City Office Besieged With Inquiries On Status Of Gas Rate Cut

LOCAL OFFICE OF GAS COMPANY COLLECTS 63c

SAY THEY HAVE NO NOTICE OF CHANGE—COLLECT OLD RATE

Clarendon gas consumers, who thought their gas rate troubles were over when announcement of withdrawal of injunction suit by the gas company officials at Austin, with acceptance of verdict of 51-cent net rate, and refund of the difference between the new and old rate since January, 1933, will have to wait a little longer for the situation to adjust.

The local office of the gas company refused payment of January bills on the new rate last week, saying that they had had no notice of the change in the status, and therefore could not but demand payment on the old rate, until further notice.

Mayor Tom F. Connally says the local office is correct in this position since the bills were made out under the injunction order, and that it will require a little time to make the necessary adjustments with a refund of the January difference included in the general refund since January, 1933.

Mayor Connally also had a long-distance phone conversation with Judge Penix, attorney for the Upham interests who said that steps would be taken at once to accomplish the refund with what promptness the details would permit.

The situation here is tense waiting developments with huge general interest.

Lions Club to Furnish Grand Champ Awards For Stock Show

The Clarendon Lions Club voted in its regular meeting Tuesday, Feb. 14, to award the grand champion prizes of $10 to the grand champion calf, $3 to the grand champion pig, and $3 to the grand champion lamb of the 1939 Donley County Fat Stock Show. The group considered giving other prizes to the 4-H and FFA youths of the county who showed animals in the local show, but decided in favor of the cash awards as a means of showing their interest and encouraging the local youths.

March 14th was officially designated as 4-H and FFA Day at the club's meeting. The 4-H and FFA members are to be guests of the club on that date. The club has from time to time aided the youths in their work by means such as buying two registered boars the past spring, acting as "sponsors" in their project work, and aiding them in their spring shows.

WEATHER FAVORS AUCTION SALES HERE TODAY

FIRST TWO SALES HIT BY BITTER WEATHER—HANDICAP LIFTED

After experiencing bitter weather on the first and second weekly auction sales today brings a break, and the promoters of the weekly sales for Clarendon are looking for much heavier entries, more buyers and better prices all around.

Last Thursday there were plenty of buyers but the entry list was still much smaller than

Our good weather promised this morning swiftly vanished on swirling sand and dropping thermometer heralded another cold wave with snow promised by the weather forecaster. The News tried to bring fine weather.

The opportunity warranted and all Donley county people are welcoming better weather and expecting the weekly event to take its place with the foremost ones in county sites of the same population as Clarendon and Donley county.

Back the weekly auction sales they mean a lot to Donley county people and to Clarendon as a trade center.

BEST TEXAS AWARD EXHIBIT NOW ON DISPLAY HERE

LOCAL FFA TROPHIES ON DISPLAY IN CLARENDON NEWS WINDOW

Ribbons representing approximately $1,200 in cash premiums won in the 1937 Tri-State Fair, the 1938 Donley County Fat Stock Show, the 1938 Amarillo Fat Stock Show, the 1938 State Fair Pig and Poultry Shows, and the 1938 Greenbelt Poultry Show are now on exhibit in the south window of The Clarendon News building. Banners won in various contests are also on exhibit.

Several silver loving cups won by poultry, dairy, dairy products, news writing and other teams are being exhibited with the ribbon display. O. T. Ryan, area supervisor of vocational agriculture, recently stated that the local ribbons exhibit was the largest and best that he had ever seen and that it was probably the best in the state. He stated that no other chapter had accumulated such an unusual record in show winnings in less than two years, the time represented by the local winnings.

The exhibit is daily attracting hundreds of interested persons who show great interest in the success of the local FFA chapter.

FFA Dairy Team Win First In Judging At Claude

In competition with teams from 13 other schools at the Claude invitation judging meet, Saturday, the local dairy team placed first and the livestock group fifth. Clyde Peabody was high point man of the dairy contest, George Reeves was second, and Ray Robertson was fifth. Bailey Estes was high alternate of the contest. Lee Christie also represented Clarendon as an alternate in the event. Canadian finished second, and Panhandle third.

In the livestock contest, Clarendon finished fifth with 1295 points to trail the third place team, Pampa, by only ten points, and Miami, the winner, by 71 points. The local team was second high team in placing, but their season grades lowered their ranking. Russell Morris was sixth high man of the contest, fifth in hogs, and second in beef cattle. Pete Morrow and Homer Hardin were other members of the team, and Frank Cannon was alternate for the group.

W. E. Hardin, who has been quite sick for some time is reported better as we go to press.

LICENSE PLATES TO BE BOUGHT ONLY IN THE HOME COUNTY

SHERIFF PIERCE PASSES ON INFORMATION GIVEN BY HIGHWAY PATROL

Sheriff Guy Pierce has asked The News to print the following information with respect to car license tags, or plates, as they are sometimes called:

If you live in one county and buy your license plates in another county, and, although your car is carrying these license plates, 1939 issue, it is the same as though you did not have your car registered; you are subject to arrest and fine of $200 and court costs.

The higher courts have upheld this ruling in test cases, and the law in this case will be strictly enforced, so be warned and buy your license plates in the county of your residence.

This information was given to Sheriff Pierce by the Texas Highway Patrol boys, so that license buyers may make no mistakes.

These license plates may be purchased not later than April 1, and may be put on the car not earlier than March 1.

Mr. Dick Shelton of Amarillo spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Shelton.

Hedley Quartette At Singing Here Monday Evening

Monday evening of this week a group gathered at the First Christian Church to sing, and consider the launching of a singing class here, preparatory to the Texas-Oklahoma District Singing Convention here this fall.

C. Newt Waldron, president of the Donley County Singing Convention was acting chairman of the meeting.

The Hedley quartette was present and delighted the audience by their generous renditions. Austin Williams, well-known singing teacher of Strong City, Okla., was present and entered into the program.

On account of the epidemic scare here, and many sore arms from vaccination the attendance was short and it was decided to postpone the organizing of a class for a few weeks.

Charles B. Trent New Deputy Supervisor At Wichita Falls

C. B. Trent, who has been an inspector with the Texas liquor control board since 1936, Monday assumed control at Wichita Falls as the new deputy supervisor in charge of the district office. The post was formerly held by J. W. Morrow, who recently was transferred to Big Spring.

Trent was stationed in Wichita Falls from September, 1937, to March, 1938, under O. Lee, Jr., deputy supervisor for the district during that time. He was transferred to Houston under Lee and has been in that city until he received the advancement to deputy supervisor.

Mr. Trent was reared in Clarendon and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Trent of this city.

WPA APPLICATION FOR SCHOOL WORK TO BE SUBMITTED

WILL BE TWO MONTHS BEFORE PROJECT IS ASSURED

Plans and specification for a WPA project application in the local school system will be presented to the Board of Trustees early next week by R. L. Oldham, project engineer who prepared them. If the application is approved by local authorities, it will be submitted to the National WPA Administration for approval which will probably take about two months to obtain.

The project as outlined at present provides for a new roof on the South Ward building, removal of the old plaster ceilings and installation of new ceilings throughout the Junior High building, and painting and refinishing of practically all rooms in the South Ward, Junior High and Junior College buildings. This will take an estimated total expense for material and labor of $9,000 and will furnish approximately 200 man-months of work. The work on the project will probably start within thirty days after approval of the project if such approval is obtained.

These buildings are badly in need of this work and this WPA application is considered the most feasible method of getting it done.

Henry Tice, Veteran, Seriously Ill At Adair Hospital

Henry Tice, recently moved here from Wellington and Mineral Wells, and well-known son-in-law of Mrs. A. H. Baker, is in Adair Hospital today in a serious condition, brought on by a hemorrhage suffered Wednesday night at his home.

Mr. Tice is a World War veteran who was gassed in France, and his condition is a development of that dread menace which has plagued America since the days of 1918. Every effort is being taken to relieve the suffering man as we go to press.

HEAVIER RETURNS ON NEWS WORD CONTEST

LELIA LAKE LADIES TAKE ALL TICKETS IN THEIR DIVISION

Interest in The Clarendon News mis-spelled word contest grows from week to week, and the half-way mark this week almost brought the resignation of the judges by the heavy task imposed on them.

Readers of the News in other towns and cities are getting in the contest and this past week a well-known Panhandle lady would have won at least a theatre ticket, if her entry had arrived a few hours earlier.

An interesting feature of the contest last week was the many readers who disagreed with the spelling of the name of the author, Hendrik Willem Van Loon, in Pried Book Store ad. It does look wrong, but it was right—that is the way he spells his name, and we just have to let him spell it like he wants to. Anyway, it caused several to get a couple of minus marks in their entries. When in doubt it is safer to call the advertiser and get the correct spelling on any word, or trade name that puzzles you.

The first week three theatre tickets fell to the town entrants, while two went to those out of Clarendon. This week three go to those outside of Clarendon, while only two to those in the city. Those Lelia Lake ladies sure mopped up on the tickets this week.

Winners of theater tickets need not come to The News office for their tickets. Just go to the Pastime when ready to attend—the theatre has the list of winners and will admit you promptly.

District League of Stewards Organize Section Here

Following the organization of the Methodist Stewards of the north portion of Clarendon District at Shamrock Tuesday of last week, the stewards of the south side of the district met in Clarendon Thursday afternoon, Feb. 9th for a similar purpose.

