AND NOW COMES EASTER

Easter is with us next Sunday—the earliest in many, many years, and thoughtful citizens should do more than make a perfunctory attendance to the church of his or her choice.

In this hectic, selfish, war-torn world, there is only one justified hope for Peace and Liberty and Justice—and that is the lifting up and acceptance of the gospel and teachings of the Resurrected Christ.

Easter marks pointedly His Life, His Message and the Hope of His Salvation. May we do our part in honoring and forwarding the good of all mankind and of our own souls, by keeping Easter 1940 in the true spirit of Our Lord and Master, Who doeth all Things Well.

Go to Church Easter Sunday—and do more—very much more!

STATE DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE ENDORSES GARNER

Down at Hillsboro last week the Texas Democratic Committee gave its unqualified endorsement to the Garner-for-President movement, which was certainly to be expected, and as it should be.

Immediately following this action certain Austin Democrats launched a "draft Roosevelt for a third term" movement in Texas, and say they will call a mass meeting in the next month or two, hoping to stem the huge Garner sentiment in the Lone Star State.

It is unfortunate that there should be any discordant notes in putting Texas squarely behind the Garner banner, since he has what appears the inside track for the conservative element of the party, but Texas Democrats have a way of knifing each other, that is not likely to fade just when the state has its first opportunity to nominate a citizen for the presidency of the United States.

With all the rumpus Texas delegations to the National Democratic Convention will go instructed and enthusiastic for John Garner as its 1940 standard-bearer.

NATIONAL POLITICAL SEASON BEGINS

The Republican National Convention will be held in Philadelphia and the Democratic National Convention in Chicago in a few weeks.

The Democratic party must win, or fall, on the record it has made with the New Deal during the past seven years.

The Republican party received a knock-out in 1932 and it has not made a new record. It is coasting-along.

The Republicans picked 200 lay-leaders in the party ranks headed by Doctor Glenn Frank and gave them a job to study the affairs of the nation in the capacity of the Republican Program Committee. It furnished a 35,000-word report and a tentative program containing many pledges by which it promises to "redeem the nation."

There never was a political season with "less fun in it" than this one. There never has been one that contains more issues and disputed problems about democratic government than the present one.

No one knows who will be nominated by either party, or which party will win the election. The fellow who says he knows is just doing some wishful-guessing for his own comfort and satisfaction.

Every American should figure out the new situation without accepting the belly-boo of politicians as final.

In spite of cold, blustery days with a sprinkle of sand in the atmosphere Spring, mocking birds and improvements come along apace.

Clarendon is beginning to show lots of seasonal animation, which is likely to blossom into a real building boom in the next few weeks.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS ENDORSE GARNER AT AMARILLO

Last Saturday the Young Democrats of the Panhandle area held a conclave at Amarillo and resolved enthusiastically, with the full strength of the group thrown behind the Garner-for-President movement in Texas.

With Young Democrat clubs in most every town, the power of this aggressive group of young voters is certainly to be reckoned with in the months and years to come.

RARE COURAGE NEEDED NOW

The favorite challenge to those who believe it is time to bring a runaway budget under control in Washington is, "Where would you cut costs?" To this challenge the National Economy League has replied with a concrete plan for a balanced budget in the fiscal year beginning next July. The plan calls for some new taxes and a reduction of about 20 per cent in the over-all expenditures of the Government. Specific proposals are offered as to where and how to make this cut. The League contends that it can be done without neglect of the problem of national defense, without injury to the social services of the Government, without disregard of the interests of the unemployed. It does not attempt to argue that it can be done without political courage and a willingness to throw overboard the theory that "spending creates prosperity." But it is more and more clear that these two things are the price of a balanced budget.—New York Times.

WE HOPE THIS HAPPENS

Foreign trade is scheduled by our Government for a boom. That will give the New Deal a chance to call off some of its spending—and that will be a help.

