PANHANDLE'S HIGHWAY PROJECT NO. 1 TO GET NEW IMPETUS IN HEARING

Tomorrow in Austin the largest and most imposing group of Texas citizens ever to represent the need of highway construction in this section, will bring to bear strong arguments for the early completion of the new "Panhandle Project No. 1," which is the North-South Highway from Perryton to Del Rio, with Donley County interest specially focused on the short-line sector of the route Clarendon to Turkey.

For years there have been ardent proponents of this route, and way back in 1934-5, the highway chairman, Judge W. R. Ely, was the first chairman to openly declare he was committed to the building of the gaps in the proposed route. Later the project has had the support of Chairman Harry H. Hines, and Chairman Robert Lee Bobbitt, both still members of the commission, under its new chairman, Hon. Brady P. Gentry, who hails from Tyler, and knows little of the real needs of this area.

There is a swollen, insistent demand for the early closing of the gaps, Clarendon to Turkey, Clarendon to Pampa, Pampa to Perryton, will all other gaps below Sweetwater taken care of in programs all ready set up on Highways 70 and 277, on into Del Rio.

Confidence is evidenced by the North-South enthusiasts, and the local Court, and chamber of commerce representatives expect to come home with some new and important commitments from the highway officials.

1940 is no doubt the year when many of the gaps will be paved, and one of the Southwest's most needed arteries of travel will be nearing realization.

RISING TIDE OF CONFIDENCE PRESAGES BUSINESS ADVANCE IN DONLEY COUNTY

Better business conditions in Donley County and Clarendon are about to be realized.

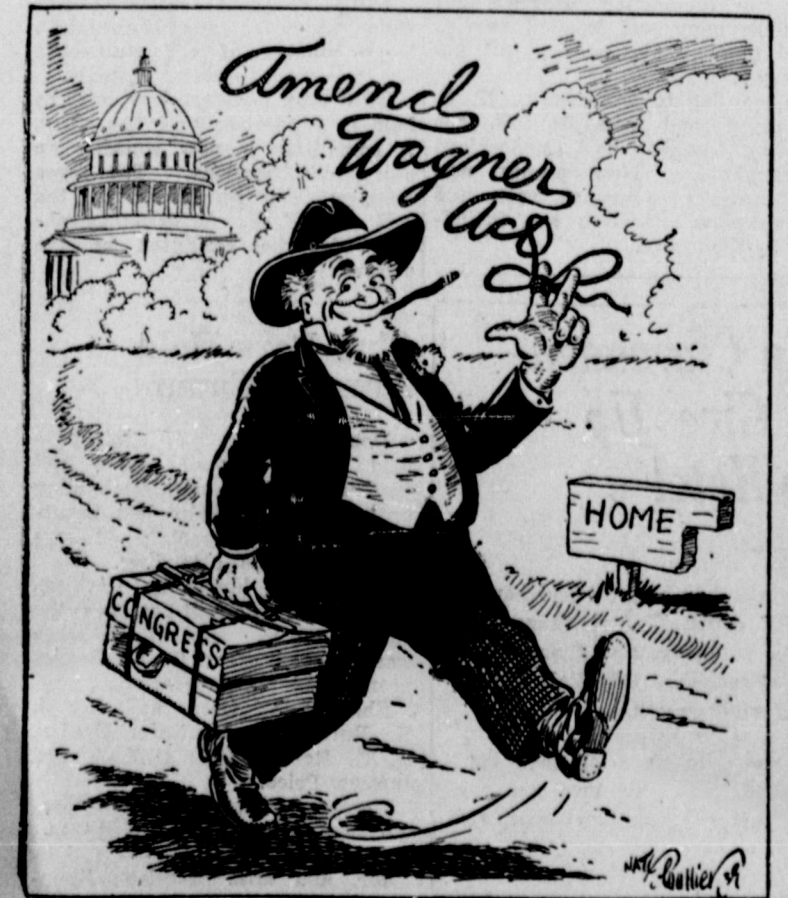

The News makes that statement because there is evidence of a rising tide of confidence among business leaders and citizens generally which always presages a business advance, and which is a requisite condition before the fruits of such an advance can be realized.

In the first place, according to Roger W. Babson and other conservative observers of national economics, there is already present a great improvement in the confidence of business leaders of America—a confidence which quickly crystallized when Congress became so definitely conservative and economy-minded, putting the brakes on government spending.

