Rains Up To Three Inches Revive Donley Crops

ENTIRE COUNTY BENEFITS BY MOISTURE

DROUGHT BROKEN AS HEAVY RAINS DRENCH PARCHED FARM LANDS

Rains which broke a six-week drought and heat wave fell in Donley County this week and boosted farmers' hopes for a feed and cotton crops this fall. The drought was officially broken Tuesday when over an inch of moisture was recorded in the Martin and Goodnight communities and the maximum temperature fell below the 90-degree mark for the first time in over a month.

An area south of Lelia Lake benefited by a good rain which fell last Saturday afternoon. About 1.35 inches fell on the Nelson Seago, Harvey Shaw and N. R. Simmons places, all located about four miles southeast of Lelia Lake. On the Seago farm lightning struck, killing three of his milk cows which were out in the field.

Steady rains, believed to be general over the county, began falling here early this morning. From 1:30 a. m. until about 6 a. m., Joe Goldston, local weatherman, recorded .11 of an inch. The rain slacked up and started about 7 o'clock, and at noon Mr. Goldston reported a total of .75 of an inch had fallen here during the entire morning.

Charlie McMurry reported today that a three inch rain fell on his ranch during the night. His place is located northeast of Goldston.

Other farmers in the Goldston Community said that over two inches had fallen since 9:30 p. m. last night. County Agent H. M. Breedlove said today that the heavy rains last night had filled up the small lakes at Lelia Lake.

Donley County got a brief respite from the drought on July 29 when .42 of an inch fell between 9 p. m. and 12 p. m. However, the moisture was insufficient for the crops and additional moisture was badly needed at this time.

Donley County experienced one of the hottest Julys in recent years as the mercury shot over the 90 degree mark every day during the past month. The temperature went over the 100-degree mark eighteen of the 31 days during the month.

DEMO DELEGATES ARE NAMED TO STATE MEET

WRIGHT'S LEAD CUT FROM 81 TO 76; RICHMOND'S FROM 112 TO 93

The County Democratic committee, meeting here last Saturday for the purpose of canvassing returns of the first primary, made changes in the totals of two county races, and named four delegates and four alternates to the state democratic convention at Mineral Wells on Sept. 3.

In the sheriff's race revised figures show Guy Wright's lead cut from 81 votes to 76. Complete official returns give Mr. Wright 1198 votes to Jess Adamson's 1122.

Ruth Richerson's lead over S. W. Lowe was reduced from 112 votes to 93, according to official figures which gave her a total of 1296 votes to her opponent's 1113.

Delegates elected to the state meet include Homer Mulkey, J. R. Porter, W. T. Link, and S. M. Braswell. Alternates are J. T. Patman, A. L. Chase, J. P. Pool, and A. O. Hefner.

Hobbs will represent Donley County at the state meet.

FARM PURCHASE DISCUSSIONS HELD HERE

PROGRAM IS EXPLAINED BY ROBBINS AND FINLEY REGIONAL CHIEFS

General discussions involving a detailed explanation of the farm Tenant Purchase program were held here Monday at the county agent's office by Homer Robbins, Farm Tenant Purchase regional chief, and Tom Finley, of Amarillo, Farm Security district supervisor.

Those attending the meetings were Ruby Mathews, Lois Waggoner, Nettie Sims, W. A. Poovey, Ed Hodges, John Gillham, R. Y. King, Odos Caraway, Sam Lowe, G. G. Reeves, H. M. Breedlove, John Burch and newspapermen. Mr. Poovey and Mr. Hodges are members of the advisory committee whose job it is to select those eligible to participate in the program. To date, 210 applications have been made in Donley County.

Following the discussions, the group left shortly after lunch for Hall County where they visited a model tenant farm near Memphis, and got a clear-cut picture of how the program is really working. Hall county has eight such farms and they are being used as examples to go by in other nearby counties coming under the program.

Mr. Robbins, in his talks, pointed out that the Farm Security Administration is working together with the county advisory committee, each one furnishing each other with information which will put the right kind of people on these farms in order to make the program workable.

He said that the object of this program was to give worthy tenants and share-croppers an opportunity to become a home-owner, and cautioned the advisory committee that the selection of the right kind of men was necessary if the program was to be successful.

Odos Caraway told the group that he had visited the Hall county farm homes and that they had impressed him. He pointed out the various steps necessary in making tenant farming successful.

Painting Courthouse Flag Pole Is An Easy Job--Providing You Have Had Years Of Experience

A job of painting atop a light aluminum, and the base eighty foot flag pole while "swaying through the breeze" is a mighty tough one—but not for Harry J. Crosley who has had 27 years experience in painting flag poles, smoke stacks, and chimneys.

Crosley, who tours the country following such a profession, painted the courthouse flag pole here Tuesday afternoon in about two hours. The pole was painted

JULY IS ONE OF DRYEST MONTHS FOR DONLEY

Donley County experienced one of the driest months in recent years when the total rainfall for July totalled less than a half inch.

Weatherman Joe Goldston recorded moisture but once during the 31-day period, on July 20th when only .42 of an inch was reported.

Most of the county received a similar amount of moisture on this date and various communities benefitted slightly by thunder showers during the last two days of the month. But as a whole, the county's rainfall was far from being sufficient for pastures.

Weatherman Goldston's recordings show .82 of an inch during the month of July, 1939, and 1.48 inches during the same month in 1938.

Increase Shown In State Intangible Assessments

AUSTIN — Intangible assessments of railroads, pipe lines and toll bridges in Texas for 1940 total $79,090,100, or $1,032,629 more than for 1939, the comptroller's department announced this week.

Possible revenue from this source, however, figures approximately $63,000 less because of an eight cent slash in the ad valorem tax rate.

Assessments of pipe lines for 1940 were $47,267,100, compared with $46,134,480 for 1939 and assessments of railroads totaled $21,623,000 against $31,723,000 for those years.

Bridge assessment totals were unchanged at $200,000.