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt addressed the officials in an instructive and inspirational manner, following which Judge J. R. Porter was elected as chairman of the south side of the district, pending the combining of the two groups at the annual district conference at Wheeler in April.

J. R. Porter, Sam M. Braswell and F. N. Foxhall were named executive committee for the group to plan for the study in each charge of the duties of a steward. W. M. Patman of Clarendon was named secretary of the group. The organization went on record as sponsoring the Youth Crusade Rally at McLean, the evening of March 2nd. The meeting adjourned to attend the preaching services in the main auditorium by Bishop Holt.

Four FFA Judging Teams to Enter Meet At Pampa Saturday

Four FFA judging teams will compete in the annual invitation judging meet to be held in Pampa, Saturday, Feb. 18th. Dairy, livestock, poultry and dairy products teams will be entered. In 1938, the local group won first in livestock, dairy and poultry contests.

Pete Morrow, Russell Morris, Frank Cannon and Homer Hardin will make up the livestock team. Clyde Peabody, Bailey Estes, Geo. Reeves, Ray Robertson and Lee Christie will enter the dairy event. Carl Morris, Gene Putman, Horace Green and Junior Spier will represent the local in poultry. Johnny Leathers, Joe Williams and Maschil Cole in dairy products. Howard Gibbs, Ray Bulls and several other alternates will probably make the trip with the teams.

"LAUNCH NEW SHIPS ON SEA OF LIFE" IS PORTER'S ADVICE TO FFA'S

Judge J. R. Porter told 38 Clarendon FFA members Wednesday at their regular meeting, that their success in their project work, in their school work, and in their later life largely depended upon their individual efforts. He encouraged them to launch new ships in their life's work every time one of their old ships or projects failed.

Committees reported on the Childrens and Claude contests. Committees were appointed to arrange for fight nights with neighboring schools, and to arrange for the district FFA encampment, and athletic contest to be held at Quilgoe, April 21 and 22. Carl Morris played a baritone solo, and J. W. Goodman, Bailey Estes and Clyde Peabody concluded the meeting with musical numbers.

LIONS PROGRAM FURNISHED BY CUBS TUESDAY

FRIENDLY INITIATION SETS LIMIT OF ONE MINUTE TO SPEECHES

With President W. H. Patrick out of the city, Vice President R. E. Drennan presided Tuesday over the regular weekly luncheon of the Clarendon Lions Club, at the Clarendon Hotel.

The program committee presented a unique program in the belated initiation of several Lions who had been members so long that they thought they had escaped all forms of badgering from their club brothers. Using Lion Braswell, chairman of the Lions education committee as master of ceremonies, Lions Will Word, Payne, Walker Lane, Mellinger and Stewart were called to the floor and given one minute in which to relate one observation they had made since becoming a member of the Lions Club. Penalty for speaking under the minute was ten cents per second; over the minute 5-cents per second. Lion Dude Gentry acted as taitwister and time-keeper, piling up a total of around $8.00 combined fines against the speakers.

There was much discussion about the procedure, and finally a motion to remit the fines was adopted, to the relief of the initiates.

Following the line of Lions Education Lion Braswell concluded the initiation ceremony with a brief outline of the Lions organization from the local club to the International office at Chicago.

The club endorsed the recommendation of the directors to provide three grand champion prizes for the Donley County Fat Stock Show here in early March, and to entertain the FFA and 4-H boys at a near date.

Dr. Anderson was elected to membership in the club by unanimous vote.

GO TO WEST COAST

Bill and Paul J., sons of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Greene, left the first part of this week for the West Coast, accompanying Mrs. J. C. Young, who is returning home to Seattle Washington, after a visit with the Greens. They will stop at San Francisco for the opening of the Fair, and then go to Seattle.

OVER $200 TOTAL RAISED FOR FAT STOCK SHOW HERE

LARGEST PREMIUM LIST OFFERED HERE IN HISTORY OF LOCAL SHOW

The finance committee of the Donley County Stock Show reported that they had raised over $200 for the premium list for the annual show to be held here March 3rd and 4th. The committee set $250 as the figure to be raised, and they expect to complete their work the early part of next week. This is the largest premium list ever set up for the spring show, but the show will be far larger than those in preceding years.

The lamb section of the show has more than doubled during the past year. In 1938, sixteen lambs were shown. Six groups of five and a large number of entries in both the fine wool and mutton classes are expected to bring the total of lambs shown to well over 40. Carroll and Clyde Peabody, Frank Cannon, Bailey Estes, Horace and Billy Green, Bill and J. T. Alexander are each showing two or more lambs. In addition to those showing two or more, a number of 4-H and FFA boys will show singles in the lamb division.

E. M. Regenbrecht, Extension Service swine specialist, will judge the swine division of the local show. Directors of the local show feel quite fortunate in securing Mr. Regenbrecht's services as he judges the swine division of the Amarillo Fat Stock Show the following Monday. Mr. Regenbrecht served as superintendent of the swine show at the 1938 State Fair of Texas. Mr. K. J. Edwards, Extension Service district agent, will judge the local calves and lambs. Mr. Edwards has judged the local show for the past several years, and his work has met with universal approval.

FIFTY-FOUR ATTEND BAPTIST BROTHERHOOD MEETING TUESDAY

Fifty-four men attended a meeting Tuesday night of the Panhandle Baptist Brotherhood at the First Baptist Church here. The pastors and several members from every church in the group were present for the meeting. Rev. William Mason of Memphis was the principal speaker on the program, the subject of which was "Enlisting the Laymen in Our Churches" and "Evangelism." Other speakers were Mr. Foreman of Harrell's Chapel and Mr. Evans of Lelia Lake. A most profitable and enthusiastic meeting was reported.

At the close of the service, refreshments were served to the group.

MARCH 16TH-18TH COUNTY MEET DATES HERE

BASKETBALL MEET DATES NOT SET—TO BE RELEASED LATER

Donley County Interseohlastic meet dates have been set for March 16th-17th, according to Director-General George W. Kavanaugh, who made the announcement first of this week.

The meet will be held in Clarendon and will open with literary events Thursday night, March 16th, and conclude with track and field competition Saturday afternoon, March 18th.

Arrangements have not been completed for the basketball division of the county meet, and dates and place will be made public in a few days.

Walker Lane Will Supervise Park Project Here

Walker Lane has consented to serve as local supervisor of the City Park project when it gets under construction. Mr. Lane drew up the plans for the park and blue printed them for the board. This work was very highly praised by the WPA officials to whom it was submitted.

ABILENE OILMAN NAMED HEAD OF HIGHWAY BODY

J. C. HUNTER PROMINENT OILMAN, CIVIC WORKER NAMED BY O'DANIEL

Judge J. C. Hunter of Abilene Wednesday was named chairman of the Highway Commission and thus Gov. Lee O'Daniel went to West Texas to get the new commissioner to succeed John Wood of Timpson in deep East Texas.

O'Daniel said the place belongs to West not East Texas, as was proven by the Chamber of Commerce regional divisions and cited the rejection of Carr P. Collins as corroborative. He said Collins was an East Texas appointee and that he was rejected on regional grounds.

East Texas senators who engineered Collins' defeat contended the appointee was from North Texas, but agree with O'Daniel that he was rejected for regional reasons, though they widely differed as to what region.

These East Texas senators were flabbergasted when told of Hunter's appointment. They said they must have time to study the situation before they make any statement.

A point made by O'Daniel was that Harry Hines is now a citizen of East Texas, having moved from West Texas, and that after his removal West Texans wanted a member from their section.

Judge W. R. Ely of Abilene was succeeded on the commission by Hines who lived at Wichita Falls. Ely was regarded as the West Texas senator. Wood the East Texas member and R. L. Dobbitt of San Antonio from South Texas. O'Daniel says Hines moved from Wichita Falls to Dallas and therefore to East Texas under the zoning of the Texas regional Chambers of Commerce, and that since Hines had moved, East Texas was demanding its place on the commission.

Hunter, who is in his early fifties, has served as county judge and also as treasurer of Culberson county and was in the banking business. He was in Austin Wednesday. His name will go to the Senate Thursday, that body having adjourned Wednesday before the appointment was announced.

Senator W. B. Collier of Eastland, whose district includes Abilene, introduced Hunter to senators Wednesday and is for his confirmation.

It remains to be seen whether a legislative battle between East and West Texas will result from Hunter's appointment, with North Texas and South Texas hesitating to take sides.

Prior to the appointment of Hunter, East Texas senators believed the new commissioner would come from their section, as the Senate had so definitely rejected Collins, 13 for and 16 against confirmation with a two-thirds vote required to consummate it. That they were surprised at Hunter's appointment is putting it mildly.

Senator John S. Redditt of Lufkin, in East Texas, was not pleased with the appointment and wanted time to study the situation.

TOM F. CONNALLY TO RUN FOR CITY MAYOR IN APRIL 4TH ELECTION

At the request of his friends, Tom F. Connally has agreed to stand as a candidate for Mayor of Clarendon at the city election, the first Tuesday in April.

Mr. Connally has served as mayor for a few months, having been appointed by the city commission to fill out the unexpired term of Mayor W. H. Patrick, who resigned last fall. He had previously served some years ago as a member of the commission, and is thoroughly familiar with the duties and difficulties of the office.

Mr. Connally has been diligent in looking after the interests of the people of Clarendon, and promises to continue his best efforts if the voters see fit to return him as mayor for the next two years.

Your vote and influence will be appreciated by Mr. Connally and his friends.