In the second place the old lane of low business has been with us so long that a natural revulsion against its restrictions is a natural reaction—the people are ready for a more active, more profitable era. The farmer is to have better markets for what he produces, with less restriction on how much he produces. The cowman seems destined to see a continued favorable price for the product of the ranges, and the ranges over the country haven't had such fine grass for many, many years. The business man is revolting from the hum-drum, profitless cycle of business operations and is destined to do something about it.

Here in Clarendon, residence property is in better demand with price levels rising as rents move up to a more favorable level. Real estate is actually beginning to show signs of life with several transfers already made. There is even interest in farm property and many trades will likely be made by New Year's Day.

Showing determination to strive for advancement in highways and general trade expansion, the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce has just added over thirty new members, and the heartening thing about the campaign was the confident, cheerful response received from every new contributor. There is an unmistakable feeling that the tide is rising and that now is the time to capitalize on unity and determined effort exerted in the most intelligent manner.

Better Business is coming this Fall — Confidence certainly presages it!

LET'S NOT OVERLOOK THE MAIN QUESTION

While the public seems so generally disposed to enter into the quarrel over the shift of Annual Thanksgiving Day to a week earlier, with promise of two Thanksgivings only a week apart in some sections, it would be well for Mr. Average Citizen to make sure that the main question over Thanksgiving Day is not overlooked.

The main question to the individual is—"Am I in the proper spirit of Thanksgiving, and will I observe Thanksgiving to My Maker for all my personal and National blessings?"

JUST A LITTLE UNFAIR

Some representative back East took the President to task over his statement favoring the observance of Thanksgiving Day a week earlier, and wired FDR to know when he intended to change Christmas to his—FDR's—birthday.

Ostensibly the President acted in the interests of a longer shopping season and better business in America, but really we ought to consider that America needs to advance her Thanksgiving and all her other obligations at least a week—maybe more.

Rusticating In Arkansas---

(Concluding Section of News Editor's Trip to Arkansas and Observations Made on Return Trip Through Southern Oklahoma.)

Our Kerville, Texas, grandson, unused to sales-tax tokens, brought quite a laugh during a short stop in Oklahoma, when he decided to invest a penny in tokens, a new sort of money to him. The Oklahoma store keeper could hardly understand, but finally got the point and a good laugh.

Enroute home, we stopped overnight with Rev. F. L. King and wife at Valliant, Oklahoma. Several years ago they visited in Clarendon and presented a most interesting service at the Methodist church based on their experiences as missionaries to the Kiowa Indians at Mountain View Oklahoma, and not being able to stop work after their retirement following thirty years service among the Indians, they have accepted a pastorate at Valliant, a small town in Southeastern Oklahoma.

Here the News editor had one of the high-light experiences of his life, when he was carried back into the forest to see Wright's Chapel, a stone church over a hundred years old, where Albert Wright, Presbyterian Missionary to the Choctaw Indians wrought a work seldom equaled in the nation's history. Wright was born in Massachusetts in 1788, and well educated as a physician of those early days and feeling the call to mission work accepted appointment to the Choctaws in Indian Territory in 1832. As the first white missionary to the tribe he arrived on the scene in October of that year and by December had organized a church and in a few months had seen over five hundred of the Choctaws accept Christianity and join his mission. With the aid of his new converts Wright built the chapel, a sturdy structure of stone with walls over two feet thick, and with his unmistakable New England origin stamped in the style and architecture of the church, which has withstood corroding time for over a century. Just across the little country road is Wright's grave covered by a huge single slab and on its surface is chisled a brief history of the missionary, as a man, a christian, a Minister and as a Physician. The most striking testimonial, and was to me the most remarkable epitaph it has ever been our privilege to read.

A few rods away is the government school for Choctaw Indian girls, Wheelock Academy, an institution founded upon the work of Dr. Wright, and according to Rev. King, one of the most successful Agency schools in all the list of such institutions. We have seen Washington's monument, Grant's tomb, the Lincoln Memorial, and scores of other state and national monuments to the great men of American history, but frankly, we have not seen such a record engraved on a tomb, as that on the grave of Albert Wright, 1788-1853. His work was monumental among the Choctaws. No man can estimate its breadth, nor when it will be lost in the projection of eternity.

