DONLEY PIONEERS PICNIC FRIDAY

MANY EXPECTED AT TATE GROVE FOR GATHERING

ALL COUNTY RESIDENTS FOR 20 YEARS URGED TO ATTEND OUTING

Out from the limbo of forgotten days, the joys and sorrows of yesteryears will live anew when hundreds of pioneers gather at Tate's Grove near Hedley Friday for the 9th annual picnic of the Donley County Old Settlers Association.

Although the requirement for membership places the duration of residence in Donley County at 20 years, many of the old timers have resided here a far greater number of years. To those will go special honors. Among them will be T. L. Lovelace, 101, Mrs. Maggie Bailey, 94 and Mrs. Inez Myers.

A partial list of those living in the county for 39 years or longer including some born in Donley County and others coming here as children, show Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Rains, S. G. Adamson, B. D. Hill, Mr and Mrs. E. H. Watt, R. W. Talley, Hugh Brown, Mrs. W. C. Bridges, Mrs. C. A. Wood, Mrs. S. A. Killian, Mrs. Ruby Glass, Mrs. E. W. Bromley, R. H. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. McCracken, Odos Caraway, George Killan, Mrs. J. M. Killan, Ike Rains, R. L. Lamberson, M. E. Bell, D. Curd J. T. Bain, W. H. Jones, G. M. Leathers, H. J. Derrick, Mrs. Sarah M. Stocking, Mrs. John Tate, Mrs. Floyd Bull, Mrs. James Heckman, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Butler, Frank Kendall, J. P. Devine, Mrs. G. F. Leathers, Mrs. O. C. Hill, F. G. Watt, Mrs. C. W. Williams, Mrs. W. E. Reeves, Miss Ola Curd and Kinch Leathers.

W. I. Rains, Hedley pioneer and president of the body since its organization, said today he expected a record crowd for tomorrow's picnic. Rains placed the number at around 400 judging from last year's registration of 342.

Membership ribbons have been prepared and will be issued with each registration. As usual no dues will be charged and the only requirements are that one brings a well filled basket lunch.

The Clarendon High School band will open the program at 9:30 Friday morning. E. H. Watt, pioneer of Giles, will follow the band concert with a welcoming address and J. Claude Wells, Memphis publisher, will respond.

A musical program and business session will complete the morning's program with lunch served at noon. The afternoon will be entirely devoted to pioneer talks and impromptu musical numbers.

Lelia Church Of Christ To Hold Revival Meeting

T. S. Teddlie of Dallas, noted Evangelist, will be in Lelia Lake for a revival meeting at the Church of Christ from Friday night, August 18 to Sunday night August 27. It was announced today.

Mr. Teddlie is well known in this section and is now conducting a revival at Lamesa.

Construction Begins On Radio Station

Ground was broken Tuesday as construction got underway on a radio beam station 2 1/2 miles west of Clarendon.

The station's beam will serve as a course marker for airplanes flying in this vicinity and is one of a few located in this section, according to Bernard O'Dea, superintendent of the construction.

Twelve men will be used for constructing a small transmitter house and erecting seven poles. The poles will reach fifty feet above the ground and will carry two loops and an antenna which will cross on the center pod. Completion is expected in about

They Head Donley Old Settlers

These four Hedley residents are greatly responsible for the success of the 9th annual Donley County Old Settler's picnic which will be held at Tate's Grove near Hedley tomorrow. They are, from left to right, Mrs. Joe Crawford, secretary of the body; Mrs. W. I. Rains who is the last survivor of the small group of women who decided to hold the first picnic, nine years ago; W. I. Rains, president of the organization since its inception, and Tom Tate, vice-president of the organization and one of the owners of the grove where the gathering is held annually.

Miss Ann Bobo, 84, Fractures Hip In Fall Last Thursday Evening; Without Food, Water for 24 Hours

After lying upon the floor of her home 24 hours, racked with the excruciating pain of a broken hip, tongue swollen and lips parched for lack of water, Miss Ann Bobo, 84, was this morning resting well at the Adair Hospital one week after her horrible experience.

Miss Bobo by preference has lived alone for several months after the death of a sister, Mrs. W. H. Condron. She also refused the services of a hired companion, choosing to do her own housework.

A niece, Mrs. Frank Bourland, who daily calls to check the aged woman's welfare and to bring her extra food, found Miss Bobo in a semi-conscious condition upon the floor where she had lain from about six o'clock one night until six o'clock the next. She was immediately rushed to the hospital where hope for recovery was given.

Unable to rise, Miss Bobo told a pitiful tale of long hours of torture, of hope and prayer as the evening shadows lengthened into darkness, to inky blackness of midnight, to pale grayness of dawn and so on throughout another day until the sun again fell low in the west.

Knowing her cries for help were futile, she turned to God for aid, and sometimes she slept, she said.

Mr. Woods is busy "laying by" the school grounds for the benefit of the boys and girls and goat-heads and stickers are going to be very few by August 28.

Lions To Attend Pioneer Picnic At Tate's Grove

The Clarendon Lions Club recessed their regular luncheon meeting Tuesday and with their families will attend the Old Settlers picnic at Tate Grove Friday, according to the club secretary.

Members of the club voted to attend the picnic in a body rather than holding the club's annual outing.

The committee in charge of the Lion's summer picnic will prepare the dinner which will be spread with the old timers. Transportation is also being handled by the committee.

