employed by a tax-paying employer, to receive benefits must be able to work and must be available to accept any suitable job offered.

Another phase of the program is not understood by Donley County workers. The tax for jobless benefits is paid solely by employers; workers pay no part of it.

Carpenter emphasized that approved claimants should report their part time earnings when filing claim. Failure to report accurately and completely shortens the time benefits may be drawn and makes the claimant liable for prosecution under state laws.

The director said unemployed workers could always obtain an explanatory pamphlet from their last employer. Every tax-paying employer in Texas has a supply of these bulletins which tell workers when laid off how to make claim for benefits. They also define the rules of eligibility.

WHEAT INSURANCE PROGRAM ABOUT TO BE OPENED

COLLEGE STATION — Field workers made ready this week to inaugurate a wheat crop insurance program for the 1939-40 season which is essentially the same as this year's program but streamlined with short cuts to simpler modes of operation.

Applications for 1940 insurance will be taken in the next two months.

The new program has these advantages:

1. It will be easier for growers to obtain credit or funds to pay premiums, as they can get advances for premiums against future payments to be earned under the regular AAA program.
2. The insurance is written in one operation: When the application is filed. After the grower has applied and paid his premium, nothing further remains for him to do except report actual acreage seeded and notify his local committee of crop damage.
3. Procedure has been simplified by placing more responsibility on county committees in establishing yields and premium rates and computing cash equivalent payments.
4. The base period for determining premium rates for individual farms is 1930-39, with which is blended data on a 13-year county base period. This is intended to smooth out the effects of unusual loss.

Almost 1,500 bushels of wheat have been deposited with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation already by Texas growers, to cover premiums for 1940 insurance. These deposits were made as indemnities were collected on 1938-39 insurance, according to a report from the state crop insurance office at Amarillo.

Cotton Ginning Laboratory Sought For The Panhandle of Texas

WASHINGTON, July 12.— A committee of Texas congressmen asked Secretary of Agriculture Wallace last week to approve the establishment of a cotton ginning laboratory to deal with special problems of ginning in West Texas.

While Wallace made no definite commitment, he turned the proposal over to the chief of the bureau of chemistry and agricultural engineering who is favorable of the plan.

Representative George Mahon, chairman of the committee, said the laboratory would be operated in connection with the one at Stoneville, Miss., and that with this connection no new legislation would be necessary. He pointed out that special conditions exist in Texas which cannot be created at the Stoneville plant and that because this laboratory is needed to work out problems in the area.

Most serious problem is that of static electricity which, he said, is "a serious handicap in operation of the gins" and which also is a "serious fire hazard."

Mahon pointed out that the Texas Extension Service estimates the gins in West Texas lose an average of 4 days per month in the season by shutdowns because of static. A laboratory would be expected to work this out and to study ways of improving fibers also, which would be of benefit to producers.

It was pointed out that if facilities available at Texas Tech were used, the laboratory could be operated without extensive allotments of money. The agriculture department estimated that it would cost $75,000 for the first year of operation.

TEXAS BUSINESS UPTREND DURING MONTH OF MAY

AUSTIN — Business expansion in Texas climbed during May with 145 new charters granted to corporations seeking to operate in the state, The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported today.

This number was a gain of 14.2 per cent over April and 18.9 per cent ahead of May last year. Total capitalization of the new concerns was up 5 per cent over April and 67 per cent above May 1938.

COUNTY ROAD MAPS BEING ISSUED BY HIGHWAY BODY

COUNTY ROADS, CITIES OWNS, LAKES, STREAMS ETC. ARE INCLUDED

AUSTIN—Accurate road maps for every county in the State are now available to the public at cost, according to Julian Montgomery, State Highway Engineer. These maps show all county roads, as well as State highways, in addition to railroads, cities and towns, streams and lakes, major parks and State and National Reservations. They also show all dwellings, oil and gas wells, churches, schools, and other structures visible from State or county road.

The maps are constructed on a large scale and are easily read. Their value to State and Federal agencies has been proved and they should be useful to the public in general, Montgomery believes. Most of the maps are on a scale of one inch to the mile, but for a few of the larger and less developed counties a scale of one-half inch to the mile has been used. The maps are printed on sheets of uniform size, 36 by 50 inches.