JOHN GARNER LEADS PRESIDENTIAL RACE

Texas' distinguished favorite son—John N. Garner, the only Democrat to have announced unqualifiedly that he is a presidential candidate—is today the leading choice of his Party to succeed to the Presidency.

Uniformly popular in all sections of the country and among all classes of people, Vice President Garner is esteemed for his sound common sense, practical liberalism, and long experience in governmental affairs. Political observers in Washington agree that these attributes, together with the fact that his sturdy log-cabin Americanism is the nation's best safeguard against involvement in war, are responsible for his popularity among the rank and file of the people.

His name has been submitted directly to voters in a number of state primaries, in accordance with his democratic philosophy that "the people should decide." In announcing his candidacy last December, Mr. Garner said: "I will accept the nomination for President. I will make no effort to control any delegates. The people should decide. The candidate should be selected at primaries and conventions as provided by law and I sincerely trust that all Democrats will participate in them."

Patriotic Texans will attend their own precinct conventions May 4 to record their support of their noted fellow Texan.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

AUSTIN — The prospect that Vice President John Garner may face a strong fight within his own home state to obtain the support of the Texas delegation to the national Democratic convention next July arose in State political circles this week, as rumors flew rapidly about the state that "draft Roosevelt" third term advocates were preparing to call a meeting and launch the battle. Prominently mentioned as sponsors of the meeting were Tom Miller, Mayor of Austin, a strong Roosevelt supporter, who since Austin got multiplied millions for Colorado River hydro-electric development, probably would be for Roosevelt to remain in office indefinitely, and Jim Ferguson, the old fox of Texas politics, who has always been a strong Roosevelt partisan. Nucleus of the "draft Roosevelt" organization would be postmasters, other Federal employees numbering into the thousands, (who aren't proposing to take the Hatch law very seriously), and other thousands of WPA, pension, unemployment insurance and other Federal fund beneficiaries. The reports were enough to send the Garner organizations workers, Gene Germany, State Democratic committee chairman, and Myron Blalock, co-chairman of the Garner campaign forces, scurrying for the state for hurried conferences.

Will F. D. R. Run?

The O'Daniel controlled State Executive Committee, meeting in Hillsboro, quickly squelched an anti - Garner movement sponsored by two rebel members — Mrs. Frances Haskell Edmondson, of San Antonio, co-chairman of the committee, and O. P. Lockhart of Austin. Mrs. Edmondson had previously endorsed Garner, and announced she would seek to defeat Mrs. Clara Driscoll, of Corpus Christi, as National Committeewoman. But she exercised a woman's privilege and changed her mind. Now she is for Roosevelt for this term, and will run against Paul Kilday, the Congressman who ousted Maury Maverick.

Many well-informed political observers here think Roosevelt does not want and probably will not accept a third term nomination, but that he very definitely wants to name the candidate. With a straight majority rule in force, instead of the traditional two thirds rule under which the Democratic national convention operated for half a century, these political students think there is little doubt Roosevelt will get what he wants. They feel pretty sure that it will not be John Garner, but possibly Cordell Hull, or even a dark-horse not now being mentioned. Some politicians here have never felt Garner was a serious candidate, but merely was drafted by anti - Roosevelt forces to head up a "stop Roosevelt" movement. The latest Gallup poll, showing 47 per cent of the voters want Roosevelt for a third term indicates the "stop Roosevelt" movement has not made much headway. Any plain indication that the president seriously wants a third term would probably enable him to pick up an additional ten per cent of "bandwagon vote" overnight.

There is no question of Roosevelt's strength with the masses. Ex-Attorney General Bill McCraw, victim of the flour hurricane in the governor's race two years ago, emerges as an author. His book, entitled "Professional Politicians," will be out about April 1. Texas political circles await it with considerable interest, since O'Daniel labelled Bill a "professional" and Bill cheerfully accepted the title.

But in Texas the masses rarely control state conventions, or instruct delegations. The politicians distinctly don't want Roosevelt.