Yes, the old world is a small place. Over in Valliant at a filling station I met the young owner, J. L. Mabry, who knew about the Lelia Lake country, and said he was a nephew of Mrs. Tomlinson of this area. Mabry, like most folks who know about Donley, had some kind words for Donley and her advantages. Autumn colors appearing in the forests of Arkansas and Southeastern Oklahoma lead many to the conclusion that an early Fall is imminent in 1939—some even declare we are to have a hard winter. Be that as it may, the trees are turning unusually early this summer, and there does seem to be a definite Fall tang in the air, giving force to the expectancy of an early Fall season this year.

Had a very fine trip all around, coming home with only one regret—and that was having had to miss the Donley County Old Settler's Reunion at Tate's Grove.

LIBRARY NOTES
(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

While many of our summer memberships are expiring, yet others are taking their places and the library continues to be a busy place. Often our own thought is expressed by some one with the question, "What would we do without it?" And our friends do not forget us. Mrs. Adam brought us a basketful of books the other day and Mrs. C. C. Powell sent us a box full. Such gifts are much appreciated.

So many worthwhile books are appearing these days and we have been able to secure quite a few of them. Pearl Buck remains an outstanding figure in the literary world. Those who followed Wong and Olan and the many other vivid personages in the "Good Earth Trilogy" will never be able to think of China except as depicted in their lives. And then, after writing eight books about people in China, Pearl Buck gives us her American story "This Proud Heart". She says her interest has always been in people, and her stories show that after all there is very little difference in them, their hopes and ambitions, joys and sorrows, loves and hates are very similar.

For four years Pearl Buck's pen has been busy with stories of her native land, America, but so intense is her interest in China and in the conflict between China and Japan that she has given us her most timely story, "The Patriot." The story begins in 1926 with the revolution which was largely among the students of China. Wu Iwan is the son of a wealthy home and has been reared in luxury. Yet he is fired with the spirit of the revolution and becomes most active in its secret movements. The home life of an aristocratic Chinese home is shown. Iwan's father discovers his son's activities in time to save his life by sending him to an old friend in Japan—and here we are given a vivid picture of an aristocratic Japanese home.

With rare skill and sympathetic understanding we are shown the contrasts and similarities in the peoples of the two nations. Pearl Buck had spent some time in Japan at the beginning of the revolution, and she gives us a beautiful picture of the love of this young man of China and the young woman of Japan, young people of the same social strata with very similar education and training. The gentleness and the dignity of this Japanese home is beautiful—the love life poignant and tender. But gradually this young Chinaman realizes that Japan is waging bitter war against his people and the realization comes that he must go help China. The loving understanding of the young wife grips one's heartstrings—and the keen realization of the fact that the great mass of people of both nations have no idea why they are fighting—they are simply obeying orders—a blind, unreasoning obedience—stirs one's indignation. The story ends in 1938 with the conflict still raging—and Pearl Buck leaves us with the feeling that a greater China may emerge. So skillfully has she handled it that she makes us feel that in spite of all, all men are brothers.

A new Chinese story which is getting attention is "All the Tomorrows" by Naomi Lane Babson. It seems to be a story of the changing China—a new generation which looks into the "Tomorrow."

The new Harper Prize novel is "Children of God" by Vardis Fisher.

The seventh volume of "The Rivers of America" series, a Federal Writers Project, is "The

Last Call For Winter Pastures
By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Texas Breeder-Feeder Association

The Southwest is particularly fortunate in the variety of pasture crops which can be grown for fall, winter, and spring grazing. Of course pasture crops are of little interest to a farm without livestock, but a farm without livestock and poultry is not a complete farm anyway. Away back in 1924, when cotton had been twice to four times the price of recent years, an Oklahoma investigation showed that farmers who depended on cotton for less than forty per cent of their income had accumulated property three to four times as fast as those who depended on cotton for seventy-one per cent or more of their income.

"As the percentage of income from livestock increases, the annual saving of wealth increases," and "the farmer who had less than forty per cent of his income in cotton and more than twenty-five per cent of his income in livestock and livestock products made the most money on the average." There are perfectly logical reasons why this was true then and is true now, which have been touched upon in these articles before.

In 1924 and for a long time afterward there were no government "benefits" for doing a good job of farming. Now the government actually pays farmers to do what good farmers were already doing. But the "benefits" from cotton, wheat etc. will not make prosperity for those who do not follow through and capitalize the land and labor released from cotton growing, by using both in some other profitable manner.