Thompson Asks O'Daniel To Call Session of Legislature to Tax Oil For Old Age Pensions

AUSTIN, August 16. — Placing conservation of human beings above all else, Ernest O. Thompson — the fighting Colonel who saved Texas' mighty oil industry for its people — fervently appeals to Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel this week to call a pension-raising revenue session of the Legislature.

His non-political plea swept Thompson into statewide leadership of a campaign against saddling a harsh sales tax on the poor—main objective of rich major oil companies.

Thompson made specific recommendation to prevent "soaking" the common citizen in a letter to Governor O'Daniel. He wrote:

"A five-cent per-barrel tax on oil will provide sufficient revenue for all social security requirement which the people have voted.

"The oil companies want to saddle a sales tax on our people. You can save the day by keeping this one hundred million dollars per year in Texas and make a were heard throughout Texas.

"The big oil companies have cut the price of crude oil 20 cents per barrel. This cut in price of crude oil is wholly unwarranted because the stocks of all oil above ground is at a record low for 12 years and the demand for gasoline is at a record high."

In other words, the major oil companies boost the price of gasoline, which virtually every Texan must use, and then slash the price of crude oil.

This means a loss of one hundred million dollars a year to Texas. This extra one hundred million dollars will go into the cash drawers of the oil companies back east unless you act promptly to keep it in Texas. It is far better to care for the aged than to enrich Eastern millionaires on our Texas soil.

"I urge you to promptly call a special session for the purpose of providing funds for all social security needs." These funds "can easily be provided for by a tax on oil."

sales tax forever unnecessary in our state."

The fighting colonel hastened back to the capital city from Camp Hulen at Palacios, where he was in annual encampment as commanding officer of the 111th quartermasters' regiment of the Texas National guard, to make recommendation for a special session directly to the governor.

He is a member of the Texas Railroad Commission and chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission.

Money derived from an increased oil levy, Thompson assured the Governor, would be enough to pay fully the old folks, take care of penniless children, give the blind a guiding hand, and provide for teacher retirement.

His suggestion to the governor, offered in the spirit of "good neighbor"—came as thunder claps of an oil-price cut crisis

UNEMPLOYED ARE WILLING TO WORK SAYS THOMSON

CLAIMANTS MUST WORK WHEN AGENCY FINDS JOB OR FACE PENALTIES

"An honest desire to work and a spirit of cooperation with the employment service which finds them jobs," was the commendation this week on Donley County claimants for unemployed benefits by B. H. Thompson, who has seen 19 months service as supervising examiner for this district.

Thomson was specific: "Unemployment compensation is for the individual who is able to work, and who wishes to work.

In the Texas state employment service we have the assistance of the most modern and effective job finding agency in the United States. When it finds a claimant a job suitable to his ability, experience and training, the individual either takes the work or faces penalties imposed by law."

The supervisor pointed out that the job refusal penalty is the loss of from one to four benefit checks. "The law is air," he added. "It requires only that a claimant accept work suitable for him when all factors are considered. However, refusal to accept a suitable job when offered through the employment service or by an employer direct, or refusal to return to customary self-employment lays the claimant liable to penalty."

COMMISSIONERS TO ATTEND HIGHWAY MEET AUG. 30

DELEGATES HOPE EARLY CLARENDON TO TURKEY ROAD CONSTRUCTION

That Donley County will be represented at the Texas Highway Commission hearing in Austin, August 30, when the state body meets with delegates to consider proposals for a Turkey-Clarendon road, was assured Wednesday when the commissioner's court voted to attend in a body.

Although it is problematical that all commissioners will not attend, the majority of the court is expected to participate in the meeting.

Meanwhile plans are steadily going forward for obtaining the state's sanction of the road, the first important link in a hoped for Perryton to the Gulf route, as the Hall County commissioners court voted to appoint a jury to purchase right-of-way from Turkey to the Hall county line.

Odos Caraway, president of the Highway 18 Association, said delegates from the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce would also attend the rally along with road enthusiasts from towns along the proposed route.

COUNTY TAX RATE TO REMAIN AT 75 CENTS NEXT YEAR

Local tax payers will have no increased tax burden as far as the county levy is concerned, the commissioner's court decided yesterday in voting to set the tax rate at the same figure that has prevailed for the past number of years.

The court, in passing approval on the new budget, left the rate at 75 cents with the regular discount for prompt payments.

Despite the same rate the county is expected to receive more money due to an increase in tax rolls.

PASTIME'S 29TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED

DALLAS FILM BROKERS HERE FOR OCCASION SATURDAY, SUNDAY

Sunday, August 13, was a banner day for Homer Mulkey as it marked the 29th anniversary of the Pastime Theatre and the genial owner-manager celebrated the occasion with a big birthday party tendered thirty motion picture brokers from Dallas' film row.

The brokers, representing MGM Fox, Warner Brothers, R. K. O., Universal, Republic, Adams, Columbia, United Artist and Grand National arrived Saturday afternoon on a chartered bus and were guests of Mulkey's at a party at the Antro Hotel. Sunday they were given a chicken lamb and beef barbecue at the Blocker ranch northeast of Clarendon.

Lee Bell, Mulkey's assistant, was in charge of the barbecuing assisted by G. L. Green and Jack Gardenhire.

The special party and barbecue for the group was in appreciation of assistance in making the show a success during the 29 years of a business, Mulkey said.