"REVAMP THE ENTIRE TAX STRUCTURE"

The News finds itself in complete agreement with Senator Small on at least one position in regard to state tax matters. In the Senate Tuesday, Senator Small declared, "I believe it is necessary for the legislature to revamp the entire tax structure of the state. The whole proposition should be worked out."

As stated in last week's issue The News stands for just that sort of sweeping program. We think Governor O'Daniel served the best interests of Texas when he proposed the transaction tax, even if its name and details are changed by the Legislature when they get down to details. We urged that the Legislature get down around the table and work out a new tax base for Texas, and we are glad that Senator Small is urging that sort of procedure, even if he disagrees as to the name and details of the Governor's plan.

Let's revamp the entire structure and abolish some taxes as we substitute others more suited to modern conditions.

CITIZENSHIP BILLS OF UNUSUAL PUBLIC BENEFIT

Daily and weekly newspaper organizations of Texas have joined in proposing what The News believes are citizenship bills of unusual public benefit, even if they might be considered of direct benefit to the newspapers of the state.

The bills propose that every taxing agency of the state shall make semi-annual publication of receipts and expenditures, and the rate to be charged for such publication shall not exceed the lowest commercial rate of the newspaper for such exacting detail printing. The newspapers stand firmly upon the ground that the taxpayers are entitled to have a clear statement of all monies collected and disbursed by any branch of government collecting taxes from them. They hold that no honorable public servant handling such tax monies could object to the voters knowing the details of the financing of that particular division. They hold that it is a protection to all office holders administering such tax funds. They hold that a semi-annual report will deter those who are prodigal with tax monies, and will therefore save more than the cost of publication in the aggregate over the state.

Other bills require publication of citations formerly posted on the courthouse door—a relic of the days of the Republic, when there were scarcely any newspapers—a procedure that will protect innocent owners of property from loss in many, many cases.

Many state senators and representatives are for these bills which serve to protect a reading and enlightened citizenship, and the press of Texas stands back of the arguments for their passage boldly and unashamed.

The publication bills are good citizenship bills and are worthy of support from the taxpayer, the office-holder, and legislators who represent all classes interested.

MORE STRENGTH FOR DRIVERS LICENSE LAW

There is a proposed measure before the Legislature of Texas that is designed to add the necessary vitamins to provide more strength to the Texas driver's license law. Senate Bill No. 3, introduced by Senator Rogers Kelley, and House Bill No. 50, both identical, fostered by Representative Homer Thornberry, will play a feature part in controlling the drunken and reckless driver on whose hands is the blood of thousands of innocent people, provided the Legislature concurs in the beliefs of the Texas Safety Association and the safety minded people of this great state.

JUST HUMANS

By GENE CARR

The Thrill That Comes Once in the Neighborhood

"Yeah! When Did It Come? Gee, What a Flock of Brothers Y'have Now!"

THE PEOPLE ARE URGING REFORMS AT AUSTIN

Down at Austin the legislators in both houses say they are receiving more letters than they ever knew of being directed to Texas legislators before. Many of them are down-right mad at Governor W. Lee O'Daniel for this situation, claiming that it is his radio appeals that sent the letters showering down on the capitol in growing volume.

No one can blame Governor O'Daniel for going to the people with his side of any public controversy for it was the people who placed him in the governor's chair—it wasn't the legislators (be they "politicians" or not). There are many reforms needed in our state government, and Governor O'Daniel has set out conscientiously to bring them about. Any move for economy seems to bring tremors of surprising magnitude, but the citizenship of Texas would like to see state bureaus consolidated and the burdens of taxation cut to a minimum so that social reforms can be affected by the savings.

The News believes in the sincerity of purpose of Governor O'Daniel, and we believe the people want proper reforms and advances in service at Austin. Let's stay with the Governor and see if he will not bring order and reform out of bedlam.

"IT IS MY HOME TOWN AND I AM PART OF IT"

"My town is the place where my home is founded; where my vote is cast; where my children are educated; where my neighbors dwell, and where my life is chiefly lived. It is the home spot for me.

"My town has the right to my civic loyalty. It supports me and I should support it. My town wants my citizenship, not my partisanship; my friendliness, not my dissension; my sympathy, not my criticism; my intelligence, not my indifference. My town supplies me with protection, trade, friends, education, schools, churches and the right to free, moral citizenship.

It has some things that are better than others; the best things I should seek to make better; the worst things I should help to suppress. Take it all-in-all, it is my town, and it is entitled to the best there is in me."—Oklahoma Municipal Review.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By JULIAN CAPERS JR.

AUSTIN.—With the cart before the horse as is too often the method of the Legislature, the House committees on constitutional amendments and revenue and taxation, began work this week, opening with joint consideration of Governor O'Daniel's Townsend-inspired transaction tax and its accompanying constitutional amendment.

So far, nobody has suggested in the Legislature how much revenue if any, needs to be raised. There is a deficit in the general fund, and certain phases of the social security program are as yet unfinanced. But the Senate's economy committee recommended savings in governmental cost that would probably cover these costs, and there is evident a strong determination on the part of many legislators to put all or most of the recommendations in effect. To save $5,000,000 a year, would of course, be better legislation than to load $5,000,000 of new taxes onto the backs of the taxpayers.

Nobody knows, or has guessed, how much, if any, new pension money is required, because the legislature has not even discussed yet what the future pension policy will be. The governor himself has abandoned his original promise of $30 a month for everybody over 65. His substitute plan of "$30 total income" apparently pleases neither the old folks nor the Legislature. The two committees are to hear proposals for submitting a sales tax to the voters after the testimony on the transaction tax is in, and the consideration of natural resources taxation bills will follow in order. Out of these hearings probably will come bills upon which the real taxation fight of the session is to be predicted.

FOLKS WRITE SOLONS

An unprecedented interest in public affairs is reflected in the flood of mail which members of both houses are receiving. This probably is partly inspired by Gov. O'Daniel's radio pleas to the folks to write in support of his transaction tax, and by the vigorous opposition to the transaction tax and the sales tax proposals which has developed. O'Daniel claims most of those writing him favor the transaction tax, while legislators report their mail records and opposite views. The battle over raising the truck-load limit also has brought thousands of letters and cards, obviously inspired by the railroads and mostly favoring their view that the limit should not be raised.

The truck bill, authorized by Senator Rogers Kelley, got off to a start with 2,000 persons favoring it attending a hearing and cheering loudly as farmers, fruit growers, produce men, cattlemen and various other groups urged raising the load limit. Railroad opposition will be heard this week.

EDITORS JOIN BOND FIGHT

Diversion of part of the gasoline tax money to pay off the "dead horse" bonds of counties, issued to build lateral roads with which the state has no concern, was vigorously opposed this week when the Texas Press Association adopted resolutions condemning the plan of some county judges to shift millions of dollars of county debts onto the state. Lewry Martin, Corsicana publisher, and ex-president of the Press Association, as well as president of the Texas Good Roads Association, explained the judges' plan to unload two hundred millions of local debts onto the state, and the association declared the plan "detrimental to the best interests of the state, its counties and the users of the highways." One of the hardest hurdles the diversion bill will have to hurdle is the unequal distribution of the county bonded debt, as more than half the debt is owned by a small group of 28 counties, and legislators from the other 226 counties are beginning to register opposition to having the state act as Santa Claus to this favored group of counties.

SENATE REJECTS SMITH

The Senate proved it has no grudge against the governor by confirming his nominee for labor commissioner, Joe Kunschik, of Austin, member of an independent union, in spite of bitter opposition from both AF of L and CIO union leaders. Then, to demonstrate its independence, it rejected Truett B. Smith of Tahoka, as life insurance commissioner. Smith was rejected, not because of any personal objection to him, but because he was sponsored in the Senate by Senator G. H. Nelson, his former law partner. Nelson inflicted bitter wounds in numerous senatorial hides when he ran last year for lieutenant governor on a unicameral legislature issue, and criticized the upper house unmercifully. His opponent was Coke Stevenson, but Stevenson alone didn't block Smith's confirmation. He had plenty of help from senators who resented Nelson's injudicious criticism of the upper house.

WHO PAYS FOR PENSIONS?

In view of the pension discussion, it is interesting to see who is now paying $20,000,000 a year for old age pensions in Texas. Half the money is furnished by the federal government. Examination of the financial statements of the Pension Bureau for 1938 discloses that of each dollar paid out by the state, liquor and beer taxes paid 48.8 cents; cigarette taxes paid 48.3 cents; vending machine taxes paid 2 cents. The balance, a fraction of a cent, came from interest on daily balances, and from late collections from the now defunct race gambling tax. Not a dime is shown by the records to come from the great natural resource corporations which are annually taking millions of dollars of irreplaceable gas, oil and sulphur from Texas soil, and now seek to nail the pension burden to the backs of the farmer, the small wage earner and the consumer, with a sales or transaction tax, and freeze the tax into the constitution, where it couldn't be taken out for years.