There is nothing wrong with trying some new "cash crops" or looking forward to "industrial crops" of which we hear so much since the "farm chemurgy" idea has been so highly touted. In the meantime it is within the immediate ability of every Southwestern farmer to improve his own condition by practicing the well-known and long proven principles of balanced farming outlined in the Breeder-Feeder program.

Crops and livestock belong together on the farm, and as shown above, offer greater promise for independence and farm prosperity than any new-fangled theory that has ever yet been invented. Now pastures, winter and summer, are the foundation of a balanced farm program in which man-labor is better distributed and better-paid, by turning more of the work over to the animals. And winter grazing depends on planting the right crops at the right time.

It is a common expression among practical farmers that wheat, oats or barley will pay for the seed and labor in the grazing alone, in most years. The grain crop is that much to the good. Says the Texas Experiment Station "for fall and early winter, barley is the best producer; wheat, oats and rye produce most grazing for winter months; while eye grass gives the most grazing for March and April."

Winter legumes offer another good use for the land and labor during the winter months. Crops such as vetch, winter peas, and some of the clovers, grow well in many sections during the winter and early spring, and when plowed under in the spring, improve the soil. Substantial increase in the yields of cotton have consistently resulted... in east and Central Texas when legumes are grown in winter and plowed under in early spring before planting cotton.

This holds true also in Eastern Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas, as thousands of farmers have proven by their own experience in recent years.

Winter pasture crops may be sown from now until November in the Southwest, but naturally the earlier they get started the more grazing they will provide.

4-H CLUB BOYS BUY 40 HIGH BRED GILTS

Forty-eight registered gilts have recently been purchased by Donley 4-H Club boys, County Agent H. M. Breedlove said today.

Of this number, forty are Hampshire hogs, directly or indirectly from the E. S. Ballaw farms. Others are Spotted Poland China and Durocs.

All of the gilts will farrow around September 1, and litters will be fed out for exhibits at the Donley County Fat Stock show, Amarillo Fat Stock Show and possibly other exhibitions.

Gilts and male pigs will be saved out of litters for breeding purposes, Breedlove said.

Registered males are being bought at this time and kept by 4-H boys for service of farmers in the county.

Random Reflections

By DICK COOKE

Six thousand years of civilization. Six thousand years of advancement in culture.

Yet in Poland today, old men, women and children are burrowing into the earth like rodents, in the hopes of escaping terrifying bombs; babies playing peek-a-boo with their mothers through the glazed fronts of gas masks in England, France; children from the ages of six to sixteen, playing at war with full military outfits and trained instructors in Germany and Italy; expensive windows being removed from cathedrals to protect them from invasion from the sky.

All this through the whim of one man. A brilliant, demagogic monster whose darting eyes above a blunt, comical, mustache and thin harsh face doubtless gleam with the self satisfaction of a man who at last has almost, reached his goal. A goal of ruthless power, born from an inferiority complex, nurtured by anarchy and developed through oratory, trickery and the double-cross.

Though many conflicting stories reach us it is generally agreed that Adolph Hitler was born on the "wrong side of the tracks". Born of a father whose life was made happy when he secured a uniform by becoming a customs guard, and a mother of questionable lineage.

The young Hitler hated the pomp and power of the royal families. He hated all those whose stations in life were above his; and he despised those of his equal—because they were his equal. His livelihood was gained by frequenting free lunch counters, maintained by the government, and infrequently painting postcards which were sold by his friends.

We reiterate these facts, or general beliefs, simply to substantiate our belief that Hitler can not, though it is possible he would like to, discard his life's ambition all at once. It is an obsession, and being such, he must carry it through, no matter what the cost to him, his people or the world.

It may be possible that this crisis will be passed without bloodshed, but bloodshed must follow as the "night the day". If the Fuehrer seems to back down now, it will, in all probability, be because he has thought of a better plan for a later date. The German people, en masse, are to be pitied also. They are the victims of mob psychology. A hungry, weary people, with a future so black they were forced to look backwards upon even more terrifying ordeals. Then Hitler, whose golden tongued oratory, softly pleading and fiery abusing, imbued him with a brightness that promised them that he alone held the torch to lead them to happiness and comfort. Can they be blamed if the torch he is carrying has blinded them to all else except the Fuehrer?

We in America have seen small-scale examples of the Hitler promises. Time and again a political candidate landslided into offices on promises that could never be filled. Promises that we know are hopeless—yet we hope.

We sometimes wonder if patriotism is backsliding in America and Texas. It is not, at least among the younger generation. Miss Mary Howren, instructor in the Clarendon schools, told us that she heard two small boys conversing. One said "Old Hitler may do that over there but boy Germany better not jump on Texas."