The assessments are on what is known as the good will of corporations arising from their excess earnings, and are arrived at in hearings among representatives of the comptroller and the companies.

They are set by the state tax board, composed of the comptroller, the attorney general and the secretary of state, and the tax is collected by the counties.

AD VALOREM TAX RATE IS SLASHED EIGHT CENTS

An eight-cent reduction in the state ad valorem tax which will total 69 cents for each $100 of assessed valuation for 1940-1941, was announced this week at Austin.

The portion for school purposes will be 27 cents instead of 35 cents.

The reduction in school rate was possible because the board of education has a $500,000 balance in its textbook fund and will need only $1,500,000 instead of the normal $2,000,000 to buy free text books next year, and because there will be an estimated unpaid balance of only $200,000 in the year-end appropriation at the beginning of the new year. There was $4 unpaid balance at the beginning of this year.

The reduction in total rate was the first downward adjustment in several years. The school rate previously lowered from 29 cents to seven cents was upped to the maximum 35 cents two years ago.

PERSHING vs. LINDBERGH

Diametrically opposite views of America's duty in the present world crisis were voiced in radio speeches the first of the week by General John J. Pershing, and Col. Lindbergh, and this sharp difference serves to bring to our nation the nature of the decision we must immediately make in the matter of a definite world policy.

Briefly, General Pershing advocates the full limit of armament for national defense, and the immediate sending to Britain of "fifty destroyers" from our own navy, so that the battle for Democratic ideals shall have a better chance of being won in Europe—and not brought to our own shores by a totalitarian victory. On the other hand, Col. Lindbergh, cautions against a policy of effective hostility to German aims, and recommends "a policy of co-operation with Europe" if we are to maintain Western civilization. Lindy evidently believes in the complete triumph of Hitler against Britain.

Thus, the battle of American policy is definitely engaged. Either we must rearm, and give to England our utmost mechanical aid and support, if we believe Britain fights the battle of Democracy against Hitlerism, or we must adjust our diplomacy and relationships on the plan of appeasement in the hope that such a course will serve American interests.

The News chooses to listen to the advice of Pershing. We believe in co-operation with Europe, but we believe we should co-operate with that power in Europe that would protect liberty and democracy. That power is the British Empire, and to her we should rush all supplies and materials that our battle, shall be won over there, rather than over here.

Appeasement is the direct cause of enslavement of most of Europe, and the scourge of Hitlerism, today. America cannot afford to fall into the error that has cost so much bloodshed and suffering.

We must be alert and strong—we must be wise—we must be united, if we are to survive; if human liberty is to be safe here, or any where on the face of the globe.

DO WE MEAN "GOD BLESS AMERICA"?

Under the stress of world conditions the tuneful song with prayerful theme, "God Bless America," has become a universal favorite in this country.

Nobody can gainsay the need of a sincere, reverent prayer, "God Bless America," but we are enlightened in this nation enough to recognize certain conditions requisite to the hearing and answer of prayer by the Almighty.

Are we ready to repent in humble earnestness for our selfish sins? Are we ready to turn away from our careless, wicked ways? Are we resolved to walk in paths of righteousness?

God can and will "Bless America" if we ask in the right spirit and attitude. He is not to be humbugged by spoiled children, who call only in distress, and with no intention of mending their ways. Do we mean "God Bless America"?

O'DANIEL SIGNALLY HONORED DESKINS WELLS

A warm supporter of Governor O'Daniel and a good friend of this editor, remarked that he had split with The News man on support of Deskins Wells, voting for Gene Worley in the first primary, instead. While we never quarrel with any man about his vote, we did inquire the reason for support to Worley, and he very promptly said he stayed with the legislator from Shamrock because Worley had a letter from Governor O'Daniel commending him for his work in the last legislature and his support of measures that would have raised the money to pay old age assistance.

Well, Gene Worley does have a good record in the lower house at Austin, but his letter from O'Daniel is not to be taken as the governor's specific mark of approval to Gene in this race, as against Deskins Wells, the splendid citizen from Wellington, whom Governor O'Daniel so signally honored when he appointed Wells as a member of the Texas Coronado Commission, along with four other prominent men of the Panhandle in other sections of this district.

Governor O'Daniel signally honored Deskins Wells by this appointment and in line with his impressive lead in the July primary. The News believes that the people of this district are going to honor Wells with a splendid majority for congress on August 24th.

LOTS OF GOOD HORSES IN DONLEY

One of the surprising developments of Clarendon's Celebration this year was the scores of high grade saddle horses in Donley County that appeared in the parade and rodeo events. Not many realized that we had so many fine saddle animals since the coming of the automobile and gradual discarding of the horse as a means of transportation.

The Coronado events over the Southwest, and the emphasis on the rodeo has indeed spotlighted the horse in 1940 as it hasn't been for many, many years. The News mentioned several weeks ago that we of the Southwest were honoring the horse in 1940, and we know now that the horse is holding his place in the estimation of man better than many of us thought.

We are proud of the fine horses of Donley County. With the development and expansion of our annual celebration events, there is a probability that we may feature a horse show here that will bring a lot of added interest to our celebration, and expand and improve our already creditable stock of good horses in our section.

Manly men, beautiful and accomplished women, high-bred horses, mean character and quality in citizenship and community life. Donley has them in percentage that explains our cultured society and desirable fellowship.

Economic Highlights

Tax Bills of Every Individual. National and International Happenings That Affected the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare.

The conference of the 21 American Republics, which recently took place in colorful Havana, got off to a rather discouraging start. Secretary Hull made a forthright speech, in which he called upon the nations of this hemisphere to band solidly together in commercial and military ties, to oppose European aggression of any kind. Mr. Hull also roundly castigated European dictators for their ruthless attacks on small, practically defenseless states, intimating that might happen South of the Rio Grande unless unity is achieved. Most of the Latin American foreign ministers present, paid lip service to this doctrine. But there were strong undercurrents of dissent. In many cases, South American business was afraid it would get the short end of the stick if the Hull program were adopted in toto. On top of that, the Axis powers have unquestionably made serious inroads into Latin America. Certain countries, notably Brazil, have been largely settled by Germans, and Hitler's agents have been working for years to convert them to the Nazi ideology. All of South America is, of course, of Latin origin, and Spanish and Italian influences are strong. Italy is an active German ally, and Franco-dictated Spain is Hitler's passive ally.