These maps were prepared by the Highway department, co-operating with the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads as a part of a federal aid project known as the State Highway Department's "Road Planning Survey, and includes a survey of all the public roads of the State, including county roads as well as State highways. Highway Department field men traversed every mile of road in the state, recording not only the location of the road, but also the position of roadside structures and other items of public interest that are included in the maps. Streets of incorporated cities and towns were not included in the survey. This is the first time in the history of the State that accurate road maps are available to the public at cost of printing and delivery.

AUSTIN — Dropping slightly from the April total, Texas building permits during May still stood far above those of May, 1938, The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research announced today.

Aggregate permits in some forty Texas cities were $7,684,224 a decline of 4.3 per cent from April but a gain of 29.5 per cent over May of Last Year.

AUSTIN — Only 19 Texas bankruptcies occurred during May, compared with 30 during April, The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research has found.

Liabilities of the bankrupt firms also shrank sharply, totaling only $199,000 as against $402,000 during the preceding month. Assets of the failing concerns were likewise small, $148,000 as opposed to $446,000 for April.

Only twelve commercial failures occurred in May of last year with liabilities of $241,000 and assets of $115,000.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD
Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts

The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or chew poorly—your stomach often pours out too much fluid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over.

Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes those little black tablets called Bell-sana for indigestion to make the excess stomach fluids harmless, relieve distress in no time and put you back on your feet. Bell-sana is so quick it is amazing and one 25c package proves it. Ask for Bell-sana for indigestion.

EAT SALT TO WARD OFF HEAT AILS, EXPERTS SAY

AUSTIN.—"The beating Texas sun these July days is beginning to take its toll in heat prostrations, from reports reaching the Texas State Department of Health. A simple precaution to help prevent heat cramps and prostration is to add a pinch of ordinary table salt to each drink of water you take.

Laborers, mechanics, farmers and white collar workers whose work causes them to sweat profusely, are in danger of having their body salt content become deficient with resulting heat cramps or heat fog. Salt is a prominent constituent of sweat; the body loses large quantities of salt during hot days.

In industry, a method of preventing heat cramps is to take a tablet of pure salt or a mixture of salt and dextrose with each drink of water. Workmen whose duties require muscular exertion should be especially careful to add more than the usual amount of salt to what they eat and drink.

Heat cramps are characterized by pains (cramps) in the abdominal region, headache, and in severe cases, by nausea and vomiting. The body temperature remains about normal, likewise the pulse rate. Body salt losses occur without the knowledge of the individual until there is a deficiency; then various muscles begin to cramp.

Making The Most of Pastures

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Texas Breeder-Feeder Association

The mower is conceded to be the best pasture-growing implement, and this applies sometimes to planted summer pastures (Sudan grass, etc.) as well as to permanent pastures where the mower keeps down weed competition with the grass. Both on permanent and temporary pastures the use of the mower cannot be dated by the calendar, but must depend upon the conditions to be met. In most of the Southwest the spring growth of weeds has already been mowed before now, or has been permitted to seed. Certain other weeds, however, come along later in the season second-hand mowers to use on the weeds and sprouts in the pastures.

There are times, however, when the mower is also important in the temporary pasture. Everyone knows that when Sudan or other hay and pasture grasses begin to get "stemmy"—that is when they shoot up the coarse seed stems and start making seed, they are less palatable to livestock and also less nutritious. We have all seen such a pasture where the foliage has been eaten off and the bare stems left standing.

If the pasture gets ahead of the animals which graze it—that is when they do not keep it grazed fairly close—the mower comes into play to cut back the seed stems and throw all the growth into new foliage instead of seed. Fresh growth has a higher protein content than old growth and is more palatable besides. It will pay to run the mower over temporary pastures even though there is not enough hay to rake and cure, whenever stock do not keep the seed stalks down.