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Sasser, Jr. of Lubbock are visiting here with her mother, Mrs. John M. Bass, for a week.

The Millard Words and Miss June McMurtry were in Amarillo Friday.

LELIA SCHOOLS TO OPEN TERM NEXT MONDAY

ENROLLMENT EXPECTED TO SHOW INCREASE: FOUR NEW TEACHERS LISTED

The Lelia Lake public school will open the 1939-40 term Monday morning, September 4th at 9 o'clock and all patrons are urged to be present, it was announced this week by Superintendent Raymond Wilson.

A special effort is being made by the school board to persuade all tax payers to be present as the main feature of the program will be a financial report of the 1938-39 year.

Instructors for the coming year will include Charlie B. Archer of Canyon, coach and mathematics; Leota Rumpy, Clarendon, homemaking and science; Jewell Lucas, Brownwood, fifth and sixth grades; Mildred Webster, Memphis, third and fourth grades; Geraldine Pratt, Clarendon, English; Nilla Cook, Hooker, Oklahoma, primary; Raymond Wilson, superintendent and social science.

Archer, Misses Rumpy, Lucas and Webster are beginning their first year with the Lelia Lake schools.

Over 200 students are expected to enroll in the schools this year to top the 1938-39 term of 199. For the first time in ten years, superintendent Wilson says, scholastic population has shown an increase through the annual census. Also boosting the enrollment is the transfer of thirty-eight pupils from other districts.

The Lelia Lake district will operate two buses, to serve three districts; Lelia Lake, Fairview and Windy Valley. The routings will be almost the same as that of last year.

PLANS COMPLETE FOR OUTING WHICH WILL BE HELD AT BORGER

PAMPA, Aug. 30.—Plans have been completed for the big free all day Panhandle-wide community picnic which will be held six miles east of Borger, Labor Day, September 4.

A feature of the day will be a tobacco spitting contest for all users. Other features will be games and contests with prizes to the winners.

Garden Glances

Presented weekly by the Garden Club

"America the beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners"

The lawns are struggling valiantly with Dame Nature, and the dry and heat are leaving finger prints too. The lovely white chematis with its dark green foliage is in season. There are several beautiful vines in town. Mulkey's have a beautiful one on their fence.

The terrace at the Chase home is fresh and pretty topped by that pagent of colorful flowers. It is regrettable that flower lovers can't secure a yard view of her pyroconthous or fine thorne bush. It is a gorgeous array of orange berries and dark green leaves, and such a huge shrub.

The zina border at the side of the James Trent home is exceptionally pretty. Then too, the Clarendon Motor Co. deserves praise for those borders and window boxes of such pretty zinas. These plants require so much water that it is surprising they have remained so fresh.

The city park near the school is an asset to our town. It seems unbelievable so much could be done in a few months. There are numerous lawns of enticing interest, and as fall approached they will show to their best advantage.

J. G. Walker, Pastor

Meeting at Goldston was a good one. Notwithstanding most everyone had work to do; and this caused the week-day attendance to be small, yet most of the people took off from work early enough in the evening to attend the evening services. Brother Gordon surely brought some fine messages; and the people heard him gladly. Most of the Christian people of every faith were revived; and much conviction was in the hearts of many not professing. We had four professions in Jesus and all joined the church.

We were just ready to begin a real revival when we had to close—one week is too short to do your best in a revival. We appreciate the cooperation of all Christian people in the community. There is always strength in unity. The music was fine; and our best thanks to leaders. At nearly every evening service we had some one from Clarendon.

Our next meeting at Naylor is called off indefinitely. Will advise when we will try again.

Next week, September 10, the revival begins at Clarendon. Want everyone from Clarendon circuit who possibly can, to attend this meeting as often as you can.

Brother Gordon and Brother Palmer have both rendered valuable service to the Clarendon Circuit. We do not feel that we can repay them but we can make an effort to help same; and in doing so greater blessings will come our way. The giver, if giving from the heart, always gets a greater blessing than the receiver.

Seems to me that the Clarendon Church has such a spirit of helpfulness towards the rural communities. We believe that the Lord will abundantly reward you as well as him for such service.

Thanks to Brother Haler for going to Lelia Lake, Sunday.

MEN LOVE GIRLS WITH PEP

If you are peppy and full of fun, men will invite you to dances and parties.