A pioneer resident of the Panhandle and former XIT cowboy, Mulkey is also one of the oldest motion picture exhibitors in Texas with respect to continuous operation. He purchased the Pastime Theatre in 1910 and has operated the show under that name since that time.

Coming to Clarendon in 1904 after completing a course in photography at Effington, Ill., he bought a picture studio from Mr. Hartness. In 1906 came his first triumph in picture business when he won first prize for portrait work in a national contest.

He acquired the Pastime Theatre in 1910 from a Bill Clower who had run the show since 1906. The old Pastime was run in connection with the "Mulkey's Studio" for a number of years.

Mr. Mulkey opened the Queen Theatre as a B house in 1925 but discontinued the second show in 1929 when he installed sound pictures at the Pastime. In 1935 he again opened a B show under the trade name of the Cozy which is still running.

The present Pastime Theatre is known among the film profession as a Class A show for both sound and equipment. The films exhibited and the presentation ranks with cities much larger than Clarendon.

Outside his business, Mr. Mulkey has long been a civic leader of Clarendon. He has served as president of the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce, President of the Lions Club, Master of the Masonic Lodge, first president of the Hillcroft Golf Club, Chairman of the local Red Cross chapter during which time he distributed $1,800 cash and a half car of flour, and was a director in the Allied Theatre Owners of Texas. At present he is an Elder in the Christian Church, an office he has held for many years. He has also had every degree of Masonry including Order of the Eastern Star, Knight Templar, Scottish Right, Commander and Shriner.

In looking back over the years Mulkey reflects, "I owe much of my success to my wife who has always been my partner and very able advisor."

Helped Celebrate Pastime's 29th Birthday

Economic Highlights

Happenings That Affected the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual. National and International Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare.

When, on the evening of August 5, the weary legislators rang down the curtain on the 76th Congress of the United States, after what an AP dispatch described as "a final furious clash between a Nev. Dealer and Administration critics within the Democratic party," history had been made. And it is remarkable history. For the 76th Congress broke a Presidential grip over the legislative branch of the government that had held firm, showing only a few moments of weakness, for more than six years.

In the views of most commentators, business at large should be gratified with what Congress did—and with what it did not do. New and bigger spending plans were roundly beaten. "Experimental" legislative proposals died unhonored and unused in committee, and the few that reached the floor of either house were buried under an avalanche of "Nays." A definite start was made toward preventing future government competition in the field of private enterprise, and also toward limiting existing competition, particularly in the matter of electric power. By and large, Congress showed definitely that it wanted business recovery—and that it was willing to do anything within reason to achieve it, and was eager to put the quietus on anything which seemed to endanger it.

Typical comment comes from columnist Hugh Johnson, when he observed that the "belated revolt in Congress against unlimited spending and congressional insistence on its own Constitutional function to say how, when, where and in what manner public money shall be spent" should not be regarded as a peevish reprisal against the President, but as "a general recognition that for the past 6 1-3 years we have been in a process of silent revolution toward personalized government." And, he added, some of Congress' acts "are the most hopeful signs of a real return to prosperity and employment that we have seen in many years. Timid, idle capital should begin coming out of hiding and going to work to put men to work."

Congress' economy-mindedness was the most significant development of the dramatic session from the point of view of industry. And it developed with a rush in the closing weeks. Administration sponsored appropriation measures, including the much-publicized "self-liquidating loans" bill, were mangled beyond repair in committee. Appropriations actually authorized were, of course, extremely large—but they were much lower than many Administration officials wanted and thought necessary.

It is obvious that Congress' "rebellion" will have a considerable influence on political events of the future. It has heartened the Republicans, and given them new hopes of a great victory in 1940—though unprejudiced commentators seem to generally feel that the GOP had better hurry and find a personable candidate and begin building him up if it is to have an even chance of electing the next president. And it has caused immense rejoicing in the ranks of conservative Democrats, who want to dominate the next Democratic convention, and put a middle-of-the-road candidate in the field. It is a

GREAT TO BE AN AMERICAN

(Editor Gregory in Illinois Farmer)

A piece of political copy coming to the desk speaks in very disparaging language of "the privileged class," and I have just been trying to answer the question in my own mind, what is the privileged class in America?

In a country where a man has a right to own property, think and vote as he pleases, send his children to free public school, advance his personal fortunes in the limit of his energy, ingenuity and persistence, it is a privilege merely to be a citizen.

There are undoubtedly a few lazy, empty-headed idle rich who have inherited money they did not earn, and don't know how to use. But only a few. Most men who have a reserve of money and property have worked hard and constructively to get it, and most of them, in doing so, have made far more money for other people than they have for themselves.

I think it is reprehensible for propaganda writers thus to try to build class antagonism where none should exist. Just to talk loosely about "the privileged class" is the method of a destroyer—not a builder.

patent fact that while Mr. Roosevelt may not have lost his control of the party nominating machine, it is definitely slipping. One more successful congressional rebellion against the White House might make his influence comparatively negligible.

Time will prove or disprove that. But here's something you can bet on—next year's political wars, both within the major parties and between them, will be among the bitterest in our often-bitter political history.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By JULIAN CAPERS JR.

AUSTIN — The contempt in which Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel holds the Press of Texas is one of the singular phenomena of an administration that has been marked by the smashing of precedents.