AUSTIN NOTES

Abolition of the death penalty recommended as emergency legislation by Gov. O'Daniel, will not come for many years in Texas, if expressions of the legislators are any indication. Lawyers oppose it about 10 to 1, and most of the solons are lawyers. . . . Both houses quickly passed emergency legislation to borrow $900,000 at 1.6 per cent interest to prevent reduction in current payments, averaging $13.80 each, until the legislature works out the troublesome pensions-taxation program. . . . Recurrent criticism of the handling of state school lands by Ex-Land Commissioner Bill McDonald caused both houses to enact with record speed a bill recommended by Bascom Giles and Gov. O'Daniel, withholding leases on school land until 90 days after the legislature adjourns. Meanwhile, a bill setting up a school land leasing board to handle sale and leasing of school lands is in the hopper. . . . The CIO boys at Houston who want to "recall" Gov. O'Daniel are barking up a blind alley. There is no provision in Texas law for "recalling" any state official, and impeachment is only possible for "high crimes and misdemeanors" . . . "I have stepped on so many political toes that I probably couldn't be elected dog-catcher again in Texas," Gov. O'Daniel remarked in addressing the Press Association. He urged somebody to volunteer to "explain" the transaction tax. Senator Manly Head of Stephenville volunteered to "explain" it on the senate floor if it ever gets that far.

THE AWFUL PRICE YOU PAY FOR BEING NERVOUS

Quivering nerves can make you old and haggard looking, cranky and hard to live with—can keep you awake nights and rob you of good health, good times and jobs. What you may need is a particularly good women's tonic—and could you ask for anything whose benefits are better proved than famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? Let its wholesome herbs and roots help Nature build up more physical resistance and thus help calm your shrieking nerves, give more energy and make life worth living again. More than a million women have reported benefit—why not let Pinkham's Compound help YOU, too, to go "smiling thru" trying times like it has other grateful women for the past 3 generations? IT MUST BE GOOD!

"They Star In 'Young In Heart'"

Paulette Goddard, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. and Janet Gaynor in David O. Selznick's "The Young in Heart," released through United Artists

Paulette Goddard, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Janet Gaynor are the three smiling stars of David O. Selznick's delightful comedy romance, "The Young In Heart," which comes to the Pastime Theatre Saturday pre-views, Sunday and Monday.

The Low Down FROM HICKORY GROVE

Most everything has an ending. Even the 7 years itch, it ends.

And people who have been wringing their hands and flivring that things down yonder on our Potomac, they would never improve, they are commencing to see a little clearing of the skies.

And some of the boys down there, they are kinda holding back, before they jump through the hoop.

And they are calling conferences down there, and half-way more or less making it look like there is team work.

At these conferences they may not talk about much of anything in particular, but it is something like what the catcher says to the pitcher and vice versa, when they walk out there and whisper. It impresses the grandstand.

1939 looks interesting — and promising.

Yours, with the low down,
JO SERRA.

An acre of sudan grass for late spring, summer, and early fall grazing, and an acre of oats, barley, or wheat pasture for late fall, winter, and early spring grazing, plus tons of silage, is needed for each milk cow.

LIBRARY NOTES

(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

The annual payment of one dollar per member by the Pathfinder Club made possible the purchase of a splendid list of new books recently, as follows: "Disputed Passage," Lloyd C. Douglas; "Song of Years," Bess Streeter Aldrich; "Years of Grace" and "Wisdom's Gate," Margaret Ayer Barnes; "All This and Heaven Too," Rachel Field; "Three Harbors," F. Van Wyck Mason; "Listen, the Wind," Anne Morrow Lindbergh; "With Malice Toward Some," Margaret Halsey; "The Importance of Living," Lin Yutang; "Christmas Days," Joseph C. Lincoln; "Young Dr. Galahad," Elizabeth Seifort; "Deacon's Road," Margaret Flint; "Parts Unknown," Frances Parkinson Keyes; "Dangerous Years," Gilbert Frank; "Dithers and Jitters," Cornelia Otis Skinner; "Man, the Unknown," Alexis Carrel; "Story of Ferdinand," Munro Leaf; "Laughing Last," Jane D. Abbott; "Mystery of Lilac Inn," Carolyn Keene; "Little Indian" and "White Otter," David Cory; "Heyday," Jane D. Abbott; "Blaze and the Forest Fire," Anderson; "The Cruise of Mr. Christopher Columbus" and "The Figgrims' Party," Sadye Beth and Anson Lovritz.

The above list shows that we have attempted to get something for everybody—the grown-ups, the teen-age and the small people.

The title of Lloyd C. Douglas' new book, "Disputed Passage," is taken from this quotation from Walt Whitman, "Have you learned lessons only from those who admired you and were tender with you and stood aside for you? Have you not learned great lessons from those who braced themselves against you and disputed the passage with you." This quotation will give you an insight into what the story is. In it you will find five outstanding personalities—John Wesley Heavan, a brilliant young surgeon; Tubby Forester, a great anatomist; William Cunningham, a country doctor; Audrey Hilton, foster-daughter of Chinese parents, and Claudia King, her American-trained sister. All of Lloyd C. Douglas' stories are on our shelves or rather are supposed to be though often every one of them is "checked out."

We have but to mention the fact that we have Bess Streeter Aldrich's new book to have a "waiting list for it. Many will agree with us that no better pioneer story of our own land has ever been written than her "Lantern In Her Hand." This new story, "Songs of Years," is a pioneer story, too—a story of the days of Iowa from 1864 to 1865. Mingled with the tender love story of Sazanne Mortin and Wayne Lockwood is the story the facing and conquering of the empergers of pioneer life with independence, practical philosophy and the determination to "pull on through." Bess Streeter Aldrich's grandfather was a representative in the First Iowa Legislature. She herself was born in Cedar Falls, was educated in the colleges of her native state and taught there, was married there and still lives there. Her husband was an inspiration in her writing career until his death in 1925 and the jacket cover of the book is from a painting by her son, James Aldrich. All of her books are on our shelves and are loved by our readers.

Margaret Ayer Barnes came prominently into the literary limelight with her "Years of Grace," in 1930. It immediately became a best seller, and in 1931 it was announced as the best selling novel of the year, and was awarded the Pulitzer prize. "Wisdom's Gate," is the story of the people in "Years of Grace," carried into a second generation. Between the two she wrote "Westward Passage," which has since been filmed, "Within This Present," an unusually good story of Chicago from the days of the Chicago fire to the present, and "Edna His Wife," all of which are on our shelves. Mrs. Barnes has established herself as one of America's leading novelists.

"All This, and Heaven Too," leads the best sellers over the country. A story based on truth that is stranger than fiction, in the time from 1850 to 1875. It is the story of Rachel Field's own great aunt, a French woman, who came to America and married Henry M. Field, preacher, editor and writer. Through her eyes we see the social and intellectual life of that time and we learn to know many people worth knowing. William Cullen Bryant, Harriet Beecher Stone, Fanny Kemble and many others, all in as breath-taking a story as fiction has produced, so say the reviewers.

"Three Harbors," is another historical novel of which one reviewer says "the author reveals a fascinating phase of the American Revolution which has been ignored until now." The author says in his foreword that "the main facts, dates and figures are as nearly correct as painstaking and selective research can make them. My underlying purpose has been to tell how the early merchants of America's Eastern Coast lived, to show what they did and, on occasion, what they suffered."

F. Van Wyck Mason, the author, is known as the author of international mysteries and historical novels. He is a native New Englander and a graduate of Harvard and during the World War he joined the French Army at 16, but later transferred to the American Army. He has traveled extensively, but now spends most of his summers on Nantucket Island and his winters in Bermuda. A college instructor suggested that he try writing in 1928, and to his astonishment he sold his first eighteen stories without a rejection. Since then his Captain North stories have been translated into a dozen languages. "Three Harbors" is his twentieth published book.

Anne Morrow Lindbergh's "North to the Orient," won such popular approval that her "Listen, the Wind," at once met a hearty reception. Colonel Lindbergh, in his foreword says that the period in aviation, of which his wife has written, is now gone—that the perfection of flying machinery has taken the world far from these pioneering days with their thrills. This is the story of the flight made by the Lindberghs across the Atlantic from Africa to Brazil in 1933, at the end of their survey of the North Atlantic air routes.

We have heard much of Margaret Halsey's "With Malice Toward Some," during the last few months. She is the wife of a young Ph. D., who went to England on an exchange professorship and who, while her husband taught, saw life in a small English village. Then they traveled—to London, to Paris and to Norway and Sweden. Dorothy Canfield says of the book, "It sparkles, crackles, blazes with wit. The last pages are as uproariously funny as the first. There is really nothing for a reviewer to do with a book so full of wit except to quote from it." Margaret Halsey was born in Yonkers in 1910—went to Skidmore College and in 1936 took an M. A. at a teacher's college, but has never taught. She says she "has no children and only one husband."

Besides the books listed as our purchase, the girls of the Junior Beaux Arts Club brought us three books the past week and promised more. The help of the clubs is greatly appreciated always.

ACHING COLDS

Relieve Their DISTRESS This Easy, Quick Way!

To bring speedy relief from the discomfort of chest colds, muscular rheumatic aches and pains due to colds—you need more than "just a salve"—use a stimulating "counter-irritant" like good old warming, soothing Musterole. It penetrates the surface skin breaking up local congestion and pain resulting from colds. Even better than a mustard plaster—Musterole has been used by millions for over 30 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. In three strengths: Regular, Children's (mild) and Extra Strong. 40¢. Approved by Good House-keeping Bureau. All druggists.

HELP KIDNEYS

To Get Rid of Acid and Poisonous Waste

Your kidneys help to keep you well by constantly filtering waste matter from the blood. If your kidneys get functionally disordered and fail to remove excess impurities, there may be poisoning of the whole system and body-wide distress.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination may be a warning of some kidney or bladder disturbance.

You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out.

