POSSIBILITY FOR $75,000 OIL MILL IN CLARENDON SEEN

LOCAL PEOPLE TO CONSIDER PROPOSAL

OPPORTUNITY OPENS HERE THIS WEEK TO SECURE NEW INDUSTRY

Local business men, ranchers and farmers have before them this week a proposition which may bring a $75,000 oil mill to Clarendon to be ready for operation by Oct. 1st, if brought to a successful conclusion.

Two gentlemen well-known in the Panhandle and long identified with the cotton industrial plants are here and propose to build a mill promptly if proper local interest is found. While there is no financial demands made the mill men are offering $12,000 of the $35,000 common stock capitalization to local investors, as a ground floor business proposition. The stock is in $100 units, and there will be no preferred stock, and no indebtedness on the property when completed.

Briefly, the mill is to be a three-press hydraulic type, with a capacity of 50 tons each twenty-four hours. It will be powered with 70 h.p. natural gas engine, and have eight lifters in the equipment. Buildings will be of the new one-story sheet-iron construction, and two sites served by rail switches are available.

Three shifts of eleven men, each will be required to operate the mill during the busy season, which with the office staff will bring a payroll of some $15,000 per year.

It is estimated that the mill here would save Donley ranchmen and feeders more than $5,000 per year in cost of meal and cake, besides a better market for cotton seed.

Much local interest is in evidence here and if voluntary financial support is forthcoming, Clarendon and Donley County will have the mill and the benefits of home processed mill products of the first-grade this fall for the first time in history.

MEMPHIS ROTARY BRINGS PROGRAM HERE TUESDAY

MHS GLEE CLUB AND SOLOIST PRESENT PROGRAM FOR LIONS

Following a custom inaugurated here several years ago of exchange programs between the Clarendon Lions Club and the Memphis Rotary Club, the latter organization came here Tuesday with a program which drew hearty applause from the Lions in their weekly luncheon meeting at the Hotel Clarendon.

Headed by President Carl Perriam, the Rotary program consisted of a group of songs by the Memphis High School Glee Club conducted by Miss Mary Helen Hardin, teacher of public school music in Memphis. Two solos were presented by Cullen Chapman, talented young baritone of Memphis, to round out the musical program.

Superintendent W. C. Davis of the Memphis schools, delivered a

CITY GAS RATE CASE NOW IN AUSTIN COURT

DE NOVA HEARING NOW UNDERWAY AFTER SIX YEARS OF BICKERING

The long fought natural gas rate controversy between the City of Clarendon and the City Gas Company is at last in the courts of Texas with a de nova hearing now underway in the 98th District Court of Travis County at Austin.

T. F. Connally, mayor of Clarendon and D. R. Davis, local gas company manager are attending the hearing.

The case opened Tuesday, according to information received at the City Hall, and will continue until all points in the six-year-old fight are settled.

Should a verdict be returned in favor of the city, the gas company must reduce the local domestic rate from 70 cents to 51 cents per thousand cubic feet as set out in the recent order of the Texas Railroad Commission. Also under the order, the company must refund all monies collected over 51 cents since 1933.

In event of the above the company's only legal recourse is an appeal to the Texas Supreme Court.

LANDING FIELD TO BE LEVELED IN NEAR FUTURE

RUNWAYS AND BOUNDARY LIGHTS WILL BE INSTALLED SOON

With the contract for leveling and shaping the Clarendon airport scheduled to be let within the next few days, the field will soon have flat runways and day and night boundary markers, it was learned today.

Construction of a beacon tower was concluded several months ago and the course light has been in operation several months.

Directional markers and border lights, for night landing, will not be installed until the ground work is finished.

Work on the emergency landing field was begun in January under the direction of the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

JA WAGON PULLS OUT

The annual spring round-up of the JA ranch got underway last week when the chuck wagon and about 16 men pulled out from headquarters Saturday.

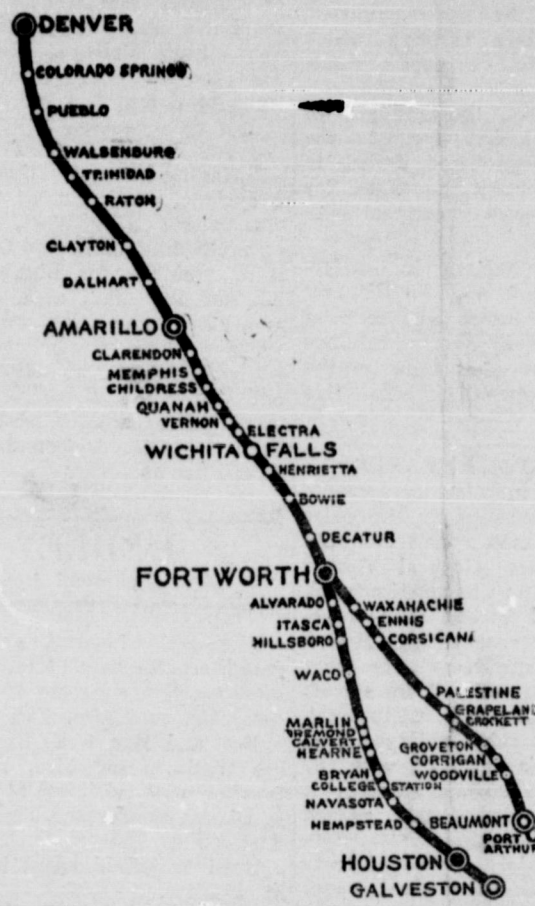

The round-up marks the end of winter feeding on the big spread.

short address on the growing responsibilities of the public schools in America, and called on the citizenship everywhere to give sympathetic interest to the public school leadership in the huge tasks before them. "Here Democracy must be thoroughly grounded in the lives of American youth, if Democracy is to survive," declared Mr. Davis.