However, it looks as if the majority of Latin American governments are genuinely afraid of Axis activity, and are determined to remain Republics. So, at the end, they came at least half way to agreeing with proposed U. S. policy. After endless hours of talk, negotiation and conciliation, the 21 foreign ministers present, agreed upon a three-point policy of far-reaching significance. As reported by J. C. Stark, AP man on the scene the points provide:

1. The status of European positions in this hemisphere is of vital concern to all the Republics, and if necessary they will be temporarily taken over and administered by the Republics in order to safeguard continental security. This is a direct slap in the face to any ambition Hitler may have to seize English and French possessions in our part of the world, and amounts to Latin American avowal and support of the Monroe Doctrine. 2. An economic plan is to be prepared whereby relief is to be given to countries which have lost vital European markets. At the same time, an inter-American trading system is to be developed in order to prevent European states from enforcing unfair trade terms upon the American nations. 3. All the Republics will work together in fighting "fifth column" activities. Alleged abuse of diplomatic privilege by foreign representatives is to be investigated. This is also a direct slap at Hitler — German consuls and other officials have been among the worst offenders, and have used their offices almost openly to promote trouble. Germans have boasted that it is within their power to produce revolutions within half a dozen Latin American countries whenever desired.

In all this the United States will be the leader. It will have to put up most of the money to back any trade, cartel or other economic plan, and if military action becomes necessary it will have to provide practically all of the ships, soldiers, airplanes and guns. From a military point of view, Latin America is extremely weak, and so are most of the Republics from the economic point of view. And that brings up a question that is being increasingly asked these days: Is the United States embarked upon an imperial policy?

Only time can answer that, but a good guess "yes!" We have always made a fetish of opposition to imperialism — even at times, we have ruthlessly followed the traditional imperial path of conquest. And in these discordant days, it may be that imperialism is being forced upon us, whether we like it or not. Most experts are convinced that we must maintain the status quo, or a policy favorable to us, in Latin America, no matter what the cost. Give the Axis real strength there, they say, and we would sink into the obscurity of a third-rate power, dependent upon possible enemies for existence and favors. That means that Latin America must follow our lead — and if the Republics won't do it willingly, they must in some way be forced to do it. The time when force may be necessary has not arrived. All hope it will never arrive. But, come what may, it is a very safe bet that Uncle Sam will be a bigger and more aggressive figure than ever in this entire hemisphere, from the Arctic ocean to the far tip of South America.

The presidential polls are starting. They show that the President has a lead over Wendell Willkie — but it is comparatively slight.

BOYER OPENS HIS CAMPAIGN FOR RUNOFF

INFANT ANTICIPATE HEAVY SPEAKING PROGRAM FOR REMAINING DAYS

Max Boyer, Ochiltree County candidate for State Senator in the runoff Primary to be held August 24, stated Monday that he did not anticipate a heavy speaking program during the remaining days of the campaign. Boyer said his friends over the 26 counties who have supported him so loyally in this race are of the opinion that the general public needs a rest from political speeches.

Boyer opened his runoff campaign Saturday night, July 27, at midnight when it became apparent that he would oppose the Amarillo candidate in the coming election. Phone calls from friends over the North Plains Area poured into the Boyer Headquarters at Perryton Saturday night and Sunday. The candidate urged all his friends to begin at once in the new campaign for State Senator.

Boyer stated this week that he felt he must wage a more active campaign during the remaining days before the election than he had in the first primary. He based this statement on the fact that his large support in the first election was scattered over the entire 26 counties of the district, whereas the bulk vote of his Amarillo opponent was necessary for him to visit briefly in practically every town in the Panhandle. The records show that Mr. Boyer received 42 per cent of all the votes cast in the last election, and had a majority of 6,000 votes when the votes of Amarillo were taken from the list.

In his radio talk made since the first primary election, Max Boyer remained consistent in asking the people to check his record and give him final consideration on the basis of the record he had made during the four years he has served as State Representative. He also remained consistent in that he complimented his Amarillo opponent personally, rather than stoop to the mud slinging tactics that is often employed by professional politicians. Boyer visited the XIT Reunion at Dalhart Monday of this week and appeared for a speaking date be-

WELLS PUSHING CAMPAIGN IN DISTRICT

CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS VISITS EIGHT COUNTIES IN PAST WEEK

WELLINGTON, — Hardly waiting until the primary votes were counted, Deskins Wells, who led his nearest opponent in the 18th Congressional race by approximately 6,000, plunged into the run-off campaign with characteristic vigor, visiting eight counties last week.

"I am visiting each of the counties in the district as rapidly as possible," Wells declared, "and I would like to personally thank as many as possible of the 15,373 men and women who so loyally supported me in the first primary."

During the last week, Wells visited the northern part of the district, while spending the week-end in the extreme southeastern part of the district.

Not to be outdone by their hard-working candidate, the farmers, ranchers, and just "plain" people of Wells' home county of Collingsworth, where he received over 81 per cent of the total vote, are working day and night on a campaign that is reaching every section of the Panhandle. "I am working harder now than ever before," Wells said. "I want to repay friends who gave me such a splendid lead by working now, just as I expect to work when they send me to Washington."

That this campaign is well received is amply demonstrated by the hundreds of people who supported one of the ten eliminated candidates in the primary who have offered Deskins Wells unqualified support in the run-off. Judging from the final vote tabulations, Wells is extremely strong in the agricultural districts and small towns, having carried ten counties with predominantly rural interests.

John Plaster of Canyon visited here Sunday.