Inspired, no doubt, by the spectacular success which rewarded his freakish radio campaign a year ago, the Governor is said by those in his confidence to regard the printed word as unimportant, and rapidly growing less important, in the conduct of state affairs. The governor held two or three press conferences after his inaugural, and then called the whole thing off. Since early January, he has not received the representatives of the newspapers. If a correspondent wishes to ask a specific question of the governor concerning any particular public matters, he may write out his question, and send it into the chief executive, by one of his secretaries. If the governor wants to, he answers. If he does not, (and he usually does not), he doesn't answer. Personal audiences have been granted only to a few correspondents, on rare occasions.

Why He Prefers Radio—

A great many people do not understand why the press has a vested right, well recognized by the statutes and the constitutions of both state and nation, to inquire into public affairs and the official acts of public servants. It is not that the newspaper business is singled out for any special favor or consideration that this wise provision has been made. It is because the press is the only articulate representative of the people — it is the only agency which can ask questions about matters of public policy, and which is equipped and inclined to present both sides of controversial issues.

The newspaper reporters, when they interview public officials, listen carefully to the statements of the governor, or whoever the particular official being interviewed may be. They accept his statements, weigh them, and then, when there are obvious omissions, or controversial issues, they ask the questions which these issues suggest, and record the answers.

Asks No Questions—

A radio microphone asks no questions. It merely takes whatever the governor (or any other speaker) pours into it, and transmits that to the people, or at least, to whichever of the people may happen to be listening at the moment. If the governor sponsors a certain piece of legislation, for instance, he selects all of the favorable aspects of that legislation, and discusses them over the radio. If he desires to tell half-truths, or downright misrepresentations, or if he omits explaining at all, certain sections of the legislation, the radio makes no complaint and asks no questions. Neither can the people who listen ask questions.

For example, Gov. O'Daniel in a recent radio broadcast, urged the people to attend the hearings upon the county budgets in their communities, in the interest of economy in government. The following week, the Automatic Tax Board, which includes the governor, the State Treasurer, and the State Comptroller, met in the Capitol—behind locked doors—and increased the State ad valorem tax rate 60 per cent. The public was not invited, nor permitted to attend and hear the board's discussion. Newspaper reporters, if there had been a press conference, would have asked the Governor to explain this inconsistency in what he tells the people, and what he does himself. The reporters didn't get to talk to the governor about the matter, and the radio microphone didn't ask any embarrassing questions.

Press Still Potent—

The radio is a comparatively new agency of communication, having come into general use only within the past decade. The press, since Guttenberg and Caxton began nearly four centuries ago, producing printed words in quantity, has been the agency which pioneered the breaking down of monarchies and dictatorships, and building up freedom and democratic institutions. Until printing came, there was virtually no liberty in the world; since it came, the printing press has been more potent than artillery in every battle where liberty has been at stake. The first act of every dictator has been to suppress or control the press. The pet hate of every demagogue has always been the newspaper. People have long since formed the habit of believing what they see in their newspapers. The psychologists tell us that a man remembers seven times as much of what he reads as of what he hears.

The governor, if he actually believes what those near him say he does — and his relations with the press would indicate that he does — may learn yet that the press is a symbol of a very sacred and jealously guarded right of the people of Texas.

Oil Crisis—

The oil industry in Texas today faces what many oil men declare to be the most serious crisis since the days of martial law in East Texas. Federal court decisions over-ruling the allowable granted in East Texas by the Railroad Commission to Rowan & Nichols, the later to the Humble, Texas largest producer of crude, were followed immediately by price cuts led by Sinclair and Humble. For the first time in over two years, East Texas crude dropped below $1. The public doesn't understand the more-for-gasoline and less-for-crude policy of the major companies at the peak consumption period of the year. The entire proration structure may be undermined as a result of the law suits, and if that happens, particularly if gasoline prices continue to fall, it seems inevitable that the Federal government may revive the movement so dear to the hearts of some of the present national administration, to take control of the oil business. The hot oil scandals in Louisiana, with indictments both the Huey Long political ring, and some Texas operators, has not helped the situation. Greed may yet kill the goose that lays the golden oil eggs in Texas.

Conservation practices that improve conditions for native wildlife are being observed on more than 50,000,000 acres of privately owned land under the AAA program, according to R. M. Evans, AAA administrator.

The number of daily newspapers in the United States is 2,032, a decline of 24 under 1938

LIBRARY NOTES

(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

The library has never served to better purpose than during this summer. Never have we had a more appreciative group of readers. 1,541 books were checked out in July. We have been happy to think how many of the leisure hours of the boys and girls of Clarendon have been spent in the enjoyment of a fascinating story. And how many of the older people of Clarendon and Donley County have appreciated and enjoyed our books. Truly "a library is the people's university."

The Federal Writer's Project, one of the New Deals many activities, has opened up unexpected avenues and assumed unexpected proportions. One of these is the return to popularity of paperback books. It seems that these have long been standard in Europe, but not for a long time have they been seen in this country. But a Pamphlet-of-the-Month Club, corresponding to the Book-of-the-Month Club, has been organized recently. Its August selection is "Economy of Scarcity: Some Human Footnotes." It is published by Co-operative Books, a new venture in Norman, Oklahoma, under the direction of Editor Winifred Johnson. It is the third pamphlet of the first series to be issued. It contains poetry and brief fiction by writers of the Federal Writers Project of Oklahoma.

"The Seven Crucial Years" will be the title of a profile of the New Deal by Arthur Crook, Chief of the Washington Bureau of the New York Times. It is due for publication in January.