A good attendance greeted the program and all Lions were hearty in their praise of the Rotary offerings.

Highway Boosters Will Convene Friday

C-G Shortest All-Weather Route

To help focus attention of the traveling public on the "shortest all-weather road" from Colorado to the Gulf, the C-to-G Highway Association has recently placed 60,000 strip folders in the hands of various Chambers of Commerce along the route. The folders carry some scenic views along the route, pictured above, and will be distributed through travel bureaus, hotels, service stations and through outgoing mail in cities interested in increasing traffic over this road. Besides the Map of Travel, the folders show interest between towns and interesting views.

News Prints Booklet For Lions Clubs Of Texas

This week the commercial printing department of the Clarendon News is turning out the Constitution and By-Laws of the Lions Clubs of Texas. The sixteen-page booklet is printed on a fine grade of bond paper in the artique finish, with a gold leatherette cover printed in purple, carrying out the purple and gold colors of the organization.

The job was awarded the News by the state secretary's office in Dallas, and will be distributed to some two hundred and fifty clubs in Texas with a total membership of over eight hundred.

This is the first issue of the constitution and by-laws for fifteen years, and the text was rewritten completely and recodified to bring it down to date, including all the amendments of recent years. Sam M. Braswell did much of the work of editing the new issue.

PLANS COMPLETE FOR LOCAL F. F. A. BANQUET MONDAY

OVER 160 DADS AND GUESTS EXPECTED FOR ANNUAL DINNER

With Robert A. Manire, state director of Vocational Agriculture, as the principal speaker, plans were completed this week for the second annual F. F. A. Father-Son banquet which will be held at the First Methodist Church next Monday night.

The date was originally scheduled for Thursday night but conflicting arrangements of the principal speaker necessitated the change.

Over 160 F. F. A. members, their dads and guests are expected to attend the dinner which has been set for 8 o'clock.

The menu will feature fried chicken from fowls brooded especially for the banquet by chapter members. The food will be prepared and served by members of the Donley County NYA Home Residence Project.

The twenty-seventh annual convention of the Colorado-to-Gulf Highway Association will be held in Amarillo Friday and Saturday, according to an announcement this week by A. L. Chase, director, of Clarendon.

Hundreds of members and persons interested in furthering tourist trade along the route from Denver to Port Arthur and Galveston, will attend.

The association has been carrying on for a quarter of a century in an effort to close the gaps in this interstate highway and to secure a single U. S. highway number for the entire distance. The latter goal seems near consummation, now that such action has been recommended by the Texas Highway Commission.

A delegation of Clarendon business men are expected to attend the meeting.

DALHART, April 26. — Elmer Iliott, Dalhart, president of the Colorado to Gulf Highway Association declared today that "if we go at it right we can make out of the C. to G. Highway a route that will be as popular, as widely known and as valuable to the towns and cities as any highway in the nation."

Mr. Elliott is already working on a plan to extend the present C. to G. route into an international highway that would lead from the Canadian Northwest to Old Mexico City. He will propose this change at the annual C. to G. convention in Amarillo, April 28, he said.

"There is now no route that serves the tremendous expanse of area that this road would serve," he said. "And in this day when modern transportation has annihilated distance, tourists think in terms of transcontinental and international routes."

Elliott believes there is a good chance of getting a single federal number for the present Denver-Gulf coast C. to G. route, and also for the international route if the latter proposal is approved by the Amarillo convention.

A Capella Choir From Pampa Gives Concert Sunday

The A Capella Choir of Pampa High School, directed by Miss Helen Martin, presented a most excellent program Sunday afternoon at the college auditorium at 3:30. A large crowd enjoyed the hour of music. The program was sponsored by the McDowell Music Club.

The choir was attractive in their new robes of green and gold, the school colors. They sang a variety of numbers, both sacred and secular. Three of these were original arrangements by Miss Martin. There are 45 students in the group. They have been acclaimed all over the state for their work and are recognized as one of the best in the field.

CAR LICENSE LAW TO BE RIGIDLY ENFORCED HERE

FRAGRANT VIOLATIONS OF FARM TAG USE REPORTED IN DONLEY

Certain that many Donley County automobile drivers are unlawfully using farm license plates, highway patrolmen working in this territory said this week immediate steps must be taken to correct this error.

Formed as a flagrant violation of the registration laws, the patrolmen said that a vehicle registered as a farm truck can be used by the owner only to carry his own poultry, dairy, livestock products, etc.

The law does not permit a farm truck to be used as a passenger vehicle at any time, and plainly and positively does not allow persons who live in town, even if they may own or rent a farm, to register their automobiles as farm trucks and use them as pas-

DEEDS PAVE WAY FOR NEW SOUTH 18 CONSTRUCTION

COMMISSIONER REEVES WILL HAVE ADDED FOUR MILES RIGHT-OF-WAY

Successful efforts on the part of County Commissioner G. G. Reeves are culminating this week when the last deed for right-of-way through the farming section on Highway 18, south from Clarendon, before dropping off into the ranch country, has been secured with the exception of the Grady property, which has been promised by Saturday.

This right-of-way totals four miles from the end of the farm-to-market paving to the breaks, and opens the way for another farm-to-market project of some four miles length. Since details of right-of-way in the JA and Commerce Trust Co. (Word Ranch) properties seem in a fair way to be solved, prospects are much brighter for the closing of the gap from Clarendon to Turkey on the state designation, than ever before.

Commissioner Reeves, accompanied by Roy Blackmon, Gilbert and Henry Mann, returned from Wichita Falls Friday of last week, where they secured the right-of-way through the H. H. Taylor holdings.

The usual price of $30 per acre for farming land in Donley was paid for the right-of-way secured by the county.

LOW BIDDERS ON LOCAL HIGHWAY WORK ANNOUNCED

COCKE AND BRADEN TO GET CONTRACT FOR COUNTY WORK

Cocke and Braden, highway contractors, of Amarillo, were low bidders on five state highway projects in the Panhandle, which included asphalt work in Donley County, when bids were opened at Austin Tuesday.