Before the Hansford County Agricultural Association at Spearman, Monday evening. The candidate will spend his time visiting with friends and prospective voters over the district the remaining days before the second Primary Election.

Part of every Texas oil dollar finds its way INTO YOUR POCKET

EVERY merchant in our State—every business and professional man—every worker, shares in Texas oil's huge expenditures.

Many Texas cities with all their varied businesses and employment exist and prosper today because of oil.

Last year petroleum created a direct buying power in our state of 550 million dollars.

Of this, Texas retail merchants received 324 million dollars, landlords 44 million, utilities 35 million and professional men 22 million, while 83 million more went for insurance and savings.

This huge sum is distributed and redistributed in an endless chain of income for our State and its people.

Texas oil payrolls are over 60 per cent of all the wages paid to all Texas workers. Directly or indirectly, you get a part of your income from oil.

If you're a Texan, you're in the oil business.

The Gallup poll, released last Sunday, shows Mr. Roosevelt and Wendell Willkie running today neck and neck. Whereas Mr. Roosevelt is still ahead in popular votes, Mr. Willkie leads in the electoral vote, 304 to 227. William Jennings Bryan once got the most popular vote but failed to win the presidency because the electoral vote proved disastrous for him.

However, Mr. Roosevelt is likely to overcome such a predicament. According to the American Institute of Public Opinion, 12 million independents hold the balance of power in the November election. This means, of course, that Mr. Roosevelt may or may not capture the greatest number of these votes.

With Wallace as his running mate, Mr. Roosevelt has a good chance of breaking into some of the GOP's conceded territory in the Midwest. In the Gallup poll, Iowa, Wallace's home state, Nebraska and Illinois are definitely leaning Republican. Secy. Wallace might be able to swing one or two of these states.

However the present war in Europe, should it continue through November, and the inevitable conscription law will both have a considerably bearing on the way the presidential vote goes. Thus we can look for a decided swing, one way or the other, in such a poll before the November election.

With Democrats running on Republican tickets, and Republicans running on Democratic tickets, the best thing we can do is to elect Gracie Allen president. It couldn't be more confusing.

Mr. Roosevelt has won another great victory and perhaps picked up a few more million votes. Al Smith, once defeated and greatly disappointed in his race for the presidency of the United States on the Democratic ticket, is said to be wearing a Willkie button.

Here's a good one: Wise Guy (boarding street car) — Well Noah, is the ark full? Conductor — Nope, we need one more jackass; come on in.

Some time ago Bernard Shaw was interviewed by a reporter from an English newspaper who asked Shaw whether he believed in advertising. Shaw promptly answered: "Decidedly so, and I have my reasons. It is known that a codfish lays ten thousand eggs in one day, but it is done silently. Well, the chicken lays one egg and cackles. Nobody eats codfish eggs, and everybody eats chicken eggs."

Concluding a joyous three weeks that took them to Havana, Cuba where the International Lions Convention was held, the Ralph Andis family returned home last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Andis, and their son, Billy, left Clarendon on July 14, driving to Miami, Fla., where they boarded a 712 passenger boat for the convention city. Mr. Andis is president of the Clarendon Lions club and represented this city and Texas at Havana.

Before leaving the American mainland, the Andis family spent five days visiting in Miami where they saw Al Capone's home, the Firestone estate, the only wild Parrot jungle in United States, Sausage trees, the Seminole Indian village, the widely publicized Miami beach, the Pan American Airways port where Clipper boats arrive and depart, and various other interesting things.

Leaving their car at Miami, the Clarendon family boarded the S. S. Florida which carried them across 290 miles of water. It was the first trip on water for all of them and the trip there and back was made without any of them getting seasick.

Mr. Andis reported that the Lions convention was one of the largest ever held, with registration being over 4,900. Texas, he said, had the biggest delegation present. Carl M. Sorrick of Michigan was installed as International Lions president at the meeting, according to Andis.

In Havana, the Andis family got many thrills out of the old Spanish city. They didn't get to go through the capital nor the president's palace since the Pan American conference was on and guards were established at these places as precautionary measures. However, they did visit the various other sights of the city and reported that Havana was about 50 years behind time although it did have thousands of taxis, some 4,000 street cars, and 250 policemen.

The Clarendon folks said that the numerous one-way streets in the city, the great number of beggars, and the sight of ox-carts were the outstanding characteristics of old Havana.

En route home, the Andis family visited San Augustine, Fla., where they saw the old Spanish fort and the Fountain of Youth. They also visited Atlanta, Ga., Birmingham, Memphis, and Little Rock. Their trip from Clarendon to Miami was made via New Orleans and the coastal route.

"It was a wonderful vacation trip," said Billy, "but I would rather live in the Texas Panhandle than in Havana."

Mr. Andis said that the 4,100 mile trip by car was made without a flat.

GARNER'S SILENCE DRAWS SPECULATION

While John Nance Garner, Vice-President of the United States, kept his silence at his Uvalde home, happy to be in his native heath once again, columnists and correspondents the nation over guessed as to what he might do with reference to the Roosevelt third term drive.

Most potent comment came last week from Raymond Moley, one-time New Deal thinker and now a bitter critic, who devoted editorial space in Newsweek to "Mr. Garner's Silence."

Mr. Moley said: "If tears were shed by any of Vice-President Garner's friends as he left Washington last week, they should have been tears of regret over what they had done to themselves at Chicago, the week before, and not tears for him. 'Daughters of Jerusalem, weep for yourselves,' he might have told them. For Mr. Garner leaves with his laurels his conscience and the assurance that he closes the book of official life with his principles unimpaired.

"One of these principles is that men clothed with official power must be controlled by law and custom. This Mr. Garner learned from watching the comings and goings of public figures for thirty-five years in Washington. Another principle is that such a government as ours is obligated to represent all the people — not just a part of them. Mr. Garner was against special privilege for anybody. And when he said 'anybody,' he meant not only businessmen, but CIO sit-down strikers. He also believed that Presidential discretion in spending billions of dollars of public money was a means of perpetuating one regime in office. He opposed it in vain. He saw, in Chicago, the result he had predicted.