BUT if you are cross, listless and tired, men won't be interested. Men don't like "quiet" girls. When they go to parties they want girls along who are full of pep.

So in case you need a good general system tonic, remember for 3 generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling thru" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps build up more physical resistance and thus aids in giving you more pep and lessens distress from female functional disorders.

You'll find Pinkham's Compound WELL WORTH TRYING!

IMAGINE a mountain of dollars—45 million of them! That is the cash invested in Electric Service facilities required to serve some 51,000 homes, business concerns and industries now on this company's 46,000 square-mile network of lines in West Texas.

A large part of this $45,000,000 was attracted to West Texas from outside. All of it is invested in three big power plants having a total capacity of 65,000 horsepower of electric energy, 2,700 miles of major transmission lines, 2,400 miles of distribution lines, and the many, many other items of equipment necessary to maintain modern electric service.

ALL the people profit from this investment. Electric rates have dropped over 70 per cent since this company built the first transmission line in West Texas. Taxes paid to support city, county, state and federal governments and to build schools, highways, parks, etc., amount to $9.75 per residential customer each year. Power plants each day consume 9,398,000 cubic feet of natural gas—making this company the largest individual consumer of one of West Texas' greatest natural resources. Hundreds of men and women are given employment. Other hundreds are small investors. So widespread are the benefits derived from Electric Service that ALL the people profit.

City Council Will Publish Periodical Financial Statements

The Stratford City Council is making preparations for periodical publications of the financial condition of the City in the Stratford Star to furnish information for tax payers. Reports have been completed for the first financial statement and publication will follow soon after members of the City Council return home from vacations.

Sale To Utilities Profitable

One of the most profitable moves made during the last few years was the sale of the City water and light plants to the West Texas Utilities Company, the report shows. Funds derived from the sale of the City property which have been placed on time deposit have paid all the utility expenses of the City and have cleared approximately $2,000.00 for the City since the plant was sold. The sale is also partially credited with lowering of the City tax from $1.65 to its present status of 80 cents. Tax exempt property which was sold to the West Texas Utilities pays some of the heaviest taxes to both the City and the local School of any in Stratford.

Crabb No. 1 Test Abandoned

The Shamrock No. 1 in Moore County, 17 the T. T. O. P.

The City of Stratford now has transmission line electric service. The first transmission line in West Texas was built by this company in 1914 and extended 16.2 miles from Abilene to Merkel. By giving better service at lower cost, it made obsolete the small, isolated light plant of that day and time and gave birth to a new industry that serves all the people.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

AUSTIN — Oil continued to occupy the center of attention in Austin at the week-end, as the end of the 15-day shutdown by Texas and five other oil-producing states, controlling 65 per cent of U. S. production, neared.

Hearings on application of the Humble to increase its allowable in East Texas by 45 per cent were closed during the week, as experts offered opposing formulae for prorating the world's largest oil field. Humble sought a higher allowable under authority of a Federal court order, but did not advocate an overall increase for the field. Other independents advanced varying theories for allocating production among wells in the field. The Railroad Commission closed the hearing, agreed to hear arguments later, and turned its attention to the September state-wide hearing, which was scheduled for Monday.

Commissioner Ernest Thompson, who is also chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact, has called a special meeting of the compact, at the same time, to discuss probable continuance of the shutdown, unless price cutting by certain majors—the real cause of the shutdown—are rescinded meanwhile. Several small independent crude buyers in Texas and other producing states have already rescinded the 20 to 32 cents a barrel slash which brought on the trouble. Meanwhile there were rumors a special session of the Illinois legislature may be called to enact a proration law. Illinois, running 300,000 barrels daily of unprorated oil, has been a major factor in the market disturbance which has upset the industry.

Etex Pressure Rises—

With a world war threatening again, and crude stocks reported near exhaustion, pressure in the East Texas field was reported by Thompson to have jumped over 31 pounds during the shutdown. This, he said, is a distinct contribution to conservation, and will prolong life of many producing wells materially.

The red-headed commissioner, who has taken the lead in the fight precipitated by the mid-continent crude price cuts, threw another curve at the major price-cutters, when he drew up an order for a hearing on pipeline rates, dated tentatively September 7, and cited sworn reports of major pipeline companies, showing $400,000,000 of net profits in nine years, as evidence of need for a review of pipeline rates, and of justification for his advocacy of a 5-cent a barrel tax on pipeline transported oil. He would use the revenue for pensions and other social security measures. Thompson also promised independent refiners short of crude the Commission would seek to obtain crude for them to operate with, "thus testing their good faith in the matter of reducing their stocks."