The bid of Cocke and Braden on about 51 miles of highway included Donley County Highway No. 18, four miles of new surfacing and highway No. 370, 12.5 miles of sealcoat.

The Highway No. 18 project runs north from the Forest Sawyer farm to the Dale farm in the Goldston community. Highway 370 work will begin at Clarendon and reach to the Armstrong County line.

The actual awarding of the contract is expected within the next few days at a figure slightly over $40,000, it was said at the Amarillo office of the highway department yesterday.

The projects also include: Oldham county, Highway No. 66, Potter county line to Claude, 14.7 miles of sealcoat.

Carson and Armstrong counties, Highway No. 370, Potter county line to Claude, 14.7 miles of sealcoat.

Members of the two lodges in Amarillo will aid as hosts at this first regional meeting.

PREPARATIONS BEING MADE FOR 'HOPPER WAR'

FEAR INFESTATION WILL BE WORSE THAN THE 1938 PLAGUE

With a vast army of grasshoppers sweeping down from the west coast and reports of the first hatching of local eggs, County Agent H. M. Breedlove this week ordered the decks cleared for action in the annual spring campaign against the pests which last year damaged Donley county crops approximately $27,970.

With 626 sacks of bran and 16 drums of poison on hand, the agent said mixing stations at Clarendon and Hedley will be opened as soon as farmers and ranchers report the first signs of grasshoppers.

The poison should be applied as soon as the eggs begin hatching in order to prevent a plague as in 1937.

Breedlove said he believed infestation will be as bad this year as in 1938, "if not worse," when 18,000 acres of county cropland was covered with poison. The 18,000 acres, however, was only 70 per cent of the infested area.

With 650 farmers and ranchers participating in the program last year, the agent estimated at least $135,000 in crops were saved that would otherwise have been heavily damaged.

Some farmers have mistaken white fleashoppers for grasshoppers, the agent said, but there are few grasshoppers already hatched out in this county.

FEAR SLEEPING SICKNESS PLAGUE DUE IN DONLEY

DISEASE EXPECTED TO BE PREVALENT AMONG HORSES

Many horses in this section will soon be stricken with "sleeping sickness," County Agent H. M. Breedlove warned today in a statement to farmers and ranchers advising vaccinating of their stock.

The disease spreads rapidly through indirect contact and all precautionary measures should be taken before the fatal malady gets a foothold, he said.

Approximately 100 cases were reported last year, Breedlove said in stressing the importance of inoculation, adding that "it is not much trouble to vaccinate immunity and it might save a horse."

HIGH SCHOOL BAND CONCERT SUNDAY

The Clarendon High School Band will play a concert Sunday afternoon on the court house lawn, Director Ray Robbins announced today.

Over forty members will participate in the program which will begin at 4:30 o'clock.

THIS PLAN MIGHT WORK

If the present session of the Legislature should close without some practical plan of financing the social reform program ordered by the people, the Governor would do well to refrain from calling a special session for about thirty days.

Let the members of the Legislature go home and face the people who sent them there to represent them. When they come back into special session there shouldn't be much more delays for the voters will have impressed on them in no uncertain manner what they think of the buck-passing that has been going on in both houses on the proposed tax measure.

Face-to-face remonstrance will do more good than a thousand letters.

RETURN TO RELIGION URGED BY THE GOVERNOR

It causes no great commotion when ministers and church leaders plead for a return to religion as the only feasible route out of the desperate condition the world finds itself in. It is entirely another matter when a governor of the state voices the demand, as did Governor W. Lee O'Daniel in his broadcast Sunday morning, and should cause some very serious thinking on the part of those capable of sober thought.

The Bible is full of instances when a supposedly Christian nation fell victim to the temptations of the day, and evil days always came to them in consequence. When called to repentance, and when humbly they did repent, always God "healed their land" and brought happiness and prosperity to the people.

God hasn't changed, though many people have changed, and the route back to national prosperity and contentment is not by alphabetical spending or any device of the politician. The return to simple faith and practice is all that stands between us and real prosperity and individual contentment.

OUR NATIONAL RELIEF SET-UP

Apparently the conservative Democrats and the Republicans in Congress are convinced that the existing system for relief should not be continued indefinitely. What to do about it is a different matter. But a better relief system is the big political row that is growing between the White House and Congress, as the second term of the President begins to count the months.

Every part of the country is pouring complaints into Washington, particularly about costs of administering relief. The conclusion seems to be plain that nothing short of a revision of the entire system will be fought for.

That is why Congress refused to meet the President's wishes and cut 50 million dollars off the supplementary relief bill.

The whole subject will be studied during the next few months in investigations by Congress. In these investigations the New Deal and the President have political advantages over those who want changes. That is because the changes cannot be secured unless some system of state and local control, or a reform in the Federal system is backed by the people of the country.

So, citizens should be patient, and do their part towards the poor and needy. The best way is to help find jobs for 10 million people who have been unable to support themselves during recent years.

SIC 'EM!

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

AUSTIN.—The members of the Forty-Sixth Legislature this week were squarely up against the kicking on the pensions question. Weeks of debate and bitter controversy have led them to the inevitable conclusion that there is no Santa Claus. If the state is determined to legislate money out of the pockets of one group of its citizens, and put it into those of another group, somebody has to pay. Obviously, the ones who must pay are those who work and earn and have something to pay with.

Strategy of the sales taxers has led down a long, long trail, beginning with a transaction tax, and down through a sales tax, and finally to a gross receipts tax, which has aroused so much protest from those who most vigorously opposed a sales tax that the sales taxers hope they can force enactment of a constitutional amendment proposal, to submit the sales tax issue to the people, and complete their original program of freezing the burden of caring for the aged and other underprivileged onto the backs of the people of small income, and put it into the constitution, where it cannot easily be removed.