In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won country-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. A multitude of grateful people recommend Doan's. Ask your neighbor!

SIDELIGHTS

By MARVIN JONES

The president, in his annual message to Congress, made some interesting observations concerning the government's financial condition.

MARVIN JONES

"Many people have the idea," he said, "that as a nation we are overburdened with debt and are spending more than we can afford. That is not so. Despite our federal government expenditures, the entire debt of our national economic system, public and private together, is no larger today than it was in 1929, and the interest thereon is far less than it was in 1929.

"The object is to put capital—private as well as public—to work."

In considering the president's statement, it is interesting to note that our total national income has risen 20 billion dollars since 1932. Millions of homes, on the farms and in the cities, have been saved from the auctioneer's gavel.

I believe that we must, and that we can and will, cut down our government expenditures. There is every indication that business is steadily resuming a more assured course. Employment should increase in private industry.

But there has been an immediate and pressing present, and we cannot go so far as to look at human need and distress merely as cold figures. As the president has pointed out, not only has that need been dealt with. Private income has risen and the total of the public and private debt is no greater—in fact, is less—than it was in the boom days before the crash of 1929.

I am hopeful that as the measures which have been enacted to aid agriculture and industry go on and their effect is felt, that federal expenditures can be lessened.

Another matter that is frequently overlooked is the fact that the rate of interest now paid on both public and private debts has been greatly decreased since 1932. The reduction in these interest rates has been so great that the total interest now being paid by the American people on debts, both public and private, is three-quarters of a billion dollars less than the total interest being paid in 1932.

Because of the high interest rates prevailing in 1932, it took one dollar in every seven of the total income of the American people to pay the interest charges on the public and private debt. In 1938, it took only one dollar in every twelve to pay the interest charges on the public and private debt.

Anyone with even a short memory can determine by comparison that the interest rate on homes on the farm and homes in the city and interest rates generally are much less than in 1932.

One thing that is especially noticeable is the fact that farm interest rates have been tremendously reduced. Not only is the total interest now being paid by farmers on public and private debts much less, but the total of farm mortgages on all farms in the United States is two billion dollars less than in 1932. I am especially proud of this result because of the fact that it was my privilege to handle the legislation under which this reduction was made possible.

It is well to remember that in spite of low and unsatisfactory prices, the total income of American farmers was three billion dollars more in 1938 than it was in 1932.

Creeps, Rickets and "Hollow Horn"

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary Texas Breeder-Feeder Association

These troubles in livestock are what is known as "deficiency" diseases, caused by the lack of certain essential elements in the feed. Those who have green pastures and good legume hay need lose no sleep, for there is little danger of any of these troubles developing. The green feed supplies vitamin D, and legume hay, especially alfalfa and clovers, especially carries enough lime and phosphorus to supply the needs of the animal.

At this season of the year range cattle on dry pastures and other livestock receiving only dry forage, such as bundle sorghums, grass, sorghum hay, and even some of the starchy grains, are liable to become anaemic, for lack of the minerals and vitamin D. Now sunshine is also a source of vitamin D but animals absorb it mainly through green feed and not through the skin, so we cannot depend on its ultra-violet rays alone to keep them in health and vigor.

Dairy cows may fall off in milk for lack of lime and phosphorus in their rations in spite of having all the dry hay they can eat. The mineral deficiency is easily and cheaply supplied with lime and bone meal in the proportions of two to one. Lime is supplied in the form of pulverized limestone or oyster shell and may be mixed with bone meal in open troughs, or mixed with the feed. Only a fraction of an ounce a day is needed for cattle.

Mineral mixtures for hogs are quite generally used, tracing back to the old practice of placing ashes and salt in the hog lot. There are several formulas, one of which can be had from your county agent or the agricultural college.

Many experiments in recent years have gone to prove that creeps and rickets, along with other less definitely recognizable troubles, are not true "diseases" but are due simply and solely to malnutrition, and in these the malnutrition is a deficiency of essential minerals.

What we used to call "hollow horn," "hollow tail," and so on, was nothing more than lack of enough feed containing the necessary elements for health and vigor. After an animal reaches the state of extreme weakness it is difficult to correct it, but if the minerals and vitamins are provided extreme cases seldom occur.

In some areas it has been found possible to increase the percentage of the calf crop and the calves are stronger at birth by the use of mineral-bearing elements in the feed. Cottonseed meal or cake carries some lime and phosphorus and in some cases is sufficient for the purpose, but in the light of experience more and more livestock raisers are playing safe by adding lime and bone meal.

In very sandy soils and in the excessively leached soils in the heavy rain belt along the Gulf Coast, mineral deficiency is most serious. The "lion disease" which formerly caused heavy losses of cattle in the Gulf Coast region was found to be nothing more than lack of minerals in the pasture grasses, and it has since been effectively prevented by feeding bone meal. The distinguishing symptoms of "lion disease" is the habit of chewing bones. At first it was thought the cattle "caught" some sort of germ from the bones, but when the "bone hunger" was assuaged with bone meal the disease disappeared—also the bone-chewing habit.

The only "germ" or "microbe" in this and its kindred "disease" is the germ of hunger for something that is missing from the feed. "Malnutrition" is the technical term, but in barnyard language it's merely "not enough of 'ne right feed.'"

MIDWAY

(By Mrs. P. H. Longan)

The Birthday Club met Thursday with Mrs. Holland. Because of the bad day there were only nine members present. A lovely covered dish luncheon was served at the noon hour. The roll call was answered with artists and will be authors and their works at the next meeting with Mrs. Quattlebaum in March.

Mrs. M. L. Wood has the sympathy of all because of the death of her sister, Mrs. Haynes, in Chillicothe this last week. She had been at the bedside of her sister the past two weeks.

Jeff Potter and Mrs. Mollie Scoggins of Ashtola spent Tuesday and Wednesday with their brother, J. M. Potter.

Pearl Derrick, Robbie Zoe Moreland and Thelma Jean Williams and Herman Higgins were absent from school Tuesday because of sore arms.

W. M. Pickering, Pat Longan and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mathews all visited Hubert Johnson at the hospital Saturday afternoon. He is doing as well as could be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Tice and Mrs. Baker were out looking over her farm Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Gaitner spent from Tuesday until Friday in the Pat Longan home.

Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin of McLean spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Hill Hartin.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Williams and Thelma Jean spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Putman.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Easterling and baby spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Moreland.

Mr. and Mrs. Mathews and children, Mrs. Ben Andis Mrs. Gaitner and J. C. Longan were dinner guests in the Longan home Thursday.

Henry Hall spent Sunday night with the Koontz boys.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Harlan spent Saturday night in the Potter home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Garland and boys spent the week-end with her mother at Ashtola.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Koontz spent the week-end with her parents at Hedley.

Mr. and Mrs. Randal from Martin spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Quattlebaum.

The entire community is sad because of the death of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Naylor last Thursday night. Mrs. Naylor was able to come home from the hospital Wednesday of this week.

HEDLEY

Mrs. Richmond Bowlin

We are glad to know that Mr. and Mrs. Blain Doherty have moved here from Pampa and will be on a farm near Hedley.

Stephling Golladay and family also Mrs. Weldon Bennett, all of Amarillo visited relatives and friends last week.

Rev. and Mrs. Rex Kendall of Vega spent Thursday night with Rex's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kendall. They were en route home from Shamrock, at which place they were in attendance on the Seminar.

Those who went from here to hear Bishop Holt at Clarendon were Rev. and Mrs. I. E. Biggs, Mesdames Webb, John Edwards, Richmond Bowlin, Ross Adamson and Messrs. J. W. Noel, Clyde Bain and Bill Scales.

Mrs. Kendall entertained the Gleaners Class of the First Methodist Church School Friday afternoon. A short business session after which a most interesting program was enjoyed. The theme was "Friendships." Delicious refreshments were served to Mesdames J. W. Webb, Mack Shaw, John Edwards, Marvin Whitfield, H. L. Whitfield, I. E. Biggs, D. K. Hall, Richmond Bowlin and the hostess, Mrs. Frank Kendall.

Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson attended the hardware convention at Amarillo last week.

It gives me much pleasure to know Mrs. Frank Heath who is in a hospital at Memphis is some better.

Mrs. John Keoninger was called to Amarillo last week to be at the sick bed of her mother, Mrs. Ace Armstrong who is very ill in a hospital at Amarillo.

Miss Herloise Burrell of Borger visited friends here over the week-end.

PARTY HONORS BRIDAL COUPLE THURSDAY

Mr. and Mrs. John Knorpp entertained Thursday night at their home with a delightful party honoring Miss Margaret Kelley and Mr. Walter Knorpp, whose wedding will take place Saturday, Feb. 18. At 7 o'clock, a buffet dinner was served at small tables placed so that there were eight at each table. A Valentine motif was carried out in the red and white color scheme.

Following the dinner, the honored couple chose sides for the games which were played during the evening. Points were given each side in the relay games which followed and the winning side was presented with a prize. In the last game, the women played against the men with Miss Kelley and Mr. Knorpp as captains of the two sides. At the end a dust mop was presented to the winners.

Those who enjoyed the delightful affair were Messrs. and Mesdames Carroll Knorpp, Miss Margaret Kelley and Mr. Walter Knorpp, Ira Merchant, M. P. Gentry, Bill Carroll, Dr. and Mrs. E. F. Harter, Mr. John Bugbee and Miss Mantie Graves, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. John Knorpp.

because of the death of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Naylor last Thursday night. Mrs. Naylor was able to come home from the hospital Wednesday of this week.