The world situation today is being the incentive for the production of many books—many of them valuable, many of passing interest—biographies, histories, stories of all types. Among these recently are "Not Peace But a Sword" by Vincent Shecan, American reporter, personal historian and novelist. After personal observation of the grim march of events in Europe during the past year, Shecan has recorded his impressions with disgust and horror and contempt. His feeling against Fascism is said to be strongest in his chapter on the treatment of the Jews. He says, "The thing that puzzled me then and has continued to puzzle me is how this particular kind of persecution can be executed by modern Europeans living at a fairly advanced level of culture."

What Hitler has done to young Germany—the youth which he trains and from which he recruits his gangsters—is even more horrible in the long run than his persecution, spoliation and expulsion of the Jews.

Another book in this class is "Men Against Hitler" by Fritz Max Cahen, former German diplomat, now refugee from the Fatherland and head of the opposition to Nazism. He says 50 per cent of the Germans are against everything Hitler stands for and another 20 per cent are against the Fuehrers methods without being opposed to results of his policies. Mr. Cahen feels that war will not come now. He fled Germany in 1933 with Nazi police hot on his trail. He came to America about a year ago.

Still others dealing with the world situation are "In High Places" by William Brown Meloney, a satire on Hitler, "Dictatorship in the Modern World", edited by Guy Staunton Ford of the University of Minnesota. These are but a few of the many being written by the thinkers of our country in an effort to direct the thinking of the great mass of us all. Dr. Martin Gumpert is preparing a book to be published in the fall called "Hell Hunger". In this he purports to show that the Nazis today are suffering as intensely from the lack of proper food as if they had been at war for the past several years. Dr. Gumpert based his conclusions on the Nazis' own statistics.

Scarcely less numerous are every phase of our own problems. One of the latest of these is "American Problems of Today" by Louis M. Hacker, professor of history in Columbia University and co-author of the "Graphic History of the United States" which appeared two years ago. This new book is a thorough recapitulation of the New Deal from its inception in 1933 to the present. One reviewer says "Its complete objectivity should delight the reader who is honestly eager to know all he can about the policies, the organization and the hopes and ambitions of his government."

So scathing are the descriptions in John Steinbeck's "Grapes of Wrath" that we are told that numerous libraries, especially in Oklahoma and California have banned it, and recently the Buffalo Public Library has taken similar action. In a recent editorial the Dallas News comments that the fact that some of the characters use vulgar words is given as the reason, but there is occasion to suspect that the main reason is its exposure of social conditions. The article goes on to say that the basic truthfulness of the story is attested by a well documented book of non-fiction, "Factories in the Field," which was completed independently, by another author before the publication of "Grapes of Wrath." The squalid condition in which migratory farm workers live in the vegetable and fruit areas of California calls for exposure and remedy. And the article goes on to say that the purpose of libraries is to make books available, not to suppress them, which causes us to realize that there are several sides to every angle.

John Dos Passos is editing the work of Thomas Paine for Longman's Living Thoughts Library series to be ready in September. At the same time will be published Arnold Zweig's "Spinoza", Andre Maurios' "Voltaire" and Leon Trotsky's "Marx."

All of which sometimes makes us feel that to spend an afternoon with one of Faith Baldwin's stories or of Faith Baldwin's or Temple Bailey's or even one of John Dos Passos' own might be counted a waste of precious time. But still we are grateful for the Faith Baldwin's and all the pleasant, readable stories given us by such as she and feel rested and refreshed after such an afternoon—and invite you all to enjoy them, too.

Today's popularity of Doan's Pills, after many years of worldwide use, surely must be accepted as evidence of satisfactory use. And favorable public opinion supports that of the able physicians who test the value of Doan's under exacting laboratory conditions. These physicians, to approve every word of advertising you read, the objective of which is only to recommend Doan's Pills as a good diuretic treatment for functional kidney disorder and for relief of the pain and worry it causes.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove waste that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole body suffers when kidneys lag, and diuretic medication would be more often employed. Burning, scanty or too frequent urination may be warning of disturbed kidney function. You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out.

Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has a world-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Ask your neighbor!

AMERICAN BOY MAGAZINE COMPANION TO THOUSANDS

Hundreds of thousands of boys and young men read THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine every month and consider it more as a living companion than as a magazine.

"It's as much a buddy to me as my neighborhood chum," writes one high school senior. "THE AMERICAN BOY seems to understand all my problems and considers them in such a sympathetic and helpful way. It gives advice and entertaining reading on every subject in which a young fellow is interested. It is particularly helpful in sports: I made our school basketball team because of playing tips I read in THE AMERICAN BOY". Many famous athletes in all sports credit much of their success to helpful suggestions received from sports articles carried in THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine. Virtually every issue offers advice from a famous coach or player. Football, basketball, track, tennis, in fact every major sport is covered in fiction and fact articles.

Teachers, librarians, parents and leaders of boys clubs also recommend THE AMERICAN BOY enthusiastically. They have found that as a general rule, regular readers of THE AMERICAN BOY advance more rapidly and develop more worthwhile characteristics than do boys who do not read it.

Trained writers and artists, famous coaches and athletes, explorers, scientists and men successful in business and industry join with an experienced staff to produce in THE AMERICAN BOY, the sort of reading matter boys like best.