Whether the strategy will work or not is problematical. All observers agree the sales tax scheme has gained much strength from it. The Senate will take the House gross receipts tax plan, amend it by eliminating exemptions up to $45,000 for small merchants, possibly modify it otherwise, and send it back to the House, hoping the House will refuse it, and act favorably on the tax amendment previously passed by the upper House. That is the program. How well it may work out, only time can tell.

HOUSE GOES CONSERVATIVE

Some of the boys who shouted from the housetops for maximum pensions for everybody last summer have changed their minds. That was proved in the House, when that body, generally supposed to be most liberal with the other fellow's money, twice passed acts that would limit liberalization of the present pension law merely to elimination of children's and other relatives' support as a factor in determining need. Instead of another 100,000 old folks, this provision, which was once incorporated into the Senate's Welfare Department bill, and again adopted as a separate measure, would add only about 35,000 new pensioners, and would require for pensions only about another $10,000,000 instead of $40,000,000 or $50,000,000.

And the economists in both Houses held their lines intact, as four of the major biennial appropriation bills passed the House, and one—the department bill—rode through the Senate—without the addition of much money above the figures recommended by the sub-committees. The Senate restored about $450,000 of the $600,000 a year cut from the department of public safety's budget, but only after the finance committee won a moral victory. The state police had the benefit of about $600,000 a year of income from fees and licenses this biennium, for which they gave no detailed itemization. When the committee asked the department to submit a detailed budget showing how this money was to be spent, the department failed to do so. The committee simply cut out that much income. The department, frantic at loss of over $1,000,000 for its next two years' operation, quickly "got in line" and submitted a detailed budget, as demanded by the committee. But a big hole through which possible waste of public funds could easily occur was plugged.

In the House, the strength of the school lobby, one of the state's most powerful failed to get any important increases for the rural aid and vocational education bills.

What will happen in conference committees may be difficult to say, but it seems apparent at this writing that several millions of savings are coming out of the regular appropriation bills this year.

TWO VEToes FEARED

The legal monstrosity permitting the barbers to fix the price of a haircut met a deserved fate when Attorney General Gerald Mann held it unconstitutional. Gov. O'Daniel vetoed it, but before the veto reached the House, the latter requested it be sent back for "correction," in an effort to make it constitutional. Good lawyers think this can't be done, and it is doubtful, with the short time remaining, whether it can be amended and passed again at this session.

Gov. O'Daniel threatened veto of a soil conservation bill, sponsored by Bailey Ragsdale, Arthur Terwater and others in the House, and Moffett and Sulak in the Senate, presaged a like fate for the measure. O'Daniel recommended several departments, including the department of agriculture and others, into a conservation department. The Legislature refused the suggestion, created a new department to administer soil conservation, and sponsors of the bill claim O'Daniel is ready to retaliate by vetoing the conservation act.

REALTORS MAY GET UMBRELLA

Real estate agents, one of numerous groups seeking to get under a governmental umbrella by requiring a license to sell a lot, won in the Senate when a bill "regulating" them passed third reading in the Senate, 21 to 9. It failed to muster the four-fifths vote for suspending the rules for final passage.

LOAN SHARK BILL HANGS FIRE

Threatened with the fate that many good bills will suffer in the dying days, sponsors of the bill to put an end to the oppression of the poor by loan sharks now frequently charge up to 400 per cent per annum to make.

TURN OTHER CHEEK

The Mexican government seized $400,000,000 worth of British and American oil wells in that country a year ago, and defiantly refused to pay a cent to the owners. But the Texas Legislature has passed to engrossment a bill offering free tuition to a number of students from Mexico and other Latin American nations, at Texas State College. Rep. E. H. Thornton and S. A. Isaacks led a fight to defeat the bill, but lost.

WEST IS OUT

Swinging like a weather-vane in a cyclone, sentiment of the Senate caught Jim West, Houston oil multi-millionaire and O'Daniel's third nominee for highway commission chairman, at a low ebb, and his confirmation was rejected. Many here now believe O'Daniel will submit no other name, but will make a recess appointment after adjournment. Some think John Wood, incumbent, may remain a holdover.

THREE HUNDRED MUSICIANS EXPECTED FOR CAPROCK EVENT FRIDAY

MEMPHIS, April 26.—Three hundred or more musicians representing bands from eight or ten Panhandle cities are expected to be in Memphis Friday, April 28, for the third annual Caprock Band Festival, G. W. Johnson, director of the Memphis high school black and gold band announced Wednesday.

Bands from Kerrville, Quanah, Clarendon, Floydada, Vernon and Memphis are already planning to attend the annual affair. James Neilson, director of the Oklahoma City University Band, will conduct a massed band concert on the evening of the 28th is the climaxing feature of the event.

The festival is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and the Memphis High School. It is an invitation affair, with only high school bands eligible to take part. A cornet solo by Director Neilson, one of Oklahoma's leading band masters and an excellent musician, will feature the evening concert. A small admission charge will be made for that event, Mr. Johnson said.

All bands will go on parade in a marching fiesta around the city square Friday afternoon. The square will be roped off and given over to the various organizations for their maneuvers.

The Black and Gold Band from Memphis High School will be host to visiting bandmen during the festival.

CLARENDON METHODIST CHURCH

J. G. Walker, Pastor

Had two good services at Lelia Lake Sunday. Went to Naylor in the evening. Not a large attendance but good interest. We are running a revival at Lelia Lake this week, beginning Monday evening and continuing each evening through the week closing next Sunday night. Brother Gordon, pastor of Clarendon Methodist Church will do the preaching. Your pastor is leading the song service. We want to make the song service interesting to all, and we are soliciting the help of all singers of every faith and order. The better the singing the better the preaching, closing the fellowship and with another and the Lord Jesus.