"Mr. Garner has chosen to register his disapproval by maintaining silence. Why, it may be asked, should Mr. Garner limit his disapproval to that? Why just silence? The answer is that a man like Mr. Garner has a profound belief in party loyalty. The average man does not feel it with anything like the passion of a Garner. The average man knows he may cooperate himself a regular Democrat, or a regular Republican, can conceive of circumstances in which he'd cast his vote for the opposition party. Mr. Garner could not. Outright bolting of his party by a man of his background he would consider apostasy. He could forgive it in others, but never in himself. Silence is the limit of his disapproval. But that is why his silence is so ominous. It is the supreme expression of his condemnation. It carries more conviction than the speeches of many men.

"By the same token, it is more terrifying to those who conceive the 'draft.' They know how potent can be the silent treatment administered not only by Garner but by thousands of other Democrats. It is rebellion by passive resistance. It cannot be fought directly. It cannot be answered. Words do not answer silence. It means that many can dictates on the Democratic ticket in the cities, counties and states will go through the campaign discussion all issues but one, and all names but two. It means that countless party workers can go through the motions of working for the national ticket, but convey no conviction and influence no votes. It means that the little group of favorites who encouraged the draft movement against the better judgment of veteran Democrats can entreat until they are blue in the face without ever getting more than the semblance of untimed party action. It means that the Draft-Roosevelt engineers are dealing with men who have lived through political defeat as well as political victory — men who believe that defeat can be survived if principle is kept inviolate. That is what silence can mean. That is what Mr. Garner's silence means.

"If this be Mr. Garner's retirement from public life, it is a retirement magnificently earned. He has been the Senate's greatest presiding officer. Tradition barred him from debate, and Mr. Garner respects tradition. But by sheer force of character, by repeated demonstrations of shrewd judgment, he became the strongest figure on Capitol Hill. It will be many a year before his equal is found." — State Observer.

JUDGE ALEXANDER HERE IN BEHALF OF CANDIDACY

Judge James P. Alexander of Waco, run-off candidate for Chief Justice of the Texas Supreme Court, came to Clarendon Wednesday during an intensive campaign swing into West Texas in behalf of his candidacy. He conferred with leading attorneys and others while here.

Judge Alexander has been Associate Justice of the Texas Tenth Court of Civil Appeals for almost 10 years and is one of the outstanding jurists of the State. His supporters point out that his opponent, H. S. Lattimore is not the late Judge O. S. Lattimore, who has been dead several years, and that voters should not be confused.

Judge Alexander has had 32 years of continuous legal service, including 18 years as a judge, almost 10 years of which time he has been on the bench of the Tenth Court of Appeals. He also had 14 years experience as a practicing attorney before becoming a judge. Also, for the past 20 years he has been teaching legal procedure and practice court early morning and at noon as a Professor of Law at Baylor University at Waco.

Judge Alexander has demonstrated his qualifications and record of being an unusual jurist during the 9 1/2 years he has been on the Appellate Court bench. During that time he has written more than half of the 1,200 opinions issued by the three judge Court and of the 317 opinions written by him, only 15 have been reversed by the Supreme Court, giving him the high average of being correct in his rulings 98 per cent of the time.

He has been calling attention to the fact that the high State Court is vitally important in the preservation of the fundamentals of the American system of government and that the people should be particularly interested in the election of a well qualified Supreme Judge during these times.

Judge Alexander spoke at a noon meeting at Childress Wednesday and at a night meeting in Amarillo.

"America First"

This is the summer to do it! To pack the kids into the family car or buy a couple of more railroad tickets at prices no one would have believed possible 10 years back, and get going.

Where? That depends on what you like best!

Mountains . . . oceans . . . lakes . . . historic shrines . . . great cities . . . even World's Fairs — they're all waiting for you, ready to give you a hearty welcome and make you comfortable for as long as you want to stay.

Yes, it's a good year to see America. In the first place it's about the only country you can see. In the second, it's about time that you and I and the rest of the people who call themselves Americans found out how big and beautiful and full of opportunities this land of ours is!

We have everything here — from the quaint fishing villages of New England and the old Indian towns of the Southwest to the so-called "Inland Empire" of the Pacific Northwest and the most astonishing cities the world has ever seen. Cities with buildings so high they scrape the sky, and a country into which you could pile half a dozen European nations — or what used to be nations, and still have plenty of space left over!

But it's not just for sight seeing that we ought to go traveling in the United States this summer, important as that is. It's to discover that the same spirit prevails — that the same ideals dominate in communities 3,000 and more miles apart. It's to learn for ourselves that America is a state of mind as well as a very important geographical section of the western hemisphere!

Men scattered to the four corners of this immense land of ours in their search of "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." But wherever they went they took along the ideal of a new kind of freedom — of a new breadth of opportunity . . . a new type of tolerance of other men. And so today, no matter how far we travel or how varied the landscape, we find people with the same outlook on life.

And in these days of tumult when so much of the world views the rest of the world suspiciously, if not belligerently, the observation of 130 million people living together in peace and more or less harmony is one of the most important sights anyone can see. Perhaps it is "the wonder of the world."

The lawn at the City Hall is very restful with its velvety grass and lovely canna beds.

The trumpet vine clambering over the fence at Walter Taylor's makes a picture hard to rival.

G. HAZLEWOOD'S CIVIC SERVICES REVEALED

terms, he freighted hogs to Tulsa before the time of railroads. In 1920 his family moved to Canyon where Grady entered West Texas State College. After working his way through college, he entered the Law School of our State University, working and studying to a degree there in 1926. Returning to Canyon, Grady Hazlewood was appointed assistant District Attorney of the 47th District. He served six years as assistant District Attorney and then four years as District Attorney of this same 47th District. Following this service, he has attended to private law practice and owned and operated a farm in Deaf Smith County.