SOCIETY

RUG-MAKING DEMONSTRATED FOR JR. H. D. CLUB

Rug-making was the subject of the demonstration which was given for the Junior Home Demonstration Club Thursday afternoon when they met at the clubrooms with Viola Bonés as hostess. The meeting was opened with a club prayer by the president, Hazel Lusk, which was followed by a business session at which the treasurer's report was given. Mary Wallace then demonstrated the making of string rugs. A gift was presented to the hostess.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Mattie Ballew, Jennie Burch, Lucille Chesshir, Dale Holland, Ruth Kilgough, Hazel Lusk, Alise McMahan, Hattie Palmer, Marie Patterson, Virginia Schull, Mary Wallace, Jeanice Weatherly.

KILL KARE CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. BARTLETT

The Kill Kare Kneede Klub held their regular meeting Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. R. Bartlett. A delightful afternoon was spent in needlework and conversation.

Dainty refreshments were served to one guest, Mrs. J. D. Swift and the following members: Mesdames Lon Rundell, H. C. Brumley, W. A. Massie, Buel Sanford, W. A. Land, S. W. Lowe, H. Mulkey, J. Perry King, F. A. White, E. M. Ozier, Cap Lane, Misses Etta and Ida Harned.

PATHFINDER STUDY "THEY SEEK A COUNTRY"

The Pathfinder Club had a very enjoyable and interesting meeting Friday when they met at the clubrooms with Mesdames Frank Heath and Ed Dishman as hostesses. Mrs. E. P. Shelton led the program which was a study of the book, "They Seek a Country," by Francis Brett Young. This is a story of the Boer Trek in South Africa and is very full of romantic adventure. "A Brief History of the Boers" was given by Mrs. A. T. Cole, followed by a discussion of "The England of This Period As Portrayed in the Story," by Mrs. C. A. Burton. Mrs. Shelton then gave the story of the book in brief.

Lovely refreshments with Valentines as plate favors were served to one guest, Mrs. H. R. Beck and twenty-eight members.

MOTHERS STUDY CLUB MEETS TUESDAY

The Mother's Study Club met in regular session Tuesday afternoon at the clubrooms with Mesdames Alvin Landers and J. H. Howze as hostesses. A short business meeting was held. Mrs. Jack Molesworth led the program with a discussion of "Mothers Make Sissies" and Mrs. George Norwood talked on "What Kind of Parent Love Is Yours."

Lovely refreshments, carrying out the Valentine theme were served to the following: Mesdames G. G. Reeves, J. E. Burch, Regan Bryan, Clyde Douglas, Alfred Estlack, Frank Hommel, Jack Molesworth, Tom Murphy, Geo. Norwood, Paul Smith, Henry Tatum, H. T. Warner, Cap Morris.

Misses Vera and Eugenia Noland and Berkeley Ryan visited Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Randel at Panhandle Sunday.

ROBERT LINDER AND DOROTHY POWELL WED

A most lovely wedding was solemnized Sunday morning at the First Methodist Church at nine o'clock when Robert Linder and Miss Dorothy Powell were married. The church was decorated attractively with greenery of various kinds. Pink and lavender stock and snapdragons were used at either side of the altar. Three candelabrum of silver with white tapers lighted the scene. One was placed in front of the altar and one on each side.

Before the ceremony, four groomsmen entered and lighted the tapers. They were Wesley Powell, Ardis Patman, Charlie Murphy, and Linton Mahle of Canyon. Miss Peggy Word accompanied by Mrs. Millard Word at the organ sang "Oh Promise Me." Miss Word wore a beige crepe suit with teal blouse and beige and black accessories. To the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, by Wagner, the wedding party entered. The groomsmen came first. The bride's only attendant, Miss Mary Francis Powell came next. She was groomed in a beige crepe dress made shirt-waist style with a teal-blue hat. The groom and his best man, Ralph Sanders, entered with the bride who was accompanied by her father. She wore a lovely costume suit of dusty rose. The long coat matching the dress was embroidered in the same color and material. She wore a violet hat and black patent pumps and carried a Colonial bouquet of violets.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. C. Gordon. Following the wedding, a breakfast for the wedding party and a number of friends and relatives of the couple was given at the Powell home. The table was centered by a large white wedding cake and was decorated with pink and lavender sweet peas and pink candles.

After the breakfast, the couple left for their home in Floydada where Mr. Linder is a teacher in the schools.

Mrs. Linder is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Powell and has lived here most of her life. She is a graduate of the Clarendon schools and attended West Texas State College at Canyon. Mr. Linder graduated from Fallett High School and got his degree from West Texas State.

Guests at the wedding breakfast were the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Linder and Misses Vivian Taylor, Helen Green, Peggy Word, Joan Thompson, Dorothy McCormack, Rosalie Grady, Jean Bourland Ruth Cornell, Mary Francis Powell, Adele Hays of Amarillo, and Mr. and Mrs. John McLean and son, George, of Hereford, Mrs. Maude McClung and daughter, Mary Beth and Mr. and Mrs. Perry Powell and daughter, Joan, all of Amarillo; Mrs. Tommie Montford, Mrs. Angie Smith, both of Canyon, and Messrs. Linton Mahle of Canyon, Ralph Sanders of Roaring Springs, Hollis Bledsoe of Westbrook, Wesley Powell, Ardis Patman, Charlie Murphy and Mrs. J. R. Porter.

TEA IS GIVEN FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Mrs. J. D. Swift entertained Friday afternoon at her home with a tea honoring Miss Dorothy Powell, bride-elect. A Valentine motif was carried out in the decorations in a very attractive manner. Each guest brought a gift for the bride's kitchen. Mrs. U. J. Boston read a clever sketch about Miss Powell. Miss Vivian Taylor presided over the tea service.

Those present were Misses Dorothy Powell, Helen Green, Geraldine Pratt, Rosalie Grady, Vivian Taylor, Eugenia and Vera Noland, Ruth Cornell, Jean Bourland, Dorothea Watson and Mrs. U. J. Boston.

MRS. PATRICK ENTERTAINS BLUEBONNET CLUB

Mrs. W. H. Patrick entertained the Blue Bonnet Bridge Club with a lovely 1 o'clock luncheon and bridge party Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. L. Bigger. A three-course turkey dinner was served from a table centered with pink rosebuds in a crystal bowl. Place cards and favors were white swans made of shells containing an air plant brought from Florida by the hostess.

In the games of bridge, Mrs. A. R. Letts won high for club members, and Mrs. T. H. Ellis high for guests. Mesdames J. L. McMurtry, John Blocker and R. L. Bigger won low at each table.

Guests were Mesdames John Blocker, R. L. Bigger, F. E. Chamberlain, J. L. McMurtry, C. T. McMurtry, A. R. Letts, G. A. Ryan, Jack Molesworth, James Trent, T. H. Ellis, Charles Bugbee, C. G. Stricklin.

GOLDSTON QUILTING CLUB MEETS

The Goldston Quilting Club resumed their meetings this week when Mrs. Brock entertained them with an all-day meeting. Two quilts were quilted. A delicious covered dish luncheon was served at noon to twenty-six ladies and a number of children. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Dilli on Tuesday, Feb. 28. The day was very much enjoyed by all those present.

ROBERTS-GATLIN

A wedding of interest was that performed Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock between Miss Clara Pearl Gatlin and Mr. Elton Roberts. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gatlin near McLean.

The only attendants of the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Dick Jewell of Clarendon. Rev. W. A. Erwin, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at McLean, performed the ring ceremony. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Travis Stokes of McLean played "Londonberry Air" and "I Love You Truly." During the ceremony she played "Traumerie," and as a postlude, Wagner's "Wedding March."

The bride was attractively attired in a teal blue dress with British tan accessories. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gatlin. She was formerly employed by the county agent's office here. Mr. Roberts is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Roberts of Goldthwaite and is employed by the Williamson-Massie Truck Line.

The couple will be at home in Electra after this week. Those attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Siler Hopkins of Pampa, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Jewell of Clarendon, Mr. and Mrs.

Travis Stokes of McLean, Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Erwin of McLean and Mr. and Mrs. Gatlin.

BRIDE IS HONORED AT DINNER PARTY

The office force of the county agent's office here gave a dinner party Friday night in honor of Miss Pearl Gatlin, former employee, who was married Sunday to Elton Roberts. The dinner was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Breedlove. The dining table was centered with a lovely wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. A lace cloth was used on the table and green tapers lighted the scene. A delicious chicken dinner was served after which games of bingo were enjoyed during the evening.

Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Joe Ritter, Guy Durant, H. M. Breedlove, Elton Roberts, Mr. L. A. Hudson and Misses Vera and Eugenia Noland.

MRS. C. H. BUGBEE GIVES LOVELY PARTY

Mrs. C. H. Bugbee was hostess to a group of friends Tuesday afternoon at a delightful bridge party at her home. Pot plants were used for decorating the house. Five tables of auction bridge were played and in the game, Mrs. M. H. Rhoades won high and Mrs. F. E. Chamberlain had low. Low prizes were cut for at each table.

A delicious two-course luncheon was served to Mesdames H. G. Officer of Tulsa, Okla., Sella Gentry, Odos Caraway, J. T. Sims, W. C. McDonald, L. S. Bagby, M. H. Rhoades, W. H. Patrick, A. L. Chase, J. F. Blocker, Eva Rhoades, W. H. Martin, Wesley Knorpp, F. E. Chamberlain, A. R. Letts, J. L. McMurtry, C. T. McMurtry, C. C. Powell, Harold Bugbee, and Miss Mary Cooke.