THE AMERICAN BOY sells on most newsstands at 15c a copy. Subscription prices are $1.50 for one year or $3.00 for three years. Foreign rates 50c a year extra. To subscribe simply send your name, address and remittance direct to THE AMERICAN BOY, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit Michigan.

Texas Cotton Farmers Rapidly Earning Title of "Bug Hunters"

COLLEGE STATION — Texas farmers are rapidly earning the title of "bug-hunters" the old term humorously applied to entomologists.

Cameron Siddall, assistant entomologist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, who held 69 "bug-hunting" meetings with cotton farmers during the first six months of 1939, says around 100 such meetings will be held before the end of the cotton season.

The primary purpose of the meetings, as Alston Clapp, Sr., secretary of the State-Wide Cotton Committee's Insect Control Section has pointed out in a letter to his co-workers, is not to persuade the farmer to use control measures, but rather to help him recognize conditions that warrant spending money on insect control.

TEXAS OUT-OF-DOORS

Raising quail by providing natural cover and a sufficient food supply has reached the point where there are now projects under way in 16 counties of the State, it is announced by Phil Goodrum, Director of Research and education for the Texas Game Fish and Oyster Commission. By providing sufficient food and cover for birds, it has been found they will increase appreciably without the State resorting to restocking.

The general plan of fencing areas ranging in sizes from one-quarter to five acres to prevent stock over-grazing the section is being followed in the majority of the counties in which the quail restoration projects are being carried on.

In the past the majority of the areas in the experimental projects have proved highly successful in quail raising and it is believed certain that most of the projects now under way will do a great deal towards restocking the birds in the various localities. The counties in which the projects are being carried on are Guadalupe, Clay, Brazoria, Jasper, Orange, Polk, Tyler, Wharton, Liberty, Bell, Falls, Colorado, Milam, Lubbock, Taylor and Harris.

The woods and plains of Texas abound with unusual stories, but the most unique occurrence observed recently was in Hudspeith county, where a herd of 25 antelope was seen chasing two coyotes for several miles.

State Game Warden W. D. Stubblefield was riding with Bob Ingram of El Paso along a draw on the old Mitchell Ranch when suddenly a coyote came up over the ridge with approximately 25 antelope in close pursuit. Stubblefield stopped his car. The antelope chased the coyotes over the other side of the ridge without noticing the men, who then drove to the top of the ridge and saw that the antelope were still pursuing the coyote. First one and then the other closed in on El Coyote. Suddenly another coyote jumped up with the first coyote and Stubblefield and Ingram continued to watch the unusual pursuit for approximately a mile. Then the coyotes and the antelope made a turn towards the car. When the antelope spied it they stopped, stood for a few seconds, then took out across the hills. The coyotes also disappeared rapidly — in another direction.

Bird migrations from the North into Texas has already started. Long billed curlews and upland plovers have been seen in south-central Texas. They are the forerunners of a number of other species of migratory birds which include not only many species of ducks and geese but song and insectivorous birds such as robins, starlings, meadow larks, mourning doves, several varieties of sparrows, warblers of several different kinds, and bun-

CARE OF PULLETS IS OUTLINED BY A&M EXPERT

CHICKENS THAT HATCHED IN MARCH BECOME OF AGE IN AUGUST

COLLEGE STATION — Pullets hatched in March come of age this month, so special precautions should be taken to insure good production, according to Geo. P. McCarthy, poultry husbandman for the Texas A and M College Extension Service.

Comfortable housing for the pullets should be the first consideration, McCarthy says, and he suggests half-filling the houses with carefully graded pullets. In addition to feeding green food, use of mash and scratch grain in hoppers arranged in the laying pens is also recommended.

"Visit the pullets after dusk to make sure they are roosting instead of huddling on the floor," McCarthy advises. "It is very important to watch the body weight of pullets for the first three months because pullets come into production early and loss of weight will indicate fall mooting," he said.

Garden Glances Presented weekly by the Garden Club

"America the beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners"

The recent rains have been helpful to the gardeners in supplying the green coating to grass and shrubs that hose and sprays could not give. The garden companions have been hoed and lawn mowers recently.

The glancer strolled to the eastern part of town a few days ago and discovered many old fashioned flowers blooming at the A. G. Lane home, and a small grass plot lawn. Next door the Armstrong's had a similar lawn with its gay posies. The Towler's lawn near by was larger and well arranged flower beds, shrubs, and trees greet you. There were several pretty lawns close by that this glancer did not know exactly to whom they belonged. On the highway going through that part of town the Decker and Water's lawns were trim and neat.

Near the business section the Mantie Graves' lawn was tastefully landscaped and Miss Lottie Lane's yard was quite well kept. Some stately dahlias of unusual height and gorgeous blossoms were noticeable at the east wall of the Duncan home. Several clumps of milk and wine lilies were reigning under the outside stair at the H. C. Brumley home. In fact there are enchanting landscapes and fascinating nooks anywhere you glance since the rainy season. Watch for the lovely althea shrubs with numerous blossoms to be seen in several lawns too.

AIR CAVALCADE TELLS TALE OF PIONEERS OF THE SKY

"Men With Wings" the new Technicolor cavalcade of the air, which will have its local opening at the Saturday night prevue and also Sunday and Monday at the Pastime Theatre, presents a bird's-eye view of the progress of flying over three decades in the story of three young Americans who devote their lives to the development of aviation. Its all-star cast is headed by Fred MacMurray, Ray Milland and Louise Campbell.