Let's think about the good old days of long ago, when Lelia Lake Methodist Church was a live church, and a fruit-bearing church. How the people loved to attend her service. The house was filled to the overflowing. The preacher was inspired by a large audience, and good singing. The Holy Ghost attended his preaching. The hearts of the Christians were filled with joy, and terror seized the hearts of many unsaved and they cried out, saying men and brethren what shall we do to be saved? Then they fell in the altar and prayed through to God. What is the matter at Lelia Lake today? Has God changed? No a thousand times no. Like King

Saul we have turned away from God's ways, and have gone on in our own ways until God won't hear us any more. King Saul in his desperation 'eft off trying to speak to God and went down to Epdor to consult a witch. She called up the spirit of Samuel. Saul said to Samuel's spirit: "I am sore distressed 'or Phillis-tires make war against me and God has departed from me." Samuel said: "Wherefore then dost thou ask of me, seeing that God has departed from thee." Then Saul's destiny was known to him. He had fought against God too long. He had crossed over the line of mercy. The hand of God was against him. We believe the hand of mercy is still extended to us. Who knows how much longer? Why not turn from our own way and seek the Lord before we step across the dead line? Everybody cordially invited.

LIBRARY NOTES

(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

A beautiful book reached us this week, a gift from the Commission of Control for Texas Centennial Celebrations. It is entitled "Monuments Commemorating the Centenary of Texas Independence," and was compiled under the direction of Pat N. Neff, Walter F. Woodruff and L. W. Kemp, publication committee, published by the Steck Co., of Austin.

The first few pages are given to the report of the commission and this contains the history of the entire movement. This is followed by some beautiful pictures of the exposition buildings, with a brief history of each, and then the Memorial Museums located on the campuses of the colleges of the state, the cost of each and its special points of interest—and other museums of note. Two pages are given to Gonzales, two to the Alamo. Illustrations of the many statues erected with the inscriptions on them are given, beginning with such a splendid one of Stephen F. Austin in San Felipe State Park. That of Texas' first governor, James Pinckney Henderson at San Augustine is very striking and equally so is the one of R. E. B. Baylor, founder of Baylor University at Waco. There are two of Ben Milam, one at Cameron and one at San Antonio, each very characteristic of the man who cried, "Who will go with Ben Milam?" That of Lamar with a book under his arm is typical, also—it is at Richmond where he died. Statues have been erected to a large number of the Texas heroes. The San Jacinto monument of which we have heard much these last few days, is very beautiful. The name of each man who took part in this battle is inscribed on the shaft. The pioneer women on the campus of the Texas State College for Women at Denton is magnificent. David Crockett is still saying "Be sure you are right, then go ahead."

Many of the county monuments are especially beautiful. I thought I would tell you of all the most interesting things—but they are all most interesting, and I must desist. The large number of historical markers, grave markers and highway markers are of surpassing interest—and remind us of the fact that we have a great state with a great history. We who are so far from the centers have scarcely realized the tremendous amount of work done by the commission. The Mothers' Club and the Book Club have each remembered us with checks lately for which we are very grateful. The help of the clubs has made possible many of the new books which our readers are enjoying.

The April report from public libraries of twenty-seven cities in the U. S. gave the following as the ten most popular books of fiction: "Rebecca," Daphne Du Maurier, "All This and Heaven Too," Rachel Field, "Disputed Passage," Lloyd C. Douglas, "My Son, My Son," Howard Spring, "The Citadel," A. J. Cronin, "Gone With the Wind," Margaret Mitchell, "The Yearling," Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings, "The Mortal Storm," Phyllis Bottome, "Song of Years," Bess Streeter Aldrich, "And Tell of Time," Laura Krey. You will realize that I am glad to tell you that every one of them are on our shelves. In non-fiction we have five out of the ten—"With Malice Toward Some," Margaret Salsey, "Listen, the Wind," Anne Lindbergh, "Alone," Richard E. Byrd, "The Importance of Living," In Yutang, "Grandma Called It Carnival," Bertha Damon.

The leading booksellers in 75 cities report "All This and Heaven Too," in first place in sales, "Wickford Point," by John P. Morgan in second place, "Tree of Liberty," by Elizabeth Page third, "Rebecca" fourth, "The Patriot," by Pearl Buck fifth, "Disputed Passage" sixth, "Song of Years" tenth, and "Three Harbours" by F. van Wyck Mason eleventh. The five non-fiction mentioned above are all in the rapid sellers in this list also.

The outstanding recent autobiography seems to be that William Lyon Phelps. In a review by Stephen Vincent Benet we are told that he is the best loved teacher Yale ever had. When he first began as an instructor at 27 and looked about 18, he came to his first class and was told by the waiting freshmen, "Oh, the prof. isn't here yet." That young instructor was a revolutionary. He was the first instructor to teach literature to Yale freshmen, the first American professor to present a course on the modern novel at a leading American university, the first American critic to introduce the great Russian novelists to an American audience. But he has always used his own methods. In his autobiography he has included letters, from the great all over the world—and in most of them he is "Dear Billy."

This largely tells the story of his greatness. John Erskine, professor emeritus of Columbia University, New York City, is to speak in Canyon this week at West Texas State College. For three years the college has tried to get Mr. Erskine there. For many years he taught English in Columbia and he was educational director of the AEP during the World War. He is to give selections from his own works—which include "Private Life of Helen of Troy," "Enchanted Garden," "Gallahad," "Adam and Eve," and "Penelope's Man." The last two are on our shelves. It seems that Mr. Erskine is working on a new novel to be published in the fall to be entitled, "Give Me Liberty," and Patrick Henry will be his hero.

Eve Curie, author of the biography of her mother the late Madame Curie, recently arrived for a visit in the U. S. She seemed equally surprised at the success of her books and at the report that she was one of the world's best dressed women. Barry Benefield's first since "Valiant Is the Word for Carrie," is to be published in May. He calls it "April Was When Began." We have three of his books, including "Valiant Is the Word For Carrie."