FRIENDSHIP CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. MONGOLE

Mrs. J. E. Mongole and Miss Mable Mongole were hostesses Tuesday afternoon to the Friendship Club. Mrs. L. Ballew presided over the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Skinner. The usual fancy work was enjoyed during the afternoon. The next meeting will be Feb. 28 with Mrs. Aileen Skinner as hostess.

A plate lunch was served to guests, Mesdames W. A. Massie and J. W. Morrison and Miss Emily Ann Smith and these members, Mesdames Tyree, Aileen Skinner, J. A. Meadors, Glenn Williams, Eva Womack, J. D. Stocking, A. B. Apsur, Sawyer, Miss Katie Meadors.

McDOWELL MUSIC CLUB STUDIES NEGRO MUSIC

The subject of study for the McDowell Music Club Tuesday afternoon at their regular meeting was negro music and the part it has played in America. Misses Etta and Ida Harned were hostesses to the meeting at their home. The roll call was answered by 16 members with names of negro composers. The members repeated the club collect. After a short business session, the following interesting program was given. Mrs. Marvin Warren was leader and gave an excellent paper on "The Place of the American Negro in the Musical World." Mrs. L. E. Thompson played two piano solos, "Hoe Cake" and "Ticklin' Toes," both by Florence Price. Mrs. Frank Heath sang a solo, "That's Why Darkies Were Born."

MRS. DYER IS HOSTESS TO CONTRACT CLUB

Mrs. Sam Dyer delightfully entertained the Tuesday Contract Club Tuesday afternoon with a party at the home of Mrs. R. L. Bigger. In the games of bridge which were played during the afternoon, Mrs. Forrest Taylor had high score for members and Mrs. Alfred McMurtry had high for guests.

A delicious one-course refreshment was served to Mesdames Forrest Taylor, Ruth Kennedy, Simmons Powell, B. F. Kirtley, J. H. Miller, M. P. Gentry, T. H. Ellis, U. J. Boston, H. F. Hartley, Alfred McMurtry.

LOVELY TEA AND SHOWER GIVEN FOR MISS POWELL

One of the loveliest affairs given recently was the shower and tea for Miss Dorothy Powell Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. R. Porter with Mrs. Porter and Mrs. H. McElvany and Misses Vivian Taylor, Rosalie Grady, Jean Bourland, Helen Louise Green as hostesses.

About seventy-five friends of the bride called between 3 and 6 in the afternoon. They admired the many lovely gifts which Miss Powell received and enjoyed the following program: Piano solos, Nelda Sue Burton, Margaret Fay Wadsworth, Frankie Hommel, Annie Ree Porter; two readings, Naomi Morris; Mrs. U. J. Boston gave a clever original reading about the bride's life and the wedding.

Brick ice cream in the form of a Valentine and salted nuts were served to the guests. The table was lovely with a lace cloth and centered with sweet peas and pink candles. The bride's chosen colors of pink and lavender were carried out. Favors were white wedding bells tied with pink and lavender ribbon. Neta Jane Cornell Betty Jo Bain, Marilyn Sawyer, Helen, Annie Ree and Jean Porter, Margaret Fay Wadsworth, Naomi Morris, Frankie Howwel assisted in serving.

CHINESE PARTY HONORS MARGARET KELLEY AND WALTER KNORPP

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Merchant and Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Gentry were hosts Saturday night to a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cal Merchant, honoring Miss Margaret Kelley and Mr. Walter Knorpp. A Chinese theme was carried out throughout the party with cushions being used in place of chairs during the evening. A Chinese supper with chop suey eaten with chop sticks as the main dish, was served. Chinese games were enjoyed until a late hour.

Guests were Miss Kelley and Mr. Knorpp, Messrs. John S. Bugbee, P. B. Gentry and Martin Kelley, Miss Mantie Graves and Messrs. and Mesdames John Knorpp, Carroll Knorpp, Bill Carroll and Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Harter.

Mrs. Helen Officer and daughter, Helenita, of Tulsa, Okla., arrived Sunday to visit relatives and attend the Knorpp-Kelly wedding Saturday.

DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP

Things may seem unhappy, And friendships may slip, Just get a firm grip on life And don't give up the ship.

When you feel discouraged, And everyone is shouting off the lip, Remember that the world wasn't made in a day, Don't give up the ship.

If you doubts begin to fall, And your wills lose its grip, Work hard, make a mission, And don't give up the ship.

If the teacher says, "Young Sprout, you stay in," And your plans begin to slip, Remember, the teacher usually knows best, Don't give up the ship.

When you start to write a little poem, And you make a little slip, Just say, "I can do as well as he anyway," And don't give up the ship.

COLLEGE NEWS

The college is beginning to hum now. The president, George Seaton, has put several committees to work. The chairman of the various committees are doing their part to make this a great year for the college. All of the students seem willing to do their part to put over the programs of the school.

The college is planning to tour March 30 and 31 to advertise the college to neighboring towns. Charles Murphy, Ruth Cornell, Christine Knox and Theresa Bain are working on the program. Several skits musical numbers, and a speech will be given at the neighboring towns.

Plans are being made for the college banquet about March 31. The menu has been made out, the place selected and the price set. Believe it or not, the queen will be crowned at the banquet.

Junior-Senior Banquet Features Valentine Theme Tuesday Evening

The annual Junior-Senior banquet was held February 14, at the home economics department. The Valentine motif was carried out in the decorations. Large red hearts decorated the room and the color scheme was all in red and white.

A Valentine program was presented, consisting of the following numbers:

- The Comic Valentine, Neel Thompson.
- A Song of Love, Roe Zell Ryan, Accompanist—Jane McMurtry
- Valentine Greetings—J. H. Spicer
- To Our Valentine, Rebecca Banes
- Intercollegiate Valentines, St. Valentine.
- A Valentine for Teachers, Jo Ann Smith.
- Waltzes At the Heart Strings, Mr. H. T. Burton.
- Speeches: Foreword, A Musical Quiz.

Jo Ward has found her tall, dark and handsome.

CJC still hopes for a light winter because the atmospheric pressure seems settled. Max Rumpy's hair hasn't blown for several days.

Neel Wright is doing his bit for the scientific world. He has patented some high signs for Henry's and Mac's laws.

Winston Wood still gets the cake for being the CJC flirt, Root Reed, the inquisitive Rube, and Earl Shannon, the dumbbell.

Ione Wall and Marie Bain are still the object of a lot of heart trouble.

Warren Hardin is still hunting for his perfect woman; apply in person to him, no references needed.

Neel Thompson said that he is going to be more careful whom he tells about his dates.

Mr. Burton is expecting an offer from his old friend, Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel of a government position.

SENIORS GUESTS OF MEMPHIS HIGH

The Senior class of Clarendon High were the guests of the Senior class of Memphis High Wednesday, Feb. 16. Memphis extended the invitation for the Seniors to attend an assembly program and to hear Dr. Charles E. Barker. For the past 16 years Dr. Barker has been a noted lecturer. He spoke of the future of the students and his talk was thoroughly enjoyed by those attending.

PRESS CLUB STUDIES FEATURE STORIES

The Press Club met Monday afternoon after school in Miss Headrick's room.

The program consisted of a discussion of several types of feature stories by Glennie Deal, Betty Jane Smith and Billie Lou Gilbert. As usual, plans for this week's "Broncho Range" were discussed.

Those present were: Billie Horton, Jack Reeves, Billie Lou Gilbert, Glennie Deal, Rayburn Smith, Betty Jane Smith, Maxine Ellis, and the sponsor, Miss Headrick.

THIS-N-THAT

Margaret Pipes must be doing very well. She got a letter from Billie's boy friend.

Burl, what makes you look so lonesome? Having trouble with that Senior, or is it just Rebecca again?

What's wrong with the CHS boys? First the girls took Memphis, now it's Alandred.

Have you noticed that bright shirt that Bud wears? And did you notice that bright evening dress that Mary Elizabeth wore to the banquet? They are exactly the same color. It's rather queer for such utter strangers.

Allen's favorite pastime seems to be writing notes. So is Lois Marie's.

Did you notice that smile that Billy Latson wore when he attended the banquet? He looked like he was the cat that ate the canary. Was it because of a certain Junior girl?

Colie Huffman is out on the open range again. He takes everybody (that is girls) on a wild goose chase. From what we hear a certain Junior girl does not like this.

Wild Horse Lane is on the war path. He was heard making some wild and boasting statements to poor little Lummus. Lummus seemed to be digesting it pretty well. Maybe that's all he knows to do.

L. D. was seen doing the big apple or was he just trying to swing it a little bit? Anyway he and Lewis Chamberlain were getting a little too wild to do just right, so they were called down by Mr. Robbins. Maybe it isn't a bad example to follow.

3 Want FFA State Farmer Degree In Local Chapter

Johnnie Leathers, Pete Morrow and Horace Green have each made application for the Lone Star Farmer Degree in their F. F. A. work. This is the third degree in F. F. A. work and is open only to outstanding vocational agricultural students. The applicants were inspected February 1, by Harland Howell, vocational instructor at White Deer, the official inspector for the Pampa F. F. A. district. Each of the three local youths have made outstanding records in their project work and F. F. A. activities. Two Clarendon youths, Joe Williams and Eugene Putnam, are the only F. F. A. members in the Memphis District who have qualified for the advanced degree.