In addition to his busy professional and business life, Grady has always found time to be of service in the civic and church life of his community. He has been superintendent of the Young People's Department of one of the leading churches in Amarillo for four years, most of this time he was also teacher for this mixed group of young people. He was also the first president last year of a newly organized civic club in Amarillo. This club has as its main object aid for the underprivileged boy. In addition, Grady Hazlewood was chairman of the Brick Fund Campaign for the entire Panhandle to obtain funds to complete the Museum on the campus of our West Texas State College. He resigned this chairmanship when he felt he would not be able to give it the proper attention while making the race for senator of the 31st Senatorial District of Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Granville McAnear and daughter left Wednesday for Comanche, Texas, to visit friends and relatives.

The technicolor movie was made by George Bagby, assisted by his wife.

AGAINST THE COMMON WELFARE

For The reason that efforts to prevent unfair competition by law is doomed to failure before the law is written, the Texas Press association, organization of country newspapers in the state, has gone on record as opposed to a Fair Trade and Anti-Discrimination act. Here is the manner in which the resolution of the press association was worded:

"The Texas Press association expresses its opposition to efforts to fix prices and otherwise restrict free competition under the guise of prohibiting unfair competition. The Texas Press association urges its members to request candidates for the legislature to carefully consider all such proposals in the light of their possible effect on the cost of living at a time when the people will need to conserve every resource and when the natural result of war conditions will be to increase prices without encouragement or stimulation from government. The Texas Press association is opposed to the passage of the so-called Fair Trade and Anti-Discrimination bills on the ground that they would not confer any benefits upon the people generally nor would they, in fact, afford the protection to the independent merchants claimed for them by the sponsors. These conclusions are based upon the experience in other states where similar legislation has been tried."

While the intentions of the sponsors are excellent, without doubt, and are pointed at some unfair practices, it is our belief the unfair practices in one form or another would remain and business would only be burdened with another set-up of regulation and the endless chain of bureaucratic government have another link welded.

OLIN CULBERSON PLEDGES HIS COOPERATION

CANDIDATE FOR RAILROAD COMMISSION FAVORS WORKING IN HARMONY

ALVARADO, Aug. 7. — "I can get along with the governor and any other honest man," Railroad Commission candidate Olin Culberson told a Johnson County audience at the Old Settlers' Reunion here Wednesday.

Culberson, introduced by J. T. Campbell, chairman of the reunion, pledged his efforts toward a more harmonious and cooperative railroad commission when elected.

"By making every effort to support all constructive and progressive programs offered for the best interest of Texans and Texas, I believe a split railroad commission can be made a thing of the past," Culberson declared.

The candidate returned to scenes of his boyhood here where his parents had taught in the Johnson County school before establishing the Culberson School at Hillsboro.

"The vast majority of Texas voters will endorse my platform for honest, capable and fair administration of railroad commission affairs because they will not tolerate either having public office bought nor held through political favoritism," Culberson said.

"The primary campaign proved once and for all that even unlimited money and political trickery of the smoothest sort can not stampede enough of the voters into electing an unqualified candidate."

Culberson expressed gratitude to Johnson County citizens for the plurality given him and pointed out the impressive majorities given him in Hill and

Small Farmers Get Bulk Of AAA Payments

COLLEGE STATION — Three fourths of the payments made in Texas under the 1939 AAA program went to producers operating small farms.

On the other hand only 45 of the 594,304 payments made under the program amounted to between $5,000 and $10,000, a study of AAA records here disclosed.

The tabulation of payments showed that 453,536 were for less than $100, into which payment classification fall the bulk of the small-scale farmers in the state. Payments from $100 to $200 totaled 94,199; from $200 to $300, 23,866; from $300 to $400, 9,355; from $400 to $500, 4,801; from $500 to $1,000, 6,523; from $1,000 to $5,000, 1,979; and from $5,000 to $10,000, 45.

Under the present AAA program, no payment to any individual, partnership or estate can exceed $10,000, George Slaughter continued. "The AAA, by increasing the small payments and by limiting the maximum amount to be paid and other ways, is giving special aid to the small farmer, the one who needs help most. These aids will be continued in the 1941 program."

Jackson Counties where he has lived most of his life.

"It will be my policy on the railroad commission to work for harmony and cooperation not only on the commission itself but with other departments of government in order that most efficient service may be had in these times of preparedness and industrial uncertainty," Culberson added.

Hitler's Clash With Masons In France Is No Surprise To Texas Members of Order

That Adolf Hitler would inevitably clash with Freemasonry in France was a foregone conclusion, Dallas Masons agreed Saturday.

Associated Press dispatches brought the news that the Petain Government has ordered the dissolution of all Masonic bodies, as well as all other secret societies in France.

Surprised or not, however, the Dallas Masons interviewed uniformly felt that this action of the dictator is, as W. B. Holland said, "a revision to the Dark Ages."

"France has done so much for civilization," he said, "so much for education and for charity, that it seems particularly unfortunate for France to adopt such a course of repression now."

"It is unfortunate that any power could actually be trying to suppress the principles upon which France as a nation was built," said William H. Duls. "These are liberty, equality and fraternity. They are the guiding principles of Masonry, too. This action to abolish Freemasonry is not only a misfortune for the French people, but for all the people of the world as well — upon whom a free France had a tremendous influence in making all men brothers."

Harold Hart Todd: "Dictators want no secret organizations except their own. They must have their hands on everything, including entirely benevolent societies like this. As we know in this country, France is losing today the benefit of some very valuable constructive forces. There is no question but that America will hold on to Masonry and all that Masonry means as long as America has its democracy and liberty we enjoy here."

E. W. Speer: "Every time a dictatorship is formed — of what ever kind — it runs into Freemasonry, which stands for free speech, free press and free action by individuals. Those freedoms can never fit into the plans of any dictator. It is very, very important that we as free Americans take stock of our rights and principles and resolve to keep these precious freedoms intact."