Mann's Rulings—

Attorney General Gerald Mann handed down two important rulings during the week. First, he held Gov. O'Daniel's veto of appropriations for eight examiners employed by the Life Insurance Commission did not prevent the Commission from appealing to the Board of Control for power to re-employ these inspectors, who are paid out of funds assessed against the insurance companies for supervision purposes.

A bitter blow to 300 University of Texas students was Mann's second ruling, holding that part-time jobs for students by state departments are not authorized. It has been customary to create a single job, then divide the work and pay between two or three students, each working part of the day. This makes many friends for the politicians who give out the jobs and also enables many students to get work to help pay their college expenses. Mann pointed out authority for "splitting" the jobs was left out of the detailed appropriation bills, and the practice could not legally be continued.

Appointments—

Appointments recently made by Gov. O'Daniel indicated that there is no great difference between the way it is done in business and the way it has always been done in politics. The Governor named F. C. Branson, building and loan association executive of Galveston, state banking commissioner. Branson was employed by the Maco Stewart interests, and reportedly had two years of a three-year contract yet to fill. His compensation as Banking Commissioner is $5,000. The Maco Stewart interests have been ardent and enthusiastic friends and advisors of the Governor since the election.

Mrs. Ella Mae Murphy, of Corpus Christi, an employee of the Board of Cosmetology, which licenses and supervises beauty shops, was named a member of the board, succeeding Mrs. P. A. Houston of Henderson. Mrs. Murphy, described as a highly capable employe of the board, is also the sister of a prominent public utility lobbyist, who led an active fight among the special interests group to pass S. J. R. No. 12, the Governor's sales tax constitutional amendment at the regular session.

Leon, the governor's banjo-picking foil on his radio program, is fulfilling his duties in a new position as disbursement officer of the Texas National Guard. He is stationed at Camp Mabry, easily available for the Sunday morning radio broadcast.

Austin Notes—

The folks who tried to get the Senate to call off its filibuster and pass a driver's license law with teeth in it at the regular session evidently knew what they were talking about. The Senate dithered along with the filibuster and killed the driver's license bill. During the first half of 1939 394 persons were killed in highway accidents in Texas, and 25 per cent of them were in accidents involving drunken drivers. Sen. Joe Hill, who opposed the sales tax, urged Gov. O'Daniel to call a special session and submit a natural resources tax to finance pensions. Rep. Lon Alsup of Carthage, blind House member, also urged a special session to take care of the needy blind. The lobbyists in Austin feel certain the governor will not call a special session, they say, but when the pension money runs short in another month or two, forcing reduction in the present $14 average monthly payments to 118,000 pensioners, it may be a different story.

IMPORTANT TO ALL WHO BORROW OR DEPOSIT

Assured strength of banking connections is a definite advantage to any business or individual. Banks should be conservative during periods of inflation and stoutly reliable in times of stress. For more than thirty years, in booms and panics, The Donley County State Bank has offered outstanding protection to depositors and borrowers. That policy will be maintained.

Claud Teer, Board of Control Head killed in San Antonio

Claud D. Teer, about 55, chairman of the state Board of control, was instantly killed Monday morning when struck by an inbound Southern Pacific train in the vicinity of the State hospital at San Antonio.

The state official, while on a customary early morning walk at the hospital eluded a woman nurse about 6 a. m., ran onto the track and was struck by the engine, according to Judge O. L. Wiley, who conducted the inquest.

Having suffered a nervous breakdown several months ago Teer had been a guest in the home of Dr. W. J. Johnson, superintendent of the state hospital, for more than a week.

Miss Nell Isabel, the nurse, in her efforts to pull Teer from in front of the approaching train narrowly escaped being struck, according to Wiley's information. Dr. Johnson said the chairman of the state board of control had been a guest in his home, on the hospital grounds, for "about ten days."

Deputy sheriffs reported they were told by an eye-witness to the tragedy that a man fully clothed, was seen to run from the hospital grounds, closely pursued by a woman dressed in the uniform of a nurse. The nurse was reported to have caught him, but the man broke away and ran onto the tracks.

Claude Teer was a kinsman of Eddie Teer, former Cameron Lumber Yard manager in Clarendon, but now of Vernon.