The story opens with the historic flight of the Wright Brothers over Kitty Hawk in 1903 and traces the progress of flying through the early heart-breaking years of experimentation, through the tumultuous war years, the fabulous boom days of the Coolidge era, the bleak years of the depression and down to the present of round-the-world flights at lightning speed.

MacMurray and Milland will be seen as two fliers who typify the birdmen who have made aviation what it is today. MacMurray is the devil-may-care adventurer who blazes trails across the sky but cannot stay in any one place long enough to make lasting contributions to aviation. Milland, on the other hand, is the patient experimenter, the farsighted man who builds the planes for tomorrow's fliers. Miss Campbell, in her first big dramatic role, plays the pioneer airwoman whom both love.

The Texas Safety Council, a state wide non-profit organization, engaged in promoting safety in Texas, last week elected Pierce Brooks of Dallas, former Director, as President. Geo. A. Davison, Jr., of Eastland was elected Vice-President; M. E. Gregory of Dallas, Secretary. Headquarters of the organization are in Austin.

The Low Down FROM HICKORY GROVE

Somebody is all the time trying to make us think they can maybe wave their hand, and the sun will come up in the west and set in the east. And we are fond of tricks, so we say O.K. Boss. And whoever can think up the sweetest idea, and we do not pay the same day—we play ball with him—and he is elected.

And lots of people are kinda leaning to the idea that we are never going to get over being a goof.

But the U. S. is a great country—and we can stand a lot—and times change. Like this Mr. Rip Van Winkle, he went to sleep for 20 years up there in the New York Catskills and when he woke up, everything was changed—and the lock dropped off his musket. And people, they had forgotten all about him.

And it will be likewise 20 years from now. And the Big Names today, our grandson, he will scratch his head and wonder. And he will not know whether they are a 7-day bicycle rider—or played second base—or maybe was just some politician.

Yours, with the low down
Jo Serra.

Reverend and Mrs. J. Sam Barcus of Archer City visited the J. T. Patman family a few days this week. They were on their way home from Colorado Springs.

MEN LOVE GIRLS WITH PEP

If you are peppy and full of fun, men will invite you to dances and parties.

BUT if you are cross, listless and tired, men won't be interested. Men don't like "quiet" girls. When they go to parties they want girls along who are full of pep.

So in case you need a good general system tonic, remember for 3 generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling thru" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps build up more physical resistance and thus aids in giving you more pep and lessens distress from female functional disorders.

You'll find Pinkham's Compound WELL WORTH TRYING!

GOOD FEED—POOR FEED

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary Texas Breeder-Feeder Association

Good crops of feed sometimes turn out to be poor food for livestock for no other reason than that they are not harvested when at their best, and not properly cured or conserved. All hay and dry forage crops are more nutritious and more palatable if harvested before maturing seed. Sweet sorghum for hay or bundle feed should not be permitted to stand until overripe, which increases the "wooliness" of the stalk and usually results also in the drying up of part of the leaves.

On the other hand, either sweet or grain sorghums which are to be used for ensilage should be permitted to stand until the seed are fully mature, since the seed constitutes an important part of the feeding value. The silo will preserve all its nutritional elements in the most palatable form, and ensilage will "keep" indefinitely without deterioration.

Most of the Southwest has produced good feed crops this season, and the next concern is to save them and turn them into money. All "roughage" must be fed as close to where it grew as possible in order to get the most value from it; on the same farm, so that the manure will go back to the land, is the best place. It is cheaper to bring the livestock to the feed than to haul the feed to the livestock.

There is no "perfect" feed alone; though good alfalfa hay comes about as near as possible, even it should be supplemented by carbonaceous feeds, either grain, grass or ensilage, to make a balanced ration.

Non-legume hay and ensilage must be matched up with protein elements, such as cottonseed meal, alfalfa or other legume hay; and when one is on hand the other element should be bought if necessary in order to make a balanced ration.

The "cash market" for corn and other feed grains is keeping many Southwestern farmers from profits they might as well have. Last year some farmers in a certain Texas community were selling their corn at thirty-five cents to forty-five cents a bushel, by hauling it to the shellers. Other farmers in the same community were feeding the same kind of corn to hogs and cashing it in the form of pork at twenty cents a bushel. Many of those who sold their corn on the "cash market" bought bacon from Iowa or Wisconsin, and probably never tasted ham the year around.

When we, in the Southwest, begin to wrap our feed crops up in hides, or turn them into dairy and poultry products at home, before sending them to market, we will live better on home-grown fresh and cured meats, milk, butter and eggs, and we will have more net cash income in the year besides.

Selling feed crops "in the raw" is poor economics for several reasons. Feeding them at home gives employment of time that would otherwise be wasted. Feeding them at home reduces the volume to be hauled to market. Feeding them at home spreads the income and labor over a longer period.

We produce, in growing cotton, one of the finest livestock feeds in the world—cottonseed meal. In combination with the forage and grains we grow, it should be used here, instead of shipping it to Europe or the Corn Belt to carry fertility to foreign soils. The most prosperous communities are those which are turning their raw products into butterfat, quality meat, and other consumable products instead of peddling their feeds as soon as harvested, and because more of their time is profitably employed than is possible in a straight, crop farming system.

The Breeder-Feeder program is nothing more or less than balanced planning—balancing crops with livestock and poultry, and vice versa.