Ernest R. Tennant: "Masonry is the backbone of democracy in this country. Except for one, every signer of the Declaration of Independence was a Mason. The document they signed on July 4, 1776, stands up for all the tolerance, all the freedom and independence held most dear by both Freemasonry and all Americans."

Hiram F. Lively: "Freemasonry in France stood in the path of dictatorship, which demands absolute submission. It could not be that the conflict arises from Freemasonry's belief in the freedom of speech. All through history, Freemasonry has stood for the purposes for which this nation was established — and those do not suit dictators." — Dallas News.

CLARENDON MEN RETURN WITHOUT ANY FISH

You've heard about fishermen who went fishing and returned without any fish?

Well, that's exactly what happened to three Clarendon fishermen.

Lee Bell, Homer Taylor and Leonard Reed went down to Bridgeport Lake near Ft. Worth last week and came home empty handed. Bell said that it had rained hard previous to their arrival and the lake was too muddy for fishing. The hard luck trio left on Tuesday and came back home Thursday night.

A PREACHER'S APPEAL TO HIS LAYMEN

"Be regular in your church attendance. Possibly a minister ought to rise superior to his environment and speak with as much unction to quartered oak as to living hearts, but a minister after all is only human, and in the course of time empty pews wear on him, Laymen, as a rule, do not realize the importance of church attendance. If they did they would not so often allow a cloud, or a shower, or a wind, or a snow, or a caller, or a newspaper, or a headache, or a fit of laziness, to keep them at home.

"A minister deserted by his representative men dies. He dies by inches. No man can preach with sustained fire and hope whose leading people show by their desultory attendance that public worship is to them one of the incidents or electives of life. Nothing will so surely take the spring and snap out of a man as speaking on great themes to empty pews. It make a man prematurely old.

"The church is expected by the world to render worship on the Lord's day to God. The rendering of this worship is one of the sacrifices to be offered perpetually by the followers of Jesus. The world's redemption is delayed by Christians who mar the sacrifice by selfish neglect to take part in it. Be in your place every time. Your presence gives life to the preacher. Your face helps him more than you can ever know. Your faithfulness strengthens the grip of Christ upon your community, and hastens

Hear Yourself as Others Hear You

"Hear yourself as others hear you" is no idle phrase at Texas State College for Women, where Dr. C. Horton Talley, associate professor of speech, uses a recording machine as a teaching device in the speech laboratories. Students seldom recognize their own recorded voices. A person hears his own voice after the vibrations have been carried directly through the structures of the head and neck to the inner ear and the voices of others after the sound arrives by an air path through the outer ear. The voice is given an entirely different quality by each mode of conduction. After the student recognizes the voices of others as transcribed on the machine and is thus convinced of the faithfulness of the recording, she can begin to eliminate those characteristics and habits which she finds objectionable in her own speech.

YOUNG MEN GET CHANCE TO BE AVIATORS

An opportunity to earn $75 per month while learning to be an aviator with all expenses paid by the United States Government is now available to young men of the Nation.

Unmarried men between the ages of 20 and 27 years are eligible to receive this training. They must be citizens of the United States and must have two years college work or pass a written examination in lieu thereof.

They also must be of excellent character, sound physique, and excellent health.

Graduates of the Flying Cadet course will receive commissions as Reserve Officers in the United States Army Air Corps. They will serve to the extent permitted by Congressional appropriations as Officers of the Regular Army Air Corps, and will receive regular Army Officers pay during this service.

During the period of training with tactical units of the Corps, the Air Corps Reserve Officer has the opportunity to observe all various phases of aviation, and, in addition to build up his flying experience toward the objective of every Air Corps Reserve Officer a total of 1200 hours flying time.

This accomplished, he will be eligible as to total flying time to secure a rating from the Civil Aeronautics Authority as an Airline transport pilot.

At present airline pilots receive an average of $600 per month and coplots from $190 to $350 per month.

In addition to intensive flying training the Air Corps Reserve Officer during his tour of extended active duty, receives instructions in Air Corps Navigation, Engineering, Radio, and Armament.

This special training helps to qualify the Air Corps Reserve Officer for administrative and executive positions in the industry. Aviation leaders agree that the best foundation for the majority of positions in the field of aeronautics is through pilot training.

Eligible young men interested in the opportunities offered to Flying Cadets should apply in person at the U. S. Recruiting Station, Room 217 Post Office Building in Lubbock or at the Army Recruiting Stations in Amarillo, Plainview, Childress, Pampa, Sweetwater or Big Spring for physical examinations and application blanks.

These stations also have openings in other branches of the Army for young men not eligible to be Flying Cadets or who are more interested in another branch of the Service.

LARGER INCOME PRIMARY NEED OF FARMER

COLLEGE STATION — The primary need of Texas farmers is larger farm income. This applies especially to cotton farmers.

Dairymen, producers of pork, wool, and mohair, truck and fruit growers and cattlemen are in relatively good shape. Not as good as they might be, but better than the cotton farmer.

The immediate outlook for the cotton producer is bluntly put by H. H. Williamson, director of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, as "anything but encouraging."

"All of our foreign markets for cotton are rapidly being destroyed or nullified," he said. "Foreign demand will surely be even less by fall. The surplus will be tremendously increased, even under the restricted production program. No one knows how much cotton we may be able to sell.

"If the price of cotton is low, the price of foodstuffs is relatively high. In the face of this situation, the farmer who makes his farm as nearly self-sustaining as possible will not only be doing himself a good turn but will do much to fit in with plans for national defense."

The Extension Service has stressed the "live-at-home" program for many years. Results for the state as a whole have been gratifying, but many individuals can still profit by adopting the production of food and feed for home use.

Other sections are turning to this program, as indicated by requests from Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia, and a number of other states for details of the Texas plan.

HARDIN-SIMMONS PREXY TAKES UP DUTIES

ABILENE. — Dr. W. R. (Bilby) White, nationally known denominational leader, newly elected to the presidency of Hardin-Simmons University, took office without formalities this week as the school's seventh head.