Dorothy Canfield Fisher whose "Seasoned Timber" is a present bestseller recently condemned the United States as a non-book reading people in a speech made before the Annual Inland Empire Education Association Convention at Spokane, Wash. She said that in her trip of three days and two nights across the continent by train she saw only one person reading a serious book—that a large percentage of our population read nothing above the comprehension of an eighth grade student as given in many of the present day magazines, which people were reading all around her in the train. When Cornelia Otis Skinner brought out "Excuse It, Please!" it was at once hailed as the funniest book of the year, because she has that rarest of talents, an ability to bring to life situations which are common to us all, and in laughing at herself, to make us all laugh at ourselves. Recently we get her latest book, "Dithers and Jitters," and after reading it one of our good friends gave us a copy of "Excuse It, Please!" The latter has already had a sale of over 40,000 copies. Miss Skinner has been known on the stage and over the radio. Only recently has she turned to writing but she is already acclaimed one of the leading feminine humorists of the country.

Lush Pastures in Hot Months

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary Texas Breeder-Feeder Association

For a few months in spring and early summer native pastures in the Southwest usually grow luxuriantly and livestock thrive accordingly. As the heat of summer grows, often intensified by insufficient and irregular rainfall, the native pasture grasses slow up, and sometimes dry up, and grazing animals quickly show the effect of changing from lush, green feed to scant, dry feed.

This is especially bad for dairy cows and the weekly cream or milk check drops with discouraging speed. A dairy cow should have plenty of time to lie up in the shade and ruminate, in order to keep up a good milk flow. If she has to spend four or five hours grazing a "fill" or the sun becomes unbearably hot before she gets a "fill" she hasn't much time left to manufacture milk. Cows will not stay out in the hot sun and graze more than enough to assuage the pangs of hunger, than when it is cool. It is the surplus feed above the hunger margin that supplies the milk flow, if any.

With native pastures, and in fact all except the very best improved permanent pastures, the grazing begins to decline at the very time when it should be best. Sudan grass is ideal for filling out the midsummer deficiency, for it will be at its best after the spring growth of native grasses begin to decline and since the seed is cheap, there is no excuse for failing to plant enough to keep the cows happy during the hot months. Sudan is adapted for temporary pasture throughout the Southwest. It will produce more tonnage per acre in its short season than any other annual grazing plant we have. It will grow on all our soils, and as someone once happily phrased it "sudan grass laughs at the drought and rejoices at the rain." In short it will produce under a wide variety of soil and rainfall conditions, and while it is resistant to poor soil and light rainfall, it responds luxuriantly to good soil and ample moisture. Sudan grass may be planted at any time after cotton planting time, when there is sufficient moisture to germinate the seed. It may be drilled for cultivation with whatever implements are available, and experimental data shows that it thrives best under cultivation early in the season. The rows can be as close as 18 to 24 inches, or as wide as the standard width for corn and cotton cultivators. The preference is for about half the width of cotton rows, for either grazing or hay.

Drilling with a grain drill or broadcasting is not recommended at all if it is to be grazed, and if sown for hay, broadcasting is adapted only on very fertile land where there is likely to be plenty of rain. By and large, experience indicates that row-planting with some cultivation, is best.

Since we are concerned mainly with providing summer pasturage to keep up the milk flow and supply other livestock and poultry with a vitamin-rich forage all summer, let's be sure some sudan is planted, sometime this spring. If there is a fenced field for it so much the better, but if not, a temporary fence can be run when grazing time comes. This may seem like a lot of trouble to take for the sake of a few months grazing, but it will pay off in the milk checks, the egg yields, the thrift and growth of every animal and fowl that has access to good green forage when the native pastures fall off.

Garden Glances Presented weekly by the Garden Club

"America beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners."

The flowers and shrubs have struggled defiantly against daily sandstorms, and freezes in advanced spring. The results of their efforts are practically unbelievable unless one takes the time off to glance at the numerous hedges of plummy spirea, iris and tulips that are displaying their normal beauty in dozens of yards here.

Some lawns show banks of spirea with gorgeous clumps of iris or gray tulips planted at their feet. Several have scarlet verbenas at the feet of the spirea.

One is tempted to travel the alley route to secure a view of innumerable tulips in Mrs. Mollie Grey's back yard and the flowering crab and beauty bush in Mrs. Guy Stricklin's back yard. The beauty bush is the largest I have ever seen, and a mass of small pink trumpets. The front lawns of these homes are lovely too, but more somber in appearance.

The Dr. Evan's home and Odiss Caraway home have lawns that are beautiful with evergreens and hedges. I did not glance into the back yards to see if there were iris and tulips growing. However, I noticed the back gate open at Mrs. Tom Goldston's and found a number of colorful posies in bloom.

These glances may be encouraging to some of the gardeners who might feel that rewards for efforts are not satisfactory this spring. Just remember that you have not struggled any more than the sand whipped and frost bitten flowers have to display their vanity. They seem to be flaunting their colors gaily. "Cheer Up."

CONTRACT CLUB ENTERTAINED TUESDAY

Mrs. Ruth Kennedy entertained the Contract Club Tuesday afternoon at her home. In the games of bridge, Mrs. Sam Dyer won high score. Pretty spring flowers decorated the house.

SENIOR-COLLEGE PICNIC IS SUCCESS

The senior and college students came to school with happy faces last Friday morning for it was the date set aside for the senior-college picnic. At 9:30 they piled on trucks headed for Dripping Springs. At 12, a delicious picnic lunch was served to the crowd, after which they returned to their fun.

Highlights of the affair: The Senior girls being glad that the college went along.

Johnny Rhodes begging to stop at Claude.

That picture taken of Root Reed in a tree proved that he is the "missing link."