Frank Ford, Carson county agent, and J. P. Smith, Claude F. F. A. adviser, accompanied Howell while he made the inspections, and the three visited a majority of the calf, pig and lamb projects in the county. They reported that the local stock compared favorably with other stock being prepared for the Amarillo show.

Swept into Last War, We May Repeat Folly, Warns Stuart Chase

AMERICA had better plan now how to keep us out of war, or we may be swept into the next European conflagration against our will, just as we were dragged into the last war, warns Stuart Chase, noted economist, in the March Cosmopolitan.

In his challenging article, "Keep Your Powder Dry!" Mr. Chase reviews how in 1917 we drifted into a position where we had to fight, even though no one wanted to fight, except the few who saw an opportunity to acquire wealth and power out of war, and those who were bored to death by peace. What Chase fears is that we will repeat our folly and go blundering off to war again without reason.

A recent survey by the George Gallup Institute revealed that 69% of the people want the country to remain neutral in the event of war; and that 73% believe war is inevitable. These figures puzzle Mr. Chase. Why, he asks, is the government doing so little to prevent our becoming enmeshed again, when the majority of us want no part of war. The Neutrality Act of 1935 was a step in the right direction, but it didn't go far enough. It is foolish to think we are now safe because of the Act, he challenges Washington.

The best program yet seen by Mr. Chase to keep us out of war, is "The Maintenance of American Neutrality," prepared by a group of experts. The following are the terms:

1. When war comes, restrict exports to belligerents by government quotas, the quotas to be based on the average of actual exports to these countries during the last three peacetime years. (The Neutrality Act of 1935 only restricts exports of munitions; this provision restricts all exports.)
2. Shut off all credit to belligerents. Make them come and get their goods in their own ships and pay cash. Thus, if the ships are boarded, our exporters will not suffer any losses.

As for our defense, Mr. Chase believes we should be thoroughly equipped to make an invasion by a foreign country unthinkable. In his estimation Germany, Italy and Japan are the only countries likely to cause trouble; therefore, we should be strong enough to defend ourselves against one or all of them.

Further, he advises shying away from any military alliance with European powers, and to shut our ears when we hear of any such security to make the world safe for peace.

Chase adds a final thought to his peace program, perhaps the most important of his suggestions: if we really want to stay out of war, we must provide jobs for the jobless, security for the insecure and hope for those who have no hope.

They May March Again, says Chase.

CLARENDON METHODIST CIRCUIT
J. G. Walker, Pastor

We enjoyed the day at McKnight Sunday. Had a mighty good service at 11 a. m. The attendance not what we expected. Some sickness in the community, and a big smallpox scare. Some people are very easily scared away from church. The fear of a contagious disease is almost sure to get worse Sunday morning just before time to get ready to get to church. All the family maybe went to town Saturday, and stayed over for the picture show in the evening all about how the smallpox was being scattered. It would be awful to catch it at church, so they stay at home or go visiting, but by Monday morning the scare has worn off, and pretty soon they are on their way to town. It certainly is wise to use precaution against these dreaded diseases, but unwise to use it as an excuse and thus fool the pastor and try to fool the Lord.

Sunday evening we were at Bray and had a real good audience. More young people at Bray than any other point on Clarendon Circuit, or they attend church better.

We like to go to Bray, and we have been accused of braying when we go there. Well, we have found out that it is easier to bray than to preach, and some preachers bray when they think they are preaching. We really wish we could spend more time at Bray. Would like to help train that fine bunch of young people for Christian service. We are going to do our best anyway. Next Sunday we go to Goldston. Always glad when the time comes to go there. Everybody talk church this week, and fill the house. Next Saturday at 11 a. m. Brother Palmer will preach at McKnight and the McKnight people will serve lunch at noon and the Second Quarterly Conference will be held in the afternoon.

Come one, come all.

GRASS SOWN ON MEL DAVIS' RANCH FROM AIRPLANE

Second successful attempt to sow grass seed from an airplane was made yesterday when Poddy Parish, pilot for the Cabot company, sowed about 300 acres of the Mel Davis' ranch southeast of LeFors in Grama Grass. Parish flew the Panhandle Flying Service Aerona monoplane which has been equipped for the purpose.

An interested spectator was Ralph R. Thomas, county agent, who said he was agreeably surprised at the uniformity of the seeding. The plane carried enough seed each trip to sow a strip a mile long and 100 yards wide. Mr. Thomas and others walked down a road over which the plane had passed and found seeds at regular intervals.

Mr. Thomas declared that it would be absolutely impossible to sow the seed from a car or by hand as successfully as from an airplane.

On Wednesday afternoon Pilot Parish sowed several hundred acres of the Clinton Henry ranch north of here. — Pampa Daily News.

Time Now to Plant Shade Trees Says Landscaper

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 30. —"We don't usually think of it during winter, but now is the time to remember how much shade trees were needed here and there about the home last summer," says Sadie Hatfield, landscape gardening specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

Trees transplanted now from nurseries or the woods will have an opportunity to settle into the soil and be ready to grow by the time spring arrives, she pointed out. She recommended that trees be pruned back heavily and shaped up at the time of transplanting.

"If trees are planted where they are needed and with consideration for the size they will attain within a few years, they usually fit nicely into the landscape picture," Miss Hatfield stated. "Generally they should not be planted in straight rows

Farmers Asked For Soil-Depleting Crops On Less Than Three-Fourths Of State's Total Cropland

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 15. —Texas farmers will receive by the end of this month what adds up to a request by the AAA for soil depleting, cash crops or less than three-fourths of the state's total cropland—and on the other fourth, crops which will either nourish or conserve the soil.

That, briefly, is the AAA's conservation goal this year as reflected in state soil-depleting acreage allotments, announced here recently as follows: For general soil-depleting crops, such as corn and grain sorghum, 14,300,000 acres; cotton 9,250,000 acres; wheat, 3,333,333 acres; rice (12 counties), 189,000 acres, and commercial peanuts (eight counties), 119,350 acres.

That amounts to about 27 million acres, leaving approximately 11 million for crops which don't wear out the soil.

George Slaughter, farmer-chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee of the AAA, said that all farmers will know before planting time just how many acres of any one of several of the soil-depleting crops they may plant in order to qualify for 1939 benefit payments.

The government will go as high as $85,000,000 in all such payments to boost the income of Texas farmers who restrict cash crops to their pro rate share of the 1939 state acreage limits. Besides, Slaughter reminded, some $6,000,000 will be available to help Texas farmers grow soil-building and conserving crops on land diverted from cash crops, and to encourage such practices as terracing and cover-cropping to conserve moisture and keep land from washing and blowing away.

With individual farm acreage allotments already set up for cotton and wheat, county AAA offices are expected to allot individual acreages for rice, general crops and commercial peanuts before the month is out.

WILLIAMS APPLYS FOR HIGHEST F. F. A. DEGREE POSSIBLE TO WIN

Joe Williams, president of the local chapter, made application last week for the American Farmer Degree in his F. F. A. work. Joe is vice president of the Memphis FFA District, treasurer of the Area 1, FFA, and holds the Lone Star Farmer degree. He has been outstanding in both FFA activities and project work. Last year he was a member of the poultry team that won five straight contests; was high man in dairy product contest at Plainview; showed the grand champion pig at the local stock show, and won many other honors throughout the year.

The application will be acted upon by the state FFA executive committee in Fort Worth, March 11, and if favorable action is given, Williams will be awarded the degree at the National Convention in October. Joe was selected as the star Lone Star Farmer in Area 1 for 1937-1938.

JOHN A. POTTS DIES SUDDENLY SUNDAY MORNING

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD MONDAY AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

John A. Potts, well-known business man, died suddenly Sunday morning from a heart attack. He had been in perfect health apparently and worked all day Saturday. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the First Presbyterian Church with Rev. R. S. McKee officiating and interment was in the Citizen's cemetery. The Masonic Lodge was in charge of the services.

Mr. Potts was born Nov. 2, 1873 in North Carolina. When a young man he came to Texas. About 1905 he came to Clarendon and with the late L. S. Bagby and J. R. Tucker established the first bakery shop here. For the past 30 years he has been engaged in the barbering business. He owned the Potts Barber Shop at the time of his death and formerly was in the Potts and McGowan Barber Shop.

Survivors are his widow, his mother and nine brothers and sisters who live in North Carolina, a brother, Tom of DeKalb, who with his son, Ted, attended the funeral; a daughter, Mrs. Floyd Lumpkin, and two grandsons, James Lumpkin and Mickey Allen.

Cotton Acreage Allotment Raised In Donley County

The cotton acreage allotment for Donley county for the year of 1939, has been increased 873 acres, according to a report from the county agent's office.

This is in accordance with the recent AAA ruling, which stipulates that those counties that do not have 40 per cent average, are entitled to a raise, to make their acreage up to that figure.

County Agent H. M. Breedlove states that those farmers due an increase in cotton acreage allotment, are being notified through the mail.

Hereford Is Site Of 18th District Legion Meeting

One of the biggest Legion meetings will be held at Hereford, on Tuesday, Feb. 21, at 8 p. m. when the 18th District holds its regular monthly meeting. These meetings are held each month and the local American Legion post commander urges every Legionnaire to be present at this meeting. The last meeting was held at Amarillo with 523 present.