"I'm going to hit the ground running," he told university trustees in accepting their tender of the position as successor to the late Dr. J. D. Sandefer, Hardin-Simmons president for 31 years.

First act of Dr. White, after accepting the presidency, was to go to the memorial triangle on the H-SU campus, where he laid a wreath on Dr. Sandefer's grave.

"Prexy, we are gathered here to dedicate ourselves, by the grace of God, to carry on the work you have so well begun, and to build in His name, a superstructure worthy of the foundation you have laid," he said there. Dr. Sandefer, at his death last March 22, was the dean of senior college and university era convention sermon at the presidents in the Southwest. Dr. White comes to Hardin-Simmons from Oklahoma City, where for five years he has been pastor of the First Baptist Church, second largest in the denomination. Of its 6400 members, 2500 have been added during Dr. White's ministry. Dr. White delivered the general Southern Baptist Convention, in Baltimore, in June. He was offered the H-SU presidency on May 24, but on June 7 declined, saying then, "It is imperative that I remain in my present position." In recent weeks, friends urged that he reconsider his decision, and when the H-SU board unanimously renewed its offer of the presidency, he accepted.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, leg pains, dizziness, getting up nights, headach, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

STREAMLINER TO BEGIN SERVICE ON AUG. 22

Clarendon will get a new streamlined train service over the Fort Worth and Denver beginning August 22, according to John A. Hulen, vice president of the railroad, at Fort Worth.

The streamlined trains will go into service August 22 on northbound schedules after christening ceremonies in Fort Worth and Dallas, and on southbound schedules out of Denver August 23.

Thus, Clarendon citizens will get their first view of the streamliner Thursday night, Aug. 22, when the 8:41 train arrives.

To be known as the Texas Zephyrs, the streamlined trains will supersede the Advance Texas Zephyrs which introduced radically faster service with streamlined engines between Texas and Colorado points early in June. The glistening new trains will be all streamlined and each will consist of a stainless steel Diesel electric locomotive, baggage and express cars, de luxe chair cars and smart dining observation lounge cars, three specially designed standard Pullmans offering bed rooms either singly or en suite in addition to usual sections, compartments and drawing rooms. Interiors of the cars have been designed and furnished by outstanding stylists of the United States.

General Hulen pointed out that increased vacation travel between the two states is expected to follow institution of the

The Low Down FROM HICKORY GROVE

Old boy Adolph, there in Berlin, is doing just like all the others before him have done, when they started out to take over the world.

You can't take a Hohlander's Edam cheese away from him and make him like it. Nor a Persian, you can't stop him from eating melons and switch him over to pumpnickel. Adolph has hit off a sizable job. You take an Arab off his horse and give him a bicycle and you will not have peace and quiet. There is trouble brewing in the distance for old Adolph. His troubles will not subside, with France laying desolate.

His Prussians and Bavarians, and his very own Munichers are gonna get tired of going without hassenpfeffer, and beer, and sausages.

And to add to his coming misery and sleeplessness, he will find blood-thirsty Joe Stalin — all rested up — and leaning on the fence just across the border, waiting to pop him with a haymaker, if he turns his head.

Dictating is a bad business — except maybe to a dark-eyed stenographer.

FW&D LEASING IS APPROVED BY ICC

WASHINGTON — The interstate commerce commission authorized the Colorado and Southern Railway Company to lease the properties owned and operated by the Fort Worth & Denver City Railway company and the Wichita Valley Railway Co.

Texas interests, including the state, its railroad commission, chamber of commerce of Fort Worth and Childress, and various labor organizations, opposed the Colorado and Southern's application for the lease. They feared control of the Texas lines would be transferred from Fort Worth to Denver and that numerous employees might lose their jobs.

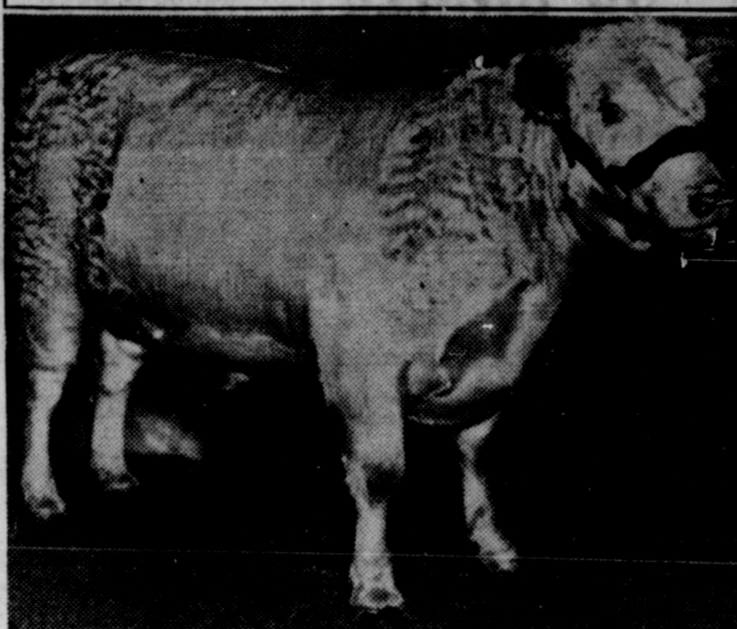

The Colorado & Southern is controlled by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad. The Colorado & Southern in turn controls the two Texas lines.

The commission said the unification of the lines was in furtherance of its plan for consolidation of railroads.

The plans call for transfer of 67 positions of employees to Denver, of which 61 positions will be from Fort Worth, and the discontinuance of 189 positions.

The employees holding these 189 positions are at present employed as follows: Seventy two in various offices at Ft. Worth, 104 in the shops at Childress; 10 in the superintendent and dispatcher forces at Trinidad, Colo., and 3 at Denver.

Due to the increased popularity of the breed in Texas and the increased demand for feeders in Texas, the American Shorthorn Breeders Association has added 35 per cent to the published premiums offered in this classification.