Billy Latson certainly takes after his ancestors.

Rebecca Eanes and Gail Adams seemed to get along all right. Jessie J. and Lamar just could not keep up with the others. Wonder why?

Pat Morris being called "High Gear Pat" caused quite a lot of excitement.

"I'm tired. I'm hungry. I'm thirsty," was the general cry.

Madeline Taylor's excuse of being cold, actually worked.

Pat Slavin had such a terrible time finding him a girl. Ethelyn looked lonesome and wished that the juniors had been invited.

SENIORS REHEARSING PLAY FOR MAY 5

The Seniors, now busy rehearsing their forthcoming production, "Life Begins at Sixteen," a comedy in three acts, predict that this attraction will easily top anything produced by former Seniors.

Mrs. Knorpp, directors of the play, says "I have rarely seen a play that so faithfully mirrors life as it really is and, at the same time, is so consistently amusing throughout. The entire cast took to 'Life Begins at Sixteen' like a duck takes to water. If I know anything about them, they are having the time of their lives, just as the audience will when they get a chance to see it."

"Life Begins at Sixteen," as its title denotes, deals with our very youngest generation in a sprightly and amusing manner. The Senior class is presenting this comedy success on Friday, May 5, at the High School Auditorium.

THIS-N-THAT

For information concerning any high school student or his private affairs, see Ernest Eady.

Miss Adams is really having a time keeping up with all her rivals. Miss Warren now has been added to the list. Dona have yours truly a hint so strongly that one could practically hear wedding bells.

Why was Thelma Hardin so thrilled when a certain good looking boy held her hand so long looking at her new wrist watch.

Led Jay was the center of attraction at the banquet last Tuesday night when the crowd discovered that he carried a gallon jug.

Johnnie Grady claims it was love at first sight with the Quail girl. What does this mean?

Pat Morris really gets around. It was a boy from Oklahoma, but now it's that Jay boy.

Jelly and LaVerne, Jack Reeves and Lois Marie really made a foursome last Friday.

Margaret Pipes, better known as Maggie, still sits at home waiting on that Pampa boy.

CREED OF CLASS 39

We believe in the Clarendon High School, an institution of learning for boys and girls of Donley County.

In our board of trustees who conscientiously, painstakingly and competently has selected for us some of the best teachers in the state of Texas.

We believe in our highly esteemed superintendent who by his simple and courageous manner, prudent counsel and firm decision and execution with the cooperation of the faculty has made our school one of the outstanding high schools of our state.

We believe in our dearly beloved principal, through his faith in humanity and sympathetic understanding of the problems of youth has helped hundreds of boys and girls to find themselves.

We believe in our staff of teachers who through their spirit of cooperation, loyalty and faithful loving service has guided our footsteps along the paths of knowledge.

We believe in the student body at large.

We believe in our staff of Class of 1939. In our opportunity to successfully find our place in the world. We believe in our final reward, the opportunity to leave the world a better place for those who follow after us.

SOPHOMORES

Within a few weeks we hope to think of ourselves as juniors; however, being sophomores has been splendid.

Last fall when we first entered school, not accustomed to being a student in the Senior High, we felt a little strange. But the friendly spirit of our teachers soon put us at ease, and in a short time we were working together in a fine way.

Some of our classwork may have been difficult, but none of it has been dull. No other sophomore class has contributed more to athletics, the honor roll or to various other school activities than we have. Next year we hope to make even better juniors than we have sophomores and hope to enter the class of 1941 without the loss of a single member.

LIONS-LADIES BANQUET

The second Lions and ladies banquet of the year was held in the home economic department in honor of the district governor of Lions, Mr. Omar Burleson, Tuesday evening, April 18. The tables were decorated in talisman robes and tulips with the color scheme of the room yellow and red. The nine girls serving were: Thelma Hardin, Marjorie Beverly, Claudine Haley, Madeline Kelly, Pearl Derrick, Betty Jo Bartlett, Katrina Carlile, Mildred Phelps and Dorothy Jean Bogard. All were dressed in the conventional maid costume of black dress and white apron, and head bands. Those working in the kitchen were: Rue Zell Ryan, Louise Tucker, Yvonne Smith and the sponsor, Miss Berry.

The menu consisted of:
Fruit Cocktail
Creamed Chicken Potatoes
Fresh Spring Appetizers
Buttered Peas and Carrots Beans
Pear Salad
Hot Rolls Butter
Strawberry Sundae
Tarts

Tea Coffee
The main feature of the program was the address by District Governor Omar Burleson. Several numbers of lesser value were given for entertainment.

This was the fourth banquet held in the home economics department this school term. Although every girl does not take an active part in the serving of the banquet, each girl must do her share of the work so that the banquet will be a success.

WE WONDER

Why Billy Cooke was so hungry Sunday night?
Why Winston Woods carries a little doll in his pocket all the time?
Why Jack Simmons is so bashful?
Why George Reeves likes to fool with cars?
Why Glenna Deal likes to look in Alderson's Studio window?
If someone really played "hooky" Friday?
What would happen if Bertha Mae Thomas ever quit studying?
What would happen if Waldron Tucker didn't wise crack?
If Dan Boston is really going to make his debut in Pampa Friday?
Who scratched Jo Alice Lane's face?
How J. B. Martin got so sunburned?

RATHJEN'S Clarendon

One of the pioneer stores of Clarendon is Rathjen's Shoe Store, under the capable ownership of Fred Rathjen. Far back in 1904 it was started in a rather modest way and since that time the uprighteous principals employed have won their reward, the Rathjen Shoe Store now being known as the place to buy shoes for the entire family. Mr. Rathjen has had 35 years of practice in corrective shoe fitting.