CLARENDON METHODIST CHURCH

J. G. Walker, Pastor

The revival at Ashtola turned out well. The church was really revived. Seven making confession; and five of them joining our church on profession of faith. Superintendent G. T. Palmer did most of the preaching; and he did it well. He made many friends for himself and the church. He will always be remembered by this pastor and the Ashtola people.

One marked success of the meeting was the bringing the pastor and people closer together. Our work is so large that we have not had much time to visit members of each congregation. The past week furnished us this opportunity. Brother Palmer was with us part of the time; and all his efforts were to make the hearts of pastor and people one. The Lord will surely reward him for his earnest efforts.

Monday night of this week, we begin our meeting at Bray, Rev. Biggs of Hedley will be with us. Any time you can come our way and help us, we will appreciate it. We have to crowd our meetings together, and this necessitates pushing the work at each

REAL ESTATE GOES ON BOOM WITH THREE HOUSE SALES

Clarendon real estate boomed this week with three house sales reported during the first four days.

Henry Williams purchased through the Home Owners Loan Corporation a stucco house in west Clarendon where George Norwood has been living. V. W. Carpenter purchased the house vacated by Williams and Willard Skelton bought the home in which he has been living for the past several months.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD

Without Laxatives and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts

The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or chew poorly—your stomach often pours out too much fluid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sick and upset all over.

Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes those little black tablets called Bell-sans for indigestion to make the excess stomach fluids harmless, relieve distress in no time and put you back on your feet. Bell-sans is so quick it's amazing and one 5c package proves it. Ask for Bell-sans for indigestion.

Plans are going forward for the F. F. A. Poultry exhibit at the Tri-State fair next month, according to J. R. Gillham, Advisor, who said today approximately 300 chickens would be exhibited by the local chapter.

Several new breeds will be shown by chapter members and following the Amarillo exhibit the birds will be entered in both the open and club divisions of the State Fair, October 7.

Eldon Dyer of Pampa and Bert Smith visited in the J. W. Rhodes home this last week-end.

Personnel of NYA Home Changes

Five new girls were accepted into the Donley County NYA home this week and changes in personnel took place, according to Miss Eula Joyce Burleson, home residence project supervisor.

New girls admitted are Pearl Perkins, Emma Curd, Mary White, Myrtle Crownover and Florence Dyer.

Not connected with the home now are Shirley Mae Swan, Lara V. Drew and Margaret Perkins.

Miss Burleson said marriage, private employment etc. caused constant changes in the home's personnel.

W. W. Noblet and Kelly Chamberlain were in Amarillo, Monday.

WARNING GIVEN ON MISUSE OF COTTON QUOTA CARDS

GROWER MAY LOSE AAA PAYMENTS FOR VIOLATING AGREED REGULATIONS

COLLEGE STATION — Any cotton grower who misuses his marketing card to help someone else sell lint in excess of a marketing quota will lose his AAA payments, and so will his friend.

Warning to that effect was issued by the State Agricultural Conservation Committee here this week.

This is a new ruling. It is based on a provision that all or any part of a farmer's payments may be withheld if he does anything which tends to defeat the purpose of the farm program, Donald Cothran, Lamar county farmer and state committeeman, said.

Under marketing quota regulations, put in effect by a vote of cotton growers last fall, white cards are issued to farmers who have planted within cotton acreage allotments and who have carried over no cotton that would have been subject to penalty if marketed in previous years. Red cards go to those who have overplanted their allotments, or who have carry-over penalty cotton on hand.

The marketing quota is defined as either the normal or actual yield (whichever is larger) of the farm's cotton acreage allotment, plus any cotton carried over from last year which would not have been subject to penalty had it been sold.

Holders of red marketing cards are supposed to pay a penalty of 3 cents a pound on all cotton sold in excess of their marketing quotas.

The new ruling provides that if a cotton producer who holds a white card gins or sells cotton for a farmer with a red card, and the county committee finds the act to be in defiance of regulations, neither one of them will receive conservation or price adjustment payments under the 1939 program. Cothran said almost 98 per cent of the cotton farmers planted within their 1939 acreage limits. Cotton marketing has been relatively free of "shenanigans" this year, he reported.

las, has been loaned to the new organization during its formative period as administrator. Twitty, with Dr. J. H. Groseclose, Methodist Hospital, Dallas, as president; Dr. L. N. Markham, Longview, vice president; and Mrs. Josie Roberts, Houston, secretary treasurer, compose the official staff.

With the officers, the following hospital managers make up the board of directors: Miss Anna Temple, Scott and White Hospital; Mrs. Margaret Hales Rose, Wichita General Hospital; Mrs. Martha Roberson, Medical and Surgical Hospital, San Antonio; Mrs. C. E. Hunt, Lubbock Sanitarium, Lubbock.

The new service comes in answer to legislation passed by the last Texas Legislature. Offices will be opened in most towns and cities of the state.

Lubbock-Jack County Reunion August 25th

The Lubbock-Jack County reunion will be held at McKenzie State Park, Lubbock, August 25, according to W. A. Massey, Clarendon, who is in receipt of a letter inviting Donley County persons to the celebration.

Every former Jack County resident is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Alexander of Gladewater visited here this week in the home of Mr. Alexander's mother, Mrs. R. H. Alexander.

Jeff Wiggins of Fort Francis, Wyoming visited relatives at Hedley this week end. He went on to Fort Sam Houston for Summer maneuvers.