Mann Hits County Officials

Attorney General Gerald Mann, that amazing man who lays down the law and lets the chips fall where they may, held this week that Dallas County is not authorized to purchase automobiles for county commissioners, nor to pay their travel expense while on missions outside the county. Many Texas counties, if this ruling applies generally, have been violating the law. In Dallas County, for instance, a check last winter showed that various members of the County Commissioners' court made a total of 27 trips to Austin, principally on lobbying errands, during the first four months of the legislative session. It would be interesting to know how many illegally paid for trips the taxpayers financed when the county judges and commissioners moved in on the Legislature to lobby for the County Judges' Road Bond bill, and the Tax Remission bill — the latter declared unconstitutional by Mann and a Court of Civil Appeals — were before the solons.

Spoils System Costs Pile Up

The costly spoils system by which State government of Texas is run continued to pile up discard and waste of the taxpayers' money this week. Railroad Commissioners Jerry Sadler and Lon Smith, who "cleaned out" employees of the Commission when they formed a "job alliance" after Sadler took office, were worried, as Gordon Bingham, Sadler's appointee to the post of deputy supervisor in charge of the Midland oil production district, made $5,000 bond on a felony complaint charging he accepted a bribe of $5,000 to recommend no reduction in the allowable of an oil company. The oil company, it is reported, notified officers when solicited, and the money was paid in marked bills, later alleged to have been found in Bingham's possession. Sadler is running for Governor, and Smith for re-election as Railroad Commissioner.

The sniping warfare between a majority of the Board of Control, composed of two O'Daniel appointees, and Dr. J. W. Johnson, whom the board majority tried to fire, as superintendent of the San Antonio state hospital, continued. The two board members, refused to approve Johnson's action in dismissing three more employees. Courts held the board must agree with personnel changes made by the Superintendent to make them effective.

Some observers here thought the "investigation" of Dr. Johnson by the Board of Control, and the row kicked up by Dr. Bradford of the Liquor Control board, may have some influence on the action of the Senate in confirming these and other O'Daniel appointments next January.

Ex-Attorney General Bill McCraw, victim of the flour hurricane in the governor's race two years ago, emerges as an author. His book, entitled "Professional Politicians," will be out about April 1. Texas political circles await it with considerable interest, since O'Daniel labelled Bill a "professional" and Bill cheerfully accepted the title.

These interesting facts about the midget members of the equine family are contained in the annual report of the State Comptroller of Public Accounts now in the hands of the printer.

But the voters at the next election generally demand the enforcement of the estray status and after one term of wandering in the wilderness of unsound taxation these tax jackasses are usually branded with the scorn of public opinion and penned permanently in the corral of political obscurity.

Our work has just begun

YOU think electric service is a wonderful thing—and it is. It lights our homes. It makes our streets safe at night. Turns wheels in factories. Lifts the burden of housework. Helps make the good things of life cost less.

Really, there doesn't seem much left for electricity to do, does there?

Yet we employees of your electric company believe that every service and comfort electricity now gives you is but a beginning of what's to come.

Why, today we don't even know what electricity is. We simply know and enjoy some of the things it is capable of doing every moment of the day and night. But we also know that there are still a great many undiscovered tasks for electric service.

Who will perform these miracles-to-come?

The men who serve you now—the same great army of skilled technicians, capable managers and loyal employees whose tireless efforts in your behalf have already vastly improved the service your electric company gives you, already drastically reduced its cost.

No, it isn't an accident that electricity has reached its greatest present development in the United States. The reason is that these thousands of men and women in the electrical industry have the American spirit of initiative—the good old-fashioned kind.

Their work, and theirs alone, makes your electric service the best in the world. It's an amazing service. It gets better and better, costs less and less.

Your electric company doesn't often think about the work it has done because it is too busy planning the work that lies ahead.

MORE FOR YOUR MONEY

In the last 10 to 15 years, the engineering improvements and operating economies of your electric company have made it possible to cut the average price of household electricity just about in half. Many customers now using more household appliances, lots of lights, a radio, and refrigerator pay very little more to operate all of these than they used to pay for light alone.