The Ladies Shop opened in September, 1935, occupying space in Rathjen's Store, is owned and operated by Mrs. Rathjen and is run independently of the shoe store. The shop carries a good line of dresses, ranging in price from $2.00 to $10.00, with emphasis on sports styles, such as slacks and play suits. They feature quality hats at reasonable prices. Beautiful hand bags is a specialty with them. Also a full line of lingerie, hosiery and handkerchiefs is carried.

The Ladies Shop is rapidly becoming known as a place where people are always welcomed to visit and look around. Many customers express their gratitude in seeing their lines before buying out-of-town.

HOLLAND BROTHERS Clarendon

Only quality makes low prices low. That is the foundation upon which this business was erected by Joe and Lee Holland, 13 years ago. And it has proven itself a good foundation.

The Holland Brothers are sales and service agents for the De Soto and Plymouth cars. Though these cars are moderate in price, they have all the essentials of the best cars, namely, PRICE, COMFORT, ECONOMY, APPEARANCE, POWER and SPEED—the six fundamental principals of any car. Search as you will you will find no car in its price field to excel either of these.

A modern service station is operated in connection with this motor company. Here you will get that well known Magnolia gas and oil and you will be more than favorably impressed with the friendly and courteous service.

HOMMEL ONE STOP SERVICE Clarendon

Few businesses in Donley County have enjoyed the steady and consistent growth attained by the Hommel One Stop Service of Clarendon.

Since its inception seven years ago the firm has gone ahead in the most progressive manner, enlarging their stock and bettering their service from year to year until now they enjoy and occupy an important niche in the business chain of Donley County. The firm's affairs are not confined to local limits, but extend over a wide area and the large patronage they have is indeed a reflection of the high esteem in which they are held by the people of this entire section.

Hommel One Stop Service, which is owned by W. O. Hommel, sells he Dodge and Plymouth cars, Sinclair Petroleum products, auto parts and Pennsylvania tires.

IRENE'S BEAUTY SHOP Clarendon

This Beauty Shop, owned by Irene Rhodes is undoubtedly one of the most attractive shops in Donley County. The work is done by skilled and trained beauty operators and the service leaves nothing to be desired.

Irene's Beauty Shop is modern throughout, having the very latest equipment. They carry the Bree cosmetics and feature Sanders Oil and Helen Curtis permanents.

BRUMLEY AND RUNDELL Clarendon

Tillers of the soil have for many years been accustomed to using the internationally known line of farm implements and tractors, the Allis Chalmers line. For many years this sturdy line of machinery has given them unfailing satisfaction and H. C. Brumley and Lon Rundell feels it a pleasure to be agents for such products. Their long list of satisfied users is a source of gratification to them.

THE BACKBONE OF DONLEY COUNTY

The merchants and other business people listed in this commercial review of Donley County are local people, a part of this community. Their interests and yours are one. They pay taxes here, contribute to churches, schools, charities and other local institutions that are requisite to the welfare of any community—not for any selfish gain or reasons, but because these local institutions are their own as well as yours and they are glad to do their share. Do mail order houses do that? Do peddlers or out of town business interests of any nature do it? No, they don't. They take but never put and you can't keep on taking from anything without eventually impoverishing it and have nothing left from which to take for either you or the merchant.

Isn't it good logic and common sense then for you to patronize these local merchants who have helped and will continue to help make this a finer community for you and your children and their children also?

These local merchants do not ask charity. They offer a full measure of value for every dollar received. Their goods are priced fairly, all of them. You don't pay fifty cents for one dollar article and then turn around and pay a dollar and fifty cents for another dollar article. They don't resort to such subterfuge. You get 16 ounces to every pound, thirty-six inches to every yard, a hundred cents of value and service for every dollar with a smile wrapped in every bundle. LOCAL MERCHANTS ARE LOCAL ASSETS. HELP THEM THAT THEY MAY HELP YOU.

THOMPSON BROTHERS AND COMPANY Hedley

Business houses of this nature have always played an important role in Donley County's forward progress. Because of years of successful venture right here in your midst; because of such close association with any of its citizens; because of an inherent good business sense that tells them that their future if unalterably wrapped in the future of Donley County, this firm, the Thompson Brothers and Company, has developed a rather close affinity with the county in general, and their business is in great measure, distributed throughout its breadth.

Through twenty-three years of active and continuous service to the residents of Hedley and vicinity, the Thompson Brothers and Company has built up a reputation which has become synonymous with honesty and fair dealing. A reputation thus earned is not lightly regarded. It is to be honored and treasured. To uphold and enhance that reputation has been the goal of this firm and in the pursuit of that aim they have succeeded very well.

The Thompson Brothers and Company is owned by E. P. Thompson, L. E. Thompson, George Thompson, Jr., and C. O. Thompson. The firm now being under the management of George Thompson, Jr.

Hardware, furniture, International Harvester Implements, RCA radios, Electrolux and Kelvinator refrigerators and many other products will be found to meet the taste and requirements of every pocket-book, with the definite assurance that nowhere else can similar goods be bought for less. The products of this firm have firmly and indelibly impressed their merits on the people of this county, and their increasing patronage is more than ample proof that people do know and do appreciate good merchandise.

THOMAS FEED STORE Clarendon

Firms engaged in agricultural pursuits apparently have a closer and more intimate appeal to residents of Donley County due, no doubt, to the fact that this is essentially an agricultural community. They also have a greater opportunity to serve and by the same token a greater obligation to their community.

The Thomas Feed Store has, in twelve years of activity in the feed, seed and milling business, always endeavored to serve the farmers of this community to their best interests thereby fulfilling that obligation in a manner befitting so reputable a firm.

HUDSON SERVICE STATION Clarendon

There's a big difference in good gas, oils and grease and just plain everyday gas, oils and grease. That difference isn't always reflected in the price tag either. It will however, always show up in the performance of your car and the life of your car. If you want real performance and long life for your motor, use Texaco products, the kind Major B. Hudson sells.

Mr. Hudson has had this station for the past eight years, he also carries groceries and cured meats.