After corn is laid by grass and weeds often spring up and grow luxuriantly. This late summer growth can be turned into cash by grazing the corn fields with sheep. Fencing off such temporary grazing has been greatly cheapened and simplified by the invention of the electric fence, which with one or two wires properly installed and energized (by battery or power) keeps the animals within bounds quite effectively. The sheep may destroy a small amount of corn, but the gains from the grass and weeds will more than offset the loss

RAINY-DAY SPEED SKIDS INTO ETERNITY

Paul Muni, Bette Davis Head All-Star Cast in 'Juarez'—A Memorable Film

Pursuant with their course of presenting entertainment of the highest calibre, the Pastime Theatre will have as their feature attraction Wednesday and Thursday, July 19 and 20, Warner Bros.' magnificent new historical drama, "Juarez" starring Paul Muni and Bette Davis, and a supporting cast which truly deserves the much abused term of "all-star".

After two months of careful in grain, and the corn ground will be in better condition than if the weeds and grass were permitted to grow unmolested, and seed the ground for next year.

Temporary summer pastures will also furnish more and better grazing if they are divided and the divisions grazed in rotation. Here again the temporary fence, electric or otherwise, pays well for the trouble and the moderate expense of installing. Dollars are lost every year on many Southwestern farms through failure to take advantage of the grazing available, when it is available. There must be animals to graze and fence to confine them, but there is no form of wasted opportunity so common, and which offers so great a promise for extra farm income.

The new agriculture which is growing out of the cotton crisis is a balanced agriculture, of which both crops and livestock are essential parts. We have too long thought of "agriculture" as crop farming and "animal industry" as a thing apart. True agriculture includes both, for nature's own laws demand that plants and animals be kept together in that God-given reciprocal relation by which each feeds the other and the residue returns to the soil—nothing lost.

planning and selection, another month during which some seventy camera tests were made, director William Dieterle finally chose the forty-three players to support Muni and Bette Davis.

That preliminary search for names and talent in itself was unusual. Ordinarily the casting office handles such details in work-a-day stride, seldom taking more than three days for the job. But neither Muni nor Dieterle, would have it that way. When planning a picture of such tremendous scope you must count on competent workmen.

It is for this reason that, on the cast sheet for "Juarez" are listed such famous names as Brian Aherne, John Garfield, Claude Rains, Gale Sondergaard, Joseph Calleia, Donald Crisp, Gilbert Roland, Henry O'Neill, Louis Calhern, Montagu Love, and Vladimir Sokoloff heading a cast of 1,188 people.

Aherne, reversing matters with the star in that he wears a beard while Muni goes clean shaven, portrays the ill-fated "golden prince" Maximilian Von Habsburg, who wore the phantom crown of Mexico. Bette Davis is his empress, the lovely and fragile Carlota. Rains plays Napoleon III, his consort is Miss Sondergaard as the Empress Eugenie. Film goes readily will recall their work together in "Anthony Adverse" and this is the first time they have been reunited since.

John Garfield, John Miljan and Gilbert Roland are included in the list, Miljan and Garfield as generals on Juarez's staff, one the shrewd arino Escobedo and Garfield as the fiery young Porfirio Diaz, in later years to become the president of his country.

MERCHANTS GYPED

Not that it will do any good as far as future gyp advertising promotions are concerned, but we will pass on to you a financial report on the recent home talent play sponsored by the Shamrock volunteer fire department, for what you may think it worth. Accompanied on her solicitations by Shamrock fire boys, the out-of-town coach and promoter sold $200 worth of "advertising" on 1,200 page circulars, the printing charge for which was $23.50.

The play grossed about $20 for the two nights. The fire boys netted about $65 from the deal. Are we right in calling these promotions "advertising gyps" instead of home talent productions? Local merchants paid $200 for $23.50 worth of advertising, members of the cast put in several days of hard rehearsing for a total gate of $20, and the fire boys realized a total of $65 for their efforts.

Wouldn't it have been better on everybody concerned if the fire boys had gone to the chamber of commerce and told them they needed $65 to help send members to the State Training School? It would have saved the Shamrock business firms $150 and members of the cast a lot of hard work. Remember this the next time a "production company" calls on your organization and inquires if you need to raise money for something. With the costly experience she has had, don't you think it about time Shamrock was graduated from the village class of chumps?—The Shamrock Texan.
